MAYORALTY, COUNCIL CONTESTS ASSURED

An imposing edifice, Knox Church, Glenarm, had a humble beginning and was born in a community of Scotch settlers who named the district "Hardscrabble" which was later changed to Glenarm. The first church was called "The Long Church" and the present place of worship seen above, "The New Church." The New Church has served the community for 60 years and at the diamond anniversary services held not long ago services were conducted in both English and Gaelic. Several who were on hand for the opening of The New Church were present for the anniversary service.

Knox Church, Glenarm, 60 Years Serving . . .

Sixty years of church history were reviewed at the diamond anniversary services of Knox Presbyterian Church a few days ago. The occasion was marked by conducting a service approximating as closely as possible that which marked the opening of the church before the turn of the century.

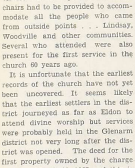

To moderns attending this special anniversary service they might have found the procedure adopted for prayers and hymns a little confusing unless they read the order of service carefully. On this occasion the congregation was instructed "to stand to pray and sit to sing."

Attendance at the anniversary service was so large that additional chairs had to be provided to accommodate all the people who came from outside points . . . Lindsay, Woodville and other communities. Several who attended were also present for the first service in the church 60 years ago.

It is unfortunate that the earliest records of the church have not yet been uncovered. It seems likely that the earliest settlers in the district journeyed as far as Eldon to attend divine worship but services were probably held in the Glenarm district not very long after the district was opened. The deed for the first property owned by the church is dated March 11, 1867 and this is the present location of the cemetery. Another Presbyterian church was located not far from Islay, this being the Free branch of the denomination and connected with Woodville. It was probably opened in the sixties of the last century also.

From the year 1875 there is more definite information because Presbytery records began as from that date. At that time Pereleon, as it was known, Islay and Cambray were one pastoral charge and on June

J. G. Baldwin, pictured above, and Mr. A. J. Brennan, both received acclamations at Monday night's nomination meeting. These gentlemen were re-elected back into office as members of the local Hydro Commission. They have stated that they will endeavour to perform their obligation "in a manner to merit the confidence placed in us."

Alice L. Corran

Long Associated With Trust Company Office

One of Lindsay's most well-known and highly-respected business women died in the Ross Memorial Hospital on Tuesday. Miss Alice Lucretia Corran had been an accountant with the Victoria and Grey Trust Company for almost 26 years. She passed away following a sudden illness of short duration.

Miss Corran came to Lindsay as a young girl from Colborne, Ont., with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Corran. Her father, who died several years ago, had been a Lindsay merchant for 60 years previous to his retirement. Miss Corran, after graduating from the Shaw Business School, Toronto, was employed with Madison Williams and the Bovine Hydraulic, before commencing her duties with the Victoria Trust and Savings Company. She was an accountant with that business, now known as the Victoria and Grey Trust Company, and was in her 26th year of employment at the time of her death.

Miss Corran was a devout member of St. Paul's Anglican Church. She took great interest in the affairs of the Evening Auxiliary there, of which she was a Life Member, and had been at one time secretary of the group for many years.

She was a sister of Clara (Mrs. W. R. Pinney), of Crescent Beach, B.C.; Maud (Mrs. William McDougall), of Lindsay, Marjorie (Mrs. George I. Johnston), of Toronto, and the late Edith (Mrs. J. G. Browne), of Peterborough.

Resting at the Mackey Funeral Home, Peel Street, until noon Saturday, thence to St. Paul's Anglican Church for service at 2 p.m. Interment will be made at Riverside Cemetery.

The Grand Falls on the Hamilton river in Labrador are estimated to have a potential 1,250,000 horsepower.

Two Minors And Supplier Convicted On Liquor Charges

Three minors, two from Lindsay and one from Janetville, appeared in Police Court here this morning charged with liquor offences. They were convicted and fined by Magistrate R. A. Gee.

A 18-year-old Janetville youth, who was arrested Tuesday morning by Chief of Police John Hunter, was charged with liquor. On the first, that of supplying liquor to minors, he was convicted and given 30 days in jail. On the second, that of purchasing liquor in a licenced premises while under the age of 21 years, he received a fine and court costs totalling $12.50 or in default of the latter, another 10 days in jail. Evidence showed that this accused had been in to the liquor store twice on September 29th last, obtaining at that time five bottles of sherry wine.

Two Lindsay youths also appeared. A 17-year-old was charged with obtaining liquor under age 21 and was assessed a fine and costs of $25.50. The second accused, an 18-year-old, was charged with two separate charges of obtaining liquor while under 21, and was convicted also, his fine and costs totalling $38.

Giving evidence on this case were Chief John Hunter, Sgt. Gordon Eberts and P.C. William Mosley.

New Business Opens Here

A new business has opened in Lindsay. It is called Lindsay Antenna Products, is managed by Mr. John Thomas, and is engaged in the manufacture of television antennae.

Although the company has been in preliminary production for several months, it officially opened for business in the factory building at 12 Durham St. East, this week.

Mr. Thomas has been engaged as production supervisor at Visking Ltd., for the past four years and he's very enthusiastic about future prospects in his new enterprise. Mr. Thomas told "The Post" Tuesday, "We think we are selling a very durable quality product at competitive prices and we expect to be employing five or six people as soon as we get properly established.

Reeve And Council Returned To Office At Omemee

Served Faithfully, Teacher Awarded Coronation Medal

Head Lake -- Miss Elizabeth, teacher of S. S. No. 1 Digby school in the School Area of Laxton, Digby and Longford, has been awarded the Coronation Commemoration Medal from her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II in recognition of her many years of service in her home section.

Mr. Chester S. Bailey has also received a medal in recognition of his ability in Road Construction and general management of local matters of interest.

FAMOUS VOYAGE

The great American Clipper Flying Cloud sailed from New York to San Francisco in 89 days in 1854.

Nomination Meeting Report:

Those who were nominated Monday night to run for office in next Monday's municipal elections here had until 8 p.m. Tuesday to qualify. Those men who qualified to run for Mayor were Mr. Lloyd Burrows and the present Deputy-Reeve, A. E. (Bert) Hick. Reeve Richard Butler received an acclamation and will remain in office in 1954. Mr. W. D. Stevens, who was Chairman of Lighting in this year's council, also received an acclamation and will be the new deputy-reeve. Messrs. W. S. W. Breese, Bruce Maidens, A. Harrigan, Jas. McQuarrie, W. Mc-Crae, H. Peires and B. Laub will be seeking office as councillors. Of the seven men, six will have to be elected.

The only other municipal office on the ballot will be that of trustee on the Public School Board in the North Ward. Present Board Chairman Walter V. Peel will contest the office with former L. C. I. principal, Mr. Geo. Keith. Mr. Lawson Bisley, new member for South Ward, and Mr. Reginald Vickery, veteran East Ward member, received acclamations to the new Public School Board.

Water Commissioner Duncan A. Sinclair and Hydro Commissioner George Baldwin and A. J. Brennan, all received acclamations to their respective offices on Monday night.

The following is what was said by the various nominees on Monday night.

REEVE BUTLER

Reeve Butler received an acclamation as Reeve. He said he had enjoyed his "11 or 12 years in office". He praised the "very fine re-organized Police Force under Chief John Hunter". He spoke of the growing traffic problem here especially in the summer. He stressed the need for a town parking lot, suggested the Town purchase the Separate School grounds (on Lindsay Street S.) on the terms, owned by E. P. Moore, (on Cambridge Street N.). He said that even if it cost $35,000 to $50,000 it would pay for itself in six or seven years. He cited the great revenue Peterborough receives from its Market Square municipal parking lot. He said he would like to see the Police Station back on the main street. "I don't like it in the basement". He warned citizens that the tax rate will probably go up in the next few years, considering increased education costs and the proposed new Hospital. Of the latter he said it was going in the red every year and that it was on the fault of the Board, the Superintendent or the staff, but the great rise in overhead in recent years. Of course there was one of greater "economy". He said the "tax rate is about as high as people can pay". The County rate is getting very high. It is us to us to make the best deal possible (with the County).

JOHN BAKER

Mr. Baker is retiring from municipal affairs. He stated that he felt he had accomplished quite a bit as the Chairman of Town Property, citing the new fire escape at the Town Hall, the favorable comments on the Town washrooms the commendations about Chief Wylie and his Firemen and the turning over of the old Fenelon Highway Camp to the Parks Board. He said he was 25 years married today (Tuesday) and of that time he had spent 16 years in council. "I have decided to stay home and get to know my family," he concluded.

WILLIAM A. W. BREESE

Mr. Breese thanked those who had nominated him for Reeve, but he said his work (L.C.I. teachers does not permit). He did find time for County Council work. He said that he will stand again for council, since he believes a two-year term make a councillor of more useful service. He said though his own committee (Tourist) was perhaps not the most important, he had been a member of most of the other

Santa Claus Stocking Fund

Things look bright for the Santa Claus Stocking Fund this year. It opened with $100 in subscriptions within the first few days of it and has had in recent years.

The Santa Claus Stocking Fund is a fund which was established 42 years ago in Lindsay to make Christmas brighter for many families who might otherwise celebrate without even adequate food. For 42 years it has successfully performed this function and a little more besides . . . It has served to provide an emergency relief fund for families in distress at times other than Christmas.

Relief, as readers are aware, takes some little while to procure and there are often times when people, for good reasons, find themselves in urgent need of a little temporary assistance . . . assistance which is available at such times. It is this mission which the Santa Claus Stocking Fund has been able to perform which has won it the support of local residents over the years.

Mr. T. H. Stinson, the man who has administered the fund through all those years, likes to recall instances when people who have benefited in the past have eventually become subscribers 40 fold.

There is no limit (large or small) to the amount of money which may be contributed and all subscriptions are acknowledged daily in "The Post" except when otherwise requested. Donations may be made at the Canadian Bank of Commerce or the office of the Lindsay Daily Post.

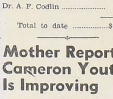

Here are the opening contributions:

Kawartha I.O.D.E.	10.00
T. H. Stinson	75.00
H Pollock	5.00
Dr. A. F. Codlin	10.00

CARRYING HIS FAMILIAR HAT, cane and cigar, Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill waves as he leaves 10 Downing street, London, for the House of Parliament to attend the last minute business before his departure by air recently for the Big Three meeting in Bermuda. Sir Winston observed his 79th birthday on November 30th, but it was a day of business as usual and the grand old statesman spent the morning in session with his cabinet and the remainder of the day tying up loose ends of government affairs before leaving England.

Bus, Light Truck Lost In Milk Transport Blaze

Pencil Rubber Is Imbedded In Boy's Ear

Bobcaygeon (PNS) -- Barrie Crowe, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crowe, had an unfortunate accident recently when the rubber from the end of a pencil became imbedded in his ear. In order to have it removed, Barrie was taken to the Ross Memorial Hospital. He is reported to be fine now.

Russell Lamb, widely known Lindsay barber and a former long time member of the Lindsay Public School Board, has announced his intention of standing for election to Lindsay's Council next Monday.

A fire at the Willis Milk Transport building, 64 Ridout Street, last night caused estimated damage of $3,000 to the premises and contents, according to Lindsay's Fire Chief Alex Wylie. The fire damage was confined to the east section of the building and the Chief says he believes it was caused by an overheated oil furnace there.

The fire was first noticed by young Bobby Gardiner at 8.40 p.m. The boy ran to the home of Mr. J. H. Metcalfe, 67 Ridout Street, who phoned the alarm to the department. Mr. Metcalfe says the firemen arrived there "in about two minutes."

Mr. Metcalfe told "The Post" he saw flames shooting out the east windows, and smoke coming out of the west front top storey windows.

Chief Wylie states that the G.M.C. and Fargo fire trucks were used, and the services of three permanent firemen and all the volunteers were utilized.

At 9.30 p.m. the department was still working hard bringing the fire under control. Streams of water on Steam and smoke obscured vision, as the firemen probed for remaining burning sections of the building. A bystander who had been on the scene from the beginning said he thought the firemen had done an excellent job of bringing the blaze under control.

At the time the Willis fire was reported, the Chief states that his men were in the basement of Lynch's meat markets on Kent St. He said that they were in the basement there, wearing gas masks, turning off the valves of an ammonia plant which was leaking.

"The Post" visited the fire scene this morning and noted that the ceiling of the east section was about burned off, and the walls were burned and smoke and water damaged. The damage has been estimated at about $2,000, $1,500 to contents and $1,000 to the building itself.

Stored in the building at the time of the fire was a Lindsay Bus Lines bus, which was used on the Arsenal run. It is reported to have been left there late last night about 5.15 p.m. after the last trip to the Arsenal for the day had been completed. Mr. Crimmons, the company owner, told Chief Wylie that the damage to his vehicle was about $1,500. Mr. Crimmons has some insurance.

Also in the burned section was a truck belonging to the Victoria Wholesale Fruit, owned by Mr. Lamantis. It is reported that this vehicle was on the premises for repair. The Chief says that Mr. Willis has $4,000 insurance on the building and its contents.

The fire might have caused much more damage than it did, had it not been for the fire department's prompt action. A brick house, a few feet east of the Willis structure was threatened at one time, and the firemen are being commended today for confining the blaze to the east section of the large frame transport building.

Chief Wylie says the cause of the blaze was an overheated oil furnace which was situated in the burned east area.

Sweetest Odor This Side of Geraniums To Him Is the Smell of Fresh Popcorn

If you were to question a sampling of people about the smells they liked best, you'd get a variety of answers . . .

Gardenias, gasoline, baking bread, nail polish, new money, wet paint, or maybe even fresh fish.

But in Seattle, there's a man who believes there exists a smell like no other . . . the sweetest odor this side of geraniums.

Harlan Fairbanks is sent by the scent of popcorn.

Fairbanks is so enamoured of the tantalizing odor that he is currently embarked on a project to bottle it for his own use. What Fairbanks is trying to nose out is something he calls "real de popcorn."

But de popcorn . . . for the benefit of the happily uninitiated . . . doesn't look like popcorn and does not taste like popcorn. Its just smells like popcorn.

When the irresistable essence wafts its way to your nostrils, you are supposed to be driven so insane with desire that you immediately head for the nearest popcorn counter.

This response is more than acceptable as far as Fairbanks is concerned. You see, he sells popcorn -- more than 300 pounds of it every hour to movie theatres.

In an attempt to step up this response, Fairbanks has sent out scouts in a hot air balloon with popcorn perfume. He plans to spray strategic corners of theatres with it -- and set the customers grooling.

So far, none of his scouts have had any luck at all . . . even though some of them have been shot down sive smell as faraway as the perfumeries of France.

Fairbanks himself has devoted much thought to the question of popcorn perfume. His own factory is so regimented that it does almost all of the thinking for itself. Fairbanks personally designed most of the machinery. The setup has allowed him enough free time to mull over not only his sau de popcorn problem, but also his newest project of his --- an all automatic popping plant.

Fairbanks' plant methods sometimes amaze engineers. And folks who like to crank up the old domestic-type popper would marvel at the system. He attributes his success to a series of cams, solenoid switches and delayed-action switches. These gadgets somehow keep the raw materials moving in, and mountains of crunchy, fat kernels moving out.

Fairbanks says wholesale poppers can do the job more economically and more uniformly than the local theaters. Most popcorn now sold in theaters is pre-popped in plants such as Fairbanks'.

Like everything else these days, popcorn is scientifically controlled. It's untouched by human hands. From the time the sacks of bright yellow kernels are dumped in his two-ton capacity bin till they emerge from the kettles --ho one sees what's going on.

Automatic hands pour precise amounts of salt and coconut oil into the gas-heated kettles with the kernels. Fairbanks says coconut oil is used because butter doesn't stand up over a period of time. With coconut oil, he can put his supplies in 55 gallon drums.

A conveyor belt takes the hot popcorn to a screened drum where the misfits are weeded out. And another batch is ready for the next matinee.

Fairbanks says popcorn popping is a crazy business. He likes to debunk popular popcorn misconceptions. For instance, he contends that pre-popped poppers at the theater is crisper and tastier than the fresh stuff. The popcorn maker says some of the carbon dioxide is expelled when his kernels cool.

The system gives the popcorn no chance to get stale. Lined, moisture-proof bags are sewed shut as soon as they are filled. Moisture variances that can ruin a batch also are controlled in the roasting process.

The healthy-looking businessman --who claims he eats his own product continuously -- says popcorn is good and good for you. Chock-full of vitamins.

As Fairbanks puts it: "We used to ship unsalable stuff to hog farmers. Had to quit. Hogs were getting too fat." -BUP

Trying To Prevent Polio Epidemics

Now that the infantile paralysis (poliomyelitis) season is past, and it was a severe one, our patient research workers are studying this disease to try to learn ways of preventing these epidemics.

I have written before about the removal of tonsils within a few weeks before an epidemic occurs being considered inadvisable because all statistics prove that removal of tonsils at this time renders the person more likely to be attacked by the paralytic (bulbar) type of poliomyelitis -- in fact, statistics prove that not only tonsils, but surgical treatment of teeth and gums just prior to an epidemic will also predispose to poliomyelitis.

While the virus causing polio has been isolated and a form of treatment --gamma globulin --established by governments, there are predisposing factors that are now being investigated carefully by research workers and general physicians and, as this knowledge is gained, it is being given to the general public.

In the New England Journal of Medicine, Drs. T. H. Ingalls and W. Axford, surgeons, respiratory infections --nose, throat, bronchial tubes, lungs -- to the already known predisposing factors to poliomyelitis.

"The onset of paralysis is believed to be influenced or determined by certain predisposing factors just before the attack occurs. These include overexertion and fatigue, chilling or over-heating, injury, pregnancy, menstruation, removal of tonsils, preventive inoculations, and other injections."

In a school of 4 per cent of boys who later developed poliomyelitis had upper respiratory infections while only 19 per cent of others in the school had such illness. The interval between onset of two illnesses averaged 5 days in 10 boys and 5 of the 10 were of the bulbar (paralytic) type.

Dr. P. H. Top, in the Journal of the American Medical Association reports that 51.9 percent of 1947 patients with poliomyelitis had had their tonsils removed at some time. Of these, 85.1 per cent had the bulbar type.

What about the control or prevention of poliomyelitis? In the Journal of the American Medical Association, Drs. W. Kolb Hammon, L.L. Coriell and others report a series of extensive controlled investigations into the use of human Red Cross gamma globulin in the prophylactic (preventive) mass inoculation of children who might have been exposed to the infection in areas where the disease is epidemic. Among 34,772 children inoculated in alternate cases with gamma globulin and gelatin respectively, 90 cases of paralytic poliomyelitis occured, and of these 26 received gamma globulin and 64 gelatin. This proves that gamma globulin has protective value against paralytic disease in

Discourse Given On "The Moon" At Yelverton

Yelverton PNS) -- The November meeting of the Yelverton Family Club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Malcolm. A crokinole party was planned to take place in two weeks time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rolonson.

The December meeting between christmas and New Year's is to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Malcolm.

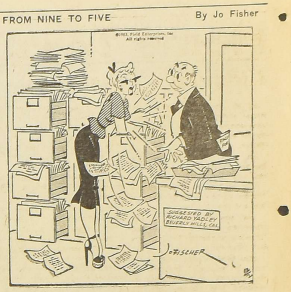

Mr. Ralph Malcolm read from the Scriptures and the subject of his discourse was "The Moon." In his brief talk, he said that according to theory, the earth and the moon were once one body, but at some time in history they split into two bodies. Because there is no atmosphere on the moon, he said, its surface, which is a black rock called basalt, had never changed through the ages. "Because there is no air to conduct sound on the moon," he continued, "a large orchestra playing 10 ft. away could not be heard. Also because there are no air currents, there is sometimes a difference of 400 degrees in the temperature between sunlight and shadow." Mr. Malcolm said that gravity on the moon is one-sixth that of earth and consequently a person could throw a ball six times as far if he were on the moon.

In studying the moon, the speaker said eventually the moon will disintegrate and when it does some of the molecules which form the moon would be pulled by gravity to earth and some would form a ring around the earth similar to the ring around Saturn, he concluded.

Lunch concluded the evening.

Christmas Turkey

Turkeys are beginning to make their appearance in our shops and before we know it we'll have to stuff it and take it to perfection for Christmas dinner. Every cook has her special way of fixing the dressing and a variety of ingredients can be put in. One little wrinkle we can vouch for is a pinch of sugar in the dressing. Another is one that will keep the family from having the dressing repeat on them. All you do is use savoury instead of sage. It's the sage that does it and you'll never miss it if you use savoury instead. If you cook it uncovered the temperature must be low. Some goon cooks say you should always cook a fowl with the breast down. The juices accidentally go into the breast to keep it moist. Many cooks like to wrap it in heavy paper or tinfoil to keep all the juices in. Parchment is often used for this. A paste of flour and water is often used to cover the fowl too. The finished product should be tender, cooked through and the browning can be done later if necessary. It makes one hungry to think about it!

Pretty Bazaar

Christmas bazaars have started and the Cambridge St. United had their annual event on Friday. The members had the whole interior of the auditorium looking so "Christmassy" that their guests enjoyed the scenery as well as the delicious food they served. Their year's work was displayed in many booths and the C.G.I.T. also had a corner of their own. A prize-winning quilt caught our eye and it looked so "Christmassy" that we had to pull ourselves away from it. A good deal of work went into this quilt and it was worthy of a more showy place to be displayed. The homecooking and tea dainties were really special. Some member had made cakes that looked exactly like strawberries and they tasted better than the real thing. They intrigued many and one lady refreshed from eating it so she could take it home to take a pattern off it. Hospitality seemed to be the slogan at this delightful tea and everyone was made feel very much at ease.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Boiled Milk

If a pinch of soda is stirred into milk that it is to be boiled it will keep the milk from curdling.

The Velvet Brush

Rip the velvet brush into moist sand, and the velvet will come forth as fresh as though it were new. It is a cleaning process too, for the slight moisture removes dust, and the harsh action of the sandy friction gives new life to the "nap," which has been worn down.

Buttons

It is a good idea, when cutting off buttons from discarded garments, to string them in sets, so that they will be ready for use again whenever desired.

In Memoriam

PUTERBAUGH -In loving memory of my husband, Dan, who died December 9, 1952.
Oh, what could I give to clasp your hand
Your dear, kind face to see.
Your loving smile, your welcome voice,
That meant so much to me
No one knows the silent heartache
Only those who have lost can tell
Of the grief that is born in silence
For the one I loved so well.

Miss Anne Walker and friend, of Toronto, motored from the city and spent Sunday at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Clifford Hargrave, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Webster and family spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Webster and family, of Cresswell.

Gift For Newlyweds

A number from Glenarm attended the presentation for Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Benson, of Woodville, in Hartley Community Hall on Friday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Benson, recent newlyweds, were the recipients of a lovely corner china cabinet with fretwork. Mrs. Nathan Morrison, on behalf of the community, read the address of best wishes while the presentation was made by Messrs. Peter McArthur, Claude Hopkins, Orland Brown, Nathan Morrison and Tom McMillan. Sincere thanks was extended from Mr. and Mrs. Benson for this gesture, after which a dainty lunch was served. Later, dancing was resumed to climax a lovely evening.

Members of Knox Church were pleased to welcome Mr. and Mrs. George Foreman and children at their worship on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Fred Ferguson, son, Bill, and daughter, Florence, motored to the city on Saturday where they enjoyed the weekend with other members of the family and relatives.

Miss Maud Sylvester Speaks To Rotary Anns About Merrywood

The monthly supper meeting of the Lindsay Rotary Ann Club was held in the Victoria Room, Hotel Benson last Wednesday evening.

The president, Mrs. D. McQuarrie, welcomed the members and then asked for the secretary's and treasurer's report read by Mrs. H. Glen Gordon and Mrs. W. Bundscho, respectively.

The meeting was then turned over to the convenor for the evening, Mrs. M. Lyons, assisted by her committee of Mrs. F. Wadds, Mrs. A. Wheatley and Mrs. D. Smith. After a rousing sing-song—Mrs. Smith favoured the group with two lovely selections, "Gypsy Love Song" and "Merry Widow Waltz." Mrs. W. Schwarz was the accompanist.

The winner of the attendance prize was Mrs. F. Emerson. Her prize was a lovely pair of television slippers.

Mrs. F. Weldon, introduced guest speaker, Miss Sylvester who told of her experiences and impressions as a volunteer worker at the Merrywood Camp for crippled children. Her informative talk was supplemented by a short coloured film of activities at the camp.

After a question period Mrs. H. Glen Gordon expressed a sincere vote of thanks to Miss Sylvester on behalf of the club.

The singing of "O Canada" terminated a most enjoyable evening.

Newlyweds Honoured With Presentation At Foresters' Hall

Janetville (PNS) -The Janetville Forester's Hall, was the scene of much gaiety when a large number of friends assembled to honour, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McGill on the occasion of their recent marriage. Bill, who has just recently returned from active service in Korea, is a son of Mr. Clayton McGill, of Janetville and the late Mrs. McGill and his bride was Miss Shirley Bradley, the daughter of Mrs. Walter Bradley, of Bethany, and the late Mr. Bradley.

Dancing was enjoyed during the first portion of the evening, when excellent music was supplied by local talent, including Mr. Clayton McGill, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walker, Mrs. Jack Hanna, Mr. Art Pogue, of Mount Horeb and Mrs. Rae Stinson, of Oshawa. Messrs. Clarence McGill and Russell Wright, were the efficient callers-off.

Mr. Wilson Staples as M. C. invited the young couple to occupy special seats, at the front of the hall, when they were presented with a beautiful grey and chrome kitchen set, of table and four chairs, on behalf of those assembled. A suitable address was read by Mr. John Burn and after the recipients had each made an appropriate reply, all joined in singing, "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows".

Later lunch was served, and included wedding cake, which was passed by the bride and groom. Dancing was then continued for an hour or so.

Among those present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Rae Stinson, of Oshawa; Mrs. Myrtle Bradley, Mrs. Walter Bradley, Mr. Ross Bradley, Mr. Harry Johnston., all of Bethany; Mr. Albert Porter of Manvers Station, and Mr. Jack Payne of Pontypool.

NOMINATION MEETING

special committees during the year. Though council takes a lot of time, he said he felt every citizen should proffer himself or herself for municipal office if for no reason other than to find out how much time it does take. He felt this would make them a little more tolerant. He stated that he "had been amazed at the volume and variety of problems council had to face."

JAMES ARNOLD HARRIGAN

Mr. Harrigan, in letting his name stand for another year, paid tribute to Fran Williamson for his Relief work. "he's doing a very good job." Mr. Harrigan said he had made no promises last year and was making none this year. He said a town comparable to Lindsay, which he had visited recently, had a mill rate of 65 - so we're not "too badly off here". He stated that of the $1500 set aside for relief this year, about $1,200 had been spent "...only about one-third of a cent of every tax dollar."

BRUCE MAIDENS

Last year's chairman of finance says he is running for council this year. He said he would keep his address to the "big municipal problem—money!" He said that "municipal governments are increasingly less able to finance from their own revenue resources the local services and responsibilities falling within their constitutional authority." He told of financing from 1939 to the present time giving detailed accounts of municipal government services, sources of Municipal revenue, municipal assessments and exemptions, distribution of revenues, municipal deficits, municipal budgets, grants and subsidies, burden of municipal services and the impact of inflation. He said that the 1953 dollar buys less than 50 percent of what could be purchased with the 1939 dollar. He said it would appear that there is to be a surplus over $7,000 on 1953 operations. If there was a surplus, he said, it was "crazy" to say it was due only to himself as Chairman of Finance, but that it was the whole council working together who had brought any surplus about. As for the Chairman of Finance, he "has to be there - it's in the book". He pointed out that in 1952, 66.3 percent of the dollar was fixed, leaving council 33.7 percent to work with and that in 1953, 71.53 cents were fixed, leaving 28.47 cents for council to work with. He also said that the Recreation Centre rate in 1953 was 1.92, and in 1953, .87. He excused himself for taking too much time with his address, but that "we only get you together once a year and we have got to really give it to you."

JAMES McQUARRIE

Mr. McQuarrie said he would not run as deputy-reeve, but would stand again for council. He gave comprehensive reports from the two committees of which he is chairman, the Community Centre Committee and the Town Planning Board. The amalgamation of Recreation and Arena committees under the one group, the financial position there (we ought to be out of the red by the end of 1953. We ought to have a fair bank balance by the end of the present operating season.) He said any surplus could be used to improve the arena building ("new roof, new paint job needed") or by reducing the $29,000 debenture debt still owing on the building, of which $5,000 is paid annually, plus a large interest rate. Though he said he realized that two good hockey teams were helping revenue at the arena, also the strict economy of the committee was responsible for any achievements there. As for the Recreation Centre, he stated that expenditure there had been reduced from $7,000 in 1952 to $2,000 in 1953. He said he realized that the committee may have been criticized, but he said they have tried to do the best they could within the limited of their funds. He reviewed the playgrounds, the swimming classes and all the other classes being carried on at the centre. He said he thought the Recreation Centre and the Arena under the same set-up will be very efficient and "clean" in a year or two. On the Planning Board, Mr. McQuarrie said that groups had made a lot of headway in its first year. They have, he stated, completed an official plan for Land Use in the Town of Lindsay, and that the P. B. has rendered valuable service to the council in connection with the new housing developments here. He spoke of proposed aerial photographs of the town, a Zoning Bylaw, etc., which will make town equipped to handle its growth. He said that he felt the Board would be of great service to the town, which had no Board of planners in the last 10 years to direct the town's growth." About annexation, he said that there was "very little land left on Lindsay about which to plan" and that there was a "feeling growing in the town that we will have to spread ourselves out and take in more land."

WILLIAM D. STEVENS

In offering himself for deputy-reeve, Mr. Stevens told the audience that "had been in Ottawa listening to whirlwind speakers, now we can have a fireside chat". He reviewed his work this past year as Chairman of Lighting, telling several funny stories about experiences he encountered in his work.

HOWARD J. WILLIAMSON

Mr. Williamson said that he would not contest the office of deputy-reeve against his friend, "Billy" Stevens. He said he was in council when the reserve fund was set up. He said "council moved, seconded and passed to set the necessary fund up," not to get a huge reserve, but to help out each year in taxes. He complimented Deputy-reeve Hick on a "fine job with the hardest chairmanship."

HARRY PEIRCE

Mr. Peirce said he would not run as deputy-reeve, but would offer his services as an alderman. He stated that the remarks of the evening had been interesting, but that he had learned through experience that it is best not to criticize until one has all the facts. He said, too, that council must note that the assessment was the highest in history and the mill rate comparatively high. He warned that the town "is going to be faced with increased mill rate in the next few years", and that "in the next 10 years we will need perhaps 10 new rooms in our schools." On recreation, Mr. Peirce said he had told Mr. McQuarrie that "we cannot go along the way we are doing without increasing our facilities. We may (in time) have 20 times the number of children and they have to be provided for."

JAMES KING-BOROUGH

"This candidate did not state Monday night if he were going to run or not (and is not since he didn't qualify). He paid very high tribute to retiring Mayor Chas. Lamb saying it was "his greatest night politically -Municipally, Federally or Provincially. No man in this country has tried to do as much for the common man." In Mr. Kingsborough's opinion, the two greatest things in this town are the swimming pool and the Recreation Centre. It was his hope that council will "remember Charles Lamb in a real way." He felt that the "river can" be beautified without spending $40000 for a park, of which the town's share is $12000." He felt that the "thing we need in Lindsay at the present time is an extension and improvement to our hospital facilities. We have to take care of the sick. If I can I would sidetrack everything for the next four years to build this hospital. Four years isn't such a long time."

WILLIAM McCRAE

Mr. McCrae said he would allow his name to stand for council - but will promise nothing, but will do the best I can", he said.

J. P. WOOD

Mr. Wood wasn't sure if he would run or not (and didn't qualify). He said it was a new experience, since he had never been in municipal office. "I have been here in town 18 years. The town has been good to me", he said.

LAWSON BLAKELY

Mr. Blakely said he was not in a position to run for council, for which he had been nominated, but would serve to the best of his ability on the Public School Board.

E. A. WAINMAN

Mr. Wainman said he wasn't going to run this year because he felt he doesn't have the time it takes to do the work. In referring to retiring Mayor Charles Lamb's reference to the "East Ward", Mr. Wainman laughed and said "I thought in two years in Council I had him educated that it was West City!"

WALTER Y. PEEL

Mr. Peel stated he will stand for the member of the Public School Board for the North Ward. Presently Board chairman, Mr. Peel said that enrolment now was 1907 which was "up 87 from 1952." Enrolment in 1946 was, he said, 873. The results obtained from the work of the new supervising principal, Mr. Brian Bennett, had been, he stated, "most gratifying". Mr. Peel estimated that the Board would face a $2100 deficit this year, because an extra Grade I teacher had to be hired for the East Ward School, and extra supplies had to be purchased. To give some idea of how space was at a premium in the Public Schools, Mr. Peel said that this new room had to be housed in the basement. Mr. Bain, assessment commissioner, had been a great help to the Board, the Chairman said, having supplied them with figures that if children already living in town, the school enrolment by 1960 would be 1600. He concluded by saying that "many citizens have requested kindergartens in the schools and he hoped that, perhaps by September, 1955, these might be a reality here.

GEORGE KEITH

Mr. Keith said he would run for North Ward Public trustee. "the first time for public office." He rather took the present Board to task saying that they "spend 4c out of every (tax) dollar on education, yet they haven't a detailed report on where the money went" (to show the people). On school additions, Mr. Keith commented that he hoped "we don't get a high-brow building with a vault in front of it like the new one on Kent St." (the new L.O.I.). He said that at the new Collegiate the drainage system was bad, running much water down onto the park and rugby field, causing a "swamp". He did a lot of money to get rid of it. He said too that the stage in the gymnasium was "far too small" and that some people at graduation Friday night couldn't see or hear. He said he doesn't object to wasting money, and that the public school children have enough supervision with their teacher, principal and inspector. "That isn't enough," he said, "they now have a supervising principal to see if they've been behind the ears." He deemed it an unnecessary expenditure. "A place this size doesn't need it. They call him the Director of Education . . . he's in Toronto." he stated. "I will let my name stand. I think we ought to save money." I wish you all a Merry Christmas and if you leave me at home I'll have a happy new year!"

REGINALD VICKERY

Mr. Vickery said he had enjoyed his 19 years on the School Board and would serve another term. As far as Mr. Keith's statements on wasted money went, it was his opinion that "we have spent a lot of money but it's been a just cause."

MESSRS. G. BALDWIN, A. J. HARRIS

These gentlemen thanked the meeting for their acclamations to office and promised to do their best for same.

DUNCAN A. SINCLAIR

Mr. Sinclair received an acclamation also and paid tribute to retiring Mayor Charles Lamb for his service as a Water Commissioner. He spoke of the new East Ward storage tank, which he said will serve the needs of a growing community whose "water needs are increasing." He promised that the new tank can, and will, be built without increasing the water rates. In closing, Mr. Sinclair praised the Water Board staff, giving special mention to the fine work of Superintendent Bob Reynolds."

Sees Bald Eagle, Albino Trout Near Boskung

Mr Cecil Irwin, of Sherwood Forest Camp is the latest person in the Haliburton area to have seen an eagle in that vicinity. He is reported to have seen a bald eagle perching along a high tree. This eagle has been seen several times recently in the Boskung Lake area.

People in this area hope that the above information will not be responsible for some trigger-happy person shooting the stately monarch of the bird kingdom.

Mr. Irwin has also stated that when the fish were running he saw a white trout that he estimates was 30 inches long.

HELLO SOAKS, I mean folks .

"BIDDIE"

In the past 5 years the chick industry has changed in many phases, "Broiler Chicks" being the biggest advancement.

Many farmers are getting stung each year by purchasing chicks from hatcheries advertising Broiler Chicks, because you as a farmer can not compete with the broiler trade.

We do not buy baby broiler chicks for local trade and I am sure if you wanted good beef cattle you are not going to fill your stable with Holstein or Jersey steers. Exactly the same thing applies to chicks. If you are interested in good early chicks, contact us and we will be pleased to register a hatch of chicks you want. Oh yes, do not forget to spend a few moments with Biddie's memory and look after the little chaps at colds. If there is any sign, feed some Cod Liver Oil or a few drops of electric oil in drinking water it very often is the way, did you check for lice and worms as we suggested last week?

This ad. will appear in "THE POST", weekly -- watch closely for it. Some of our hints may mean dollars to you.

ALL-CROP Potatoes

We're proud of our service to customers . . . proud of our shop, tools and quality work on tractors and farm machinery.

We stand behind every sale. We want your tractor, harvesting implements to continue to give "like-new" service . . . and our factory-trained mechanics have the "know-how" and equipment to give extra care and make proper adjustment. This makes a real difference in field performance.

When you buy farm machinery, don't overlook the service that goes with it.

Our business depends on our reputation. You can depend on us.

Oldest Living President Oakwood W.I. Cuts 50th Anniversary Birthday Cake

Oakwood (PNB) -- The Oakwood W.I. celebrated its 50th Anniversary on Thursday afternoon, November 24th, in the newly-decorated Community Hall here. The three-tier birthday cake, sitting on a table decorated with the Institute colours, blue and gold, was cut by Mrs. E. O. Lytle, of Lindsay, the oldest living president of this group. She was assisted by President Mrs. Arthur Squires.

As the guests arrived, they were registered and the Institute colours were pinned on each. They were welcomed by the President, the Past President and the W.I. officers.

The meeting opened with the singing of the Ode and unison repetition of the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Frank Guard, at the piano, and the President looked quaint in their old-fashioned costumes. Over 300 friends and guests attended this anniversary service.

Several ladies, dressed in costumes of 50 and more years ago, accompanied by the piano and violin music, performed a few dance steps.

Mrs. Sam Gorrill, secretary, read messages of greeting from some who were unable to be present, and especially one received from Maidstone, England, the Corresponding Friendship Link of the Oakwood W.I.

Honoured guests present were asked to come to the platform. They included: District President, Mrs. Hopkins; Mrs. Herron, Brooklyn, Secretary Treasurer of this Area; Mrs. McCullough, Brampton, retiring Secretary of F.W.I.O.; Mrs. E. O. Lytle, Lindsay, oldest living President; Mrs. B. Hicks, Oakwood, District Director; Mrs. C. Moyniz, Oakwood, Past President; Mrs. A. Squires, Oakwood, President; Mrs. S. Gorrill, Oakwood, Secretary.

Miss Jean Noble, Bowmanville brought greetings from the Girls Clubs, Mrs. Agnew, Board member for Ontario South, Mrs. White, Brooklyn, Past Chairman for Area, brought greetings.

Hon. Clayton Roddgson M.P. brought greetings and congratulations to the W.I. for the untiring work they have done in the past 50 years and wished them every success for the future.

A program was enjoyed by those present. It was as follows: duet, Faye Rich and Nancy Ann Harding; instrumental, Mrs Wilkinson and Margaret; duet, Donna Teel and Dorothy Dawson; solo, Sheila Gourd; and duet, Marilyn Scott and Beverley Scott.

The singing of the National Anthem brought the meeting to a close.

Tea was poured by Mrs. W. J. Webster, Mrs. J. Taylor, Mrs. Everson and Mrs. Thorndike.

Guests were present from Toronto, Brampton, Sudbury, Brooklyn, Oshawa, Bowmanville, Port Perry, Peterborough, Lindsay and Institute members from the branches of West Victoria.

Presidents who have served the Oakwood Institute are: Mrs. R. G. Webster, Mrs. White, Mrs. Thos. Grimbolore, Mrs. E. O. Lytle, Mrs. W. J. Webster, Mrs. R. S. Cameron, Mrs. Carl Moynes, Mrs. Albert Webster, Miss Candace Bell, Mrs. Wesley Jenkins, Mrs. Arthur Squires.

During the program, one of the highlights was a history of the past 50 years' work of the Oakwood W.I. given by Mrs. Carl Moynes. "The district of West Victoria had just been organized in March, 1903, and a meeting was held in Oakwood Hall of chosen friends on November 24th to organize a local branch. The 1st Vice-President, Mrs. D. W. King was in the chair; Mrs. R. G. Webster was chosen president and Mrs. Fred Brass, secretary. It was decided to hold meetings the third Friday of each month at 2.30 p.m. Mrs. Maud Foster gave a reading and a vocal selection was given by Mrs. Brass.

Miss Laura Rose, of Guelph, the government organizer, addressed this meeting on "Better Making". In 1903, Miss Rose designed the Institute Pin, the W.I. badge, from a signet ring which she wore constantly, the motto, 'For Home and Country.' 23 ladies were present and took part freely in the discussion. A paper on lace making, prepared by Mrs. George Mills, of Lindsay, was read and several pieces of handsome work exhibited.

January 15th, 1904, the first meeting of Oakwood Branch was held. In the absence of the President, Mrs. Alfred Webster was chosen as chairman and Mrs. L. Champion read a paper on "How to Make a Home Attractive." Mrs. R. O. Whiteside gave a paper on "Conservation of Meals". Mrs. Bertram Graham gave an instrumental solo. Ten ladies were present at this meeting. At this time Mrs. Wm. Channon, Oakwood, was on the board of directors of the District. Miss Paget gave an address on "Breakfast Menus." Mrs. Wm. Webster, "Canning and Preserving." Mrs. Trumble, "The Sick Home." Mrs. E. O. Lytle, "Give Your Best at Home," and Mrs. J. A. Taylor, "Most Suitable Foods for Summer Months," with Mrs. D. Dundas and Mrs. Richardson actively assisting. The Question Drawer was a very important part of each programme.

"At this happy Anniversary, as members of the Women's Institute, we pause to pay a tribute to our founders and builders. We are convinced that a people who understand their heritage are better equipped to face the present and the future, from the knowledge, the resourcefulness, the ingenuity, the courage, the laughter of the people in the past which brins a fit in the chin, a confidence in our hearts that we too, shall solve our problems and look forward to the tomorrow of our children's children.

"And so it is true we celebrate this 50th Anniversary with a strage mingling of pride and humility. Pride in the scope, growth and achievements of this branch up until the present time and humble as we consider the great effort and sacrifice that has been made by the builders who have gone before us. It is because they did not shirk their duty that we have a strong foundation.

"In reading our records throughout the years, we find community activities and world interests part of our work, enjoying and valuing the opportunities for service, musical help, education and fun which membership brings.

"Through the war years our members' keynote, as now, was Patriotism and Service. A local Red Cross unit with the W.I. was formed. In the second World War this branch gave generous support to the district Jam Making Project. The Shut-ins of the Community have always been remembered with fruit and flowers. For several years one of our faithful members, who has passed on, Mrs. John Gorrill, travelled this Community winter or summer delivering flowers from Rick's Florist, Lindsay, to the shutins.

It was to this organization that the skating rink committee turned first for assistance. The officers of this were invited to Mr. E. O. Lytle's home to sign a bond. Branches like ours in this district were asked to give their support to Rose Memorial Hospital's maternity wing and in 1939 we pledged our support to this worthy undertaking.

This branch was the spark plut in the renovation of this hall into a Community Hall. Our share in money was $2,500. Afterward, we equipped it with piano, dishes, silverware, tables, some chairs, stage furniture, etc., a well outside, a road paved and a walk put in.

"Money was not as easy to raise as now and groups travelled miles to put on plays and other methods used were bazaars, teas, quilts, old Boys' Reunions, draw on cedar chests, euchres and dances, etc. One outstanding event was in 1936 when we catered to a Birthday Party in honour of Mr. J. P. Cunnings 100th birthday. He became the oldest Post Master in the British Empire reaching the age of 102.

"At a banquet on Civic Holiday the Silver Jubilee of this Institute was celebrated, but many are missing today who were with us then.

"Showers were starting in the branch for the brides and each one received a linen table cloth. In war years this was changed with and the money used for Red Cross.

"We try to respond to every worthy appeal in our community and no good movement can be set in motion to speak at our meetings ministers, doctors, dentists, nurses, bankers, lawyers and local agricultural representatives. The importance of developing our own talents was not forgotten. Members applied themselves in preparation of papers and demonstrations, all of which added to our education. We try to have a good representation at the District meetings and send delegates to the Area Convention and, of late years, to the Conference at Guelph.

"In 1937 Coronation souvenirs were bought for the schools of the community and later donations given towards souvenirs in memory of the visit of the Queen and late King to Canada. Many street dances were held and the Liberal picnic was held on the Fair Grounds when Premier Hepburn, of Ontario, was here in July, 1936.

"LuncheS were taken to the fields during the ploughing match held on Jenkins' farm in 1938. A very successful banquuet was served at night. Again in 1946, we served dinners and helped with lunches at the Provincial plowing match near Lindsay and made a donation to the F.W.I.O. fund.

"We were also honoured in 1941 when the wife of Lieutenant Governor Mrs. Albert Mathews, of Toronto, addressed a meeting for us. Her address was based on the Red Cross work and urged the members to lay a good foundation in life, for today, tomorrow, and the days to come.

"In 1946 we gave a donation of $500 to the Curling Rink and since have made several substantial contributions. We have equipped the kitchen at the rink and also donated a piano. We hold our meetings there in the winter and serve lunches and meals on different occasions. All the Shut-ins of the Community are remembered at Christmas time with a special box.

"Ten delegates had the very special privilege of attending the Seventh Triennial Conference of the Associated Country Women of the World, when the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada on Canada Day featured "Dominion of Destiny" at Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto, on August 21st, 1953. This is the first time this Conference was held in Canada. Through our membership in the A.C.W.W. we shall seek to strengthen our contacts with rural women in other lands. Mrs. Sam Gorrill, secretary, has now a friendship link in England.

"Junior work has been successfully sponsored through the years. Miss Evelyn Oke won the reward of the trip to the Chicago Stock Show for high standing in Judging Competition throughout the province. Recent years the work in the early years of Junior work has been carried on by local leaders and training schools with many local girls taking part on Achievement Day. Miss Hazel Hicks was

Orphuns Humble Muskies, Orono League Leaders

Orono Orphuns humbled the Regent Muskies 5-3 at the Arena last night to close in on first place in the league standing.

With over 600 fans looking on, the Orphuns laid down a close-checking barrage that had the Muskies throttled through most of the game. The Muskies who usually play a wide, open, long passing game, could not get going, as many of their passes went to Orono sticks.

The Hicks-Cocley-Lewis line were the most effective for the Muskies, but had few chances to break loose. O'Connell played a steady game in the net, under difficulty, as his teammates had a tendency to back in on him frequently, screening the shots. The other lines worked hard, but ran into checks at every turn.

Goucher, Rumbaugh, and the West brothers were strong for the visitors as they played a close-in game and bunched on thier passing plays.

Hooper, in the Orono net, was hard to beat as he robbed attacking Muskies on what looked like sure goals, but the close checking hurried the Muskies on their shots and affected their shooting.

The opening goal of the game rolled just over the red line in the Lindsay net. The score came from a face off in the Lindsay end as Goucher slammed at Junior West's pass out on the face off. The puck looped high and lit at the corner of the Lindsay net and eluded Muskie's attempt to push it out.

With the man advantage Muskies sent attack after attack at the Orono fortress without result. Bob Lewis broke from an Orono attack at 14.50 but Hooper outguessed him as he went in close. A few seconds later, Grant Green blazed a slider from the boards at the blue line that Hooper couldn't get a line on, but it was deflected just outside the open corner.

Orono charged back and tested Mucker on a difficult shot and a slapped rebound. In the last minute of the first period Davis was sentenced for charging. The Muskies put on the pressure to wear off the penalty. At this point Stu Hicks picked up a stray pass near the blue line and shuffled his way to Hooper's doorstep where he neatly tucked it away after deaking the goaler. A typical Hicks goal, to tie the count as the period ended.

Encouraged by the team Captain's marker, the men of Regent went on the attack as the second period opened. Bruce Weddup snared a loose puck from outside a scramble and sliced it by Hooper just after Davis returned from his penalty.

Shell got the thumb for charging at 2.08 and the Muskies made it hot for the Orphuns. Crawford and Parker worked in the goal mouth but Hooper kicked out both the shot and the rebound. Just before the halfway mark Lou Hennessey drilled a low screened shot at the far corner, but Hooper got a piece of it and deflected it out.

Burns and Sinclair were benched in short order at 10.16 and 10.52 and the Orphuns gave Mucker a busy time. Junior West missed an easy goal when a pass out crossed the front of the net with Junior parked unmolested at the open corner.

Orono, however, made up for it when Mercer and Goucher drew O'Connell out of position and Junior banged the neat pass out home to tie the score.

SCORING

1st. period:
1 Orono—Goucher (J. West) ... 8.28

THRILLS of the ROARIN' GAME

The results of the men's regular schedule games Tuesday night at the Lindsay Curling Club were:

G. King	7	W. Jardine	5
Sherbo	10	Culbert	3
M. Grant	10	L. Brunton	6
A. Woodrow	9	H. Wood	7
Rowlandson	9	Nugent	9
S. Brauntion	7	A. Widdis	5
E. Goedwin	11	Rev. Hesketh	3
B. Emerson	12	J. Endicott	3

Curling with the ladies

Scores of Tuesday afternoon's games of the Ladies' Curling Club were:

McIntosh	16	McMullen	6
Chase	9	Philp	5
Pirie	10	Kay	10
		(TIE)
Woodrow	11	Mackey	10
Gregory	13	Lindsay	9
Cassidy	11	Perkins	9

Lou Hennessey went begging for an assist as he laid several pass outs on Hooper's toes, but close checking prevented completion of the play. Orono took over the lead just as the period ended with Rumbaugh scoring from Philips when the rebound was left uncovered.

Orono seemed to bear down harder in the third, as More than usual of the play was in the Lindsay blue line. The Muskies threatened on several breakaways, but their checks soon caught up before they could get a second shot at Hooper.

Despite the best Muskies could do in the closely knit affair, Orono added a goal at Mid-period as Rumbaugh scored from Philips at 9.22 and Armstrong screened a pass from West at 10.46.

This last goal was too much for Burns and Co. and the locals took over from there on. During the remainder of the period Lindsay carried the play as Orono resorted to icing the puck to run time out. Bob Lewis scooped a rebound over Hooper to revive the fans at 14.36 and hopes were high. Crawford then sped Time and again the Muskies stormed the Orono net but persistent checking and a stand-out display by Hooper turned the Muskies back.

Minden Student Wins $1,000 Scholarship

Minden (PNS)— Orie L. Loucks, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Vinton Loucks, of Minden, is listed as one of the five Ontario men to win one of the $1,000 scholarships of which seven are awarded annually by the Spruce Falls Power and Paper Co., to encourage research in science and forestry.

Winning scholarships is nothing new for this brilliant young student, as winning awards of this nature seems to have become a habit with him.

Orie began his public school career in Ingoldsby later he attended high school in Minden and in order to complete his high school education he attended Lindsay Collegiate Institute.

In 1946 he entered the University of Toronto, where he obtained his BSF. At present he is taking post graduate work in the University to complete his Masters Decree.

He also finds time to do a most creditable job as associate editor of Varsity, official organ of the University.

During the summer Orie works for the Department of Lands and Forests.

Orie's sister, Barbara, obtained a nursing scholarship a short time ago and another brother, Albert is completing a course in Chemistry.

Says Threat Of War Not Diminished

Admiral Arthur Radford says the Western powers must "step up" defense plans because of Russia's iconic successes. The chairman of the United States Joint Chiefs of Staff also told an audience at West Point that the threat of war has not diminished. It was Radford's first speech since taking office last August.--BUP

Mrs. W.E. Fitchett

Mrs. William E. Fitchett, mother of Mrs. Mary O. Strickland, died in Stirling on Tuesday. Mrs. Strickland and her mother resided in Lindsay when their home was affiliated with the Dept. of Lands and Forests here. After a recent promotion which took Reginald to Strickland moved to Peterborough. The funeral is on Saturday from the Duffin Funeral Parlour, Stirling.

27, 1876 these three Churches called Rev. D. McDonald to be their minister. He drew days for Presbytery regularly conducted a Presbytery visitation of the charges and as a result we have some reliable information as to the size of the church and its work. Services were conducted in Gaelic and English. There were 8 Elders—3 South Bowesville under the care of the Session, 120 families and 158 communicants.

In 1882 when this report was tabulated, Fenelon was disjoined from Cambray and continued as a separate pastoral charge. Cambray has not mentioned it is supposed that services had been discontinued there and the members of that church united with Fenelon. In 1883 on petition received from the congregation, Presbytery granted the church the right to change its name to that of Glenarm.

In 1883 the site of the church was moved to its present location and work there then commenced on a new building. The corner stone was laid on July 1st, 1883 and the completed building opened for divine worship on Nov. 26. The Rev. Dr. McLaren of Knox College, preached at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., while in the afternoon Rev. A. Ross of Woodville, spoke in Gaelic. The building committee was comprised of Alex Jamieson, John Currins, Thos. Smithson, Donald B. McFayden, Andrew McKay, Donald J. Murchison, Colin McMillan. The Session was Alex Jamieson, Donald Gillchrist, Murdoch Murchison, Andrew McKay, Andrew Spence, Doug. Jamieson, John Smith and Thos. Smithson.

Under Rev. McDonald weekly prayer meetings were organized. Sabbath schools were held in districts adjacent under the care of the church and the Women's Foreign Missionary Society was organized in 1894. Rev. McDonald died in 1902 to be succeeded by Rev. J. A. Ferguson. Under his care the Ladies Aid was organized. The Mission Band and the Y. P. Guild. Rev. S. G. Steele became the minister in 1910. Rev. O. W. Smith in 1919. Rev. Hay in 1926. Rev. Sharpe in 1930 and Rev. Burch in 1941. Rev. Horace Kaye in 1946 until May of 1948, resigning on account of ill health. Mr. M. V. Putnam, and the present minister is Rev. Walter Jackson, M.A. In 1938 Fenelon Falls and Glenarm were united to form one pastoral charge.

BULLETIN

Tehran, Dec. 2nd (BUP) -- An official Iranian spokesman says Iran has decided to resume diplomatic relations with Britain. He adds that a joint Anglo-Iranian announcement on the resumption will be made this week.

Nominations Held At Haliburton, Contest Likely

Haliburton (PNS) -- Quite a number of citizens attended the nomination meeting held in the Community Hall. Seven new names were nominated for council and the school board and the meeting was entertaining.

Mr. Harold Black, present reeve, was nominated again and Mr. Roy Brohm, who has headed the polls in the previous elections was nominated for reeve. For deputy-reeve and three councillors the names are as follows: for deputy-reeve, Holly Sisson and Carl Hussey; councillors, A. H. Curry, William Emmerson, Clarence Hussey, Russell Hutchings, Harold Proctor.

The School Board was elected by acclamation and members are Mr. Lester Walling and Harold Morrison.

No Election For Manvers Township, Council Acclaimed

Bethany (PNS) -- There will be no municipal election for Manvers Township this year. On Friday the nominations were held and on motion of Henry Jakeman and George Smith all the old council members were returned to office.

Later in the afternoon on motion of Charles McNeil and Clifford Curtis, Mr. Robert Brown of Pontypool was proposed as a new member to the council and on motion of Orme Miller and Fenton Fallis, Mr. Henry Jakeman was also nominated. Both the latter qualified for election and all day Saturday an election was expected. However, just before the deadline in the evening, Mr. Jakeman and Mr. Brown announced they would not cause an election so the first motion stood in good order. So council remains as last year with Allan Beer as Reeve; Earl Argue, Deputy-Reeve and John Hogg, Ralph Malcolin and Addison Scott as Councillors.

Surprise Visit To Parents

Mr. Steve Caister of Flint, Michigan, surprised his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Caister, on Wednesday evening of last week. He has not been here for a visit for some time. Two years ago he was seriously ill and at that time he was not expected to live. His mother made a trip to Flint to see him, and seeing not so young, the trip went hard on her. She suffered a heart attack and was quite ill herself. That was two years ago. Mr. Caister is very well now, and his mother is quite strong again. Mrs. Steve Caister went to California to visit their children there and Mr. Caister made a surprise visit to his parents and brother here. Mr. Caister left for home on Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Hannivan were Monday visitors in Burlington.

Mrs. Bob Callan, Mrs. Dave Burchsel and Mrs. E. Dodds were business visitors in Orillia on Saturday morning.

Mrs. Grant Lake and Bobby were Friday visitors of Mrs. A. Maules and Mrs. R. Fisher in Lindsay.

Mrs. A. Lake, Mrs. T. Rutter and Mrs. Geo. Shell were business visitors in Lindsay on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Caister recently visited Perth and made a visit to Ottawa.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. R. Rutter, Sr., also Mrs. Wm. Rutter, whose brother passed away at West Guilford on Sunday after a lengthy illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lake, Toronto, and Miss Gloria Liscombe, of Toronto, were weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Johnston, of Lindsay, were weekend visitors here.

Mrs. Tom Bowins was quite sick

Several from this district attended the recent funeral service of the late Mrs. A. E. Swain, who was well and favorably known here. It was held at the Valentia United Church. Interment, was made at the South Valentia Cemetery.

The majority of the farmers in this district, are now bringing home their cattle from their various ranches and putting them in the stables for the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. George Avery Jr., and his sister, Mrs. W. E. Wickett, of Little Britain, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lewis, of Lindsay, spent a recent Saturday evening in Toronto where they attended a hockey game at the Maple Leaf Gardens

MAYOR LAMB PREDICTS CITY IN 5 YEARS

More Industry Needed To Lighten, Proportion Domestic Tax Load . . Hick

Mayor-aspirant for 1954, Mr. A. E. Hick, has publicly declared that more industry is necessary for Lindsay in order to lighten the tax load for home owners. He made this statement at the 1953 Nomination Meeting in Lindsay this week.

Mr. Hick's remarks are reproduced from his text as far as time and space permit:

I am aware of the responsibilities that go with this office and I will assure you this, ladies and gentlemen, that if I am elected your Mayor next Monday, I will do my utmost to see that the affairs of this community are conducted on only the highest and most respected plane.

I am proud of Lindsay -- my home town. It has been a pleasant place to be raised, educated and associated with the life of the community.

Your local municipal government, mayor and council, is the closest unit of government to the people. It is also the oldest form of government in the British system. It was from the local governments of England in the towns, boroughs and cities that the first representatives came to form the basis of the first parliament in 1265.

I have enjoyed my tenure of office as Chairman of the Board of Works. This department, the largest spending one under direct control of Council, is an education in itself. The many and varied problems that crop up daily tend to give one an insight into practically every problem that faces a growing community such as Lindsay. Very little happens without the Board of Works being involved whether it be a new home, industry, factory, store, or sub-division.

The Town's engineering staff is called upon practically every day for advice on sewers, building problems and many other items too numerous to mention. Besides supervising the regular work of the Department over Town, the Engineer had to plan, design and prepare estimates for the three housing sub-divisions presently under way in Town, which incidentally, just about bogged down our limited staff. All three applied for grants at the same time. However, I am glad to say that plans are well underway now. A tender call will be going out on the Maryknoll project within a few days.

As at the height of our activities this year, the resignation of Mr. Neil Strachan as Town Engineer became effective. The entire Council and I are sure many of the citizens regretted very much Mr. Strachan's leaving. However, we were most fortunate in obtaining a very capable replacement in the person of Mr. Leslie Wilson, who was with the engineering staff of the City of London.

As is community grows the need for capable municipal employees becomes greater. We are fortunate in having very excellent employees. I would like to say a personal word of thanks to the employees of the Town. No request is too much for them, whether it be for information in Mr. Ailely's office, Mr. Batey's Department or a request for Board of Works employees to turn out at midnights for ice or flood conditions.

I think that it is of interest to you to know that the Department heads of the various services, Police, Fire, Board of Works, Assessment, Building and Clerk's office cooperate willingly so as to serve the citizen to better advantage.

For the second successive year, I am pleased to report that we will be within our Board of Works Budget. The Council this year provided a budget of $86,628.10 for the general operation and maintenance of the Department. This amount is the very minimum on which the Board can operate and retain the services required to any degree of efficiency and satisfaction such as oiling, snow ploughing, gravelling, grading, sanding, cleaning sewers and catch basins, flushing and cleaning streets, etc.

New work must be done then of necessity either through local improvement or a supplementary amount to the budget. The Council this year decided that it was necessary to purchase additional equipment for the department and do certain improvements to the Town. Such as purchase of a new grader, a debenture issue, the amount of $15,000 was alloted from the surplus fund. It is hoped that this amount will be spent this year. It has provided five miles of single surface treatment, one of paved streets, the painting of the foot bridges at the end of Russell Street, the resurfacing of the end of Lindsay Street widening, shoreberd the initial cost of Russell Street widening and completed the first two payments on a new loader and heavy duty truck.

Besides the regular maintenance work of the Town and the above widening jobs, the Board has laid a considerable amount of new sidewalk, extended sewer mains in several parts of town to service additional homes, installed about 70 new sewer laterals and replaced several manholes that were in bad condition. A much more complete and detailed report of the operations of the Board during the current year will be given early in January.

While 1953 has been a very active one for the Board, it would appear from the number of applications received and being discussed for local improvements that 1954 will be even more so.

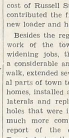

Equipment has proven profitable for the Town. Besides doing the work more efficiently and faster, it has proven economical. For the year 1952, the equipment of the Board showed earned credits of $4,230.30 over and above the cost of operation. This is based on the hourly rate which the Department of Highways will permit us to charge for the use of the equipment and on which they will pay grants.

The Councils of the early twenties initiated paving programmes for our streets that have paid excellent dividends. However, before this work

Pushed Car At 65

A 20-year-old youth, who pushed a car through the village of St. Clements at 65 miles an hour, has been charged with dangerous driving.

Police say Frank Freidman of Linwood pulled up behind a car belonging to Gordon Schlueter of Heidelburg just outside the village and pushed it down the main street. Schlueter turned out his brakes trying to stop.

When they reached the other end of the village, Freidman drove off. Police arrested him later and set his bail at five thousand dollars property or one thousand dollars cash for appearance December 8th.

Expensive Aerial

A Barrie man -- Orr Dash -- bought his wife a television set as a gift, then discovered he couldn't receive any programs.

The Dash home is at the foot of a hill three miles north of Barrie and he received almost no signal.

He said today he's getting fine reception now. He bought a 152-foot high aerial, which cost 750 dollars. It's believed to be both the tallest and the most expensive private TV aerial in Canada.

Says Dash, "Some people think I'm crazy, but why have a television set if you can't receive the programs?"

Swallows Diamonds

A Toronto woman, who is facing 29 charges of fraud involving 28 hundred dollars, swallowed two diamond rings today when police asked her to hand over the evidence.

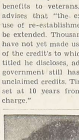

The woman is Mrs. Irene Huha. She was on remand on the charges, which cover a variety of articles bought with allegedly worthless checks, when Sergeant Edward Evans ordered her to hand over the engagement and wedding rings valued at 350 dollars and allegedly bought with a worthless check.

Mrs. Huha promptly popped them in her mouth and swallowed them.

Will Extend Vets Benefits, Hodgson Says

In his weekly letter to constituents, C.W. Hodgson, MP for Victoria Riding, states "there will be some extension of benefits to veterans under the Veterans Land Act which is to be introduced" during the current sitting of the House of Commons. There will be some minor alterations made concerning educational assistance for children of war dead and pensioned fathers.

Another announcement of interest in the weekly letter has to do with benefits to veterans. Mr. Hodgson advises that, "the expiry date for use of re-establishment credits will be extended. Thousands of veterans have not yet made use of all or part of the credit's to which they are entitled be discloses, adding that "the government will make $30,000,000 in unclaimed credits. Time limit is now set at 10 years from date of discharge."

Miss Ada Greaves announced at noon Tuesday that she would not seek election to office in the next Lindsay Council. She was the only woman to be nominated at Monday's Nomination Meeting and is a former member of that body.

18,000 Population His Prediction, Says Census Errs

"I predict that in five years the population of Lindsay will be 18,000" stated retiring Mayor of Lindsay, Charles Lamb (a fish farcereld address on Nomination Night. He said that after 12 years in the mayor's chair he was not a candidate this year due to "other business".

In reviewing the business council has done in 1953, he stated he was "proud of it".

Saying that "one-quarter of the town taxes go to school purposes". Mr. Lamb said that the "Town of Lindsay is no onger a small town . . . we are now in big business . . . in 1926 (total tax levy) was $132,000 . . . now it's over half a million dollars."

"Lindsay is a great town", he said. "You can't stop it from being a city I predict than in five years the population of Lindsay will be 18,000. I think it would be good business not to go in with the County - we pay them too much I'd rather have a large town than a small city."

Mr. Lamb spoke of the industry that had left Lindsay and stated that what he termed his "reign" -Newbigging, Carcum Chemical, Babee Tenda, Brake Shoe, National Textile, Link Manufacturing, Canadian Aerocraft, Viking, etc. "We ought to be proud of the fact that permits for new buildings in Lindsay will be over the million-dollar mark this year. This is one of the finest towns in the Dominion."

Mr. Lamb reviewed also many of the important things that had occurred during his tenure of office being Mayor during "the dark days of the war, from 1942"; launching of the HMCS "Lindsay"; sending boxes "to our boys overseas"; 200 housing units built in Lindsay under his guidance; sewage disposal plant "We have been criticized for not hired the best engineer, and any mistakes made were the fault of the engineer, not myself"; the big sewer; "my baby" (which, he said, it took him three years to get and which he "kept") -Baldwin Bridge; extension of sewers and water mains in the East Ward ("We are trying to build up the East Ward"); resurfaced Kent Street, Queen Street and this year, completed Lindsay Street. (Mr. Lamb said that he had not ashamed of Old Home Week. If we had not have had it and I were running for Mayor again I would have one next year. If we had one again we might be more careful"); the Board of Works taken from a budget of $10,000 to one of $70,000 (He paid tribute to the Board of Works Commissioner, engineer and workmen); eight new pumps added to schools ("A trustee told me we'd need more and one more room in several years."); the Post Office; loan to the L.C.I.; the many homes built here by private enterprise.

In speaking of the improvements at the Ross Memorial Hospital, Mr. Lamb said that the hospital will be the big problem of 1954. It is now over-crowded and will have to consider "How council will have to consider it." He said that a large new hospital was a must, at least "150 rooms". (The 150-room figure was a quick result of a 125-room estimate made seconds before)

In speaking of population he said that official figures for 1951 showed it was 7780, and in 1953 (which he didn't agree with) 9,843. "Actually," he said, "the present population exceeds 12,000," there being more people per house than the census shows. I know -- you can't get a house or a room in Lindsay".

He paid high tribute to Town Clerk Ailely -"a man whose place would be hard to fill - a man always ready to help - and who knows the answers - a man in a class by himself." He said he would "like to see the 1954 council when January comes, send Mr. Ailely and his good wife to Florida for another month - it would be the best money you ever spent - he would come back a new man."

In closing the man who has been Mayor of Lindsay for 12 years, said "Thank you" to all the Town Employees who he said have always been ready and willing to assist him in any way they could.

Mayor Chas. Lamb took issue with recent census figures at Lindsay's annual Nomination Meeting on Monday night. He said the figure listed was wrong and estimated the population at over 12,000 as compared with the Dominion Bureau of Statistics figure of over 9,000.

Nominations For Offices At Lindsay Fewer

The number of people nominated for municipal office here this year was down over last year. 64 were nominated in 1952, while only 46 were nominated this week. There was a larger crowd at last year's meeting also, observers noted.

The nominations were:

FOR COUNCIL

Santa Claus Stocking Fund

The Santa Claus Stocking Fund has opened with a total of $100 subscribed to the opening day. "The Post" will, as in former years, list contributions to the fund daily as supplied by The Canadian Bank of Commerce. It will also accept contributions as its office and place them in the hands of the fund's treasurer, Mr. W. J. Bundsche, the manager of the bank.

In launching the 1953 campaign, Mr. T. H. Stinson, chairman of the fund for 42 years, said "I am hoping that the public will subscribe to the fund for 1953 as generously as they have in the last number of years."

Here are the opening contributions:
Kawartha I.O.D.E.	10.00
T. H. Stinson	75.00
H Pollock	5.00
Dr. A. F. Codlin	10.00

Butler Gets Only Council Acclamation

Other Municipal Posts Filled By Acclamation

Reeve Butler of Ops will remain in that office for another year, having received an acclamation at Monday night's Nomination meeting. Also nominated for that office were W. S. W. Breese and M. C. Collins, but the former is running again for councillor and the latter asked that his name be withdrawn.

Mr. George Baldwin and Mr. A. J. Brennin were returned as Hydro Commissioners.

On the Public School Board, Mr. Lawren Blakey for the South Ward, and Mr. Reginald Vickery, veteran East Ward member went into their respective offices acclaimed. In the north ward, by two people running for office in the North Ward on the Board. They are present member, Board Chairman Walter V. Peel, and Mr. Geo. Keith.

Mr. Duncan Sinclair was returned by acclamation after being nominated four different times) as a member of the Board of Water Commissioners.

Fourteen men were nominated for council: 1953 Councillors Breese, Maidens, Harrigan, McQuarrie said they would contest again. New faces in the campaign, men who

Deer Graze Within View Of Farm, Home

Sunderland (PNS)) -The gray November dawn of Friday was brightened by the visitation of 2 deer -- a splendid buck and his mate as they grazed on the alfalfa just behind the buildings on the farm of Alfred Brown, West Brock. To gaze out the window at the otherwise drab countryside was pleasure and to be given a thrill such as this, and at this festive season, when deer are so much in the limelight, proves once again that Mother Nature still holds for each day a surprise package, a joy to be discovered by those who love such innovations.

Warns Against Discrimination By Hotelmen

Toronto, Nov. 27 (BUP) -- The chairman of the Ontario Liquor License Board has warned that the liquor license of any club or tavern proved to have practiced racial discrimination will be suspended.

Judge W. T. Robb gave the warning yesterday when the board's inquiry committee to combat racial intolerance appeared before the board, charging that the Mercury Athletic Club in Toronto discriminated against Negroes.

E. A. Goodman, counsel for the club, said it was not its policy to discriminate against anyone, and he said any Negro turned away did not have the required membership card.

The hearing was adjourned pending the calling of witnesses.

Burrows Charges Surplus He Built Up Was Used To Create '53 Surplus

"You have heard many speakers of council before me who have told you much that is new, and much that is true. Unfortunately, that which is true is not new, and that which is new is not always true," said mayoralty candidate Lloyd Burrows at Monday's Nomination meeting. Mr. Burrows was launched into an address that struck out at some of the financial dealings of the 1953 council.

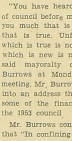

Mr. Burrows continued by saying that "In confining my remarks tonight, I find that I must make my most constructive criticism on a subject of which I am most versed in. That, of course, being finance. And I might say in looking over the statement there is plenty of room for criticism in a financial sense. I think this year we have the highest mill rate increase in the history of the town -8. Oh, yes, it was softened to the tune of 3 mills, but how. By digging into the reserve which I built up for you for the improvement of Lindsay streets. The reserve fund has proved a little white god to this year's council.

"This to my knowledge is the first year that the chairman of finance didn't pick the council budgets apart, and ask for cuts in unnecessary expenses. The budget was looked over, and was given the OK without the question of any part of the various chairmen's budgets.

"This year, too you will see that nearly every budget will definitely have presented have finished in the red. As your chairman of finance. I had monthly checks of the chairman's budgets, and in this way I prevented these chairmen from overspending or running over-watched projects. My motto was always 'keep within your budget'.

"Look at the budget of the Board of Works in 1952 the chairmen of the Board of works at that time had a budget of $46,000. In 1951 my then opponent was his harmless criticizer. In 1952 my opponent budgeted for $50,000. In 1953, my opponent budgeted for $70,000 but this wasn't enough, and he had to get permission from the finance department to spend $78,000 more, or a total of this $14,988, he spent $13,750. You would ordinarily imagine that, as he had spent $14,000 more than he would put the unused part back in reserve But no, he kept it out, and used it for his department to finish with an even balance. Now if I don't profess to know everything about bookkeeping or accounting, but this is a new system to me.

"Undoubtedly the Lindsay Street sidewalk will go down in history as the most controversial piece of sidewalk there was estimated to run around $2. to $", per lineal foot, But before the chairman got through with this piece of bad business, I hear it runs the taxpayers approximately $15.00 per foot and I am being very conservative.

"I understand that my worthy opponent is one of the leading figures in supporting a park for the county at a cost of some $40,000. As taxpayers you know what this means to Lindsay. With our now 27 per cent rate in the county you would be paying approximately $10,800. towards it.

Mr. Burrows said that Mr. Maldens had spoken "of only $114,000." He said that this was one of the weaknesses of men in council who don't have that much money - they find it easy to spend other people's

Plot of Land One Inch Square Being "Improved"

The 26 owners of the world's smallest piece of personal -including President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson -- have been notified that the property is being "improved" with a building.

The plot, in Chesterton, Indiana, was sold at public auction during Chesterton's Centennial Celebration in 1952. The plot of land is only one inch square.

The developers of the land say the building won't cover the entire property. There'll be some left over for landscaping.--BUP

Deplores Refusal Of Cubs' Request

Lindsay, Ontario,
November 28, 1953.

The Editor
Lindsay Daily Post.

Sir,

This letter is provoked by the decision of the Fair Board, at a recent meeting, to refuse to cancel the twenty-five dates set to the Wolf Cubs of Lindsay for the privilege of selling Race Programs at the Thoroughbred Exhibition.

This decision astounded me and I feel it merits further consideration. One point I would like to make clear is the fact that I am not only encouraged in this project by the Racing Committee. This is reasonable enough since the Wolf Cubs and Race Programs is a service to the people who promote the races as well as to those who patronize them. Naturally the Wolf Cubs eagerly accepted this chance to earn much needed funds. I do not have the exact figures on the proceeds of the sale of these programs and the advertising therein, but I believe it is in the neighborhood of $1,000.00. Since there are approximately 200 Wolf Cubs in Lindsay, this figure breaks down to a per capita basis of 80 cents per Cub. This is scarcely an exorbitant sum with which to finance the operations of a Cub Pack. Yet the narrow-minded view of the Fair Board will result in decreasing this figure even more.

The Lindsay Fair has built up a reputation of being one of the finest rural fairs in the Country. Did it do this by callously extracting unnecessary fees from youth training organizations? The reputation and accomplishments of the Boy Scout movement far exceeds those of the Lindsay Fair. An enrolment of 5½ million members in 60 countries makes it the greatest youth organization in the world. An organization of this calibre merits public support.

The Scout movement in Lindsay can use all the help it can get. Less that 10 per cent of the boys of Cub and Scout age are members of the organization. There is no shortage of boys - the shortage is of Leaders and Sponsors.

A united effort by the citizens and Service Clubs could bring Scouting in Lindsay a tremendous boost.

A START . . . .

It was with some regret that we noticed the absence of any reference to level crossings in the Lindsay area, when it was announced by the Hon. George H. Doucett, Ontario Highways Minister, that "the department is now building, or has proposals for building, grade separations at 25 existing level crossings in many parts of the province." However, it must be remembered that many railway crossings in the province are several times more hazardous than any around Lindsay although it is also recalled that fatalities have occurred at level crossings in this area. No doubt the province in tackling the level crossing problem has allocated or planned its work on the basis of what department officers believe to be points of greatest urgency first. That a start on this problem has been made and will be extended is good news for people who are distressed by the periodic reports of railway crossing fatalities.

In the meantime, while progress is being made in the total elimination of level crossing hazards, it would seem vital that continued study be given to ways and means of partially reducing the danger at these points on a basis more economical but equally as effective as anything yet designed. Recognizing that wig-wag signals are perhaps expensive to install and maintain, it would seem wholly practical to utilize flasher devices, on a larger scale.

HURRYIN' AND PROLONGIN' . . . .

There's been a lot written and said of late concerning the weather in this section of the country. Many people claim that the seasons are changing . . . that fall is no longer as cold as it used to be . . . . that winters are becoming warmer and so forth—But are they really? Or are we simply trying to hurry the changeover from fall to winter too much and prolong the winter too long?

There was a time when we accepted fall as it unfolded . . . if it was an open fall (and there were many of them) that was fine because it really made little difference other than to prolong the fine weather and conserve fuel bills. If it was a cold fall and winter set in early, it was equally agreeable as long as the late crops were successfully harvested and an ample supply of fuel on hand. And if early fall and mid-fall was fine too, because it meant an earlier start on spring and summer activities.

But that time has apparently passed. Now, when the last of the ball games are over (and sometimes even before) there are those among us who would at once be done with summer. They want no more of it. "Begone!," they say. "We want winter now or at least winter-like conditions so that we can get on with the hockey and skating season." No sooner are their protests registered than the voice of Christmas is heard and a public already frustrated by attempts to get in a hockey or skating spell in "balmy" weather, is treated to a chorus with pleas to "get your Christmas shopping done early." Then, still later, with Christmas over and the hockey season underway (with modern protracted schedules) a break in the winter weather, which long before had set in in earnest, brings a further bewail cry concerning the shortening of the winter seasons.

Yes, there's a heap of hurryin' and prolongin' going on these days while the seasons are following their usual independent pattern governed by laws unaffected by hockey schedules, skating, Christmas trade and other seasonal activities indulged by man.

SHOP AT HOME THIS CHRISTMAS . . . .

The invasion of the town by a few thousand newspapers from another centre a night or two ago serves as a reminder to suggest that the people of this thriving community shop at home this Christmas.

Lindsay has an excellent shopping district with an adequate number of well-equipped and well-stocked stores. As a town it has everything to offer that a bigger centre has and it is a whole lot more accessible. The merchants who operate the shops are just as anxious to serve and please the buying public as those in larger centres and their merchandise is equally as good as will be found in any other town or city.

The real pleasure of shopping at home is, of course, the fact that it is a friendly, dependable arrangement. Most people in the community are acquainted with the merchants who serve them and this naturally engenders a relationship which is impossible to duplicate in the larger centres.

THE LANGUAGE DOCTORS USE

The medical profession is now in deservedly high renown, and its wages, in dollar terms, support the reputation, making doctors men of substance as well as of science and specialized skill. The new techniques, the high professional standards, the extension of medical knowledge and the amazing therapeutic, medicinal and surgical feats doctors now perform to remove pain, restore health and keep people well are deserving of great praise. The devotion of most of the practitioners to their calling and their genuine service to humanity are worthy of public trust and respect. In only one major department do we think that the medical profession is retrogressive. Its language is tribal.

The progress of the profession since the founding of the Company of Barber-Surgeons in 1540 is apparent; the medical knowledge and skills gained in the last hundred years alone are remarkable. The old treatments of bleeding, purging, blistering and amputations of bleeding, purging, blistering and amputation were still supreme as late as 1800. The Royal Society was solemnly advised in 1723 that swallowing of leaden bullets cured "that miserable Distemper which they call the Twisting of the Guts". A character in Brown's "The Dispensary" said it was easy to become a surgeon: "Do but buy a lancet, forceps, tooth-tale a little geon: "Do but buy a lancet, forceps, tooth-tale a little geon: "Do but buy a lancet, forceps, tooth-tale a little g

The Chatterbox..

Displaced Citizens

It is hard to get used to hearing people talking in languages of other countries, yet we hear them every day, even in Lindsay. It is only natural for us to perk up our ears to listen to them even though we have no idea of what they are saying. We expect they wonder at our way of talking also and they may be keen on learning it. It is not easy unless one has learned it as a baby does to hear. In Toronto recently, we heard more foreign languages spoken than English. Didn't we be taught French in our schools we can detect it when spoken, but the other languages are over our heads. Often those people have nice voices but what they are saying will always be a mystery to most of us.

Speaks Five Languages

There is one young lady who in five years in Canada can speak perfect English as well as German, Estonian, Finnish and some Russian. Her name is Kathe Bender and she likes her present job at our line hostess and says she would rather fly than walk. She tells of walking 40 miles to get away from the enemy back in her homeland.

Christmas Baazars

We expect our church organizations are busy planning and making things for their annual bazaars next month. They must work all year to bring forth so many hand-made articles to sell. On top of these they bake food to sell and make delicious candies and put their tea. It's a big undertaking and only a hard-working group can have one every year. Some people are always hung up for sale you can be sure they spent a lot of time on them, too. If you've ever made a quilt you know how much work and time there has been put in its making.

Dressed to Kill

"Per your" is the small children love to parade in long skirts and fancy hats. Two went by yesterday and how they were enjoying being out of the Gay Nineties. One had a big plume in her hat that must have come from a discarded boa. If the high-heeled shoes were hard to walk in, but the young miss wearing them seemed to get along. Mother had apparently got them out of the attic for Hallowe'en and her daughters couldn't resist wearing them for the plunge.

Fashion

Let Paris keep its haute couture, the American-look also has disciples all over the world.

"This is apparent, as the Parsons School of Design in New York with 150 fashion students from all corners of the globe including Japan, China, India, Peru and Greece are rolled for a three-year course.

"We like the way you dress and the idea that you can be individual and dressed smartly without spending too much money," says Rachel Goldwein, a young Toronto girl who "Go-Arts" and American fashions are more adaptable than French fashions."

"We wear clothes much like you," says Miss Baldeh Pazahi of Teheran, "but we were maybe two years behind you in fashion."

These young designers . . . when they get their designing diplomas will head back home to supply personal wardrobes of American-made clothes, and a raft of American-inspired ideas.

Most of the students plan to open small salons in their own countries.

They think they will be able to keep their customers abreast of American fashions.

As one of the students put it, "we'll be behind only as long as it takes us to get a picture sirmailed from the United States to our homes."

Keep Young

Now is the time to start erasing signs of aging . . . the lines that the younger the better, but don't wait until they become definite figure faults before doing something about them.

There are usually three noticeable areas of aging . . . the first little lines about the eyes, the suggestion of a double chin or stringiness under the chin and the annoying little bulges at the thigh.

The first break in the smooth line of youth is a worry, but too often it is ignored until it is too late to do anything about it.

Whatever stage you find yourself in . . . better start at the first eye-wrinkles, the victim of other signs . . . it's time for corrective measures.

The bulge comes from a combination of slack muscles and fatty tissues. Exercises that tone and stretch, plus massage is what is needed.

Here's an exercise which is a combination of several factors, plus a strengthener for abdominal muscles.

Lie on the floor on your back. Your legs and arms rest on the floor. Bend your left knee close to the abdomen . . . keep the knee bent as you make large circles with it.

It's very important to reach with the knee as far away from you in every direction. Don't forget any part of the circle . . . make it complete.

Then, circle in the other direction for a perfectly balanced exercise. When the left leg is tired . . . start the same exercise with the right knee.

It's also a wise idea to start keeping away those little wrinkles at the corners of the eyes when you're about 24 or 25. A rich cream gently massaged into the skin each night are marvellous helps.

Be sure the cream is rich . . . perhaps with some lanolin added. With the fingers' tips, smooth the cream up and away from eye corners . . . then with an upward and outward sweep from nose, underneath the eyes . . . and up the temples.

When you're caring for your face, don't forget that your neck is also in need of care. Smooth the same rich cream from the base of the throat up over the chin . . . and continue on up to the hairline. Throw your head back . . . and using both hands . . . smooth the cream well into the skin. This preventive measure against that crepey look which is a sure sign of approaching years.

Fall Or Spring?

If the mild weather keeps up much longer, we'll be thinking of the leaf out. They are in bud now and it would take very little to bring them out in their summer shape. The weatherman doesn't seem to want to give them a rest but, being a changeable, we may have one yet. He knows what he has up his sleeve. By the time this goes to press there may be a foot of snow on the ground.

Crowded Parking

The most parked-on street in Lindsay must be Peel Street. Every day there are cars lined up, but when the lady curlers came to town to play the game there wasn't an inch of parking space when they had all arrived. This is one street that should be made one way as it is narrow. It was a bright idea to have boulevards to widen them with no need to worry about using the built the town were a wise lot of men.

Last Rose?

The last rose of summer is later than the rose this song was written for. Down at the lake, away up Lindsay Street, a rose in full bloom was in bud this week. This must be a record for so late in November. That they are in the Hallowe'en borders how it could survive the snows we had. Flower growing is a source of pleasure to so many people and right now they are watching the bulbs they planted indoors, leaf out and flower in the window. With Cyclamen plants in the florist's window and they are just a foretaste of what we are to see here when winter moves in. African violets are popular with most flower lovers but Cyclamen are particularly all Winter long and take very little care.

Algae In Sturgeon

We noticed the lake still had a lot of algae in it last weekend. One would think by this time it should have disappeared. But there was quite a lot along the shoreline. Fortunately, it was too cold to go in the water and the weeds were not there to even if it were warm enough. Other lakes seem to be free of it but Sturgeon gets a heavy crop year.

Telephone Service

The telephone ring can be an annoying interruption to busy housewives . . . and answering the phone can upset the best of schedules.

But, with the utmost grace, women have turned this everyday duty into a money-making proposition. It all started when Mrs. Stanley Young and Mrs. Marjorie Gooch discovered they were spending much of their telephone time answering calls from their husbands' customers. They put their heads together and came up with a unique service.

Now the two run a telephone-answering service. They had two customers to begin with — their husbands. And now they believe they are relieving other wives of the same chore.

The system works this way. The clients' phone, are connected with those of the two women. If the clients' phone is busy, or there is no answers, the call is switched to the answering service. The two women take down the message and relay it to the client later.

Incidentally, the nature of their business is confidential and a point on the part of the two women for chatting over the phone after-hours.

Their main problem is coping with other women. They say that women just don't know how to talk over the phone. They don't know when to end a conversation.

Shopping For Toys

You parents will save yourselves money and the children disappointments on Christmas morning by shopping carefully for toys.

One of the first rules is -- shop early. By buying now you have a large selection to choose from, and of course spare yourself that last minute rush.

An educational organization offers these additional tips.

Choose durable toys. Toys that splinter and break can be harmful to a child, since fragments easily get up in fingers, eyes or throats.

A toy should be simple. The more parts a toy has, the harder it is to operate and the easier it is to put out of order. Buy toys whose parts can be replaced.

Buy a balanced selection, making sure, for instance, that toys for both outdoor and indoor play. Get some to aid the child's mental development . . . toys such as puzzles, peg boards and craft toys.

Provide others which encourage group play -- such as games, athletic equipment, and tea sets. Select toys also for their versatility. A wagon, for instance, can be used several ways. A jack-in-the-box provides only one diversion.

Choose toys to fit the age of the child. A toy too simple or too advanced, will be tossed aside.

Buffet Meals

Buffet meals are about the simplest way to entertain a gang after a football game. The meat course might be ham, glazed with cider; side dishes could be scalloped potatoes and a green vegetable.

To glaze the ham, score the surface, then combine with a mixture of one teaspoon of dry mustard, one cup of brown sugar and a sprinkling of black pepper. Bake for about 15 minutes before the ham comes from the oven. Surround the ham on the serving platter with pineapple slices, halves, filled with whole cranberry sauce. Use the juices left in the baking pan to baste the pineapple.

Fowl Plentiful

There should be no shortage of fowl this Christmas. To date the turkey crop is the largest finest turkeys money can buy. Down near Whitby there were hundreds and hundreds of geese and ducks in the field and they were so thick they could hardly move We'd never seen so many and they were packed in so that could just move around and that's all. If there are others like them we don't need to worry about getting fowl for the holiday meals.

Fine Selection

There's a wonderful selection in the shops now . . . and things are still fresh and new and not yet picked over. You'll find gift suggestions a-plenty in the stores. The candy-coated angels floating overhead in the large department stores, and large boughs of evergreens and fat red bow ribbons

To make your shopping stint a bit easier here are some suggestions you may find useful. But first, here's a poem which has a very good word for the Christmas season. Wally Cyclemen plants in the florist's window and they are just a foretaste of what we are to see here when winter moves in. African violets are popular with most flower lovers but Cyclamen are particularly all Winter long and take very little care.

For the woman on your list, there is a never-ending collection of suggestions. Remember that there was more plentiful this year than ever before. There are many new and different shades, which are glamorous and ever-so tempting.
For instance . . . you'll find lots of Sweetie glass-ware in the shops both sophisticated and modernistic. There's Mexican glass, too . . . also amongst the Christmas decoration-ing. This year you'll find Spanish glass in the stores, too. It sells for about $3.00 a piece. There is a metal pitcher with oddly-shaped spout and an interesting looking design for the handle.
There's Italian alabaster, too which would please any woman's heart. You'll see clocks, vases, jewellery, and Mosiac pins which are new and different.
Another favorite is also good very rich looking . . . and can be given as gifts for men and women alike. You'll see clocks, desk sets, bill-folds, frame purses, cigarette boxes and book-covers
For the women, too . . . you have no idea of the number of things like gloves . . . imported from France, or blouses, evening bags, sweaters, scarves, lingerie, costume jewellers, needlepoint tapestries or tea cosies.
There's a new idea in hostess trays on the market now. They're musical and send forth sweet tunes as soon as one of the serving trays is picked up to be passed around. The four compartments stand on a metal base.
To please any woman's heart there are enchanting little dancing figurines that will have oohs and ahs recall the carefree days of childhood.

Plant Stand

If you have a friend who goes in for African violets you can be sure of pleasing her with a plant stand to arrange her plants on. Some of them hold up to eleven plants on a revolving arm. They are very popular and sell for $10 or $12. They are made of steel designed so that they won't up or upset.

Nolan-Dunn Wedding in Lindsay . . .

Shown signing the register following their November wedding in St. Mary's Church, Almonte, are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Herbert Nolan, of Lindsay. The bride is the former Mary Frances Clare Dunn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Dunn, of Almonte. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Nolan, of Lindsay. Reverend Maurice Egan officiated and said the Nuptial Mass.

St. Mary's Church, Almonte, was the scene of the marriage of Miss Mary Frances Clare Dunn, of Almonte, to Mr. Denis Herbert Nolan, of Lindsay, on Saturday morning, November 7th, at 10 o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Dunn, of Almonte, the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Nolan, of Lindsay.

Reverend Maurice Egan officiated and said the Nuptial Mass. Miss Mary Hogan played the wedding music and the girls' choir of St. Mary's School sang. Whiteand pink chrysanthemums were used to decorate the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Helen Dunn. Mr. James Nolan was best man for his brother and ushers were Mr. Paul Nolan, brother of the bridegroom, and Mr. Elmer Smith.

The bride chose for her marriage, a white brocade gown with full skirt flowing into a rounded short train. The fitted bodice was featured with Peter Pan collar, and buttoned in front. Her small brocade headdress held a fingertip veil, and she carried a white prayer book adorned with garlands of ribbon, deep-pink rosebuds and lily-of-the-valley. The bridesmaid's gown was of hunter's green silk velvet, fashioned with a shoulder cape. Her bouquet was vari-coloured 'mums of gold and brown.

The couple left on a honeymoon trip to Montreal and Ottawa, and following a reception held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother received in floor-length blue lace with matching hat. Her corsage was of red roses. The mother of the groom wore gold and blue bengaline, black hat with jewelled veil and corsage of white carnations.

Travelling, the bride wore an imported tweed suit in beige and blue tones, brown patent matched shoes and bag and a mink stole.

Mr. and Mrs. Denis Nolan reside in Lindsay.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Moynihan, Miss Ann Dove, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Dove, Miss Rosemary Dove, Lt.-Col. and Mrs. E. H. Minns, the Misses Kaye and Reita Carroll and Mrs. A. Farmers' Club Banquet Held At Coronation Hall

Omemee (PNS) — The annual meeting of Omemee Farmers' Club was held with some 180 attending a banquet in Coronation Hall.

President Elmer Mahood was master of ceremonies and the guest speaker was Mr. Leroy Brown. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Marshall, Peterboro, and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, of the local Bank of Toronto. The singing of grace was followed by a toast to the Queen and the National Anthem.

The club, when inaugurated, specialized in co-operative buying began shipping livestock in 1918. The late John McNevin was first secretary-treasurer, followed by the late Wilbert Pere, Wm. O'Neill, S. D. Vaughan, Wm. Weir and the present shipper, Mahood McCarrell. Their secretaries were the late F. G. Sandy, late David Weir, late Wm. Robinson and S. D. Vaughan.

In 1922, the Downeyville and Reaboro clubs disbanded to amalgamate with Omemee. In 1945, the club established a cold storage plant which has been operated since.

Mr. Mahood stated "that 1919 was the high year for number of hogs shipped since 1945, at 4,000. The lowest price on record was in 1932 when average prices per hog was $3.08 and the price per pound one week dropped to 3 1-4 cents live weight. Rail grading began in 1951. In 1951 the average price per hog was $31.50. Peak year was 1952 for cattle, but in 1951 one member shipped 100 head. Top price of $.

Membership this year has reached an all-time high of 112. Three memberships end during the year, C. R. Hart, Alex Lamb and T. J. Morrissey. Only one charter member of the original club was present—W. C. Vance.

A toast to the ladies was proposed by Albert Clancy and Mrs. V. Lang and Mrs. Mahood replied. Mrs. Brown and Miss Dorothy Connell, each sang several numbers. Group singing was led by Mrs. Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Clancy, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Skuce, Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Storey, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Miles and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Marden.

Warden Pee introduced Mr. Leroy Brown who congratulated the club and commended their contribution that their sons had made to Junior Farmer activities, 4-H clubs, plowing matches, judging competitions, etc. Boy, receiving special mention were Glenn Cornell, William Mahood, Earl Bulbeck, Glenn Pee and David Elliott.

A film, "Enough and For All," was shown, depicting the way in which agriculture was traced from primitive methods through the machine age to the present scientific farming of hybrid chemical tests and the last word in labor-saving devices.

DeGeer, "How to Choose for Health" and "The Wise Choice of Meats." Mrs. Smith gave two readings, "The port meat plays in a healthy diet" and "The variety and spice of meat supplies."

After which lunch was served.

Salvation Army Home League Tea and Sale Very Successful

A very successful tea and sale was held this week by The Salvation Army Home League at the Town Hall.

At the opening, the Home League secretary lead those gathered in the singing of the old Christmas Carol, "O Come All Ye Faithful", accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ivan Drury, who also provided music during the afternoon. This was followed by the Lord's Prayer after which Mrs. Davis introduced the Corps Officer's wife, Mrs Sr. Major H. Mallory, who after reading a short Scripture, welcomed those who came, and declared the sale open.

The tea tables were centred by miniature winter scenes depicting various winter sports and events. Santa was seen driving his reindeer, skiers, skaters and other imaginary fields of snow, skaters cut figures on imitation lakes, and children slid on toboggans made under the shade of miniature Christmas trees all done in chenille work (pipe cleaners).

A special feature of the tea that brought forth many pleasant comments was the serving teapots at each table the Lindsay Girl Guides "Pour your own" and to linger for a pleasant chat without too much interference.

Many pretty and useful things were disposed of at the handwork tables, presided over by Mrs. Lang-ford, Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Hamilton. A bake table held a very good display of the culinary art and was attended by Mrs. Simmons and Mrs. Hall. The tea tables were served by Mrs. A. Mosier, Mrs. W. Carew, and Mrs. R. Bryan. The sale of work corner was presided over by Mrs. Davis. Mrs. Haywood, and Mrs. C. Carew.

The treasurer, Mrs. H. Rahm, presided at the door, and assisted Mrs. H. Majury in welcoming the guests as they entered the hall. The candles, mauve and yellow 'mums on the centre table, and a large basket of Christmas greenery in the fire place lent the Christmas bouquets centred with the Salvation Army Flags.

The event proved to be a very pleasant and profitable affair. A hearty "Thank-you" to all members of the Lindsay Corps who made such possible, and also to the guests who so well attended, has been given by those in charge.

Mrs. E. Woodlock Donates Books To P.T.A.

Coboconk (PNS)—The regular meeting of St. Margaret's P. T. A. Coboconk, opened with the singing of "O Canada" followed by the Lord's prayer for Catholic Education The Roll Call was responded to by 14 members and 2 visitors.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $99.00 on hand. Plans for the tea dance were discussed. It was decided to hold the dance on the last Friday of January. Mrs. Boyle, Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Rocchio were appointed a committee to arrange and provide tickets for all the children to see the movie "The Miracle of Fatima."

The president, Mrs. Peter Bowins, asked the members to decide whether or not they would like to purchase the first of a series of books by Father Gerald T. Brennan, which had been suggested by the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the members, Mrs. Ellen Woodlock, offered to donate the entire set of books to the local school if there were gratified to her, not only for this kind offer, but for her many donations in the past.

It was moved by Mrs. Margaret Anglers, and seconded by Mrs. Ellen Woodlock, that the Rev. Father Massa and for their departed friends on the first Thursday of each month. Moved by Mrs. P. Reilly and seconded by Mrs. J. Rocchio, that a series of afternoon teas be held at the home of the late Mrs. Ann Brennan, the Social Welfare convenor, will be away for some time, so Mrs. P. Reilly volunteered to fill the vacancy.

This concluded the business and Rev. J. Massa showed films of "The Mass" and "Vacation School", which he himself had assisted in producing. This proved very interesting as many of the Coboconk children were seen in the film.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Jack Bradamore and Mrs. Peter Bowins. As it was Mrs. J. Rocchio's birthday and Mr. and Mrs P. Bowin's eighth Wedding Anniversary, their friends wished them many happy returns of the day.

Bury's Green W.I. Hear Reports On Convention

The November meeting of the Bury's Green W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. John Griffin. The president opened the meeting in the usual manner, and 23 members answered the Roll Call, "What Part of a Man's Body Can You Live Without?" There was also 16 visitors, among them the new district president, Mrs. Geo. Lee, of Pleasant Valley.

Mrs. Lee gave an interesting account of the 31st annual Central Ontarion Convention, which was held in the City of York, Toronto. The main theme of the convention, she reported was "Adult Education". Mrs. Basil Cook gave a short report of the day she spent at the convention and more particularly on the Girls Club Work. Miss. Muriel Flint and Miss. Kathryn Walker represented the Victoria County Girls Clubs at the Convention when they demonstrated their handicraft. The girls are to be highly commended on their efforts.

Further plans were made for the Bazaar which is to be held in Dixon's Show Room, Fenelon Falls. It was planned to hold the December W. I. meeting at Cambo's School and entertain the children of the community at a Christmas party.

Mrs. Jay Winn, Bobcaygeon, accompanied by Miss Lillian Devitt, was much enjoyed. Mrs. Doug. Jones contributed a piano solo. The meeting closed with the National Anthem. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess and her helpers.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How should butter be measured?

A Don't try to measure butter for cooking by cutting it into a cup, thereby wasting quite a bit of it. A pound brick of butter is equal to two cups and all the various measures can be very easily figured from this.

Q. How can I prevent rusting of irons?

A. Wash the metal hinges on doors frequently in warm soapsuds, and they will be easier to rub to polishing. Wipe dry after washing, and to prevent rusting, rub with oil.

Q. How can I loosen the dirt in any white, acids such as curtains, blankets, spreads, and such, which are soiled very badly?

A. Soak over night in cold water, to which a handful of borax has been added. This loosens the dirt so that it will usually easily rise in next day, and a beautiful color is imparted to the material.

Resort Owners Hint Rates Below Fair Profit Levels

"Operators underestimate the importance of reliable, clean accomodation" warned Gil Watson of Gil-Mar Lodge, Sturgeon Lake, at the annual workshop meeting in Peterborough last week of the resort section of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce. He continued that "if our rates are not in line with a fair profit and a safe return on our investments, we are giving our places away."

Mr. Watson pointed out that his type of business -- vacation and convention business -- was entirely different from that of the other members present. Theirs was self-contained cabin type of resorts.

Attendance at the meeting in figures was disappointing, but the range of subjects discussed pertaining to the resort business of the Kawartha was broad, and to the participants satisfying. They used the late morning to discuss various phases of the promotion problem.

Mrs. Ross Smith of Scotsman's Point Lodge agreed that rates were too low and quoted several instances of Americans overwhelmed with an established rate scale by arriving with twice the number in their parties that were originally booked, gained for. It was agreed that it was much better to discourage this type of tourist to protect the industry.

In the matter of promoting the Kawartha it was agreed by all present that the district tourist industry was not well-enough established in the tourists' minds. And that the future of the provincial governments tourist rating policy, nothing had come along to replace it. Chairman James Fraser wanted to know whether or not a Kawartha resort-rating policy could not be set up to promote the are. Members were in agreement on this, though no specific ideas were forthcoming. But, some form of promotion, such as organizing a tour for American outdoor writers, was considered.

In the matter of spending fees to belong to various hotel and tourist promotion bodies a survey showed that members present ranged from those who spend nothing to those who spend as much as $700 a year.

The rental of boats at resorts was also an aggravating problem. Reports showed that the majority of members felt that a boat-cabin "package" price was the most acceptable rate structure to the tourist.

Argyle W.A. Turkey Supper At School

Argyle (PNS) -The Ladies Aid of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Eldon Station, held a bazaar and cold turkey supper in the Argyle School. The tables were set up and the ladies served supper at 5 o'clock, until all were served. The supper consisted of cold turkey, salads, jellies, pickles, rolls, pies, cakes, which was much enjoyed by everyone.

Rev. Mr. MacLean declared the bazaar open at 5.30 p.m. Mrs. J. J. Boynton and Mrs W McFadden were kept busy at the table selling articles, such as aprons, lace doilies, with hand knitted lace, etc. Home-made candy was also sold. Miss Daisy Brimbcomb was in charge of the "Touch and Take" table which was much patronized.

The petal quilt that the ladies made by embroidering blocks was on display and much admired by everyone present. At the close of the bazaar it was sold to Mrs. Curtle.

The proceeds from the concert and bazaar were very gratifying.

Visitors were present from Kirkfield, Cannington, Udney, Peterborough, Woodville, Omemee, Bobcaygeon, Verner, Argyle and Brampton.

Mrs. J. Stoddart Glen W.I. Guest Speaker

Woodville (PNS) -The regular monthly meeting of the Glen W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. Warris Thomas. The roll call, "What I Keep in My Medicine Chest", was well responded to by all the members present.

The business was then dealt with were; Girl's Club under the direction of Mrs. N. McLean, Miss Alice Imrie assisting. Plans for a Christmas party for a fund for the girls. The expenses of the leaders who attended the training course in Lindsay were to be paid by the branch. Delegates to the Central Ontario W. I. Slat annual convention held in Toronto were to be Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Luncheon expenses paid by the association; It was agreed to accept the invitation to hold the Institute Conference in Woodville in May. Mrs. D. B. Hartle, Mrs. Don James Mrs. Ern Hewitt and Mrs. G. Lyle, appointed by the people, he pointed out.

Mr. Weir pointed out that if the government decided to do away with the family license that it would be a policy to assist officers in law enforcement, not to save fish that were already present in sufficient numbers.

John Bark, a newly-appointed regional inspector of the Department of Travel and Publicity, Peterborough was introduced. He suggested that his department would be prepared to set up an Instructional school in the district to show tourist operators up-to-date methods practised in this type of business. His department had already held sessions of this nature in other centres, he said, and found very good results obtained. Chairman Fraser thought Kawartha operators might ask the department to organize one of these meetings next spring.

Only Taking Out Excess Fish Lindsay Biologist Declares

Speaking to resort owners in the Kawarthas at the annual workshop meeting in Peterborough last week, Biologist Charles Weir of the Lindsay office of the Department of Lands and Forests told those present, "You all talk of lakes being fished out. Actually, we are only taking the excess of the present fish population."

He explained the cycles and season in which fish take lures or leave them alone and claimed that when any of the fishing and recreational schools could be put on the waters at that time.

Regulations inspector Gordon Bule, of Lindsay, also present at the meeting, reviewed the provisions of the regulations as far as game enforcement went and asked that tourist operators discuss any of their fishing and enforcement problems with department men at all times. They are public servants

Mrs. Free Opens W.A. Bazaar At Valentia

Valentia (PNS) -The W. A. bazaar and supper held in the Valentia Church was a decided success.

The president, Mrs. Lorne Snodgrass called the meeting at 5.30 and after a few brief remarks, introduced Mrs. Free of Cannington, who opened the bazaar.

Mrs. Free, a stranger to some while others had met her through W. A. work, spoke a few encouraging words on the various societies were doing, and mentioned the various opportunities all had as workers of the church. Mrs. Free declared Mrs. Free declared the bazaar open.

The various booths were kept busy as there were aprons, cushions, socks for infants, articles of child's wear, a lovely lot of fresh baking. At the far end of the table ladies were kept grandmother busy with parcels. The younger children were right on the job for the fish pond. Mrs. Fred Bell had a lovely display but was soon sold out. A nice large quilt was sold which was on display on the wall of the school room.

Supper was served from six o'clock after grace was sung, and a bountiful and plentiful supper of meat pie, pickles, cake and pie.

A concert was held in auditorium of church commencing at 8 o'clock numbers on the guitar by Mrs. Mac Glassford, Mrs. George Maddock; Mrs. Free sang a solo; reading by Mrs. Cecil Casey; duet by Mrs. Jack Firman and Mrs. Stratford.

Mr. Mr. Hamilton acted as chairman. He introduced Mr. Brock Orr of Toronto, (a school teacher), who showed his colored film Scenic Beauty along on Lake Scugog. Mr. Orr after a few friendly words showed some interesting films taken on a trip he had made last summer.

Rev. Mr. Trumpour thanked Mr. Orr and also moved a vote of thanks to all who had helped to make the evening such as success, the proceeds of which were $240.00. The singing of "God Save the Queen" then closed a very inspiring evening.

Under the direction of the leaders the girls laid the patterns on the materials and cut the skirts. Mrs. Flett handed out sheets on bias binding and zippers.

A delicious lunch was served and the meeting closed.

Defer Fair Manager Choice, Extend Application Period

Racing Form Fee Reduction Ruled Out By Board

Mr. Chas. Pilling of the local Boy Scouts Association wrote to the Board of the Lindsay Central Exhibition re, the sale of racing programs which has been carried on for a number of years by the boys of that organization.

Mr. Pilling said that with increasing printing costs and perhaps a decreased attendance on the grandstand the profits derived by his organization were less than they have been in other years. In view of the above facts, Mr. Pilling wondered if the $25 fee could be waived.

R. Butler-I remember when Bert McLean gave the job to them . . . at a very reasonable rate.

R. Weldon -- We can't start giving everything away up there.

S. Moore -- They get paid for the advertising they do.

R. Butler -- It depends on the number of boys selling, too.

Moved that the $25 fee remain the same.

New Auditor Engaged By Fair Bd.

A new auditor for the books of the Lindsay Central Exhibition had been hired. He is Mr. Herbert A. Watson, of Toronto. The new man was necessitated by the resignation, due to ill health, of the man who had prepared the statement previously, Mr. S. Parrish.

After Mr. McLean's death last Spring, an audit was necessary, and at that time Mr. Watson had prepared a statement of operations for the first four months of this year.

Last night, the Board of the Lindsay Central Exhibition, moved, seconded and carried a motion to hire Mr. Watson to prepare a statement of the full 12-month operations of the Fair for 1953, in time for the annual meeting in January.

Mr. Watson's charges will be $200.

Gideon Society Gives Children 400 Testaments

The members of the Gideon Society presented 400 New Testaments to girls and boys in the Lindsay Public Schools last Wednesday afternoon in a special ceremony at each school.

"These Testaments are for the purpose of God's world by presenting these Testaments to Grades Five and Six each year it is expected that every child will receive one by the time they have reached years in his or her public school life," supervising principal Brian Bennett told the assembly at each school.

Mr. Oliver Smith, the local Gideon representative, along with Mr. W. Cowan, Mr. Bennett, this programme. After the presentation, the Gideons, along with several from the membership, met to form a local Lindsay Camp.

Hold Successful Christmas Bazaar At Fenelon Falls

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -The W. A. of Fenelon Falls United Church conducted their annual Christmas bazaar and afternoon tea in the Sunday School room. With perfect weather conditions the event attracted a large number of guests who were graciously welcomed by the president, Mrs. J. M. Nevan, assisted by Mrs. J. Kelly.

The beautifully decorated booths were in charge of group leaders, who were assisted by group members. Group Leaders, Mrs. W. Martin and Miss Ethel McLean supervised the Home Baking table and the Candy and Store with the varied wares was in charge of leaders, Mrs. George Hemmington and Mrs. Wm. Gillis. The Fish Pond which attracted crowds of children was in charge of Mrs. J. R. Barrett and Mrs. R. A. Pegert. The Pansywork and Apron table always one of the most popular booths was in charge of groups led by Mrs. J. Kelly, Mrs. Thomson, Mrs. J. Allen and Mrs. A. W. Webster.

The Tea Room arrangements were planned by group leaders Mrs. C. J. Vesey and Mrs. A. McNevan. During the afternoon tea was poured at an attractive tea table by Mrs. K. P. Jull and Mrs. R. Isaac, and the ladies were assisted with the refreshments by group members. The financial results were most gratifying and everyone who attended enjoyed the afternoon.

The Board of Directors of the Lindsay Central Exhibition passed a motion at their Thursday night meeting that the matter of employing a new manager, to replace the late S. L. McLean, be left over until the next regular meeting, on December 17th, and that applications for the position (which closed November 16th) be left open until that date.

President John R. Kelsey raised the matter, saying that this was the important business of the meeting. Mr. Ray Weldon read the two letters of application that had been received, both from Lindsay men.

Reeve Richard Butler, an honorary president, felt that the matter ought to be left over until next year's Board could have some say in the choice, since they would have to work with the man chosen. "We may all be back -- or none of us," he reminded the directorate.

Mr. Kelsey said that if any other members had anything to say, since he pointed out that "this is an important matter, let's take our time."

"This is a very serious situation," said Mr. Ray Weldon. " . . . it can't be done that way. We don't want to find ourselves in the position of Peterbough (Fair)."

Mr. Kelsey said that what Mr. Weldon was getting at was that he was saying that the manager must be in "constant supervision" of all details. He mentioned that many buildings at the Grounds, which represent a large capital expenditure, were not insured, and that supervision was necessary at all times to keep them in good order. He also asked that the new manager must be a man who can go to meetings in other places and "leave a good impression of Lindsay there."

Members of the Board expressed disappointment in the small number of applications (two) that had been received after the job had been advertised.

A member wanted to know what the Peterborough Fair paid their manager. "They don't have one," said Mr. Kelsey. He went on to say that someone had suggested to him that possibly the positions of the secretary of the Federation of Agriculture and the Exhibition manager could be combined. This idea received very little support from the members who felt it wasn't feasible.

Mr. W. Weldon told members that by putting the matter of hiring a manager off for three weeks they would "be no further ahead."

Though Mr. C. K. Bottum, of Bobcaygeon, had been urged to take the position, he said that he could not do so, but would be happy to assist in any way he could, as he had done in the past. "If it's the arena with a pair of skates on and skating along with the younger people.

Mary Fitzpatrick

Miss Mary Fitzpatrick died Saturday in St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, where she has been ill since the early part of September.

Miss Fitzpatrick was well-known and well-liked and will be missed by a large circle of friends. Her work, with the National Employment Office, where she was on the staff for about 15 years, brought her in contact with many people in this area.

She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fitzpatrick.

Quirk:

Brandon, Vermont Nov. 27 (BUP)-Dairy farmers in Vermont must certainly be happy the deer season ends tomorrow . . . especially after getting wind of this story which is circulating today.

A fella who described himself as being from New York city stopped at a dairy farm in Brandon, Vermont yesterday. He said he had been hunting in Vermont, . . . and then started talking about. "the beautiful splendor" in the state.

One of the listeners said he was a rabid hunter and asked to see the bucks.

Said the fella from New York -- "Sure, it's on my car outside. I've already dressed it."

The Vermonter nearly fell over outside the diner.

The Vermont "hunter" from New York had shot a heifer.

Leaskdale W.M.S. Meets In Church

Sunderland (PNS) -The November meeting of the W.M.S. of the Leaskdale Presbyterian was held in the church. At the opening of the meeting a moment's silence was observed in keeping with Armistice Day.

A hymn was sung, followed by a poem by Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Fred Clark led in prayer and Mrs. Robert Cowling gave an interesting topic entitled "The Christian Church in Africa".

The programme consisted of a piano solo by Marion Clark; a study period taken from "Jungles Ahead" by Mrs. Herbert Paisley; a solo "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer" by Mrs. R. McLean, the singing of a hymn and the Scripture reading given by Mrs. Annand.

Mrs. Milton Gilham, Mrs. Allen Ross, and Mrs. Irving Leask were elected as a Nominating Committee A meditation was read by the president. The singing of a hymn and prayer brought the meeting to a close.

Dutch Reform Church Buys Local Church

A new church in Lindsay has a new home Rev. M. W. Holmes, pastor of the Lindsay Pentecostal Assembly, told "The Post" Thursday that the former premises of his church, at 40 Cambridge St. South, has been purchased and are now occupied by the Dutch Christian Reform Church.

The latter church has been holding services here in Lindsay in the Sunday School room of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Now, the Dutch church will have a permanent home. Rev. H. Moes, of Peterborough, is to be the pastor.

The dedication services of the new Pentecostal Assembly church, Calvary Temple, on Glenelg Street W, are to be held on December 6th, the pastor says. The church also has been in Lindsay since 1945.

Mayor Opens New Groceteria; Crowds Line Streets Early; Free Coffee Is Attraction.

Mayor Chas. Lamb opened Loblaw's new Lindsay store a good 15 minutes ahead of schedule Thursday a.m. Said Mayor Lamb: A. Hollgreaves introduced Mayor Lamb and announced that the opening hour was being advanced to end the long wait of customers who had queued up several deep to be among the first to enter the store and thereby eligible for a free pound of coffee (a free pound of coffee was promised the first 1,000 customers and it was gone before noon).

Mayor Lamb paid tribute to the firm for its progressive trend since coming to Lindsay. He recalled the first store at York and Kent Sts., its subsequent expansion and complimented the company on its latest achievement which he declared the finest store with finest equipment and finest staff in Lindsay." In an aside after he had snipped the opening ribbon, Mayor Lamb said he had been so anxious to speed the opening and get people in out of the cold that he never had time to compliment the man who managed the store . . . Mr. Harry Packer. Mayor Lamb said he wanted to publicly extend his good wishes to Mr. Packer who, with his family, "were among the finest people in Lindsay."

No sooner had the ribbon been cut than hundreds of people started making their way into the store in an extremely orderly fashion. Local authorities, forewarned by the experience of a big sale conducted by another Lindsay store a few days ago, were on hand to facilitate movement of them. Each customer had four of his staff on duty for the occasion. Those assisting the chief were Mrs. Packer and Mrs. stables Mark, Henley, and Bailey.

The crisp November morning which held a threat of snow combined nicely with the bright, cheery interior of the big groceteria to create something of a Christmas atmosphere. Pre-Christmas displays of the wall lend themselves well to such occasions with their glistening columns of packaged goods.

The store has an estimated 10,000 square feet of floor space and features a self-service system which absorbs noise very effectively. Estimated cost of the store, which is Lindsay's first with large scale parking lot accommodation, is set at $150,000 by executive personnel.

The large frozen food section proved interesting to first comers and an inviting looking packing contain, ing a Chinese dinner caught the eye of several. Another point of interest was the electric check-out system which management says will greatly facilitate customer purchasing ease. Mrs. Alex Agnew, in charge of meat operations for the company, told "The Post" that it was surprisingly enough the cellophane covered meat parcels didn't mean greater expense to the customer. They buy their meat just as reasonably as they he declared. Several butchers were busy cutting and doling nothing but preparing cuts for the customers to meet counter. Girls wrap them at high speed under extremely sanitary conditions. The packaging room is air conditioned.

And among those from the firm's head office who assisted in the store opening were Chairman of the Board Justin M. Cork, President Geo. C. McConnell, Vice-President and Asst. General Manager Geo. Hoffman, Sales Manager Frank Morley, Merchandise Manager Jos Cormack, Advertising Manager Art Hammond and Store Operations Manager N. J. Spence. Sixty people were on the opening day staff of the store.

Estimated $500 Damage To Car

Onions, Spinach Enjoyed From Lindsay Garden

The unseasonal weather the last few weeks has given a local garden a new lease on life.

The vegetable garden at the home of Mr. George Beall produced some tasty spinach and onions this week. They are the second crop this year, and the plants seeded themselves.

Mr. Beall says that the spinach seems to be standing up well under the cold snap today. Smiling, Mr. Beall told "The Post" he had also checked his raspberry bushes.

Two people had a miraculous escape from injury and even death on Wednesday when the car they were riding in collided with a CNR train west of Lindsay. The two people were Howard Statham, Lindsay, and a companion from Oakwood. Both emerged from the wrecked car with nothing more than a good scare and a shaking up.

The Statham car was proceeding towards Lindsay on Highway 7 when it collided with the CNR freight as it high-balled over the crossing east the Lee Equipment Company's office.

Witnesses say the driver apparently tried to swing with the train and this may have accounted for the fact that the car was pushed aside by the train rather than carried along with it. The force of the glancing impact did an estimated $500 damage to the late model car when it hurled it into the ditch.

The investigating officer, OPP Hall, told "The Post" after the accident that the car occupants "were very fortunate that they weren't hurt . . . I can't understand how the car didn't go under the train."

Time of the accident was 7:15 p.m. and the train was under the care of Conductor O'Loughlin and Engineer Jack Nesbitt. The freight was delayed approximately 30 minutes before clearance was given and police had carried out the investigation. There was extra train carrying grain from Midland.

Arrests Follow Noisy 14-Night Charivari Try

The usually peaceful Memramcook district in New Brunswick is in an uproar.

Three of its citizens have been arrested and ordered to appear in court December 2nd.

Two hundred others have been told to stay away from Alphee Leblanc's door . . .

The long-standing tradition has been broken . . .

It appears that Alphee LeBlanc, a 22-year-old bridegroom, doesn't like it in a "charivari". That's an old Valley custom of friends and neighbors gathering at the home of a newly-married couple.

The crowds had been lining up at Alphee's door for 14 straight nights, but he refused to invite them in . . . They had shotguns,, firecrackers a 200-piece band, car horns and a continuously-blowing siren.

Alphee refused to budge although the noise grew more deafening.

Last night, Alphee threw stones and firewood at them in reply. The crowd burned a straw effigy of the groom, escorted it in a 73-car motorcade to the mugdy Memramcook River, and set it adrift in a rough box.

In moved the Mounted Police dispersing the crowd . . . arresting three middle-aged men . . . and telling Alphee to stop throwing stones. --RUP

Major James Cooper Addresses Rotary

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -- The Fenelon Falls, Rotary Club had the pleasure of welcoming Mr. Allan Brokenshire to their membership. Four past presidents of the club, Mr. Chas. Hall, Mr. Ed. Kelly, Dr. Grattan Graham and Dr. F. M. Graham addressed the new member outlining the four objects of Rotary.

These four objects, one of which was taken by each speaker, are to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and in particular to encourage and foster: the development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service; high ethical standards in business and professions, the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations, and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve the application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal, business and community life; the advancement of international understanding, good will and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service.

Mr. Brokenshire was welcomed to the club by President Wm. Murchison and by the gathering as a whole. Major James Cooper of the Salvation Army was the speaker for the evening and his very interesting talk on the "Coronation" was heard with much pleasure by all those present.

Farm Forum News

Pension Falls (PNS) -- Sixteen members attended the regular meeting of the Cameron Point Farm Forum, which was held in the school. In the absence of Mr. Bruce Brokenshire, vice-chairman, presided and the discussion on the topic "The Challenge of Dairy Substitutes," was led by Mr. Wm. Brokenshire. The forum found the question, although most important, a difficult one to tackle.

First question -- If dairying were seriously injured by the widespread use of imitation dairy products what effect would this have on (a) other branches of Canadian agriculture such as grain, livestock, dairy cattle, poultry, fruit and vegetables? (b) on the urban consumer? Answer (a) Less grain would be grown and therefore the farmer would have to divert his efforts to livestock, which would increase the supply of hogs and beef thereby flooding the markets and causing financial harm to the farmer and shortages of fluid milk, butter and cheese. (b) One out of six Canadian consumers are dependant on dairying for their livelihood, which would cause unemployment, thereby effecting other lines of business.

Question two -- What can the farmer do to help meet the challenge of dairy substitute? Answer -- By reducing production costs and increasing advertising.

Question three -- What is your opinion of the legislation in your province governing the sale and manufacture of edible oil products? Answer -- The farmer should bring more bearing directly to the government in the hope that the people would become conscious of the benefits of dairy products.

Mrs. B. Wanamaker Gives Topic At Seagrave W.A.

Seagrave (PNS) -The November meeting of the W. A. convened at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Wanamaker The South Group was in charge. Mrs. R. Clements group leader opened with "Blest be the tie", followed by prayer by Mrs. A. Bruce. Scripture Lesson Matt. 18-15-21 was read by Mrs. Neil MacMillan.

The topic "Fellowship and Worship", was given by Mrs B. Wanamaker, who said "fellowship" means, partnership, association or companionship, and Christian communion with others - that it is, largely a New Testament word. To have "Fellowship" they must be common interests, so God wants us to gather in groups, however small, to worship Him. There are few things we like to do alone. We enjoy working, playing, singing and eating with others, and so it is with worship. The word "Worship" is closely connected with "fellowship" and means to bow down, or a reverential attitude of mind. Our Heavenly Father seeks true worshippers. When we meet for Bible Study and prayer we are given courage to meet the problems of everyday life."

Mrs. Wanamaker gave a very splendid illustration of how to extend the circle of Christian fellowship. "The story is told, of a woman, in a small community, who travelled many miles to attend a church conference, where problems connected with the world wide Kingdom of God were discussed. Much of what she heard was new to her, but on leaving she said 'I can't do much about some of these matters, but I will go back and bring the Kingdom as I - as my own home.' Mrs. M. Bruce gave a reading on "You can see it in your Face."

The meeting was turned over to the president, Mrs. E. Butt. Two members contributed to the Birthday Box. Collection amounted to $9.25. Fruit for the hospital was mentioned and the theme song closed the meeting. Mrs. O. Wanamaker conducted a contest and lunch was served by the South Group.

Mrs. J. Shaw, of Gelert, and Mrs. Wm. Shaw, of Kinmount, spent an afternoon during the week with Mrs. Geo. Shaw.

Ops Acclaims Sherman Moore 1954 Reeve

Returned To Serve His Fourth Term

Mr. Sherman Moore is Reeve of Ops Township by acclamation. Mr. Moore was nominated at the meeting held at the Orange Hall Friday afternoon. Also nominated was Mr. Herman Buckley, but Mr. Elwood Smith, clerk of Ops, told "The Post" that since Mr. Buckley had not qualified by Fri. night, Mr. Moore would remain as Reeve for another term, his fourth consecutive one.

Four of last year's council have qualified this year, Messrs. Nasmyth Henry, Howard Windrem, Shersby Currins and Wilbert Thorn. The other men nominated for council had until 5.00 p.m. Saturday to qualify, says Mr. Smith.

Mr. Moore addressed the meeting and gave an account of the year's work, in both the County and the Township. Mr. Vincent Fee, Warden of Victoria County, spoke a few words about the plans for the enlarged Ross Memorial Hospital.

The list of nominations is as follows:

For Reeve:
Mr. S. J. Moore, Mr. Herman Buckley, Wilbert Thorn.

For Council:
Messrs. Nasmyth Henry, Howard Windrem, Shersby Currins, Wilbert Thorn, Thos. Hutton (not present), Jos. Burke, (not present), Clare Currin, Stanley Reeds, Herman Buckley, Kenneth Reid.

After Road Superintendent R. Smith had answered some questions on his work, and Mr. Reids was thanked for acting as chairman, the meeting adjourned.

TB Seal Drive Reported Going Fairly Well

The annual T. B. Christmas Seal campaign is on in Lindsay. The president of the Victoria County Tuberculosis Association, Mr. F. W. Wilson, told "The Post" today that the returns were coming in "fairly well". He said that the organization was looking for greater subscription this year, as "there is a great need for funds to carry on this important work."

Mr. Wilson said that the seals have all been mailed out, the campaign having actually begun on November 16th. The treasurer of the group is Victoria County Clerk, Frank Weldon.

Campus Chat

Over 700 Proud Parents and Students Participate In Graduation Exercises

On Friday evening, over 700 proud parents and students streamed into the new gymnasium of the Lindsay Collegiate Institute to attend or participate in the annual school graduation exercises.

Mr. H. H. McFadden, chairman of the Victoria County District High School Board, welcomed everyone present, on behalf of the Trustees of the Victoria County District High School Board. Their presence, he said, signified their interest in the success of the graduates and a general desire to encourage them in their future progress.

Mr. McFadden, due to considerations for the fact that Mr. Berelez had streamlined the program to allow a maximum of time to inspect the new addition to the school, did not make a lengthy address. However, he did point out a few interesting facts about the enlarged high school area, stating in part that:

"The District Area Board consists of 21 appointed Trustees. The Council of the County of Victoria appoints one member for a one year term.

"The Town of Lindsay, three members - one retiring each year. The Public School Board, Lindsay - one member.

The separate School Board, Lindsay - one member and each of the other Municipal Councils within the area appoint one member for a term of two years. The Board is presently administering this School, the Frenchon Falls High School and the Woodville High School. The transfer of the staff and students from Woodville will follow when this enlarged one room addition is completed."

"The combined Faculty of the three schools is 36 members and the pupil enrolment 999. In December, 1950 the pupil enrolment was 339," he continued. "The fundamental principle of the formation of the school area was to extend higher education to a greater number. With the increased enrolment in this area since its recent formation it would seem that the enlarged school area and its greater selection of subjects is what the parents want for their children. It has been said that the greatest good for the greatest number over the period of time is the true definition of Democracy. Apparently that definition has been applied in this area."

Mr. McFadden drew special attention of the trustees to the home economics department for the girls and the shop for metal work and woodcraft for the boys. Well-lighted, equipped from departments will offer additional options, heretofore not available at L. C. I. He also paid tribute to Principal Berelez, the members of his staff and the pupils for their whole-hearted co-operation and understanding during the construction operations of the past year.

At former graduation exercises, the school has had a distinguished person as guest speaker to leave a message with the graduates. This year, however, the guest speaker was present as the feature of the evening was a conducted tour through the new school. Mr. McFadden therefore left a few words of wisdom with the graduates in the form of a verse from the "Associated Truck Lines Dispatcher" which he had seen in London, England. This poem, which follows, points out the contrast between a boss and a leader:

"The boss drives his men; the leader coaches them
The boss depends upon authority; the leader on good-will.
The boss inspires fear; the leader inspires enthusiasm.
The boss says 'I'; the leader says 'we'.
The boss says "Get here on time"; the leader gets there ahead of time
The boss fixes the blame for the breakdown; the leader fixes the breakdown.
The boss knows how it's done; the leader shows how.
The boss says: "Go"; the leader says, "Let's go"!"

The members of the L. C. I. Girls' Choir presented three most enjoyable musical selections, under the directions of Mr. S. C. Lonie. The girls and Mr. Lonie certainly deserve congratulations for this excellent addition to the commencement program. The selections presented were:
(a) Fantasy on Nursery Rhymes - Dr. Leslie Bell.
(b) Pirasquita Serenade -Prans Lehar
(c) Can't You Dance the Polka? - Sea Chanty.

The next item on the program was the presentation of the Awards for:
(a) Public Speaking -
Senior (Deyell) Medal to Penny Grieves; Junior Prize to Annetta Styles (no Jr. W. Deyell).
(b) Verse Speaking -
Senior (Pullen Medal to Penny Grieves; Junior Medal to Margo Greaves by Miss N. N. King.

To every senior student, graduation is a ceremony which evokes many conflicting emotions; - sadness and joy; pride and nostalgia; hope for the future, regret for the past. Many members of the class of 1953 participate in their last collegiate activity. Ronald Teel, Valedictorian for the Graduating Class of 1953 stated the feelings of the whole class in his excellent valedictory speech.

Miss Shirley Patterson, presented a painting to the school on behalf of the graduating class of 1953. In thanking her for this lovely gift, Mr. Eberlee stated that it would receive a "place of prominence" in the new collegiate.

Academic Awards were presented to the winners of the respective awards. In speaking of these awards Mr. Eberlee expressed his thanks to those persons who had contributed three to the collegiate, and stated that although we now had enough awards to be numbered by the complete alphabet A-Z, there was no need to believe that no more would be welcomed. "We could", he said, begin the alphabet over again and list them from AA-ZZ or AAA-ZZZ."

An unadvertised feature of the program, which followed the presentation of these diplomas was heartily applauded by staff and students alike. Mr. Jasper Forman presented a beautiful vase to Mr. Eberlee, as a tribute from the Board to his co-operation and cheerful assistance "above and beyond the call of duty" given the Board during the recent (and present) difficulties pre sented by the construction of the new school. The student body joins the Board in extending a vote of thanks to the principal, Mr. Eberlee.

The official program closed with the National Anthem, following which a tour was conducted through the new collegiate. The theme of this tour was a demonstration of the opening and closing of the mechanized wall which divides the gymnasium into two separate gyms, one for the boys and one for the girls. As the former, one section is still being used for regular classrooms. All the rooms were literally shining with special displays were shown by the arts' classrooms and the chemistry laboratory.

At the close of the tour, a group of collegiate students served coffee and sandwiches to those present. A dance for the graduates and their friends concluded the Graduation program.

Mr. Eberlee and staff of Lindsay Collegiate Institute were gowns and hoods depicting their respective degrees. This is a new practice for Lindsay Collegiate Institute, but one which is carried out in several of the Canadian High Schools e.g. Malvern, Riverdale, etc. and in most of the U.S. schools. It is certainly hoped that this practice will continue, as it adds a great deal to the ceremony, both in dignity and solemnity.

Henry T. Hickey

An illness of eight years that cut short his career as a building contractor, ended in the death of Henry T. Hickey, 683 Gilmour St., Peterborough, Thursday afternoon at St. Joseph's Hospital. He had been there hardly two days for a medical re-examination.

Mr. Hickey's last work was in July, 1945, when a sudden debility forced his retirement. From 1910 until that midsummer he had completed a long series of contracts in both southern and northern Ontario. He started his experience with Malcolm McIntyre and his brother, the late A. A. McIntyre, and also their thoroughbred stock enterprise.

Mr. Hickey was still in his teens when he decided to venture into business for himself, and he was only nineteen when he took a contract for an enlargement of the post office in Peterborough. Including the Peterborough contract, the construction of the Hunter St. bridge for the contractors, Russell-Townsend Co., Hamilton.

Work Widespread

The scope of his work and territory is indicated by the following: the Court House, at Cobalt, the Flavelle cold storage plant and Horn factory at Lindsay, the Ross Memorial hospital at Bowmanville, a job for the CGE in Peterborough.

Ronald Teel is 1953 Valedictorian For 1953 L.C.I. Graduating Class

The Valedictorian at the graduation exercises at the Lindsay Collegiate Institute on Friday night was Mr. Ronald Teel, of Oakwood. Mr. Teel is at present affiliated with Quinn's Pharmacy, and will go on to study for that profession.

In his address to the large audience, Mr. Teel stated:

"Last June I was elected by my fellow graduates to speak on their behalf this evening. I accepted their decision with mixed feelings of pride and misgiving. Pride because I realized the honour attached, misgiving because I was not accustomed to speaking before a large audience. Tonight we receive our ultimate tangible reward in the form of our diplomas. However, I feel that the entire time spent at the Lindsay Collegiate Institute will have such an influence upon our character and conduct that it will not abruptly cease, but will follow us all our lives, guiding us through the more difficult problems.

"Tonight marks not only the climax of our high school years, but the opening of the door upon a new adventure and beyond this door may lie uncertainty and insecurity. Whatever problems may beset us the training we have obtained at L.C.I. will enable us to think more accurately and to arrive at more rational decisions than would otherwise be possible. This training has been gained not only in the academic courses, but also in the extra-curricular activities. School sports provide an opportunity to develop the body and what is more important to learn the significance of teamwork and co-operation. Obedience and a respect for authority are instilled into each boy who takes cadet training. The social life of the school teaches us courtesy and how to get along with others. The school magazine the "Taller" offers an opportunity for the students with writing ability to express themselves.

"It has often been said by older and wiser people that school years are the happiest of one's life. I am inclined to be of the same opinion. Where else is it possible to sit in the comparative serenity that exists in the classroom? Or where could we have open argument with older and wiser persons without personalities? Thus in leaving the L.C.I we carry away with us many fond memories which will serve as a link binding us to it and which time will not sever. For example, what cadet can ever forget the trip to Trenton to see the present Queen of England, the Duke of Edinburgh, highlighted by a free-for-all on the return trip with some of the Peterborough boys, or the annual inspection, the work of the Cadet Band when the boys really give their all to uphold the high standard of the cadet corps. Trips to the colourful Royal Winter Fair through the Agricultural department of the school were also memorable occasions.

"The past year at L. C. I. was a trying one in many respects to staff and students alike. The cause of our difficulties was the fact that the dream of a new school in Lindsay was finally to be realized. The first noticeable effect on the students was the absence of the gymnasium which was torn down early in the fall of 1952. Later in the year as the new building progressed the routine of school work was often rudely interrupted by the sound of falling plaster as the old structure which had stood the test of time since 1888 began to disintegrate making way for progress. A cloud of dust would then pour into the halls, sneak under doors into the classrooms pervading the atmosphere of the entire building. As the steel frame-work began to rise the monotonous sound of the riveter was enough to distract the most attentive student. In spite of all these obstacles we managed to overcome most of our problems, thanks to the patience and quiet understanding of our teachers.

"In reading over a few of the old Valedictory addresses I found that usually one paragraph was reserved for some remarks to the students still attending L. C. I. In this regard I would like to follow suit. With an ultra-modern high school now at your disposal yours is an opportunity unprecedented in the history of L.C.I. Make use of your time at high school. Gain something that will be of value in later life. The fundamentals of democracy and good citizenship taught at the school will be tested to the utmost during the next few years. Communism which exists only where ignorance and poverty prevail can be defeated by educating people. We must not be penny wise and pound foolish, but rather active participants if the freedoms of the individual such as freedom of speech, freedom of the press and freedom of worship are to remain intact in our Canada. With these few thoughts, we, the graduating class of 1953, wish the present staff and students every success in the years to come."

Damage Light In Collision On Kent

Chief of Police John Hunter told "The Post" today that a car driven by Lucas Lucas, R.R. 5, Lindsay, 19 years old, which was proceeding east on Kent Street W. was in collision with the driver's rear of a car proceeding west on Kent Street at 7.20 p.m. Sunday. This latter car driven by Gordon Godfrey, Lindsay was turning south across Kent St. towards a parking space on the south side, says the Chief.

Police state that the damage to the Lucas car's right front was about $30 and to the rear of Godfrey's vehicle $25.

Passengers in the Lucas car were Miss Regina Lucas, of R.R. 5, Lindsay and Miss Mary O'Neill and Miss Burns, both of Lindsay.

Building Fund Offerings Total $2,033 At Service

$2,033 in offerings to the Building Fund were received at the Anniversary Services at William Street Baptist Church Sunday, says the pastor, Rev. G. W. Searle.

He says that Rev. Hall MacBain turned in all of $1,200 on Sunday afternoon for the new extension of the Lindsay church. The extension will, he says, increase the seating capacity nearly 50, and will improve the entrance to the present building. Present for the ceremony were Mr. Thurston, other building officials as well as members of the congregation, Trustees and Deacons. (Mr. Himphries, who had been architect, passed away recently.)

Rev. Searle says the new church addition will be begun as soon as possible.

He went on to say that both the morning and evening services of worship were filled to capacity".

The addresses of Rev. Hal MacBain, the guest speaker, were very sentimentally received, he added. Rev. MacBain is the minister at Temple Baptist Church, Sarnia, and is the president of the Fellowship of Evangelical Baptist Churches in Canada.

The praise of music by the Hoop-or Brothers Sextet, of Oshawa, was appreciated by the large congregations.

Local Mother Is Treated After Crash

A Lindsay mother, Mrs. Gerard Campeau, of 29 Glenelg Street W., was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, about 10 p.m. last. Thursday following a train-car accident at Lock and Ware Streets. She was discharged and permitted to return to Lindsay.

The car, driven by her husband, met in collision with a C.N.R. train was Steve O'Connor. The Campeau family were proceeding north on Lock Street, and were driving towards Lindsay from Belleville.

Mr. Campeau, daughters, Anne, 14, and Maureen, 16 months, escaped injuries.

All the damage done was to the Campeau car. The front end, the radiator, the grill, the hood, the front bumper and right fender were damaged.

The investigating officers were P.C. Conlin and P.C. Mennes.

Peterborough County Raises Wolf Bounty

The wolf bounty in Peterborough county has been boosted $10 a pelt —from $25 to $35.

County council decided on this move Thursday morning, Reeve Norman Wilson of Burleigh-Anstruther, tell them that there is an unusually large number of wolves in the north county this year.

The extra $10 bounty will only be paid to those hunters killed December 1, 1953, and February 28, 1954 During that same period fox bounties of $5 a pelt will be paid, as in previous years.

The motion for payment of the fox bounties was proposed by Reeve James Humphries, of Asphodel township, and Deputy Reeve Walter Sloan, of Douro township.

"Tell me," said Reeve William C. Grant, of Lakefield, gravely, "has a census been taken of the wolf population in Peterborough county? Are foxes still a menace to chicken?"

"Oh, yes," said Reeve Stewart Clydale, of Drummer, "they're killing lots of partridges and small game, too."

James Endicott Wins Kin Suit

At the annual "Ladies Night" banquet held by the local Kinsmen Club, the monthly draw was made for the suit of clothes, and the winner was Mr. James Enfield, of 108 Russell St. W., Lindsay. His many friends are pleased to hear of his good fortune, and also that he will modestly draw continues with such success.

Things Are Quiet!

Things were quiet yesterday in Joe Maslauo's Barber Shop in Passaic, New Jersey.

Then a customer — Edward Klahowski, of Clifton, New Jersey— came in and settled into the chair for a shave.

"What's new " asked Klahowski.

"Things are very quiet," replied the barber.

Just then an automobile operated by Mrs. John Curcio, of Passaic, crashed through the plate glass window, upsetting chairs and other furnishings and stopped inches from the barber's chair. The customer and barber suffered minor cuts from flying glass.--DJP

North Ops WI Hear History Of School By Mrs. Burn

The November meeting of North Ops W. I. was held at home of Mrs. Stanley Manness, with 14 members and visitors present. Meeting opened in the usual manner, followed by the minutes of the October meeting read by the secretary, Mrs. W. Thurston. Correspondence was an invitation from Oakwood Institute to attend their 50th anniversary, this was accepted by our members.

A report of the wallpaper demonstration held recently in the Town Hall, Lindsay, was given by Mrs. E. Thurston, who was one of the lucky winners. The members decided to send a box to Bob Algar, who is serving in Korea.

Mrs. Goodman gave a report of district directors meeting. Roll call was answered by "Oldest article in your possession" some things being shown were 100 years old and over. The historical convenor was in the province of Ontario and that of S. S. No. 2 Ops school. Two poems were read, Mrs. Keeler, "A Child's Prayer" and Mrs. Goodman, "Mrs. Wilson "The Future"; A solo by Mrs. E. Thurston "In The Garden"; Mrs. Manness read "Problems" (Mrs. Quarrel of the Pins and Needles"; a reading by Mrs. Moore "Be Careful of Your Neighbor".

Mrs. S. Curtiss moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Wallace for the use of her home and to those taking part in the programme.

Lunch and a social half hour followed closing exercises

Called "Oh, deer", Wrong Dear Came

A case of mistaken identity caused a momentary embarrassment in the Charles Bogenrief household in Omaha.

Mrs. Bogenrief called out "Oh, deer" — and her husband came running.

But she wasn't referring to him. She pointed to a big buck deer sniffing at the window.

As for the animal, it dashed off as soon as it saw it was observed. --DJP

Hall's Lake

(News for week ending Nov. 28) Mr. and Mrs. Dick Prentice attended a wedding at Lindsay on Saturday, then went on to Toronto for a few days.

It was decided at a meeting of Club 35 last Friday night to build a rink for the children, and to have a Junior Club 35 which could play games in the basement on Friday night. This is an excellent idea, it is felt locally.

Mrs. Hall, accompanied Mr. B. Abbott on his return to Toronto, Sunday, and will remain two weeks. Mr. B. Maunder has gone to Canton to stay for a time.

Collide With Railway Engine At Local Crossing, None Hurt

On Friday night, at 9.20 p.m., says Chief John Hunter, a car driven by Howard P. Mills, of Lindsay, was proceeding east on Wilson Avenue W. when it was in collision with a C.N.R. engine, which was backing south across the crossing on Durham, (near Sussex).

Passengers in the car were Mr. Mills' wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Hepburn, also of Lindsay. The Chief states that Mrs. Hepburn was treated by Dr. W. Parker for shock and bruises.

The locomotive's engineer was W.J. Rowell, of Lindsay, and the fireman says Chief Hunter, was Robert Harwood, of Lindsay.

Damage to the left side of the car has been estimated by police to be about $75.

The investigating officer was P.C. William Mosley.

Third Cooperative Builders' Group Begins Series Of Study Periods

Mr. Guy Mills, chairman of the first group formed in the Maryknoll Housing Co-operative in October, met with the group Monday night to announce that there are now three groups of builders, the last having been formed on Monday night.

He says that the second group was formed in February this year, with Owen Johnson as chairman. Mrs. Hayes was elected in April of this month ago, has no chairman appointed as yet. This last group started on the Monday night following the Recreation Centre. They will go through an eight to ten-month period of study, and then on with the hopes of building in 1954.

A total of 96 homes are represented in the three groups, 32 in the first, 31 in the second, and 30 in the third.

The group are under jurisdiction of a Central Planning Committee, which handles the affairs of the three. The chairman of the Board is Mr. Reginald Brooks, of Brooks and Bowmanville, (Maggie) Mrs. Wesley Bradburn, Blackstock, and (Gertie), Mrs. Secretary of Mrs. Alfred Mallory survive, and D. Wotten of Toronto, a brother. Four brothers of Mrs. Henry predeceased her, Mrs. Herman, Louis, Charlie, who was killed at Vimy Ridge), as well as a sister Mrs. Ida Reid of Mrs. Goodman) and Susie (Mrs Nelson Hudson), who also predeceased her. Pallbearers will be Mallory Funeral Home from where the funeral service was held at 2 p.m. on Saturday. Interment in Mt. Pleasant was at Hampton Cemetery and officiating clergyman was Rev. A. F. Cresswell Kilbourne officiated at the home. Messrs. Charlie Harvey, Carl, Rae and Ivan Henry with Cecil Hubbard a cousin.

Mr. Mills says that most of the homes in the Co-operative "will be able to be built on the now-approved site of the Maryknoll" in Lindsay's East Ward. Sixteen new homes are under construction there now, and the rest of the homes that nine are framed-in, and the framing-in of the rest is expected to be finished next week.

Gifts Presented At Surprise Party

Woodville PNB) — The honking of car horns heralded the arrival of the McIndoo school section neighbours of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon English, one night recently, to letter them a surprise presentation party prior to their departure to their new home in Woodville. Mr. and Mrs. English have sold their exceptionally well-equipped farm to Mr. Melvin Wilson and Raymond Burke, of Windsor.

After the guests assembled, the first part of the night recently, to letter in playing progressive euchre. At the conclusion of the game, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were invited to seats of honour and Mrs. Charles McMillan read an appropriate address, when they were the recipients of a nest of three walnut tables and a chrome smoker. Both thanked their many friends for the beautiful gifts which will be a lasting reminder in their new home of their McIndoo neighbours.

Mr. English has resided in the neighborhood for 21 years, while Mrs. English came as a bride 19 years ago.

"For they are Jolly Good Fellows" was sung and the genial gentlemen in charge of the refreshment committee, Messrs. Niven Parliament, Charles McMillan, Bruce Clayton and James Hamilton, then served from kitchen in readiness for an old-time home party.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Goard supplied the music for the square dancing. Mr. Howard Copeland was the efficient auctioneer. The delicious lunch was served by the ladies and everyone had a very enjoyable evening, even the younger youngsters who played hide and seek on the large lawn by electric light.

Routing Pigeons, Ladder Collapses On Helper's Head

Chief of Police John Hunter told "The Post" that at 7.10 p.m. Monday night, Dr. Arnold reported that he had been called to attend Godfrey, of Lindsay, to the Ross Memorial Hospital, and had later treated him there. The Chief says that Dr. Arnold told him he had put 11 stitches in two cuts on Godfrey's head.

Upon investigation by P.C. William Mosley, it was found that Bill Daynes had been requested by Charles Godfrey, of the New Royal Hotel to remove pigeons from the eave on the east side of the hotel. Godfrey says that he saw Bill Daynes and Godfrey obtained an extension ladder, Daynes going up the ladder and Godfrey holding it at the bottom. He says that when Daynes was at the top, the ladder came apart in the middle. Both the ladder and Daynes, he said, fell on Godfrey's head.

Mr. Godfrey was released from hospital late Monday night, the chief says, in a still somewhat dazed condition.

Beaver Become Troublesome

Wildlife Returns To Swamps Of Northern Durham County Moose And Bear Reported

Sunderne (PNS) —Beaver have become such a nuisance during the past few years along the lower shores of the Pigeon River that a special meeting has been called by P. Parsons by the Dept. of Game and Fisheries to trap a number of these industrious animals that are within his trapping territory. Quite a number of local folk have viewed with curiosity the magnificent pelts thus far and one topped the scales at 80 lbs. This permit allows a quota of 10 to be trapped at one time and if the nuisance continues the property owner can request further trapping when another permit is issued.

These busy little animals have felled poplar trees as large as 18 inches and more in diameter in order to create dams and homes. One farmer unexpectedly salvaged a good supply of his own wood for fuel and it did not cost him any expense for hired help. Should the tree be too large to handle this wise animal shows it into smaller lengths in order to roll the log to the desired place. If thrawted then, a channel is dug whereby water flows in and the log is floated outward.

These pelts bring a lucrative price and at least two or three would be sufficient for a short coat for mademoiselle. Beaver have been seen climbing over the dam at Stephenson's Mill, heading southward up the river and today are to be found many miles along the tributaries of the Pigeon Creek, which extends to the Pontypool-Lotus area, north of the Great Divide, where all streams flow either south or north of this height of land. Though never explored by an amateur Champlain or La Salle, it is hoped that this creek meanders possibly 30 miles through the swamps, jungles and steaming bayous of Emily, Ops. and Manvers Townships.

In recent years wild animals of many varieties have gradually invaded areas southward towards Lake Ontario. Years ago, whoever heard of bears, moose and wolves being seen south of No. 7 Highway. Recently a large bruin was shot in Carnn Twp., and moose have been tramping the swamps of Northern Durham regularly.

Pioneers sometimed been locally, but as the white man established himself, bears seemed to retreat northward. Now some are trappers in recent years have found the sport so poorly paid that many have abandoned the trade. Hence foxes, wolves, raccoons and the odd lynx have rapidly multiplied and become bolder. Sheep breeders in many areas have abandoned the industry due to the ravages of wolves. And the mighty toll of the motor car in the cold war against the opossum seems to be one effective yet risky method of reducing the skunk family.

Mrs. George Lee of Pleasant Valley, president of East Victoria, gave an excellent report of the 51st convention of the W.I. held in Toronto, which was exceptionally well given and appreciated by everyone.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess and her helpers, Mrs. Oscar Brokenshire and Mrs. Ernest Johnston. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Mervyn Moore on December 2nd and each member to bring homemade candy for the Home for the Aged.

Herberta Nye

Mrs. T. G. Nye, who passed away in her sleep on October 31st, after a long illness, was the former Herberta Thurston, second daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thurston, of Verulam.

Mrs. Nye received her education in Verulam Public School, Lindsay Continuation School and Peterboro Normal School, after graduating from Normal School, she taught in Verulam and Peterboro schools, until 1911, when she went to Redland to be married at Chatham in Kent to Thomas Nye.

Her example of calm courage during the five years in Britain's Front line County and her refusal to be evacuated to a safer area, won for her the admiration and respect of many people in that much bombed country. Many who served overseas with Mrs. Verulam and Redland will remember that there was always a welcome at her home and they in turn would hear the sound of a Canadian voice in a strange country.

After the war Mr. and Mrs. Nye and Thomas Allan returned to Canada to settle in Verulam, where up to the time of her death she was active in Church and Community life.

Interment was at Ingoldsby, in Haliburton, after a service in St. John's Anglican Church, Dunsford, conducted by the Rector, the Rev. George Ball, of Bobcaygeon.

Honey-house Information

A recent news release from the Department of Agriculture in Ottawa has a word about using honey-house equipment.

It states that inefficiency in the operation of such honey-house equipment as extractors, honey pumps, strainers and settling tanks is mainly caused by reduced flow-rate of honey at regular temperatures.

The flow-rate of honey . . . as effected by its density and temperature . . . has been measured by an instrument designed by the Central Experimental Farm.

It was found . . . for example . . . that a medium density honey of 17-3/4-1-half per cent moisture will flow 10 times faster at 100 degrees farmheit than it will at 70 degrees.

A heavy honey of 18 percent moisture will flow at only one-quarter the rate of a medium density honey at 100 degrees Fahrenheit. On the other hand, a light honey of 36 percent moisture will flow three times faster than a medium density honey at the same temperature.

In general, such honeys will be readily at 95 degrees In order to operate honey-house equipment more efficiently therefore, the air in the honey-house should be kept at this level . . . or failing this, some auxiliary heat such as a treated sump should be used. -BUP

Wealthiest Man In Korea Now

Tokyo, Nov. 28 -(BUP) -- Lt. No Keun Sok, the Korean airman who delivered a Russian-built Mig jet to the Allies two months ago, rates today as one of war-torn Korea's wealthiest men -- he has collected the 100-thousand dollars promised him for his deed.

The U.S. Air Force handed No his check yesterday on the Japanese island of Okinawa, where he is working as a research specialist and perfecting the Mig. He also plans to leave soon for the United States to study engineering.

Pay-off of the prize money is already has been spent for the support of his mother in South Korea. The balance will be deposited to his credit in a trust fund while he is studying.

The Mig, which has been exhaustively tested by Allied experts, is being held on Okinawa for return to "its rightful owner" -- the Communist Air Force of Korea, China, or perhaps Russia. So far there have been no claimants, the Air Force said.

Surgical Operations

On The Heart

"Most physicians are aware of the tremendous rise in the number of aged persons in our population, but few are aware of the magnitude of that increase. Since the first part of the 20th century the number of persons 65 years of age and older has quadrupled while the general population has only doubled." I am quoting Dr. Sidney E. Zifferin, Iowa City, in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

For many years now physicians and surgeons have not been recommending surgery to the aging although in many cases an operation would not only add more years to their life but those few extra years would be lived happily and with more comfort.

A review is given of the patients 80 years old and over who were treated surgically at the University Hospitals of the State University of Iowa during the ten-year period from 1942 to 1951 inclusive. These patients were cared for on the general surgery service excluding ordinarily services such as urology (kidneys and bladder) and orthopedics are not included in the review.

In this series there were 429 patients, 16 of whom were 90 years of age or over. A total of 503 operations were performed on this group with an overall death rate of 15.1 per cent. The commonest causes of death were pneumonia, usually an embolus (clot of blood) in the lungs, heart failure, cancer, and hypertonia. In selected cases, where a general anesthetic was given.

Some idea of the feeling of safety about operations in old age can be gathered from the fact that the increase in the number of patients 80 years old or over during the ten-year period that is from 1942 to 1951 the patients admitted and in 1951 there were 79, and in 1951 take surgical operations, was 18 times greater in magnitude. The death rate was 11.3 per cent as compared with 35 per cent in 1942. Another point to be taken into consideration is that elderly patients are not usually in as good a state of nourishment as younger patients so that a nutritious diet, rich in protein, must be provided. Even in an acute emergency, time must be taken to correct dehydration (loss of body fluids) and shock before operation.

After operation, patient is soon out of bed and in a chair. On the day of operation and several times daily thereafter and given small doses of quieting drugs given.

From the above we learn that age alone does not interfere with necessary surgery. The factors keeping down the death rate in surgical treatment of these elderly patients are the care given before and after operation in regard to nutrition, blood, lime, salt and water intake, and the use of the antibiotic drugs -penicillin, sulfas and others.

What Should Be Known

About Rheumatism

So much was expected from ACTH and cortisone that it was called a "cure" for rheumatism and arthritis and throughout the civilized world patients waited joyfully for miracles expecting that their rheumatism and arthritis would soon be a thing of the past. Added to their anxiety was the long wait before these wonder drugs became available to the general public This delay is explained by the fact that as many as 20 to 30 different chemical processes were necessary in the preparation of these drugs before they were safe for human consumption

In their pamphlet, "What You Should Know About Rheumatism" the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society gives up-to-date advice. Among things it is important to know about these diseases are the following:

If you suffer or think you suffer from some form of rheumatic disease, your first thought should be to consult your family doctor and not follow suggestions of friends or neighbors, however kindly given.

"What is good for your neighbor's rheumatism may not necessarily be good for yours. Because your sister or your cousin sings the praises of one kind of treatment or consulting another, doesn't mean that you will experience the same results." Only a doctor can make a correct diagnosis and the earlier it is diagnosed and treated, the better will be the result. It is never a question of disability or deformity than it is to correct it.

Also, don't expect too much from the various methods of treatment. "It is an absolute fact that there is no drug, diet, or other remedy which will cure, that is, wipe out completely and for all time, the symptoms of all cases of the common or serious forms of arthritis and rheumatism."

One of the misleading and distressing occurrences is that for some unknown reason many cases of rheumatism and arthritis clear up by themselves and if the patient at this time is taking a drug, diet or some special form of treatment he he naturally attributes his relief from symptoms to this diet, drug, or form of treatment, instead of to nature.

Another important point that all should know is what to do about exercise or physical work. Some people will tell you to keep going at all costs. This is good advice to prevent stiffness and deformity, but not if joints are swollen. When joints are not swollen red or inflamed, then movement, exercise, improves the joint and muscle tissue in or near the joint, but can be dangerous if joint is inflamed or swollen.

What about drugs to relieve pain and prevent disability and deformity? As stated before, the drug that has been used for more than thirty years, acetyl salicylic acid (aspirin) still stands first. When the patient cannot take this drug (causing stomach upsets), the addition of certain other drugs makes it possible to take sufficient to prescribe very large doses of acetyl salicylic acid or other salicylates without causing untoward effects.

Health and Obesity

For a number of years I have been writing a weekly article under Your Health and Your Weight, with most articles dealing with overweight (obesity) because the majority of men and women at or past middle age are overweight. However, as obesity is so common, its dangers and disabilities are usually acquired, I believe it wise to write about it more often than once a week.

In New England Journal of Medicine, Dr. D. P. Barr, writing on health and obesity states:

"Obesity is far more disadvantageous and dangerous . . . Obesity predisposes to diabetes, increases the tendency to hypertension (high blood pressure), favors the development of atherosclerosis (fat substances which block the blood vessels) and contributes to heart failure. It increases the incidence of gallstones. It causes shortness of breath on exertion, intolerance to heat, and excessive sweating. It leads to maceration (softening of a solid by soaking), interfering (chafing of the skin), eczema and boils. It lessens the chest capacity by decreasing the elastic fibres in muscles controlling the breathing, causes flat feet, hernia (rupture) and arthritis of hips and knees."

In every form of physical activity it increases the amount of work the heart has to do because the body has to lift or carry the extra burden of weight caused by every pound of fat.

Further, it is unesthetic as it spoils the shape or curves of the body, is socially unacceptable and is psychologically crippling. The obese individual always feels that he or she is the object of pity or derision which lowers their morale (inferiority complex).

"Obesity shortens a life that has been made ridiculous and miserable by its presence."

As we read about the dangers and disadvantages of obesity as outlined by Dr. Barr, we must not forget that medical examiners for life insurance companies simply prefer more evidence against obesity as a health hazard and life insurance companies give personal talks to policyholders on these dangers and offer a premium of reduced rates to them if they will reduce their weight to normal limits and keep it there. Their statisticians remind them that every pound of excess fat shortens their lives by one year.

Emotional Factors

In Skin Disease

Some week ago I wrote on the current joke about physicians who, when they did not know the name or cause of an ailment, blamed it on the nerves. The jokesmith states that in such a situation the physician formerly had blamed the condition on the teeth.

As a matter of fact, physicians today have been able to trace skin eruptions to the nerves, also many cases of asthma.

It will be of interest to laymen, particularly those with skin eruptions, to learn that disturbance of the nerves, emotional disturbances, are so well recognized as a cause of skin eruptions that a psychiatrist, a specialist in psychiatry (emotional disturbance) and a dermatologist (a skin specialist) have written a book entitled "Emotional Factors in Skin Disease." Dr. Eric Willkrower, Assistant Psychiatrist, McGill University, Montreal, and Dr. Brian Russell, Skin Department, London Hospital, England, are the authors.

This unusual new book combines the skill of the dermatologist and the psychiatrist in an effort to clarify the interrelationship of emotional disturbance and skin disease.

Based on wide experience and illuminated with case histories, the material presented will prove helpful in both diagnosis and treatment.

Many have the opinion that the skin is just a bag, or covering, for the organs of the body, but it is in every sense an important organ of the body, registering the emotions, controlling temperature of the blood and tissues; it combines with the kidneys and lungs in the important process of ridding the blood of waste and harmful materials. It serves as a protective covering to prevent loss of body fluids; is sensitive to heat, cold and the various food and pollen allergies. "Through the sensation of pain, it notifies the brain of any injury to the body."

For years physicians have been reporting the appearance and disappearance of warts due to some emotional disturbance or disturbances.

It is at the most "emotional" period in the life of the growing boy and girl that that distressing ailment, acne (pimples), occurs.

With the knowledge in this book showing how directly and indirectly the emotions cause skin eruptions and disease, the physician has one more asset in his equipment with which to recognize and treat disturbances of the skin.

Proteins Best Food For Young And Old

I have written before of the cartoon showing an old man eating his breakfast consisting entirely of bread and milk. A picture on the wall showed a young boy eating his Christmas dinner and on the table in front of him was nothing. Beneath were the words, "Backward, turn backward, O Time in thy flight, make me a boy again just for tonight."

From this cartoon we naturally form the idea that as we grow old, we must go back to bread and milk, that we can't eat solid foods such as meat. Fortunately, our research workers studying the food for the elderly are able to give us some encouraging information about the "right" food for humans, that is, proteins as found in meat, eggs, fish and cereals.

In the Journal of Applied Physiology, Washington, D. C., an article gives us details of the specific dynamic action of protein in the aged.

"As widely differing specific dynamic action values in different individuals have been reported, it was thought that the differences might be related to ages of these individuals." Accordingly, Drs. W. W. Tuttle, H. M. Nowalk, L. F. Eresson and K. Dawson report their experiments to find whether age affected the specific dynamic action of protein.

The utilization or use of protein in the old group, average age 77, and young men, average age 24, was found to be the same in both groups. The older individuals at first showed a slower response from the protein eaten, but had higher peak values and increased excess energy during the second half of a four-and-one-half-hour test period. Four to five hours is the usual time it takes the stomach to empty its contents into the small intestine.

The fact that the aged can digest and absorb the nourishment from protein as completely as the young may come as a surprise to many of us, but apparently our doctors are aware of this and have recently found that the meats they canned for children's use is being widely used by adults, particularly married couples living in apartments.

For those who like to cheer their food, keeping teeth in good condition, or using well-fitting dentures, would make it possible to eat proteins as age and today our nutrition experts inform us that proteins with their derivatives, the amino acids, are the best single food for all mankind. Amino acids are the building blocks of protein.

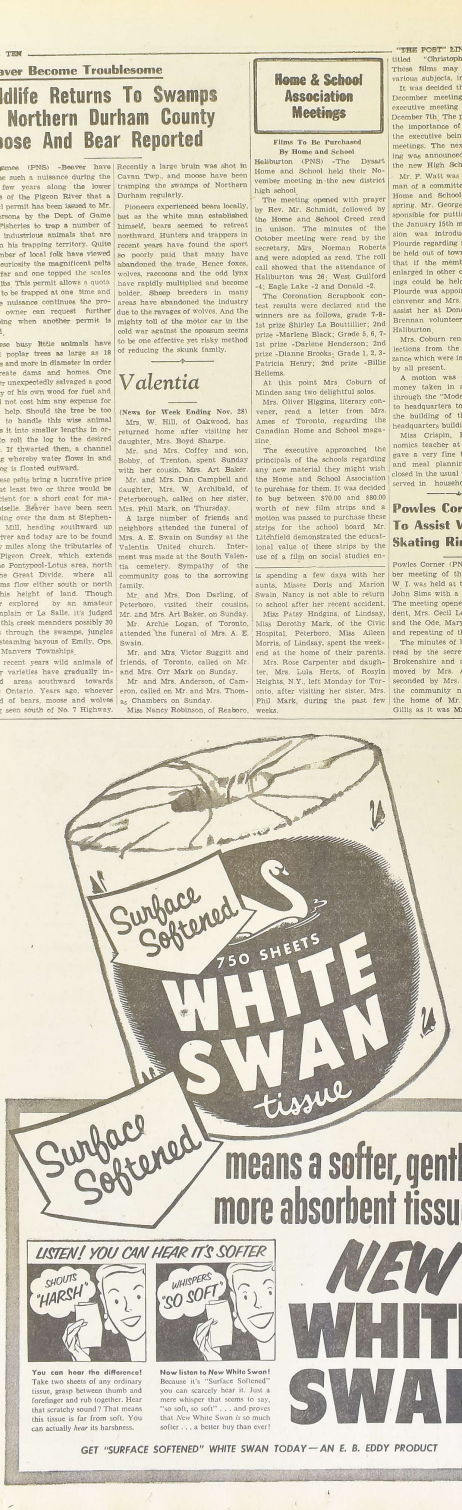

Biggest Theft Ring In Years Smashed

Sarnia, Nov. 27 --(BUP)-- Police in Sarnia believe they have broken up the biggest theft ring to operate in the Sarnia area "in years" with the arrest of four teenagers who are scheduled to appear in police court on 16 charges.

In addition to the city charges, the quartet face 12 others laid in Moore Township and 13 by Provincial Police.

End of the Road

Britain has come to end of its 80 years of influence in the Sudan. The former Anglo-Egyptian Condominium in Central Africa has voted to align itself with Egypt. Egyptian President Naguib has advised the Sudanese to unite to face any possible British maneuvers to separate the South Sudan from the North. -BUP

Surgeon Shows Skill, Precision Pay Off in World Diplomacy, Too

A famous surgeon from Minnesota has showed the world that skill and precision can also pay off in the complex operating room of world diplomacy.

He is Dr. Charles Mayo, a name well-known in the field of medicine, but a newcomer to the arena of world affairs.

He was this 55-year-old doctor-turned-diplomat who went before the United Nations General Assembly recently to refute Soviet Russian charges that America had used germ warfare in Korea.

But the big news the white-haired freshman diplomat made was not the denial but the counter-charge in a skilfully prepared and presented documentation, he charged that Chinese Communists and North Koreans committed atrocities against American and other Allied Korean war prisoners.

The General Assembly, acting in big time, decided to put the charges on the agenda . . . and the world perked up and took a second look at the famous doctor who made the accusation.

Mayo is Chief Surgeon at the world-famous Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minnesota, which his father and uncle founded more than a half century ago. It is a talk for which he is well qualified.

Although his current assignment is the first active venture into the arena of world affairs, Mayo is no stranger to U-N-N work. For many years he and his wife have been active in the Minnesota United Nations Association.

Recently the local organization honored him at a dinner following his General Assembly appointment. He told the group that the influence of a medical researcher should be applied as well in the field of world affairs.

He said, "we try to hurry too much in everything, including the United Nations. The idea behind the U-N-O is good and we should not get cynical because of delays."

Mayo went on to say, "we may not reach an ideal U-N-O in our lifetime, but a continuing effort on the part of all of us will advance its cause just that much."

Mayo is a man of endless energies. His fame as a man of medicine and the doors of organizations in which he belongs have carried him to all corners of the world. In 1951, at the request of the Defense Department, he made a five-week tour of America's armed forces medical installations around the world, including Korea.

Mayo is a member of the Board of Governors of Mayo Clinic, a Professor of Surgery at the University of Minnesota and a present or past member of just about every state and national medical group.

As a member of the Board of Regents at the University of Minnesota, Mayo is following in the footsteps of his famous uncle Will Mayo who sat on the board for almost 30 years.

The busy doctor also finds time for the fun of flying. Every year he has hundred acre dairy farm . . . . . plays host to the Mayowood . . . . . Art Center Art Festival. Proceeds from the event are used to operate the center the following year.

Mayo and his wife, Alice, have six children of their own and two orphan nephews they have reared.

The Mayos have been men of medicine for generations. The present Dr. Mayo's father and uncle are the famous pioneers in the field and also was a doctor. Although the name was well established by the time Charles joined them, it was the famous family completed his medical education. Mayo has mounted to the top of the professional ladder on his own merits . . .

He joined the Mayo Clinic staff in 1931, the year he completed his medical education at the University of Minnesota. He also holds degrees from the University of Pennsylvania and Northwestern University.

But despite the fact that he holds no degree in diplomacy, he's doing very well in his new start-a-hobple clan for world ills. -BUP

Juniors Lose Port Perry Game

Lindsay Juniors broke in their new uniforms with a 6-2 win over Port Perry, Friday night and received a set-back from the Port Perry player who had hitherto been their goalie.

The Port Flyers jumped on Lindsay for a four to one lead in the first period and Gerry Hewson, Lindsay's new had bottled up the Flyers for the first five minutes. Bill Williams was handing out good solid body-checks but the Flyers tried to get in. At 8.38 and 9.06 the Flyers got through for two quick goals on passing plays from Ross. At 11.47 one Flyers took to the air in an attempt to evade Williams and Bill was the Lindsay defenceman. But Hutton was chased for tripping a few seconds later and before the pair returned Lindsay had scored for one more, much to the enjoyment of the 300 local fans.

Early in 3rd strength, Rawe in the Port Perry net robbed Packer and Truax in quick succession. Till was penalized for elbowing and Art Truax joined him on the sidelines on Harold Williams shot at 17.56.

The second period was a repetition of the first in that Lindsay had the big edge on territorial play and Jack Hill in the Lindsay net for his first game of the season was over his nervousness he held the Flyers to one goal.

Throughout the period both goalies stood out as Lindsay kept up the pressure on Hawes and Hill was remarkable as the Port Perry boys aways. On one occasion, three Flyers broke in the clear at the Lindsay blue line, but Jack outguessed them. Connie O'Neill was penalized for interference at 11.30, when he and the puck carried were the only players inside the Lindsay blue line. Then the Flyers ganged up on the Lindsay net to get their only goal of the period.

Lindsay outscored Port Perry in the first half of the third period 3-2 on goals by Hutton from Packer, Truax from Hutton and Packer from Hutton and Truax while Brodie and Attersley scored for the Flyers. In the latter part of the period the Lindsay lads tired as they had been playing the two period game and the Flyers picked up two goals as Attersley O'Connor and Fisher broke through and Gibson added one unassisted on a break away.

Juniors Came From Behind Saturday To Take Peterborough Jrs. 8-7

Player Injured By Skate

Lindsay Juniors staged the comeback of the season at the Arena Saturday when, after being defeated by Port Perry Friday night, came down 7-4 at the end of the second period Saturday night, they bounced back for a four-goal third period and an 8-7 win over the young Peles.

To gain the win, coach Gerster (or the Flyers) threw the 7-11 mark of the second period and mostly through the third period. In fact, the Flyers shook for 10 in the second period, the Young Peles were ahead 6-2 on young Kearn's second period hat-trick.

After a fast, even first period, which saw Lindsay leading 2-1 for a brief time the Peles opened wide in the second period to take charge of the play most of the period. Their passes were clicking and they successfully penetrated the Lindsay defense at times, with pint-sized Kearns striping three goals in five minutes to lead 6-2.

Bill Burns got one back for Lindsay at 15.35 but a Peterboro gangling attack saw Pitzelle score on a corn merita . . .

The game, in the opinion of many of the fans, was one of the roughest seen in Lindsay here this season. Both clubs bore down from the start with Peterboro taking the lead in the box with 10 minutes from Coyle, Heffernan and Coyle. Bill Burns was thumbed for tripping at 4.38, but Lindsay killed off the penalty sure. A few minutes later during a Peterboro, sortie into the Lindsay end, Pip Burns accidentally tripped fell to the ice. Before he could move, another Peterboro player rounded the rink and apparently the skate picked Packer as he jumped over Pip. At first it was feared it was a throat injury but by the end of the period he had to come to in the dressing room and a couple of stitches closed a cut in the throat and he was all set. He is persuaded to sit out the rest of the game

Lindsay went on the offensive and banged in two goals in 23 seconds as Art Truax and Tom Hutton traded in scoring and assisting as they carried the play. Kearns scored from Rook at 3.27, Kearns from Dye at 4.27 and Dye and Rook added the third on a breakaway at 8.22. With the score standing at 7-3, Twist was penalized for tripping. Gerster sent out the power play formation and took over play. Jack Hill in the Lindsay net for his first game of the season was under his nervousness he held the Flyers to one goal.

Throughout the period both goalies stood out as Lindsay kept up the pressure on Hawes and Hill was remarkable as the Port Perry boys aways. Jitney Bonspiel Tied 'Til Final Throw

On Saturday, in spite of a small crowd the bonspiel was held at the local Rock Garden under the auspices of the Jitney Bonspiel Committee under the capable chairmanship of Stan Edmonds. The method of scoring is to allow one point for each end won and a bonus of three points for winning the game.

The chairman, before presenting the prizes, extended a welcome to all those who were able to come, in particular the visiting curlers. He also mentioned that another Jitney Bonspiel be held next Saturday with a fowl each being promised to each member of the first prize winning rink. Further the first twelve rinks will be accepted.

The winners for Saturday were:

1st. L. C. I.—P. Breese, D. Oke, D. MacKenzie, Jim Laidley, Skip.

2nd Lindsay—L. Perrin, E. Davey, J. Shannon, Max Perrin, Skip.

As At Press Time Lindsay and T. Staples of Bethany were tied in points each had to go out and aim for the bonspiel. Perrin came out the 2nd prize winner.

Hockey Ref Herb Payne Injured

Herb Payne, of 273 Romaine Street, Peterborough, owner of Payne's Restaurant and a popular hockey referee, well-known in the Lindsay area, was seriously injured in his home on Saturday morning.

He is reported to be in Civic Hospital suffering from a compound fracture of the right wrist and a head gash which required 54 stitches to close.

Mr. Payne had been taking facing off one of the doors to his new garage on Romaine Street. He was about six feet up the ladder working when he is reported to have either taken a weak spell or the ladder slipped.

He was taken to hospital by ambulance and is said to be in satisfactory condition.

Home & School Association Meetings

Homemaker Service Outlines to Association

The Victoria Home and School Association held their regular monthly meeting in the school.

The meeting opened with the singing of "O Canada" followed by the Lord's Prayer, after which Mrs. Endicots welcomed everyone.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the roll-call taken. The corresponding secretary, Mrs. Bruce, gave her report, and Mrs. Endicots, Mrs. Ashwell, reported on the cooking school. Both reports were accepted. The flower report was given by Mrs. Cook. The report also read some "thank-you" cards. The monitor, Mrs. Mitchell, gave the report with Mrs. McCullough's room winning the prize.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Sylvester, was introduced, who gave an outstanding talk on the Homemaker Service which everyone enjoyed.

The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem. Collection was taken and lunch served.

Strong Talk!

Mohammmed Mossadegh — now on trial for treason — offered to wrestle the prosecuter right in the courtroom. What's more, said the frail, 73-year-old Mossadegh, "I'll throw him on his back."

The judge roared with laughter and held his sides. The courtroom exploded with laughter. And even Mossadegh grinned.--BUP

Gelert

(News for week ending Nov. 28)

Sunday evening's thunderstorm was brought about a change in the weather. Monday morning snow began to fall again. Last week the weatherman really outdid himself with a generous helping of grand weather.

The W.A. ladies held their meeting last week at the home of Mrs. Leon Sedgwick.

Mr. Abernethy extends its sympathy to Mrs. Tom Hoyle, her husband and family, on the passing of her father, Mr. Bert Semechan, of Minden, last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Hamilton, of Lindsay, visited on Sunday with Gelert relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker were visitors in Lindsay recently.

All are pleased that Mrs. Malcolm Sedgwick and Mrs. John Francis are improving from their recent illnesses.

The Saturday night dances, are still well attended.

Bethany Girls Softball Team Honoured at B.A.A. Dinner

Bethany (PNS) -The Bethany Athletic Association entertained at a banquet and dance for the Girls Softball Team, 1953 champions of the Rice Lake League. Mrs. W. J. catered for the dinner. Floral centres, individual favors, silver candlesticks holding green and white candles, the colors of the Association, all combined to make the table most attractive and a bountiful turkey dinner was served.

Following the dinner hour a brief program was enjoyed. Ross Carr, president of the Association, extended and congratulated the girls on their successful season. Mr. Henry Jakeman proposed the toast to Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth and the National Anthem was sung. Mr. Vincent Jackson proposed the toast to the Team and in his speech since the Athletic Association was founded in Bethany and at first only concerned football and hockey, this is the first year we have had a champion girls' team and it is a real pride to entertain their honor" Mrs. Howard Morrow gave the reply. Mrs. Clifford Pallis proposed a toast to their Manager, Mr. Roy Pennock, giving him full credit for their high score of the season. In his reply, Mr. Perren commented on the good co-operation of the girls, the real team spirit displayed all season and mentioned in particular, the assistance given by Mr. Walter Price, who had organized the first girls team.

Mr. Gerald E. Staples, of Lakefield, was the guest speaker and introduced and thanked by the president who stated that Mr. Staples was formerly coach of Bethany and having been a former member of the Athletic Association and a valued member of the baseball team before he took up his duties on the teaching staff at Grove Preparatory School in Lakefield."

In his remarks, Mr. Staples stated that although he lived a few miles away he had always been interested in Bethany sports and was pleased to see the interest the accounts of the girls games throughout the season. "It is encouraging to see a community build up such a fine way the Bethany folk do. If you have good sports and good organizations you automatically have a base for good community. Games of any kind offer the relaxation needed in busy world. An organization should have a real part to play in making good citizens". Mentioning "The Hall of Fame", Mr. Staples felt a similar one for Bethany a little village as Bethany had athletes worthy of a place there.

The girls sincerely delighted the 130 guests with several humorous songs with his own guitar accompaniment.

Mr. Allan Beer, Reeve of Manvers Township, also spoke briefly, congratulating the team on their successful season.

Miss Marie Carr, captain of the team, expressed the thanks of the members to Mr. Perren for his good management in the past three years and to Mrs. Perren who had been their scorekeeper at all games. Mr. Ross Carr, head of the Club, she presented them with a lovely electric table lamp. Two of the members who had been their mascots, Jean Hall and Shirley Bradley).

Mrs. Morgan Bigelow expressed the thanks of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Association for the evening's entertainment. Mr. Hope Rayson replied and also thanked the W. I. for their capable catering. All joined in singing Auld Lang Syne, and the remainder of a happy evening was spent in dancing to music furnished by Bill Langley's orchestra, from Lindsay.

Uniform Crests for each member of the team did not arrive in time to be presented on this occasion and will be presented to each member as soon as possible.

The team for 1953 included June Shrove, Marie Carr, Audrey Mallory, Mary Edwards, Hazel Ryley, Shirley McGill, Yvonne Pallis, Hilda Bigelow, Gertrude Neal, Ida Martichenko, Gayle Bristow, Ruby McGill, Marie Pinney, Janet Bigelow and Alta McGill.

On The FARM FRONT

Brome Grass For Canadian Pastures

The information service of the Department of Agriculture in Ottawa has a question for farmers ., will brome grass find a place in the hay and pasture fields of Eastern Canada?

Under good moisture conditions it will not replace timothy . . which combines good growth characteristics with cheap seed and easy establishment. Both are factors which largely determine its dominant position as a hay species in Eastern Canada.

Agronomists, however in the Eastern areas of the nation, have been very much impressed with the results of brome and alfalfa mixtures in areas where sandy open soils result in low moisture conditions in growing seasons.

Many farmers have been discouraged from growing brome because of poor establishment. In most cases this is due to too deep planting.

Dr. W. B. Childers . . . Forage Crops Division of the Central Experimental Farm in Ottawa . . . says brome grass must be sown shallow.

It should be planted from one-half to three-quarters of an inch. This may be done by mixing the brome seed with the grain in the grain box of the seed drill.

To bury brome seed deep in moist soils results in a poor, uneven stand. Good germination and vigorous plant combined with rolling or packing prior to seeding will ingure plantings at a shallow and uniform depth.

A rate of seeding from eight to 12 pounds per acre is recommended in combination with alfalfa. Somewhat lesser rates of seed may be used in more complex mixtures including other grasses.

Brome grass is winter hardy and rugged. It starts early in the spring and heads out in mid-June. Even though the heads turn brown, the leaves remain green and are relished by livestock.

Most yields become woody and unpalatable when they approach maturity.

Brome grass provides an excellent source of grazing in July and August because of a comparatively deep root system. Added to that, it has a natural resistance to drought. Therefore, when other grasses fail to produce herbage . . . brome grass is ready and to provide good dining for cattle.

There are many satisfied brome grass growers in Eastern Canada now. Once the methods of obtaining a good establishment are understood, brome will become more popular in many areas.

Vegetable Storage

Many farmers and home gardeners store vegetables in the fall in the garden when frost comes. Often the quantity is not large and the kinds not varied, but with a little effort, can be prevented until well into winter.

Generally an elaborate storage room is not available and some cool place in the basement is used. Whatever may be the type used storage depends principally on having sound products at the start.

Cull bruised or decayed vegetables should be thrown out. The stored produces should be examined frequently. If wilting is noticed, humidity should be increased by sprinkling the floor with water, or moistening the sand in which root vegetables are packed.

If vegetables begin to rot, they should be discarded as they will affect sound ones near them. Decaying vegetables also develop heat and make it more difficult to control root crop temperatures.

A Beet Question

A question often before farmers and home gardeners each year widely in their rate of gain and in the amount of feed needed to make a pound of gain.

If so, will the progeny of the more efficient animals also make more rapid and cheaper gains than the progeny from the less efficient animals?

A test carried out at the Nappan, Nova Scotia Experimental Farm states that a total of 33 shorthorn bulls, heifers and steers were started on test upon reaching an individual weight of 600 pounds.

They were continued on test until each animal reached 900 pounds in weight. Each animal was fed separately and a record was kept of the amount of hay and grain consumed.

The most efficient bull gain 400 pounds live weight in 155 days and ate 15-hundred and 40 pounds of feed, and one hundred and 40 pounds of hay. The least efficient bull took 237 days to gain 400 pounds and needed 2-thousand and 40 pounds of meal and 13 hundred and 36 pounds of hay.

Corresponding differences resulted among the steers and heifers in their rate and efficiency of gain. On the most efficient bulls and the least efficient ones were kept in the herd and the performance of their progeny will be tested in the future. It is hoped to breed a type of beef cattle that have made rapid and efficient gains can pass this ability on to their progeny. Then it may be possible to develop a more efficient strain of beef stock through selection of this basis. -BUP

Rally Report Given By Mrs. Graham

Omemee (PNS) -Trinity United W. A. of Omemee, met at the home of Mrs. Harold Graham with Mrs. Harry Deyell presiding.

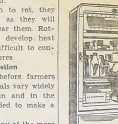

The meeting opened with quiet music played by a pianist and the Lord's Prayer. Receipt of a card of appreciation from the family of the late Mrs. Poast was acknowledged. The letter of thanking paint for the parsonage kitchen and a few other small requirements were referred to the committee. It was agreed to bear the expense of having the choir gowns cleaned.

The proposed turkey supper in connection with the re-opening of the church was postponed indefinitely since the date would conflict with the Christmas season. A nominating committee consisting of officers, group leaders and convenors of standing committees was authorized to bring a recommended slate of officers to the December meeting.

Before leading her group in the worship program, Mrs. Graham gave a report of the group five rally at Pontypool "fellowship" was the worship theme; the Scripture was read by Mrs. Hyland and a commentary made by Mrs. M. Finney. Group Discussion led by Mrs. and Mrs. T. A. McConnell and Mrs. Harold Laidley sang a duet, The topic discussed was "Our Fellowship, dealt with some phases of "Christian Fellowship".

Mrs. Graham's group were hostesses for the social hour following the program

Third Shut-Out For O'Connell Played In Five Games

While the Juniors and Peterboro set a torrid pace and scored fifteen goals in 60 minutes Saturday night the Intermediate Lindsay Jacobs and Port Hope burned up the ice for over 58 minutes before a goal was scored at the Lakeshore town.

Fans report it was another typical Lindsay-Port Hope battle with neither side willing to give an inch and any as Mucker O'Connell came up with his third shut-out in five games he has played. Tom Hennessey with the jet propelled shot, broke up the scoreless tie at Port Hope as Wyatt laid a pass is way at the blue line. Tom was in and out of the net before Wasson could move on it.

Under Influence, Flew Plane, Fined

Guelph, Nov. 30 --(BUP)--A Guelph man --Lloyd Alles --has been fined 100 dollars and costs for flying a plane while under the influence of liquor.

Arliss also pleaded guilty in Magistrate' Court to flying without a license and flying low. He was fined 50 dollars on each charge.

LOOKING AHEAD

More Industry

was entirely completed along came the depression and the lack of money for public works. The Country went from the depression into the war with the result that men and materials were not available. Recent councils have delayed starting a programme of construction in the hope that costs would come down. But can we from a business standpoint delay any longer?

Here are some facts on our roads that we thought might interest you. They are rather startling. We have 83 miles of streets, 22 miles paved and 13 still dirt roads. Based on current figures, it costs about $37½ per mile to re-pair and maintain our paved roads annually. But the gravelling, oiling, grading and repairing of dirt roads costs about $1400. per mile. This is an excessive cost and one that we will have year after year until the heavier travelled dirt roads are surfaced. The dirt roads are not satisfactory and will not be no matter how much we spend on them. They will not take the punishment from the heavy traffic which they must bear. Oiling of the dirt roads alone costs $8,000. per year.

Many of the dirt roads are poorly drained. With continuous gravelling year after year, some are built up higher than the sidewalks and the property facing them. Consequently, the surface water runs off the road onto the sidewalk and then onto lawns and around homes. Such conditions make many of our side-walks impassable in the spring. The ditches are an eye-sore and a source of annoyance to the residents.

It is reasonable to assume that the paving of some of the most travelled roads would be a good investment. Maintenance costs would be low for a long period and the difference in cost would pay for a paved road in five to ten years. Also the paved streets would be much more attractive.

East Ward Development

Last year at the nomination meeting, I said that the East Ward was coming quickly into its own. This is now becoming a reality.

There are two housing developments presently under way in this quarter of the Town, the Maryknoll subdivision and a private one opposite the present Short Street project. Some 80 houses or better are involved. These projects will help considerably in the development of this part of the Town.

Development in the East Ward is desirable from the Town's standpoint. It is an economical area for it to develop. Adequate facilities are available for the extension of sanitary sewers. Also the proximity of the river will make the section very easy to handle for storm drainage.

The third housing subdivision underway is just off Angeline St., near Durham and will be known as Sunset Court. This subdivision is being developed by private interests, and should be when completed a very fine residential area. With private subdividers entering the housing field in Lindsay, the Council was faced with the problem of whether or not the Town should finance the services or have the private subdivider do it. A number of private subdivisions could increase the debenture debt of the Town considerably. Consequently, Council decided to make the matter of financing one for the sub-divider. In both private housing development, the Town has had the developers post Substantial bonds, $10,000 in one case and $7,000 in the other, guaranteeing that these subdividers will carry out their responsibilities to the Town.

Homes are a main requirement if we are to have future industrial development. To me, industrialists contemplating moving into a community appear to be interested firstly with the supply of available labour and secondly in housing.

A fine town like Lindsay has many benefits to offer industry, but an efficient job of salesmanship must be done. We must extend our promotion of Lindsay as a potential industrial sight if the Town is to continue to grow and prosper.

Besides keeping the Town growing and giving employment to our citizens, there is another reason why we must have additional industries. This disparity between our industrial and residential assessment is too great.

Why More Industry Needed

Here are some figures prepared by the Assessment Department that give one the present picture in Lindsay. Our industrial assessment is 8.78 per cent, commercial and professional 19.39 per cent and residential 71.23 per cent of the total reality assessment. A balance of 70 per cent industrial, 25 per cent commercial and professional and 55 per cent residential would lighten the tax load on the home owner considerably.

It is assumed readily that every effort must be made to bring more industry to Lindsay. We cannot keep a store unstocked.

The Town of Lindsay plays an important part in the affairs of the County of Victoria. I believe, I would be remiss, if I did not mention something in regards to the County. Reeve Butler and myself are the Town of Lindsay's sole representatives on the County Council. Here we join with the Reeves and Deputy-Reeves of the other municipalities which comprise the County Council. There are 17 local municipalities in the county as follows: 1 Town (Lindsay), 3 villages and 11 townships.

Twenty Reeves and Deputy-Reeves of the County Council will spend $295,455 which is raised on the equalized assessment of the County. The Town of Lindsay contributes $82,180 of this amount which is slightly over 27 per cent.

In Town, one hears very little about the County Road System. To our friends in the County it is of paramount importance. They will tell you that all the county roads lead to Lindsay -- meaning that we get the benefit of the county people coming here to shop.

Until this year it was not customary to have a Lindsay member on the Board that supervises the operation of the County Road System. It was usually considered the Road Board was a place for rural members. However, last January members of County Council decided that the Town of Lindsay should be represented on this board and I was elected.

Reviewing his municipal experience, Mr. Heck recalled that he had eight years of municipal experience, six as an alderman and two as a Deputy-Reeve. "During that period," he stated, "I have tried to acquaint myself thoroughly with the extensive operation of the municipality."

"I am not going to make a lot of election promises," he declared in conclusion, adding, "However, I will assure you this, that if I am elected your Mayor next Monday, I will with the co-operation of Council give you a sound and efficient municipal government and serve in the best interest of all the citizens."

Claim Right To Bargain Denied Here

The Ontario Labor Relations Board has denied the Lindsay Hydro Operating Department the right to bargain within the scope of the Labour Act. This is the assertion contained in a news release received today from F. Kitchen, Representative, National Union of Public Service Employees, Toronto.

The release reads and quote throughout:

"A meeting was held last night for the employees of the Lindsay Hydro Operating Department. The unit has been officially set up, and will be known as Local No. 21, Nation Union of Public Service Employees.

"At a Hearing before the Ontario Labour Relations Board on November 25th, 1953, the Commission saw fit to invoke Section 78 of the Labour Act. This, of course, denies the Hydro employees their democratic right to bargain within the scope of the Labour Act. It is very unfortunate that the Commission has taken this position; it leaves the employees no alternative but to take whatever economic action they see fit.

"The Union has written the Commission requesting they sit down and bargain in good faith, but this has been ignored. There are very few Councils or Commissions who take this position; those who do, invariably come to realize the awkward position they put themselves in.

"Local No 21 is determined to get Union recognition; therefore, are continuing to ask for it.

"It is hoped that the Commission will see fit to meet us so that we may get this nasty situation cleared up.

Mr. J. Lightbody, manager of the Lindsay Hydro, could not be reached for comment at press time.

Mary A. McCague

Ontario (PNS) -Mrs. George McCague, 76, Omemee, died on Sunday, November 22, following a heart attack in her home a few hours previously.

Born at Mount Pleasant, she was the former Mary Alberta Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paterson Boyd. She married in 1903 and settled in Emily Twp., at McCague's Crossing, now known as Carmagner. In 1929 they moved to Port Hope and in 1949 to Omemee.

She was an active member of Bethel United Church, where she taught a Sunday School class years ago.

Service was held from the Reid Funeral Home with Rev. T. E. R. Zufelt officiating and interment was made in Emily Cemetery.

Survived by one son, Stewart, of Vancouver, who attended, one brother, Wilfred of Manitoba and one sister, Effie, of Peterboro.

Pallbearers were all former members of her S. S. Class:- Esmond Storer, Oswald Rush, Harry McGee, Harry Jackson, Marwood McCarrell, Vernon Lowes.

Above are pictured the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. George Howard Harding, who were married in Yelverton United Church. The beautiful bride was formerly Doris Lillian Argue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Argue, of Janetville, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harding of Blackwater. The happy couple have made their home at Highland Creek.

Haliburton

Mrs Wesley Baker was a visitor in Lindsay on Monday.

Mrs. Lily Gilliam, of Toronto, spent a few days in the village and attended the banquet in the L. O. L. Hall under the auspices of the Eastern Star.

Mr. Oscar Yarnold of the Department of Lands and Forests, was a business visitor in Lindsay Thursday and Friday.

Rev. and Mrs. T. V. Rutherford were business visitors in Lindsay on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Elstone were visitors in Lindsay last week.

Prov. Officer G. Langton, made a business trip to Sudbury on Wednesday.

Friends of Mr. Harry Cowan of Minden are pleased to know he has returned home after a serious illness caused by a car accident a few weeks ago.

Mr. Jim Parsons has been a patient in the Red Cross Hospital for 10 days suffering from pneumonia. He is recovering nicely. Mr. Parsons lives at Redstone and is well-known in that area.

Mr. Jack Douglas, who has been home for a few weeks has now returned to his work at General Motors in Oshawa.

Mr. Jack Bannon of St. Catharines, spent a weekend at his home here.

Miss Nellie Dean and Alice Porter, who are employed in Toronto, spent a weekend at their homes in Haliburton.

Miss Jean Webb and Miss Eva Walling, spent a weekend in the village.

Mr. Kenneth Pearson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pearson has joined the R.C.A.F. and has left for St. John's Quebec.

Mr. Irwin Hoxie has returned home to the M. H. after an operation. He is resting at his home here and doing nicely.

Mrs. George Davies is ill at the Red Cross Outpost hospital, she has been transferred from Lindsay back to her home town Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Greenway are at present conducting special Evangelist meetings in the Baptist Church in West Guilford Eagle Lake and Haliburton.

The Eastern Star held their election of officers in the L. O. L. Hall. Quite a few members from other chapters were present and a turkey supper was served by the L. O. B. A. ladies.

Rain Welcomed

The much needed rain lasting several days has been appreciated by citizens whose wells were dry, creeks, streams and lakes are still very low, but wells are filling up slowly in some places. Quite a number of wells in the village have been dry since July.

The Mission Circle of the Baptist Church held a home cooking sale and a sale of Christmas gifts on Thursday evening and a sizeable sum was raised. The sale was in the Community Hall.

W. A. Held Successful Bazaar

The United Church W. A. held its annual bazaar, which was opened by Rev. Rutherford, in the church basement and a large crowd gathered. Christmas gifts of every sort were on display and the home bake table was lovely; everyone had a change to get their favorite pie or cake. Homemade candy was plentiful; but this table was soon sold out, a fish pond tendered by Mrs. T. Carmichan and Mrs Jane Minott was a feature for children and tea tables where lunches were sold was a busy place. The fancy articles and sewing tables had many nice articles. The sale netted nearly $150.00.

New Phones Installed

New phones have been installed in many homes Numbers have been changed, and new lines have been strung. The first telephone was put up on the main street in Haliburton. April 21st, 1921 and since then the Present Telephone system has increased by leaps and bounds. Phones have been installed in all lodges, many farm homes, and village homes. It's a great privilege for those in the outside areas to have the use of a telephone.

Already Christmas trees are leaving Haliburton by the truck load. Visitors to the Haliburton area are seen taking their trees along each weekend to avoid getting them in the snow.

Haliburton places of business are looking nice all decorated up for the Christmas rush. Most of the stores carry a full line of Christmas goods and many are shopping early.

At a meeting of the Canadian Legion, Mrs. Myrtle Davies was elected president. There was a splendid turnout for the meeting with the election of officers.

The Belle Aire Hotel that has been sold is now under the name of Benconbrook Hotel.

Masons Purchase Building

The one time Presbyterian Church and later owned by Mr. A. G. Schofield has been sold by the Consolidated Red Cross, Mr. Stringer of Toronto, handling the sale. It was the home of Mr. A. G Schofield and the late Mrs. Schofield and during their stay it was remodelled making a beautiful home, bright and cheery and comfortable There were two applicants and the North Entrance Lodge A. F. and A. M. were the buyers. Since Mr. Schofield gave up the home, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams have been residing there.

Say Honey Crop 40 Per Cent Below Year Ago

Ontario's honey crop is at least 40 per cent below normal this year, J. W. Haberer, president, told the 30th annual meeting of the Ontario Honey Producers, Co-operative Ltd., at Toronto.

The company has received 2,000,000 pounds of honey and may receive 3,000,000, as compared with more than 4,000,000 in 1952. Top price last year was 13 1-4 cents a pound for light honey.

Mr. Haberer said that the industry might find itself short of honey before a new crop is available. He added that the beekeeping industry is in an unhealthy condition because of the decreasing profits for plant-ists. However, he said, research being carried on at Guelph and Ottawa might help to stabilize the industry.

T. W. Shield, general manager, reviewing the history of the company, said that over the past 50 years, the average price for all grades of honey was 10 cents a pound, and that the drop had been the single factor in stabilizing honey prices.

"In summing up this year's council in a financial status, I might be permitted to say they would have no trouble operating, so long as the reserve fund lasts out. The reserve fund which I so doggedly built up for you during my years as chairman of finance is just about gone down the drain.

Mr. Burrows, saying there were some "nasty" aspects to last year's slate said in closing, "I want to state, and very clearly, I am a member of no slate, organization, or club But I am running as a private citizen, a taxpayer - strictly on my own ability."

"I am a past member of the county council, as well as the town council and on this base my appeal to you for your support to elect me Mayor of the town of Lindsay for the year 1954." he concluded, his motto being "stricter economy in 1954."

Fenelon Falls Makes School History By Opening 2 In A Single Day

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -- When a new school is opened it is considered to be a notable event, but on Friday, December 4th, history was made in Fenelon Falls when officially opened by Dr. C. F. Cannon, Deputy-minister of Education, and at 8 p.m. Premier Leslie M. Frost officiated at the formal opening of the new wing of the Fenelon Falls High School. Approximately 700 people attended the High School opening and 250 the Public School ceremony.

Mr. J. E. Barrett, chairman of the Public school Board, presided for the afternoon, and in his opening remarks outlined the steps leading up to the building of the new school, paying tribute to former boards, who, during the excessity of a new school, purchased a site, and in 1949 presented a plebiscite to the people, receiving a "go ahead" with a good majority. In the successful completion of a major task credit is due not only to the present board but to the progressive outlook of citizens and former boards who laid the firm foundations.

The new public school is a beautiful functional building, completely modern in its appointments, which are almost perfection. There are six classrooms, each with a sink and plenty of cupboards for storage, green chalkboards and large windows. On dull days non glare lights take over. There is a large gymnasium which in a few minutes can be changed into an auditorium, a modern office which includes not the men teacher's room, a music room and a lady teachers' room which doubles as a kitchen. Here an electric stove has been installed and cupboards will be built as a project of an enterprising Home and School Association. The primary room is equipped with facilities to delight the little folk as well as augment their education. The modern heating plant is oil fired and the air purifier is worthy of mention.

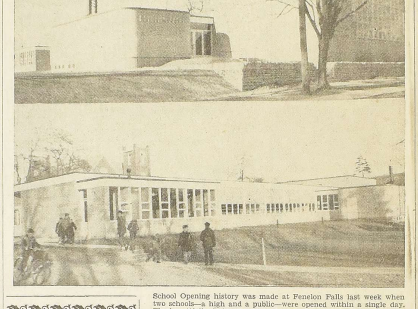

The beautiful flowers on the platform presented by courtesy of the Eastwood Greenhouses of Peterborough, and Rick's Academy Florist, Lindsay, were a welcome addition. Following the National Anthem, Rev. Harold James read the Scripture lesson and Mr. Barrett introduced the guests who were given a piece of honour on the platform -- Rev. Harold Mitchell, Mrs. P. W. Webster, president of Home and School; Mr. Dalby, principal; Mrs.D. A. Scott, president of the Women's Institute, Mrs. J. W. Burgess, Rev. R. Jennoss, Mrs. Dalby, Mr. E. G. Hand, Mrs. R. W. Mitchell, Dr. C. F. Cannon; Mr. Barrett; -- Mr. P. W. Webster, Dr. W. Graham, Mr. Wm. White, Mr. Wm. Murchison, Mr. Hugh Dixon, and Mr. F. Bowyer, all former member of the board. Greetings were brought by the architect, Mr. John B. Parkin, and Mr. Beckham, a representative of the Eastwood Construction Co., Mr. Clayton Hodgson, M.P.P.

Among the interesting items on the programme were the talks by Mrs. R. W. Mitchell and Mrs. E. G. Hand, former pupils. Mrs. Mitchell gave a brief history of her school days, naming among her teachers Miss Williams, Miss Thompson, Miss Lockhead and Miss McArthur. In 1890 Mrs. Mitchell wrote her entrance examinations under Principal Weir and her certificate was signed by Inspector Reazon. Mrs. Mitchell continued to attend school where she received education comparable to Grades IX and X, with Mr. Duncan MacDougall as her teacher.

Two presentations were made during the afternoon. Mr. Wm. Murchison on behalf of the Rotary Club presented the school with a lovely portrait of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, which was accepted by Mr. Hugh Dixon. Mr. F. W. Warren made the presentation of one of his own beautiful oil paintings. Mr. Warren's gift was received by Mr. Wm. White.

Accompanied by Mrs. H. Townley Miss Gwen White gave a beautiful

School Opening history was made at Fenelon Falls last week when two schools—a high and a public—were opened within a single day. The beautifully designed public school is shown above in two pictures taken a few days previous to the opening. The upper view shows the front of the school facing Fenelon Falls' main street. The lower photo is a picture of the classroom entrance and a side view of the building . . note the low flowing design of the school and the unbroken rows of classroom windows. Premier Leslie M. Frost officiated at the opening of the high school.

Santa Claus Stocking Fund

The Town Council Tuesday night commended Mr. T. H. Stinson, founder of the Santa Claus Stocking Fund for the interest and fine work he has done in connection with this fund over the years. The motion of thanks was prompted by a letter to council from Mr. Stinson in his annual statement to council in which he outlined how the fund's monies had been spent during the past year.

He said that almost $1,000 had been spent last year on baskets of food, clothing and other comforts for needy families of the community, adding that this was all done on the advice and supervision of Mr. Allan Blewett of the Children's Aid Society.

Donations to the fund yesterday totalled $424 to which the latest donations of $86 bring the total to $480.

Contributions to date are as follows:-

Missing Stop Signs And Subsequent Accidents Bring Protests From Insurance Co.

It has been brought to Lindsay council's attention, in a letter from Mr. Daw, who handles Town insurance, that the firm which handles the town's liability insurance on roads and streets (the Insurance Union of the Society of Canton) were quite disturbed about accidents on which claims had had to be paid due to stop signs being down.

It was brought out that the rates for this liability insurance were raised in 1953 due to the heavy amount of claims that had to be paid in 1952. The latest claim, according to Mr. Daw's letter, was damages to vehicles arising out of an accident at the William St. S., and Russell St. intersection on October 7th. The damage estimate in this was a little over $750. He said a stop sign there was missing at the time of the accident, therefore the town might be liable.

Reeve Butler, Chairman of Police, said he remembered the incident and that the Chief of Police had left a note for the Assistant Chief of Police to notify the Board of Works to have the sign replaced, but apparently they were not notified. "It is the fault of the Police Department", he said.

Dep-Reeve Rick (Mayor-elect in '54) suggested that perhaps stop signs could be put up more automatically (on metal poles instead of 4x4 inch wooden poles.)

Engineer Wilson suggested the possible use of metal piping such as is used by the Dept. of Highways.

Mr. Hick asked Mr. Wilson the frequency of calls from the Police that the Board of Works received re stop signs broken down. The Engineer said at least 1 or 2 a week were reported and were given top priority.

Ald. Maidens said that he felt the Police "have forgotten the legal aspect of these signs being down. It is a thing the Chairman of Police will have to emphasize next year".

The matter was left in the hands of the Police Department and the Board of Works, and a report is to be brought in next Monday.

George Barbour, Newfoundland sealing-ship master who died in 1893, took more than 700,000 seals in his lifetime.

E. Derry Fulton Is Appointed Queen's Counsel

E. Derry Fulton of the law firm of Fulton, Fulton and Staples, of Lindsay, has been appointed a Queen's Counsel by the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, Louis Breithaupt. The announcement was made today.

Mr. Fulton is an honor graduate in political science of the University of Toronto and an honor graduate of Osgoode Hall He was first associated with his brother Bruce Fulton in a law partnership, but later joined the firm his father helped pioneer.

Ald. McQuarrie Says Parks Bd. Should Spend Money On Parks Rather Than On Building

At Tuesday night's Town Council meeting it was the feeling of members that the cost of a piece of land beside the Board of Works' building on Kent Street East at St. Lawrence (that the Parks Board wish to acquire on which to erect a Parks building) was too expensive at $800. They deemed that the matter be left until next Monday's meeting, and in the meantime the Parks Board chairman, Carl Brown, was to look over the land and report next week.

Mayor-elect Hick pointed out that the option on the $800 property did not run 60 days and expired on December 19th. He said, too, that the Board are anxious to acquire property and he agreed with them that "this property would be of more value to the town than to anybody else."

Reeve Butler -- . . . but it's a lot of money!

Ald. Harrigan -- I agree with the Reeve . . . it's a lot of money.

Ald. Baker -- It's of more value to the town than anybody else.

Ald. Harrigan -- But would you want to build a house in that area with a Board of Works building there? The Parks Board want a building of their own so what's the point of putting it down there?

Dep-Reeve Rick -- Are there any lots in the central portion of the town, (which are town-owned) suitable for this building?

Mr. Allely named several lots available.

Ald Baker said that the only person directly affected by the proposed building in that area would be the seller, Mr. Jackson.

Dep-Reeve Rick pointed out that with the property would be included the extra road allowance of 66 feet, the unused extension of St. Lawrence St.

Reeve Butler -- You gentlemen don't seem to be too enthused. Mr. Maidens, what do you think

Ald. Maidens -- It seems to be pretty well established down there as a storage space. It would keep the Board of Works and the Parks Board together . . . the building to be put up by the Parks Board is to be a nice building. It is a lot Flying Puck Injures Woman!

A Lindsay woman suffered a cut eye when she was struck in the face by a flying puck at last night's Junior Hockey game.

Mrs. Florence Woodburn, of 7 Colborne Street E., had several times noticed the puck flying about as the Lindsay and Collingwood Juniors played fast and furious hockey. At the time she was struck she noticed the puck coming her way and ducked, but unfortunately the wrong way and was struck in the eye.

Since an ambulance couldn't be obtained, Mrs. Woodburn was taken to the RAH in Ross Bailey's truck where she was treated by Dr. Mariani who had to put six stitches above her eye to close the wound.

Mrs. Woodburn is reported to be resting comfortably today, though she has a very black eye.

Jasper Forman Re-appointed H.S. Trustee

Mr. Jasper Forman was re-appointed a trustee of the Enlarged High School District Board, County of Victoria, by Lindsay's Council Tuesday night. The by-law appointing a new trustee was read and passed and Mr. Forman, who had intimated that he would stand for another three-year term, was appointed to do so.

Charged With Shoplifting

Chief Constable John Hunter told "The Post" this morning that a teen-aged Fenelon Township girl was arraigned by P. C. Percy Mark on Tuesday evening on a charge of shoplifting from several Lindsay stores.

He says that all articles were recovered. The accused girl was released on bail and will appear in court later, the Chief says.

He continued that the girl's home had been searched by himself and P. C Mark and a number of articles were taken from the girl's home which Police believe to have been stolen from Lindsay and Peterboro stores.

Rumour Lacks Confirmation . . .

A rumour circulating in Lindsay to the effect that Sylvester Steel Products Co. Ltd. and The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company (A&P) of Canada Limited, Toronto, which would give the chain store property adjacent to the newly-enlarged Eaton chain store has no confirmation at Lindsay. The rumour was persistent several weeks ago. At that time "The Post" called Mr. K. MacDuffee of Sylvester Steel and he said he had heard nothing of the transaction. A recurrence of the rumour this week prompted further enquiries which produced no confirmation.

Put Aerial Atop Water Tower, Reception Reported 10 Times Better

Television reception in Lindsay may be revolutionized if an experiment now being carried out is successful.

The experiment is being carried out by Mr. Earl Kennedy and it employs the use of the Lindsay Water Commission's tower at the western limits of the town. The test being made is one which Mr. Kennedy hopes will pave the way toward improved television reception for everyone in Lindsay and improve the landscape by making unnecessary so many individual television aerials.

Mr. Kennedy denies emphatically that selfish interests are involved and, while the plan is a long range one and would require considerable negotiation, he says he is motivated purely by a desire to improve television reception facilities in Lindsay.

Mr. Kennedy says he has received permission from the Water Commission to erect a test aerial on the tower and this was done under favorable weather conditions Tuesday. First reception from the 137-foot high tower is being received at the home of Dr. J. Ross, Kent St. W., who lives an estimated 500 feet from the tower.

Mr. Kennedy told "The Post" this afternoon that reception from Toronto was "ten times better than anything he has yet seen in Lindsay." American signals are also reported to have come in well and further tests are planned daily.

The originator of the idea, which he says has been in his mind for two years, states that it might require an investment of $70,000 to put water tower television antenna service into operation. The general scheme would be to seek the cooperation of hydro and telephone officials to permit running lead-in wires from the aerial to various parts of the town. Projected for the brought and the future, Mr. Kennedy also foresaw the possibility of employing the proposed East Ward tower for a similar purpose when it is constructed. All revenue from the undertaking would go to the Water Commission, a municipally-owned utility, he declares.

Mr. Lewis Gordon, chairman of the Water Commission could not be reached for comment this afternoon. The superintendent of the Commission's plant said he was aware of the experiments but preferred to have any comments come from Mr. Kennedy at this stage.

Mr. Kennedy says no agreement of any kind has been entered into with the Commission other than to obtain their permission to erect the experimental antenna. He points out that there are an awful lot of complications in such an undertaking and that now, one day after the first test antenna was constructed, they are considering changing it.

Experimental work is being carried out at his own expense, the sponsor asserted.

STRIKE OVER, INCIDENT CLOSED AS FAR AS COMMISSION GOES, STATEMENT ISSUED DECLARES

Union Certified At Visking Ltd.

The Lindsay Printing Specialities and Paper Products Union, Local 512 has received certification from the Ontario Labor Relations Board to act as the official bargaining agent for the Visking Ltd. employees. This was announced this morning by company president Bernard H. Schenk.

Visking Ltd. employees total about 250, Mr. Schenk reveals.

Men continue on strike, Advertise for new help, Future obscure at moment

The Lindsay Hydro-Electric Commission have issued an advertisement for men to replace the 13 employees who struck Monday morning. This is in effect the Commission's final answer to the men on the question of whether they may have a union.

The men, who are still picketing the Hydro's William Street office, dismies this afternoon, are "holding fast", according to their union representative, Mr. P. Ritchen. The spokesman for the National Union of Public Service Employes, representing the strike Lindsay Hydro workers, told "The Post" shortly after 1 p.m. this afternoon that "there is nothing more we can do if the Commission takes this position which is their prerogative". He also pointed out that on the other hand, "the men are still standing pat" so. He said that the men are still willing "at any time to meet with the Commission" as long as that body agrees with recognition for their request for a union.

Mr. Ritchen says that CBLT, the Toronto television station, sent a representative to Lindsay this morning who took a film of the Lindsay strike. However, Mr. Ritchen says the TV man told him the film will be shown over a program "Tabloid" this evening. With Mr. Ritchen and the men today is Mr. J. W. Brough, general representative of the Canadian Congress of Labour.

This morning at 7:30 a.m. the deadline for the men to return to their jobs which was set by the Commission on Monday, the Hydro manager J. Lightbody, spoke to the men outside the Hydro building asking them if they were going to return or not. They said only if their Union were recognized and pointed to signs erected by the driveway into the Hydro yard.

Again at 9.00 p.m. Mr. Lightbody spoke to the men and asked if their jobs back, but not under a union shop, that the Commission had not changed their "no union" attitude. Again the men refused to go back to work under those terms. Mr. Tom Cochrane said that they were "saving 100 percent with the union."

Mr. Lightbody says that about 500 p.m. he were outside and asked Mr. Earl Moynes, one of the substation operators, if he had any belongings in the relief operator's room at the substation. Mr. Moynes said he had and was asked by the manager to please remove these belongings when he came. He would be at the cabin at 10.45 a.m. so that he might do so if he wished.

Mr. Lightbody says that Mr. Moynes came and took away his belongings from the cabin. A Union-hired local photographer took pictures of the scene.

Earlier this week at the Commission meeting, it was stated that the possible substation of the Lindsay Falls employees might be brought into use were it necessary. Mr. Lightbody, the D.O.A. manager at Fenelon Falls told "The Post" this morning that his men could not move into the Lindsay area without authority from the Ontario Hydro.

The advertisement for men which the Commission are publishing says that the jobs offered are permanent, and that groundmen, maintenance men, meter reader, and substation attendants are required, with "previous electrical experience desirable, but not essential."

The statement in Hydro Consumers which the Commission has expected to be published reads as follows: "The employees of the Lindsay Hydro-Electric Commission having refused the offer of conciliation put forward by the Commission and the conciliation board set up, the Commission has declared their positions open and has advertised for men to replace them. Any of them who care to apply before their respective positions are filled will be given due consideration as regards re-employment. Insofar as this Commission is concerned the so-called strike is over and in this connection the Commission is closed."

Firemen Renew Their Demands

The Lindsay Firemen's Association in a letter to Town Council Tuesday night asked renewal of their wage scheme requests. This has to be done this year in order, by law, to apply for 1954. Council took note of the renewal request, which Town Clerk Allely stated, was essentially the same as that of last year.

A letter was also received from the Police Association who asked for a revision of wages, consideration of officers' uniforms, and holiday in the off-hours, statutory holidays and a shorter work week. Mr. Allely told the Police didn't like to have to keep bothering council each year, and that what they wanted was a peaceful bargaining arrangement, but that the rising cost of living necessitated it.

The two matters were referred to next year's council.

Surgical Treatment of Ulcerative Colitis

You may not hear or read the word "diarrhoea" often as a formal word because the word colitis (inflammation of the colon or large intestine) has taken its place. Colitis is the mildest form of all mucous colitis.

In these times of upsetment physicians are finding many causes of colitis because, in the great majority of cases, nervousness, or an emotional disturbance is the underlying cause. By treating the emotional disturbances or disturbance by explaining how the emotions can disturb the entire digestive tract, in fact, can disturb the workings of all the organs of the body, the patient then learns to take things in his stride and gets relief or almost complete relief from colitis.

However, there are cases where there is more than a simple irritation of the colon, in fact, the inflammation is so severe that there is ulcer and pus formation of the lining surface of the colon. This condition is called ulcerative colitis.

In Postgraduate Medicine, Dr. Richard B. Cattell, Surgeon, Lahey Clinic, Boston, states that ulcerative colitis is concerned with many tragedies resulting from delay before adequate treatment is given, treatment may be ineffectual, and too great delay occurs before operation, and also patients because of former surgical treatment.

"During a period of 20 years at the Lahey Clinic, we have operated on approximately 400 patients in the acute or chronic stage of ulcerative colitis. For the 103 cases in a ten-year period, there was a death rate of 20 per cent. Fortunately, with the second larger group of 300 patients during the past ten years, the death rate was greatly reduced. Of 141 patients operated on in a three-and-a-half year period, 6 died (a death rate of 4.3 per cent) of 104 patients who had the entire colon removed, none died."

Dr. Cattell describes the various surgical methods of treatment used in an effort to save the colon in order to cure becomes known and the patient will legally be able to use his colon, but from his experience at the Lahey Clinic, the colon never will be useful again.

"Finally, on the basis of this experience in the treatment of a large number of patients with chronic ulcerative colitis, we would like to sound a hopeful note with regard to surgical treatment." We do not wish to apply surgical treatment in those cases that can be handled successfully medically, but when medical treatment (including use of penicillin etc.) fails, or there are complications, we can now assure the patient that operation can be done with relative safety and it can eradicate the disease."

Dr. Cattell's article shows that surgical treatment of ulcerative colitis has greatly improved in recent years, reflected best by the reduction of operative deaths from 20 per cent to 4.3 per cent; that is, only one in 20 dies instead of one in 5.

Stocking Up!

Christmas stockings are so easy to make and they can do wonders when you are decorating the house for Christmas.A piece of red oilcloth, velvet or a piece of white with red trimming will make one in a jiffy. Hang them over your fireplace or on your door ornament and they will be the nayest thing on your Christmas list. Work "Merry Christmas" in white and if the stocking is for someone in the family, work their name on it, too. One can put a lot of surprises in Christmas stockings and it's fun to fish deep in a stocking for gifts.

Lumpless

You know how you often struggle with lumps in brown sugar when baking a cake? Well, your troubles are over for a new package for old-fashioned brown and light brown sugars will keep the sugar soft indefinitely by means of an inside inner wrap. When not using keep fold wrapped to keep sugar soft. Many a good cook has kept her brown sugar in her breadbox, but now we won't have to do this with the new wrapping.

Know How?

Don't throw away cake because it is stale. Dip it in milk and heat in oven. A loaf of bread can be quickly revived to freshness by sprinkling it with water and putting it in the oven in a paper bag until the moisture has brought it back to freshness. The oven will do wonders for other foods including cookies that have reached the limp stage. Don't tussle with that whiter squash. It is easy to open, or pare if heated in a moderate oven for a few minutes before peeling and slicing. They are vesily delicious on these crisp days.

Need Good Care

Flowers are nice to get at Christmas and there are many ways to keep them fresh for the whole festive season. Be sure and keep them in a cool place at night, but not cold enough to freeze them. Cut a little off each stem every day before you change the water on them. Don't put them near a rad in the house or over a register for this will surely ruin them. Aspirin tablets have been known to revive as well as keep flowers, but the other rules are very successful if carried out. Plants, of course, can be given plant food with good results and will last longer and bloom better with extra nourishment.

Toys

The Christmas buying season is picking up

And a spokesman for the toy industry says that fact will be more noticeable in toy shops and toy departments than anywhere else.

This year's will be the biggest toy buying splurge . . . 10 per cent more than last year's record volume.

The toy industry estimates when Christmas is over an average of 20 dollars will have been spent on toys this year for every child in North America under 14. It is estimated that 60 per cent of it will be bought between now and Christmas.

What's New

The latest in storm windows strongly resembles a window shade.

The new storm shades, made of plastic, fit into a window space like a regulation shade, and roll down to provide insulation.

Each unit comes ready to install, complete with special tension brackets, thin metal strips which anchor the plastic shade tightly to the window frame to create an insulating vacuum.

The shades come in sizes to fit windows from 28 to 34 inches wide and up to 70 inches high, or 48 inches wide and seven feet tall. Both models can be cut to fit odd-sized windows. They are available for around two or three dollars at most hardware stores.

Household Hint

Here is today's household hint: To keep starch from sticking to the iron, add a little paraffin to the hot starch.

Alex MacDonald

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -Mr. Alexander MacDonald passed away in Sunnybrook hospital, Toronto, on November 18th, in his 73rd year.

The late Mr. MacDonald was born at Fort Augustus and spent his early life in Inverness, Scotland. He joined the army and fought under Lord Kitchener in Egypt for four years, and went with him to South Africa in the Boer War. He was stationed at Gibraltar for some time and has travelled extensively. He enlisted at Belleville in 1914 and served in France as a baker during the first World War. After receiving his discharge at Kingston in 1918 he lived for some time in Toronto, before taking up residence in Fenelon Falls. Mr. MacDonald resided on Elliott St., and was well-known for his stone work.

He is survived by his wife, the former Catherine Greenan, one son, Duncan and one daughter, Mrs. Sanvidge, (Edna) of Port Credit; two brothers, Patrick of South Africa and Daniel of Montreal, also survive. One son, Jack, predeceased him.

The funeral service was held in Fenelon Falls United Church on Saturday November 21st, at 2 p.m. conduced by Rev. K. P. Jull. Interment was made in Fenelon Falls Cemetery.

Ald. McQuarrie

of money, but in five years it will be money well spent.

Dep.-Reeve Hick — Another advantage is that it is a fairly-central location to serve the parks in the East Ward, the South Ward ...

Ald. McQuarrie — I feel that $800 would go a long way towards other projects the Parks Board could use one side issue. There are many eyesore since there were sand, fill, gravel, railways and freight sheds on Victoria Ave. already.

Ald. reese said he was inclined to have the Parks Board look over the town-owned lots which are available. "If suitably they should use town-owned property, if not, buy the lot" he said.

Ald. Breese said he was inclined to followed and Chairman Carl Brown will report to council next Monday fellow, Plummy should keep an eye on the Parks Board getting into any building at all . . . don't want to see the Town's Parks appropriation sunk into a building when it might go to other parks' work. I think council ought to know how building is to be financed.

Ald. Stevens — It appears to me that this Parks Board is getting itself much more than another lot might. I agree that $800 is too much, but if we want the property we'll have to pay it and we can't wait too much longer (because of the option running on the 18th).

Ald. Harrigan felt that a lot on Victoria Ave. which the town owns, would be as suitable as the $800 DAIRIES -- P 1

Dairies Report Profit Sharing Paying Off

Toronto, Dec. 9 (BUP) -- Four Ontario dairy operators who tried the profit sharing system have reported their employees have become better workers, and everybody's making more money.

It was pointed out at the Convention of Ontario Milk Distributors Association, held in Toronto, that employees are scored on a merit chart before they get their profit sharing cheques.

Even the boss is scored by his employees to determine his share of the distribution.

Firms reported their net profits up, due to the system.

What it's for . . .

An item of interest appears in the financial statement prepared by the Town of Lindsay and submitted to the Nomination meeting here recently. It shows that the sum of $2,560.00 was paid to the Town of Lindsay by the Ontario Liquor Control Board. The amount, the Board explains, represents 20 per cent of the total license fees paid by Lindsay's licensed hotels.

Missing Girl's Black Skirt Is Found!

Toronto, Dec. 9 (BUP) -- An uncle of missing Marion McDowell has found a black skirt and some other clothing belonging to the 4-year-old girl who disappeared in a ditch near Vandorf, Ontario, and police are starting an all-out hunt in that district for the 17 year old girl's body.

The clothes are being rushed to Toronto meanwhile to see whether relatives can identify them as the ones Marion was wearing when she was kidnapped Sunday night from a car parked in a Toronto-to-Lindsay lane.

Meanwhile, police are searching for a new area spending north on Kennedy Road near Markham driver-by a man and carrying a blonde girl who was fighting furiously with the driver. Roads in the district have been blocked off and cruisers are scouring the area but the car has not been sighted again.

The clothing find included a black pleated skirt, similar to the one Marion was wearing, a blood-stained brassiere, a silk stocking and a kerchief.

Grant Increases To Poll Clerks, Deputy ROs

The Deputy Returning Officers and the Poll Clerks who worked on this week's municipal elections are going to get a raise in pay, Town Council decided last night. The rate had previously been $8 and $6, and will now be $10 and $8.

Town Clerk Allely said that when he was preparing for the elections a local person who had worked on these jobs before now very co-operative and only four had to be that some had mentioned that the $8 and $6 was low. He felt that some had mentioned the the money paid for services to the Poll Clerks was "out of line with what was being paid in other municipalities."

Mr. Allely said that a survey of some 50 communities in Ontario showed that for D.R.O.'s three paid $7, eight paid $8, four paid $9, nineteen paid $10, two paid $11, seven paid $12 and another seven paid upwards of $20. The money paid to the Poll Clerks in the above communities, he said, was generally below that of the D.R.O. by $2.00. He felt, too, that there was no hope of fixing what money should be paid these people.

Exactly three years ago the rates had been D. R. O. $7, and Poll Clerks $5, and had been raised, as stated, to $8 and $6.

He said that the election workers put in "up to 11 hours on election day" and received a total of $13 last year. He said the election this year would cost between $500 and $600.

Mr. Breese felt that the "D.R.O. held responsible jobs, but are not paid the equivalent of unskilled labor." He thought they should go up.

Mayor-elect Hick said he had been around to the polls on election day and noted the long hours and fine job being done there.

Ald. Harrigan said he thought the present rates too low and they "ought to be brought into line".

It was moved by Ald. Breese seconded by Ald Harrigan, that the new rate, including this year's election, be $10 for the D.R.O.'s and $8 to the Poll Clerks.

Mr. Allely stated that even with the raise the election costs would be within the amount budgeted for this year.

Sold Liquor Court Finds, Jail Man

A Cameron man appeared in police court this morning charged with illegal purchase of liquor, and a Lindsay man, a 22-year-old East Ward resident, was charged with keeping liquor for sale.

The Cameron man pleaded guilty and was assessed a fine of $10 and $2.50 costs.

Chief Constable, Hunter pointed out to the court that another section of the Liquor Control Act stated that any person found in possession of any liquors not purchased by himself at a retail outlet was required to advise the court where and from whom the liquor had been obtained and if he would not do this he would receive a penalty of from one to three months in jail. Accused then stated from whom he had obtained the liquor, naming the East Ward man.

The accused East Ward resident then appeared on a charge of selling liquor and pleaded not guilty.

The Cameron man and P.C. William Mosley gave evidence. The latter stated that he had searched the accused's home and found only one part bottle of wine.

A conviction was registered against the Lindsay man by Magistrate E. A. Gee who sentenced him to two months in the County Gaol.

Council Quickies

Tag Day

Council granted permission to the Junior Jay Bird Class to hold a tag day in Lindsay on December 19th as they had requested.

IOOF Rebekah Lodge Permission Granted

Permission was granted to the Lindsay IOOF Lodge No. 100 to erect an electric sign in front of their new lodge building, under the supervision of the Lindsay Police.

Three Petitions

Three fully-signed petitions were received by council and were referred to the Town Engineer for estimates, Chairman of the Board of Works Hick said he was glad to see petitions for work next year coming in although for "if we can get ahead with the red tape, we'll be ready to go." he said. These petitions were for a sidewalk on the west side of Wolfe Street from Durham to George Street; to construct in an open ditch a tile storm drain and catch basin on the west side of St. Lawrence St. from Melbourne St. E. to Durham Street E.; and to construct a storm sewer on the south side of Glenelg St. from Cambridge Street to Victoria Ave. (where the new Calvary Temple has been built).

New Light

A petition from nine residents for the erection of a street light on the pole at the brow of the hill in front of No. 4 Colborne Street E. was left in the hands of the Chairman of Lighting Stevens.

Mr. Roy Brohm Elected Reeve At Haliburton

Haliburton (PNS) -Election day in Haliburton on Saturday caused much excitement and many cars were available to transport lady voters to the polls There was a heavy vote and the contest was keen especially for Reeveship.

Mr. Roy Brohm was elected Reeve by a good majority of within four of being double. Mr. Brohm has headed the polls for councilman for the past two municipal elections and is the workingman's friend. He was born and raised in Haliburton and for a number of years was assessor for the Township of Dysart. Mr. Brohm decided one week ago to run for Reeve and was nominated at the meeting

The new Reeve, Deputy-reeve and Council are as follows: Reeve -Roy Brohm; Deputy-reeve Carl Hussey; Council, Clarence Horsely, Russell Hutchings, A. H. Curry and William Emerson. The first two named will be decided on by the judge in a recount on December 16th and the results of Chief of Police Hunter, the signs are now in operation. They function for a period just before the rush are coming in, or going from, their places of leaving. They stand in the middle of the road and safety officials declare they are most effective in slowing traffic.

A Public School Board spokesman told "The Post" this morning the move by the police chief was endorsed by a safety-minded Board.

Young People's Activities

Thirteen Members Attend Woodville Girls' Club

The fourth club meeting of the Woodville Girls Woodworking Club was held at the home of Mrs. J. Cramer with 13 members present. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary Barbara Canning. Each member of the club answered the Roll Call by "one thing you do in the shrinking of wool", it was decided to call the club Set Woodworking.

Mrs Cramer read a letter from Miss Noble. The club is going to be entertained by Miss Noble at the next club meeting. Each girl chose a partner and fitted the pattern on her.

A delicious lunch was served by two of the club members and the meeting was adjourned.

Lindsay Couple Celebrates Their Silver Wedding

On Saturday evening of December fifth, the family and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hanna surprised them with a party in their honour. Mr. Hanna is associated with the firm of George Allison Real Estate here.

Twenty-five years ago today, Mr. and Mrs. Hanna were married in Belleville, where they lived for a while, later moving to Cannery and Camelot. They then resided in Lindsay on George St. E., with their two daughters, Andra and Ila. Another daughter Jean, is Mrs. Lester Wilson, of Bowmanville, and Edward Hanna of Bowmanville is their son. A granddaughter, little Catherine, graced the Silver Wedding Anniversary celebration.

Their home was the scene of the large gathering of family and friends A beautiful bouquet of roses and baby 'mums had been sent to the bride of 25 years by her associates at the Ross Memorial Hospital, where she is presently nursing.

Following the playing of "The Anniversary Waltz", an address was read to the couple by their friend. Mrs. Tom Ayres, and Mrs. Ralph Braden, gave a reading. Mr. and Mrs. Hanna opened their many beautiful gifts, and thanked their friends gratefully.

An enjoyable evening of games followed the presentation and later the guests, Mrs. Sidney Brown, Bowmanville, Oakwood, Cambray, Cameron and Lindsay were served a dainty lunch from the tea table, which was centred with a three-tiered Silver Anniversary wedding cake The cake was cut by the bride, assisted by the groom, of twenty-five years ago, and passed to the guests by their daughters and assistants.

Lions Club will Decorate Kent St. With Lighted Trees

The Lions Club of Lindsay have been granted permission by Town Council to place illuminated Christmas trees along Kent Street this Christmas. The trees will be placed on the light standards all along the main street. The club president, Mr. Jack Welch, could not be contacted at press time for further details of the Club's plan, but it is reported that the trees will be put up 10 days before Christmas. This plan is similar to ideas that have been carried out in Peterboro and Orillia in the past. Council thanked the club for their proposed action.

Latest Type Zone Markers

The latest thing in safety zone markers for roads passing schools has been introduced to Lindsay. They are black and yellow caution signs which are placed at the approaches to school on main highways Installed at two Lindsay schools, (Central and North Ward) at the request of Chief of Police Hunter, the signs are now in operation. They function for a period just before the pupils are coming in, or going from, their places of leaving. They stand in the middle of the road and safety officials declare they are most effective in slowing traffic.

A Public School Board spokesman told "The Post" this morning the move by the police chief was endorsed by a safety-minded Board.

Port Bolster Sea Monster Identified

Port Bolster, Dec. 9 (BUP) -- Police have identified Lake Simcoe's sea monster -- an overgrown otter.

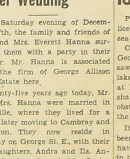

Chief Constable George Foster of Georgina Township said today he saw "the thing" swimming in the lake while he was repairing a dock at Port Bolster. He followed it to shallow water and got a close, unobstructed view which confirmed the identity.

It's the first time an otter has been reported in the lake, but they have been seen in the Severn River to the North.

On The FARM FRONT

Influence of A Nurse Crop Is Worth Consideration

The influence of a nurse crop on new seedings is worth some serious consideration by farmers. In obtaining good stands of legume-grass mixtures for hay, silage or pasture the influence is often an important one.

The forage crop must compete with the nurse crop for light, moisture and nutrients in the year of seeding. A release from the information service of the Department of Agriculture in Ottawa has some valuable data on the experiments.

An experiment on nurse crop management recently initiated by the Division of Field Husbandry soils and agricultural engineering at the Central Experimental farm has had some surprising results.

It produced a yield of alfalfa without any nurse crop which was 17-point-three percent greater than that obtained by seeding down with oats at the rate of two and half bushels per acre.

In addition during the year of seeding, the alfalfa crop produced a yield of eight tons per acre. Where oats were used as a nurse crop at two and a half bushels per acre, however, a yield of 65 bushels per acre was obtained in the year of seeding.

Also . . . in fields where weed control is a problem, the first cut of hay would be expected to provide a considerable protection against weeds during the establishment of the new seeding.

The results of an experiment, conducted over a six-year period, designed to study the effect of different rates of seeding oats, have also been carefully noted.

The yields of the succeeding alfalfa crop have shown that ont yields increases progressively with each increase in the rate of seeding from one-and-a-half bushels to three bushels per acre.

The highest yield, however . . . at the succeeding alfalfa crop was obtained where the lowest rate of seeding for oats was employed.

While the differences in hay yields were not large, the results indicated that where a grain crop is used as a nurse crop, the rate of seeding should be slightly lower than when grain is seeded alone.

On less productive soil . . . the influence of the nurse crop would be expected to produce a more pronounced effect than it did under the conditions of this particular experiment.

Black Widow Spider

The poisonous black widow spider is usually associated with the countries of South America, or the Southern States, but it also exists in Canada.

The Black Widow type is found in Vancouver Island and Southern British Columbia, in Southern Alberta, Southwestern Saskatchewan and the extreme South of Ontario.

Other names . . . such as the Hour-Glass Spider or Shoe-Button Spider are also used for the Black Widow. The adult female is coal black except for a crimson or yellowish red mark on the underside of the body. It is usually shaped like an hour glass . . . or may vary to look like two small triangles . . . sometimes the colored spot is rather faint more than a bright irregular smudge. The spider is usually about an inch and a half long.

The Black Widow is found most often in darkened places such as in empty rodent burrows, under logs, in cellars, in garages or in garden trash.

The female is usually found with the web in a corner near the ground. They are most abundant in the late summer and early fall . . . and are most dangerous when the female is guarding the eggs which are kept in a water-proof silken sac.

The Black Widows have two poison glands each attached to the fangs. The male spiders have the same venom distributors, but no poison is given off by them.

The poison secreted by the females is a neurotoxin . . . that is . . . it poisons the nervous system.

The poison is extremely toxic, but the spider does not always inject the entire contents of the venom in one attack, enough to kill a person, and the severity of the reaction in man depends on three factors . . . the amount of venom injected . . . age and condition of the patient . . . age and condition of the spider . . . part of the body bitten . . . locality in which the bite was received . . . the degree of immunity in the person bitten . . . and the treatment given.

Strong, healthy adults rarely die from the bites. Sometimes the bite is not felt, but shows up as two red marks, with reddish swelling around it. The pain lasts for 12 to 48 hours and is at its worst about the third hour. The muscles of the abdomen become rigid and the temperature rises slightly.

The patient should be kept in bed, covered with blankets, and given hot, sweet tea. The bite site must be washed carefully to remove poison. A doctor should always be called . . . and ice applied to the bite until he reaches the patient.

Citizens are enemies of the Black Widows . . . and insecticides may also be used in killing them. D-D-T applied as a coarse, doplet spray is most effective . . . and lindane is also useful. -NDH

Hi Neighbour . . . .
"Biddie," are you and your girl friends eating eggs again? You should be ashamed of yourselves. Don't you know that one egg a day is bad enough without eating up our profit. Oh! It isn't your fault — we'll bet you hate that! I'll just tell you, says "Biddie," make sure we have plenty of nests that are comfortable and well filled, give us lots of oyster shell and grit, darken the nest down, and gather the cackle-berries more often so we are not tempted to eat them. Those are good suggestions "Biddie", I will try it, but if it doesn't work, I will take my trusty knife and off comes your head right back to the quick. Also "Biddie", I am telling you, don't get any ideas about cannibalism for if you do, we will put pin-hen specks on or give you a ride to the city.
Don't forget friends, Henderson's have their own breeding stock this year and certainly can do a better job of producing good chicks—for extra chicks place your order now!
This ad. will appear in "THE POST", weekly — watch closely for it. Some of our hints may mean dollars to you.

Canada's Finest Shoe Store

"Quality Still Predominates In Manufacture Of Our Shoes," Bata Manager States

Despite all the advances made by the plastics industry in the application of some of its products to the footwear industry the use of leather still predominates. This is the considered opinion of Mr. L. Bruchmann, for 15 years associated with the Bata Shoe Company which is opening a sales outlet in Lindsay this week Mr. Bruchmann is now the company's advertising manager.

The use of leather for the manufacture of shoe uppers has never been satisfactorily substituted for by a plastic product and that in the case of men's shoe, leather is used almost exclusively throughout in his firm's products.

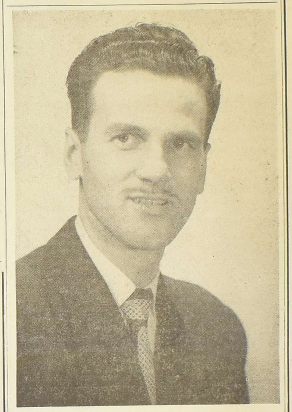

Shoes, Mr. Bruchmann observes, are a matter largely of custom and what is suitable for the market, say in Canada, would be entirely unsuitable for the market in other parts of the world.

The Bata Shoe Company, he relates, now operates 48 factories on five continents, maintaining plants in India, New Zealand, France, Great Britain, Holland, Africa, South America, Canada, United States and so forth.

This great chain of manufacturing companies, had, company history reveals, a very humble beginning. The business was founded by the late Thos. Bata, who died in a plane crash in 1932. It was a small family business which grew to the point where it had 2,000 employees in one plant alone by 1914. This factory had expanded by 1932 to the point where it had a daily output of 100,000 pairs of shoes.

Several years after the death of his father Thos Bata Jr., opened the plant at Batawa, Ontario 14 years ago.

The company, since opening in Canada, has developed 66 retail stores of which Lindsay is the 65th.

Shown above is the manager of the Bata Shoe Store which is opening at Lindsay this week. He is Mr. Jack Young who comes to Lindsay from Timmins where he was stationed with the company for 8 years prior to coming here. Before that he was located at Toronto. He is married and now endeavouring to set up a home in Lindsay.

Mayor-elect Is Officiating At Ribbon Cutting Ceremony

A very atractive store will be opened here on Thursday morning by Mayor-elect A. E. Hick. Mr. Hick will cut the silk ribbon that will officially open the Bata shoe store in Lindsay.

As well as such local officials as the Fire Chief and the Chief of Police, Mr. L. Bruchmann, advertising manager of the Bata Shoe Co. told "The Post" in a Tuesday afternoon interview that company officials will also be present. They are Mr. A. Havrlant, sales manager, Mr. R. Hill, property manager, Mr. W. T. Perry, personnel manager, and Mr. J. Plaedel, of the display department.

The store itself is very colourful and its decor is in the modern manner. The interior is decorated with grey walls, and pale yellow and a cheery red are touched here and there to add brightness and charm to the new store. The lighting is very effective, fluorescent tubes being used to give a daylight effect inside. Running down the store from front to back are two unbroken fluorescent fixtures. In the children's department at the rear of the store, four of the same fixtures run across the store from wall to wall.

The store itself is divided into three sections. As one enters the front door one finds the men's shoe department. The centre is taken up with the ladies' department and in the rear are the children's shoes.

The part of the store dedicated to children's footwear faces the street and is imaginative and sure to please youngsters, for on the back wall are motifs depicting bunnies, elephants, dogs and other animals that kiddies are so fond of.

The foil-like floor covering is a mushroom shade and, at intervals throughout the store, there are comfortable chairs upholstered in grey and rose leatherette.

When "The Post" visited the new store on Tuesday, a busy staff was energetically preparing for their opening tomorrow. Mr. Bruchmann says that the store will employ about four people and the manager though he notes more help will be on hand for the opening.

The store manager is Mr. Jack Young, who comes to Lindsay from Timmins with his wife Mr. Young says that he has been operating a Bata store in Timmins for the past eight years, and before that was in Toronto. The Youngs have no family. They are finding it difficult to obtain a place to live in Lindsay, but state that they find the Town to their liking and expect to be happy here.

Entire New Village Develops Around Shoe Company's Plant Now Employing 1,000 People

The opening of the Bata Shoe Company Ltd.'s retail store in Lindsay creates interest in the firm's Canadian background. In order that Lindsay people might have a more intimate knowledge of the company's development in Canada the following information on the company's chief executive and the industrial village of Batawa, Ontario has been compiled from company records:

"Among the first on the site of establishment for the BATA Shoe Company home, factory and community, was the youthful and vigorous Thomas Bata II, a Canadian citizen, who took over responsibility of the World-Wide BATA organization when he arrived here to direct Canadian operations. Then little more than 25 years of age, he is now 38 and no less vigorous as he travels to all parts of the world in the interest of BATA developments.

"During the war, Thomas Bata personally directed the defence program assigned to his plant, and also served as an officer in the Hastings Prince Edward Reserves -- an active member of Rotary International, he became widely known as a public speaker. Few men are more widely travelled than this keen young industrialist.

"In 1939, when the Bata Shoe Company of Canada, Limited, was established, the site for the new industrial community was selected as Trent Valley and as soon as land options were completed for the necessary 1,500 acres, building operations began.

"First five-storey daylight plant and engineering building which now houses 1,000 employees, then the housing projects followed by the community centre, post office, shopping centre, churches and schools. Sport fields have since been added.

Picturesque Village

"Comfortable and attractive houses line the carefully planned streets. Incentive for pride in this field of endeavour comes from annual competition in lawns and gardens. Complete in one unit building, adjacent to the factory, is the community centre which houses a large auditorium quickly adaptable to concerts, movies, dances and gymnasium, a comfortably furnished lounge room and big cafeteria, all can be opened together for large gatherings. There are also dressing rooms and showers for those taking part in competitive sports such as baseball, soccer, tennis, etc. Swimming and boating are among the popular Summer sports and in Winter there is skating, skiing, hockey and regular dances.

"The name Batawa combines the Company name with Red Indian phrase for the village. It is located on what was once known to the Iroquois tribesmen as Iroquois trail. Here indeed, is a picturesque blending of the old with the new."

Mr. Bruchmann informed "The Post" that many special give-away features are being prepared for the opening. Some of these include roses for the ladies, cigars, cigarettes, space helmets, candy canes, balloons, paper hats and a money contest, which are to be prizes for those attending the opening.

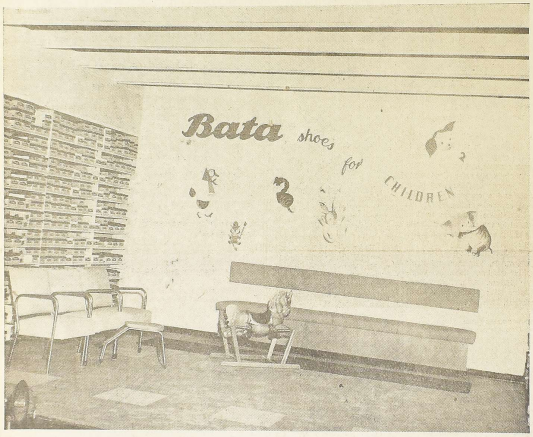

Find Baby Beaten To Death

Bowmanville, Dec 9 (BUP) -- A six-month-old baby was found beaten to death in its carriage about a mile west of Bowmanville today.

Police identify the baby as Christine Whitehead.

They believe a four-year-old girl hit the baby with a poker.

On the inside.....

On the inside of the compelling new Bata Shoe Store on Kent St., West, Lindsay, the two views shown here will greet store visitors on opening day. Above is the children's shoe department which occupies a newly-completed addition at the rear of the store. Here in pleasantly colorful surroundings children's fittings will be made, the store's manager explains. In the lower picture is the men's section of the three-department shoe store. This view is to the right and just inside the store's entrance.

Lindsay Jrs. make it four wins in a row

Lindsay Juniors made it four wins in a row on home ice at the arena last night as they edged Collingwood 7-6 in overtime.

The game was fast throughout with Lindsay having an edge on territorial play, especially in the closing 15 minutes of the game. Where they got their drive to finish the game in the Collingwood end is unknown as they were finishing their fourth game in five nights.

After losing to Port Perry Friday eve, downing Midland 6-3 Saturday night, they took an injury riddled line up to Peterboro Monday night and finished on the short end of a 7-2 score.

Last night they opened wide from the start to build up a three goal lead in the first fifteen minutes. Collingwood got two back before the period ended for a 3-2 score.

Lindsay bringed in three quick goals to start the second period and move in front 6-2. The Greenshirts, with Eddie Quigley screaming from the bench, fought back and capitalized on the breaks and tied the score in the last minute of the period.

After scoring 12 goals in the first two periods, teams settled down and tore through 20 minutes of scoreless hockey with both goalies playing outstanding hockey. The locals had more scoring chances but Collingwood checked furiously inside their blue line. R. Taylor for Collingwood was tagged for elbowing at 17.44 and Lindsay put on the pressure as on only two occasions did the puck cross centre ice. The Greenshirts fought valiantly and held the line score.

As the game moved into overtime Bush had his lads shooting down the ice to relieve the pressure and hope for a breakaway but Lindsay kept boring in. Bill Burns was given two minutes for tripping and Kemp had several anxious moments. As Burns returned to the ice play again moved inside the visitors' blue line with screened shots just missing the open corner, shots going over the net and everywhere but into the twine.

Finally, at 8.20 of the overtime period Art Truax scored his fourth goal of the game and what proved to be the winner. Art scored two goals in twenty three seconds to open the second period and cashed in on a three way rush by Teel in the first period.

The first penalty of the game set the stage for the opening goals as Bush had the ice rounded after 3.04 and fifty-two second later Tom Hutton made sure on Bill Burns' trip that the ice rounded after the attack although the Greenshirts broke away on several dangerous rushes after the penalty but Bush recovered the puck in the Lindsay end, rounded the net, charged the puck into the ice, rounded the Greenshirts net and passed out to Hutton. His shot was blocked but Truax scored in the rebound and a 2-0 lead. A minute later Teel again got underway, split the defense and blasted a short drive past Rod Taylor to make it 3-0.

Collingwood tallied their first counter ten seconds later when Raven pounced on a loose puck, around the corner and across behind the net well covered. Somehow, he got the puck to the net he flipped the puck to Grier at the open corner. With Graham benched for high sticking Grier scored on a screened shot from Robinson at 17.50.

Lindsay Juniors went into action for keeps at the start of the second period with three goals in just over five minutes. The first goal by Truax to open the scoring at 31 seconds. At 1.14 Art snared a loose puck near the 'Shirts net and beat Leonard with a low drive into McMillan goal off for elbowing. Jack Graham picked up the puck at centre ice several minutes later and passed to Growden at the blue line. Bob dekked the defenseman out of position and skated in on Leonard, drew him to one side then picked the far corner to put the locals a-head 4-2. Three min managed the Greenshirts into action, or was it Bush? Anyway, the visitors began to build up the pressure being particularly dangerous on breakaways. Dawn was in alone from the blue line at seven minutes but Kemp said no. Play roared from end to end Bush just roared with Leonard and Kemp carrying the brunt of the attack. At 10.36 the 'Shirts beat Kemp on a gangrid attack. Crew broke loose at centre ice at 13.08 but McGill got back in time to lift his stick and prevent a shot on goal, McGill was chased for hooking. Thirteen seconds later Crew opened up with the second rebound off Kemp. With the locals tiring Collingwood took over and Kemp had a busy time. A few penalties eased the pressure later as Crew was thumbed for closing his hand on the puck at 16.26 and Bush for high sticking at 16.32 and McMillan for tripping at 17.22.

When Crew left the penalty box at 18.22 with both teams a man short he followed up a Collingwood drive and was on hand to sink a screened shot. Only 13 seconds had up the game at 19.05 when Kirk passed to Crew and Robinson smared the rebound.

The locals rallied again took up a terrific pace with one team penned in, then the other. R. Taylor drew two minor penalties in the period, for elbowing at 8.16 and interference at 17.44, but somehow both goalies managed to keep their nets throughout the period. Screened shots were a dime a dozen but quick moves saved the day on many occasions.

When the period ended in a tie Coach Bush was very anxious to get the overtime and they were probably felt the Lindsay lads needed the rest more than his boys.

After a couple minutes rest Referee Crombie put the puck in play and the battle was on again. Much to the surprise of many fans Coach Bush remained and pened in the Greenshirts throughout the ten minutes, 'Gerster's boys tested Leonard with several hard shots and several other varieties to no avail. Although Bill Burns was penalized for tripping the locals kept in command. Finally at 8.20 Tom Hutton's rebound went to Growden, who fired from outside the defense. Leonard covered the shot but had no chance on Truax' short drive. Collingwood tried hard the best they could gain was a face off in the Lindsay end with one second to go, as whistle blew Kemp scored his goals but time had run out.

interpretation of the hymn of dedication, "The Church's One Foundation".

The highlight of the afternoon was the address of Dr. C. P. Cannon, Principal of Trinity College, who was introduced by Mr. F. W. Webster. Dr. Cannon complimented the clergy and people of Fenelon on the completion of a co-operative project, a building whose physical appointments are adequate for the purpose, but he reminded his audience that physical perfection in no way guarantees spiritual success. He quoted a proverb in the words of Dr. Wallace, Queen's University, as a place "Where we search for truth in co-operation with the Creator" and said that the school is a proxy for the home where the teachers have themselves learned. He outlined the duties of the school as: to assist youth in learning fundamentals, to assist youth in learning to read; to assist youth in learning to think and think clearly; to assist youth in making decisions and every minute of every day decisions must be made, and to assist youth, not alone to know right but also to do what is right. At the conclusion of his splendid address Dr. Cannon declared the school officially opened and Rev. H. H. Lennox offered the prayer of dedication.

Refreshments were served by the Home and School Association, with Mrs Agnes Dickson and Mrs. R. N. Mitchell presiding at the beautifully arranged tea table.

At 8.15 the auditorium of the High School was filled to capacity for the formal opening ceremony of the new wing, at which Mr. H. H. McKinnon, chairman of the High School Board, presided. The High School Choir, looking very smart, the girls in their white blouses and blazers, the boys in white shirts with dark trousers, occupied the platform. Mr. McFadden introduced the members of the Board, and greetings were brought by J. B. Parkin, architect, T. Morrow, contractor, Mr. Clayton Hodgson, Inspector Gray, representing the Department of Education, and Mr. W. B. Bradshaw, Chief Inspector. The ceremonies in August, 1932, when the main building was opened, The Board then sang "Dry Bones" and Vickers, T. J. Carley, W. B. Brandon, A. W. Robson, F. W. Warren, W. Green, L. Naylor, Dr. G. C. Graham and F. W. Webster, secretary. The contractor was Mr. J. W. MacMillan.

The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Sims, accompanied by Lillian Devitt, sang "Dry Bones" and "Vickers", and a double quartette -- Ruth Whitehead, Betty Nicholls, Atta Jordan, Donna Burns, Marion Lee, Norval Watson, Gail Hamborn and Norman Faulkner, gave two numbers. "Jacob's Ladder" and the "Orkord Dulcet's Bell." Mr. Webster, chairman of the Board of Trustees, presided at the afternoon session and introduced the speakers.

Jasper Forman spoke on behalf of the High School Board, tracing the history of the formation of the Area, mentioning just a few of the difficulties and problems dealt with, particularly the major one of transportation. He concluded by stating that when the building is finished, all that remains is to pay for it, and to quote the late President Roosevelt, "the difficult we will do at once, the impossible will take a little longer."

Mr. Hugh Allan, president of Victoria County Plowmen's Association, made the presentation of the Canada Packers Trophy to Howard Nesbitt and Keith Mark. The trophy was won by the boys at the International Plowing Match in Oshawa, and was received by Howard as Keith was unable to be present.

The choir gave a beautiful rendition of "Thy Lord's Prayer" (a request number) after which Rev. R. F. Hall conducted the dedication service of dedication and Donna Hopkins sang "Bless This House."

The High School Board intends to have Premier Leslie M. Frost as guest speaker. Mr. Frost spoke of the great future for secondary education not only in Ontario, but all across Canada, mentioning the Alberta gas project and the St. Lawrence River development. With increased development of natural resources, it is encouraging that development of technical training is the important factor, is also on the march. This is evidenced by the new technical school at Peterboro, which must be further increased to meet the ever growing population. Mr. Frost, after the formal part of the association, Mr Sherman Moore and chairman for the evening expressed a few well-chosen remarks, which was followed by a community sing song.

The guests at the head table were introduced by Mr. G. Nelson and included Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Moore, Rev. and Mrs. F. J. Little, Mr. G. Nelson, field man for the Holstein Association, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Marlin, Bell; Music, Mrs. Sims, secretary, Miss McLean; caretaker, Mr. Earl Jackett.

Pope Inaugurates First Marian Year

Rome, Dec. 8 --(EUP)-- Pope Pius the 12th has inaugurated the first Marian year --Year of Mary -- in the history of the Roman Catholic Church.

The so-called "Little Holy Year" is intended to the honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary and will be observed by some 400-million Roman Catholics all over the world.

Curtain. It will continue through December 8th, 1954.

The Marian year opened officially shortly after midnight when the first Marian Prayers were offered up to hundreds of thousands in Rome. A major part of the observance came after (at 4 a.m. EST)- when Clemente Cardinal Micara, Pontifical Vicar General for the city of Rome, celebrated a special Mass in the Basilica of St. Mary Major.

Another part of the observance comes (at 10 a.m. EST)- when Pope Pius the 12th goes to St. Mary's on the Esquiline Hill, Rome, to impart a special Apostolic Blessing to the world.

Throughout the world, millions of Roman Catholics attended Mass on this Feast Day of the Immaculate Conception.

A.E. Minthorne Honored With 50 Year Medal

Fenelon Falls (FNS) -Recognition of half a century of active membership in the local branch of the Masonic Order was the highlight of the regular meeting of Spry Lodge, Fenelon Falls, when Brother A.E. Minthorne, local nonagenarian was presented with a 50-year medal. The presentation was made by Rt. W. Bro. F. W. Warren and the medal was pinned by W. Bro. Dan Gray of Bobcaygeon, son-in-law of the recipient, who was a special guest for the ceremony. Also present to witness the honour afforded his father, was Bro. Sherman Minthorne.

Mr. Minthorne, who is in his 82nd year, replied with a few well-chosen words, and recalled incidents of the past with unusually keen memory. He is the third local resident to have the distinction of receiving the 50-year mark in Masonry, V. W. Bro.

Garagemen Form Association

Haliburton, (FNS) -The garagemen in Haliburton county, have recently organized and it is called The Haliburton Branch of the Ontario Operators Association. This group takes in all garages located in Kinmount and Norland that were formerly in the Victoria County group. At a recent meeting in Minden, a group of local garagemen met with a representative of the Ontario Association and formed a new group. The former local organization has not been operating for two years.

At the meeting an executive was elected as follows: President -Mr. James Cooper, of West Guilford; sec.-treas.- Reg. Welch, of Minden; Committee, Ed Hunter, of Haliburton, and Vern Harrison, of Carnarvon.

M. H. McCullum and Bro. Charles Edwards having received medals previously.

Rev. A. E. Larke Guest Speaker At Cameron Federation Banquet

Cameron (FNS) -- "The finest days for rural life are ahead of us" stated Reverend A. E. Larke of Springville, who addressed the annual meeting of the Victoria Federation of Agriculture in Cameron Hall. "My work as a minister has always been among rural people except for six years of war," he stated. His enthusiasm centred around the young people of the farm. "Urge the children to get their education, even as far as two years in high school seems to give them a broader outlook on life, something that is needed on the farm. An education prepares them for leadership, sometime that is needed badly in all rural organizations, W. I., Junior farms, Farm Forums, etc. Rural people need to organize and not have to look for help from outside".

Rev. Mr. Larke was very keen on Farm Forums "Years ago the problems of the day were threshed out at the corner store meetings, but, they are no more, and at the regular farm forums the same thing is done." He is a member of the Forum in his district. "In a world were 80 percent of the people go to bed hungry it is very important that we keep the young people on the farm to boost agriculture, the industry that is the back bone of the nation."

Mr. Hugh Davidson, president of the Federation of Agriculture, spoke to the large gathering of approximately 125 seated guests at the turkey dinner which was provided by the Cameron W.I. Community singing was enjoyed, also a few Christmas Carols were sung. Rev. Mr. Larke led the singing. Miss Sheila Goard of Oakwood delighted the audience with two vocal solos accompanied by her mother, Mrs. F. Goard on the piano.

Mr. M. H. Wintera, Secretary, read the minutes of the last annual meeting, also the executive meetings and the directors meeting Mr. Winters moved the adoption of same and was seconded by Mr. Clayton Taylor. The financial statement was given and the auditors, Messrs. Jack Mark and Herb Welby of Cameron approved the financial statement. Balance on hand $190.20. It was decided to send the paper "Rural Cooperator" to farm homes again for another year, 1800 copies were sent.

Mr. Ross McKay of Bobcaygeon spoke a few words to the ladies. She is a member of the executive committee of the Co-op. That the women of the V. F. A. are greatly interested in the Medical and Surgery Insurance. The men have worked very hard at the automobile insurance with much success in the last year. She announced a Junior farmers banquet in Dunsford to be held in the near future. Mr. Clair Everson of Oakwood acconnodated himself on the piano and gave several humorous vocal selections.

Mr. Joe E. Nesbitt of Glenarm first vice -president expressed his delight at being present with such a large crowd. "This is the first time that an annual meeting has been held out of Lindsay, and I must say it has brought results," stated Mr. Nesbitt. "An annual meeting without a supper to go with it does not get as large a crowd. Do we have to be bribed? or do we lack interest?

Mr. Wilbert Worsley of Cameron was called upon to say a few words in memory of the late William Newman, who was an ardent worker for the Federation of Agriculture. The guests were asked to stand and observe a moment's silence in his memory.

Mr. Clayton Taylor of Bobcaygeon gave the report of the nominating committee and asked its adoption, seconded by J. J. Thurston. Mr. Walter Reed, Omemee, second vice-president was asked to accupy the chair for the election of officers. They are as follows:- President -Hugh Davidson, Oakwood; 1st Vice -Joe E. Nesbitt, Glenarm; 2nd Vice-Walter Reed, Omemee. Sec.-Treas.- M. H. Winters, Lindsay; Executive -Milburn Hutchinson, W. J. Brown, John Imrie, George W. Kelsey, Ernest Pye, Mrs. E. Mashood, Mrs. Ross MacKay and Mrs. Mac Moynes

It was decided to send delegates to Federation of Agriculture Convention in Toronto. President Hugh Davidson, 1st vic, Joe E. Nesbitt, and a representative from the Junior farms to go as delegates. On ladies day at the Convention, a car load of ladies will go from one district for the whole convention to be decided later.

Short courses will be held in Guelph this year on Bee Keeping, Economics, Livestock, etc. The Federation will help financially any delegates chosen by the Farm Forum groups. Motion was made by J. J. Thurston and Bert Reed.

Mr. J. J. Thurston read a resolution -"That an open season be declared for the killing of raccoons; The damage to crops, orchards, etc., is getting greater as time goes on and causing great hardship to the farmers growing them."

Mr. Milburn Hutchinson, Dunsford, tendered a vote of thanks to the ladies for the fine supper and the visiting artists on the program. Other gentlemen speakers called on for a few words were, Rev. Mr. Smith, Omemee; Alex McKesock, of Lindsay; M. Robinson, Penelon Falls; Oscar Mark, Dunsford and The Singing of the National Anthem brought the meeting to a close.

The travelling apron was turned in and the money counted. The secretary was instructed to send out Christmas cards. The meeting closed with a hymn and the Lord's Prayer, with Mrs. Dan Fraser and Mrs. James Ewen served delicious refreshments.

"Read the Bible"

Powles Corner (PNS) -- The November meeting of the Powles Lane Women's W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Gratiin Moore with a good attendance and the president, Mrs. Allan Gills, presiding.

The meeting opened with all repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison. The worship service was in charge of Mrs. Cecil Lean and Mrs. Frank Woolridge. It opened with a hymn, Mrs. Frank Wooldridge read the Scripture lesson and gave the topic on Fellowship. Mrs. Cecil Lean gave a reading on the Bible, entitled "It's All in the Book," and advised people to read the Bible more. This was followed by prayer and a hymn.

The minutes of the October meeting were read and approved. The president reported some $25.00 had been collected for the Bible Society. A good number of orders for puddings have been received and Mrs. Cecil Lean kindly offered her home for a day to make the puddings. Donations were made for pudding ingredients by 18 members present.

A discussion followed re helping some needy organization at Christmas and Mrs. Tom Anderson is to inquire regarding the Sick Children's Hospital. Other members are to investigate also. Mrs. Melville Rutherford gave an excellent Good Cheer report. Moved by Mrs. Clifford Jones and seconded by Mrs. Mervyn Moore the Baby Band and Mission Band accounts are to be paid.

The December meeting is to be held two weeks earlier than usual. The nominating committee gave their report and the new officers will be installed at the December meeting.

The president read the Missionary reading "Following the Sun," and a hymn was sung which with the Mizpah Benediction closed the meeting.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Moore and her assistants and a social half hour enjoyed.

Secret Service.

The first U.S. Secret Service was organized in 1864, with 26 clerks under the Treasury Department, for the detection and arrest of counterfeiters, etc. Originally, it was not created by law nor recognized by Congress.

on "The New Hospital" and Mrs. Bell moved a hearty vote of thanks to the hostesses and those helping to make the evening a success.

The singing of the National Anthem, brought the meeting to a close, after which lunch and a social time was enjoyed.

WEDDING
McGill-Bradley

Janetville (PNS) -The wedding took place on Saturday at St. Paul's rectory in Bethany of Shirley Norene, daughter of Mrs. Walter Bradley, and the late Mr. Bradley, and William Reginald McGill, son of Mr. Clayon McGill, of Janetville, and the late Mrs. McGill, Rev. T. S. Gault was the officiating clergyman.

The bride was lovely in a white satin strapless gown, with overskirt of nylon net, and matching jacket. Her headdress was a lace halo, and she carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses.

The bridesmaid was her sister, Mrs. Robert Baker, of Capreol, who wore a pale mauve net gown, with white headdress, and matching elbow-length-gloves, and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, who received wearing a navy nylon gown and corsage of deep red roses

Later, Mr. and Mrs. McGill left on a trip, when the bride chose for travelling a maroon dress, maroon accessories, and a topcoat of charcoal grey with a corsage of white carnations.

Mission Band Collects 29 Books For Halifax Workers

Powles Corner (PNS) -- The regular meeting of the Bury Boys Mission Band was held in Powles Corner school. The Mission Band hymn and purpose was repeated in unison. The minutes of the October meeting were read by the secretary, Miss Ileen Huston, and approved.

The roll call followed with 32 present. The Birthday box had three members. Marion Gillis distributed the World's Friends. Mrs. Ivan Anderson distributed the Mite boxes. The next meeting, it was decided, will be held in the middle of December. Mrs. Anderson read a story of Africa. The call to worship was "Let All the People Praise Thee O God." The Scripture was read and hymns sung.

The current project was started. Mrs. Mervyn Moore and Mrs. Ivan Anderson have special work concerning it. The sand table and the figures are to be completed by the pupils

The offering was taken and a hymn was sung. The closing prayer was said. 29 books were collected for the Fort Workers at Halifax.

FRUITY OIL

An important by-product of Australia's canned fruit industry is edible oil from apricot stones.

Edward Leveck

Gooderham (PNS) -On Tuesday morning, December 1st, a very sad death occurred when Eddie, seven months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Leveck, passed away at a Peterborough Hospital, having been admitted there on Friday.

Much sympathy is extended to the parents and little sister, Eva, and to the grandparents and other relatives.

The funeral was held from the Pentecostal Mission on Thursday afternoon, Interment was at Gooderham cemetery. Many flowers adorned the little casket.

Rev. Louis Minta conducted the service taking for his sermon "Suffer Little Children to Come Unto Me and Forbid Them Not". The hymn, "Jewels" ,was sung and Marie MacDuff sang "From the Manger to the Cross". Mrs. G. W. Barr accompanied her on the piano. Pallbearers were Ruth and Beatrice Billings, June Dewey and Vera Haywood.

Mr. Leveck is employed at Oshawa and Mrs. Leveck resides with her mother, Mr. Walter MacDuff, at the restaurant.

Community Fireside Held At Fenelon

Fenelon Falls (FNS) - Following the evening services in the village church the Community Fireside of the winter was held in the Fenelon Falls theatre, thanks to the kindness of Mr. Conway. The Salvation Army Band was in attendance and Mr. H. H. Lennox led in the opening sing song.

Rev. E. P. Jull was chairman and following the singing of a hymn, Major James Cooper led in prayer. Gayle Hutchinson played a group of numbers, old favourites and new numbers on the musical saw, which is truly "music" in his skilful hands. Two lovely solos, "Good Lord, Kind Lord" and "Just for Today" were rendered by Mr. Hanson, accompanied by Mrs S. Dix, both of Little Britain. A group from the Band - Ruth Whitehead, Joan Young, Jim White, Murray Whitehead, Betty Nicholls and Bob Young played an ensemble of old favourites, and eight ladies of the United Church Choir contributed two anthems, Bruce Cooper presided at the piano for the evening.

The speaker was Mr. Robert Ball, of McMaster University, who is in charge of Emmanuel Baptist Church, Fenelon Falls and Baddow Baptist Church. In his brief message he brought out the necessity of communication with God. Just as distant places are dependent on the communication system to link them together, so we must be in constant communication with God. Mr. Bell closed the service with prayer.

Old Established Firm Announces Expansion

The announcement by the John McCrae Machine and Foundry Company Limited that Mr. Walter V. Peel is now associated with the firm will be of wide interest throughout the area

The McCrae firm was founded in 1898 at its present location by the late John McCrae and was incorporated in 1946. Steady progress has been made throughout the years and the firm has continued to expand its facilities to design build, service and repair the machine requirements over an extensive and everincreasing area.

Mr. William H. McCrae, the son of the founder, upon finishing school joined the concern as a machine shop apprentice and is familiar with all phases of the business. About five years ago he assumed active control, when he became President and General-Manager, and his organized the company's facilities to the extent that he says with pride, there are very few, if any, jobs of machine building and welding repairs, etc., which cannot be economically and speedily completed in the shop.

Mr. Walter V. Peel was born and educated in Lindsay, and all his business life has been actively associated with the firm. Until recent, retail lumber and building industries. He was General-Manager of the Kawartha Lumber Co., Limited until recently when that Company's retail lumber and supply interests were sold to the Beaver Lumber Co., Limited. Lately he purchased an interest in the McCrae Company and is now actively associated with this concern as Vice-President and Treasurer.

Mr. McCrae and Mr. Peel have declared themselves always ready to take part in any important and worthwhile activity in the community Mr. McCrae was this week elected a town councillor and in the same election Mr. Peel was re-elected a member of the Public School Board representing the North Ward. He served as chairman of the board last year.

Mayors Elected And Defeated In Ontario

(By British United Press)

Two Ontario mayors have lost their jobs in upset votes in yesterday's civic elections.

The mayors of Peterborough and Brantford were down to defeat, but sitting mayors have been returned in Toronto, London, Sault Ste. Marie, Sudbury, Guelph, Stratford, St. Thomas, Woodstock and Leamington.

In Toronto, Allan Lamport was elected for a third term in the lightest civic vote since the war.

In London, voters gave Mayor Allan Rush his fourth term. His only opponent, Elmo Curtis, conceded defeat after only one quarter of the polls had reported.

In Guelph, Harry Worton won his third consecutive term by defeating James Heffernan, who served six years as alderman.

In Sudbury, Joseph Cossa won a third term by defeating W. S. Beaton, who was mayor from 1941 to 1951.

In Sault Ste. Marie, Herbert Smale, a locomotive engineer, defeated Peter King, a former alderman, to hold his post.

In Stratford, Lawrence Feick retained his seat with a three thousand vote margin over C. H. Meier.

In St. Thomas, electors gave Mayor Thomas Currah his fifth term with a margin of more than one thousand over Alderman Dr. M. B. Ryckman.

Mayor Bernadette Smith was re-elected in Woodstock, and in Leamington Mrs. Grace McFarland defeated the challenger, Robert Mayhew, by a three to one margin.

In the Peterborough election, Mayor Hugh Weddell was defeated in a try for a third term by Norman Graham, twice-elected a city alderman.

And in Brantford, Alderman Reginald Cooper unseated Mayor Howard Winter, who was trying for a fifth term.

Belleville elected a mayor who has not sat on city council—Jack Ball. He defeated Charles Hyde, an alderman for 16 years.

Says Heavy Taxes Are Hampering Development

The chairman of the Montreal Stock Exchange believes heavy taxation is hampering Canada's development.

Brigadier J. B. Weir told the Montreal Rotary Club that Taxation has reached the point of diminishing returns and private industry is being pressed for capital. He said the nation cannot be developed at its maximum rate with the brakes set on persons who have above average ability and ambition.

Weir says it is "well worth pondering" that during the period when the United States was developing at its fastest rate, industrial leaders were allowed to operate with a free government control. However, he said, "We have government mixed up in about everything . . . this activity on its part has made us increasingly reliant upon the state."

Lamport Wins Third Term, Vote Light

Toronto, Dec. 8 (BUP) -- Mayor Allan Lamport has won a third term as mayor in the lightest vote in any postwar election.

Lamport received 55,064 votes while his only opponent, Arthur Jack Brown, 1953 chairman of the Board of Education, received 46,080.

In an unexpectedly close race, Brown, without City Hall experience, racked up a better score than Nathan Phillips, Lamport's opponent last year.

Safety Campaign For Children Starting Shortly

Elmer the Safety Elephant Campaign, being sponsored in Lindsay by the Kinsmen Club, begins shortly, says the chairman, Kin Jim Pilkington.

Mr. Pilkington says that this will be the third successive year that his club have sponsored such a safety campaign here. Pennants will be given to each school, he says, and will be taken down for a period of 30 days should an accident occur at a school.

Mr. Pilkington told "The Post" that the things Elmer reminds each child to do are to: "Look BOTH WAYS before you cross the street; Keep out from between PARKED CARS; Ride your bike SAFELY and obey all signs and signals; Play your games in a SAFE PLACE away from the street; WALK —don't run when you leave the curb; Where there are no sidewalks, walk on left side of roadway facing traffic and wear or carry something white at night."

The club spokesman concluded by saying that "Elmer was presented as a symbol of child safety by the Kinsmen Club of Lindsay, in cooperation with local police, and Public and Separate School Boards."

Minden People Assured Dock Is Coming

The people of Minden have received assurances from Mr. C. W. Hodgson, M. P. for the riding, that the dock at Little Hawk Lake will be built next year.

In his weekly letter to constituents, Mr. Hodgson writes in part: "I am glad to be able to inform the people of Minden that the amount for the dock has been put in the 1954 estimates and will be constructed in early next spring. The dock at Little Hawk Lake is being held up waiting land transfer of the property. I am not sure if the municipality or provincial authorities are responsible for this."

Newly-completed Church Opened By Premier Frost

The dedication service of the new Calvary Temple, home of the Lindsay Pentecostal Assembly, was attended by an overflow crowd on Sunday. Much of the construction work during the seven-month building period was done voluntarily by members of the congregation.

Premier of Ontario Leslie M. Frost paid tribute to the congregation for their efforts in building the church and stated that he has watched their progress with interest through the summer. He noted the growth of the church community in Canada along with the country's progress in other lines and stated that the strength of Ontario today lies in "the fundamental principles which our forefathers brought to the province, such as their belief in government by the people, equal opportunity for every man and beliefs in moral and spiritual values that are still with us."

The official dedication was conducted by Rev. Walter McAlister, of Toronto, General Superintendent of the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada. After leading the congregation in the impressive service, he spoke on "Why a Pentecostal Church," tracing its history and doctrine.

Others present included the Rev. W. B. Greenwood, of Belleville, district superintendent, who preached at the morning service; Donald Johns, of Peterborough, song leader; the Rev. Fred Parlee of the Pentecostal Tabernacle, Assembly; representatives of the Lindsay Town Council, Reeve Richard Bullock, and W. S. W. Breese and the now newly-elected mayor, A. E. Hick, and several district ministers of other assemblies, with a delegation of students from Eastern Pentecostal Bible College, Peterborough, who provided the music, along with Warren Bodley, of Lindsay.

The minister of the church, the Rev. M. W. Holmes, traced its history in Lindsay and outlined some of the facts about the building itself.

As a continuation of the dedication service, of this newest church building in Lindsay, Rev. Fred Parlee held a Rev. Youth Rally Monday night and will continue to hold special meetings throughout the week.

An invitation of the Lindsay Hydro Commission to the struck employees to meet with them was rejected on Tuesday at 1 p.m. Hydro manager J. Lightbody offered the invitation to the men outside the Wellington Street premises at that time. Gathered there with the men were two representatives of the National Union of Public Service Employees, Messrs. S. A. Little and F. Kitchen.

Mr. Lightbody, on behalf of the Commission, told the employees that the Commission was offering to meet with any or all of the employees and that the Union representatives were welcome to sit in on the meeting but were not to take part in the discussion, i.e., that the commission weren't recognizing the Union as bargaining agent.

This offer was rejected by the men, since they backed up Mr. S. A. Little's statement to a man that the only thing that they had asked for thus far was simply recognition of their union and of Mr. Kitchen as their bargaining agent.

Mr. Tom Cochrane said that the men were "prepared to picket for a month" if necessary.

The lineup at the strike situation in the same position as it was Monday, with the men unwilling to talk to the Commission unless their Union is recognized, and the Commission's published statement that their employment terminates if they do not return back to work by 7.30 a.m. tomorrow morning. (Mr. Lightbody told "The Post" before noon today the Commission was standing firm on their decision.)

Each of the men on the walk-out received the following letter today from the Commission:

"Dear Sir: The Hydro-Electric Commission met this morning, December 7, 1953, following the walk-out without warning of several of the Commission's employees. The Commission feels that this walk-out is ill-advised and unwarranted, the Commission can see no justification to be gained by the general public, the Commission itself, or the employees by a refusal on the part of a Union dominated by outside interests and with so little regard for the welfare and welfare of the people of Lindsay.

"We think you will agree that the Commission has never, at any time, refused to meet any or all of its employees for a discussion of grievances or any other matter per-

Would Discourage Winter Rush To Jails

Toronto, Dec. 8 (BUP) -- An Ontario legislature committee -- which says life can be beautiful in too many reform institutions -- is studying ways to cut down on the annual rush to spend the winter in jail.

The members of the Select Committee on Reform Institutions suggest that a return to hard work and bread and water would make the jails less popular as winter resorts.

The Reverend A. W. Downer of Dufferin-Simcoe says it's easy to see why men want to go to jail -- it's warm and comfortable and the food is good. But the committee says it doesn't seem right -- in these days of full employment -- for a young man to be allowed the luxury of a winter in jail.

A Liberal member from Stormont -- Peter Manley -- says proof that going to jail is no punishment any more is the annual fall rush to commit some minor offense in order to get in for the winter.

And James Dempsey of Renfrew South says living conditions in the jails are so good that some elder citizens give up their old age pensions and prefer to live in jail.

Held In Custody, Charged With Keeping For Sale

Chief of Police John Hunter said on Tuesday that following investigation by P. C. William Mosley on Sunday evening, an East Ward man is in custody on a charge of keeping liquor for sale. He said, too, that a Cambray man has been charged with illegal purchase of liquor.

The accused men appear in Police here tomorrow.

Urges Government To Help Cooperatives Like Lindsay's

Judge McGibbon Welcomes First Women Jurors

Three women were members of the Grand Jury at the County Court House Monday when County Court, General Sessions of the Peace, presided with His Honour Judge McGibbon presiding.

His Honour remarked at that time that this was the first time in Lindsay court that women had sat in jury before him. He said he knew that they would discharge their duties as expected, and, after welcoming them, he gave instructions to the jury as a whole on their duties. In his opening remarks he also commented on world affairs, mentioning the royal tour of Her Majesty Elizabeth the Second, and the Bermuda Conference.

The Grand Jury brought in a "no bill" on the charge of driving against James Alexander, of Toronto, whose wife and child were killed in a motor accident on the Fenelon Highway.

They brought in a "true bill" on a charge of dangerous and careless driving against Garnet Armstrong, whose father and a woman were killed in an accident on the Peterborough Highway. This case is being prosecuted today.

Police Checking Former Suitors Of Missing Girl

Police are checking three former suitors in an effort to find the kidnapper of a pretty blonde teenager, Marion McDevell.

Officers fear, however, that the kidnapper may have already slain his victim.

Inspector Harold Atkinson says, "It looks very bad -- pretty near hopeless."

Detectives have gone to a small Ontario town to look up one former friend of the girl.

The new suspect also is a former suitor who belonged to a motorcycle riding club.

Officers will not discuss the third acquaintance they intend to question.

Police believe the man who dragged Miss McDevell from a boy friend's car, parked in a lover's lane, was acquainted with her or with her escort, James Wilson, since he was heavily masked. --BUP

Windsor, Dec. 8 -- (BUP) -- The new provincial leader of the C-G-C-F --Donald MacDonald -- is urging the Ontario Government to help Cooperative Housing programs by granting them mortgages at three per cent interest.

MacDonald spoke to a meeting at Windsor tonight. He says Cooperative Housing groups have formed in Toronto, Peterborough, Hamilton, Ottawa, Lindsay, Thorold, Cobours, Kitchener and Kingston.

Groups in Ottawa and Lindsay are already putting up homes and he says the Ottawa ones, including half an acre of land, are costing around seven thousand dollars.

MacDonald says other provinces have passed laws to provide the Co-Ops with starter funds until construction has reached the point where a mortgage can be granted, and have lent mortgage money at low rates.

He says the Ontario Government should bring down similar legislation at the next session in February.

Kinsmen Will Instal One TV Unit At Home

By unanimous approval by the Kinsmen Club of Lindsay, they are planning to purchase a 21" TV set to be installed complete in the County Home for the Aged. A club spokesman says, "This has been done in some other areas and is a source of great pleasure to know that the older people have some of the best entertainment to watch in the twilight hours. The only question seems to be who has an extra TV set." The Kinsmen Club is only prepared to buy one set, being financially cramped, and two sets are needed, one for the men and one for the ladies. The Kinsmen Club is wondering if some other organization in the County themselves, will look after the purchasing of the other set."

Engine, Cars Jump Track, Start Off Down Street

Ottawa, Dec. 8 (BUP) -- A Canadian Pacific switch engine and two freight cars jumped the tracks in the Broad Street switching yards in West Ottawa early today and started off down the street.

Engineer Arem (CQ) Stanley of Aylmer, Quebec, brought the engine to a halt after it had torn out 50 feet of fence and damaged four parked cars along the street. There were no injuries.

839 Majority Gives Mayor Landslide Victory

Town Clerk W. R. Allely told "The Post" Tuesday a.m. that 55 percent of the eligible voters cast their ballot on Monday's election. This was down 5 percent from 1952's 60 percent vote. Mr. Allely said tha of the 5480 people eligible in the revised Voters' List, 3061 voted. They elected A. E. (Bert) Hick as mayor with a whopping majority over his opponent Lloyd Burrows

Though interest in this year's election was not as evident last week as it is some years the week before voting day ,the official 55 percent vote recorded is higher than many anticipated it would be. In this vein, it must be recorded that a high 839 majority interests pleases phoned the office of "The Post" last night, 623 in about two hours.

In addition to phoning "The Post" scores of people gathered outside the newspaper building on William N., to watch the results being posted in the window, and hear the latest election news over the P. A. system which had been set up. Between 11 and 12 o'clock, Mayor-elect Hick, the speaker for the crowd's entertainment.

After 17 out of 19 polls had been head from, returning officer Charles Lamb, who was at the Town Hall, congratulated A. E. Hick on a clean fight and wished him every success. Defeated mayoralty candidate Lloyd Burrows congratulated Mr. Hick and conceded the election at 8.37 p.m.

Soon after this all the votes were in, and Mr. Hick was officially declared Lindsay's new mayor for 1954. His total, 1950, showed 839 majority over Mr. Burrows' 1036 morning Mr. Allely stated that another vote had been added to Mr. Hick's total, since he said that in East Ward 1, A-J, his total was now 60 instead of 59. He also said that in this same poll to succeeding candidate, Russell Lamb's total of 74, one more vote has been added, making his total now 1060.

After the returns were all in, the new Mayor and most of his council members for the coming year came in a body to the office of "The Post", each speaking a few words over the P. A. system to those gathered on the street to hear them. Earlier in the evening, Mr. George Keith, who was defeated for School Board Representative in the North Ward, by present Board Chairman, Walter V. Peel, also spoke a few words thanking all who had supported him.

After leaving "The Post" the new councillors boarded a fire truck, toured the main street and joined a victory reception at the mayor-elect's home.

Mayor-elect A. E. (Bert) Hick, who was swept into office on the issue of the municipal election here Monday with a whopping majority. Mr. Hick is one of the youngest men to hold the senior office on Town Council but confirmation of his being the youngest has not yet been received. Two preceding mayors were elected at relatively early ages . . . Ex-Mayors R. I. Moore and Eric Stewart. Mr. Hick can probably claim one record . . . that of making his intentions known further ahead than any other aspirant to office. He declared himself open for nomination on September 26th — two months before nomination day.

Sees Competitive Market Growing

A leading financial authority says Canadian industry will have to keep prices down in order to compete at home and abroad.

President James Stewart of the Canadian Bank of Commerce told a Shareholders' Meeting in Toronto that a competitive market is developing and will possibly increase in the near future. He says high prices would weaken Canada's trading position.

Stewart says Canada can meet the competition through effective use of machinery, skills and quality. He said "We cannot feel that inflation markets high cost, high wage production under competitive conditions."

Remanded

A 20-year-old Lindsay youth appeared in police court Monday following investigation by P. C. William Mosley on Sunday. The youth was charged with having the care and control of a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Accused asked the court for a remand in order that he might obtain counsel, and the case was set over until this Friday.

Asked Freedom, Gets 10 Days

Two people appeared in Monday's Police Court on charges of intoxication, one man being from New Brunswick and one from Toronto.

The New Brunswick man asked to be permitted to be allowed to leave town or else he was wanted to get home to be with his family for Christmas.

Magistrate E. A. Gee didn't see eye-to-eye with him and sentenced him to 10 days in Jail.

The Lindsay man was also convicted and got 10 days in jail on this charge and an additional 10 days days on a previous charge when he had been given time to pay a fine and failed to do so.

Emphatic No To Margarine

The Provincial government of Quebec has turned its thumbs down again on margarine with an emphatic no. Legislation passed through the Assembly recently has lightened up existing laws and made it a more serious offense to sell or distribute the butter-substitute. The Liberal opposition charged the legislation was not helping the people it was intended to -- the dairy farmer. They said it was hurting the person with modest means who needed to buy the cheaper material.--BUP

EDITORIALS

ARE WE KEEPING WITHIN THE LETTER OF THE LAW?

We have just received a copy of "The Motorists Manual" published by authority of the Accident Recording Division, Motor Vehicles Branch, Ontario Dept. of Highways. It contains some information which causes speculation as to the extent to which we observe traffic regulations here in Lindsay.

Under the heading of "Municipal Bylaws" we read that

(a) "No vehicle shall be allowed to remain upon, or to be driven on or along any street so as to blockade traffic.

(b) Slow moving vehicles shall be driven as close to the right-hand curb as circumstances permit.

(c) Except on one-way streets, vehicles shall stop to take on or discharge passengers only at the right-hand curb.

This is to list but a few of the general municipal ordinances but perhaps the most interesting insofar as Lindsay is concerned comes under the heading of "Parking Prohibitions."

That no vehicle shall be parked:

(a) In front of the entrance to a hotel, office building, public place where goods or merchandise are regularly delivered or removed, opposite any lane or private driveway, opposite the entrance to any hospital at any time, or in front of the entrance to any theatre, auditorium, or other building while an assemblage is being held therein, or for a reasonable time before and after such assemblage.

(b) Within fifty feet of the corner of any street intersection on any car line or through street or within twenty feet of any other corner.

(c) Within ten feet of a fire hydrant.

(d) Within twenty-five feet of a fire hall on the side of a street on which the fire hall is located, or within one hundred feet of the fire hall on the opposite side of the street.

(e) At any time during the day or night on the right hand side of any one way street.

What do we think? Are traffic laws being adequately observed here?

IT MAY BE NICE TO GROW BUT . . .

Mayor Chas. Lamb predicted Monday night that the population of Lindsay would grow to 18,000 in five years time. On the basis of available statistics this would seem more like an optimistic guess than a prediction. Of course the unexpected sometimes does occur but the fitting of any such spectacular growth on Lindsay's part seem remote in the light of the records covering the past 23 years.

In 1920, for example, the population of Lindsay was 7,841 and from then until 1935 there was an exodus from the town and, when the census was taken in 1935, it was found that the population had declined to 6,949. In the years between 1935 and 1940, the year when the Arsenal really got into production here, the population showed a noticeable upswing with 739 people moving into the town to bring the total to 7,688. This growth in population has been consistent but not at the same rate as that mentioned. In 1945, for example, the population was 7,880 and in 1950 (the five-year period of greatest growth) the total was 9,349 . . an increase of 5.95 per cent. From 1950 to 1953 the population growth totalled 494 or an increase of 5.20 per cent.

Mayor Lamb's or Lamb's prediction of a town of 18,000 people in five years time, this seems like an overly-optimistic estimate for several reasons, among them being (a) Allowing for a growth rate double that in the greatest single period of expansion (5.20% in the last three years) the next five years would bring a population increase of 7.33 per cent or considerably less than 2,000 people (b) it is doubtful if the town could provide adequate services for such a spectacular population growth as the mayor predicts and (c) the trend in population growth would, on the basis of 1953 census figures, appear to be downward, there being 159 fewer people living in the town that year than in 1952.

It may be nice for a town to grow (there are limits to the size of a desirable town to live in) but growth takes time and money, and is subject to periods when it becomes becalmed while adjustments are made and so forth.

DECISIVE MAJORITIES

The vote in Lindsay on Monday left absolutely no room for speculation as to who the majority of people wanted to manage the affairs of the town in 1954. The majorities chalked up by winning candidates were decisive in the extreme.

Mr. Hick was elected to the mayor's office on his first try, a feat not easily performed and seldom with such a decisive majority. He is to be congratulated on his achievement and his mandate is such as to place him solidly in office.

Mr. Burrows, who was unsuccessful in his second bid for the mayor's chair, is to be commended for his participation because without a worthy opponent in political competitions there would be little interest in such events. He must take consolation from the fact that he stimulated interest and thereby served the community well.

Mayor Chas. Lamb, who retires this year from Council, will be missed from the Council Chambers . . . no man could serve in municipal affairs so long and not be missed but he leaves with the satisfaction of knowing that he has established a record for tenure of office which may never be broken in his lifetime.

Laugh It Off...

They had just returned from a party, and the wife was slightly put out by her spouse's seeming lack of attention to during the evening. She: "Why is it I buy a beautiful evening gown and you never even notice it, but you get bug-eyed staring at every other woman in the place?" Husband (sleepily): "Once you know what's in a package it doesn't make much difference how it's wrapped." —Union Leader.

SPEED IS KILLER — CRIPPLER 352 DEATHS IN SIX MONTHS

During the first six months of 1953, there were 29,267 traffic accidents in Ontario, resulting in the death of 352 persons and bringing injuries to 7,436 others, according to the latest Ontario Department of Highways report.

The most startling fact in these figures is that the largest number of accidents happened on clear days and in daylight, on dry and straight road surfaces, and when the drivers involved had not been drinking. The greatest killer and crippler was excessive speed.

Accidents in Toronto and suburbs accounted for 27.3 per cent of the over-all Ontario total.

Most fatalities involved pedestrians struck down by cars—2,329 accidents of this type were reported with 135 persons killed and 2,194 injured.

There were 19,427 collisions between cars, with 74 persons killed and 2,803 injured. Collisions between cars and trains numbered 214 with 27 persons killed and 55 injured. And 46 motorists collided with horse-drawn vehicles, resulting in one death and 11 injuries.

More than 21,000 drivers involved in accidents were between 25 and 40 years of age. Drivers over 65 had the fewest accidents of all. And 46,302 drivers in accidents were men, compared with 2,894 women. Most drivers admitted to more than five years' driving experience. —The Labour Leader

DEATH OF A POET

We are not accustomed to writing obituary tributes—there are few men whose deaths can cause any honest mourning outside their families. And that is why the words come hard and rough-edged when we try to say something about the passing of Dylan Thomas, who died in New York early last month; he quit this life suddenly, at the age of 39 and in a strange land, and the news of his death came with the shock of a physical blow.

When statesmen die, there are others to haggle over the affairs of nations; when men of science die, there are others to ferret out the hidden formulae and equations; when merchant princes die, there are others just as crafty to do the buying and selling. But when a poet dies, who is there to sing the songs he would have sung?

The world was robbed when Dylan Thomas died, robbed of a voice that was only approaching its full richness, of a mind that teemed with visions of beauty still unrevealed, of a man who used words with joy and imagination and who would have been a poet in any age or land because of the things he had to say.

A FILLING OF HEALTH

Some day we hope to meet the wise and witty person who produces the "Press Fillers" sent out by the Information Services Division of the Department of National Health and Welfare to the editors of newspapers and magazines. December's batch of Fillers has arrived, and we are happy to report that it is well up to the usual standard.

The Fillers consist mainly of advice on how to stay alive and in reasonably good health, which is given in a frank, man-to-man way -- "If your work entails handling or being near machinery, take advantage of all the safety devices for your protection." Sometimes the writer is content to make a blunt statement, letting the chips fall where they may: "Dental cavities develop very rapidly if not checked and filled when they first appear." Sometimes a new and startling thought is embedded in a fine bit of understatement: "If a youngster dislikes his medicine, it helps if it is given to him when he is hungry. A little jam or some other pleasant treat will disguise the taste, it is a good idea to add it." And sometimes there is irony, its shrewdness barely concealed: "Skiing brings a regular winter crop of broken bones, caused by accidents which are often unavoidable; the beginner who tries hills and jumps beyond his training and experience is asking for trouble—and frequently meets it."

There seems to be no limit on clinical subject-matter, and restricted only by his concern for the nation's health, the writer is given plenty of platitude.

SIR BENEGAL RAU

The death of Sir Benegal Rau at the age of sixty-six deprives the world of a great jurist, a wise political thinker and a spokesman of India who made a deep impression on the Western World. He came of a distinguished Indian family, he was a profoundly cultured man in the sense that his intellectual interests and his sympathies were almost universal, and he held many notable posts in the service of his country.

He became a figure of world prominence when he served as India's permanent delegate to the United Nations in the early and middle period of the Korean War. Many Western people were irked, at that time, by India's aloof and almost Olympian detachment from that fierce struggle. Some felt that Indian neutralism, which looked like a rejection of the whole political philosophy of UN, deprived India of any right to be listened to on Korean issues. Yet there was no doubt of the total sincerity and prophetic insight of Sir Benegal's contributions to the UN debates.

He warned that the crossing of the 38th parallel would inevitably bring Communist China into the fight; and this prediction, of course, proved to be accurate. Once China was involved, he used all his influence to prevent the spreading of the war in the Chinese mainland. He held to the opinion that friendly relations with Mao Tse-tung, who in his view was never a Moscow puppet, were possible. This appraisal is not yet confirmed by events but it may be in time.

The wisdom of India is sometimes inscrutable to Western eyes but its value to mankind is not to be doubted. Slight and frail Sir Benegal, with his fine head and sensitive features, embodied it in a memorable way.

Rev. J. P. Henderson

Yelverton (PNS) -- Many communities in Ontario and Western Canada will be saddened to hear of the passing of Rev. J. P. Henderson, for many a beloved pastor and friend. He entered into rest at his home in Bellamy on November 21st.

Born in Hudson Heights, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson, he attended high school in Georgetown and Bible School in Milton and both taught and farmed in that neighbourhood before attaining his Master of Arts degree at Toronto University. While attending Knox College, he held Mission Fields in Northern Saskatchewan and Southern Alberta.

He enlisted as a private in the Canadian Expeditionary Force in 1914 and served both at home and abroad obtaining a lieutenant's commission.

Upon his return to Canada, he began pioneer missionary work in the Peace River Block, B.C. His devotion to his work here, under the most rugged conditions, early caused a breakdown in health and he was forced to leave his chosen calling for a time. He farmed at Dawson Creek for a number of years until due to his ever short-sighted mindedness he felt constrained to re-enter the service. He then carried the Gospel tidings to points in Northern Alberta for a number of years before returning to Ontario. He served on the Castleford-Calabogie charge and then on the Bethany charge, the Rednersville Circuit and was at Westmeath when ill health forced him to retire. For many years the victim of a weak heart, Mr. Henderson was indeed "faithful unto death."

Choosing as his text "Be ye faithful unto death and I will give you a crown of life," Rev. B. Armstrong, of Port Perry, his college chum, spoke with great sincerity and feeling of the high Christian ideals of the Henderson home and of his unfailing faithfulness to those ideals.

Taking part in the service were Rev. Fraser, Presbyterian; Rev. Jas. Hampson, Greenwood, and Rev. L. Norman, Bethany; Pallbearers were Mr. Wm. Donaldson, Peterborough; Mr. Gordie Lamont, Mr. Jas. Hampson, Bethany; Messrs. Howard and Ralph Malcolm and Ray Robinson, Yelverton.

Friends from many distant points attended the service in Bethany United church and followed the body to its last resting place in Yelverton Cemetery. With a smile on his face, Rev. Henderson had gone to meet the Master whom he had served so faithfully in life.

Left in great loneliness, but sustained by his faith he had taught them are his widow, Mrs. J. P. Henderson, Bellamy; three sons, Gordon, of Toronto; John, of Buckingham, Que., and Murray, in Bethany; two daughters, Ruth (Mrs. Ralph Malcolm), Ernestine (Mrs. Ray Robinson); four grandchildren, Judy and Clara Robinson, and Ronald and Karen Malcolm; three sisters, Miss A. Henderson, Miss C. Henderson, and Mrs. O. Lamb, all of Acton, one brother, George, British Columbia.

"Therefore, being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ."--Romans 5:1.

Moaning Low—

One wolf is moaning low today
He pulled up alongside a car in Philadelphia as two women were getting into it. Came the long low whistle, and then he asked where they were going.

They said to their hotel. He followed . . . right up to the desk clerk . . . in a police station.

The ladies were policewomen. He's charged with disorderly conduct.--BUP

The Gambler

The gamester, if he die a martyr to his profession, is decidly ruined. He adds risk and misery other loss, and by the act of suicide, renounces earth to forfeit heaven. --Colton.

Mary H. Fitzpatrick

On November 28th, 1953, the death occurred at St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, of Mary H. Fitzpatrick, daughter of the late Hilary Fitzpatrick and Julia Murphy.

Born in Lindsay, she was educated at St. Joseph's Academy. She held secretarial positions in Toronto, Ottawa and lastly in Lindsay where she was employed for eleven years in the Employment Insurance Commission office. Beloved by all, her death came as a great shock to her many friends and relatives.

Surviving are one brother and three sisters, Sister Mary of the Blessed Sacrament of the Monastery of Our Lady of the Rosary, Summit, New Jersey, Sister M. Francis de Sales of St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, Mrs. Howard Baker of Phoenix, Arizona, and James Fitzpatrick, of Lindsay.

The funeral was held from Burrows Funeral Home to St. Mary's Church, where Solemn Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rt. Reverend J. V. McAuley, assisted by Rev. F. Fitzpatrick as deacon and Rev. J. Walsh as sub-deacon. Present in the sanctuary were Rev. C. McCarney of Oconabee, Rev. C. J. Carrol of Norwood, and Rev. S. Coffey of Downeyville.

Rev Father Fitzpatrick officiated at the grave, accompanied by Rev. C. McCarney and Rev. J. Walsh.

The pallbearers were Norman Bissett, Joseph O'Reilly, Simon Kirley, Paul McGuire, Alan Lacey and Peter Tully.

Average Wage Up, Employment Too, DBS Reports

The average wage in Canadian industry is reported to be 53-dollars and 12-cents a week.

The Bureau of Statistics says this is about 50 cents a week more than the average wage last month and two-dollars more than it was a year ago.

The payrolls and employment in industry are at new highs.--BUP

Ladies Aid Meeting Held At Manse In Nestleton

Nestleton, (PNS) --Nestleton Ladies Aid met at the manse for their November meeting. Mrs. Gilbank was in the chair, Mrs. Hoocy read the Scripture and Mrs. Thompson the explanation.

Two minutes of silence were observed for a departed member, Mrs. Olive Brown. Blocks for two quilts are in the process of completion. Due to the lateness of the year, it was decided to cancel the hot pie supper indefinitely as funds are ample for present needs. Members responded to the Roll Call with jars of fruit and jam for Port Perry hospital. Mrs Wm. Hoocy read a tribute to a friend of Martin Luther, Mrs. Wolfe -"The End of the Year", Mrs. Thompson "Some Go To Church" and Mrs. Dickey, "Getting Old".

Mrs. McComb and her assistants, Mrs. Dickey and Mrs. Harris, served lunch and the meeting adjourned to meet in December and the home of Mrs. George Wolfe for the election of officers.

Oak trees are said to have 300 years of growth, 300 years of maturity and 300 years of "old age."

The Dog and the Bone

A DOG was crossing a plank bridge over a stream with a piece of meat in his mouth, when he happened to see his own reflection in the water. He thought it was another dog with a piece of meat twice as big; so he let go his own, and flew at the other dog to get the larger piece. But, of course, all that happened was that he got neither for one was only a shadow, and the other was carried away by the current.

Christmas Turkey

There will be lots of turkeys for Christmas, but some of the stores are not certain what the price of them will be. The quality should be good and from the many flocks of them we seen they looked like fine birds. For the small family it pays to buy a large turkey which is cut in two --half for Christmas and the other half for New Years. Cover the dressing of the bird with parchment paper or foil and the turkey will cook just as well as if it were whole. Some say to put the breast up while others say it keeps the juices in better when turned down. For a 7 to 9 pound turkey allow two and one-half to three hours. For 10 to 14 pounds allow 3 to 3 3-4 hours to cook. For 15 to 18 pounds allow 4 to 4½ hours. For 18 to 24 pounds allow 4¾ to 5½ hours cooking time. For the final 45 minutes of cooking time, fold back the aluminum foil or parchment and allow the turkey to brown.

Rolling Game

Children's clothes certainly take a beating. We noticed three little tads rolling down a hill on the way to work. They had their snow-suits on and the three were doing a fine job of cleaning off the snow. It is a good thing their snow-suits are reversible or they would soon wear out with this treatment. With the air fresh in the morning they didn't get pneumonia.

St. Andrew's Bazaar

Christmas bazaars are still coming along and the St. Andrew's Church ladies had theirs on Wednesday. They had a very delicious home-baking for sale and a host of lovely Christmas articles they had made for the event. The little center pieces for Christmas decoration were also for sale. The delicious home-made sandwiches and cakes were enjoyed by all the guests. It was easy to see there are very capable ladies connected with St. Andrew's and it was a very pretty tea.

It Pays To Be Early

Already Christmas gifts are beginning to get picked up and the shoppers who start in the last minute won't have the variety to choose from that the early shoppers did. Toys are one item that should be on an early list as you like to buy them before they have been handled too much. The toys this year are really outstanding and no child should have the best Christmas they ever had

Lamb At Peak

August through November are the best months in peak production of lamb in Canada. There is a better time to buy lamb than when it is plentiful, and when the prices are continually low. The best old lady in the shops as lamb usually comes from animals which are up to approximately 12 months of age. If the animal is over 12 months, it is spoken of as mutton.

Lamb is marketed for quality in any province in Canada except Saskatchewan . . . and there it must be produced under graded Union.

The favorite is the shoulder roast. It may be boned and stuffed in a most attractive manner. It can also be rolled and roasted as rolled shoulder of lamb.

The home economists say that you roast lamb as you do tender meat. That is roast it on a rack in an open pan, and don't cover it or use the oven temperature slow throughout the entire cooking time.

Cooking Hints

Be sure to take the roast from time to time for even cooking. Boneless roasts will take a few minutes longer in the oven for each pound than roasts with the bone left in. Generally, though, the times are 40 to 45 minutes per pound for boneless roasts and 30 to 35 minutes per pound for roasts with the bone left in.

Any of the cuts of lamb which are sold as roasts may be cut up for stews or stewing. The shoulder or as shoulder may be cut into shoulder chops, the loin into loin chops and the leg into leg steaks.

These chops and steaks may be pan fried, broiled or baked. It is important to remember that lamb is not done . . . like beef steaks . . . are often sold in different thicknesses.

Some are about half an inch thick while others may be one inch thick. It takes about three to five minutes to cook lamb chops that are half an inch thick.

To bake them, first brown the chops one minute on each side on the top of the stove in a little fat hung in on your arm with the catch on the outside, you're making the biggest mistake you've ever made. Step into a crowd near a bargain counter, and you're as excited about something you don't want as a hanging . . . maybe open . . . from your arm.

Grandpa Shanley doesn't want anyone to get the idea that Manhattan's abounding in pickpockets. It isn't. She has arrested scores of them in her time, and the rest of the detectives have turned in an overwhelming number.

But the motherly-looking wrinkled chief chaser says, "There still are a few good pickpockets out of jail in most every town."

She concludes -- "Don't make life easy for them."

Nothing To It!

The experts figure that you can prepare the traditional feast in four to seven hours . . . counting the time at the co-operative . . . and if you're prepared similar to separates with barbecued sauce . . . they're delicious.

Wise Shoppers

Those prize Christmas cards are getting picked up fast. We saw some we liked the other day and made note on them when we went back for them two days after. It's easy to say shop early but sometimes we put it off and take a chance on another day. The early shopper is the wisest one and those who have their Christmas nearly finished can sit back and enjoy the late shoppers who almost pull their hair out trying to get the last minute gift. You just can't expect to get first choice if you leave it too long.

Oakwood Spiel

Curlers are looking forward to the Oakwood Bonspiel finals this week. They have been held for the fine hospitality. This small community has artificial ice and was one of the first to have it. Also they have Lindsay lady curlers will be on hand to enjoy this bonspiel and others have members of their progeny in the ones. It runs two days, Thursday and Friday.

Fish for Christmas

Santa Claus has to ask for many things at Christmas including "two front teeth" but one little fellow at Christmas always gets a request. He wants some gold fish in a bowl and nothing else will satisfy him. His dad is a keen fish enthusiast and has them fish fishing several times. Now he is coaxing for some goldfish as playmates.

New Fabric

There's another new fabric on the market that will make clothes for the Christmas shop. It is something that is made without spinning or weaving and the bonding operation is done right in the factory, we're sure. It will be used for interlining, swim suits, lingerie and many other articles where body is wanted as well as insulation. It is supple and much lighter than other stiffening fabrics. Garments are washable and can be folded without damage to its shape or stiffness. It is quick drying and washable.

Extra Cake

If you want to make a cake for Christmas ahead of time one of the best for doing that is a fruit cake. It keeps well and stays moist if carefully kept and doesn't seem to lose its flavor. What's more, you can really make it into a desert with a filling of some kind. Leave the top flat when the cake is baked in the shops as lamb usually comes from animals which are up to approximately 12 months of age. If the animal is over 12 months, it is spoken of as mutton.

Port Perry Hospital Auxiliary Reviews First Year's Progress

The Auxiliary of the Community Hospital, Port Perry, held their first annual meeting in the Public Library. The 40 women's organizations, comprising the Auxiliary, were well represented.

Two members of the Hospital Board were present: Mr. Leslie Smith, the chairman, and Mr. Gordon Reesor, secretary. Both spoke briefly to the women, expressing appreciation of the work done by the Auxiliary.

The reports of the various officers were read and adopted. This group of women, working quietly and efficiently, have done an amazing amount of work. They have purchased many needed articles of equipment for the Hospital, also yard goods, from which the sewing committee, have cut and sewn over 940 articles for the linen room.

During the past two months the women have donated over 900 containers of fruit and jam for the hospital requirements.

A welcome contribution recently, from Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Haugen, was permission to use the recreation room of "Little Norway" for the meetings of the Auxiliary, and the women may also store, cut, and sew their materials there.

After the President, Mrs. Dymond, had declared all offices vacant, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President -Mrs. M. B. Dymond; 1st Vice-President - Mrs. F. Baker; 2nd Vice-President - Mrs. J. Robertson; Secretary -Mrs. Bruce Holiby; Treasurer -Mrs. Donna Crowther.

The following annual report was given by the secretary:

"Wednesday, January 7, 1953, saw the opening of the new hospital. Prior to this the ladies of the Auxiliary had been very busy preparing for this event. Ladies from the surrounding districts and Port Perry helped at the Hospital with such chores as washing dishes, putting them away, sorting linen, and general cleaning to make ready for the opening day. The executive of the Auxiliary, in the meantime, planned a lunch for an estimated 1500, and made plans for directing this crowd and guiding the visitors through the building.

"The Hospital, officially opened, work of the Auxiliary was just beginning. Much organizing has since been accomplished, much sewing done, and quilting and donations have been received, the first, from the Head W. A. Scugog, in the form of a new electric roller cheque. In addition to money donations many gifts have been turned into the Hospital. The cash donations handed into the Auxiliary by various organizations and friends have enabled Auxiliary to purchase many needed articles and pieces of equipment for the Hospital.

"In June the Auxiliary assumed responsibility for linen-room supplies and the china and glassware at the Hospital.

"Nine regular meetings have been held since our inception. Our first open meeting took place on the evening of April 21st, when our guest speaker was Miss Mary Bourne, Superintendent of Nurses, Oshawa General Hospital. This was also an opportune time to present Mrs. G. E. Nelson with a silver cup for her new son, Charles, who was the first baby born in the Hospital. We have also had the pleasure of presenting knife, fork and spoon sets to the first twins born in the Hospital, the parents being Mr. and Mrs. Cameron, of Uxbridge."

Three Little Kittens . . . Then There Were Two

Three tiny kittens in the home of Freda Dufresne, of North Bay, follow the youngster wherever she goes. John McNeill, a neighbor handy with a camera, caught the kittens as they cavorted in a minnow pail.

Joe, where are you? Joe, was there water in that pail? JOE!

Frederick Junkin

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -The death occurred suddenly at his home in Verulam on October 27th, of Frederick Garfield Junkin in his 63rd year.

He is survived by his wife, the former Hazel Myrtle Geeza, of Hastings Cnt., one son, Malcolm on the home farm and one daughter, Mrs. Charles E. Taylor, (Kathleen), of Burnt River. Four grandchildren, Dwight, Frederick and Phillip Taylor, Jean and Brian Junkin, mourn the loss of their grandfather. Two sisters also survive, Mrs. Duncan MacMillan, (Viney), of Oshawa, and Mrs. John MacKenzie (Clara) of Verulam. He was predeceased by a sister, Mrs. Wilfred Everson, (Louisa), in June, 1951. Mrs. Earl Eakins (Evelyn Strafford) a cousin also survives.

The late Mr. Junkin was born on May 26th, 1891. He received his education at Red Rock public school and farmed in the district until 1920, when he moved to town for five years. During this time he made two trips to Western Canada. He attended Bethel United Church in his early life when he was active in Sunday School and Young People's work. Of late years he attended Providence Church.

Funeral services were held on October 30th, from his late residence, and were conducted by Rev. R. C. White, of Bobcaygeon. Interment was made in Verulam Cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. Garfield and Robert Everson, Gordon MacMillan, and Lorne MacKenzies, nephews of the deceased, and Earl Eakins and Thornton Junkin, cousins.

The floral tributes were many and very beautiful. Friends and relatives from Oshawa, Dunnville, Gelert, Peterborough, Burnt River, Lindsay and Fenelon Falls, attended the funeral.

Bethany Lady Celebrates 88th Birthday

Bethany (PNS) -- Celebrating her 88th birthday on November 27 was another of Bethany's elderly folk in the "over eighty" group, Mrs. Richard Fallis, who before her marriage, was Louisa Walker and who has lived her entire lifetime in the district.

Remarkably active for her years, she looks after her own home and large garden since the death of her husband; goes shopping without the grocery list that most of us take along, for with her remarkable memory notes are not necessary.

She has been a devoted mother to her family of nine children: Harvey, of Lindsay; William (deceased); Mrs. Hugh McDonald (Irene) and Mrs. Cecil Hughes (Edna), both of Toronto; Mrs. William Pair (Ida), of Fairmount; Mrs. Roy Ferren (Bertha), of Cavan; Myrtle (deceased); Laura and Fred, who share their mother's home.

Mrs. Fallis takes a decided interest in everything that goes on in the community and is noted for her ready Irish humour and her ability of always looking on the sunny side of life.

She is the much beloved grandmother of nine grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren. Perhaps her large family have kept her young in spirit, for Mrs. Fallis welcomes them all with real affection when they come to visit with her. On holidays, her home is still the family gathering place and no one hears her complain of being tired. Many younger folks could benefit from her happy philosophy of taking each day as a time and never worrying over what tomorrow could bring.

She was remembered with many cards and gifts on her birthday and most of her family were home some time during the weekend. Bethany folk are pleased to add their congratulations with the wish for continued good health to Mrs. Fallis.

Friends regret to hear that Mrs. David MacDuff and Mrs. Allan Madill are sick and wish them a speedy recovery.

Early Morning Oakwood Accident Damages Store, Injures People

A Whitby man, Albert Geo. Edwards, 44, was the most seriously injured in a two-car collision early Saturday a.m. at the main intersection in the village of Oakwood. He is in the Ross Memorial Hospital. Passengers in his car, his 20-year -old son, Robert, and the boy's 19-year-old wife, Madeline, of Toronto, suffered injuries, but not as severe as those of Mr. Edwards. The driver of the other car, Lorne Cap-stick, of Lindsay, was also treated at the RMH by Dr. M. E. Gorman.

Details of the accident, which was investigated by Constable Jim Hall, of the Lindsay detachment of the OPP, are not available. It is known however, that one of the cars after the collision struck and badly damaged the south side entrance of the R. S. Cameron store in Oakwood. Mr. Cameron's business, a hardware store, is located on the north-west corner of the intersection.

Films Shown At Scouting Auxiliary

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -Mrs. G. H. Palmer presided for the November meeting of the Fenelon Falls Scouting Auxiliary, which was held in the Community Hall.

With Mrs. L. Cordick at the piano, the meeting was opened by singing "O Canada", followed with prayer by Mrs. Palmer. At the business period reports were heard from conveners and chairmen, and the treasurer of the Auxiliary fund. The Cub mothers had the majority in attendance, 70 Cubs pack and leaders, F. Brandon, M. Robinson and E. McLeod were guests of the Auxiliary and Mrs. Palmer welcomed them and the other visitors present.

Mr. Brandon introduced Cubs, Mack Dixon, Charlie Graham, Herb Staples and Fred Barrett and Mack explained the importance and significance of badges and insignia as worn on the Cub uniform.

Mrs. Lunham introduced Mr. Bellwood who showed them excellent films, "A Day in the Woods", "A Trip Through Jasper", and a film on "Africa". Mrs. E. McLeod voiced the appreciation of the Auxiliary and Cubs to Mr. Bellwood for providing such splendid entertainment.

The meeting closed by repeating the Scout Benediction after which refreshments were served by the lunch committee, which is convened by Mrs. C. J. Vesey.

Blackstock W.A. Elects Officers

Blackstock (PNS) -- The W.A. of the United Church met at the parsonage with 31 women and 11 children present.

Mrs. Neil Werry had charge of devotional and gave the Christmas story. Roll call was answered with payment of membership fees for 1954. Motions were passed to pay the usual donations to Budget Fund, M and M Fund, Institute for the Blind and choir. A very satisfactory financial report was received. A hearty vote of thanks was given the nominating committee and Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Hutton for their co-operation during the year.

Rev. Mr. Hutton received the slate of officers as follows: pres. Mrs. H. Shortridge; vice-pres. Mrs. C. Morton; sec., Mrs. P. Van-Camp; treas., Mrs. R. Mountjoy; pianist, Mrs. G. Strong; group leaders, Mrs. Ernie Swain, Mrs. Fred Trewin, Mrs. Harold Swain, Mrs. Wilbert Archer and Mrs. Neil Malcolm; Good Cheer, Mrs. Fowler; parsonage committee, Mrs. Roy Taylor, Mrs. Ross Duff and Mrs. J. McKee.

After a short programme lunch was served and a social half hour enjoyed.

Rev. A.S. Roblin Addresses Brotherhood Meet

The monthly meeting of the Lindsay-Resboro Brotherhood met in Resboro Baptist Church with the President, Robert Reeds in the chair.

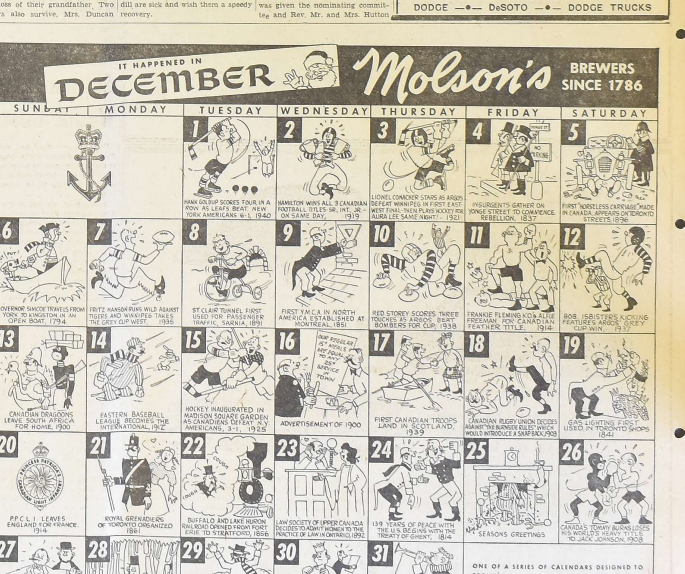

The meeting opened with the singing of several Christmas Carols with Keith Morden at the organ. A hymn was sung followed by prayer by president. The business was dealt with and the offering taken. The Scripture reading was read by Mr. Skuce. Mr. William Veals led in prayer.

Rev. P. C. Reed was called upon to introduce the speaker of the evening, who was Rev. A. S. Roblin, minister of Park St. Baptist Church in Peterborough. Mr. Roblin took as his topic "Boy's work in connection with the Church and Social Service." He spoke on his association with boy's work he had had in Toronto at Silverthorne charge and also the work now in progress in Peterborough, stated "that there was a great need for more of this work and train the boys for future good which would help curb Delinquency eliteria."

Mr. Veals moved a vote of thanks to the speaker for his timely and inspiring message. A hymn was sung followed by prayer by Rev. Berry Armstrong.

The felowship hour which followed was very much enjoyed by all.

Lindsay And District Men Among Latest Enjoying Rotation Leave Trip Home

Two Lindsay men Gnr. D. R. Algar and WO2 H. A. Clarke, as well as men from Fenelon Falls, Coboconk, Pontypool, Orillia and Peterborough, are among the 850 members of the 79th Field Regiment RCA and other personnel who are scheduled to reach Canada's east coast early Saturday morning aboard the RMS "Samaria".

A National Defence bulletin says that "the "Samaria" will be the fifth ship that has brought troops home since early November when rotation of the 27th Brigade began. One more ship will arrive before the overall rotation from Germany is completed. It will carry members of the 58th Field Squadron, RCE, and 27 families, including wives and children of Canadian soldiers who married Europeans while serving overseas.

Early in the new year the 79th Field Regiment will be redesignated the 3rd Regiment, Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, and will concentrate at Camp Petawawa."

Mrs. R. Sadler Hostess For Joint Meeting

Nestleton (PNS) -Nestleton W.A. and W.M.S. held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Ralph Sadler. Mrs. Johns lead in prayer, followed by the devotional on "Fellowship" by Mrs. Sadler. Mrs H. Vine reviewed the study book and all responded to the Roll Call. "My Favourite Radio Program."

The meeting was devoted to packing a bale and several donations came in. A nominating committee comprised of Mrs. N. C. Marlow and Mrs. Geo. Bowers was appointed to arrange the slate of officers for the coming year.

Program consisted of several readings. "Opportunity" -Mrs. George Johns. "The Song of America" -Mrs. Wm. Steele -"Off Goes the Alarm"- Mrs. H. Vine and a Bible contest given by Mrs. Joblin and won by Mrs. Cairns.

Rev. Mr. Hutton closed the meeting and Mrs. Emerson moved a vote of thanks to the hostess, Mrs. Sadler and group for the pleasant afternoon.

Christmas Tree Hunt Begins, Watch Front Lawn Ornamentals

District Forester Here Warns

The annual harvest of Christmas trees is now in full swing. District Forester A. B. Wheatley says, "This demand is normally being supplied by means of trees that were planted for this purpose. Scotch Pine popularity and preference indicates that the market will be supplied with this species to an ever increasing extent."

"The sandy ridge which extends across the County of Durham and Northumberland in an east and west direction, a mile or two north of Pontypool to an east and west line almost as far south as Kirby now supplies quantities of trees measured upwards to a hundred thousand or more per year. Many of these trees are covered by export permits and reach such American cities as Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, etc. In addition, many trees will reach Toronto and other local markets.

"The orderly growing and marketing of Christmas trees is one which provides a sizeable income from otherwise idle land," the district forester continued. "It requires only five to eight years to grow satisfactory stock, and an acre of land may produce upwards to 1200 trees, under favourable conditions.

"A cultured product usually provides a more saleable form of tree. This enterprise will tend to decrease the cutting of naturally grown trees on the farmlands and on the waste lands found in the north; such areas are more difficult to plant. Therefore may be expected that the rough forest lands farther north, where re-establishment of forest cover is more difficult, will be called upon to supply a decreasing number of trees for the Christmas tree trade.

"Balsam fir trees, when cut as early as November 1st, will maintain good appearance and hold their leaves through the Christmas season. Spruce and Balsam will shed their leaves after a much shorter period once they are placed in the warmth of a living room, while these are cut too early -- say more than two to three weeks before Christmas -- the tree usually has shed most of its leaves on the living room floor by the time it has been relieved of its "girth."

"It is almost impossible," the Forester said in conclusion, "to identify a tree with the spruce once it has been hauled away to market. Too frequently irresponsible persons have, under cover of darkness, cut trees without authority from plantations or woodlot, even decorative trees from around buildings. It is wise to be alert to this possibility."

Mrs. Finney Guest Speaker At Thankoffering

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -Miss Agnes Dickson presided for the Autumn Thankoffering meeting of the W.M.S. of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and the Agnes Dickson Evening Department, which was held in the church. The meeting was opened by singing "God of Mercy, God of Grace", and the devotional period was led by Mrs. Beynon and Mrs. Russell Armstrong. Following prayer by Miss Dickson, the offering was received and dedicated.

Accompanied at the organ by her daughter, Mrs. Pyatt, Mrs. Langman sang the solo "Hear the Land of Harvest Sweetly Calling", which was enjoyed by all. The guest speaker, Mrs. Finney, Presbyterial president, was introduced by Miss Dickson and gave an excellent talk, closing on her subject "Power Prayer". Following prayer by Miss Dickson and Cunningham moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Finney for her inspiring message.

A hymn was sung, after which Rev. W. Jackson closed the meeting with prayer.

Dainty refreshments were served in the Sunday School Room and a social time was enjoyed.

Bridge Party Aids Hospital Fund

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -Mrs. J. F. Barrett and Mrs. A. W. McGee were hostesses at a bridge party held at the home of Mrs. J. Barrett. Proceeds were in aid of the Hospital fund, a project of the Fenelon Falls W. I.

Six tables were in play and the prizes were won by Miss M. Naylor (high) and Mrs. Arthur Bell (low). Refreshments served by the hostesses brought the evening to a happy conclusion.

Turkey Dinner Enjoyed At Bethany

Bethany (PNS) -- The W.A. of the United Church held a very successful turkey dinner with many present from outside points.

The concert following was all by local talent and provided enjoyable entertainment. The Rev. Lawrence Norman was chairman and led in community singing. Several humorous readings were given by Mrs Earl Argue, Mr. Ted Spencely sang comic songs with his own guitar accompaniment; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Preston sang two duets, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Clarence Rowan. Mrs. Thomas Jennings sang several numbers with her own guitar accompaniment and Creighton Carr and Miss Marie Carr sang several duets.

Christmas Deluge

Heavier Mail Than Record Anticipated

Between December 11th and December 26th, 1952, 293,000 letters and cards were run through the cancelling machine by employees of the Lindsay Post Office, says Postmaster A. R. Warner. Also in that period last year 3,740 bags of parcels were despatched from here.

Although this seems like a terrific volume of mail, Mr. Warner says that he expects the mail this Christmas to be even heavier. Not included in the above figures, he says, were all the metered mail from local business firms who use stamp meter machines.

Asked when the Christmas mail rush would begin, Mr. Warner stated that it had begun already, since the deadline for parcels to England was passed (November 27th) and the latest mailing date for mail to the United States is approaching so fast, too, that mail to distant points in Canada, such as the West Coast, was beginning to be heavy.

There are a lot of ways that local people can co-operate with the Post Office during the annual rush. Mr. Warner pointed out that not only do the postal employees benefit, but the public as well, since any shortage in speeding up the mailing process is mutual.

He points out that several ways in which the individual may help the Post Office are by separating local mail from outgoing mail and tying each in a separate bundle, making sure that each article is stamped and the stamps are all in the upper right hand corner, and by dropping bundles in the proper receptacle which will be provided at the Post Office.

Mr. Warner says he hopes that householders will follow the information contained in the circular sent out, and that they will put the circular in a safe, handy place for reference until Christmas. By cooperating with the Post Office, local people will ensure that their mail reaches its proper destination by Christmas and will greatly assist the local Postal employees, he concluded.

Lindsay Assessor Would Revise Wards, Check Streets

Lindsay's Assessment Commissioner Harold Baty says some resistance was experienced in the department's efforts to get a correct count of the population of Lindsay this year. Mr. Baty made the disclosure in his annual report of the department which he has now filed with Council. Reason for the resistance, he suggests, lies in the fact that there is a popular belief that taxes and water rates, also income and poll tax might be affected by giving such information in full. The increase since the 1951 census amounts to 2.56 or 2.67, he declares. (The 1951 census gave the population as 9,587 . . . the Assessment Department's 1953 figure is 9,843 and Mayor Lamb predicts a population of 10,000 in five years.)

In his report, Mr. Baty calls particular attention to the proportion of assessed values as between the three main categories of realty. "If we take into consideration the business assessment the combined assessed value of professional and commercial and industrial properties now about 37.8 per cent while residential property remains high at 62.22 per cent," he points out.

The assessment commissioner advocates a revision of the wards at this time in view of the probable expansion of the town so as to facilitate setting up of the tax rolls to automatically absorb such expansion. A review of street names so as to eliminate confusion and inconvenience due to similarity appears desirable, he adds.

Taking a look into the future, Mr. Baty observes: "The department has a considerable volume of work to accomplish by way of preparing land value maps, recording and tabulating of property transfer and checking of the property cards to bring them up to date, in addition to the normal work of the department. This department is the natural source of considerable amount of statistical information and will be looked to for such information by such bodies as the Planning Board and its various sub-committees, School Boards, etc."

Going Home, Head Injured In Accident

Haliburton (PNS) -While proceeding home from the Golden Slipper dance hall on Saturday evening last, the car owned and driven by Mr. Litchfield, of the Public School teaching staff here, ran off the road at the Golden Slipper turn. The only injured passenger, Miss Joyce Vickery, received a head injury and was taken to the Red Cross Outpost Hospital where she remained for 24 hours.

Neither the driver nor the other passengers were injured, but it is reported that the car was wrecked beyond repair.

Estimate Much-Discussed Causeway Would Cost $192,000 . . . . Hold Fire

There has been much discussion in Peterborough and Victoria Counties in the past few months about building a causeway across Pigeon Lake and the replacing of the Kinmount bridge.

Estimates on the cost of the two proposals were given at the closing session of the Peterborough County Council recently. No action was taken and both projects were referred to the incoming 1954 county council. The two reports were a joint engineer effort of Peterborough's Jack Kean and Victoria's H. D. Wilford.

Total cost of the causeway was estimated at $192,000. Assuming the department of highways gave their approval and granted the usual 80 per cent subsidy, each of the two counties would have to raise $19,200.

"This estimate is exclusive of any cost which might be entailed by federal requirements such as a swing span on high-level bridge," said County Engineer Kean, "but it is reasonable to assume that anything such as this would be financed by the federal government."

Victoria county members took some sounding in 1949, along the centre line of the proposed causeway, which coincides with the centre line of the old floating bridge that was broken up many years ago. The engineers instituted an average depth of 12 feet over the 7,000 foot distance between the Environore and Emily shores.

A breakdown of the costs: rock fill (132,000 cubic yards at $1.10 a yard) $145,200, clay top dressing, six inches deep, $1,800; gravel wearing surface (2,800 cubic yards at 90 cents a yard) $2,520; 10,000 feet of guide rail at $1.50 a foot, $15,000; and outlet pipes (200 lin. feet at $50 a foot), $10,000. Plus 10 per cent for contingencies, $17,000. Total, $192,000.

Mr. Kean said that if council wanted, further sounding could be made with a diamond core drill this winter, after ice had formed over the lake.

"A few extra holes could also be drilled at other points to see if there is anything to be gained by choosing a slightly different centre line," said Mr. Kean.

Strongest Advocates

Merchants and residents in Bobcaygeon village and Verulam township are the strongest advocates of a causeway that would link Peterborough by road with those northern Victoria county centres. It would stretch from Lot 1, Concession VII-VIII in Eldonmore township to Lot 21, Concession VII in Emily township.

Kinmount Problem

Mr. Kean said the bridge at Kinmount is too narrow and carries only a 12 to 15-ton load.

"The people of Kinmount want something wider and stronger than what's there," he explained.

"After further consultation with Mr. Wiford it was mutually agreed that a suitable replacement of the existing bridge would be a 110-foot steel superstructure on concrete abutments . . . a 24-foot concrete deck with a sidewalk," said Mr. Kean.

"The estimated cost of such a structure is $60,000. If the (department of highways and the two counties) took 80 per cent would be $48,000, leaving Victoria and Peterborough counties to raise $6,000 each.

"If this bridge is rebuilt there will be some salvage value from the present two-span structure, which could be used as a whole unit or two separate spans on lesser traveled roads."

The Kinmount bridge crosses the Burnt River, joining Galway-Cavendish township in Peterborough county and Somerville township in Victoria county.

Meat

When either boiling or roasting meat, it is better to use a spoon for turning, for the reason that a fork sticks into the meat and allows the juices to escape.

Minister Intervenes . . . .

Upwards Of 100 Young Skaters Witness Fight Outside Arena

Upwards of 100 Saturday afternoon skaters, many of them young children, witnessed a display of fisticuffs just outside the Lindsay Arena.

The fight broke out between two teen-agers at the close of the skating period on the arena grounds next to the right of the main entrance. It lasted for perhaps five minutes and was broken up by a Lindsay minister who took the matter in hand when no one else intervened. By this time the fight had moved to the walk leading from the street into the Arena and the scores of children were virtually in the midst of the fray.

The Arena icemaker was outside and a spectator at the fight for several minutes, but made no effort to intervene. The manager of the Arena had left the building before the fight broke out and no one seemed to know who was in charge or whether the fight was really any concern of the Arena management. When the Lindsay minister challenged the icemaker as to who was looking after things when the manager was away, he appeared to be unable to provide the answer.

The minister then took matters in his own hands and broke up the fist fight. Both participants seemed to have taken about equal punishment.

Spectators expressed amazement that the situation was allowed to get so completely out of control.

Arena Manager John Lamb stated on Monday he felt that if the Arena management and staff controlled things inside the Arena to the best of their ability, any disturbance which broke out outside the Arena was an affair for law enforcement officers to deal with.

Trailer Burns, Man Loses Home, Damage $100

Fire destroyed the trailer home of a Lindsay man yesterday. The Fire Chief, Alex Wylie, said the trailer, owned by Mr. A. M. Howe, of 56, Peel Street, was completely burned by one man, and was located at the rear of 3 Colborne Street E. The blaze at 6.30 p.m. Sunday completely destroyed the trailer's usefulness. It is being cutted inside. Damage has been set at $100.

Earlier Sunday afternoon, at 1.30 p.m., the department answered a call to 158 William Street North, where some stovepipes had become overheated. The Chief says that no damage was done in this incident.

Fined For Failing To Provide Factory Fire Exits

A Lindsay man, a factory owner, was charged in police court here on Monday with failing to provide safe exits in case of fire under section 59 of the Factory, Shop Buildings Act. The charge had been laid by Mr. H. Herschell, Provincial Inspector for the Department of Labour, with headquarters in Peterborough.

The accused was found guilty by Magistrate E. A. Gee and fined $20 and court costs of $14.50. He was defended by Mr. Aylesworthy, of Toronto.

All scientific evidence collected so far indicates the earth is between 2 and 3 billion years old.

Only One Still Hospitalized After Early Saturday Crash

Of the four people hospitalized following an early morning two-car smash on Saturday at Oakwood, only one remains in the Ross Memorial Hospital, "The Post" was told Monday a.m. He is 44-year-old Albert Geo. Edwards, the driver of one of the vehicles. He is reported to be suffering a fractured pelvis and possible internal injuries, and "resting comfortably."

The other driver is Edwards' car, his son, Robert, 20, and the son's wife, Madeline, 19, have been released the R.M.H. states. It is reported that the son was treated by Dr. Gorman for lacerations to his wrist and head, and his wife for an ankle injury.

The driver of the other vehicle involved, Lorne Capstick, of Lindsay, was under observation for possible injuries, but the hospital states that he, too, has been since released.

The accident occurred at the main intersection in the village of Oakwood at 3 a.m. Saturday. Mr. Edwards, police state, was driving north on the County Road and Mr. Capstick was proceeding west to Toronto, when the collision occurred.

The Edwards car struck and badly damaged the south side entrance to the R. S. Cameron store which is situated on the northwest corner of the intersection. Police have yet to estimate damage to the Edwards' car at $1200 and to the Capstick vehicle, $450.

The investigating officer was Constable Jim Hall of the OPP.

Fined For Obstructing Police During Strike

Kitchener, Dec. 7th, (BUP) -- Seven truck drivers have been fined $25 each in Kitchener for obstructing police during last summer's Western Ontario truck strike. All seven pleaded guilty today.

More Reasonable Attitude Now

Orillia, Dec. 7 (BUP) -- The Orillia council has decided to call off a vote on separating from Simcoe County and becoming a city.

The vote had been scheduled for December 14th, but council members said that since it was ordered the County Council had shown what they called "a more reasonable attitude in dealing with urban municipalities."

Eat Dogs, Cats As Protection Against Goiter

Zurich, Switzerland, Dec. 7 (BUP) -- A red-faced Swiss government has admitted some Swiss prefer cat meat to the nation's famous steaks. And they devour broiled poodle chops as a delicacy.

The government admission followed an outburst in the federal parliament over Communist reports that the Swiss were so poor they ate their dogs and cats.

The Socialists demanded the government get to the bottom of the matter and intervene to save the lives of the animals.

The government reply noted that there was a (federal) law against trading in dog and cat meat for food. But, it added, Cantonal (States, empowered to change the law, have done so.

Most Swiss who like dog and cat meat, the government said, eat the animals because they think them protection against disease such as goiter.

Tornado-like Storm Wrecks District Home

Interior Damage Appalling

Raymond Quackenbush, R. R. 5, Lindsay, doesn't think much of the birthday present Mother Nature handed him two days ahead of schedule. Observing his 37th birthday on Sunday, Mr. Quackenbush spent much of it surveying the damage done to his home by a miniature tornado, which tore at it after dropping down just southwest of the building.

On the outside the principal evidence of the storm's visit was the damaged trees, scattered and broken boarded up windows and the fact that the house is a foot east of its former foundation, as well. Added to this a light spot in the grass where a colony house once stood and a pile of lumber, scattered for 30 or 40 feet east of the house where they were hurled from the chimney.

Once inside the destruction appeared to be of a more deliberate sing. Curtains and blinds are ripped to shreds, the floors are littered with glass, panels are missing from doors and great cracks appear in the plastered walls. A door leading to the upstairs bedroom had one panel blown out of it and a silver of glass driven into the other one. Only one piece that it projected on the other side.

Mr. Quackenbush says it's a miracle no one was seriously hurt in the violent outburst of nature by which struck so quickly they hadn't time to get frightened. Anyone who knows of this weather, the wreckage will agree with him.

When the storm broke around 4.45 p.m. Friday, Mr. Quackenbush veteran was at the barn doing chores. Knowing his wife was bothered by lightning he returned to the house to be with her. He had barely got in when the wind struck. He says he called "watch out!" but before anyone could move the place was a shambles. There were several of six children in the house at the time along with the mother, father and grandmother. Mr. and Mrs. Quackenbush received minor cuts which they didn't become aware of until sometime later.

Down cellar, daylight shows practically all around the foundation and the hydro fuse box hangs at a crazy angle although entirely intact. Only one light in the house failed after the tornado struck. The rest all functioned.

When the storm broke, Mrs. Quackenbush was getting supper and a hot fire was burning in the stove. The wind blew down the stovepipes which Mr. Quackenbush replaced as quickly as he could. Meanwhile, his wife had the presence of mind to put water on the fire and extinguish it.

Wreckage from the outbuildings on the farm can be seen strewn across half a mile or so of fields and where the storm swept down had a few hundred feet southwest of the house, rails are scattered like matchsticks.

Miraculously the wind missed the barn which had been replaced after a disastrous fire two years ago. Another house, the homestead, stands on the farm, and the family is using it temporarily. Meanwhile, Mr. Quackenbush observes philosophically that it is better the house was damaged than the barn because his way he can still make a living.

Neighbours who looked the house over after the storm agreed it must be of sturdy material to have stood up as well as it did under the battering it took. They aided in boarding up the broken windows.

The damage was carried, the owner told "The Post".

Horticultural Society Meets At Coboconk

Coboconk (PNS) -The Coboconk Horticultural Society held an open meeting in the United Church hall. Those attending from Norland were Mrs. Wm. Puterbough, Mrs. W. Ward, Mrs. Sam Baxter, Mrs. Roy Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Weeks.

The meeting was conducted by the President, Mr. F. C. Fielding. Several items of business were discussed, one of which was the replanting of the gardens on the main river bank. The society is placing Christmas trees on the main streets of Coboconk and Norland.

The probability of a supper after the New Year was discussed and if possible to have Mr. Bowmanlin Nursery Co., of Bowmanville, show their films. (Landscaping slides). It was also suggested that the society hold a monthly meeting starting in the New Year. Membership for 1953 was 76.

Motorships comprise about 76 per cent of the Swedish merchant marine.

Miss Annie Sisson Observes Her 89th Birthday

Bethany (PNS) -- Miss Annie Sisson quietly observed her 89th birthday recently, receiving many gifts and cards of good wishes from her large circle of friends and relatives. Despite her advancing years of old ladies, she has watched the growth of the village since childhood and is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sisson, who were among the pioneer farmers in the district. Miss Sisson resides in a home owned by Harry Preston and the house occupied by the Pieton Porter family.

Miss Sisson's remarkable memory includes many tales of early days unknown to this generation, fall fairs in the village, the annual celebration of July 12 when visiting lodges from the neighboring communities came to Bethany and attendance at both in comparison with today.

"There were large families in all the homes along the Bethany Road (Highway 7A) then, and everybody went to church. There were no motorcars to be seen on Sundays and a concert or dance held in the village, or a party at a neighbors' house was eagerly to be looked forward to and remembered for long afterwards," she explained. "Nowadays there is something to do every night of the week in the family, but we were all needed. Farmers did not have the machinery to work as we have the impressive duet by John Moore and today and the sons and daughters all had to help with the work, both Francis Taylor, "God Is Our Refuon the farm and in the house. There were no electrical gadgets to make housework easier. The cooking was all done at home, even the bread. We learned to sew and knit from our Mother, not at school."

The building of the present school and both churches in the village are within her memory, as well as the installation of telephones. It was her brother, Stephen Sisson, who installed the first telephone in the village. He was an agent selling farm implements and wanted communication with the railway station. At his own expense Stephen supplied the equipment and the cost of installation of a telephone to the Grand Trunk Railway station and at his own home. He had to pay the railway for the privilege of doing it.

Miss Sisson's life has been cheerfully spent in looking after others, caring for her mother through a long illness and each of her brothers and sisters in turn. She still does a great deal of work for the church and missions. Two weeks ago at the annual bazaar there was a display of knitted articles sold which were the product of her busy fingers. She has always been active in Red Cross work and the W.I. Until a few years ago she taught a class in St. Paul's Sunday school. Right now she is busy with Christmas plans, knitting and sewing gifts for her numerous nieces and nephews and their families.

Miss Sisson reads a real deal and keeps well-informed on current happenings. This, coupled with her tales of yesteryear makes a visit with her a happy occasion. Bethany friends are pleased to offer their congratulations on this birthday.

She has attained that magic hour where Age no longer has the power To wield a stiff unkindly brush. Life has no urge or power to crush A spirit ageless as the sea, as timeless as eternity.

Her face a page where pleasant lines are written there like finger sings,
A woman true of loving worth, blessing the troubled ways of earth."

Peterboro Appeal For TV Deferred

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has given the green light to applications for two new privately-owned television stations.

The stations will be opened in Fort. William, Ontario and Sherbrooke, Quebec. The CBC Board of Governors deferred action on applications to open stations in Peterborough, Ontario and Charlottetown Prince Edward Island.

The Peterborough application -- for an ultra high frequency channel -- was deferred until the board's next meeting to allow the CBC to find out whether the channel could be given to the Ontario city. -BUP.

Dewdrop Inn Upsét Puts Man In R.M.H.

A 23-year-old Oshawa man is in the Ross Memorial Hospital following an accident on the Dewdrop Inn Curve west of Lindsay early Monday morning.

Allen Lambert, 23, of 244 Rilson Road, Oshawa, was going west on Highway 7 at 12.15 a.m. Monday, when his motorcycle left the road and crashed through the guard-rails on the Dewdrop Curve.

It is reported that damage to the motorcycle was not heavy, but the driver was rushed to the RMH in a passing motorist's car. The injured man was treated there by Dr. C. W. Service for head injuries and lacerations. X-rays, which had not been read at press time, were taken.

The accident was investigated by Constable Clive Naismith, of the Lindsay detachment of the OPP.

Maple Leaf Quartette, Lindsay, Gives Concert At Fenelon Falls

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -The popular, talented Maple Leaf Quartette, of Lindsay, (Messrs. John Moore, Francis Taylor, Robert Trotter and Eric Freeborn), assisted by Miss June Waddell, contralto, and Miss Madeline Geach, soprano, presented a musical evening in Fenelon Falls United Church. They were accompanied at the piano by Mr. Robert Cutt.

Following their theme song, "It's a Grand Night For Singing", the quartette opened the programme with a group of Scotch songs, "Over the Border", "Lassie O'Mine" and an unusual arrangement of the well-beloved "Annie Laurie".

The programme was beautiful interpretation of negro spirituals, "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?", "I'm On My Way Up Yonder", "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot", in which Miss Geach took the obligato. She also assisted in the quartette number "Medley" and solos by Eric Freeborn, "Open Thy Window" and "In the Gloaming". Very appropriate was the impressive duet by John Moore and gee", "Amazing Grace".

The programme was a varied one, planned to suit the tastes of everyone, moving smoothly from the sublime to the ridiculous. Among the humorous numbers were, "We Went to the Animal Fair", "There Was A Tack" and "Kansas City" by the quartette and "With Her 'Ead Tucked Underneath Her Arm" by Francis Taylor.

Bob Trotter thrilled the children by three comedy numbers, "Big Brown Bears", "The Worm Song" and "How To Say Good-bye".

The evening would not have been complete without a group of Western songs, and those chosen were "Home On the Range", "All Day on the Prairie" and a humorous number, "Dr Foster" dedicated to Dr. F. M. Sanderson.

Miss June Waddell delighted her audience by her excellent rendition of "Danny Boy", "With A Song In My Heart". Other solo numbers were "For You Alone" and "Arise, O Sun" by Miss Geach, and "You'll Remember Me" by Bob Trotter, "Mother Macree" by Eric Freeborn and two stirring bass solos, "The Sexton and Death", and "Deep River" by John Moore.

In the sacred part of the programme the singers received a wellrousing "Stout Hearted Men", "Passing By" and "Younger Than Springtime", concluding with a magnificent rendition of "Dear Land of Home".

Following the programme the cast was entertained in the Sunday School Room by Group Five of the W. A. and the choir under whose auspices the splendid programme was presented.

Haliburton

(News for Week Ending Dec. 5) Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Dummitt attended the funeral of their cousin, the late Mr. Burleigh Sims, on Wednesday.

Mrs. Irwin Simpson of Woodville was a recent guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Robertson.

Mr. Eddie Trumbell of Minden is quite ill at his home Mr. Trumbell has been in Lindsay hospital and also was at his sister's home, Mrs. Lew Pinkerton, in Haliburton, where she had been caring for him.

Constable A. J. Hardy, who has been stationed in Minden, has been transferred to Peterboro. He was well known in Haliburton where he will be missed.

Mrs. Florence Roberts, who has been quite ill at the home of her son, Mr. Fee Roberts, is greatly improved and is up a few hours each day.

Mrs. Reg. Dart, who has been ill at her home for the past three weeks, is up and around but she still has to rest during the day.

While driving along Mountain Street, Mr. Herbert Sherman saw a man lying by the side of the road. Investigating, he saw it was Mr. Thomas Roberts, an aged gentleman and chief since childhood, with a cut head which required seven stitches. He was taken to Mr. Stewart Roberts home, where he makes his winter home and then to the Red Cross Outpost Hospital where he received treatment. He is resting nicely at the home of his son, Mr. Stewart Roberts.

The bingo was held on Wednesday evening at the Haliburton Community Hall, under the auspices of the Haliburton Huskie Hockey team. The Huskies need the money to run the hockey team. They will hold weekly bingos and there is a jack pot of $200.00 for the letter H.

Christmas Bazaar

The St. George's W.A. held their Christmas sale on Wednesday evening in the Legion Hall. Long tables were filled with needlework, candy, touch and take, home cooking, and tea as centered by a beautiful iced Christmas cake. There was a tea table nicely arranged where tea, sandwiches and cookies were served. The Junior girls of St. George's had a table of small articles. There was a large crowd present and the W.A. raised a nice sum.

St. George's Guild, a young people's organization, held a dance in the new Legion Hall on Friday evening and a large crowd attended. Special dances and music by Mr. Fred Clement and his orchestra, made the evening very pleasant and profitable.

Mrs. R. Braden Adult Club President

Cameron (PNS) --The monthly meeting of the Cameron Adult Club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Westaway.

The meeting opened with the club theme song. The minutes were read and adopted and 30 members answered the Roll Call.

The ring committee of two men, Messrs. Alvin Mark and Tom Worsley, had decided to organize as yet as the hockey boys have not yet had their annual meeting to decide as to the winter activities.

The new business was the election of officers. Many were returned by acclamation. Mrs. Ray Naylor took the chair for the election. President -Mrs. Ralph Braden; Vice-Pres., Mrs. Royce Naylor; Secretary -Mrs. Harold Jackett; Treasurer -Mr. Jack McNabb; Project Committee -Mr. and Mrs. Richard Westaway, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Naylor, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Parkin; Mr. and Mrs. Hillard Perrin, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Ellison, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith; Devotional -Mrs. Earl Dunn; Pianist- Mrs. Harold Jackett; Assistant - Mrs. Royce Naylor; Good Cheer Committee -Mrs. Eric Freeborn, Mrs Jack McNabb. Lunch Committee -Mrs. Elmer Beggs, Mrs. Richard Westaway.

Mr. and Mrs. Royce Naylor offered their home for the next meeting in January. The programme committee at that time is to be Mr. William Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parkins, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dunn.

The devotional for the evening was led by Mrs. Earl Dunn opening with a hymn and prayer. Mrs. Geo. McNabb read a passage of Scripture and Mrs. Dunn gave a short paper. Mrs. Royce Naylor led in community singing, with Mrs. H. Jackett at the piano. Mrs. Ray Naylor gave a lengthy paper on the by-products of many everyday products such as beef cattle, peanuts, petroleum etc. Mrs. Eric Freeborn gave a vocal solo, "Kentucky Babe", and Mrs. George Braden, a reading, "The Man in the Chair". Christmas Carols were sung as there will be no meeting in December.

Tickets had been sold on a lovely table lamp, donated to the club by a Lindsay merchant to the club member that evening. The draw was made and Mrs. George Braden won the lamp.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem and lunch was served.

Many Enjoy Annual Bazaar and Tea Of Cambridge Street United W.A.

The annual bazaar and tea under the auspices of the Cambridge St. United church W.A. was held recently.

The platform was decorated with pretty-lighted Christmas tree. Christmas decorations throughout the room added much to the beauty of the occasion. The tea tables were attractive each with a silver service.

Dr. H. B. Neal made a few well-chosen remarks and declared the bazaar open.

The president, Mrs. Wright, assisted by Mrs. Frederick, received the guests at the door. Pouring tea were Mrs. Skitch, Mrs. Elvidge, Mrs. Hussey and Mrs. Dick.

Different booths around the room were well-patronized by the large number of ladies who came to enjoy this lovely tea.

A good sum of money was realized and the ladies were well-pleased with the year's work.

Three Out of Four Games Won By Football Team

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -- The four games played this season by the football team of Fenelon Falls High School have brought considerable credit to them. The first game was played at Sutton with a score 16-9; the second game at Fenelon Falls, score 35-3, the third game at Lindsay, score 21-13.

The first two games were won, but the third brought them defeat. Although Fenelon was leading Lindsay at three-quarter time, three quick touchdowns were made by the Lindsay players and the quickly moving time-clock made it impossible for Fenelon to rally, but a march up the gridiron by Fenelon's entire team in the last moments before the closing whistle.

At the second meeting between Fenelon Falls and Lindsay, a keener rivalry was evident. The Fenelon lads struck very quickly for their first touchdown on their second play of the game. Hamthorn gathered in a long pass from Griffin and went all the way for the score. Twice more in the first quarter did Fenelon scored touchdowns, both on passes to Bruce Poole. The quarter ended 18-0 in favour of Fenelon.

In the second quarter, Lindsay rallied to score two touchdowns to put them very much back in the game. Jim Sinclair, one of the Lindsay outstanding players, scored majors on passes from Parker. At the end of the first half the score was Fenelon 18, Lindsay 18.

The third quarter was very hard fought, with Lindsay trying in vain to tie the game up. In the latter stages of this quarter, Ray Worsley made a brilliant catch as a 30-yard pass from Griffin and ran another 40 yards before being nailed on the Lindsay one yard line. Centre Norm Faulkner, who played an inspired game, plunged over for the touchdown. Fenelon converted with a short pass to Faulkner. Before the quarter ended Fenelon scored again, Griffin scampering over from the ten yard line after practically the entire Lindsay team tackled Faulkner, whom they thought had the ball. The third quarter ended with Fenelon having a commanding lead of 26-10.

In the final quarter, Lindsay quit trying and threw caution to the wind. Fenelon was too powerful. The only scoring done in the last quarter was that by Hamthorn who kicked a 30-yard punt to Parker in the end zone who was rouged for the single point. A fine job done by the Fenelon line, though they were outweighed they outplayed the heavier Lindsay line by a large margin.

The Fenelon line-up: quarterback, Jr Griffin; halfbacks, M. Lee, N. Faulkner; flying wings, G. Hamthorn, B. Poole; linemen, M. Kennedy, D. Simpson, H. Kettle, R. Sharman, A. Drinkwater, B. Anderson, R. Worsley, R. McCallum; coach, Keith Baker.

Hope Snails Will Cure Student, 20

Lancaster, Dec. 3 --(BUP)-- A shipment of 200 snails is enroute to Lancaster, Ontario, today in hopes they will cure a 20-year-old student suffering from muscular dystrophy.

Joseph Hodge, who ordered the snails, says doctors in Canada and the United States have been unable to cure his son's affliction, but that a friend from Rutland told him snails had been used successfully to treat a similar ailment.

He says he understands the snails are applied to the victim's body. He isn't quite sure what's supposed to happen then.

The snails were shipped this week by a London firm, MacFisheries. Hodge hopes they will arrive before his son, Roland, comes home from St. Patrick's College in Ottawa for the Christmas holidays.

MEL CUNNINGHAM ELECTED REGENT MUSKIES PRESIDENT

Recently the players on the roster of the Regent Muskies elected for the 1953-54 season what they describe as "a very strong and capable executive". The President of the club the boys were unanimous in their choice of Mel Cunningham as President. The "Legal Eagle" as the boys call Mel is reported by a club spokesman to be "very popular with the players" and that he has also been one of their more ardent fans attending practically all their games, both home and away. We all wish Mel the very best in his new venture."

In support of Mel in the Vice-President's capacity," the spokesman continued, "are the very popular Lindy Mackey and Mel DeGroot. Their combined efforts should strengthen the Publicity and Advertising for the club which is no stranger to hockey fans having capably managed the Kin Jrs. a few years back. Although there is more or less a welcome to Lindsay, but has been very popular, particularly are his efforts on behalf of the Kinsmen Blood Donor Clinic last year he was their Bulletin Editor, and did a wonderful job. Mel and Lindy will undoubtedly do they know how much he has done for the club without their knowledge.

The Secretary-Treasurer, the "financial brains of the club" Clet "Mike" Spence was again the boys' unanimous choice. Mike has been with the Muskies since the club was ever had and with all his personal work to do has always kept the books in good shape for the club. Having been connected with the Detroit Red Wings organization for years, Mike's job as hockey scout knows how important a good set of books is to a hockey club.

Bob Miller was the popular choice to represent their sponsor Trinidad Lumber Sales, Ltd. to act on behalf of the Regent dealers in this areas, whose combined efforts made this tremendous hockey club possible. Bob and Murray make sure the players interests are looked after.

"For Coach again this year Al Burns was the players' choice. Al wanted only to play hockey this year and leave the coaching job to someone else. After considerable discussion it was finally agreed that Al's better coach in the country and Al was persuaded to take over the reins again for this year. Aside from being a good coach, Al is a very popular one and of course is one of the team boys' players.

"Len Francis capably assisted by stick boys Alex Pearson and Larry Fryer, the five Muskies league fixtures knows how many years Len has been trainer for hockey and baseball teams in Lindsay. He is known to the players planned on retiring this year and taking life easy as a spectator, but the boys wouldn't go for this and so Len's job for ice was in Len was the first person at the arena. Aside from looking after the cuts and bruises, Len is responsible not only for the equipment, but also for purchasing of the equipment and the club departments he does a fine job.

"Last, but not least, there is the team captain. Al was a lonely and after the votes were counted Stu Hicks, the ever-popular Mayor of Cambray, was the players' choice. Stu needs no introduction to Lindsay sport fans and he is well-deserving of being the Muskies captain this year. Running Stu a close second was Grant Green last years captain and Don Sinclair. Both these boys were made Assistant Captains.

"It looks," said he spokesman, summing up, "like the Regent Muskies are not only strong on the ice this year, but strong in the executive department too."

Lindsay Juniors Finish Third Week On Top

Lindsay Juniors finished the third week of the Junior "B" schedule still in possession of first place as a result of a split in games Friday and Saturday nights.

Facing each of the toughest schedules seen locally for some time, the Juniors started a four games in five nights series with a loss in Port Perry Friday evening. Nothing daunted, the lads tore into Midland Juniors at the Arena Saturday night, earned a 6-3 edge in the first two periods then saved themselves through the third period for game tonight and tomorrow night.

Friday evg. on the Lake Scugog space, Lindsay's defensive hockey was sadly lacking especially in the first period as the tricky Motor City crew camped at will on Goalie Kemp's doorstep and succeeded in racking up five markers despite a brilliant display by the young net minder.

In the second period the defence and back checkers worked hard but with little success. Port Perry Flyers Marksmen found Kemp hard to solve, however, as he batted, kicked and smothered shots from all angles. At the end of the period the Flyers had added but two goals. Lindsay attack was to the fore for share of the play in the second period but How in the Flyer's net just wouldn't be beat. On several occasions the Lindsay marksmen appeared to looked like sure goals only to have How make the right move and deflect the puck.

In the final period, play moved from end to end at a fast clip. The Flyers found Kemp in the groove and Lindsay net-minder on many occasions but to no avail as George Leonhardt, who had set on behalf of the Regent dealers in this areas, whose combined efforts made this tremendous hockey club possible. Bob and Murray make sure the players interests are looked after.

"For Coach again this year Al Burns was the players' choice. Al wanted only to play hockey this year and leave the coaching job to someone else. After considerable discussion it was finally agreed that Al's better coach in the country and Al was persuaded to take over the reins again for this year. Aside from being a good coach, Al is a very popular one and of course is one of the team boys' players.

"Len Francis capably assisted by stick boys Alex Pearson and Larry Fryer, the five Muskies league fixtures knows how many years Len has been trainer for hockey and baseball teams in Lindsay. He is known to the players planned on retiring this year and taking life easy as a spectator, but the boys wouldn't go for this and so Len's job for ice was in Len was the first person at the Arena. Aside from looking after the cuts and bruises, Len is responsible not only for the equipment, but also for purchasing of the equipment and the club departments he does a fine job.

"Last, but not least, there is the team captain. Al was a lonely and after the votes were counted Stu Hicks, the ever-popular Mayor of Cambray, was the players' choice. Stu needs no introduction to Lindsay sport fans and he is well-deserving of being the Muskies captain this year. Running Stu a close second was Grant Green last years captain and Don Sinclair. Both these boys were made Assistant Captains.

"It looks," said he spokesman, summing up, "like the Regent Muskies are not only strong on the ice this year, but strong in the executive department too."

Conservation Club Forms Jr. Section

The members of the Victoria County Conservation Club feel it is their duty to assist the children of this county in becoming conservation conscious. Therefore it has been decided by the club to form and finance a junior branch. This will be open to boys and girls ranging in age from six to fifteen.

This new junior club forming under the chairmanship of Mr. Wm. Ford, with able assistance from James Endicott, Ken Minns, Pete Sabovitch, Don Bowen, Stan Pitsel,

Regent Muskies Revise Sked

The following is the Muskies revised Home and Away hockey schedule brought about due to Bowmanville dropping out of the league after the original schedule had started.

It is also reported that due to the fire at the Cobourg Arena none of their home games will be played until after December 18th, and the back games prior to this date will be played in Cobourg at a convenient date to both clubs. After Dec. 18th all Cobourg home games will be played as laid out in the revised schedule

L. C. T. Curlers Down Firemen In Jitney Bonspiel

A very successful Jitney Bonspiel was held on Saturday at the Peel Street Ice House. Chairman of the committee Stan Edmonds, welcomed all on behalf of the club and in particular the out-of-town curlers. He announced that next week "Geese" again would have top billing with Chickens second.

After all rinks had completed their two games, it was found that the L. C. T. and Firemen had tied for first place with 17 points each. On the extra throw by the two skips, Geo Blackwell, of the Collegiate outdrew Wally Tully, of the Bathing Firemen, for the Geese.

Juniors Hand Midland Second Setback 6-3

Lindsay Juniors handed Midland Redwings their second set back in as many games at the Arena Saturday night by a 6-3 count. The Redwings were edged 5-4 in overtime by Collingwood Thursday evening.

Just as the local Juniors couldn't do anything right at Port Perry, as the Flyers, they tore into the Redwings from the drop of the puck and carried the play through the first two periods. During the first half of the first period play rarely passed the Lindsay blue line as the locals back-checked and turned on the pressure again.

Referee Walsh ruled with an iron hand early in the game as he handed out ten minor penalties in the first period. As a result the second period produced fast, wide-open hockey with only three penalties.

Pip Packer for the second Saturday night found the net, his into a fiesta injury when he closed in to check Reid at centre ice. Reid rifled the puck back hand toward the Lindsay end and Packer crashed to the ice as connected with Packer's nose necessitating the hustling winger to retire for repairs in the form of stitches.

The third period found the Redwings getting more into stride with Lindsay holding them off and breaking when opportunity presented itself. Pip Packer scored the first goal at 6.20 in the first period when Art Truax drew the defense and dumped a pass to Packer in front of the net. Lindsay got the opening when but Taylor in the Redwings net remained steady and held the locals off. Winner finally got separated after the half-way-mark and carried on the Lindsay net. Kemp proved equal to the task however, until 15.26 when Gerow pounced on a rebound from Yorke's shot and found the corner of the Midland net. Gerow was penalized for holding the puck at 17.26 and the locals bore down. At 19.21 Pearson dented the twine on the end of a Wally Yorke cross-ice sing attack that brought a big hand from the crowd. Graham and Growden did the rest.

Midland went on the offensive to open the second period and as Walsh called a penalty on Lindsay Lindsay player for a penalty. Yorke slapped in a pass out from Gerow to tie the score and rub out the penalty. Only four minutes later Graham, Pearson and Growden broke loose from the Midland attack, rounded their lone defenseman, shot at Taylor who kicked out the attempt. Graham chased the puck and succeeded in dumping it past through the scramble to Pearson at the open corner to put Lindsay back in the lead. Gerow scored with a second goal at 5.26 again with their trick passing attack.

Rose Skitch added a third on a rink length rush at 7.59 to go ahead 5-2. Midland got one back at 1.25, when Reid rifled a rebound shot from a goal mouth scramble. At 15.55 of this period Packer was injured and Bruce Poole was received the automatic five minute penalty for high sticking and drawing blood.

The Redwings fought back valiantly, but could not get their concerted Lindsay drive as Burns passed to Hutton in the clear at 17.48 for what proved to be the last goal of the game.

The third stanza was a hard-fighting session as Midland tried in vain to add to their score. At one time they came close when Kemp bounced a shot on top of the Wedding Of Local Interest Held At Magnetawan

A pretty autumn wedding took place in Knox Presbyterian Church Magnetawan, when Verna Adaline Botham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Botham, Dranmore, became the bride of Cecil Clarence Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Campbell, Lorneville.

The church was tastefully decorated with autumn flowers and fern, Miss Patricia Daley played the Wedding March. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. R. Hancock, of North Bay, assisted by Rev. A. E. Fairbrother of Magnetawan.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a nylon over satin gown, fashioned with fitted bodice and long sleeves, her fingertip veil was caught to a crown-like coronet. She carried red roses and wore a double strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Her sister was bridesmaid, wearing a floor-length gown of pale blue shade. She wore a bandeau of flowers in her hair and carried pink roses.

Mrs. Clifford Martin from Kitchener was best man, and the ushers were Ronald Botham, brother of the bride and Irvin Brown, brother-in-law of the groom.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother received wearing navy with black accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. The groom's mother assisted wearing navy, with navy accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

The happy couple left amidst showers of confetti and good wishes on a motor trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls and the United States, the bride wearing a tan gabardine suit, black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Guests were present from Kitchener, Toronto, Coul Creek, Allaston, Lindsay, Kirkfield, Lorneville and Woodville

New Officers Inducted At Yelverton WA

Yelverton (PNS) -The officers of two years standing of Yelverton W. A. stepped aside to make room for a new group. Mrs Howard Malcolm past-president, thanked everyone for the co-operation she has so willingly received. Mrs. Ralph Malcolm moved a vote of thanks to the retiring officers which was heartily endorsed by the members.

New officers are president -Mrs. Floyd Stinson; Vice-president -Mrs. Jack Wilson; Secretary -Mrs. B. Gibson; Ass't -Mrs. B. Moore; Treasurer -Mrs. Maurice Nesbitt; Ass't. -Mrs. Ray Robinson; Flower Committee -Mrs. John Wright, Mrs. Harvey Malcolm, Mrs. D. Wilson; Organists -Mrs. Ralph Malcolm, Mrs. G. Heaslip, Mrs. Dave Wilson, Mrs. Ray Robinson. These officers were duly installed with a brief Scripture reading and prayer by Rev. Mr. Norman.

Other business on the agenda was the voting of $70.00 to complete Yelverton's allocation to the United Church Training School; $60.00 to Missions and $50.00 to the Church Treasury.

Mrs. J. Wilson, Mrs. F. Stacey, Mrs. D. Wilson volunteered to take charge of the Christmas tree for the children and a collection was taken to cover the cost. Mrs. Dave Wilson read the treasurer's report for the year showing gross receipts approximately $1,100; expenditures $1000, balance around $100.

Miss Em. Henders read a secretarial report summing up the year's work of the W. A. She reported 11 meetings held with an average attendance of 23; enrollment 36 members. A sale of Home baking and bazaar was held in Lindsay, a garden party and turkey supper were held, and the group catered to the Durham County Co-op. Medical banquet in Blackstock. $400.00 was voted to the new church hall, flowers, fruit and cards were also sent to many members.

The devotional was in charge of Mrs. A. McQuade. "Silent Night" was sung and the Christmas Story from the Bible read by Mrs. D. Wilson. Mrs. Geo. Wilson and Mrs. A. McQuade were heard in suitable readings. A carol sing song and the Christmas draw among the members were a pleasant interlude.

Lunch was served by hostess, Mrs. Ralph Malcolm, assisted by Mrs. Norman Wilson, Mrs. J. Wilson, Mrs. Harvey Malcolm, Mrs. John Wright and Mrs. Fred Stacey. The January meeting is to be at the home of Mrs. John Wright.

Knox Guild Returns Officers For Another Term

Cannington (PNS) -The November meeting of Knox Church Guild was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Stuart Brandon.

The meeting opened by singing a hymn followed by the Bible reading from the 8th Psalm and suitable commentary from "Daily Reading", given by Mrs. Charlie Gibbs. Mrs. J. E. MacDonald led in prayer.

Minutes of the October meeting were read by the secretary and the roll call taken, which showed an attendance of 17 with two visitors.

Several items of business were discussed and Mrs. J. Hart was asked to take the chair for installation of officers for 1954. All the former officers were returned to office for the coming year.

Very splendid reports were given by Miss. Fred, convener of the Flower Committee, and Mrs. J. Summerfeldt, treasurer.

A duet "The Lord's My Shepherd" by Mrs. Wess Brandon and Mrs. J. Summerfeldt was followed by a very interesting travelogue on the Shetland Islands by Mrs. J. Hart, (where she and her husband, spent a very happy time some time ago in the village of Scalloway).

The meeting closed by singing a hymn and repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison. A delicious lunch was served and a social hour enjoyed.

Farm Forum News

OPP Officer
Addresses Farm Forum

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -- Fifteen members of Red Rock Farm Forum met for their regular meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Junkin. The group listened to the broadcast, "Rural and Urban Tensions," which was lively and enjoyable. Constable John Williams, OPP, was present as guest speaker. The discussion period was dispensed with and the meeting turned over to him.

Constable Williams dealt first with the Ontario Highway Traffic Act, pointing out that it dealt mainly with the rules of the road. In his genial manner, he cleared up points which have puzzled some members. He also dealt with traffic offences, and the responsibility of those involved in accidents. It became evident to his listeners that a policeman is really a friend, doing his duty always. Looking into the future he gave a graphic picture of the task which would confront the provincial police should an atomic bomb be dropped on Toronto.

Chairman Marvin Junkin expressed the appreciation of all to Constable Williams for attending the meeting and providing so much profitable information. A vote of thanks moved by Irwin Wilcox was seconded by hearty applause. Due to the lateness of the hour no recreation period was held.

North Emily Farm Forum Elects 1953-54 Officers

North Emily Farm Forum have held five meetings. The first meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Hutchinson. Mr. Jack Steele, the assistant agricultural representative, was present. He was able to tell the forum a great deal about the activities, problems and objectives of his department.

Owing to the presence of Mr. Steele, an election of officers was not held until the next meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reid Roadhouse.

The topic for the evening was "Partners All". The responsibilities and rights of the housewife were discussed from every angle. The general conclusion was that the good lady is expected to help with all activities that her health will permit, providing it does not interfere with the care and management of her children and home; and that she is to be consulted in all matters such as farm management, marketing and legal matters.

The officers for the season were elected as follows: president, Reid Roadhouse; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Agnes McGahey; sick committee, Mrs. Eddie Thurston, Mrs. Roy Stinson; recreation convenor for November and December, Mrs. Roy Stinson; committee for revised rights for the season, Mr. Milburn Hutchinson, Mr. Roy Patterson, Mr. Wilfred McMullen; press correspondent, Mrs. R. Roadhouse.

Forum To Write Premier

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. William McGahey the Forum discussed the margarine and other imitation dairy products' problem It was decided to write the Premier of Ontario, the Hon. Leslie M. Frost asking that the Ontario laws be revised. Mrs. Stinson conducted a fine contest and the hostess provided tasty refreshments.

Films Shown

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson selected several very fine films. Mr. Bert Moore, of Dunsford, ran the projector and the Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stinson. Rev. Mr. Pugsley led in a sing-song.

Discuss Columbo Plan

The next meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reid Roadhouse. The Forum discussed very thoroughly the necessity of taking kindly action through the Columbo plan and Unesco in dealing with the underprivileged nations of the world. By showing Christian principles win their good will and prevent a future struggle!

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Courtney.

Port Perry Women Asked For Christmas Hospital Donations

The monthly meeting of the Community Hospital Auxiliary, Port Perry, was held in conjunction with the annual meeting.

It was suggested that, when making their Christmas cakes and puddings, as many women as possible include a small one for use at the Hospital. The Hospital Auxiliary has assured the women of the community that their efforts in this connection will be appreciated. It was decided that these donations could be left at the home of Mrs. M. B. Dymond.

Dr. Service Guest Speaker At Teachers Meeting

Bobcaygeon (PNS) -The Women Teachers' Federation, held its annual banquet at Trinity United Church, Bobcaygeon, with Trinity Girls' Club catering.

After a scrumptious turkey dinner, the gathering of about 60, enjoyed a program of piano music by Mrs. Imrig, two choruses by public school children, also solos by Miss Jean Aylesbury The accompanist for the afternoon was Mrs. Imrig.

The president, Mrs. Thurston, called on Rev. Mr. White, who gave a few interesting remarks, and brought a welcome from the catering church. Major Anderson, School Inspector, brought greetings from the Department of Education. Mr. Claude Bottum, Reeve, welcomed the teachers, for the village, while Mrs. Bruce Kennedy represented the School Board, and Mrs. Lloyd Beatty, the Home and School Association.

The guest speaker, Dr. Service, of Lindsay, was introduced. Being a very fluent speaker, and having travelled widely, Dr. Service's address was very instructive and interesting. A hearty vote of thanks was given to the doctor for his fine address.

Miss C. Bailey, Peterboro, followed, and in a very able manner, gave a clear-cut synopsis of the Women Teachers' Federation, its uses and aims for the future. This was a very enlightening talk, and much enjoyed by those present.

Albert C.W. Hore

Friends and neighbours in the vicinity of Pleasant Point and Dunsford were deeply saddened to hear of the sudden passing of Albert C. W. Hore on October 15th, 1953, at Lindsay Private Hospital, following a stroke.

Although not in the best of health for a few years, the many times he was called upon to help out with affairs of the community he willingly did so. He will be greatly missed.

The deceased was in his 72nd year, born January 23rd, 1882, the eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hore. He was twice married. On May 31st, 1911, he married Maud Kennedy, of Dunsford. On the following April in 1912 she died leaving an infant daughter. A few years later he married Elizabeth Endicott. During the Flu epidemic of 1918-19 she passed away leaving a boy a few years of age to raise. He also cared for his step-daughter till her death in 1936.

Those left to cherish his memory are a son, Bert, of Beaverton, a daughter, Mrs. Frank Beckett (Lillian), of Unionville, a sister, Mrs. Robert Sampson (Janet) and two brothers, Gilbert and Walter. He was predeceased by two sisters and a brother, Mrs. Robert Wallace (Georgina) in 1931, Wilfred in 1935, and Mrs. John Wallace (Angelina) in 1950.

In religion the deceased was Presbyterian and was a regular attendant at Dunsford Presbyterian Church till the time of church union in 1925, after which he was a member of Faithful Brethren Lodge No. 77 A.F. and A.M. He was also a member of the R.B.P. No. 952 and an honorary member of L.O.L. No. 96, Dunsford.

The flowers which surrounded his casket were many and beautiful. The funeral which was held from the McArthur Funeral Home was well-attended. The service was conducted by Rev. Donald McQueen, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Lindsay. At the graveside the R.B.P. No. 952 Dunsford officiated. The pallbearers were Arthur Thurston, Teddy Brien, Robert Sampson, Melville Brien, Cleve Endicott and James Endicott. Burial was in Dunsford cemetery.

Christmas Packaging Is Changed By Lindsay Firm's Ingenuity

A New Christmas Package

Something new in Christmas packaging is displayed in the above picture. They are the new plastic-type packages for toys and other items so frequently seen in retail stores this year. The revolutionary plastic is called polyethylene which is manufactured by Visking Ltd., at Lindsay, and has already been adapted to a wide variety of Christmas packages including the candy stocking, delight of every child at this glad season.

Christmas will be different in many respects this year due to contributions made to the packaging trade by one of Lindsay's largest manufacturers -- Visking Ltd.

Even the traditional Christmas candy stocking has felt the impact of a new plastic called "Polyethylene" on a world in which the people buy much of its products in packages of one kind or another. The modern version of the centuries-old Christmas candy stocking is a gaily-decorated transparent plastic stocking which is being made in several sizes. Less than three years ago this novel Yuletide item was just so much pure resin. But it was envisioned and Visking chemists set out to make it become a reality.

Many Lindsay people watched with interest the consideration of the extensive studies to the original Visking plant which was to house the equipment which would produce this revolutionary plastic packaging material. In the fall of 1952 the first test batches were produced and a steady flow of the product turned out in huge quantities -- sufficient to meet the demands of a market which company officials say surpassed their most optimistic hopes.

But now to get back to Christmas and what this new product has done to change the things that go with its celebration - - Many people will recall the days when "hard pan" or rock candy was the popular fare at Christmas -- they will recall, too, the big wooden buckets in which it used to be displayed in nearly every rural store -- they will remember perhaps most vividly that when they bought it, it was generally carried home in a paper bag and that when it came time to eat it there was frequently considerable of the bag that had to be. Those days are fast becoming just a memory due to the advent of this new packaging material which the candy manufacturers now put their products up in Polyethylene bags which they find eliminates the unintentional waste formerly experienced when packages do represent an entirety new departure but the new transparent plastic packages are such that the manufacturers to have many advantages. It protects for longer and is not prone to crack open like other transparent bags, such as cellulose. It is also claimed that they stand more handling while on display without getting scratched or distracting from their "newness."

Mr. Joseph Lane, Visking Ltd's sales manager, says the modern plastic package is unbreakable by any known substance including the strongest acid. This, he points out, eliminates breakage from and reduces the hazards involved in transportation and displaying products in stores.

Christmas produce such as turkeys, fruits and vegetables also have taken on a different appearance this year due to the advent of the new plastic. Enclosed in clear plastic coverings, turkeys, the makers point out, may now be carefully examined without being subjected to direct contact handling.

There are many other items in the range of 1953 Christmas merchandise which have been made more attractive by the protective packaging material and the manufacturers say they "haven't begun to explore its full potential."

Polyethylene is, of course, not only advised to Christmas packaging and the makers point to such other pyrotfirst uses such as liners for hospital bags in which those treasured nylons may be gently washed, car seat covers, wading pools, backing for tire patches and so forth.

Mr. Bernard Schenk, president of Visking Ltd., told "The Post" during the course of his informal tip that article was gathered, that he was very proud of another contribution the plastics division was making possible -- that of increased employment in Lindsay. He recalled that on first opening here the company employed 40 people but that combined operations had now swelled the payroll to include

Pansies Bloomed Ere Snow Fell

This year has seen a little bit of everything! The latest oddity to come to the attention of "The Post" is the fact that pansies have been blooming in Coboconk in December!

Mrs. S. Lake of that village has sent this paper one of the blooms of a plant which she says was growing by the sidewalk in front of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Routley's home.

She says there were four of the deep wine pansies, as well as a yellow one on another plant. The bloom that was sent to Lindsay for the inspection of the staff of "The Post" was picked on Saturday night last.

Mrs. Lake says that there were pansies blooming at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bowins, in their flower garden, as well as at the Routley home.

To see pansies blooming outdoors on December 12th is indeed an unusual occurrence!

Toy Gains Child Show Admittance

Ken Garbig, manager of the Century Theatre here, told "The Post" this morning that the Kinsmen Club is holding its annual "Toy Matinee" at his theatre on Saturday morning. He says that the premises will be open at 9.30 and the show will begin at 10.00.

Admission to the show this year, as last, will be a new or used toy in good condition. Mr. Garbig says that the movie is an exciting one that the children are sure to enjoy "Rider Patrol." On the bill, too, he adds, will be a two-reel comedy and several cartoons, making the show's running time about two hours.

Fire Department Improves Water Supply

Omemee (PNS) -- Fire Chief Stevens has been busy here during the past week preparing emergency ways where the local fire brigade can reach water if needed in a hurry.

A large open reservoir was due near the old GTR railroad to serve the west end of the village. It is filled with a safe barrier will prevent any child from falling into this hazard.

At the old garbage dump, a wharf has been built to allow the fire engine to reach deep water to serve the centre of the village. Of course, water supply from the river bridges serves the eastern area, while another reservoir has been dug out for the extreme eastern section.

North of the CNR track hose can be laid through a steel culvert, yet not interfere with train service.

It is not generally known that over 100 farmers of Ops and Emily also derive service from the Omemee Fire Department. Payment of $5.00 per year with their taxes allows this protection. For the farmer with extra farm buildings the tax is doubled. Already some farmers owe their heartfelt thanks that some grass or chimney fire was checked in the early arrival or the fire engine with a 500-gallon reserve water tank.

Police Issue Appeal For Holiday Safety

Chief Constable John Hunter has issued an early Christmas warning to the citizens of Lindsay, appealing for safety precautions this coming holiday season.

"Let us all do our part in making this a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year" he said, continuing that "now that winter is with us and the holiday season fast approaching, all motorists and citizens are urged to take extra safety precautions. Should a serious accident occur and some person be injured, it would mar Christmas not only for that person, but possibly for many others".

The Chief said that one thing especially, (and this is done more often by children than adults), is playing or walking on the roadway. He notes that when a horn is sounded the children usually leave the roadway, but some motorists do not sound their horns in such cases. The Chief said that should the child take a step backwards, in many cases, even were the car going slow, with winter road conditions prevailing the vehicle could not stop in time to prevent collision with the youngster.

He urged all parents to use disciplinary measures to make the children realize the necessity for safety, and added that it was up to all other citizens to set an example for the children.

He said that many times people blame police for not checking on motorists' bad driving habits. This is easier said than done, he said, referring to a case of careless driving which was dismissed against a Lindsay man in court today.

Evidence stated that accused was proceeding west on Kent Street, when he made a left turn to park in front of the Star Cafe. Evidence showed that when another car, proceeding east on Kent Street, was only some 30 feet away when the first car turned in front of him. It was brought out that he applied his brakes but was unable to stop in time to avoid a collision.

The Chief says that even when there is evidence of driving of that nature the court saw fit to dismiss the case.

He concluded that it should be realized that it is up to each member of the general public to practice safety measures. He promises that the Police will continue to do all they can to enforce the existing laws.

Mercury Flirts With Zero After Heavy Snowstorm

The temperature took quite a drop here last night, the Lindsay Weather Office reports. They say that at 6.00 p.m. Tuesday it was 20 degrees above zero, and fell to a low of 3 degrees above during the night. By 8.00 a.m. today the temperature had only risen to 4 degrees above. The office says that at 1.00 p.m. this afternoon the temperature was 11 degrees above.

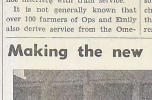

The Weather Office says that about 8½ inches of snow fell in yesterday's snowstorm.

Snow removal operations moved ahead at a good pace after the heavy snowfall with only one complaint.—A local gentleman took exception to having to walk around a town truck standing on the sidewalk and being loaded with snow. It appeared to others that this was all bout the only way the snow could be reached without blocking traffic or doing the job late at night, because cars lined the curb.

Now Associated With Fenelon Firm

Ray Lawson, former OPP officer here, who opened his own real estate office in Lindsay a little over a month ago, informed "The Post" today that he is now associated with a real estate office in Fenelon Falls as well.

Mr. Lawson said that he is associated with the office of Gladys Langman, realtor in the village. She has operated a realty business there for a number of years and also owns Hettrick Furniture Store there, he says.

Council Quickies

Bill for Investigation Causes Council Comment

Reeve Richard Butler read a bill to Lindsay's Council on Monday night for $24.20, expenses incurred during an investigation into the theft of a saw. The investigation took the police officer in question to Peterboro and Toronto. Ald. Maidens wanted to know why the local cruiser wasn't used? "Did he use his own car?" he asked. "I presume so", said Reeve Butler, "You can't take the cruiser out of town." Retorted Mr. Maidens, "Wouldn't it be cheaper?" Answered the Reeve, "No, we'd still have to pay for its (mileage)."

Mr. Allely, Town Clerk, said the reason the bill had been presented to council was that the investigation had been completed, and no one had been charged, therefore the expenses couldn't be charged to Administration of Justice.

After quite a bit of discussion, during which Chairman of Police Board said, "I'll get the Chief of Police over here to explain if you wish", nothing was done and the bill is to be held.

Four On Relief

Ald. Harrigan, Chairman of the Welfare Committee, told council that $1,984.47 was spent in Lindsay up to the end of November on relief. Of this, he said, the Town's share was $115.37 for the month, too, that there were four on relief in Town at present, compared to five in the same period last year. "We're still in the black", he commented.

Mercury Truck Repairs Costing Too Much

Chairman of the Board of Works, Deputy-reeve Bert Hicks, told council that another bill had come in to repair to the 3 ton G. W. Mercury truck (this bill was over $200). He said this truck is costing the Town "too much money. It is not operating as economically as the Old Dodge." Ald. Harrigan questioned Mr. Hicks as to what had been spent on the truck in the three years the town has owned it. Deputy-reeve Hicks said he didn't have figures "but it is a lot since the truck was purchased three years ago."

Compensation Board Refuses Payment

It was brought to council's attention that a bill for $8.00 has been received from Dr. Gorman for treating Mr. Percy Russell (who is employed at the Sewage Disposal Plant) for a specked back. The bill had come back to council after the Workmen's Compensation Board had refused its payment, saying that Mr. Russell's complaint was not caused "by an accident or an unusual occurrence." Council took exception to this after it was explained that the back sprain had been caused by employee when he was reaching down into the clarifier at the S.D.P. in the course of his work.

Ald McQuarrie said "This is the second bill of this kind that the Board has refused to pay. We pay into the Board for these things." Council wanted to know if the injury had been treated and reported as soon as it appeared and they were told by Engineer Wilson that it had. Mayor Lamb felt the trouble with the Board was that "the Workmen's Compensation Board feel it is too small."

Quizzed the Reeve, "The man should have been laid up for a week, Mr. Mayor (to make the bill larger)?"

Ald. Baker said he had had several bills sent to the Board and had had them all paid immediately, none refused.

Since the bill was only $8.00 council passed a motion to pay Dr. Gorman.

No Property Damage By Fire in November

Ald Hicks reported that during November the Lindsay Fire Department had answered five alarms. He said that there was no property damage by fire in the Town of

Santa Claus Stocking Fund

Since yesterday, contributions to the Santa Claus Stocking Fund have risen $47, making a grand total to date of $773, but as the objective of the fund this year is $1,500, readers will see that this figure is only $25 over the half-way mark.

Christmas is but seven days away, and, the fund chairman says it is imperative that added impetus be given the fund by many donations, large or small, in the next few days. Only in this manner will many needy Lindsay families be assured a better Christmas day by receiving a basket of food adequate for a good Christmas dinner and some to spare.

Mr. T. H. Stinson, fund chairman, says that he has no doubt the generous people of Lindsay will provide the needed money in time as they always have done in the past in connection with any worthy charity.

Zellers Announce Profit-Sharing Bonus Payment

It was announced in Lindsay today that profit-sharing cheques totalling $188,421 were distributed yesterday to employees of 52 variety stores operated across Canada by Zeller's Limited and its subsidiary Federal 5-10-15c to $1.00 Stores Limited. A branch store is located at Lindsay and shares in the plan.

The maximum amount received by any one employee participating in the plan was $950.40. Fifty-Six employees each received cheques for over $500.00.

The cheques, it was explained, represented shares in a unique profit-sharing plan inaugurated by Zeller's Limited 13 years ago, and repeatedly revised to provide greater benefits. Under the plan, described by Company executives as "not a substitute for a fair basic wage but a supplement to it," six per cent of the net profit of the Company before provision for taxes was shared this year among the employees. Length of service determines the amount of the individual bonuses and the plan is designed to give particular recognition to employees having over three years of service.

Company officials explain that in order to permit distribution at the Christmas season the bonus is based on the profits for the 12-month period ending October 31 and all who were in the employ of the Company on that date, with the exception of store managers and Head Office executives, participated in the profit-sharing this year.

Coal Business Is Taken Over

It was reported to "The Post" this week that Mr. Geo. Baldwin had bought out the coal business of Superior Fuels and Supplies Ltd. In order to confirm or deny the report, Mr. Baldwin was contacted and he said that he was taking over the coal business from that firm. A rumour that Mr Baldwin was buying the whole business of Superior Fuels was found to be untrue when "The Post" spoke to him.

Former Orillia Minister Dies

Coldwater, Dec. 16th (BUP) -- A 90-year-old former United church minister -- who lived in Orillia until recently -- has died at a daughter's home in Coldwater.

The Reverend George H. Sneyd retired 20 years ago after serving in pastorates in Penthill, Niagara Falls Port Arthur, Preston, Sturgeon Falls, Severn Bridge and Beeton.

He leaves his widow, whom he married in 1898, two sons, and his daughter. Funeral services will be held in Coldwater Thursday.

Ontario Roundup

No Connection

The two girls who worked in a downtown Toronto sales office between them Margaret Marion McDowell and slain Norma Schreiber have quit their jobs.

Another girl reported for work today and both told their employers they would not be coming back. They said they couldn't face the strain of staring at those two empty desks.

Mrs. Schreiber's husband Joseph, a 26-year-old brokerage clerk, appeared briefly in court today on charges of murdering her and was remanded to December 23rd. Police say there will be several more remands before his case comes to a preliminary hearing.

Schreiber has asked for permission to attend his pretty blonde wife's funeral Friday, but police doubt that his request will be granted.

So far, police say, they have found no connection between Mrs. Schreiber's slaying and Miss McDowell's kidnapping nine days ago, and they say the two cases appear to be "only a coincidence."

The search for Miss McDowell's kidnapper still continues, without a clue.

"Crooked" Crap Game

Police have arrested 122 men in a North York farmhouse and seized 12 hundred dollars in cash which they say were the stakes in a "crooked" crap game.

The building was fitted with steel doors, an electric alarm system and an eight foot fence. The elaborate precautions foiled a raid two weeks ago, but there was such a crowd for that night's game that police were able to mingle with the players and walk in unnoticed.

Officers claim they took a set of dice with two "fives" and two "threes" marked on them from Dominic Simone, one of the men arrested with working gaming house. When the customers learned the allegedly crooked dice had been seized officers had a hard time keeping them from attacking the keepers.

Bankruptcy Hearings

A court in Perth, Ontario, is hearing testimony today from elderly residents of the district on how they sent money through the bankruptcy of the firm of Ti-year-old W. L. McKinnon, a former Perth school teacher.

McKinnon faces 33 charges of theft and fraud. The witnesses against him had been his clients for many years in deals involving chiefly municipal bonds.

One woman, 54 year old Miss Kathleen McCuffey, testified from a wheelchair that she lost about 35 hundred dollars.

THERE SHOULD BE NO RELUCTANCE TO SPEAK OUT BEFORE THE PRESS

As was recorded in this paper on Monday there was evidence of a reluctance on the part of union representatives to having the press record full proceedings at the three-hour meeting which resulted in a back-to-work movement of struck hydro employees. This, of course, is a wrong attitude to take in matters relating to, or affecting any public utility or undertaking.

"The Post" has consistently fought against having public issues obscured by a veil of secrecy on the grounds that only by exposing all public business to the full light of day can the public have complete confidence in the manner it is being conducted. There is evidence to support this paper's conviction that the employee-management dispute at the Lindsay Hydro System might never have gotten so badly out of hand as it did over the weekend if the press had been taken fully into the confidence of the negotiating parties after the strike started. That this situation has been attributed to the union's desire to keep the public in the dark concerning negotiations which went on between the time the strike started and the time of the display of crowd rule Saturday evening is a regrettable state of affairs. The union should have nothing to hide. On the other hand hydro officials cannot be held blameless because they were equally aware that any negotiations were concerned with public business and should have refused to enter into any talks whatsoever with union men without press representation so that the public might be placed in possession of the vital facts.

Evidence that both parties were becoming more conscious of the need for a fully-informed public was seen Saturday night when the press was taken into more complete confidence by both parties. But by then the situation was deteriorating rapidly and it was too late for the press to give effective aid.

Negotiations in this matter are by no means complete and it is to be hoped that both sides will recognize the wisdom of keeping public business public and taking the press into their confidence. Only in this way can each party be assured that public sympathy will be justly placed.

SCARLET FEVER ISOLATION

Parents of school children in Port Hope are worried about the incidence of scarlet fever in the town. They are mainly concerned because they suspect that some children are not being kept at home for the full isolation period.

After receiving many telephone calls from anxious people, we got in touch with the United Counties Health Unit. Dr. Horner gave us information which may explain apparent violations of quarantine.

The isolation period for a case of scarlet fever is 21 days, but Dr. Horner pointed out that the actual period may be even shorter by circumstances. For instance, if a case were a week old before a doctor was called and diagnosis made and reported, then the isolation period ahead would only be two weeks.

Also in the case of contacts, the period again depends on circumstances. If a child in contact with a scarlet fever patient is removed from the home, then he, or she, must wait only one week before being free to mingle with other children. Isolation also depends on whether child-contacts have already had the disease.

However, if any violations of isolation are known, that is another matter. Such cases should be reported immediately to the United Counties Health Unit.

"George," cried Mrs. Browne, "I heard someone moving about downstairs. I feel so nervous." Her husband crepe downstairs and found a man at the cupboards. "Who are you?" he demanded.

"Cat burglar," growled the man.

George returned to his wife. "It's all right Ethel," he said reassuringly. "It's a cat burglar. Let him search. He doesn't know we haven't got a cat."

Pontypool

Mr. O. Spencer died suddenly last Saturday, and was buried at Yelverton on Monday. He is survived by his wife and one sister, Mrs. Lloyd Kennedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Morrison, were away visiting relatives recently.

Mrs. Harry Richardson, Mrs. J. J. Malley, and Mrs. A. Fowler were visitors to Mrs. G. Burk's on Sunday.

Orangemen Hold Turkey Supper

The Orangemen of Lodge 82, Pontypool gave a turkey supper to their fellow Orangemen and their wives last Friday night, prepared and served by members of the Ladies Aid Society, United Church here, and their assistants. Supper was served in the basement of the church. After supper there were speeches etc., with a vote of thanks to the ladies who had helped to make the affair such a success. There was an abundance of turkey roasted to perfection in the spacious ovens of Harry Richardson's Bakery. The Orangemen later adjourned to the Orange Hall for further entertainment etc.

Mrs. Palframan died last Tuesday after a long illness. She had been blind and bedridden for a number of years. Her husband predeceased her a little over a year ago. They had been residents of Pontypool for many years, until increasing illness made it necessary for her to be moved to Toronto, where relatives could minister to them. Finally, Mrs. Palframan was removed to the Home for Incurables in Toronto, where she passed away.

The funeral of Mr. Willis Whiteside took place last Sunday afternoon, interment being in St. Mary's Cemetery at Lifford. He was in his 54th year and was well-known and liked in Pontypool. Two sons, four sisters and one brother survive him. It was a large funeral and there were many beautiful wreaths, sprays and bouquets of lovely flowers.

Allen Gruen officiated at the organ in Pontypool United Church last Sunday in the absence of Miss Coulter who was unable to be present.

Mrs. S. Manetta who was stricken with a heart attack some time ago, is recovering, but slowly, at her home in Pontypool.

Dave Sexmith is kept very busy at his home restaurant these days, so many truckers from a distance, besides his own local folks sustaining him is Mrs. Lily Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett were among those who went shopping on Saturday for Christmas.

Mrs J. Malley and some friends paid a visit to Peterboro last Saturday.

Yelverton

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gibson and Mr. and Mrs. Rae Malcolm were entertained on Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. B. McGill, Blackstock.

Mr. and Mrs. Berl Gibson visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Somerville, of Greenbank, on Sunday.

Mrs. Wm. Werry, and Donald Kedron, spent Saturday with the Art Brown's.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Rowan visited Toronto relatives of the late Mr. Wm. Walter on Thursday.

Crokinole Party

Another in the very successful series of crokinole parties sponsored by the Yelverton Family Club was held at the Robinson home on Wednesday night. Eight tables played and a steady clack of buttons punctuated by yelps of excitement and much laughter testified to the enjoyment of all. Young Lorraine McGill took the honours for the girls while Dave Wilson was the best man.

The sincere sympathy of the community is extended to the family of the late Willis Whiteside, who died in Toronto General Hospital last Wednesday night. A large crowd attended the funeral on Sunday afternoon at the home. Interment was at St. Marys Cemetery. Rev. L. Norman, Bethany, officiated.

Miss Jan Henders and the Jack Wilson's viewed the Santa Claus parade in Port Perry on Saturday afternoon and had tea with the Geo. Clarke's.

Mrs. B. Moore and Nancy visited Mr. and Mrs S. Sedman, of Whitby, on Sunday.

Mr. Reg. Ruskin, Toronto, was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hesslip. Mr. and Mrs Hesslip and Reg., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Nesbitt and Trevor at Nestleton.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Thorndyke, of Toronto, visited Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Johnson and family on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Geo Wilson called on Mrs. Mabel Falls, Ballyduff, on Sunday.

Mr. Elwin Dickie, of Oshawa, spent the weekend with Don and Noreen Johnston. Mr. and Mrs. R. Ginn,

Sing Over Radio

We are all going to have another chance to hear the Alexandra Public School choir of sixty voices again. They presented an outstanding performance in Cambridge Street United Church Sunday evening to an appreciative audience. They have been trained under the guidance of Professor Fletcher and Mr. Brown, one of their teachers. They were an attractive group in the choir loft and both their solo and choral work were outstanding. This group have, through the generosity of The John Eakins Hairdressing Salon, been given the opportunity to sing over CHEX in Peterborough on Sunday at 1.15. All Lindsayites will be listening in and wishing this fine young group and their teachers the success they so richly deserve.

Pansies Bloom

Just before the snow on Monday we noticed two perky little yellow pansies blooming at the home of Mr. Alex Ross on William Street north. They were on the south side of the house and made quite a showing. There is no doubt about it this has been an outstanding Fall and we can't complain if we get some old-fashioned winter before long.

Christmas Trees

Most of us can hardly wait to get the Christmas evergreens in so we can smell the swee' ness in pails of water in the house. O y to prevent the needles fr dropping too early is to set the ses in pails of water or soil that is kept moist. Some evergreens dry out sooner than others but if you place the tree in water as soon as you get it and keep the base moist until you are ready to dispose of it you will have less trouble with needles shedding. It's fun to decorate for Christmas and whether it is simple or not the family will appreciate the Christmas atmosphere.

Party Christmas Trees

If you have a child celebrating a birthday near Christmas be sure and make some Christmas trees out of cereal. Mix one cup of corn syrup, one cup sugar, half cup orange juice one tablespoon butter or margarine, two teaspoons grated orange rind and 16 cups puffed cereal. Mix syrup and sugar and orange juice in a saucepan. Cook until a few drops of the mixture will form a hard ball when dropped into cold water. Add butter and rind. Pour over cereal which has been warmed in the oven. Quickly press mixture into cone-shaped paper cups, inserting a candy stick or skewer in each while still warm. Decorate with cherries, or a red glow can be made by adding red coloring to the syrup. Top with cherry.

Not A Daily Grind!

Here's something which will probably bring a howl of protest from homemakers. A consumer consultant says there is just as much glamor in house-work as there is in an outside career.

Preparing three square meals a day, she says, calls for just as much creative talent as painting a picture. If you consider housework a chore it really isn't your fault. Everyone from the husband to the nation's manufacturers insist that their products can take the drudgery out of housework.

She says by the time a woman hears the same old story of drudgery, dull, uninteresting all day long, she begins to believe the idea herself.

The consultant says it's time there were some changes made. She says there is nothing lovelier than fresh green vegetables . . . and shopping easier than the glisten of cake batter.

Half the battle is appreciation. The husband turns out meal after tempting meal . . . but let her make one mistake and that's the only time she ever hears about her efforts. Her family too often forget the bouquets.

The creativeness in decorating a home . . . and keeping it clean is a satisfying, rewarding occupation . . . and the home economist says, don't let anyone tell you it isn't.

Perks You Up!

The addition of a bright scarf is an easy way to perk up a winter outfit. But try to vary the way you wear the scarf . . . . don't settle for the routine Ascot tie. One manufacturer suggests an Elizabethan ruff as a neckline fill-in.

Fold a 24-inch scarf on the diagonal . . . slip it on with the point at the front. Then, fold the ends in the back, and fasten the scarf with a pearl or gold choker. Now, puff the scarf out above the choker at the front for the ruff effect.

What's New

Wool pile weather-stripping . . . the fuzzy material placed around the edges of car windows to keep rain out . . . now is available for the home handyman.

The pile pile is attached to plastic strips to simplify handling. It can be cut with a pair of scissors and held in place with tacks.

A special feature of the wool-like material is that it forms a seal against the weather, yet allows windows to slide smoothly.

Miss Dickson W.M.S. Guest Speaker At St. Andrew's Recent Supper Meeting

The annual meeting of the WMS of St. Andrew's, Lindsay, was held on Thursday evening. Previous to the programme, supper was served, the tables being prettily decorated, suggestive of the Christmas season. The president presided. "Joy to the World, the Lord is Come" was sung, followed by the Scripture reading, after which Mrs. D. N. Smith led in prayer. Mrs. Ross McKay favored with a well-received solo accompanied by Mrs. Burke.

Miss Dickson of Fenelon Falls was then introduced and gave a splendid address. She spoke of China, and how the door to missionary work in China is closed. Formosa, is a bright spot, she said, and the work there is encouraging. She stressed the need of prayer in our efforts. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of." Mrs. Keith, in a few well chosen words, thanked Miss Dickson. All are sorry that Miss Dickson plans on leaving Fenelon Falls. The best wishes of her many Lindsay friends go with her to her new home.

Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Rutherford, on behalf of their group, presented a Life Membership to Mrs. C. McPhadden, a very willing worker. This is the second Life Membership for the group this year. Mrs. Dan Tolmie was formerly presented with a Life Membership Certificate. Mrs. McPhadden thanked the ladies for the honour conferred and gave a was always glad to help. There followed the reports from the various offices, all of which were encouraging.

The nominating committee brought in the following slate of officers: honorary presidents, Mrs. G. Mathie, Mrs. D. McQueen; president, Mrs. Clarence McKay; 1st vice president, Mrs. D. McQuarrie; 2nd vice president, Mrs. G. Rutherford; 3rd vice-president, Mrs. G. Allen; 4th vice-president, Mrs. W. Wood; recording secretary, Mrs. D. N. Smith; correspondence secretary, Mrs. J. Robson; Literature secretary, Mrs. A. MacMillan; Mail Tidings secretary, Mrs. B. Fairbairn; supply secretary, Mrs. J. McInes; welcome to sick and welfare secretary, Mrs. G. W. Keith; home helpers secretary, Miss M. Currins; Goforth leader, Mrs. H. H. Mc-Cracken; Ruth Hamilton leaders, Mrs. R. E. Lawrence and Mrs. J. McQuarrie; visiting convener, Mrs. Hallock; Sunbeam leader, Mrs. Mathie's group, Mrs. G. Allen; advisory committee, Mrs. W. W. Finney (immediate past president), Mrs. M. McFayden, Mrs. D. Tolmie; pianists, Mrs. K. Finney, Mrs. Ross McKay; press reporter, Miss M. Allan.

Miss Jean Gilchrist, who has been very efficient as press reporter, was unable to be present at the meeting, but sent word she wished to be relieved of this office. Miss M. Currins was appointed in her place.

Mrs. D. Smith, on behalf of the members thanked Mrs. Finney (who had resigned after giving faithful service as president for some years. The retiring president introduced the incoming president, Mrs. McKay, who spoke briefly, stating she felt she was not worthy of the office, but would do her best, hoping all would assist her.

The members were pleased to have the pastor, Rev. D. McQueen, present, who gave a brief address. Miss Dickson installed the officers for the new year and closed with prayer.

The meetings are held on the second Thursday of each month in the afternoon. All the ladies of the congregation have been invited to be present.

St. Joseph's Music Pupils Hold Recital

The students of St. Joseph's Academy music classes presented a recital of piano, singing and violin to a very appreciative audience of parents and friends at St. Joseph's Academy recently.

Prizes donated by the Knights of Columbus, Catholic Women's League, Reverend Mother Ursula and Sisters of St. Joseph's Academy were presented by Right Reverend Monsignor J. V. McAuley, D.P., V.F. P.P., to the students obtaining the highest first class honour marks in the various grades of music examinations, held by the Royal Conservatory of Music during the past year.

The students who received these prizes were: Jean Rich, Grade X Piano; Barbara Wallace, Grade VIII Piano; Catherine McColl, Grade VI Piano; Judy Broadworth Grade V Piano and Marie Porter, Grade V Piano; (tie) Rita Dennis, Grade II Theory; Jean McCullough, Grade I Piano.

Examination certificates were presented to the 38 music students who were successful in the February and June examinations held at St. Joseph's Academy during 1953.

Lindsay during the month of November.

Declare Boxing Day A Holiday Here

Ald. Maidens mentioned to council that it ought to declare Boxing Day a holiday as that coming on following the usual custom, they intended to do so this year. On motion of Reeve Butler and Mayor Lamb, a motion passed declaring Boxing Day, December 26th, a holiday in Lindsay.

95.5 Percent Taxes Collected This Year

Tax Collector F. W. Williamson told council that 95.2 percent of the tax roll of $469,310.03 has been collected up to the end of November this year. Last year at this same time the percentage was 94.4 Mr. Williamson said that to the end of November, $46,917.85 had been collected. $19,909.85 being the amount for the month of November itself. Total arrears this year are, he said, $6,997.21.

Pass Motion To Pay Police Dept. Holiday And Court Attendance Money

Just after Ald. Baker had read a request from the Fire Department for pay for the full Fire Dept. staff for the Statutory Holiday on Armistice Day, Chairman of Police Butler informed council of the amounts for Statutory Holidays and Court Attendance of the local Police force. Both were passed for payment, but a lot of discussion had ensued after Ald. Baker's request from the Firemen. Some councillors felt the men were "being paid double", but decided that since they had agreed to pay for the Statutory Holidays early last year, it should be paid. (Two Firemen are on a yearly salary, not an hourly-rate basis). As it developed it must be known that it worked out that not all of the men had worked that day in question. It being just the "rough luck" of anyone who happened to be on regular duty that day.

October Police Report

Reeve Butler gave the October Police Report to council which showed that 54 offences had been disposed of: (Breach of Liquor Control Act -30; Criminal Code -12; Highway Traffic Act -12; Town By-laws -4; Children's Protection Act-5; Deserted Wives and Children's Maintenance Act -1.) In addition to the above, 32 persons paid fines at the Police Office for breaches of Parking Bylaws. Total fines imposed during the month were, he said, $491.00.

Awarded Watch By Reversion

In last Wednesday's edition of "The Post" in the story on the annual banquet of the Victoria County Holstein Club it was stated that "Mr. Wm. Murphy on behalf of the Dominion Bank presented their special prize of a watch which was awarded to Mr. Douglas Robertson for obtaining the highest number of points in the 4-H club." "The Post" has been since informed by Mrs. Madill that the highest number of points were actually won by Donald Madill, and Mr. Robertson, being next highest in points, won the watch by reversion.

McKinnon's attorney, J. J. Robinette of Toronto, is bringing out the questioning that witnesses' bonds held by the McKinnon firm at the time of the bankruptcy were only bonds that had been sold by the firm. In each case when witnesses turned bonds over to the firm it was part of a "trade" or exchange for a different issue, and the defense says the handing over of the bonds and the new bonds were to be possessed on the basis of "delayed delivery."

BETTER POWER GREATER CAPACITY with the NEW
GEHL
SINCE 1859 ... CONTINUOUS PROGRESS
Power Take-Off HAMMER-MILL DRIVE

Come to and see this new Gehl engineering achievement. Now, the high efficiency of the famous Gehl Hammer Mill is stepped up even higher with Power Take-Off from tractor. It increases capacity of the mill as much as 50 per cent with the same power . . . eliminates power loss caused by overly tight belts and belt slippage.

Handier, Quick and Easy to Attach

This new Power Take-Off drive can be readily fitted to any model 41 Gehl Grind-All Hammer Mill. It is illustrated here with guard removed, showing the Gehl multiple, 6-belt V-Belt drive. With transport truck, which is optional, you can store the mill wherever you wish . . . hitch it to your tractor and go anywhere to grind.

Ladies Curling Club Elects Officers

Minden, (PNS) -- The Minden Ladies' Curling Club met in Irwin's office recently with a good attendance. Miss Sylvia Howard, presided. Mrs. MacQueen Windover acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Phippen and the minutes of the previous meeting were read. Mrs. Jean Jackson gave the treasurer's report and a splendid balance was shown.

The election of officers followed and are: president, Miss Sylvia Howard; vice-president, Mrs. Ila Howard; secretary, Mrs. Charles Brandon; treasurer, Mrs. Marjorie Windover; publicity secretary, Mrs. Sylvia Woolley. A games committee was appointed with Mrs. Jean Jackson as convenor.

A banquet was passed that no one could hold the office of president more than two years in succession. It was decided to hold a game of cards for the club. The skips will be appointed and at a later date the rinks will be arranged for the season.

Here's Greater CUTTING CAPACITY!

HYDRAULICALLY OPERATED FROM POWER TAKE-OFF
VON RUDEN
Hydra-Flex CHAIN SAW
USES POWER YOU ALREADY HAVE
Save the cost of a gasoline engine! Use the tremendous power of your tractor power to operate this faster cutting, easier to handle chain saw. Hydraulic hoses transmit power to 20-pound power head that smoothly handles the cutting of the saw. You can work a large circular area without moving the tractor. A slight movement of conveniently located valve controls operation. It's safe! It's faster !! It's more flexible !
1-MAN and 2-MAN MODELS
The 2-Man Hydra-Flex is available with a 32" cutter bar and the 46" cutter bar as shown above. Identical fluid moving power the 2-Man models, and the 1-Man 18" and 27" models. For economical, heavy sawing, the 18" and the 27" 1-Man Hydra-Flex saws can be converted for two-man operation with the addition of a 2nd helper's handle.
Stop in and look over the Hydra-Flex. We believe it represents the best in engineering, has greater cutting capacity and costs you less to own.

Hi Neighbour . . . .

"BIDDIE"

Did you know that there used to be approx. 6 hatcheries in the U. S. A. operating with (which I believe is the worst trouble among poultry) LEUCOSIS. To-day there are less than 3 left experimenting because all the others gave up hopelessly proving nothing, and still we have people going around telling us that controlling the disease is in the chicks. Now I ask you, is that common sense? I say this on behalf of Henderson's Hatchery and I am sure all local hatcheries will agree. If you still doubt this, then write to O.A.C. Guelph Poultry Lab. Connaught Labs in Toronto or any mixed lab. in Canada or U. S. A. and ask them for the exact cause of Leucosis. I will give you the next two issues of this paper FREE if you can prove the "exact cause". No substitutes accepted such as "do like I do, kill every bird that shows signs" and receive it "no definite cause known and no known cure".

However, there is a means of control by which man can keep this disease down to a minimum — Buy Henderson's Chicks this year and ask for a copy of "Control The Keep Disease Down To A Minimum". Follow it closely and see how much better your chicks are here after.

MUSKIES SUFFER 6-3 SET-BACK FROM PORT HOPE REDMEN HERE

After edging Port Hope Redmen 3-2 and 1-0 in previous contests this season, the Muskies suffered a 6-3 set-back at the Arena last night.

Although outscored, the Muskies at times showed flashes of their winning form, until they got to the goal mouth, but seemed unable to click the red light switch. Although Wasson played a heady game, on several occasions the Muskies had him beat and hit the post, missed the corner and once lodged the puck on the net.

The cause of Muskies present slump is hard to ferret out. The lads seem to lack that extra drive to beat the opponent to the puck which, on several games for them this year and in last night's game, once a player passed the puck he seemed to ease up. For the most part, the lads tried hard. Mucker O'Connell worked hard with, at times, little protection from the rear guard.

Coach Al Burns tried another scheme to beat the player shortage, by moving Davis up to left wing with Sinclair nursing fractured ribs returned in practice a couple of weeks ago. In general the move looked good, as Davis potted two of their three goals and should improve as he gets more front line experience. The three defensemen who carried the load with Davis absent worked hard and momentary lapses could not be attributed to the extra ice time they put in.

The return of Don Sinclair to the line-up when his framework heals may be the spur the Muskies need.

Wimpy Parker was back in form last night and along with Lou Hennessey (too good Davis) and O'Connell, were the bright spots in the Muskies effort. Orlie Crawford crowded in Muskies first goal, but had difficulty finding the range after that.

Although action speeded up in the second period as Muskies took over play, it lacked the dash and booming body checks of last season play-offs. Robinson, Downey, Fyfe and Wasson were "on the puck" for the Redmen. Douglas, of course, only got a few penalties according to the judgment of the fans, but he made it a point to compliment the referee after the game. Maybe he has something there?

Lindsay opened the game on the attack, but were sida tracked by a looking penalty to Green. 8 seconds later Medhurst intercepted a pass in front of the net, withstood a couple of half-hearted checks and beat Mucker from close in. Hogan was sent off for holding but play was held to the centre ice area. After Hogan returned, Davis split their defense, but their five wheeling goalie, Wasson turned the shot aside.

On the return rush, Robinson, Fyve and Buckton banked at Mucker from close range for their second goal.

A minute later Corley flew in from right wing on Wasson who covered the shot and Lewis' slap on the rebound.

Orlie Crawford put Lindsay back in the game when he crammed Grant Green's pass out past the redhead at 8.34.

Lewis, Corley and Hicks manouvered a short passing attack through the defense, but failed to beat Wasson. McKeen was robbed by O'Connell, when he broke through alone a short time after.

Penalties slowed the game at mid-period, when Kelly was charged with charging at 12.06, Wilson for charging at 13.32 and Burns for high sticking at 14.06, just as Kelly was about to return. Nine seconds later, Downey and Medhurst combined at the goal mouth to put their third goal.

Wilson added their fourth of the period at 17.21, when he hesitated at the defense, say, no one to pass to, and when the defense opened to cover a pass, shuffled through and slid the puck under O'Connell as he went down on the attempted save.

Lindsay scored the only goal of the second period, when Davis blazed Wyatt's pass by Wasson from ten feet out. Douglas was caught elbowing at 8.56. The Muskies put up their best hockey of the night as they tied Port Hope up and had them thoroughly disorganized. Although a couple of screened shots missed the corner, Wasson successfully covered all shots on the goal. Free, for Port Hope broke away from the Muskies attack at 11.14 and missed the top corner with a hard drive.

Evans was chased for interference at 14.41 and the Muskies countered by icing five forwards for half the penalty but to no avail. Crawford was sent off for high sticking (in self defense) at 16.53 and Port Hope took over to press O'Connell the rest of the period.

In the third period the Redmen again took the driver's seat as Wasson passed to Free at the Lindsay blue line. Hennessey blocked Free, but no one played the puck until Free got around Lou and hooked the puck and beat the "grocer" from close in at the 50-second mark.

Muskies rallied and did everything but score in the next five minutes. Parker slid a pass to Crawford in front of the open net, but Orlie's hurried poke missed the target. Hicks retrieved the puck at the blue line and hung a ringer on the goal post from 15 feet out. In the ensuing scramble, the puck flipped over Wasson but lit on the top mesh. Douglas was thumbed for interference at 7.04 and the Muskies bored in but Wasson was equal to the task Lewis and Hicks both had point-blank shots, but no goal resulted. Just past mid-period, Free and Robinson manouvered a loose puck near the Lindsay net, and Downey, whose screened shot found the mark. Corley, Lewis and Hicks, best the Port Hope defense and the trio closed in on Wasson only to have the goalie poke check the puck carrier before he got a shot away.

Davis fired his second goal with a minute and a half to go, when Wyatt carried Al Burn's pass to the, visitor's blue line and Davis, swooping in, pulled the trigger on a hard drive.

Juniors Back In Action Tonight

Tonight the Lindsay Juniors get back into action, after a seven-day rest, with designs on first place which now appears to be tied three ways between Lindsay, Peterboro and Port Perry.

Port Perry's 11-9 tuning of Midland Saturday evening moved them into the charmed circle. The opposition will be the long standing rivals, Peterboro Young Petes, and indications point to a good turnout for the game.

Saturday the Juniors are slated to make the bus trip to the beautiful Collingwood Arena with an encouraging number of fans along.

Results of the men's regular schedule games at the Lindsay Curling Club on Tuesday night were as follows:

Ralph Wakelin Skating Club's New President

Ralph Wakelin, popular Lindsay sportsman, has been elected president of the newly-formed Lindsay Figure Skating Club, replacing the charter president, Mr. Earl MacDonald, former manager of the Bell Telephone Company, who has been transferred to Barrie.

Mr. Wakelin, who has been associated with Lindsay's ice hockey, baseball and other sports activities since his school days, has taken immediate office, and is already busy organizing the Figure Skating Club's open session to be held this week.

Membership in the Figure Skating Club now numbers 130 enthusiastic young and adult skaters, whose progress under the tuition of Jan Pro, Miss Betty Mavis, of Toronto, is the subject of a great deal of favourable comment.

Three well-known Toronto skaters are to be in town on Thursday when some six or seven of Lindsay's promising young skaters take their preliminary examinations. The John Rodway, Ian Campbell (former Men's Championship entry) and Jacqueline Oldham (one of the Toronto Skating Club's contenders for the Canadian Junior Ladies' Championship crown) will act as judges for the tests.

Following the tests, the general public is to be given an opportunity of seeing these top flight skaters in action, when, on Thursday evening, the Lindsay Figure Skating Club is holding an open session, at which exhibitions will be given by all three of the judges, as well as by Gaynor Galoska, of the Lindsay Club. Elsewhere in the Post the president and board of directors of the Lindsay Club have extended an open invitation to the general public to be present at this Open Session.

Kiwanis Club Presents CAS With $100

The Kiwanis Club of Lindsay has this week made a substantial cash gift to the Children's Aid Society here. Ray Berry Armstrong, pastor of Cambridge St. Baptist Church, and a member of the Children's Aid Society's Board of Directors, presented the executive with a $100 cheque on behalf of the Kiwanians.

Supervisor Allan Blewett said today the society was pleasantly surprised and will find good uses for the money.

Doesn't Wish To Participate In Pensions

Council May Amend Pension By-Law

Ald. Maidens has informed Town Council that a member of the police force had asked if he could wait a week to be in on the Town's pension scheme. The Alderman stated that the man's reason he said that there were already two persons employed by the Town who had been given permission to withdraw from the Plan.

Town Clerk Alley stated that a new amendment to the plan, which would require a by-law in order to be added to the Lindsay scheme, said that an employee could get back what he had paid in on termination of his employment at any time with the Town, without interest.

Council wondered why the man wanted to be out of the plan and Ald. Baker suggested that he may have a plan that he considers to be better.

Ald. Breese -- We ought to adopt the new amended plan and let him see it. He might change his mind.

Ald. Maidens -- I think council ought to stick to the (original) scheme as covered by by-law. As far as I'm concerned it ought to stick. Even so, they won't lose anything, but won't get their money until they are 65.

Ald. Baker said he would draft a new by-law to include the new amendment.

(For the information of readers, as the Pension Scheme is now, a person, who for instance quits his job with the Town, has to wait until he is 65 years of age to get back what he has paid in. The amendment would allow the man to get back immediately what he has paid in, should he quit, if that amount is not enough to pay for a $50 annuity at 65. If it is not enough to insure the payment of this annuity he must wait until 65 to get the money.)

Debate As To Who Is Responsible, Elect Police

When Town Council visited the lockup cells at the rear of the Council Chambers Monday night since comments were heard as "deplorable conditions", "... don't care what kind of a man he is, I wouldn't put him in here!", and "It isn't fit for a pig in here!".

The cells were viewed by members of council and a representative of "The Post." They found a foul, strong fetid smell in the forty-small room and empty cigarette boxes and paper on the floor. Besides this, there were several ink blotchs of human wastage sitting about.

Ald. J. McQuarrie broached the subject of the cells' condition in council, since he had been approached by persons who said they were dirty. "I think it is up to us to see them in good condition," he told Council.

Mayor Chas. Lamb exclaimed that "... after seeing this ... I never saw cells in this condition in my life. The cells should be cleaned, disinfected and whitewashed. I wouldn't put a dog in there tonight -- not if I thought unanimously of the dog! Those pails of -- stuff -- must be emptied every week!" The retiring Mayor said he would move to have them cleaned up and it was immediately seconded by Reeve Richard Butler.

Someone asked whose job it was to see to the cells.

Reeve Butler said that he imagined it was the job of the caretaker at the Town Hall.

Ald. Baker said it was up in the cells says that they are supposed to be inspected by Police every morning and a report made to the Chief of Police.

"We have a caretaker here to do the job," said Reeve Butler.

"This has nothing to do with Town Hall employees. I wouldn't take the caretaker to empty those pails," said Ald. Baker.

Why has Chief Hunter the sign on the door that they're inspected every morning at 7 a.m.? (If they're not), asked Mayor Lamb.

Reeve Butler suggested a motion be made to hand over the matter to the Police Department, where, Ald. Baker reminded him, it ought to be.

"I will," said Mayor Lamb, and, seconded by Ald. Stevens, he made the motion that the cells be cleaned up and kept clean, and be turned over to the Police Department, and that the cells be cleaned and disinfected before any persons are incarcerated there until the above is done. This motion passed.

Deputy-reeve Rick said that he thought the "intention was to have the prisoners do some of their own cleaning."

"That's all right," said Reeve Butler, "but you can't make them, do it ... until they are convicted" (and there are used primarily for overnight lockup, before a person is tried for whatever crime he is alleged to have committed. If he is found guilty he is put in the County Gaol.)

Mayor Lamb concluded the discussion by saying that "they could empty their own night pail ... "

80 Percent Turnout

Kincardine, Dec. 15 (BUP) -- Eighty per cent of the voters of Kincardine turned out at the polls yesterday, in spite of stormy weather, to elect John A. Reynolds as mayor.

Reynolds defeated Frank Low in a close vote, 360 votes to 560.

Going to cost a fortune to keep new dump going, Ald. Baker tells Council

Chairman of Town Property John Baker told council Monday night that "it is going to cost a fortune to keep the new dump going. The land there is very soft. It's an expensive proposition!" He had just read a bill for bulldozing the new dump again ... a bill for $271.

Mayor Lamb said he thought it had been council's intention to take out the deep ravine on the east side. He said there were hundreds of cedar posts there that would keep the town going for a lon gtime. He stated that garbage could ge dumped in the Hundreds for next five years. As it is now, he said dumping wa taking place on level ground, which would be filled by next summer. It would be worth council's attention to look it over and clear it up. You can't dump garbage on garbage, he added.

Deputy-reeve Rick said something has to be done or "it isn't going to lass anytime."

Baby Born With 2 Heads And 4 Arms

Indianapolis Dec 15 --(BUP)-- A baby is dying in hospitals born with two heads and four arms was given two names today.

The 44-year-old father said hospital authorities told him to choose two names for the three-day-old baby, apparently on a decision to treat the child as twins.

He said the names are Donald Ray and Daniel Kaye. He said doctors told him there might be a possibility of surgical separation should one head fail to survive.

Doctors said removal of the extra arms was "not advisable at the present ... and not under immediate consideration."

Hospital attaches said the baby is fed through both mouths.

Meanwhile doctors removed the baby from an "air lock" which has aided his breathing and said his condition was "satisfactory."

Mrs. W. Brien Opens Her Home For WMS Meeting

The December meeting of the Dunsford branch of the WMS was held at the home of Mrs. Walter Brien with 17 members present.

The president, Mrs. Nelson Atwell presided over the Christmas Worship service assisted by Mrs. Delmar Thurston and Mrs. Alvin Thurston who gave a responsive reading. The singing of special Christmas hymns was much enjoyed by all, as also was the reading of an appropriate paper by Mrs. Atwell called: "The Signs in the Christmas Fire."

The minutes and correspondence were read by Mrs. Delmar Thurston deputising for Mrs. Roy Stinson, the secretary, who was not able to be present. The treasurer's report was given, and the Literature Secretary reported the number of books read during the year.

Mrs. J. J. Thurston read a lovely Christmas poem followed by a delightful piano selection by Mrs. Walter Brien. Other business of the meeting was deferred to make time for the election of officers which was very quickly presided over by the Rev. Pugsley who asked for a show of hands as to whether the election should take place by ballot. This was decided upon and following is the new list of officers for 1954:

President, Mrs. Nelson Atwell; 1st vice-pres., Mrs. Walter Brien; 2nd vice-pres. Rev. George Kennedy; secretary, Mrs. Delmar Thurston; asst. sec., Mrs. Lawrence Thurston; treasurer, Mrs. Ezra Thurston; asst. treas., Mrs. Mack Kennedy; literature sec., Mrs. Lawrence Thurston; supply sec., Mrs. Orville Brien and helpers -- Mrs. E. Thurston, Mrs. W. Hore, Mrs. G. Kennedy; Christian Stewardship sec., Mrs. Delmar Thurston; temperance and citizenship sec., Mrs. Walter Hore; community friendship sec., Mrs. Roy Stinson; Baby Band sec., Mrs. Roy Stinson; press sec., Mrs. Stanley Brien; assist. pianist, Mrs. E. Thurston.

The meeting closed with prayer led by the Rev. Pugsley and Mrs. Alvin Thurston moved a vote of thanks to the hostess for the use of her home. A dainty lunch was served by the social committee, and a social time enjoyed.

Dies Directing Snow Clearing

Huntsville, Dec. 15 (BUP) -- A maintenance engineer for the Ontario Department of Highways in the Huntsville district -- F. W. Taylor -- dropped dead today while he was directing snow clearing operations on Highway 11.

Taylor had been with the Department of Northern Development and the Department of Highways since 1934. He was a veteran of the first World War.

Land Development Scheme Here Lands Maryknoll In Trouble

Big-Time Land Assembly Deal Snarls Co-op Program

A further meeting is to be called as soon as possible between the Department of Planning and Development, the Town and the Maryknoll Housing Co-operative. This has been found necessary, it was brought out at Monday night's council meeting because the origin, al idea between the Town and the Maryknoll (that of supplying services to the homes on Maryknoll Avenue), has "snowballed" into a much larger plan with a much greater proposed expenditure of money on the Town's part.

Ald. Maidens said that the special committee to look over the Department estimates on the project had done so and had decided that "someone will have to go back to the Department before this scheme can come to fruition. The scheme is out of line with the other two subdivisions in Lindsay."

Ald. Breese asked the question, "Weren't Maryknoll at one time willing to accept all costs within their area?"

"It is out of that now! The big question is getting sewer from Logie and Kent St. E. to the subdivision," said Ald. Maidens, "whether it would be a forced local or local improvement. It runs down Logie and up Russell Street."

Reeve Butler -It's all been changed now.

Ald. Breese -Who changed it?

Deputy-reeve Rick -Central Mortgage and Housing.

Ald. Maidens -They (Maryknoll) are not in it now . . . we're dealing with Central Mortgage and Housing.

Ald. Breese -It seems funny that the Government would overrule both of us (Town and Maryknoll).

Ald. Maidens said that the plan as laid down at present called for the Town to post debentures with the Department in Ottawa to guarantee the collection of taxes for payment of the Central Mortgage and Housing share of the cost of the services and to guarantee the 78 percent of services within the project (the owners' share -which the town will receive). He said that "was not a good situation" as it involves too wide open. We'll have to go further study."

Reeve Butler -We'll have to go and see the other fellows

Ald. Breese -What happens if the agreement is not signed?

Ald. Maidens ... I don't see how we can sign it and live up to the agreement.

Ald. Stevens -Why not live up to the original agreement with Maryknoll and leave it at that?

Ald. Maidens -If we issued debentures we would gain control.

Reeve Butler wanted to know when the change in plan came about.

Mr. Alley said it was when the estimates were enlarged following Mr. Bell's visit to Lindsay from the Department when he went over the agreement with the council.

Ald. Harrigan -It went to the Town Solicitor didn't it?

Mr. Alley said that Mr. Fullon said the legal form of the agreement is all right, but as far as the terms are concerned it will have to be satisfactory to the Town.

Deputy-reeve Rick -It started out as a local improvement, then men came down from Toronto and brought in the other plan -The Land Assembly Scheme. They met with some council members, then sent down the agreement. When the estimates came in we got the shock -charges to other properties that would be affected . . . a lot more hinges on it than the dealings with Maryknoll.

Mr. Alley said that Mr. Bell estimated when here that the cost to the town would be small.

Ald. Maidens -As of now, charges are about 30 percent to be met by the general rate. What's that but taxes?

Mayor Lamb -How much did we agree to do?

Ald. McQuarrie -We didn't agree to anything.

Mayor Lamb -Why so staggering now if we had no idea?

Ald. Breese -It was supposed to be similar to Bond Ave. -22 percent.

Deputy-reeve Rick said that he understood from Mr. Clarke that some would be charged off (from the money which the Maryknoll who would be serviced from it. He said there was some that "can't be charged on to anyone. Too many unknowns . . . "

Mayor Lamb said it would take too long to go about with it, he thought a delegation to the Parliament buildings was in order.

Reeve Butler -Why don't they (The Department) come down here?

Reeve Butler -They did before.

Ald. Harrigan -Have them come down again.

Mayor Lamb -We have got to get someplace and get figures.

Deputy-reeve Rick -We all have to sit down with them. It would be better if they came down here.

Ald. Maidens -We take it up there we are taking it away from Maryknoll They want to run their own show -if we take it up they'll have nothing to say.

Mr. Mills, of Maryknoll was present and asked to speak. He said their chief concern is getting sewage in on Maryknoll Ave. He wanted to know if there was a possible way to get sewer, water and hydro fed, and let Russell and Logie Street go until Spring. He suggested calling a meeting between the Maryknoll Ave. work! and see what the

Transformer Does It Again, Same, Area Is Blacked Out

The same transformer that touched off the Hydro incident in Lindsay's East Ward on Saturday night bogged down again on Monday evening at just about the same time as it did on the weekend -- 6:15 p.m.

The Commission office said today that Foreman Tom Cochrane was informed that he immediately called out the necessary men and repaired the break. The section was without lights for approximately an hour last night, the office told "The Post."

When "The Post" phoned the Hydro office today, at 2:15 p.m., they said that service in the area there was off again, but the overloaded transformer being replaced to insure that no further powerless hours are inflicted upon the people there.

Desire $800 Lot For Less, Town To Negotiate Further

The matter of the purchase of a lot owned by Mr. and Mrs. Jackson on Kent Street E. at St. Lawrence, for $800, and which the Town Council had "agreed" to -- for the past few weeks is still unsettled. That body decided Monday night that Parks Chairman Brown and Deputy-reeve Hick, Chairman of the Board of Works, were to have further negotiations with the owners to see if the lot could be obtained for less, and, if not, to buy the lot, on which they have a 60-day option until December 18th, for $800.

Last week, Chairman Brown was asked to look over other townowned lots and to advise council on their suitability for Parks Board work. He said Monday night that a lot on Durham Street, adjoining Victoria Park, and two on George Street had been reviewed. "The one on Durham Street would be acceptable," he said, "but we feel at the present time since we have rented a little larger premises, we don't see in the immediate future to build, but we do need some plots to stockpile. If council felt, at a later date, for us to build, it would Unemployed Now Double Year Ago, Figures Show

"About twice as many people are out of work in this district now as were unemployed during the same period last year," Mr. H. Brown of the National Employment Office told "The Post" in an interview this afternoon.

He went on to say that a contributing factor in this was the fact that quite a percentage of those who were laid off recently at General Motors in Oshawa have not, as yet, returned to their jobs. As well as this, Mr. Brown says that another factor is that the textile industries are not particularly busy at present. He says that his office has had a number of girls from National Textiles, Knitters Ltd and Horn Bros.

Another contributing factor to present unemployment, he says, is that there is now, and has been in the fall in general, less construction work than usual.

The total number of unemployed persons in this district (Victoria County, Brock Township in Ontario County and Georgina Township in Simcoe County) is 1,200, Mr. Brown.

Though it is twice the number of last year, Mr. Brown said "the situation is not alarming," saying that it is "seasonal."

Merle Dickerson North Bay's New Mayor

Merle Dickerson, one-time member of the Lindsay Hydro Commission, was elected Mayor of North Bay in the municipal election there this week.

Mr. Dickerson received 2,500 votes to lead the other three candidates by a wide majority. Others candidates were Arthur Beatty receiving 1,215 votes, W. F. Stones 1,062 and Bert Owen 651.

Snow Causes Minor Mishaps

The OPP detachment at Lindsay investigated six minor accidents on Monday. They all occurred before 6 o'clock last night and no arrests were reported after that time. The accidents, police say, happened in a wide area over the district under their jurisdiction, being attributed to the slippery condition the highways due to the heavy fall of wet snow.

As stated, the damage to vehicles was in all cases minor and there were no injuries to persons in the cars.

Kiwanis Club Holds Father & Son Banquet

Hear Excellent Talk On Sportsmanship

The regular weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club took the form of a "Father and Son Banquet" with members of the Boxing Club as special guests. The banquet catered by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Legion and held in the Legion Hall consisted of roast turkey with all the trimmings, topped off with apple pie a la mode.

After the singing of grace and the National Anthem, chairman-President Lawson Bishop welcomed the gathering and bade members introduce their sons and members of the Boxing Club. Kiwanian Henry Johnson led a sing-song with Mrs. R. English at the piano. Master Spencer Norris entertained the banqueters with a couple of songs and also his very popular square dance call.

Kiwanian Harry Peirce then gave a very interesting account of the boxing program which included tests of contests in which each of the members of the local Boxing Club had participated at a later date, he promised that the Kiwanis Club would present cests to those who had participated in it before or more.

The speaker of the evening, introduced by Past Governor Kiwanian Jim Moore, was the Rev. R. Jones of Toronto, Chairman of the Committee of Christians and Jews, but who preferred to be known as Kiwanian Dick Jones. A native of New Jersey, baseball is first love to him and he was, in fact, a member of the Newark Bears farm system. Besides his interest in his ministry work and the Brotherhood of peoples of different races, colours and creeds, he has also an active interest in the youth movement of Kiwanis and pioneered the Knot-Hole Club in Toronto, Kiwanis Club of Toronto. In his speech, he stressed good sportsmanship, teamwork and co-ordination as important elements in developing character in sports and more important, good citizens of the future. He was more than pleasantly surprised at the response given by some of our young Lindsayites when questions were put to name various champions of sports and teams. The list included "Big Train" Johnson, pitcher; Jackie Robinson, first Negro in the Majors; Al Rosen; Roy Campanella Kiwanian Dick Jones emphasized that in the future Kiwanis would be looking for best players by virtue of their prowess at the bat, pitching a baseball, football or basketball, scoring a goal etc., regardless of race, colour or religion. In closing the speaker honoured his adopted country by stating that this was the Canadian way.

Kiwanian Bill Whyte ably thanked the speaker stating that Kiwanian Jones had purposely cut short a lecture tour on the west coast by one day in order to favour the local club.

Snowplowmen with horses get increased guaranteed minimum

The men who plough Lindsay's streets with horse-drawn equipment got a raise in pay Monday night at Town Council meeting. Whereas last year they were paid a guarantee or $100 for their animal and $1.50 per hour (not to exceed 60 cents), this year they are getting a guarantee of $125 for their animal, and $1.50 per hour ($1.60 for the man and 60 cents for the horse.)

The question of a raise in pay for these men came up when mentioned by Deputy-reeve Bert Hick who said men would like "a better rate?"

Quipped Reeve Butler, "Are they going to go on strike?"

Engineer Les Wilson said that the three men and horses from last year and three more new ones had been obtained. He said that the $125 would be the guarantee of at least $125 to winter their horses. They would like, he said, their guarantee paid twice a month instead of one at the first of each succeeding month.

Deputy-reeve Hick he thought their request "reasonable". Horses have to be well-shod and well-fed. The days of getting a horse shod for a quarter a shoe are over! I more we accept it." Seconded, the motion to pay the men $1.60 per hour (man $1.00, horse 60 cents), plus a guarantee for their animal of $125, passed.

W.R. Whiteside

On Wednesday, Dec. 9th, in the Toronto General Hospital, the death occurred of Willis Robinson Whiteside of R. R. 1 Bethany, aged 50 years His death followed an illness of two months.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Whiteside, the deceased was born in Mariposa Township where he lived all his lifetime. He was a farmer, and was also for many years employed by the Township as the operator of the road maintainer and snowplough. Mr. Whiteside was a member of Ogilvie United Church, and of the L.O.L. 1022. His wife the former Amelia Morrow, survives him, as do two sons, Maurice and Glenn of Peterborough. Four sisters also survive, Mrs. R. Stinson (Hazel) of Lotus; Mrs. B. Muirhead (Beatrice) of Janetville; Mrs. L. O'Rourke (Etta), Peterborough, and Mrs. Ralph White (Madeline) of Woodworth. Mr. Stanley Whiteside of London is a brother of the deceased.

The funeral service will be held from his residence, Lot 11, Concession 9, Manvers (35 Highway) on Sunday, Dec. 13th, at 2 p.m. in charge of Reverend T. S. Gould, chaplain of L.O.L. and the Reverend Lawrence Norman of the United Church, with burial in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Santa Claus Arrives At Sunderland

Sunderland (PNS) -Sunderland was jammed with cars and people from far and near this afternoon recently, to enjoy a big day for old and young for it featured the annual Santa Claus Parade. The weather was ideal and parade including many comic numbers and floats of artistic design, represented the far-reaching work of the Rotary Brock District 7 and the Ladies Auxiliary. "Much commendation is due these organizations which are the result of efficiency of their time and talent to many such worthwhile community projects. Most of the credit is due to the generous citizens who by their donations made this annual function possible", said proud boy scout Santa Claus distributed some 200 bags of goodies to his young admirers in a grand finale at the skating rink. Sponsors were merchants also went all-out with store and window decorations and the spirit of the festive season was in attendant joy and goodwill reigned supreme in this typical rural-Ontario village.

Mrs. I. Thompson W.I. Hostess

The W. I. met at the home of Mrs. Ivan Thompson with 43 women and 11 children present, the meeting opening with the Salvation Army repeating "The Mary Stuart Collect".

Mrs. L. Byers chose "The Christmas Story", for the Scripture reading Roll Call was answered with a gift or donation for the Salvation Army in Bowmanville. Mrs. Taylor reported on the fruit sent to Port Perry Hospital and Mrs. Ashe reported for the Good Cheer Committee.

There was some discussion about the Sewing Class to be held in March and it was decided not to have the "T. B. films" shown as the year's work is already planned.

The program was in charge of Mrs Mervin Graham's group Mrs. I. Thompson gave an instrumental which was greatly enjoyed. Mrs. G. Marlow gave two good short readings, Mrs. A. Turner gave a splendid paper on "Citizenship", basing her remarks on the life of Lester Pearson.

CAN AND WILL CIGARETTE MANUFACTURERS DO SOMETHING TO REMOVE DANGER?

Recent serious allegations by sections of the medical profession concerning the relation of cigarette smoking to cancer of the lung constitute a challenge to the cigarette manufacturing industry. Just how serious this challenge is may be conceived by reading the following excerpt from a statement delivered to a science symposium in New York:

"Prolonged and heavy use of cigarettes increases up to 20 times the risk of developing cancer of the lung," declared Dr. Ernest L. Wynder of Memorial Center's Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research.

He and other medical men spoke on "The Cigarette" before the greater New York dental meeting Tuesday.

He reported that a survey of 1,000 men suffering lung cancer showed only 1.5 per cent were non-smokers.

A definite association between lung cancer and heavy smoking also was found in a survey of the smoking habits of more than 5,000 lung cancer sufferers in the United States, England, Germany, Switzerland, Denmark and Czechoslovakia, he said.

The cigarette-manufacturing industry cannot afford to ignore such serious charges for two reasons: (1) the industry will eventually suffer from the unfavorable publicity and (2) it has a very clear responsibility toward the people who use this narcotic to see that everything possible is done to protect them from physical injury . . . . a responsibility which would, it seems, attract the attention of health authorities if it is neglected.

While on the subject of health authorities (federal and provincial) such statements as have been made in New York must lead citizens to wonder just how effective these bodies are. Why is it, they must be asking themselves, if cigarette smoking is such a dangerous habit, that the authorities have not made some official pronouncements on the subject? Surely political influences would not silence provincial or federal authorities on such a vital issue.

POSTAL RATE INCREASE THE MASTER BLOW

The people of Canada were shocked earlier this week to learn that the Government of the country had authorized an increase in postal rates which many people consider to be exorbitant in the light of circumstances.

The decision to increase the rates is the master blow in a series of reverses suffered by a patient public. First the people in urban areas had inflicted upon them a great reduction in postal delivery service and now they are told they are to be further penalized by charging them more for poorer service.

People living in rural areas have fared little better since, while their service has shown no marked improvement, they are booked to pay the increased rates just like those in urban zones. Their lot may be made somewhat easier to bear by reason of the fact that if their service has not been improved to give some justification for the increase, at least they have not been maltreated by having their service slashed and being charged extra for impaired delivery.

It is perhaps fortunate that no aspiring members of the present government made the proposed postal rate increase a plank in their election platform last August. —fortunate for them that is.

LAWLESS ACTION—

The following comment which has appeared in a contemporary's editorial columns is reprinted for the purpose of exposing it for what it appears to be . . . . indirect support of lawless action, something which is prevalent enough and needs no encouragement.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BEHIND

"The hitch-hiking soldier near Port Arthur who obliged his trucker driver by smashing the headlights of a car coming up behind took rough measures to teach a lesson in care and courtesy. We cannot—nor could the Port Arthur court—wholly condemn him. Thoughtless or inconsiderate people sometimes do not lower their headlights when approaching another car. Many do not bother to lower them when coming up behind a car ahead. Yet the glare of headlights behind, reflected in one's own rear-view mirror, is almost as menacing and troublesome as the blinding top lights of an approaching car.

Common courtesy and care require a driver approaching another car, or perhaps trailing it for many miles, to lower his lights. The Port Arthur truck driver complained to his hitch-hiking soldier-passenger about being blinded by the lights of the car behind. The truck was stopped, the soldier got out, flagged the offending car behind, and then smashed its headlights. He explained: "If people in this part of the country don't know how to dim their headlights I'll show them". He did—with vengeance."

We believe that right-thinking people will agree that there was nothing orderly about the course of events recorded above and that its repetition is to be completely discouraged rather than condoned or even accorded mild approval. What the hitch-hiker did was unlawful even under extreme provocation. If he failed, after stopping the car to have a request to lower the offending headlights complied with, he should have reported the matter to the police.

Laugh It Off...

A very small man married a widow who was unusually large and tall. A few weeks after the wedding one of his friends came upon him looking very glum.

"What's the matter?" asked the friend. "Isn't your new wife agreeable?"

"She's kindness itself", said the small one sadly. "Isn't she a good cook?"

"None better in the world."

"Then what's the matter?"

"I'd be perfectly happy," blurted the little man, "if people didn't call me 'the widow's mite'!"

OTHERS SAY

RESTORE POSTAL EFFICIENCY

The principal advantage of higher postal rates in Canada after April 1 next year will be that airmail service within the country will be provided, where available, at ordinary rates. That is an advance in efficiency on a national basis. But it is being achieved at the cost of efficiency in local, urban mail deliveries. Trans-Canada air transport for first class mail has been in at least partial effect for some time with additional cost to the Post Office Department. Savings were made, however, owing to the one delivery per day in most cities, notably Toronto. That saving also made possible the wage increase to postal workers, an increase which has public approval.

But with the national postal rate going up to five cents and the local delivery rate up to four cents the postal department is under an obligation to restore former efficiency in the latter field. A recent shift of Toronto areas to different postal zones has resulted, for instance, in making the once-a-day delivery in the afternoon instead of the morning, as formerly. This is having the effect of delaying the exchange of correspondence by a full day—a backward step in metropolitan postal service.

Higher postage costs and less service are not consonant with the obligations of the post office to citizens. The post-office is not supposed to be a revenue-producing department. Its proper function is to provide an essential public service at cost. Part of the essential quality of that service is prompt delivery. Unless urban deliveries are improved, the higher local rates cannot mean anything else than that Finance Minister Abbott is in course of changing the post office into a revenue-producing service, without regard to serving public need.

In debating the new rates members of Parliament need not pay too much attention to post office surpluses. They are irrelevant, in the circumstances, to the recent deterioration in local delivery methods. There seems to be little point in jacking up postal costs to make airmail available at ordinary rates when local deliveries are as late as early evening and continue on a non-delivery basis.

THAT GUARANTEED WAGE.

At a meeting at Branford, Ontario, 300 leaders of Canadian locals of the United Auto Workers' union were told by Emil Mazey of Detroit, secretary-treasurer of the international union, that "We must have, and we will obtain, the guaranteed annual wage." Supporting his demand, Mazey told the union leaders that the low incomes of workers have virtually no "liquid savings" and thus "have no cushion to fall back on when unemployment hits."

The top echelon of the UAW may have some good reasons to back their demand for a guaranteed annual wage, but for the record it must be pointed out that the fact that low income workers have no "liquid savings" is an argument against, not for, the guaranteed annual wage for auto workers.

The guaranteed annual wage can be provided only if the employer creates in good times a special fund out of which his unemployed workers may draw their wages in bad times. The steel workers' union has already made this clear in the suggestion that employers pay 10 cents an hour into such a fund. But such payment by the employer must simply be added to the price he charges for his goods. That is, the money which provide the fund through higher consumer prices.

The low income earners for whom Mr. Mazey is concerned are not now eligible for government unemployment insurance benefits, though they pay part of the cost of such benefits through federal taxes. Nor could this large group—in fact, the majority of workers— obtain the guaranteed annual wage sought for steel and auto workers. But if the steel or auto workers gain a guaranteed annual wage, and raise the prices of their products in the process, the low income earners will provide some of the necessary funds. For the record it must be said, therefore, that Mr. Mazey has propounded an argument against, not for, the guaranteed annual wage. —St. Thomas Times-Journal.

SNOBBERY AT OTTAWA

Canadians appreciate dignity at the top levels of their national life. They do not appreciate snobbery, least of all that which discriminates against Canadians themselves. There is, unfortunately, a wide streak of such snobbery at Ottawa. Most of the time, it stays underground, but occasionally it comes up to the surface; for example, at the Garrison Ball on Friday evening, when debutantes of that city were presented to Governor-General Massey.

Ostensibly to improve the tone of the event, Canadian photographers were informed that they could not take pictures from any point closer than the entrance. However, one photographer, Jerry Lile, the American picture weekly, were posted near to the Governor-General. Understandably, the Canadian photographers refused to accept this arrangement, and kept themselves and their cameras at home.

We support their decision, and that of the Ottawa newspapers, which gave the Garrisbn Ball much less space than they usually do. We regret the position in which the episode placed the Governor-General; an ironic one, in the light of his long-time insistence upon Canadianism. But if he knew of, and condoned, the exclusive arrangement with Life, he permitted himself to be placed in that position.

As for the Reserve Army officers in charge of the affair, they should get, at the least, a rebuke from the Defense Department. Canada's army cannot be, as the saying goes, democratic, no army can. But neither should it give the appearance of being supercilliously aristrocratic. Canadians are not that kind of people; and will neither support, nor enlist in, that kind of army.

Trinity Church, Omemee, Nears Completion, Interesting Life of Pastor Is Reviewed

Omemee (PNS) -- When Trinity United Church, Omemee, congregation moves today into their recently-renovated edifice, after holding their services in nearby Coronation Hall since last July, no one will be happier or more proud than their pastor, Rev. Verne E. R. Zufelt. He has been the faithful spiritual guide and a beautiful kitchen and much-needed class room and now the renovation of Trinity church, with the addition of these new and modern kitchen, gives him much satisfaction to feel that both churches are set up for more useful service, in the years to come.

The L. T. Brainton Co. hope to complete their contract in time for the opening on Sunday.

This is an opportune time to pass on to readers a summary of the interesting career of this revered gentleman, whose friends among folk apart from his own congregation are legion, and whose pastoral duties added to his love of horticultural pursuit makes him a man with few spare hours for recreation. Very fond of hunting Rev. Zufelt has the fortune at deer hunting each year successfully.

Born near Coniscon in the County of Prince Edward, he attended Picton Collegiate and entered Queen's University in 1925, the year of Church Union, graduating with the first class to which had taken all their theological training under the direction of the United church. In 1931, he graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Divinity. In his final year he took along with his five regular subjects, five B. D. courses as well and was awarded ten first class honours at examination time in addition to the Hugh Waddell Travelling Scholarship, awarded to the student having the highest standing in the final year of the course, but on condition that the student continue studies outside Canada.

Since he had specialized in Old Testament he decided to go to Marburg University, Germany, and take studies under Prof. Karl Budde, then recognized as the leading authority in Old Testament studies.

Before going abroad he was married to Evelyn McAuley, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. General Hospital, who joined her husband after he had got some understanding of the language and registered in his course. Hardly had his course begun, when England went off the Gold standard and his scholarship money, held in English pounds, was greatly reduced in value. This necessitated Rev. Zufelt's return to Canada without having taken his degree at Marburg.

His first pastorate was at Minden, from where he went to Trinity Church in Kingston, then to Knox Church, Peterboro. While serving at Knox, the war broke out and after serving a year as part-time chaplain along with his work at Knox, he went overseas following his resignation and was posted to the First Anti-Tank Regiment of the First Canadian Division. About a year later he was posted to the Second Canadian Light Anti-Aircraft Regt. and landed with this unit in the invasions of Sicily and Italy. While in Italy he was promoted to the rank of major. He continued with his unit until the end of the war, returning to Canada in November, 1945.

About a month later, the beloved Rev. R. Ed Brown of Omemee, died, and he was supply minister of the Omemee-Bethel circuit until the end of the conference year. In June, he served as minister of the pastorate he accepted and served here since.

While at Omemee his interest in horticulture became most evident. While in Peterboro, he served as president of the Horticultural Society and, while in England, was a Fellow of the Royal Horticultural Society, he availed himself of every opportunity to note British methods.

In Holland he took many groups of soldiers on the bulb fields to demonstrate the growing methods used there. At Omemee, Rev. Zufelt not only grows a large variety of bulbs by the thousands but exhibits flowers and vegetables at Fall Fairs He has taken many colored slides by Kodachrome slides all over the countryside, and it has just been learned that he has been elected to succeed Mr. Russel Heard, Woodville, as horticultural director of the district.

There is an side of Rev. Zufelt's ministry that he is always proud of, and that is his achievements in Y.P.U. work. At Kingston, at Knox and here in Omemee he has been able to boast, at one time or another, of having the strongest Union in the Bay of Quinte Conference.

For five years he has served as Dean of the Leadership School held at Cobourg and this year a new camp at Quin-Mo-Lac near Madoc. In this latter camp he serves as a director and is the lad and his young people who built the first camper's cabin on that site and financed it.

Rev. and Mrs. Zufelt have five children, Joan, nurse at Civic Hospital, Peterboro, and born while at Minden; Marion, attending Peterboro Normal, and born at time of move to Kingston; Eileen, attending Omemee High School, and born at Kingston; Verna, attending Omemee High School, and born at Peterboro; John, in Grade 8, and born while at Omemee and below school age.

Fraternally Rev. Zufelt is a member of Minden Lodge AF and AM. and honorary chaplain of Bethel LOL 294.

Pretty Bazaar

The ladies of the Anglican church in town are truly most industrious, we believe. Aside from serving a delicious tea, to their many guests, they make articles of every description, Christmas ornaments and decorations. They had junior-size Christmas trees for table decoration and they were really sweet. Their Christmas decorations were soon picked up and we noticed they had the nails with a ticket attached "sold" on them. The small concerns would make anyone get the Christmas spirit even though the weather stays mild.

Too Weeks Left

Christmas will be here before we are ready. When one looks at the calendar we can easily count the days we have left. Two weeks to live off for curling or other activities and time seems so very short. The only way is to do your shopping in an organized way. Write it down on paper if you have to but that list will soon disappear if you check off a few a day. Then you will find it easy to shop for and the assortment this year makes it easier still. Perhaps you have a number of men for so many you liked that is was hard to choose. If all else fails you can put them in a hat and draw to solve the problem.

Lynden Valley

Did you ever drive through Lynden Valley? It is a lovely drive that takes you through a delightful valley of farms and lovely scenery. We turned north from Oakwood along a wild west theme, space toys, circus toys. And sets for young carnetists.

Here are some of the newer items in the toy shops this year.

For the girls . . . dolls with washable faces, and cosmetics for them, a bath-cozy for dolly, a shopping cart with plastic dishes and a grocery cart with miniatures of the things modern mothers buy for them. Baking sets and vacuum cleaners that actually vacuum.

For the boys . . . a miniature carwash station, a plumber's kit, myriad models of cars. A toy jet plane that really is a glider, and a boy-sized monkey doll.

Boys or girls like one of the new miniature instruments, a miniature of the golden musical instruments that play a full octave of notes . . . alphabet games, puzzles and easels, or records . . . or books.

If you don't want to buy toys for the youngsters, how about one of those new model railroads with realistic changes color when soap is rubbed on it and then turns white again. Or a new miniature train set that uses moving shadow pictures on the wall. Of course the things for the children mentioned above are not unwrapped under the Christmas tree always are good bets. A new sweater or jacket, a pair of shoes, new bags, boots or umbrellas. You can give any of these the personal touch each could distinguish it by just have his or her name put on it. And, if you're sure there's room for it in a home, perhaps the most practical present of all is a new little car or girl old enough to care for it . . . a live pet.

Make sure before the pet you're family gift list.

Everywhere you look there are lovely gifts.

You know about the wardrobe staples Mom can't have too many of . . .

Glove cleaner, a lovely evening lingerie, luggage, jewelry perfume, new fittings for her purse. If she has such a good sense of these, she can always use another blouse, or a new leather belt or a bright scarf or apron. If she likes to pamper herself, pamper her with an attractive evening bag, a pretty veil with sparkles on it . . . a new hostess gown, lounging pajamas or a new breakfast coat. Give her a bracelet with a pair of gloves. A pretty pin and a scarf to match. If she can afford it in small doses, like say a mink collar in a gilded box. How about a basket of goodies for her and a dishes just for her, and a note promising to serve her breakfast in bed on a day she is busy a month throughout the coming year.

Well Harnessed

We smirked a bit as we met a family coming down the steps of a department store, the mother had the small child on the harness and as she started down the stairs she lifted the child by the harness and carried it down. "What do you think you are carrying Ma—a bag of whoot?" Then we all chuckled! Junior didn't mind it a bit. In fact he rather liked it. It was almost as good as a Ferris wheel. He may end up being a parachute jumper.

Stock Fast

There are a lot of honest people in Lindsay. One man had a child's wedged in that had been left there because it wouldn't go in. It apparently had been used as a money box. It saved us a penny for our copper wouldn't fit in with the nickle.

New Store

Many of us have still to see our new Loblaw store. Not that we didn't try to get in, but the crowds held us back. Every time we drove the store stated it has been interesting to watch it materialize. It must be lovely now it is ready to do. The grand on opening day seemed to think it was up to their expectations and didn't mind standing in the cold to get inside to see it.

Men Only!

A new wrinkle in a Toronto department store is a shop that caters to men only for their Christmas shopping. No women are allowed, except the clerks, and her must be borne around and choose something for his wife. The clerk is allowed to suggest things and all he has to do is to tell her which gift to wrap up. The clerk wraps it up with all the trimmings and hubby pays and gets out. He can't go in but the first time stores have special service like this, but one chap found he and was very pleased with his purchase. Of course a fur coat might be a little obvious, but for smaller fry it is certainly a help to the male and make her happy.

Colored Hosiery!

Hosiery industry officials are predicting that some spring pastel colored hose will show beneath the shorter skirts.

Pastels seem to be featured for the experts say --- are lilac, pink, cornflower blue, and the pale green shades.

The idea may seem a little startling at first, but the manufacturers add a comforting note. They say the pastels are now so wispy-sheer that the skin tone subdues the color of the hosiery, leaving only a delectable blush of color.

Suggestions From BUP

But between now and spring, there should try on some of the new shades the better, if you're to be ready for Christmas with no last minute rush.

Remember, a gift certificate is a bit of a bug-bear to many women, but to help you choose appropriate gifts for the girls on your list . . . here are some suggestions:

Color and glitter around everywhere Almost anything you buy this month has them. One box is printed under the Christmas tree. And "gay" probably is the word for what Christmas gifts for the ladies on your list should be.

Here are some of the things to look for: A gay, glitter-y cosmetic or costume jewelry has an old look. Precious and semi-precious stones are revived in the fashionable gold and silver, in period style settings.

Cameos are making a big comeback. There are watch-fob combination pins, and pin-watches. Tiny wide bracelets everywhere. The earrings are longer, more sparkly and more elaborate than ever before.

In accessories . . . any woman who has a real eye for color will collect lace shawls appearing on the gift counters this season. The paisley shawl is another item which will be in the scarves and shawls in silk or wool.

Lace blouse and lingerie counters feature colors to rival the rainbow. Gloves are blazoned with stripes or dots or frills . . . and many come with scarves to match.

Belts are bright as mirrors . . . made of metals beads or sequins. There are also the contour belts, of elastic to mold the figure's waist for wear on dresses or skirts.

The same goes for sweaters for day or evening wear. Bright, flashy. Handbags, by and large, are bigger, and the carpet bag . . . that 1920 style . . . reappears. Some have been brought up to date as a 29th century delight.

Equally glamor galore in at-home wear. Look for jewelled toreador pants for the teen-age miss or the young married woman on your list. Perhaps you'll find the short, quilted jackets to go with them, too.

Also for the small fry are gifts in every fabric from felt to velvet serve the woman who likes to entertain casually but dramatically.

Also for the woman on your list are the gifts for her home. Electric blanket or clock radio rate high on the list.

Or perhaps you'd like to choose one of the cheese board serving trays with decorative tile in the center.

She might like china knobs for her bed room door . . . with matching key plates, or a pillow . . . one of those wedge-shaped ones . . . or set of mats to protect the dresser's ces knives, with their blunt, stubby handles.

Also in there's always the gadget for holding a roast steady while it's being carved. They're nice in silver and a gift from treasure.

The perfume companies have a dazzling display of fine scents on sale at this season . . . beautifully packaged for the Christmas trade.

You can find all kinds of combinations, like perfume and sachet . . . dusting talc and bath powders, soap and lotion . . . in fact an endless selection to choose from.

Travelling cases for the woman who globe-trots are always good . . . and cases in which to keep her toilet articles neat and ready.

It's a shoppers dream-world this Christmas, with thousands of things to look at and choose from . . . but get there early, it won't last.

Lady Hughes IODE Holds Christmas Supper Party

The Lady Hughes Chapter I.O.D.E. held a Christmas Supper party at Moose Hall on Wednesday evening. The tables looked very festive in their Christmas trimmings and an excellent supper was provided by Mrs. G. McElroy and her committee. After the supper, while the tables were being cleared, a word contest kept everyone interested. Mrs. J. Tompkins was the lucky one. Miss Bernia Golden won the prize for the lucky chair.

The Regent, Mrs. M. Sleep, welcomed the large number of members and thanked them for their gaily wrapped food parcels which will go into Christmas baskets for the needy.

The Regent then reviewed the activities of the Chapter, which have taken place in the past month. The lady was the presentation of "bursary" and awards to pupils of the Collegiate at the Commencement exercises. On Remembrance Day the Chapter laid a wreath at the Cenotaph. Recently several members of the Chapter motored to Peterboro for a theatre party to give an evening of entertainment.

Mrs. M. Beatty asked for volunteers to make candy for the Institute for the Blind to deliver at Christmas. A donation of $15.00 to the Brownies for their Christmas party was agreed upon.

Plans for Christmas presents to the Institute for the Blind were left to the discretion of the educational secretary Mrs W. Broadfoot.

The entertainment part of the program moved on very quickly with much music and hilarity. Nursery Rhymes done musically, dances and songs, all done by members of the Chapter were most entertaining and humorous. Mrs. P. Hoar sang the prologue to the Christmas Scene "Bells", accompanied by Mrs. G. Cook Mrs H. Kennedy, was lucky enough to win a set intricately wrapped Christmas gift.

At the end of the program everyone lined up to receive gifts from the pet presents from under the Christmas tree.

The members all gave a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. G. McElroy for both the lovely supper and the excellent program.

Door-to-Door Singing of Christmas Carols

By Cameron Y.P.U.

Cameron (PNS) - The weekly Y.P.U. meeting was held in the United Church school rooms with an attendance of about 30 Miss Carol Arbuckle was in the chair in the absence of the president, Miss Lorraine Coppins.

The meeting opened with the singing of the hymn. Donald Delong read the Scripture and June Worsley offered prayer. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted and the roll call was answered with a Christmas hymn or carol. Miss Carol Arbuckle gave a short paper.

Plans were made for carol singing by the door-to-door method and a Christmas season. An old-fashioned hay-ride was planned also for the end of the month. The business period was conducted, followed by lunch.

Louisa Jones

'Scrooge's Christmas'
To Be Presented

Principal of King Albert school, Roy Neville, told "The Post" this morning that the play "Scrooge's Christmas", based on the story by Charles Dickens, will be presented by the Grade VII pupils at the regular meeting of the Home and School Association next Monday night.

Later on this month, he says the H and S are presenting an evening of Christmas entertainment for the children of his school. The evening will include appropriate Christmas films.

Mrs. Grantin McKay Re-elected Glenarm W.M.S. President

Glenarm (PNS) -Mrs. Wm McIn, nis was hostess to members of the Missionary Society for their December meeting, where there was a splendid attendance for the meeting with the president, Mrs. G. Mc-Kay occupying the chair.

The president opened the meeting with the Call to Worship and the ladies used the Service of Worship for Christmas found in the Glad Tidings. Mrs. Ross Hamilton and Mrs. A. B. McMurrick with the theme, "Let us now go even unto Bethlehem", Mrs. McKay read the poem on the Birth of Jesus by James Metcalfe, after which all joined in singing "Hark the Herald Angels Sing". Mrs. Linden Sinclair read from the Scripture, followed by the prose readings of the president and Mrs. George Beal respectively as found in the Worship Service after which all joined in unison for the "Christmas Collect".

Following the worship Service Mrs. Clifford Douglas read a very interesting article on "How the Bibls is sent Throughout the World", and Mrs. Will Nesbitt gave a few thoughts on the year's ending and the New Year's beginning, Mrs. McKay suggesting "to resolve to live as we believe God would have us to live and to ask for His help and continued guidance and re-direction."

Mrs. Clifford Hargrave read the minutes of the November meeting and the business arising from them Roll Call. Nearly all present responded with Christmas in mind for Christ Bible verse. Mrs. Joe F. Nesbitt gave the treasurer's report, after which the collection was received by Amos Hoyle and all repeated "The Apostles Creed" in unison. Benediction.

As this was the election of officers the president declared the chair vacant and Mrs. Linden Sinclair was asked to preside for election of officers.

Mrs. Jamieson expressed her deepest thanks to all the officers on behalf of the Society for their leadership during the past year. The following were unanimously elected to carry on for another year. The officers for 1954 are President -Mrs. Grantin McKay; 1st Vice-president- Mrs. Clifford Douglas; 2nd vice-president -Mrs. Wm. Brown; Secretary -Mrs. Gordon Brown; Treasurer -Mrs. Linden Sinclair; Press secretary -Mrs. Ingila Jamieson; Glad Tidings Secretary -Mrs. Angus McMurrick; Supply secretary -Mrs. Ross Helpers -Mrs. Thornbury; Mrs. Wm McInnis; Organist -Mrs. Joe E. Nesbitt; Mrs. Ross Hamilton.

Mrs. Clifford Douglas, Mrs. Linden Sinclair and Mrs. Will Nesbitt were then elected to the executive meeting and the ladies for January are Mrs. Wm Hoyle Mrs. Mac Murchison and Mrs. Fred Wilson.

Thanks were extended to Mrs. Jamieson for presiding at the election of officers, and to Mrs. McInnis for the lovely tea after which the meeting was closed with the Benediction. A dainty lunch was served by the ladies and the helpers at a social half hour.

Lucky Escape When Car Overturns

Petterlaw (PNS) -Misses Shirley Bagshaw and Roberta Corner were the victims of serious injury when the car in which they were riding overturned on the highway about one mile north of Black Creek Pioneer Village. Travelling west, the brakes were applied to avoid hitting a cat on the highway. The pavement was slippery, which caused the car to sway from one side of the highway to the other, before overturning on the opposite side of the pavement.

The girls crawled through a front window and were taken to hospital in police. No damage was caused to the car. Constable B. Reid, of Beaverton O.P.P. investigated.

Otto Spencer

The death occurred on Thursday December 10th at his home in Manchaney, of Otto Spencer, aged 69 years, following a lingering illness. Born in Marmora Township, the only son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Spencer, the deceased was a well-known and respected farmer all his lifetime. He retired in March of this year due to illness and moved to Manchaney.

He had been a faithful member of the United Church, serving as an elder, steward and trustee and was on the Session Board of Electors. He was also a member of L.O.L. No. 1022

He is survived by his wife, the former Winnifred Lowes, and one sister, Mrs. Lloyd Kennedy.

The funeral service, in charge of the Reverend Lawrence Norman, is being held from the United Church on Monday, with burial in Yeheteen Cemetery.

Miss Jean Samells Gives Account Of Coronation Trip

Nestleton (PNS) -The W. A of Nestleton United Church held a most successful hot pot supper in the church basement, followed by coloured movie films of the Coronation by Miss Jean Samells, of Port Perry.

Mr. Leonard Joblin introduced the speaker, who is well-known in Cartwright, and Jean explained the trip which she won through Junior Farmers and her academic standing. Fifty-nine girls were given an all-expense tour of England, Ireland, Scotland and France with the Coronation spectacle the highlight, under the generous gesture of Mr. George Weston, of Weston biscuit fame. They were outfitted with similar suits, dresses, purses, hats and two sets of luggage, each identified by a certain number, Mr. Weston's, and were treated to honorees of these tours. After the Coronation, 50 English girls toured Canada from coast to coast.

The girls travelled 16,000 miles, leaving Montreal May 18 and were met by reporters at Shannon at one half weeks. The joys of the boat travel and amusing details as 50 females shared 12 bathrooms, suitcases passed through customs and were mistaken for all manner of folk, Buckingham Palace, the zoo, etc., were related. There were pictures of the two bus drivers who were among them. The miles around England of Madam Tousaud's Waxworks where they unrelled two life likenesses of Prime Minister Sir. Laurent and Governor General Vincent Massey and of the covered stand to which they walked 16 blocks and where they sat, rain or shine, on the day were served. The pictures of the Golden Coach, of the crowds and decorations, of the magnificent well-taken and the shots of pastoral scenery, ancient castles, famous buildings in the various cities and places under the interesting. Truly these girls had received almost a college education on their eventful trip and the thanks of Mr. Weston for the privilege of hearing and seeing the films were indeed fortunate to have had the opportunity of travelling right along with them. Very hearty applause was given to Jean for her splendid presentation.

Installation At LOL 41, Emily, A Pioneer Lodge

Omemee (PNS) -- The annual meeting of LOL 41 Emily was held on Thursday evening with a good attendance.

Melville Moncrief, District Master, installed the officers for the ensuing year, installation, which resulted as follows: W.M., Stanley McCoil; D.M., David Tully; chaplain, Ronald Pringle; recording secretary, Nelson McConnell; treasurer, Robert McAdam; lecturers, Roland Bennett and Ivan Watson; committee, Melville Moncrief, Walter Magee, Herbert Jackson, Gerald McColl and Robert Watson.

At the close of the meeting, a social hour was enjoyed and lunch served. The lodge room and banners date back over 113 years since its institution, is one of the thriving lodges of the district and county and as well as many young men on its roll are also found veterans such as W. Bro. Walter Magee, who was initiated into the 189 year. Harry Fowler was initiated about the same time W. Bros. Robert Eachern 1st Vice-Mrs. J. McIntyre and Vice -Mrs Mary J. MacEachern. Secretary -Mrs. W. McFadden. Treasurer -Mrs Rachel MacEachern. Home Helpers Secretary -Mrs. J. Campbell; Supply Secretary -Miss Rachel MacEachern; Welfare -Mrs. Welfare -Mrs J. McInnis, Mrs W. Brimbecom, Glad Tidings Secretary- Mrs. McFadden; Publicity Secretary -Mrs. A. McInnis. The meeting closed with prayer.

The annual meeting of the Women's Aid was held following the W.M.S. meeting with president, Mrs. J. J. Boynton presiding, who opened the meeting with a splendid devotional. The Roll Call was answered with a verse of Scripture containing the word "WORK". The minutes of the November meeting were read and approved and the treasurer's report given. The report was encouraging. A test were counted and the 1952 side were the winners. The talent money was counted, also the birthday pennies and the waist measure, all the receipts were very gratifying.

Mrs. W. McFadden occupied the chair for the election of officers and the meeting was closed with the Minnah Benediction and a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses.

Woodville Library Receives Donation

Lornaville (PNS) -The Lornaville-Argyle W. I. held their annual Christmas meeting in the Argyle school. The meeting opened with the singing of "O Canada" followed by asking the chair. The Ode was repeated and business was then dispensed.

The W. I. ladies were thanked for their co-operation in helping make the Rotary Club banquet a huge success. A vote of thanks was extended the new Woodville Public Library.

Mrs. F. Spodden took charge of the program with the help of Mrs Frank Goard and Mrs. Duncan Mc-Arthur. Mrs. Goard read a duet, a selection of Christmas Carols on the piano with all joining in the singing. Mrs. D. McLeod gave an instrumental Mrs. Russel played selections while the exchange of Christmas gifts was being carried on.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem and a lovely lunch was served by those in charge.

Local Crowns' Church Parade At S.A. Citadel

A very happy Youth Weekend was conducted at The Salvation Army corps of Lindsay by Capt. First Lieutenant J. McMorine, of the Divisional office for the Mid-Ontario Division.

Beginning with a rally of young people at the Citadel on Saturday night, when Lieutenant McNeilly gave a very instructive blackboard talk. Sunday morning saw a very smart company of Brownies march in the Citadel to the strains of "Onward Christian Soldiers" for their Divine Service Parade. Parents and friends joined with them in the opening song, "Accept My Youth". This was followed by a season of prayer, and the scripture reading.

The Brownies came to the platform and gave the Brownie Promise and sang "Lord Make My Life a Little Light." The promise was led by Brown Owl, Mrs. Ivan Drury, who also accompanied at the piano. Lieut. McNeilley gave a short message to the young people and children. The Singing Company sang "Tell me The Stories of Jesus". A solo by Mrs. Brookes, "Jesus Loves Me, I Know" was rendered by Lieutenant McNeilley, stepping down from the platform, told the story to the Brownies of the "Gideon Bible" and exhorted his hearers to regard the Bible as a precious treasure to be read and stored up in the heart.

A good crowd gathered in the Citadel Sunday School room on Sunday afternoon, where the Young People's Company under the direction of P. Sgt. -Major Bryon W. Bull joyfully sang songs of praise and listened attentively to the lesson on the story of Joseph.

This was followed by the interesting Enrolment of Junior Soldiers, eight in number, who made their public pledge under the guidance of Lieutenant I. McNeilley, and were accepted as Junior Soldiers of the local corps under the Flag of Salvation.

The exciting moment of the blessing of the record for attendance followed, the young girl who brought the most newcomers officiating.

Miss M. McEachern Hostess For Annual Meeting

Argyle (PNS) -The annual meeting of the W.M.S. was held at the home of Miss Mary J. McEachern. "The president, Mrs. Robert Eachern, presided and opening the meeting by singing a hymn, followed by the Scripture lesson taken by the president from Matt 2:1-12.

The Roll Call was answered with the name of a beautiful gift in which the word "Peace". The offering was taken, the copper jar was passed and the treasurer's report was given. The minutes of the November meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. W. McFadden, and correspondence. An invitation to attend the Kirkfield Thanksforfering meeting was read and a member chosen to take the prayer. Study topics suggested were taken and Bells were handed in and counted.

The president thanked everyone for their co-operation during the year and declared the chair vacant and Mrs. J. McInnis took the chair for the election of officers for 1954 as follows: -President -Mrs. R. Mac-Eachern; 1st Vice -Mrs. J. McIntyre and Vice -Mrs Mary J. MacEachern. Secretary -Mrs. W. McFadden. Dandruff Remedy

Dissolve one ounce of flower of sulphur in one quart of soft water. Do not use it until it is thoroughly mixed and settled. Apply it at night.

Liquid Glue

To make liquid glue put naphtha into a bottle and dissolve shellac in it to the consistency desired. It makes an effective liquid glue.

The Oven

If you have no thermostat on your oven test the heat by laying a piece of white writing paper in it. The paper will turn a golden brown in 5 minutes in a "moderate" oven, and a dark brown in 5 minutes in a "hot" oven.

Silverware

Drop a few small pieces of camphor in the box that contains the silverware and it will prevent it from tarnishing.

Weak Ankles

Weak ankles will be strengthened if bathed daily in a solution of salt, water and alcohol. Beneficial results will be noticeable after a few applications.

Rattling Windows

If felt weather stripping is tacked or pasted on the sills, inside a door or window that rattles, the annoyance will be stopped.

Whitewashing

Try rubbing some dry soap on the goods where the threads are to be drawn. The threads will put out easily and not injure the goods.

Furniture Bruises

Soak a piece of blotting paper in warm water and place it over the bruise and apply a warm iron until all moisture is gone. Repeat if necessary.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q How should I dry a wet fur coat?

A. When one has been caught in the rain and the fur coat is very wet, never try to dry it near the heat. Instead, place the coat on a hanger and hang by an open window. When dry brush the coat thoroughly with a stiff brush.

Q. How can I prevent bubbles in cake batter?

A. Be sure never to let a cake batter stand until it has been mixed, as this causes air bubbles to form making the cake coarse-grained.

Q. How can I prevent clothes from freezing when hanging them on the line during cold weather?

A. Add a handful of salt in which the rinsing water, it will keep them from freezing.

Q. How can I clean the mop thoroughly?

A. Try boiling it in an old pail half full of water to which one tablespoon of pie has been added. Rinse thoroughly, and the mop will be like new.

Q. How can I make use of the juices from canned or pickled fruit?

A. Always save these juices, as they can be added to the water in which the ham is boiled.

Q. How can I keep colored handkerchiefs from fading in color?

A. Soak the colored handkerchiefs in salt water for a short time before washing them.

Mystery Flash In Night Sky

OPP Here Check, Source Unknown

A mysterious bright, green flash in the sky southeast of Lindsay Friday night has not been explained as yet. The local detachment of the OPP received a call from Const. Tom Fitzpatrick checked into the matter for over an hour but nothing was found.

The OPP here received their first call at 8.04 p.m. from High Smith, of Dorneyville, who was proceeding east on the Downeyville Road. Mr. Smith said that the flash of light looked like a plane exploding or in flames.

The second call was from a Peterboro OPP cruiser near Fowler's Corners at 8.05 p.m. who had seen the green light. They said that it might have been a distress flare.

Saskatchewan, Manitoba and the Yukon will be invited later to take part in a common effort to check the disease.—(CP)

Ald. McQuarrie Gives Paper On Taxation

St. Andrew's Men's Club held their regular meeting Thursday with a large attendance. Wm. C. Fullerel, president, was in charge of the meeting.

After the preliminary business, Ald. J. A. McQuarrie gave an excellent paper on the outline of taxation on the federal-provincial-municipal levels. These differences were fully set out, he explained, in the British North America Act but have been modified in recent years owing to wars and economic changes.

In the discussion following, it was pointed out that the first tax proposals in 1791 were made by the Legislative Assembly which was composed mostly of farmers who suggested a tax on spirits. The Legislative Council however, composed mostly of merchants overruled this proposal and substituted a tax on real estate. As a result no tax was levied and the officials of those days had to wait for their pay. It was also noted that taxes are levied in these days not only for revenue but to control inflation and other economic upheavals.

A doubt arises

London Dec. 12 --(UDP) -- Word has leaked out of Buckingham Palace that Princess Margaret Rose lies is brooding over how Santa Claus gets up and down the chimney.

Charles, it is learned is a puzzled young man. He is wondering how Santa manages always to find the right stocking. He is, in fact on the verge of doubt.

Queen Mother Elizabeth his nurses and governess are doing their best to dispel that doubt for one more Christmas for at Charles' side is another five-year-old Princess who is thrilled at the prospect of a present from bearded Santa.

The Queen, it is said, would certainly convey any information he has on the subject to Anne.

Parked Truck Collided With By Car

Constable John Henley of the Lindsay Police Department Sat. morning investigated an accident on Kent Street, in which 1953 damage was done to a car and truck. The Chief of Police says charges are pending.

The Department states that a Trent Valley Baking Co. truck, driven by Mr. Hector Clark of Lindsay, was parked on the south side of Kent Street by the OK Cafe, when a car, driven by Robert Everson of Lindsay, proceeding east on Kent Street, was in collision with the rear of the truck.

Police say the impact of the collision pushed the truck over the curb and clipped off a parking meter there.

Damage to the truck has been estimated at $15 to the right rear door and bumper, and to the Everson car, $150.

Scenes From The Earliest American Movies

More than 3500 movies from the turn of the century era are now being re-recorded on film. The original films have long since disintegrated, but the Library of Congress in Washington have paper prints of the films and the movie industry was requested to refilm them all on celluloid. The four scenes above are reproduced from some of these early movies. Upper left: "The Gatling Gun" by Edison; 1897. Upper right: "The International Contest for the Heavyweight Championship, Squires vs. Burns, at Ocean View, California," by the Miles Brothers, 1897. Legion Blood Donor Service Officially Opened Here Friday

The Sir Sam Hughes, Branch 67, Canadian Legion Blood Donor Registry officially opened Friday night at Legion Hall.

Twenty-seven members of the Branch were typed and grouped. The Branch has over 500 members and the executive hopes that all members will be soon carrying their card signifying their blood group.

The purpose of the Registry, the executive explains, is to have available on short notice Voluntary Blood Donors for all emergency calls. Originally the Registry was intended for Veterans and their dependents, widows of Veterans and their children. However, with such spontaneous support from the Members, the Registry may soon become available as a Community Emergency Service.

Comrade Dr. Crowe, Dr. Corbin, Comrade Nursing Sister E. M. Lowe and Comrade Mrs. Neil Cooper, Jr., are executing the work in connection with the Registry.

It was announced that the next call for donors from members of the Canadian Legion will go out early in January. The members of the Ross Ward Cook post are called upon and given many blood donations pending inauguration of the Registry.

License Suspended For Life!

Guelph, Dec. 12 (BUP) -- A Guelph magistrate has suspended the driver's license of a Toronto man for life.

Fifty-eight year old Duncan Malcolm Ferguson of Ridge Avenue, who is formerly of Stratford, told the court yesterday he had been -- as he put it "exhilarated" -- the time he escaped Ontario Provincial Police by driving at speeds up to 100 miles an hour.

He finally crashed the car into a field and escaped. However, later the car police discovered he had been voluntarily admitted to the Ontario Hospital at Whitby.

As magistrate Telford that the accused suffered from maniac depression and had irresponsible periods. He added that he had been in several hospitals for treatment but the court was told.

Constable Wilfred O'Hara told of the wild chase that started at 12.30 a.m. August 30th as a car took a corner at Rockwood too fast and, almost struck a parked car.

He said the car went through Rockwood at 60 miles per hour and during the 45 mile chase cars were forced off roads to avoid being hit, every effort was taken to bring the car to the side of the road and the driver failed to observe stop signs. He finally skidded 95 feet and crashed through a stone wall, then escaped.

Further Reports On Uranium In Haliburton Area Appear But Source Is Undisclosed

More talk about uranium finds in Haliburton County continues to come out in the press. The source of the information which is contained in the stories does not appear in Peterborough press is not disclosed but here is the article as a matter of reading interest. Quote the Peterborough Examiner:

"One of the richest samples of uranium ore ever seen in this district was pulled out in a drill core on the Faraday uranium property at the north end of Bow Lake a few miles south of Bancroft this week.

"Some 1,800 acres were staked three years ago making it probably the oldest uranium find in the district. But nothing was done to drill or develop it until this year. Now there are two drills probing the rocky or filled terrain a short distance from the Bancroft highway.

"Two other finds a few miles west, Centre Lake and Macassa are quickly developing into the first of the uranium mines in Haliburton county.

"The pioneer development in this area, Faraday Uranium which is controlled by Ventures Limited via Charlebois Lake Uranium holdings, has had satisfactory results from fall sampling in the underground workings it was announced this week.

"Plans are proceeding for extensive underground development in the new year. This property is of local interest; it was staked in July, 1951, by garageman Garfet Burns and Bob Steele, both of Peterborough.

"Adjoining Centre lake is the Macassa-controlled Croft Uranium which is also having excellent results. From core of a diamond-drilling program. Thirty-five holes have been completed and to date they have outlined an ore zone about 1,000 feet long with the structure still open for exploration to the south. Croft lies about one mile north of Centre Lake. The ore structure of both properties appears to be the same, officials say, and a healthy tonnage from both can be expected.

NEW MAP

"In a new district mining map of Haliburton county, issued by a firm of Toronto mining map makers, Cardiff township has been staked out in blocks of various mining companies and prospecting syndicate. There is some ground open on the northeast section and a narrow strip on the west side.

"Adjoining Monmouth township has been staked fairly solidly in the centre with Tory Hill as its community centre.

"The Faudasi uranium field has never been as spectacular as those in remote areas but it is important enough for the Northern Miner to feature it this week on its front page.

"It is known that existing ore in that area is not of high grade but

A spot of comment

Editor,
"THE THURSDAY POST",
LINDSAY, Ontario.
Dear Sir:

The following price-picture (from the July 18th, 1879 edition of the Omemee Herald) as indicated in that story carrying "Good or bad old days?" in your Oct. 28 issue, tempts me to a spot of comment: "People are often wont to say it was cheaper to live the old days" . . . and it seems they are right, that is, taking a look at prices. At that time, for instance, the local market quoted eggs at 9 cents per dozen; hay $10 per ton; fall wheat at $1.00 to $1.10 per bus.; spring wheat 90 cents to 95 cents per bus.; but as 10 to 11 cents per lb. (no margins in those days), meats from 12 to 15 cents per lb., potatoes at $1.00 per bag."

It seems to me that too many of us, these days, tend to be 90 price-conscious that we forget to keep both eyes, open, in attempting to measure living costs at widely separated times?

I suggest that it is desirable to look at "both sides of the page of the ledger? As comparatively recently as 1936, for instance, it is recorded that the C.P.R., had 80,000 employees "with a monthly payroll of $4,000,-000". It will be noted that these workers - (appropriately described as the "aristocrats in the ranks of the organized labor") - who would be well ahead of the rank-and-file workers in 1936, averaged $50 per month in take-home-pay? I am not aware of their working hours, but one would be on very safe ground in assuming that they would be nudging half again as many hours as the 1953 work-week?

Finally, it would be interesting indeed if someone could supply the earning-power of the average gainfully employed Canadian in 1879? If this could be brought to the 1953 spotlight, I'm thinking it would flash a curious and revealing light on that "spring wheat" valuation of "90 cents to 95 cents per bus."? As those folk eat twice as much bread as we do today -and remembering today's average earnings of more than $50 a week, the "cheapness" citation makes today's $2. per bus. for the same vital stuff look decidedly modest?

Maryknoll Spokesman Suggests Subsidization Charge Unfounded

The Editor,
Lindsay Post,
Dear Sir:—

In your correspondent's column of Dec. 10th, Council was taken to task for considering a subsidy to Maryknoll building project. We would like to state that the Council of 1953 has done one of the most careful governing bodies as far as finances were concerned and was always most considerate of the taxpayer's dollar. In all matters of finance, don't drive in, business at the post-office and the toy shops falls off.

The appearance of Santa Claus Albert Reinke —hasn't much to do most of the year but when the holiday season rolls around he is kept busy re-sending cards that arrive from all over the world to be post-marked "Santa Claus."

He also is kept busy with the thousands of letters addressed by tiny hands to "Santa Claus".

And this year one of the first to arrive came from behind the Iron Curtain and was written in Russian.

Santa Claus

The people of Santa Claus like everything about Christmas but snow . . . they don't even want to dream about a white Christmas.

Santa Claus is the small, Indiana town famous for its postmark and toy shops which commercialize on its name. The town thrives on good weather.

If it snows people don't drive their cars into Santa Claus and if tourists don't drive in, business at the post-office and the toy shops falls off.

Light Offering Of Poultry At Market

Prices for large eggs per dozen at the Lindsay Farmers' Market on Saturday were 5 cents cheaper than last week, 45c. The price asked for small, 33c, and for medium, 40c, were the same as last week.

Other produce offered was at the following prices: roasting fowl, 40c per pound; 6oc; boiling fowl, drawn, per pound 50c; turkeys, each, 10c and 15c; potatoes, per 8-quart basket 70c; carrots, per 8-quart basket, 30c.

An interesting display at the Market was of plywood articles made by Mr. Hunter, 40 Lake St., Lindsay. His mother told "The Post" that her son made the tiny racks, flower pot holders, shelves and knick-knack shelves as a hobby. These were offered at prices from 35c to $2.00.

Native Son Of Bethany Promoted

Bethany (PNS) —Bethany folks heard with pleasure the announcement of the appointment of Mr. Carroll D. O McGill as Superintendent of the Bank of Toronto with head office in Toronto. Mr. McGill is a former Bethany boy, beginning his banking career in the local branch. His high school training was received at Lindsay Collegiate. His first appointment as a manager was in one of the Montreal branches, later he spent several years in Vancouver, B. C., as manager there. He returned to Toronto about a year ago as chief supervisor for Quebec and Western branches. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. O. H. McGill and his wife is the former Jean McKinnon, of Bethany. They have two daughters, Mrs. Frank Price of Quesnell, B. C., and Miss Joan McGill, nurse-in-training at Civic Hospital in Peterborough.

Car Collides With Rear Of Truck

The Lindsay Police Department says that at 12:15 a.m. Sat. a truck driven by Ivan Woollacott, of Cambray, was proceeding along Lindsay Street S. and when this truck stopped, a car driven by William J. Broad, of Cresswell, was in collision with the rear of the truck. Mr. Broad was driving a taxi owned by Delmar Rollins.

Estimated damage to the taxi has been set at $225. Damage to the truck was negligible, the Department says.

The investigating officer was Constable John Henley.

Chief Hunter says charges are pending.

Carols Feature Boy Choristers' Program Here

St. Michael's Cathedral Choristers, under the direction of Rt. Rev. J. E. Ronan, D.D., LL.S.C., M.C.G., delighted their audience last Thursday at the Academy Theatre. Here they were sponsored by St. Mary's Parent-Teacher Association.

This is the second year in a row that this group have performed here, both times in programs of Christmas music. The well-trained tenor and boy soprano voices form a fine background to the sweet boy soprano.

The first part of the program was dedicated to Christmas carols from many lands, including France (Once in a Garden Green), England (Friendly Beasts), Mexico (Shepherds and the Inn and French Canada (Whence, O Shepherd Maiden?), being opened with Msgr. Ronan's "Christmas Bells" Overture. The liturgical, "Sanctus and Benedictus" (Mass Brevis), a Boy Soprano Solo "Song of Joy" by John Kela, and audience-participation in the singing of, a favorite Christmas Carol, "Adeste" rounded out the well-balanced first part.

"Carol of the Birds" and the first Canadian carol, taught to the Indians long ago, "Gentle Your King is Born," opened part two of the generous program.

Msgr. Ronan charmed the audience most, other than the fine singing of the whole group, was the cherubic appearance of the boys, especially at the front row where the very young choristers sat.

Many stated that, if they were asked what number they had enjoyed, they would have chosen "Il est Ne" and "Jesus Sleeping in a Manger." The former, sung by eleven young boys, emphasized the sweetness and clarity associated with a group of this kind. The latter, with its five boy-bells, was acted-out as well as sung beautifully.

A number of solos were featured, but John Coopmans' "Ave Maria" stole the show, along with his brilliant coloratura final offering.

The accompaniments with two arrangements by Msgr. Ronan of "Silent Night" and "Adeste Fideles," and Stanford "God Rest Ye the Queen," sung with meaning and vigour, aptly brought the program to a close.

The accompanist was Mr. Harold Armstrong.

"They Are Brutes" — British Soldier

Hanover, Germany Dec. 10 -- (BUP)-- A British soldier has sobbed out a story of unbelievable horror he suffered while a prisoner of the Russians.

Private Frank James William Kelly appeared before interviewers in Hannover, Germany, still ill and emaciated from eight years in the dark jails of Soviet Russia.

He condemned his Russian captors as "brutes, barbarians, cannibals."

Kelly was so weak he had to talk from a wheel chair.

Kelly was returned several weeks ago, but because of his condition he could not meet the press until now.

"Can you imagine what it is like to be interrogated 16 hrs. daily, kicked, punched, beaten, rabbit punched, fed through a tube with your mouth forced open with a clamp?" he said.

"They are brutes, barbarians, cannibals!" he cried.

Half facing Kelly as he addressed a press conference were British Army doctors who feared he would collapse.

"Make them know," he said. "Let me tell them about the brutes.

"It was hell. It was life without hope.

"I even cut my arm open --here look" he cried. He raised the sleeve of his new tailor-dress to show the long jagged purple scar which testified to his attempt to escape Russian captivity through suicide.

"I was sentenced without a court," Kelly said. "I was innocent. It was a trumped-up charge. I was interrogated endlessly for 17 months.

"Can you imagine 17 months without hearing your own language," he sobbed. "They are brutes," he cried again as persuasion poured down his face from his effort to tell his story before he fainted.

A young Army Medical Corps Lieutenant rushed to Kelly's side with a glass of brandy to revive him.

Several times Kelly seemed on the point of collapse, but he refused to give up his determined effort to make his story known.

Others nominated for office, but who did not stand were: Reeve -- William E. Lee, Erwin H. Ellison; Deputy-reeve --Joseph ; Nesbitt, council --John J. Thurston, Albert Boston, Clarence N. Sims (not present), Clifford Hargrave (not present); School Trustees --Arthur Shier, Glen Webster, Alvin Mark (not present).

Truck Loaded With Ice Cream Topples Over

Omemee (PNS) -- A large tractor trailer loaded with ice cream, and destined for Northern Ontario, overturned on Monday afternoon about 3 p.m., the correspondent for "The Post" here says.

It is reported that the driver was rounding along a narrow side road by the flagmen, and in meeting another vehicle, he pulled over to make room. The heavy transport is said to have sunk in the soft sod and overturned.

Assistance was sent from Peterborough, and the cab uprighted and sent to that city for a check for possible damage.

The correspondent concludes that the rest of the transport lay all night where it had overturned, being uprighted on Tuesday.

Mayor-elect Opens Store

Mayor-elect of Lindsay, A. E. Hick, cut the wide red silk ribbon across the door of the new Bata shoe store Thursday a.m. and declared the business officially open. On behalf of the Town he welcomed the new store and its officials to Lindsay. It was Mr. Hick's first official opening function since the election on Monday.

Speaking for Bata was Mr. W. T. Perry, company personnel manager, who in greeting the people gathered to witness the opening, stated that the company were proud to be here and to have such a fine store to serve the people of Lindsay.

Gathered with the employees of the store were the manager, Miss Jane Young; and Bata Shoe Co. officials, Mr. A. Haviland, sales manager; Mr. R. Hill, property manager; Mr. J. Plaxton, of the display department; Mr. L. Bruchmann, advertising manager and Mr. W. Perry.

Mr. Hick's address to a crowd of people entered the store where rose corsages were presented to the ladies, gave way to the cutting ceremony and other opening-day prizes given away.

Dense Fog Is Blamed For Crash

Haliburton (PNS) -- A dense fog was blamed for an accident which hospitalized Mr. Gordon Cruickshanks with a badly-bruised shoulder and a cut at the back of his head that required eight stitches to close.

Mr. Cruickshanks had delivered a load of wood to Mr. Sam Fountain and had left the wagon there. He was driving the team of horses home, when a car driven by Mr. McLean, of Royal View Lodge, was in collision with him in the heavy fog on the low-lying road, residents say.

Mr. McLean picked up the injured man and took him to the Red Cross Outpost Hospital, where he remained until a doctor arrived to treat him. Mr. McLean has visited him daily since the accident, which occurred near the home of Mr. Burleigh Wallace. The horses were not injured.

Mr. Cruickshanks is still in hospital.

Feared Burglars, Found Intruder Sleeping Quietly

A charge against a Lindsay man has been laid by another Lindsay man, that of wilful damage in breaking a window pane. Accused appeared in court here Wednesday morning.

Evidence showed that the complainant returned to his home at 2 a.m. December 8th, after seeing his girl friend, and he saw lights switch on and off in his house. Fearing burglars, he told the court he removed a window to enter. He said further that he was accompanied by Constable Henley to his home and they found a plane of glass, approx. 12 x 18 inches, broken in the front door. He said, too, that accused was found sleeping on a couch inside.

Asked, at the time how he got in, evidence was that accused said he had broken the window but he denied later, that he had broken the glass saying instead, he had entered by lifting a side window.

No conviction was registered and the case dismissed. However, the Magistrate ordered accused to pay for the broken window.

Wins $340 Jackpot

Haliburton (PNS) --Last Saturday evening, Mrs. Tony Messiner, of Eagle Lake, won the $340 jackpot at the Canadian Legion bingo in Haliburton. This jackpot as it has been growing larger has reportedly been attracting large crowds here.

Mrs. Messiner, who got the money for the letter "L" is reported to have been applauded by some 600 people present.

Convicted On Driving Count, Jailed, Fined

Ernest Armstrong, 36, of Pontypool, was found guilty of dangerous driving by Judge J. A. McGibbon in County Court, General Sessions of the Peace. He was sentenced to three months in jail, fined $200 and assessed an additional two months in default of payment. His driving permit was revoked for a year.

In the accident, which occurred on an intersection on Highway No. 7, Armstrong's father Newton Armstrong, 67, was killed as well as Nellie Watson, a school teacher of Kirkland Lake, who was riding in the second car.

Ratepayer Takes Exception To Maryknoll Subsidization

To The Editor,
Lindsay Daily Post.
Dear Sir:

Re: Residential Expansion

As a taxpayer I am alarmed at the suggested grant of payment for Maryknoll services at present before the Town Council for approval.

If the 50.4 percentage stated in your article of December 9th is accurate it represents, at prevailing costs, at least a $500 subsidy per home that the citizens and property owners of Lindsay are asked to contribute, towards the cost of the Maryknoll home.

The agreement entered into between the Town of Lindsay and Mr. Joseph Finner and myself, regarding the installation of sanitary sewers, storm sewer, water main, road, curbing and sidewalks on Sunset Court calls for 100 per cent payment of services by the new home owner. This agreement also applied to Mr. Vern Wilson's subdivision as directed by the Town Council.

Payment in full for services by new home owners, without burden to the citizens and taxpayers of Lindsay is at "Par" now. How then, can the elected representatives of the people entertain the idea of negotiating an agreement which is discriminatory, for the purpose of subsidizing any group of prospective home builders within our community.

Yours truly,
Russell Taylor.

Publish Finance Statement At Cannington

During the recent election campaign in Lindsay there was a feeling expressed by several people that they thought the Town itself and several of its departments ought to publish their financial statements in the local press in order that the citizens might readily see where their money both came from and was being spent.

It is interesting, therefore, to note, that in the issue of 3rd issue of "The Gleaner," the Cannington weekly newspaper, a financial statement of the year's municipal operations is published on the front page. Not only are the expenses and receipts for the town itself shown, but also a complete statement of finances during 1953 of the Cannington Waterworks.

Rev. G. Ball Heads C of C At Bobcaygeon

Rev. G. Ball was elected president of the Bobcaygeon Chamber of Commerce at the annual meeting of that association held in the dining room of the Rockland House recently.

The full slate of officers for 1954 is as follows: president, Rev. G. all; immediate past pres., R. Pembert; vice pres., R. St. V. Shields; treas., A. Kelly; sec., H. J. Murphy; executive, Messrs. L. Carey, W. Mason C. H. Pardy, H. Orgill, W. Thorne, C. K. Bottum, R. O. Rumney.

Kinsmen Plan Toy Matinee

The Kinsmen Club of Lindsay is holding a Toy Matinee a week from Saturday at the Century Theatre. "Each year the Kinsmen spend many hours and dollars to go to a great deal of trouble to see that any needy families have toys for Christmas. Throughout the past years many truck loads of toys have been distributed to the children of this area," a Club spokesman informed "The Post." Continuing, he stated "This year as last there will be a toy matinee at which a suitable children's picture will be shown, and the admission is one toy in good condition. This is a novel idea and is meeting success through the courtesy of the Century Theatre to which the Club is most grateful."

Polio Closes Dalrymple School

Orillia, Dec. 10 (BUP) -- An outbreak of polio has closed a rural school at Dalrymple, 15 miles east of Orillia.

Two children were stricken last week and other pupils have shown some symptoms of the disease.

The Victoria County Medical Officer, Dr. E. J. Anderson, of Kirkfield, says no date has been set for resuming classes.

Schools Close December 22 For Christmas

The Public Schools of Lindsay and the Lindsay Collegiate Institute are closing for Christmas holidays from December 22nd until January 4th, 1954.

Principal Roy Neville, of King Albert school, says that his school will be closed for the above period. He says that he believes this to be the case with all Public Schools here. He says the children will be allowed to go home on the 22nd early in the afternoon, and that in his school class parties will be held.

L.C.I. principal, T. H. Deerlee says that the Collegiate students will be off for their holiday shortly after lunch on the 22nd, following a Christmas assembly that will likely be held. They, too, will return to classes on the 4th of January.

Costa Rica, most southern state of Central America, abolished its army in 1948.

Says Ambulance Wasn't Sought

In the story in Wednesday's edition of "The Post" about a Lindsay woman being hit in the face by a puck at Tuesday night's hockey game, it was stated that "an ambulance couldn't be obtained . . . ."

Exception to this statement has been taken by Mr. Bruce McArthur who runs an ambulance service here. He says that he had an ambulance available that night and was never contacted about its use for the injured woman at the Arena.

Cars Collide, One Driver Badly Cut

Haliburton (PNS) --Two cars collided on The Base Line in front of the home of Mr. Ronald Cowan, meeting head-on. While the occupants escaped serious injury, the cars had to be towed away, both fronts being badly damaged.

The car driven by Gerald Watt had most of the glass in its windows broken and the other driver, young Wallace McKnight was thrown through the windshield. His face was badly cut and a large lump raised on his head.

The street was littered with broken glass which was cleaned up by investigating officer, Constable Gordon Langton, of the Haliburton detachment of the OPP, and others.

Beaver, Partridge Get Close-up Of Fenelon Falls

A partridge and a beaver made themselves at home on Fenelon Falls' main street the other day. The partridge is reported to have spent the day roosting near McCallum's Men's Wear store and a beaver got tangled up in traffic on the main street a few days later. The partridge flew away in its own good time and the beaver, after having a car pass over it without injuring it, relaxed and waddled off down the street.

Wins $175

Mrs. Tom Hall of Lindsay, won the $175 jackpot at the Canadian Legion bingo in Woodville on Wednesday night. Mrs. Hall, contacted by "The Post", said that this was the third time she had been out in an effort to win the jackpot which she successfully did this week.

Record Set at Sod Turning Here

Something of a record was established at the sod-turning ceremony of William Street Baptist Church when over $2,000 in cash was contributed towards the cost of extending the church building. Rev. G. W. Searle discloses that present plans call for the creation of a new church front, the design to be such as to permit a gallery and increase seating capacity. Eventually, he explains, the idea is to go back farther on the lot and extend the church building to the east. Those participating in the sod-turning ceremony are pictured above from Left to right: The Pastor, Rev. G. W. Searle, Mr. Thornton, the architect and Messrs. Frank Power, Kennedy Spence, Neil Wilson, Hugh Murdock, Charles Barker, Elmer Evans, Walter Robertson and Harman Brock, church officials. Rev. Hal MacBain the president of The Fellowship of Evangelical Baptist Churches in Canada is seen turning the first sod for the extension of the building.

Officer Makes Youths Clean Up Mess

Constable John Henley of the Lindsay Police Department early Friday a.m. made four Fenelon Falls youths who had been upsetting garbage cans in the North Ward here literally "sweep up" the mess they had made!

At 1.22 a.m. Friday, a North Ward resident reported to the police that garbage cans were being upset in the Colborne Street W. vicinity and their contents strewn about.

Having answered the call, Constable Henley checked near the Exhibition Grounds and found four youths there. On questioning, the youths admitted they had upset the cans and strewn the refuse about as had been reported to police. They were all from Fenelon Falls, the officer found, two 18-year-olds, one 16 and one 17.

The officer equipped the boys with brooms from the Fire Department and taking them to the scene of the offenses, made them clean up the streets and lawns which they had littered with garbage.

Constable Henley then brought them back to the Police Station where they were made to clean their brooms and replace them in the proper place in the Fire Department.

The Constable let the youths return home, after issuing a warning to them that they may be charged for their acts of vandalism.

Chicken Pox Prevalent But Not Extensive

Lindsay's Public Health Nurse Ethel M. Lowe told "The Post" Friday that there were no cases of scarlet fever among the town's public school children. Asked about the incidence of chicken pox among the same group, Miss Lowe said that there are a few children with the disease, but "no more than is reasonable."

The M.O.H. Dr. Gleeson, says that in the last month six children have been granted the necessary certificate to return to school after having chicken pox.

Sanitary Inspector Mr. Ellam says that he hasn't placarded any homes for contagious diseases.

Mrs. J. Wilson Hostess For Christmas Meet

Baddow (PNS) -The December meeting of Baddow W. A. convened at the home of Mrs. Johnson Wilson.

Mrs. Maurice Watson, president, took charge of the devotional and opened it by singing the Christmas carol, "Joy to the World," followed by the Scripture reading taken from 2nd chapter Luke, 8-20 verses. Mrs. Watson then read a very interesting story of the origin of one of the favorite Christmas carols, "Silent Night." After a responsive scripture reading and the singing of "O Come All Ye Faithful" a contest on "Famous Men of the Bible" was conducted by Mrs. Ende Graham and won by Mrs. Maurice Watson.

The business part of the meeting opened by the minutes of the last meeting being read by the secretary, Mrs. E. Graham, followed by the roll call and collection. It was decided to turn in the dime calendars as in previous years and also to pack Christmas boxes for the aged and shut-ins of the community.

The meeting closed with the Benediction. The exchange of Christmas gifts, and the lovely lunch served was enjoyed by all. The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ende Graham.

The Golden Rule

All things whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so to them. --Matthew, 7:12.

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "tired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter. 33

Flora C. Swain

Valentia (PNS) -On Friday, November 20th, Flora Adair Swain died at her home in Valentia. The daughter of William Adair and Annie Pearson, she was born on July 28th, 1882 at Head Lake, in Laxton township.

She learned while very young to accept responsibility cheerfully and courageously. Her loving and friendly nature enriched her days with life-long friendships. She began her schooling at the age of five, walking the two-and-a-half miles to school in the days when the school children made their own trails through the deep snow in winter. At the age of 18 she started teaching in a little school-house in her own neighbourhood; later she taught at Hall's Lake, at the White School and finally at Valentia, where she met Arthur Swain to whom she was married on November 9th, 1908.

The couple made their home on the Swain homestead by Lake Scugog, until the elder boys were raised and educated, when the family purchased the Valentia General Store. In time the boys wanted room to expand and the store was sold. Mr. and Mrs. Swain retired to the home in the village where Mr. Swain died on August 7th, 1949.

Mrs. Swain had an appreciation of all that was fine and beautiful which colored all of her days. Her special talents were an enthusiasm for life and an understanding of people; it was to her a joy that these could be shared with the friends and family she loved. As long as her health permitted, Mrs. Swain was active in the work of the Valentia United Church, from which on Sunday, November 22nd, her funeral service was conducted, amid beautiful banks of floral tributes the gifts of relatives and friends.

Her pastor, Rev. Mr. Trumpour conducted the service, and a close neighbour and friend, Mrs George Maddock sang a favorite hymn -- "In the Garden".

She was laid to rest in the family plot in the South Valentia Cemetery. The pallbearer were -Russel Mark, Bert Howlett, Noble Swain, Ross Swain, Lorne LeCraw, and Keith Henderson.

Farmers Visit Toronto Plant

Bethany (PNS) -Last week 22 farmers of the district went on a very interesting and educational sightseeing trip arranged through the courtesy of Master Feeds and their Bethany branch Manager, Mr. H. F. Rayson.

Leaving by chartered bus at 8 a.m., they went to Toronto and the morning was spent inspecting the home plant, located on the Toronto waterfront. "These elevators with huge storage capacity of over two million bushels were built in 1928 and form an important link in the transit of grain to the seaports. They also provide storage, cleaning and drying facilities for a complete line of grains . . . Western, Ontario and Foreign . . . for mills, feed manufacturers and feed dealers in the domestic market. They own their own boats and during the navigation season their grain merchandising department maintains a constant flow of grain. Their extensive shipping connections ensure maximum speed and efficiency in the handling of all grain cargos. They have a very complete laboratory for testing and treating the various grains, also, so that the farmer is assured of complete protection," a spokesman says.

Their modern new office building, recently completed was inspected and a hearty dinner was enjoyed at the plant cafeteria.

In the afternoon the party journeyed to Leitchcroft Farm, also owned by the company and known as The Master Feeds Experimental and Demonstration Farm. The first 150-acre unit was acquired in the Spring of 1937 by the President and founder of the company, G. C. Leitch. Additional acreage has since been purchased and the area now farmed comprises almost 700 acres.

Leitchcroft is one of the finest farms of its type in Canada and the continuous research carried on there in connection with the developments of new feeds and feeding programs renders a valuable service to agriculture as a whole.

The party returned home at 5 o'clock and all report a very enjoyable and profitable day. This has been the second trip arranged, the first one being held last Month and Mr. Rayson is already planning for the third trip later on. Master Feeds have been in operation in Bethany since March, 1950, when they bought out the property of the former grain dealers, Messrs. Hogg and Lytle.

Mrs. E. Stroud W.I. Hostess At Grasshill

Grasshill (PNS) -- The November meeting of Grasshill W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Elwood Stroud with a large attendance of 38 members and a number of visitors present.

The meeting opened with the singing of the Institute Ode, followed by repeating in unison of the Lord's Prayer and the Mary Stewart Collect. The roll call was answered by each member having a snapshot for the Tweedsmuir History.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary and approved. Correspondence included a letter from the County Home thanking the members for candy sent to them at an earlier date. It was again decided to send apples to Sunnybrook Hospital and to supply hot lunches in the school. Christmas boxes are to be packed for the shut-ins. The Christmas meeting is to be held a week early with the usual gift exchange.

Mrs. C. Kinghorn gave her report on the Convention held in Toronto earlier in the month. Mrs. C. Black, convenor of Historical Research, gave an interesting paper on the History of Hartley United Church.

The Program Committee had two contests, after which the hostess assisted by the committee in charge served lunch, bringing a pleasant afternoon to a close.

Waits Four Hours For Medical Aid After Injury

Haliburton (PNS) -- While working on the Tory Hill highway on Thursday morning, Mr. Clifford Inglis met with a painful accident. Mr. Inglis was operating his snow-plough and when it hit a soft shoulder he was thrown against the cab, cutting his forehead.

It is reported that it was four hours before medical attention could be obtained and that by that time his head was badly swollen. The forehead wound required 14 stitches to close.

Since Mr. Inglis is employed by the Department of Highways, a relief operator had to be sent to Tory Hill.

Study Book Chapter Reviewed By Mrs. Wilkinson

Manilla (PNS) -- The December meeting of the WMS of Manilla United Church was held at the home of Mrs. J. Clarke. The meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. L. Whiteside, who led the worship service assisted by Mrs. J. Clarke. The theme was "And the Word Became Flesh and Dwelt Among Us," and the familiar Christmas hymns formed part of the service.

The chapter from the Study Book "Wherever the Sun" was taken by Mrs. Wilkinson and dealt with the history of the Christian church in China, where it has been uprooted three times in 1300 years. Despite recent persecutions of Christians by Communists, Christianity still has many loyal followers among the native Chinese. The work of Dr. Jim Yen among a group of villages is a notable example. His literacy campaign has great achievements to its credit as well as his work along agricultural lines and in health and welfare. He is at present in exile.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. C. O. Lawton, and approved, and Mrs. Lawton, treasurer, reported the silver collection was very nearly reached. A sale of home baking, marmalade and handiwork had boosted funds to a considerable extent. It was felt when the mite-boxes from the associate helpers were in the allocation would be reached.

Mrs. Beattie, Christian citizenship secretary, reported briefly on an address heard at a recent W.I. convention urging support of the United Nations in the interest of World Peace. Mrs. Clarke, supply secretary, reported a bale packed for the Scott Mission in Toronto, containing good used clothing, warm winter coats and miscellaneous items. The value was around $80. A brief temperance item gave figures on votes on establishing new outlets for sale from 1947 -- 1952. Ninety per cent votes against liquor and 46 per cent for. Seven calls had been made for Community Friendship. A discussion followed on the preparing of Christmas boxes for shut-ins and it was decided to take one dollar from the penny collection to buy fruit, members to donate other supplies.

Rev. Mr. Wilkinson presided for the election of officers. The 1953 slate of officers was returned for 1954, the only exception being in the leadership of the Mission Band. This is to be conducted by Mrs. G. H. Nixon and Mrs. O. J. Lawton, since Mrs. Rackham's leaving for her home in Lindsay.

Officers for 1954 are as follows, pres., Mrs. L. Whiteside; 1st vice-pres., Mrs. J. Clarke; secretary, Mrs. C. O. Lawton; treasurer, Mrs. E. Lawton; supply sec., Mrs. J. Clarke; Associate Helpers, Mrs. C. Moore; community friendship, Mrs. J. Ferguson; temperance, Mrs. J. Tinney; Christian citizenship and World Peace, Mrs. W. Beattie; Christian stewardship, Mrs. L. Whiteside; literature, Mrs. B. Hamill; pianists, Mrs. R. Hamill and Miss Eileen Hamill.

The offering was dedicated by Rev. Mr. Wilkinson, who also gave the closing prayer. Mrs. Clarke served afternoon tea and a social time followed.

"Publicity" Topic Given By Mrs. E. Cameron

Manilla (PNS) -The November meeting of Manilla W. I. was held in the Community Hall with the vice-president, Mrs. Lorne Keeler, in charge of the meeting. The meeting opened with the singing of the Institute Ode repetition in unison of the Mary Stewart Collect, and the Lord's Prayer.

The roll call was answered with "How To Live In Peace" and well-known maxims such as the "Golden Rule", "Live and Let Live", practice of tolerance were among the suggestions given.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. M. Philp, and approved. The financial report was given, showing a substantial balance on hand and current bills were moved to be paid. Correspondence included "thank-you" and appreciation notes from Mrs. A. Marshall and Mrs. Rabey. Committees for the two ensuing dances were named to look after the refreshment booth and Mrs. Barry Hamill was asked to make arrangements for the Christmas meeting program with all members supplying lunch.

Mrs. Wm. Beattie and Mrs. Barry Hamill gave brief accounts of their recent day at the Central Area Convention of the W. I. Particularly noteworthy were demonstrations from the Junior Homemaker clubs in Brampton, Bethany, Lakefield, Blackstock and Bury's Green. Also the address by Miss Marion Royce, principal of Moulton College, Toronto, who was for 10 years International Secretary of the Y. W. C.A. She titled her talk "A Canadian Point of View on Some World Problems." The Goodwill singers, of Beaverton, were greatly appreciated by the large audience at the Convention.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Earlby Cameron, convener for Community Activities and Public relations. Mrs. Cameron gave a short talk on various means of Publicity promotion before continuing with a series of contests in which all members participated. An "Embarassing Moment" pantomime provided much merriment and a local name contest was won by Mrs. O. J. Lawton. The closing number was a piano solo by Marlene Lawton, "Slumber Song".

Following the singing of the National Anthem, lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. J. Ferguson, Mrs. Lorne Keeler and Miss Jean Murray and a social time was enjoyed.

Pleasant Point WA Returns Officers For 1954

Fingerboard (PNS) -Pleasant Point W.A. meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Ellis Hill, with a good attendance and the President, Mrs. L. Gilson, in the chair.

Meeting opened with a hymn and prayer by Mrs. A. Nicholls, Mrs. Norman Moase one of the convenors took charge and called on Mrs. M. Hill for the Bible reading, after which Mrs. Brokenshire gave the topic in the absence of Mrs. Venner.

Program was as follows:- Reading -Mrs. C. W. Clark Mrs. Howard Foster Mrs. Geo. Moase, Mrs. A. Nicholls; Solo -Mrs. O. Sweetman; Instrumental -Mrs. Gordon Gilson Jr. A sing-song was enjoyed by all with Mrs. G. Gordon at the piano.

Business was as follows: A letter of appreciation from Mrs. Venner, read by Mrs. Arthur Hill; note read by Mrs O. Sweetman from Mrs. Lawrence Nicholls, thanking the W.A. for a gift received from Dramatic Club; treasurer's report for the year by Mrs. Norman Moase. Mrs. Marvin Hill's flower and fruit fund report and money was voted for S. S. funds.

All officers were returned for 1954: President -Mrs. Lawrence Gilson; Vice President -Mrs. Howard Foster; Secretary -Mrs. O. Sweetman; Treasurer -Mrs. N. Moase; Flower and Fruit -Mrs. Marvin Hill.

The meeting closed with a hymn and lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Brokenshire, Mrs. Norman Moase.

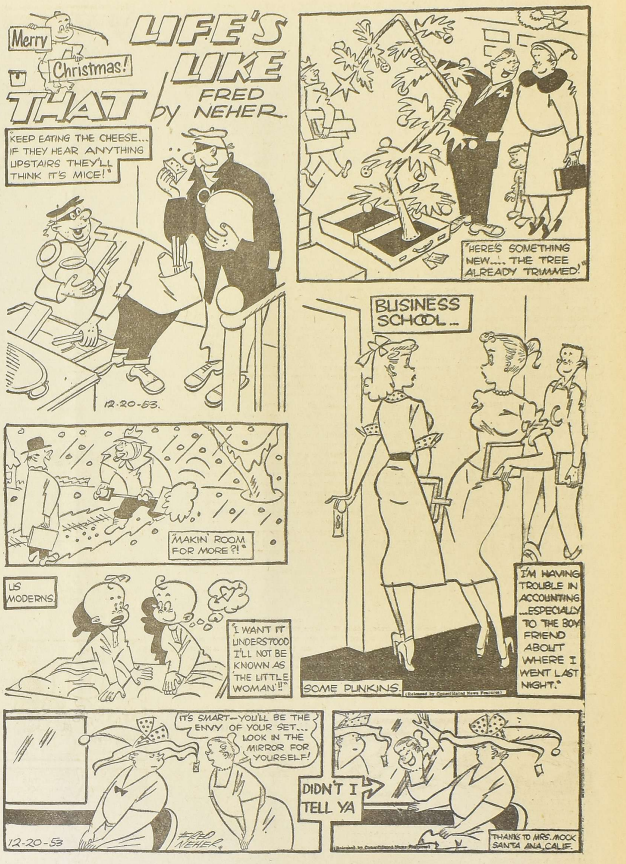

Report Given By Canvassers For Bible Society

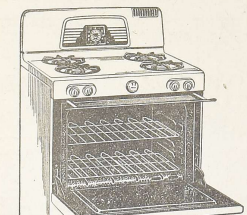

Perrolton Falls (PNS) -At the conclusion of a successful canvass in support of the British Foreign Bible Society, the canvassers met in the Sunday School Room of the United Church for an evening of fellowship. The local president, Mr. James Whitelaw was in the chair and the Scripture lesson was read by Rev. K. Jull.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. A. W. McGee and the treasurer, Mr. Wm. Murchison reported his years receipts to be $251.65. While the total amount was slightly lower than 1952, it was encouraging to note that individual contributions were larger. Last year the contribution of a life membership increased the receipts. Mrs W. J. Pfeil and Miss Hazel Kennedy were the collectors turning in the largest amount.

The guest speaker Rev. Harold James chose as his subject "The Bible" and his talk was inspiring and helpful to all. A lovely message in song, "If I love the world and gain a Saviour" was contributed by Mrs. Martin Devitt. Prayer by Miss Viola McIntosh closed the meeting.

Refreshments were served by the young people of the United Church.

Mrs. Lorne Snodden Re-elected Pres. Valentia W.A.

Valentia PNS) -- The December meeting of the W.A. was held at the home of Mrs Nelson Sharpe. The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Cephas Jordan and Mrs. Starr's group conducted the Christmas Unison.

The call to worship was given by Mrs. C. Jordan and opened by singing a Christmas hymn, followed by prayer, which was offered by Mrs. Fred Starr. The Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Cephas Morris and Mrs. Jordan read the explanation on the hymn, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," after which all sang the verses of the hymn.

The Christmas topic was given by Mrs. Cephas Jordan. A second Christmas hymn was sung, and Mrs. R. S. Swain gave a reading, "What Does Christmas Mean to You?" and a solo was rendered by Mrs. Mac Glassford, with guitar accompaniment. An interesting story, "The Old Shoemaker," was read by Mrs. Cecil Casey. The devotional closed by singing "O Come All Ye Faithful," and prayer by Rev. Mr. Trumpour.

The president, Mrs. Lorne Snodden, presided for the business session. Mrs. Lorne Snodden is Christmas poem, followed by all reading the W.A. creed and singing the theme song.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The roll call was responded to by 26 members, with one visitor present. During the year the W.A. have had 33 members on the roll and the average attendance for the meetings held was 24. Mrs. Frank Hood read the treasurer's report for Mrs. Jack Hood, giving the receipts and the work and money raised during the year, showing a balance of $486.70. In the absence of the Flower convenor, Mrs. Lorne Snodden reported 23 cards sent to the sick and four sprays to bereaved.

Mrs. C. Jordan read cards of appreciation for flowers sent to bereaved families, and from other members had cards and gifts. Mr. Jness, A Christmas card was read from Mrs. Sleep, Seagrave, president of the W.A. in 1954. It was moved and seconded that the W.A. pay the balance of their allocation money towards the training school at Toronto and that the corresponding secretary, Mrs. T. Chambers, write a letter to Mrs. Larmour, in addition. It was decided that the W.A. give $125.00 to the general fund of the church. The offering was received by Mrs. Neil and Susan Baker, and handed over to the treasurer, Mrs. Jack Hood.

Mrs. Lorne Snodden thanked the members of the W.A. for their help to her, their president, during the past year. This was responded to by Mr. Mrs. Fred Starr, who pointed out the splendid meetings which have been held, with Mrs. Snodden as president.

The meeting was turned over to Rev Mr. Trumpour for the election of officers for 1954. Mrs. Ross Snodden and Mrs. Jack Mark were in charge of the ballots. Officers for 1954 are: president, Mrs. Lorne Snodden; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Roy Grills; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Charlie Morris; secretary, Mrs. Jack Mark; treasurer, Mrs. Jack Snodden: corresponding secretary, Mrs. T. Crowd Gathers At Hydro After Power Failure

Police Called in To Aid Trucks Attempting To Repair Break

Many Lindsay people have a lot of catching up to do insofar as the Lindsay Hydro Strike is concerned. The comparatively unevential gathering which occurred outside the hydro plant on William St. N. all week terminated suddenly on Saturday evening. The reason was a power break which blacked out approximately 25 homes in the St. Paul-Queen Sts. area of the East Ward. The break occurred shortly before six p.m. and from then on the strike situation deteriorated rapidly.

Soon after the power break "The Post" began receiving calls telling about the incident and wanting to know who was going to do something about getting it restored. This situation prevailed for awhile and then a call came through saying that a crowd was gathering outside the hydro offices on William St. north. When the paper's representatives arrived on the scene they found that a fairly large number of people in addition to the striking employees were gathered outside the hydro offices which was augmented by civilian clothes and several of his men were in the area and, although police said there was no obvious sign of violence the crowd seemed on edge and one got the feeling that the situation was explosive.

Chief Constable Ward of Police who was talking with the manager. It was learned that it was planned to move a truck in on and remove service to the bucket out area. (As it developed, the reason the police were on the scene was because of a call which had received following an incident which occurred earlier in the disturbance when a truck had attempted to leave the grounds adjoining the hydro plant and was reportedly stopped inside the yard. This situation was reported to have been further aggravated when a hydro truck attempted to move out of the service, it also being turned back.

A short long after the meeting with the police chief during which he intimated that the way to find out what was going to take place was to be on hand at the scene. The first attempt to run the picket line was made with success.

A red hydro truck manned by an undetermined number of people left the hydro yard shortly after 8 o'clock without incident and when it was followed to the East Ward breakdown point in a transformer on a pole located on the west end of Paul on Queen Street was out of orders by police and many of the growing crowd.

When "The Post" arrived at the breakdown point, it found Constable Percy Mark on point duty at Cambline and Queen Sts. and traffic was being re-routed. Parking on Cambline. "The Post" noticed the scene of the breakdown and found hundreds of people milling about on either side of the street, but outside nothing of the truck. However, in a matter of seconds the truck was coming down the street and on without attempting to stop, raced through the crowd and back to the William St. north hydro plant.

To this point no full-scale attempt had been made to get to the pole and scale it to effect a repair. There were shouts of "boo, hiss" boos, and other vocal demonstrations from the crowd as the truck sped by, but that was all. The truck re-entered the yard without further incident.

Returning to the hydro plant, "The Post" visited the offices of the Hydro Commission and found that officials of the system were there and were getting together to try and figure out how to repair the troublesome transformer or, failing this, work out a solution to the situation in which they found themselves. A brief meeting was held during which the Commission's lawyer, Mr. W. Z. Estey, conferred with them, reviewing developments of the past week and exploring ways and means of bringing the affair to a satisfactory conclusion.

In the course of this meeting the matter of an existing emergency was raised since, someone recalled, the union had agreed to recognize and consider such a development. It was suggested that the union representative, Mr. F. Kitchen, be contacted and asked if an emergency existed, what the union was prepared to do. Mr. Kitchen went on record at this time as saying that as far as the men were concerned he thought they were prepared to consider an emergency, but that a state of emergency would have to be brought to their attention by the Commission. This information was conveyed to the informal meeting. No action was taken and, after further discussion the session adjourned.

Meanwhile, outside, Mr. Kitchen told "The Post" he had telegrams sent several outside unions pledging support and help if necessary to ensure that the struck Lindsay employees got a fair settlement. "We're going through with it and we don't care how long it takes," he asserted at the time.

Later that night, "The Post" returned to the crowd outside the hydro office which was considerably diminished by then, but with which by now supplemented by a more-or-less permanent picket line. Also on scene of the transformer which was out of order.

At this time there was evidence that negotiations might be resumed. Unionist F. Kitchen and Commission lawyer W. Z. Estey were in private conference and, shortly after 12.15 p.m. the meeting broke up and Mr. Estey reported that while the situation was serious he felt that both the Commission and the unionists seemed to be nervous and less sure of success.

After this meeting between unionist and commission lawyer disbanded, a knock came to the hydro office (front) and Commissioner Rev. Mr. Lightbody, manager of the system. The caller said his home was without electricity and wanted to know what was going to be done about it. He said there was a baby in the family on formula and if anything happened to the child there would be something done about it. Mr. Lightbody told the caller he could appreciate his situation but that the commission was going to do all they could to restore service. The thing left in doubt and openly on by people in the background, the caller continued to prolong the conversation to the annoyance to be agitated form. As a result, the police were called to break up the gathering. However, before police arrived, the caller had left and things had quieted down again.

By now, the situation was ripe to prove equally as dramatic as in any preceding period since the developments began to unfold. The system manager prepared more equipment to make a further attempt to restore service and this mission was duly authorized. The outcome was unsuccessful. Arriving at the scene, the truck tried to manoeuver into position but no attempt was actually made to scale the pole. A flare was set off in the yard and operated by people in the background, the caller continued to prolong the conversations to the annoyance to be agitated form. As a result, the police were called to break up the gathering. However, before police arrived, the caller had left and things had quieted down again.

By now, the situation was ripe to prove equally as dramatic as in any preceding period since the developments began to unfold. The system manager prepared more equipment to make a further attempt to restore service and this mission was duly authorized. The outcome was unsuccessful. Arriving at the scene, the truck tried to manoeuver into position but no attempt was actually made to scale the pole. A flare was set off in the yard and operated by people in the background, sufficiently to discourage climbing the pole if the would-be repair crew had any ideas in that direction. Apparently realizing the futility of the whole thing, the service unit returned to the yard where after further consideration attempts to restore service that night were called off. The commissioners and others in the hydro building returned to their homes around 3 a.m.

It was learned later that both pressmen and typesetters on the staff of the Lindsay Daily Post were on hand by the evening's proceedings

Church Parade By Cubs and Scouts

Omemee (PNS) --Omemee Wolf Cubs and Boy Scout Troop held their annual church parade to Christ Church. Cub Mistress, Mrs. G. Stephenson, and Scoutmaster Joyce.

The boys did well in presenting the colors and four flags were carried by them again. They look forward to forming a band when finances permit.

The rector preached on the Advent theme of the Second Coming of Christ. He included a text for the boys which was the Scout motto "Be Prepared", and said "that Scouting taught boys many useful things so that they would be prepared to meet any emergency in life. But Scouting also inspired a character in boys that no similar organization could."

Parties Involved Reach Agreement At 2.20 a.m.

The hydro strike at Lindsay and the attendant power blackout in a section of the East Ward has been ended. The end came early Monday At 2.20 a.m., S. A. Little representing the National Union of Public Service Employees, arrived at the members of the Lindsay Hydro Commission with whom negotiations were being carried on and said: "I think we've made a deal." A few minutes later Hydro Commissioner R. A. Cozens was typing out a copy of the signed draft of the agreement reached between union and commission representatives. At approximately 2.40 a.m. the agreement was signed and two hydro employees who were involved in the dispute were on their way to the East Ward with the information which had caused a blackout in the St. Paul-Queen Streets section of the East Ward at 6 p.m. before 6 p.m. Saturday until that moment. At 4 a.m. "The Post" received a call from Alderman-elect Russell Lamb to say that power had been restored or in his words "the lights are on".

The agreement between the union representatives and the commission was reached just three hours and 20 minutes after discussions began. The two commenced at 11 p.m. Previous to the joint meeting, the Lindsay Hydro Commission had conducted negotiations from around 7.30 p.m. until just before 9.30 p.m. to review the situation and consider what steps to take next.

At the outset of this meeting Mayor Chas. Lamb announced that (a) the hydro was prepared to meet with the commission at 11 p.m. and (b) if the commission didn't decide to do that Council planned to meet at midnight.

At approximately 8.20 p.m. Mayor Lamb was instructed by the Commissioners to endeavour to contact the struck men and advise them the commission was willing to meet with them but urged that an earlier meeting be arranged. Mayor Lamb reported after contacting the men that they were engaged in several meetings and that the best they could do would be to meet with the commission around 10.15 or 10.30. The commission adjourned around 9.30 to await the meeting with the union which materialized at 11 p.m. when Mr. S. A. Little and Mr. F. Kitchen for the union and Mr. Wm. Hunter and Mr. Earl Crimmons (for the struck employees) entered the commission offices and announced they were ready to proceed with talks to try and effect a settlement of the dispute.

Some of the discussion which took place in recorded under separate headings in this issue of "The Post" and following is the agreement which was reached as a result of the talks:

Agreement between the Lindsay Hydro Electric Commission and its employees, save and except the office staff and secretary manager.

1. The Commission agrees to arrange meetings as the need arises between the sales and except office staff and secretary manager), or such representative agent as they may appoint, toward a signed collective agreement.

2. The employees agree to the continued invocation of Sec. 78, Ontario Labour Relations Act, 1950.

3. The Commission agrees that there will be no discriminatory or punitory action on their part towards any of the employees involved in this dispute.

Just before the agreement had been signed and after it had been approved, the draft, Mayor Lamb declared "This is very nice news. . . I am delighted we have been able to reach an agreement . . . I would have been willing to stay here all night to get this thing settled . . . it's hard on everyone working with the boys."

It was decided after the agreement had been signed that the struck employees would resume work Tuesday morning.

What the union asked for . . .

In order that the citizens of Lindsay may make a comparison between union demands and the agreement reached between the union and Lindsay Hydro Commission early today, the following copy of the union's demands is reproduced below:

Terms of Settlement Between: National Union of Public Service Employees, Local No. 31 and-

Lindsay Hydro Commission

1) That the Commission agree to recognize this Local as the sole Collective Bargaining Agent for all employees save and except Secretary-Manager and Office Staff.

2) That the Commission agree to arrage meeting to negotiate in good faith for a signed agreement.

3) That the Commission rescind the Resolution removing the employees from the scope of the Ontario Labour Relations Act.

4) That the Commission agree that there will be no discrimination or punitory action by the Hydro towards any of the employees involved in this dispute.

"Was It Worth It?"

A fire was lighted in the East Ward early Sunday morning at the base of the Hydro pole holding up the transformer which was being picketed by the operating department of the Lindsay Hydro System.

The fire burned briskly on the cold early hours of the day and was still being kept alive at 11 a.m. when the crowd which had witnessed its kindling had dispersed. Only a handful of men stood around the fire at that time but the fire had not been allowed to go out overnight.

The handful of spectators and picketers who had gathered around the fire throughout the early day quickly multiplied when Hydro Commissioner Cozens arrived on the scene to try and persuade the struck men to put the fire out the inconvenience by repairing the transformer. And then, when the commissioner's pleas were ignored and the hydro truck set out to return to the plant, the fire heard another group from . . . the origin of a wrought up crowd. And then quiet was restored and the fire burned itself into the darkness of another night as the dispute dragged on and a settlement to the dispute seemed remote. It flared up and died down many times between then and three o'clock this Monday morning when it was announced that the dispute was over and its usefulness at an end.

And as the fire's last ember crumbled and gave up its smoke it life it is reported that it became possessed of a voice and asked: "Was it worth it?"

Ask Press Forget They Were Present At One Stage

At the meeting between representatives of the National Union of Public Service Employees and the Lindsay Hydro Commission late Sunday and early Monday a.m. there was evidenced a lapse of memory on the part of the union's chief representative to have the press record full details of the meeting. Mr. S. A. Little, union agent, said at one point in the discussions, that they (the union) were not used to having the press present and asked representatives of the two papers there to "forget they are here". The Commission took no action on the suggestion nor was the matter raised again.

Union Wanted Specific Recognition

But Commission Declines To Give It

Negotiations to effect a settlement of the dispute between the Lindsay Hydro Commission and the union purporting to represent the majority of operating department employees were almost bogged down in the minutes before settlement was reached early Monday morning.

At 1.30 following a recess in the talks between the commission and union representatives, the men filed back into the hydro board room and resumed disputation.

One of the first points raised was that of union recognition. S. A. Little, chief union representative announced that they wanted the union recognized by a signed agreement as the specific bargaining agency for the men. The commissioners were reluctant to do this.

J. Lightbody, manager of the Lindsay Hydro System asked Mr. Little which was better . . . to accept the agreement as it was drafted by the commission without naming the commission or to have it in the form proposed by the union. He said:

". . . The commissioners would like to say they have effected a settlement."

Mr. Little replied that "the only way we can effect an agreement would be to sign the draft agreement as to bargain. (The commission's draft agreement called for the employees elected representatives to be recognized by it. Earlier in this, pressed the belief that this was too open and that several representatives of the men might be involved eventually.

Mr. Lightbody asked if it wasn't a democratic right of the men to bargain in their own way . . . "Is there any reason why we should stop them?" he asked.

Mr. Little: "Yes, there is, but I don't propose to go into it at this time."

Mayor Lamb: "Why not say organization . . .

Commissioner Baldwin: "Then why not say the union is accepted and be done with it?"

Mr. Little, at 1.58 a.m. observed that the commissioners should at least agree to meet them through the organization that they have chosen.

Mr. Lightbody replied that at the time negotiations were to begin it would be sufficient if the union were able to show that it was signed by the men to prove that the union was their desired bargaining agent.

"The difficulty," he said, "is that while longer and Mr. Little insisted that organization be written into the agreement . . . not elected representatives.

Mr. Lightbody then observed that one of the men involved in the dispute had been fired on Friday and struck on Monday. He said that no one would ever convince him he went into the union voluntarily

Mr. Little asked "What are you suggesting . . . " He declared the union had acted in good faith and said he had talked to Kitchen.

Mr. Cozens: "I submit I have made several overtures . . . I suggest you do the same. I little reasonable . . . ' don't feel very happy."

Mr. Little then declared he saw no chance of compromise but that these appeared to be a bandying of words and that the issue was designating a collective bargaining representative . . . not any representative.

Mr. Cozens: "Would the singular confine it?"

Mr. Little stated that the agreement left a lot to be desired as it then stood . . . it doesn't confine who is to be the employees bargaining agent. He said that there was six five different representatives on basis of the proposed agreement.

Commissioner Waddell then observed that "before you (the union representative) came in we had no intention of going that far."

After considerable more discussion, it was agreed that the phrase "such bargaining agent as they may elect" would be satisfactory to both parties. Mr. Little seemed to feel that this narrowed the bargaining agency to the union.

At 2.20 a.m. he announced a willingness to sign.

Just as the signatures were about to be affixed, somebody in the room discovered a flaw in the typed version of the penciled draft agreement which on comparison was found then to be identical and she signing proceeded.

Commissioner Cozens, Lone Wolf Attempt To Restore Power

Saturday Break Not Considered An Emergency

The interpretation of whether Saturday night's East Ward Hydro break was an "emergency" was sought by "The Post" at that time. Several hours after the break had occurred, a representative of the paper asked Mr. F. Kitchen, union spokesman for the struck men, if he considered the situation an emergency and what the union's stand on it was.

Earlier in the week, the men had said that if it was "a matter of life and death," i.e., if the hospital power supply were threatened, they would consider the situation serious enough to warrant a signed agreement.

Accordingly following this, "The Post" questioned the manager, J. Lightbody and members of the Commission and they felt that the break was not an emergency.

Hydro Commissioner Reg. Cozens, acting as a lone wolf, unsuccessfully attempted to restore hydro service to the blacked out section of the East Ward Sunday afternoon.

Here is the account of his experience as related later to "The Post":

"At about ¾ o'clock I, as a member of Lindsay Hydro Commission, decided in my own mind I should make some attempt to get power for those people, and on my own accord, but with permission of the Commission drove one of the Commission's trucks to the burned out transformer pole. I parked the truck, sought out Earl Crimmons and eventually saw the senior man, Ross Cochrane. I proposed to him that there seemed to be no purpose in causing further inconvenience to these people without power and that as an individual commissioner I was asking if the men would guarantee no interference if I attempted the fuse; if the men would advise me, lest I, through ignorance, endanger myself in so doing and that I would offer no opposition from the union if I would remember the answer that I received.

"Mr. Cochrane's answer was an emphatic no but that I could put my proposal to the Union representative.

"I retired to the truck and when the union representative arrived, I put much the same proposal before him pointing out that I came without police protection and also in a sincere effort to simply restore power.

"Mr. Cochrane hesitated to make himself responsible for any accident which might occur to me, whereupon I withdrew that portion of the proposal. I was then emphatically refused my try by it because of hazard, but having had some experience with electricity, I was prepared to take that risk. The Union organizer would give no answer stating he had no control over the crews, power or no power time I asked the crowd if anyone there was willing to guarantee no interference which they could signify by raising their hand or speaking. To my knowledge not a voice was heard nor a hand was raised. I said, 'There's your answer, Mr. Kitchen.'

"Someone suggested putting the question another way which I did. I asked the crowd if there was anyone not willing to go to the other side of the street, to watch me put the fuse in.

"There were some yeas and some nays -- some laughed or clapped -- So I retired."

Say Greenish Light Seen Here Meteor

The greenish flash of light seen in the sky over Lindsay and southeast of the town on Friday night has been identified by officials of the Dunlop Observatory as a meteor.

The light, described by most who saw it as green or greenish-blue, was seen in Toronto, Port Hope, Oshawa, Perth, Smith Falls and around Lindsay. The local detachment of the OPP received two calls about the light, one at 8.04 Friday night from Mr. Hugh Smith, of Downeyville, who was proceeding east on the Downeyville road, and the other from a Peterborough OPR cruiser at 8.05 Friday near Fowler's Corners. Tom Fitzpatrick, local OPP constable, checked into the matter for about an hour but to no avail.

The meteor's trail was also observed in Buffalo and in Rochester and Watertown in New York state.

Three Cars Are Ditched In Snowstorm

The Lindsay detachment of the OPP says that three accidents have occurred and three cars were ditched after the wet snow began to fall over this area.

A car went into the ditch two miles west of Lindsay on Highway 7 and another on County Road 9, the cut-off to Cambray.

OPP Constable Jim Hall investigated an accident at 8.15 a.m. Mon. on the big hill south of Bobcaygeon when a car driven by Jones Campbell, of R. R. 1 Bobcaygeon slid off the road. There is reported to have been no one injured and not much damage done to the car.

The second accident was at 9.15 a.m. on Highway 35 south of the Fenelon hill. It is reported that Lawrence Goodham, of R.R. 2 Cameron, slid off the road into the ditch, turned around backwards and damaged the rear of his vehicle. The investigating officer was Constable Clive Naismith.

Constable Naismith's second accident investigation of the morning was less than an hour later, at 10.05 a.m., at the first turn south of McLaren's Creek on Highway 35, when a car driven by Donald Winn, of Cambray, left the road, entered the ditch and sideswiped a large rock there. Damage to the side of the Winn vehicle has been estimated at $150.

Chief Constable John Hunter of Lindsay says that several small accidents occurred in town today as a result of the wet snow on the roads.

Lunch Operator Says He's Not Suing For Loss

Following reports that were circulating around town over the weekend that the owner of Barney's Lunch at 22 Queen Street was going to sue over the loss of perishable foodstuffs due to the Hydro break which shut off his refrigerating units, "The Post" contacted him Monday morning.

The owner, Howard O'Neill, said that he had no statement to make this morning and "that it was all over" and there was nothing he could do about it. In any case, said Mr. O'Neill, Silverwoods had come and removed the perishable food (ice cream, meats) from his restaurant to their cold storage, before they spoiled.

"All I suffered," he concluded, when asked if there had been any financial loss to him, "was the loss of business."

Trust Company Holds Annual Christmas Party

The Victoria and Grey Trust Company got away to an early start in the season's festivities with their staff annual Christmas party.

Full credit is due to the girls of the staff for the wonderful meal they prepared and to which full justice was done by everyone present. A short and very enjoyable staff entertainment followed the supper. A novel note was the introduction of Mrs. Santa Claus as well as her more-famous husband, and these two younger members of the staff provided a few meal of fun which, from the amount of laughter, was much-appreciated by all other members of the staff. Another unusual feature was that all the proceedings were recorded on a recording machine, to provide some permanent remembrance of a happy occasion.

Gifts from the tree were given out by Santa Claus and his wife to bring to a close an altogether delightful evening.

Police Chief Declares No Violence Seen

Two questions that representatives of "The Post" have been asked following the tense Hydro situation here over the weekend are (1) why the crowds were not dispersed by police and why, as one man told this paper, when someone kicked and banged the door of the Hydro truck, was he not stopped "since didn't this constitute violence of some kind?"

To the first question Chief John Hunter says that "when anyone was asked to move away or move back (from the base of the East Ward Hydro pole) they complied. There was no violence that the Police were aware of," since all their requests to move were obeyed.

On the second question, Chief Hunter said that he was not aware at all of anyone kicking or banging the truck door. "I haven't heard about that incident", he said, continuing that he has talked to the Hydro and they have made no comment to his Department about any damage to their property.

Freak Accident Occurs Here

A freak accident occurred on the sloping driveway of the Ross Memorial Hospital on Saturday evening, say: Chief Constable John Hunter.

He says that Saturday evening Mr. W. Allen, of Toronto, reported that he had parked his car on the sloping driveway at the RMH, and that another car, which was parked there also, started to roll towards his own. In an attempt to intercept the first car, Mr. Allen stated that his arm had become caught between the back bumper of the second car and the front bumper of his own.

He further told police that when he was in the RMH having his injured arm treated the driver of the other car came and drove the vehicle away.

The owner of the other car is being sought.

Vault Chapel Dedicated At Cannington

Sunderland (PNS) -At a most impressive Dedication Service, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Drew presented the new Vault-Chapel at Cedar Vale Cemetery, Cannington in memory of their loved ones. This Vault Chapel, of very unique and beautiful architecture, is now available after Dedication to any family in the surrounding district, wishing to use its facilities during the winter months in time of sorrow.

It is recalled that just 25 years ago, George S. Drew, son of Mrs. Olive Drew of Brock was elected Mayor of Timmins. Needless to say, Brock Township is justly proud to prove that it has contributed in no small way to the launching of his successful career.

Young People's Activities

Bonnie Eldonettes Meet Again

The second meeting of the Bonnie Eldonettes was held at Eileen and Marjorie MacPayden's.

The roll call was answered by showing a sample of the material and how to tell it is wool. There were 10 members present.

Mrs. Grant gave a talk on "Weaves" and "pattern alterations." The home assignments were given, lunch served and the meeting adjourned.

Forced To Move Injured Wife Due To Hydro Blackout Here

Mrs. C. E. Hepburn, of 15 St. Paul Street, who has been in a wheel-chair since December 8th with a broken leg, had to be moved from her home Sunday because the electronically-operated part of the Hepburn residence would not operate due to the power stoppage that affected part of the East Ward on Saturday night.

Her husband told "The Post" on Monday that he and his wife have been living in a cold, lightless house. He said "it was warm enough in bed, but very cold when we got up Sunday morning." Mr. Hepburn said he moved his ill wife in a taxi Sunday morning at 10 a.m., taking her to the home of her father, Mr. Frank Beamish, on Glenelg Street, in order to keep warm.

Monday, after power had been resumed into his home, Mr Hepburn says he brought his wife home at 1.00 p.m.

Though he and his wife were inconvenienced, they were certainly not the only ones, Mr. Hepburn pointed out. He said that the young couple who reside in the upstairs apartment in the Hepburn home and Mrs. William McCarty, were forced to take refuge with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gee, of course, no heat in their apartment either.

Rev. T. Hoerward Christmas Meeting Guest Speaker

Janetville (PNS) -Mrs. Harold Moxon opened her Janetville home for the Christmas meeting of the local branch of the W. I.

Mrs. Moxon, the president, presided and following the usual opening exercises, a moment of silence was offered in loving memory of their highly-valued members who have recently passed away, in the persons of Mrs. Albert Healig, Mrs. Annie Johnston, and Mrs. James Howe. A card of acknowledgement was read from Mr. Albert Healig for the many kindnesses shown during bereavement, and also from Mrs. Delmar Jewell, while ill in the Port Perry Hospital, and the Stinson family.

Letters requesting assistance were read from the Hospital for Sick Children, and the Canadian Mental Health Association in Toronto. It was moved and seconded that a cash donation be sent to each. The treasurer, Mrs. Fred Bradburn, reported a total of $214.00 on hand, and Mrs. Root, Wright, flower convener, reported a balance of $13.39. A Christmas greeting letter, which contained a cash donation, was read from Mrs. Chas. McNeil, who is residing in Pontypool for the winter months.

Mrs. Hilden Johnston gave a report on executive meeting which she recently attended, and it was agreed to send $1.00 to Miss Ethel Chapman, on Toronto, for this Institute's share in paying for the Institute book, "Home and Country".

The guest speaker for the day was the Rev. T. Hoerward, pastor of the local United Church. As he quite recently came to Canada from Holland, his talk was mainly about Holland and the way Christmas is celebrated in that country. His talk was most interesting and enlightening.

The Scripture lesson from the 2nd Chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel, was read by Mrs. Bert McMullen. The following readings enjoyed, "The Inn-Keepers Lamount," by Mrs. Hilden Johnston; "Christmas Carols" -by Mrs. Crawford English; "When Daddy Lights the Tree", by Mrs. Harold Moxon.

The roll call was responded to by the Christmas exchange of gifts, when each member received a handsome and useful gift, from a fellow member. A contest, "Names of Things Found On A Dining Table" was conducted by Mrs. Oswald McGill, and won by Mrs. E. Archer, who received as a prize, a lovely crystal relish dish.

The meeting closed with the Institute Creed, the National Anthem. Later lunch was served by Mrs. Moxon and her assistants, Mrs C. Enfield and Mrs. W. Waller. The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Elson.

Newlyweds Honoured At Blackstock

Blackstock (PNS) -A good crowd gathered in the Recreation Centre to honor Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hayes, (nee Ruth Hamilton). Mr. Howard Saywell was the very capable chairman for the evening.

After a hearty sing-song of familiar songs, the chairman called on Mrs. Lorne Saunders for two musical selections, Johnny Greeves also favored with two instrumentals and Mrs. Ken and Joan Venning conducted a television program which was greatly enjoyed.

The happy couple came to the platform and thanked their many friends for the gift. Lunch was served, followed by a dance with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bristow and Mrs. Herman Wilson supplying the music.

Mr. And Mrs. Francis Stokes Celebrate Silver Wedding

Zion-Mariposa (PNS) -- Nearly 200 relatives and friends of the community gathered at Port Hoover School to celebrate Mr. and Mrs. Francis Stokes' silver wedding. Dancing was enjoyed with the Gillson orchestra supplying the music.

Near midnight, Ruby and Francis were escorted to seats of honour and a humorous reading was given by Mr. Robert Parkin entitled "The Husband is Just A Necessary Evil." Mrs. Herman Osborne came forward and read the address which was signed on behalf of the Community by Mrs. Harold Johnson, Mrs. Arthur Hill, Mrs. Stuart Hall, Mrs. H. Hansen and Mrs. H. Osborne. Mrs. Helen Johnson, Mrs. Florence Hill presented them with a lovely coffee table.

The W.A. also presented a lovely gift. Allan, Eudine, Dawn, Ray and Ralph presented their mother with a mixmaster and their father with an electric shaver. They received from the families on either side two lovely electric table lamps, two silver cake plates, rosebowl, butter dish and mayonnaise set. Ruby and Francis thanked their friends for their kind words and lovely gifts.

Ruby and Francis cut the three-tier wedding cake and all enjoyed a bountiful lunch.

Friends were present from Toronto, Oshawa, Bowmanville, Perrytown, Derrysville, Eden, Cambray, Little Britain, Hartley and Valentia.

Christmas Meeting Of Peniel W.M.S. Held In Church

The annual open Christmas meeting of Peniel United church W.M.S. was held in the Sunday-school rooms. Mrs. H. Copeland was in charge of the worship service and Mrs. Leonard Squires was at the piano. The call to worship was read by Mrs. H. Copeland. This was followed by the singing of a Christmas carol.

Mrs. J. Acton read a portion of the Christmas story, taken from the Holy Scripture. Mrs. Frank Abernethy read a verse of prayer. A carol was sung. Mrs. J. Acton continued with the Scripture story and the second verse of prayer was read. A very appropriate musical number given by Lola Allan and Marion Squires. A meditation on "What does Christmas mean to you" was read by Mrs. Ferguson Abernethy. Mrs. J. Acton then finished reading the Christmas story and the closing hymn was sung.

The president, Mrs. D. McDonald occupied the chair for a brief business session. Mrs. Tummonds gave the treasurer's report, showing that the society had again met its allocation for 1953. Two resignations were read, Mrs. Geo. Long, leader of Black's school Mission Band and Mrs. J. Nancekiwell, leader of the Baby Band. The offering was received by Mrs. Ivan Bagshaw, and dedicatory prayer spoken by Mrs. D. McDonald.

Mrs. D. McDonald invited Rev. R. Pointen to preside for the election of officers, which are as follows: president, Mrs. McDonald; vice-pres., Mrs. H. McKague; sec., Mrs. Frank Abernethy; treasurer, Mrs. J. Tummonds; literature, Mrs. J. Tummonds; friendship sec., Mrs. H. Copeland; citizenship and temperance, Mrs. E. Brintnell; Associate Helpers sec., Mrs. J. Acton; Mission Bands and supplies, Mrs. J. Teel; Baby Band leader, Mrs. Geo. Long. Rev. Dr. Pointen thanked all for their kind attention and wished the society success in 1954.

Dr. Pointen pronounced the benediction and dainty refreshments were served and an hour of social fellowship was spent.

Large Crowd Attends Re-Dedication Of Trinity United Church, Omemee

Omemee (PNS) -Trinity United Church was well-filled on Sunday for the dedication and re-opening ceremonies. Rev. Mr. Zufelt dedicated to the memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Balfour, for many years faithful servants, two Lanthorn lights, donated by Mrs. J. Rehill, of Lindsay, and in memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Connell, a beautiful Communion table, donated by their son and daughter, Mrs. O. Orvad and Mr. I. Connell.

Many visitors were present from neighboring congregations as well as from Reaboro, Mt. Hersh, Lindsay, Peterboro, and Toronto. Mr. Donald Palmer, of Highland Creek, sang two fine baritone solos and special music by a full choir, under direction of Miss Lillian Race, organist.

Something of an unusual custom featured the professional work of the choir following the Anglican custom of entering the church from the rear.

Rev. F. G. McTavish, of Bradford, West, gave the sermon in which he renewed old acquaintances, but admitted many had passed on and many had moved away, so he was now a stranger. He complimented the church officials in their undertaking of church extension.

Rev. E. W. Rowland sent his regrets, owing to illness, of being unable to attend. The beautiful meal served in rooms graciously sent by Lady Eaton, always a generous benefactress of Omemee, adorned the tables.

At the evening service, Rev. McTavish impressed upon his hearers the necessity of God and prayer. Divine intervention answered a prayer by the Holland Marsh vegetable growers, whose crops were threatened by frost, but, fortunately were spared.

Mrs. Sherman Harrison sang in fine tenor voice "Bless This House", while Miss Dorothy Connell, soprano, sang the beautiful "The Lord's Prayer".

Parking Lot For Church

St. Mary's Church now has a parking lot. The playgrounds at Russell and Orde Streets, opposite St. Joseph's Convent, is now available for the use of the congregation.

The Board of Works has rounded off the curb at certain points to allow entrance and exit on the east and west sides of the church property.

Carol, Solina, were tea guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Jewell.

Visitors of Mrs. Otto Virtue were Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and Ralph, Mrs. Gordon Walker, Gail and Arlene, Thornhill.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Glaspell and children, visited with Mr. and Mrs. John Gerry, Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Alf. Brown and Jack, Newcastle, visited Messrs. H. and Lloyd Skinner.

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harvey and children were Mr. and Mrs. Annie Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Howson, Linda, Beth and Douglas, Bowmanville; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rosevear, Jacqueline, Lorraine, Kenneth and Esther Lloyd.

Mr. H. Steele and Ronnie, Bert Jeeves and Miss Jean Fraser, Toronto, spent Thanksgiving weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Park.

Mrs. W. Macdonald, Bowmanville, and Mrs. C. Gill, Cumberland, visited Mrs. F. Scott.

Kawartha IODE, Premier Frost, Welcome Newcomers At Party

The new citizens of Lindsay were entertained at a pre-Christmas party for them, sponsored by Kawartha Chapter IODE.

The Red Cross rooms were elaborately decorated by the Chapter, whose artistic talents created this background for a real old-fashioned home Christmas for the town's newest residents. Their parents were present including whole families -- mothers, fathers and children. Invitations were issued to all church groups by the Citizenship Convenor, Miss Ethel Reid.

A large representation of Hollanders came from the Holland Marsh from their homeland during the afternoon. These were led by H. Kendra, from Toronto. Christmas cards were distributed to the adults, and the children enjoyed lollipops and popcorn balls, given out by Santa Claus.

The attractive tea table was bright with colour. A miniature Christmas tree, gaily lighted and holly-ed, rested on a reflector in the centre, and lighted red tapers added their glow. Delicious food and delicious refreshments which were passed to the guests by the Kawartha Chapter ladies and their assistants.

Premier Leslie Frost was present during the well-planned entertainment and welcomed the newcomers to all newcomers to Lindsay. And members of the Chapter with their husbands also were there to welcome and mingle with their guests.

Farm Forum News

Courtney Home Scene of Forum Meeting

North Emily Farm Forum held their regular meeting at the home of Mr and Mrs. Lawrence Courtney. Nine members were present.

The Forum listened to the radio broadcast and discussed the topic "Agriculture and the Business of Farm" in one group, with the host acting as chairman and Mr. M. Hetherington as secretary for the evening.

It was decided that, although 4-H Clubs and other youth programs are doing much of the educational work, good ones are still scarce. It was agreed that a young man might be a very good worker at one time, at the same time, a very poor citizen. It was thought that if the parents were active members of the Forum they would be able to better inform their children.

The minutes of the last meeting, and the Treasurer's report were given. Although Mr. Casselman, the new secretary, and Mrs. McGuffee, the Treasurer, were unable to be present, they were both very conscientious about getting their books and reports ready.

The cheer committee gave their report. It was moved by Robert Elliott, and seconded by M. Courtney, that they be reimbursed for expenses incurred. Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Thurston invited the Forum to their home for the January 14th. It was moved by M. Courtney, and seconded by E. Thurston, that Hubert Elliott be vice-president for the balance of the season. It was moved by Ruby Hutchinson, and seconded by Roy Stinson, that the fees for the guides be reduced from ten to a 1x.

In the absence of the recreation leader, Mrs. Stinson, her husband conducted a very thought-provoking contest. The Forum divided into two groups, and competed to see which group could make the most words from the letters found in the word "consolidated".

After a tasty lunch, a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Courtney for their hospitality. This was moved by Reid Readhouse and seconded by Roy Stinson, on behalf of those present.

L.C.I. Boy Curlers In Jitney Bonspiels

Several of the L.C.I. boy curlers have been participating in the Jitney Bonspiels held every Saturday for the past month. The boys have done extremely well and have not lost one game yet.

A rink skipped by George Blackwell, and composed of M. MacDonald, Ron Olive and Paul Breen, were successful last Saturday in securing a worthwhile prize a 10-lb. goose for each player on the rink.

Basketball Activities Boys' and Girls', Begin

Basketball practices are being held at the present time for both boys and girls. Mr. Brien has already begun to pick his boys' teams. Actual scheduled games will begin early in January.

District Forester Reports

Guides Get Together. By any other name--

The following report on affairs, in the Trent forestry district has been prepared by District Forester H. B. Speller.

"Mr. Doug Roseborough, Provincial Supervisor of Guiding, is in the Lindsay district this week. Evening meetings with leaders are arranged for Curve Lake Reserve Dec. 8th; Haliburton, Dec. 9th; Harwood, Dec. 10th and Lindsay, Dec. 11th. A meeting was held with guides at Bobcaygeon on Dec. 7th.

"The purpose of these meetings is to set up guiding on a sound, modern and efficient guiding services in order to maintain a high standard of guiding, wherever it exists, and engages a guide has reasonable assurance that he will obtain the quality of service he has a right to expect. Another advantage of the meetings is that it gives guides an opportunity to put before members of the department any problems they may encounter. Also, it gives the guides a chance to propose changes in rules and regulations, many of which have been most constructive as they are based on practical experience in the field of guiding.

Muskrat Residences

"Although 'muskrat house' is the word most often used to denote a muskrat dwelling we find that several other names are used in other parts of Ontario. Up Georgian Bay way they are called 'rat abodes.' Around Wabinashene and Pesareton they are known as 'rat houses.' By the Tweed District Bulletin dated Nov. 30th we note they refer to them as 'muskrat cabins'.

"The Indian muskrats have long been regarded as being of superior quality. These rats build a much larger type of house, often having a side compartment referred to as the 'muskrat's parlor.'

"As we appear to have a much more respectable type of muskrat inhabiting the Lindsay District, we feel quite justified in calling the structures they build 'muskrat residences.'

LAW

"Clause (a), sub-section 4 of section 30 of the Game and Fisheries Laws

"No person shall, at any time shoot or spear any muskrat or beaver.

"A registered trapline license or a resident trapping license is sufficient authority to carry a gun by the holder of the license on the area stated on his license, and such person may legally shoot mink, raccoon, otter, weasel and other fur-bearing animals on his trapping area during the open season, but such animals except as prohibited by the above mentioned section."

Lindsay Girls Lose Weekend Cage Game

Two basketball games in the keen Girls' Basketball League in Peterborough wound up their pre-Christmas schedule on Friday night. Black's edged CGE 32-3f and Collis beat Lindsay Nevills 41-26.

The nightcap game saw some neat passing play with both teams displaying close zones. It was pretty even on ball possession but Lindsay was poor on shooting. Gwen Collis' crew built up an 11-5 lead in the initial inning and were in front 24-16 halfway through. They edged Nevills 9-8 in the third quarter and finished stronger.

M. Owen shone in a losing cause with 18 points. Her mates were installed by G. O'Brien, H. Robertson, D. Copp and M. Vanstone. Best in scoring for Collis were P. Stewart with 14 points, J. Dunk clicking for 11. M. McIlven and B. Rumbly, for Collis, and V. Rose got five, while J. LaPointe got two.

Teams were:

Lindsay -- M. Owen, G. O'Brien, H. Robertson, D. Copp, M. Vanstone, D. Jordan and F. Hodgins.

Collis -- J. Dunk, P. Stewart, J. LaPointe, B. Rumble, M. McIlven, V. Rose.

Referee -- W. Edger.

Cobourg Arena Reopens 21st

Cobourg, Dec. 11 --(BUP)-- The Cobourg Hockey Arena, burned to the ground last August, will be ready for play again December 21st.

The long-awaited hockey season will open with a game between the Cobourg Comets and the Lakefield Indians, on the O-H-A Intermediate A Lakeshore League. The Comets have been playing a schedule of games away from home until the rink was rebuilt.

The rink will be officially dedicated early in January.

EVERYTHING WRONG FOR THE MUSKIES AS ORONO ORPHUNS WIN 5-2 GAME

Everything went wrong for the Muskies Saturday night as the Orono Orphuns romped home with a 5-2 win.

The Muskies' bad breaks started before game time when O'Donoghue picked his wrist in a ball during the pre-game warm-up and had to sit out the game. By game time, it became apparent that leftwinger Bob Lewis would be unavailable due to an emergency work tie-up.

On top of that, Wimpy Parker received a face cut on the practice puck passing accident and he had to retire for repairs in the first two seconds, as the puck flipped up and hit his face.

When the game got underway Orono set down a close-checking shortpassing game and the Muskies never seemed to get organized.

In short, Orono struck for four goals in the first half of the first period on their accurate passing while Muskies struck for two in the latter half. Orono added a goal early in the second and that was the end of the scoring until midway a kitty-bar-the-door plan that upset almost every attack the Muskies' mustered. You could throw a puck at them. When the local lads did get in around the net, Heath in the Orono net turned them back deviously. Orono defence would only manoeuvre the defense only to have the pass jump over their stick. Throughout the scoreless period and early third, Orono went on the attack when they found an opening, but Moon O'Donnell turned in a fine effort to abut them out through most of the second and the third periods.

Throughout the middle of the third period the Orphuns commenced icing the puck at every opportunity to run down the remaining time on the clock. The strategy in this case paid off in their win, but did not go over too good with the near capacity fans present.

The Muskies, with two left wingers absent and a third one converted to right wing, failed to change their plans to suit the situation as Orlie Crawford, playing right wing with Parker confined to the penalty box left wing with Hicks and Corley, or Wyatt and Weddup with Ken Kelly sparing him off on the two extra lines.

Shetler set the pace for the Orphuns as the shifty right winger picked up assists on both goals. The Lindsay goals went to Corley and Hicks.

Orono opened the scoring at 1.18 in the first period when a three-way passing play by Armstrong, Shetler and Dean West gave Muckenzie chatter.

Play remained fairly even for the next seven or eight minutes with the Muskies trying in vain to equal the count.

About mid-period Orono blew the game wide open with two quick goals in one minute and thirty-eight seconds. Shetler was Johnny-on-the-spot when he intercepted a Lindsay clearance pass from behind the net and scored from close in at 9.03. One minute and thirteen seconds later he scored again on a rebound on Dean West's shot, when he was left uncovered and flipped it past the goalkeeper.

With a change of lines Keith West got the thirt (their fourth) on a pass out by Robinson as he rounded the Lindsay defence at 10.41.

Lindsay at this point went on the attack and gave Heath a busy time. Hicks, Corley and Defenceman Davis charged from his own end, met Phillips agaisnst the boards at the Orono blueline with Hicks in lead. up the puck and headed for the Orono net. Shell cut across in front of the net and pulled Davis down but not before he passed the puck to Corley blazing in on right wing and Corley's shot rubbed out the count at 12.15. Corley's drive stopped play at 12.15. Kelly, Corley and Hicks succeeded in getting Heath down on the play after, but Heath kicked the rebound just beyond their reach.

Orono went turn on the ice, Corley carried in on right wing and was skated toward the corner. Corley attempted a pass to Hicks who got his stick on it as he turned and back-handed a slow slider for the corner of the net. The change of pace as the puck rolled lazily as the puck slid over the line to end the period 4-2, and no penalties in the period.

As the second period opened, Keith West and Robinson set Merger up for a quick scoring shot at 2.17, and that ended the scoring due to brilliant work by O'Connell and Heath.

Lindsay were hard-pressed just after mid-period when Davis was chased for holding at 12.58 and Hicks followed him at 13.17 for interference. An interference penalty to Phillips at 14.31 eased the pressure a little, but Lindsay were unable to gain much when they had the man advantage.

The first ten or twelve minutes of the third period were exciting, to say the least, with Lindsay opening wide to close the gap and Orono waiting for the break-aways. Muscler stopped three, alone, at 6.00, then Heath kicked two of three and put a few seconds left on at 8.40. Parker and Crawford had Heath at their mercy, but he never gave an inch.

Robinson was thumbed for holding at 8.40 and Orono protected their lead by icing the puck, and continuing to do so very well throughout the remainder of the period.

It seemed every attack Lindsay threw over the blue line, a defender's stick would intercept the pass and then the fun for the puck went.

A high-sticking penalty to Armstrong and an elbowing penalty to Corley at 19.28 closed the period with the Muskies still unable to solve the Orphuns defense.

In gaining their win, the Orphuns set in behind a short passing precision attack that was beautiful to watch but rather distracting to the Muskies.

H. Gregory's Rink Wins Rural Tournament Trophy at 2-Day 'Spiel

Helen Gregory's rink (Madeline Williamson, Mona Hall, Catherine O'Leary) defeated the rink of Lenore Rowlandson (Mrs. Donald Lee-King, Margaret Barkwell) by a 9-7 score in the final game of the main event of last week's two-day 'spiel' tournament held by the Board of Commerce Trophy. Besides the trophy to Mrs. Gregory's foursome, Mrs. Rowlandson and her rink, the winners and runners-up at the annual bancuet at the end of the club curling season.

The consolation event in this 'spiel was won by Lou Perkins' rink, (Jean Woollard, Marjorie Sutton, Laura McGahey). They took the final from the Bonspiel committee rink of Hazel Chase (Rene Rowlandson, Mabel Thurston, Dorothy McIntosh) by a 16-7 score. Prizes to the winners and runners up in the consolation will also be presented at the annual banquet at the end of the season.

There were 18 rinks entered in the competition of this bonspiel, which was for members of the Lindsay Ladies' Curling Club only.

Lindsay Rink Runners-up in Final Of Toronto Bonspiel

A Lindsay rink, skipped by Mrs. A. C. M. Malcolmson, (Mrs. Mary Mc-Nergery and Mrs. R. Rowlandson) were the runners-up in the final of the Toronto Ladies' Bonspiel at the Toronto Curling Club Tuesday.

Another Lindsay rink, skipped by Mrs. L. Perkins (Mrs. S. R. Pitts, Mrs. W. Gregory and Mrs. R. P. Wilson) lost both games they played in the two-day 'spiel and were thus eliminated.

Mrs. J. B. Seawright of the Toronto Ladies' Curling Club successfully defended the Malcolmson Trophy, which she won last year. In scoring her second successive victory, she became the first in the history of the competition, Mrs. Seawright had two members of her 1952 rink, Mrs. H. A. Honsberger and Mrs. H. C. Huckvale, who moved up to second and vice respectively, with Mrs. Jack Ross as lead.

On her way to the final, Mrs. Seawright won three games yesterday. She defeated her alternate, Mrs. Ross, 19-5, in the morning round, 14-7; eliminated Mrs. W. W. Cole of Sarnia, 8-7, in the semi-final and took a second win over Mrs. C. M. Laidley of Lindsay in the final, 13-12. Mrs. Laidley eliminated Mrs. Colin Campbell of Thistletown in the other semi-final, 12-10.

The final was a one-sided affair for 7½ ends but the finish was most exciting, even Mrs. Seawright didn't have to play her last rock. A three on the tenth gave her a 13-7 lead, but Mrs. Laidley scored four on the 11th and was counting the only four stones in the house when she delivered her last stone. In her effort to stop in the front ring, with a combined counter and guard, Mrs. Laidley hooked right and failed to get in the house. It took the measure off Mrs. Seawright who let the four count stand.

In the fourth Jitney Bonspiel of the 1953 season played on Saturday at the local Granite House, geese and capons held the attention of the curlers participating.

Upon completion of the two 8-end games it was found that the rinks of Bert James and Ken Selby tied with scores of five points each. This necessitated an extra throw for the skips of the two teams, Bert Everson for Bert James' team and Percy Skitch. The two veteran skips proved to be little fun for the spectators and other curlers and received not a little good-natured kidding as it took four stones each by the two men to decide a winner. Percy Skitch drew inside the twelve-foot circle to give his team the geese.

The scores of the day are as follows:

Many Cancer Patients Live For Years

Because the cause of cancer is not definitely known many of us feel that all cancer patients have but a short time to live. It may come as a surprise, therefore, to learn that not only a early cancer controls but some cancer patients live with cancer for many years.

In The Canadian Medical Association Journal, Dr. Norman A. McCormick, Windsor, Ontario, reports that since the opening of the cancer Clinic and establishment of the Neoplastic (neo growths) Service in the Metropolitan General Hospital 4,623 patients have been treated for cancer. Because practically all of these patients (99.7 per cent) have been followed-up for a number of years, cancer patients and the families of cancer patients can learn much about cancer and its treatment that may prove helpful and encouraging.

The histories of 1,204 persons alive five years after treatment of microscopically proved cancer offer ample proof that cancer can be cured. Specifically, 26 per cent of the 2,763 cancer patients admitted to the Clinic between December 1935 and January 1, 1948, lived five years." There has been such a steady increase in the survival rate that the Hospital and Clinic now confidently expect that more than 50 per cent of their patients with cancer to be alive five years later.

The largest single group of patients (633) had cancer of the skin, usually in such exposed areas as the face, neck and hands. The treatment of choice in the Clinic is by irradiation, either with X-ray or radium, supplemented by surgery when considered necessary."

Seventy-seven per cent of the patients with cancer of the skin were alive and free from any sign of growth after five years. Only 9 per cent died of cancer, the others died from illness or old age.

The conclusions of Dr. McCormick from observations of this wonderful follow-up of cancer patients are:-

1. --The outlook for the cancer patients has improved.

2.--A degree of centralization is essential for adequate treatment of cancer but it is not necessary that all cases go to the one very large areas of population. On the contrary, comparison with published results from other centres are favorable and the smaller cancer clinic is justified.

3.-- Clinics in the smaller areas, as already stated, have as many advantages as they make possible a degree of attention that is unobtainable in large institutes of the type. patients appreciate being near their homes and the support of their family physicians be agreeable to us." He felt that the option price of $800 was to protect the council on the top price, not to say that it couldn't be lowered, perhaps. He said the land would be valuable to the Parks Board, but not to buy it on their account alone at present. The Board could use the Durham Street lot, he said, if council saw fit to turn it over to them. He hoped that in future the Parks Board could build, but that the planning of the type of building, amount of land needed, etc., . . . "wouldn't be for some time."

Ald. Maidens -- What about storkpiling down there (on Jackson property)?

Mr. Brown -- We could use it, but we'll have to put up a fence around equipment to keep it outside. (Present building is being rented for $18 per month, he said.)

Ald. Breese -- What about getting the Jackson lot for say -- $600?

Dep.-reeve Hick -- I think it is valuable to the town. We ought to protect ourselves.

Mayor Lamb -- I don't think Jackson will come down.

Dep.-reeve Hick -- In view of future expansion in Lindsay of the Board of Works and Parks Board, do you think we ought to acquire it?

Mayor Lamb -- Yes, since there is not only the property but a 66 ft. road allowance. If someone builds a house there they might want to use the road and we couldn't close it.

Ald. Baker -- It is more valuable to Town than anyone else.

Reeve Butler -- Few would build (a home), on an $800 lot.

Ald. Baker -- $200 won't stop them if they want to build. What about leaving it up to next year's council.

Ald. Breese -- The majority of council will be back next year, let's decide it now.

Deputy-reeve Hick said the Board of Works were rather crowded at present with the amount of ground they have. He felt the Town ought to acquire the Jackson property.

Ald. Harrigan -- I don't like to buy something for someone else when I wouldn't pay it for myself. We haven't got $800 or anything near it for a lot (sold by council) this year.

Reeve Butler -- That's true.

Ald. McQuarrie -- I think $800 is too much but if the Board of Works and the Parks Board need it, there's not much use in quibbling over $100. He was intimated that someone had offered the Jackson about $700 for the property).

It was left in the hands of Messrs. Hick and Brown to get a lower price if they could and, if not, to buy the lot for $800.

Land

Planning Board will do, "we may have some plan from the Department by then."

Ald Maidens -That was our original plan. This thing covers the whole area now, though.

Mr. Mills -This thing has snowballed. All we asked for was services for Maryknoll Avenue.

Ald. Breese -Have we the authority to act with Maryknoll as we planned or has the Department the whole say?

Ald. Maidens -Mr. Mills, could you handle the services in your own piece of ground?

Mr. Mills -We left estimates up to the engineer and sub-committee of council and don't know what they are.

Deputy-reeve Hick said that this would have to go back to Department in Toronto.

Mr. Mills -What is the difference in the estimates now?

Reeve Butler -They've gone up.

Ald. Maidens -The estimates give the cost of the whole thing -$8 lots, and the estimates have gone up. They are to come out of the general rates. We have got to provide debentures to guarantee the part we are not spending.

Mr. Mills -What about putting it (services) down Maryknoll?

Ald. McQuarrie -The Department won't let you.

Mr. Mills -What about a delegation going to Toronto?

Ald. Harrigan -Everyone ought to be here when it is discussed. Some are weren't at the two special committee meetings. Have them all here so we'll know what goes on and we'll know the answers.

Deputy-reeve Hick said that "when they came down, they said Maryknoll wasn't a large enough group (for them to deal with) . . . they would have to acquire more land for larger scheme." He said he understood that the Land Assembly Scheme were obtaining options on East Ward lots near Maryknoll.

Ald. Breese -To give these people (Maryknoll) what they wanted, which was comparatively modest, we would have to service a large area.

Ald Maidens -If we go into it the way it is, we'll spend an awfully large sum of money. They are spending our money not their own (the Department). They're in trouble with the same thing in other places. With the Taylor project, for instance, it is different, and has been threshed out in council. We have to look to the future with confidence, but also with caution. I'm sure Maryknoll didn't want their subdivision stymied by council."

Mr. Mills -(Developing the larger area) "would be establishing service for future use -expansion of the town. Maryknoll would be paying their share in taxes."

But Deputy-reeve Hick said the original understanding with Maryknoll had expanded to such a degree that it took in not only Maryknoll, but Russell Street as well.

Ald. Maidens -It is a blanket agreement

It was passed that the Department of Planning and Development be contacted to come to Lindsay and meet with Maryknoll and Town Council as soon as possible.

Lakeview WI Holds Successful Bazaar

Baddow (PNS) -Mrs. Jack Perryman opened her home for the December meeting and annual bazaar of the Lakeview W. I. With Pleasant Valley Institute as guests, it brought the attendance to 45.

Mrs. H. Hopkins presided at the meeting which opened with the singing of the Ode followed by the Lord's Prayer. The minutes of the last meeting were read and the treasurer's report given by Mrs. Oscar Goodhand. The receipts from the three progressive euchre parties, which were held recently, were very gratifying. The members were asked to consider the purchase of folding chairs for the Institute and bring their decision to the January meeting.

A letter was read from Miss Noble regarding the girls' club work and reminding the members, of the different ways in which they could lend a helping hand to the leaders. The fruit and flower committee were advised to purchase boxes of fruit for the aged and shut-ins, at Christmas, as has been the custom. The roll call was answered by an unusually wrapped Christmas gift, which was placed on the couch and take table for sale during the bazaar.

Mrs. J. Perryman gave a very interesting paper on "The First Christmas Bell", which was enjoyed by all as was the report of the first day of the W. I. convention in the Royal York Hotel in Toronto, at which she was the delegate. The singing of "Silent Night", and the National Anthem, brought the meeting to a close.

The proceeds from the bazaar amounted to $75.00, including the sale of tickets on a Christmas cake, which was donated by Mrs. Leonard Wilson and won by Mr. Cecil Phillips of Rosedale.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess and her helpers and a social half hour spent.

Mrs. Morley Moynes president, of Pleasant Valley W. I. thanked the ladies for their hospitality and this brought a very enjoyable afternoon to a close. The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Oscar Reid.

West Ops W.I. Hears Talk On Alaska

The December meeting of the West Ops W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. L. Sharpe, with the president, Mrs. L. Graham, in the chair.

The meeting came to order with the singing of the Ode, repetition of the Lord's prayer and the Creed. The minutes of the November meeting were read and approved. Mrs. Thos. Cochrane, who was made Life Member of the Lindsay W.I., was congratulated.

The shut-ins will be remembered at Christmas. A box is to be packed and sent to three boys in the Armed Forces. The financial report was then given and the roll call was the exchange of Christmas gifts.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Geo. Hickson, program convenor. Community singing was indulged in. Little Beth Bailey gave a recitation, as did Harvey Sharpe, Mrs. Cecil Brown favoured with a reading. Mrs. Hines and her two boys, David and Cecil, sang two delightful Christmas numbers. Mrs. L. Sharpe played the harmonica, accompanied on the piano by her daughter, Mrs. Bud Bailey.

Mrs. Hickson introduced the speakers, Major Majury and his wife of the Salvation Army. They spoke on "Alaska", describing the ways of the people, the temperature, the crops in the spring, the language, singsongs, sign posts and diet. They had a display curios of the country and what the people wore. Mrs. Majury sang songs, accompanying herself on the harp, which was much appreciated.

Mrs. L. Graham presented Major and Mrs. Majury with a cheque for $25.00 to be used where they saw fit.

The meeting came to a close with the singing of the National Anthem and table grace, after which Mrs. Sharpe and her helpers served a delicious lunch. Mrs. Thos. Cochrane thanked Mrs. Sharpe for the use of her home and all who took part in the program.

Coboconk

(News for week ending Dec. 12) Mr. and Mrs. Morley McKague, also Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Williams, of Fenelon Falls motored to Toronto to see the 1954 display of Pontiac and Buick cars at Old Fort York Armouries.

Mr. R. Garrett of Toronto was a Monday evening caller of Mr. Fred Angiers.

Mrs. S. Routley, Mrs F. Moore and family and Mrs. M. J. McKague and girls were visitors in Orillia on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Handley and Sharon of Burnt River were Saturday evening visitors at the Routley's.

Mrs L. Carl returned home Thursday morning after being away some time visiting her daughter, Mrs. Delbert Hickson at Reaboro, Mrs. Carl Dickson at Otonabee, also her son, Mr. Clifton Carl at Prineville.

Charles Kay

Norland (PNS) -The Norland Community was deeply saddened when it was learned that a pioneer and most respected citizen, Mr. Charles Kay had passed away very suddenly due to a heart attack. He was 75 years of age, born March 4th, 1878, three miles west of the village of Norland, and was the eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kay.

At the time of his father's death, he, at the age of 22, took over the responsibilities of the Kay homestead 45 years ago in 1908. he was united in marriage to Ethel Winterburn. Retiring from the farm in 1928, they moved to the village of Norland. For a number of years he blacksmithed, along with a small scale ranching close to the village.

The deceased was a faithful attendant of the former Methodist Church and after union of the United Church.

He leaves to mourn his passing his devoted wife and one daughter, Nora, (Mrs. N. Bryant) and seven grandchildren also two brothers, William and John of Norland. A sister, Estella predeceased him some years ago.

On Wednesday afternoon a very large funeral was held from the United Church, where the pastor, Mr. Atkinson of the United Church and Rev. Ian McIntyre of the Pioneer Baptist Church conducted the service, speaking very highly of the deceased. He spoke words of comfort to the bereaved.

Pallbearers were six nephews, Norman, Fred and Gordon Kay, Fred and Arthur Winterburn and Norman Newman. Interment was made at Pine Grove Cemetery.

Relatives and friends from a distance were, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sluggit, Cambray; Mrs. Cameron Parliament, Oakwood; Mrs. Jas. Watson, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. J. Trotter, Kinmount; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kay, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kay, Lindsay; Mrs. Ethel Bonter, Orillia and friends from Coboconk and Bexley.

The beautiful floral tributes showed the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Mrs. C. Brown W.A. Hostess

Dentville (PNS) -The W. A. held their monthly meeting in the form of a pot-luck dinner and quilting at the home of Mrs. Clare Brown, with a splendid attendance.

After the dinner and the quilt was finished, the regular Christmas meeting was held with the president in the chair, the theme being "Joy". A number of Christmas carols were sung and Rev. Mr. Harrison led in prayer. The main business was the planning of the bazaar and bake sale.

Scripture lesson was given by Mrs. Wm. Wakelin. The January meeting will be in charge of group one and they are responsible for the home and programme Mrs. Harold Gordon and a passage from the Missionary book. A duet was sung by Mrs. W. Wakelin and her daughter, Marlene, and was much enjoyed. A monologue was given by Mrs. H. Gordon, "The Gift".

The Mispah Benediction brought an enjoyable afternoon to a close.

Birthday Of The King

THE FIRST CHRISTMAS
(By Rev. William Howery)

As shepherds watched their flocks by night
Out on the hills of wild Judae,
Behold a star that was dazzling bright
Shone out above the Western Sea,
And flooded the earth with a glorious light.
'Till the shepherds quaked in fear and fright,
"Fear not!" said the angel. "Behold I bring
Good tidings of joy—the birth of a King.
The Babe ye shall find in lowly clothes,
And laid in a manger to take His repose."
Then suddenly came there a Heavenly choir
All lifting their voices up still higher,
"Glory to God! On the earth be Peace!
And a reign of Love that shall never cease!"
"Come now," said one of the shepherd men,
"To Bethlehem let us go, and then
We'll search and see why the angels sing
Of this new-born Child who shall be a King."
So they came with hast and were not dismayed,
For they found the Babe in the manger laid.
For there was no room in the Inn for Him,
So His birth-place was but a stable dim:
And then in the joy of that Christmas morn
Each shepherd blew on his shepherd's horn.
To tell the world that the King was born.

And three Wise Men out of the East afar
Behold the light of the blazing star,
"What's this? What's this?" said the Wise Men three,
"A star by night! It must surely be
Make haste! Make haste! Let us go and find
The reason why God has warned Mankind."
And all through the night as they rode along,
They heard sweet snatches of angels' song
So the Wise Men came from the East afar
By the friendly light of the guiding star;
'Till they came in Judah to Bethlehem,
In wonder of what would be shown to them,
'Till they came to the place where the Baby lay.
In His manger crib on a bed of hay;
And bending low they worshipped the Child,
As He lay in the arms of His Mother mild;
And presented Him gifts of gold and myrrh,
As He looked on them and smiled at her.
The treasures they gave were rich and rare,
For ne'er had they seen a Child so fair.
"'Tis true," they cried, "what the angels sing
For the Child is Christ! We have found the iKing!"
Then back to their homes which the East adorn,
Proclaiming the news the King was born.

Simple Refreshments Buffet Style Ideal For Christmas Eve Party

With Christmas only a few days away, greeting cards are arriving. The last of the presents are being bought and wrapped in attractive paper. Decorations are ready to hang and a happy festive note rings throughout the house.

Activities on Christmas Day vary from home to home in our vast country. In some, the children go to bed in anticipation of Santa's visit, while father dresses the tree and mother completes last minute preparations for the Christmas dinner. In other homes, the first party of the season takes place. Sometimes it takes the form of a house-decorating party. If this is the case, as the guests arrive, they are made responsible for some small part of the decorations and at the end of the evening their work is judged and a prize awarded. In still others it is the custom for the family to have a large meal after they return from midnight church service No matter what type of celebration is taking place a gaily decorated tree with colorful packages piled below, candle light and a pretty centre piece on the table is a typical setting for the Christmas Eve party. The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture say that when entertaining the refreshments should be planned and prepared in advance so that all may join in the fun of the evening. It is important to bear in mind that everyone eats a large variety of rich foods at Christmas time and that simple but attractive party fare, tempting to the eye and the appetite, without taxing the budget will be very much enjoyed.

A buffet party will eliminate many serving difficulties. The guests, by serving themselves, help with the work. If the dining room is large enough, leave the table in the centre with the decorations in the middle of it. If the room is small or if the livingroom is to be used, place the table against the wall and arrange the decorations along the side of the table nearest to the wall. The decorations should be characteristic of the season with a colour scheme of red, green and white.

The plates, cutlery and napkins may be placed at one or both ends of the table and duplicate dishes of food are a good idea if many are to be served. Card tables with pretty cloths will be appreciated by those present without help, than in the men. The menu may be sliced ham or tongue with perhaps a potato salad, and for colour, a filled cake in a Christmas shape. Another good idea is to have an easy-to-prepare hot casserole dish such as creamed chicken and mushrooms. Whether the main dish is cold or hot, be sure to have a festive array of relishes on the table. It goes without saying that a generous supply of hot rolls should be there too.

For an informal gathering, the home economists suggest that the hostess have a large saucepan of soup on the stove. Everyone is sure to enjoy a cup of hot soup either upon arriving or before leaving on a crisp, winter night. Consomme or bouillon are both quite suitable for the occasion. To serve with the soup, there is nothing better than Melba toast, croutons or small salted crackers. Hot sausage rolls made with either sausages or weiners, a large plate of assorted sandwiches or a make-your-own sandwich tray are all good foods which can be prepared well ahead of time.

Why not serve an international selection of cookies such as Scotch shortbreads, Chinese chews, Danish fancies and Canadian applesauce cookies?

Song of Christmas

The earth has grown old with its burden of care,
But at Christmas it always is young;
The heart of the jewel burns lustreous and fair,
And its soul, full of music, breaks forth on the air
When the song of the angels is sung.
It is coming, Old Earth, it is coming tonight!
On the snowflakes which cover thy sod,
The feet of the Christ-Child fall gentle and white,
And the voice of the Christ-Child
Tells out with delight
That mankind are the children of God.—Phillips Brooks

Why You Hang Holly at Yuletide

Credit The Pagan Druids for inspiring one of the nice Christmas customs -- decorating with holly. The traditional holly for the holidays is widely believe to have had its origin in the Druid practice of bringing holly sprigs indoors. The Druids woodland spirits lived in the holly.

Indoors, holly gave the spirits a nice warm place in winter. Besides, the lush green holly and its contrast of its red berries provided beauty that could be revered by men. While the oak trees were shorn of their foliage.

The early Christian church frowned on such pagan customs and tried to stamp them out. In due time, however, it was felt that some of the customs could be adapted to the new Christmas conception.

Some beautiful legends associate the holly with Christ. In fact, it is often called the Christ thorn. One legend depicts the leaf spines as the crown of thorns; the red berries as the size of the world and blood of Christ. Another credits holly with first springing up from the footsteps of Christ. The plant is said to remain green all winter as a reward for one hiding Christ from his pursuers.

The impact of the holly on the Christmas celebration is evidenced in the traditional holiday colors, green and red. The Druids weren't the only people of old who thought the holly was something special. Pliny, the great Roman historian, insisted holly blossoms caused water to freeze. Also, that holly thrown at any wild beast would make it lie down tamely next to the branch.

Ancient Pace-Egg Is Christmastime Game in England

Every year in scattered villages in the North of England, shepherds, farm hands and others perform the ancient Pace-egg or Mumming Play at Christmas. With blackened faces and fancy costumes, they repeat the words handed down for centuries. Chief actors are King (or Saint) George, a quack doctor and Father Christmas. In the play, the King slays his enemies one by one, but each in turn is resurrected by the doctor. One of the oldest of the "mumming" troops is that in Alderley Edge, bordering on Cheshire and Derbyshire.

Bay and Rosemary Christmas Tradition

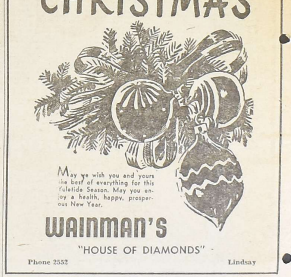

Bay and rosemary have also been represented among our Christmas plants from time immemorial. An ancient writer says: "Rosemary and Baies that are most faire were stuck about the houses and the churches at the time of Christmas."

According to tradition it was the bay tree, with its lance-like leaves and purple berries, that sheltered the holy family during a thunderstorm. Accordingly it was believed that lightning will never strike a bay tree.

The association of the rosemary plant with Christmas also goes back to the early childhood of our Lord, namely to the flight into Egypt to escape the wrath and jealousy of King Herod. Its branches are said to have held the little garments of the Christ-Child that were placed upon them by the Virgin Mother. Originally, its flowers were supposed to have been white, but the plant changed the color of its blossoms to lavender so that they might bear the hue of the cloak Mary was wearing at the time.

The Opening of Santa Claus Village

Except for Santa Claus himself, the photographer was about the busiest person around at the recent opening of Santa Claus Village at Val David in the Laurentian Mountains north of Montreal. Filled with the joyous spirit of Christmas, the enthusiastic cameraman recorded the following scenes, showing (1) Santa Claus arriving at his new home via a modern helicopter rather than the proverbial reindeer; (2) nine-year- old Marcel Thouin, grandson and official representative of Montreal's Mayor Camillien Houde, presenting the keys of the new Village to Mayor Beaulieu of Val David; (3) Santa Claus and some of his little helpers being welcomed to his new domes; (4) a llama from the slopes of the Peruvian Andes, one of the many animals which roam freely through the Village, attracting almost as much attention from young visitors as Santa Claus himself; (5) Santa Claus' own house, one of the many attractions in the Village; (6) the jolly old gentleman himself enthralling one of his many friends; (7) two of the bear cubs revelling in their specially-built pit when, when illuminated at night, resembles a giant birthday cake; and (8) the Chapel of Saint Nicholas which contains a Crib reminiscent of the first Christmas.

Mistletoe Plays Its Part

Christmas green so common in many parts of America, is usually thought of as merely good holiday decoration or as a creator of open season on ladies fair for otherwise bashful swains.

Mistletoe did not always hold this position in our lives. The Druids called it "all - heal", and thought it held many miraculous virtues. The Scandinavians dedicated it to their goddess of love, Frigs. Probably the goddess of love is responsible for the custom of kissing under the mistletoe.

The power to heal, to protect against sickness, to perform magic deeds - all these and more are the qualities ascribed to this plant in legends, traditions and even in ancient histories and literature.

Mistletoe is a parasite which infests branches of various trees of both hardwood and conifers, but mainly on hardwoods. One species is found exclusively, however, on conifers.

Among the Celts and others, the mistletoe which grew from the oak was considered to have peculiar magical virtues not possessed by that of any other trees. Some even considered it so rare as to be only cut with a gold knife.

Another old tradition is that the mistletoe supplied the wood for the holy cross, as previous to that time it was a forest tree but after the crucifixion was condemned to exist only as a dwarf parasite.

Mistletoe was taken over into the Christmas tradition in due course and dedicated to the Christ-Child. An old rhyme reads:

The mistletoe bough
At our Christmas board
Shall hang to the honor
Of Christ our Lord.

The Devil's Knell Tolls at Midnight

Seven hundred years ago in the English town of Dewsbury, in Yorkshire, a boy was murdered and his body thrown in a nearby stream. The crime was discovered and the murderer, a rich man named Thomas de Soothill, presented as a penance a tenor bell to Dewsbury church. The bell became known as the Devil's Knell and every Christmas eve it is tolled once for each year of the Christian calendar.

The Holly Wreath

The Romans used laurel as an emblem of peace, joy and victory. Later it was adopted by Christian people and used to decorate the windows of their homes, indicating that Christ had entered there. Ivy and holly replaced the laurel in old England and eventually made their way to our country.

Many Problems, Nosey People Confront Trimmer of Huge New York Christmas Tree

You think you have trouble decorating the family Christmas tree with children and presents underfoot . . .

Well, consider the state of the man who trims one of the most famous yule trees. He's pestered with several million nosey people, with their own ideas about trimmings.

Robert Carson is the name of the harried tree-trimmer, and the tree is the spectacular one which each year goes up in New York's Rockefeller Center.

Carson, a bachelor in his 40's and an architect by profession, figures that between 150 and 200-thousand New Yorkers and visitors pass through the center daily. The tree is up 30 days . . . and Carson loses track of his audience. But-it's in the millions each year

"Besides," he says, "they put the tree on television . . . another 40 or 50 million must see it that way."

Fortunately just some, not all, the viewers are critical. Most write or call Carson to say they approve.

The best-liked blast of criticism came in 1949, the one time Carson strayed from the traditional in decoration. He used a weatherproof paint and sprayed the tree silver-white before it was cut and hauled to the plaza.

"You'd have thought I had committed murder," says Carson, with a chuckle." "We got hundreds of objections . . . no one liked the white. One called said, 'Mr. Carson, I have an idea for your tree next year. Why don't you paint it green?' "

Carson starts trimming next year's tree, mercifully, in mid Is, as soon as this year's is up. He explains, "That's the only way I can visualize the results . . . by looking at the one up now."

He's been planning the Center tree decoration since 1937, and has decorated Norway Spruce ranging in height from 30 feet to 90, the tallest ever used at the Center.

This year's tree, now having its decorations strung, is a 75-foot spruce from a Morristown, New Jersey estate. The spruce is being strung with six-thousand shimmering, trailing aluminum icicles, each 16 inches long, and with 65-hundred clear, seven-watt firefly bulbs, requiring six miles of wiring. In addition, twenty 300-watt floodlights in six colors --red, violet, blue, green, yellow and orange --will bathe the tree at night. It'll take 20 men 10 days to get all the trimmings up.

Carson says that pleasing the millions who see the tree is just one of his trimming problems. He's also got weather and New York City soot to worry about. Once he decides on the trimmings --- he has the plan pretty well in mind by mid-July -- he starts getting them together and running tests on their ability to withstand dirt and the weather.

Samples of the trimmings are tested usually on rooftops 12 or 15 stories up on Rockefeller Center buildings.

"We've got one funny old crab apple tree up there we've been trimming for year," says Carson. "Tenants 70 or 80 floors up call to ask what we're up to . . . having Christmas in July? Some people report they've just seen a flying saucer on the roof below."

Carson's favorite tree of all time was the one he calls "our first firefly tree" . . . the 1951 tree decorated with more than seven thousand tiny, flickering lights.

The tree he does not like to remember was the one which went up in December, 1961. Says Carson--"The day we were to turn on the lights, the Jays bombed Pearl Harbor. We never turned on the lights."

Despite the elaborateness of the Rockefeller Plaza tree, Carson like many a home-maker, has to watch his budget. He won't disclose how much he spends on the tree, saying only ---"We don't want to put a

Yuletide Feasts Were Feasts In Days of Medieval England

One upon a medieval Yuletide, King Richard III of England celebrated at Lichfield --- and during the festivities, 2,000 oxen and 200 tons of wine were consumed.

Of course, the feudal set-up provided the great lords with the wherewithal for magnificence -- the lords received gifts from their tenants and kings received gifts from their nobles; and the graduated scale for giving and receiving was as well ascertained as the guildsm honorariam of any barrister or physician.

Queen Elisabeth received a large part of her wardrobe as gifts from her courtiers, and it rne quality or quantity was not satisfactory, the donors were unceremoniously informed of the situation.

When Henry III entertained a thousand knights, peers and assorted nobles who came to attend the Yuletide marriage of the Princess Margaret, his majesty received a royal Christmas gift of 2,700 pounds plus 600 fat oxen from the Archbishop of York.

With similar assistance, whether exhorted or given in the spirit of generosity appropriate to the season, his majesty could well afford to give Christmas feasts for the poor like the one given in Westminister Hall in 1248, which lasted a week.

Striving to outdo his predecessors and give his successors something to shoot at, Henry VIII kept one Yuletide at which the cost of gold cloth that was used amounted to 600 pounds alone. He had tents erected and artificial gardens plotted within the spacious hall of his palace. Knights came out of the tents to joust in tournaments and fantastically dressed dancers, covered from head to foot with gay ribbon streamers, emerged from the gardens to entertain the guests.

Preparation for the feasting on such occasions is perfectly appalling to epicure, of the 20th century -- and can only be vaguely comprehended by considering that Richard II normally employed 2,000 cooks to prepare food for the 10,000 persons who dined -- irrespective of special feasting -- at his expense every day.

Christmas Everywhere

Everywhere, Everywhere -Christmas tonight!
Christmas in lands of the fir-tree and pine,
Christmas in lands of the palm and the vine,
Christmas where snow-peaks stand solemn and white,
Christmas where cornfield lie sunny and bright.
Everywhere, everywhere, Christmas tonight.

Phillip Brooks

price tag on something beloved by everybody."

He has this advice to you planning your Christmas trimmings.

"Keep 'em simple," says Carson. "most women put too much on the tree . . . they try to use all the ornaments they've collected through the years. The result is hodge-podge. Get one theme and carry it out."

He prefers the real tree to the artificial ones.

"There's something Christmasy about the fragrance of the real tree," he says. "Even if it isn't perfect in shape, I like it better."

And yet, the man who trims the Center tree never has a yule tree at home -- a penthouse on the east side of Manhattan.

Says Carson ---"By the time I've trimmed 75 feet of spruce, I've had it." -BUP

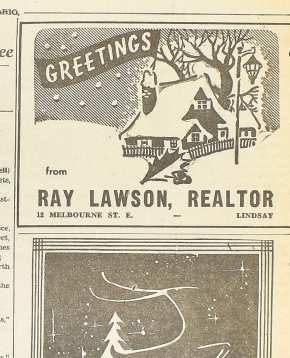

Going Home For Christmas

(By Molly Bevan In the Blue Bell)

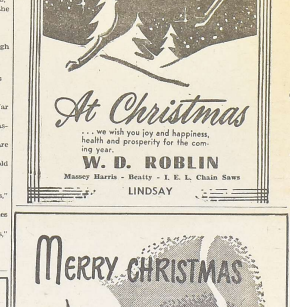

Up and down the shop-lit streets,
A parcel-laden throng
Exchange their "Merry Christmases"
And gaily pass along;
Oh! music's in each cheery voice,
Their laughter's clear and sweet,
The tinkling hum of tambourines
Sounds in their marching feet;
Cathedral chimes are pealing forth
Glad welcome for a King,
But none of these can match the tune
My heart is caroling.

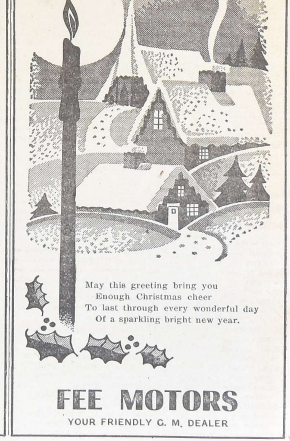

It's "Going home for Christmas,"
In very simple strains
That somehow hold a magic
Lost to intricate refrains.
It's "Going home for Christmas,"
Through the starlight and the snow,
To find a Christmas welcome
In a place I used to know.
The train goes whizzing through the night,
Yet all too slow for me;
For all along the creeping miles
I'm thinking eagerly
Of a little house of welcome
Where Christmas candles shine afar
A wanderer's way to show,
Where kindness lights each pleasant face,
Where Christmas feasts are spread;
And with my thought the same old song
Goes ringing through my head.

It's "Going home for Christmas,"
The haunting old refrain;
Home where a thousand memories
Refresh the heart again.
It's "Going home for Christmas,"
O angel choirs that sing --
Hear this, my earthly carol,
For Christmas homecoming!

First American Christmas Was Unlucky For Columbus

America's first Christmas was celebrated by Christopher Columbus. It happened on Christmas Eve of the memorable year 1492.

Columbus was planning to observe the Feast of the Nativity with the Indian chieftain, Guacanagari, who ruled over the island of Haiti. Already he had received fine presents from the chief who he believed to be the great Khan of Cipagno, that fabulous realm of the Orient Columbus mistakenly thought he had found.

But Columbus' plans went wrong. He was so tired from long watches while the Santa Maria cruised the island channels that he retired to his cabin for a nap. While he was sleeping, the next in command also decided to take a rest and went below. The helmsman, so tired as the others, decided that he deserved a rest as much as they and turned the tiller over to a cabin boy.

Abandon Ship

The worst happened. Within a few minutes Santa Maria was high on a reef. The rolling surf drove the ship higher and higher upon the reef and opened her seams. Soon she fell over on her side and the water poured into her hull. Columbus and the crew were forced to seek refuge in his other ship, the Nina.

Early next morning Columbus sent word of the wreck to Chief Guacanagari. Promptly the chief sent a message to Columbus assuring him that he would give him all the assistance possible.

The noble chieftain was better than his word. He assembled a great flotilla of canoes and dispatched them to the Santa Maria to bring all its valuables ashore. Amid the gasps the natives saw the wealth that made their eyes open wide with envy. Yet so strong was their friendship for the white man and so careful Guacanagari's supervision that not a single article was stolen.

Christmas Banquet

After the last article had been brought ashore, Guacanagari had another plan. His guests had missed Christmas, but there was no reason why Columbus and the men should not enjoy the finest banquet he and his followers could provide.

There was game from the woods, lobster and fish from the sea, and all sorts of tropical fruits and vegetables. A thousand natives danced in Columbus' honor after the feasting and the climax of the ceremonies came when the chief brought out a coronet of gold and placed it upon Columbus' head. There were also presents of gold for the crew.

In the journal he was keeping for Ferdinand and Isabella, Columbus wrote: "These people love their neighbours as themselves; their discourse is ever sweet and gentle and accompanied by a smile. I swear to your majesties, there is not a better nation or land."

New Year Observed March 25 in England Before Date Switch

Prior to England's adoption of the Gregorian calendar in 1752, New Year's Day was observed on March 25, and of course New Year's eve was March 24.

The English always had a big time on New Year's Eve, and after the Puritan government abolished Christmas and absolutely forbade any solemnization or celebration thereof, the people vented all their holiday spirit on the New Year.

Even after the restoration of the Stuarts brought about a revival of Christmas customs and traditions, Christmas never retained its former eminence; but New Year went right along surviving Christmas and later in 1752, the switch in calendars and the date of its observance.

The Christmas Message

The Yuletide bells are ringing
In the good old-fashioned way,
And the hearts of men respond again
To the wonder of Christmas day;
There's a warmth in the glow of the candle
That shines in the homes of our land,
In the holly hung and the carols sung
And the grasp of a friendly hand.

The Yuletide bells are ringing
And we think as we hear their sound
Of family and friends and the blessings He sends
That are manifest all around;
And little children listen
To the story of that blest day
When the Wise Men came and first spoke His name
Who in lowly manger lay.

The Yuletide bells are ringing,
In the air is a magic spell,
Good neighbours meet and each other greet
As they did on that first Noel;
Down the centuries comes the message
With its challenge today—as then—
That when Man shall heed shall bring forth indeed
Peace on earth . . . goodwill among men.

Letters to Santa Claus Come From World Over

Postoffice officials in Santa Claus Ind., are accustomed to overloaded sacks of mail during the pre-Christmas rush. Senders want their cards and gifts stamped with the famous Santa Claus postmark, plus thousands of wistful letters addressed in childish scrawl to "Santa Claus, Santa Claus, Ind." And then there is the annual crop of "Santa Claus" letters written by youngsters in far away places who haven't heard about Santa's permanent address in Indiana, U.S.A. At least a dozen versions of the time honored note-in-the-bottle story find their way into metropolitan newspapers every year.

The notes range from the wistful to the desperate, requesting such things as a mamma doll, a sled, a sweater, or a pair of overshoes.

Jumping Snowballs On Christmas Table

Jumping snowballs for the Christmas table centerpiece can be made by using a large glass bowl nearly full of water. Put coloring in the water for effect.

Into this drop one tablespoon of citric acid and two tablespoons of baking powder. Then drop in seven or eight moth balls. These will start to dance and maintain perpetual motion throughout the dinner. Add more citric acid if motion decreases.

Once Again, Christmas

Once again . . . Christmas . . .
Cold without and warmth within,
Glowing heartstone fires,
Stars in the eyes of children,
Fragrant evergreen,
Candlelight and vester choirs,
Songs of Bethlehem . . .
And for me, let there be bells
Echoing from frosty spires.

—Gertrude Olson.

Christmas Candles Have Been Used By Many Peoples

It would be astonishing, indeed if no candles appeared in homes throughout the nation on Christmas Eve. The legend which surrounds the custom is believed to have started in Ireland.

There on Christmas Eve a large candle was burned which could be snuffed out only by one named Mary. As the Irish put it: "Who knows, on some Christmas Eve, Jesus and Mary and Joseph may come again, not to Palestine, but to the Holy Isle on the farthest edge of Europe?"

Their first use for Christmas is not recorded in the annals of any nation, but that the "Christ Child Candle," burned in the window of Christmas Eve is, according to an old legend, placed there to light His way if He makes an earthly visitation and in atonement for the night of His birth when there was no room for Him.

Also among the legends is one about bayberry candles burned on Christmas.

During the early history of our country, animal fats were relatively scarce. The branches of the bayberry shrub were covered with wax giving berries and children were given the task of gathering the berries when candles had to be made so that the animal fats could be conserved.

According to tradition, one who burned a bayberry candle on Christmas Eve or Christmas Day would have long life and a happy one.

An old verse reads:
"To learn your luck for the year they say,
Burn a bayberry dip on Christmas day
If the flame burns bright and the light shines clear,
Good luck will be yours throughout the year."

Carolling Children Carry Milly-box

Carolling Yorkshire children still carry a "milly-box", lined with sugar and oranges and containing two small figures. This custom dates back to ancient times when figures of Our Lady and Holy Child were carried in procession by carol-singers in the Northern Counties of England. The word "milly" is a corruption of My Lady. In some parts of Yorkshire the box is called a "hessel cup" and the children "go a wassailing".

The Birth of Jesus . . .

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed. (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.) And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judaea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David:) to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child. And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered. And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for behold I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men. And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us. And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child. And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds. But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea in the days of Herod the king, behold there came in the days of Herod the king, behold there came wise men from the east of Jerusalem saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him. When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born. And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judea: for thus it is written by the prophet, And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people Israel. Then Herod, when he had privily called the wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the star appeared. And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also. When they had heard the king, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened his treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.

Yuletide Rites

(By Molly Bevan)

The ritual of Christmas is beautiful and gay,
The kindling of candles to light the Christ-child's way,
The wrapping-up of presents, the carol-singing time,
The stirring of the pudding to some old nonsense rhyme;
The hanging of the stockings and piling Yule-logs high,
The story of the star-guide that lit an Eastern sky;
And then with tinsel trifles, to shouts of youthful glee,
That crowning ceremonial -- the trimming of the tree.
The blessed rites of Christmas, so old, so ever new!
They shed a rainbow radiance on drear December's hue;
They waken happy memories, they re-unite old friends,

Bells Across The Snow

Oh, Christmas, Merry Christmas-
Has it really come again,
With its memories and greetings,
With its joy and with its pain?
But Christmas, happy Christmas
Sweet herald of good-will,
With holy songs of glory
Brings holy gladness still.
For peace and hope may brighten,
And patient love may glow,
As we listen in the starlight
To the "bells across the snow."
—Frances Ridley Havergal

They dull that sense of sadness that comes as each year ends.
O Ghosts of Christmas Present,
Gone-by and Yet-to-be,
On this your day of greeting, we make one eager plea;
Grant us the gold of firelight, the frankincense of fir,
But spare our hearts their comrade
-- the bitterest of myrrh.

A Midnight Surprise

It is a bleak experience to come up to Christmas Eve and have nothing for the children. Mrs. Brownwood had lost her husband a month or two before the festive season and, by the time accounts had been settled, she found herself in a precarious position, with three small children to care for. She soon secured work; her mother looked after the children, but it was a long grim struggle before the end alone through again. That first Christmas she will never forget.

She was so confident something would come. Had not representatives of several organizations called on her and taken particulars of the names and ages of the children? But here it was approaching midnight Christmas Eve, the children all nestled snug in their beds, but not a thing to adorn the rather bare tree she had managed to set up in the front room.

Tears slipped down the face of the widow as she saw her hopes fading one by one -- not that she cared for herself but for the two ones. Christmas means so much to them, and the non-appearance of anything from Santa would, she knew, hurt their faith and do something to them that time would not efface.

Then a motor truck drew up at the curb. She hastily wiped her eyes and sat up. Could it be --?

The man seated by the driver was getting out, a man dressed in some sort of uniform. Who could it be? None of the organizations that had contacted her wore uniforms. The man was walking up to the door, staggering under the weight of a huge parcel. The light from the window shone on his peaked cap, and she read the words, "The Salvation Army." A throb of gratitude touched her heart. The Army! How had it ever heard about her case? She knew none of the members had called on her. She opened the door and a smiling officer wished her the season's greetings, and deposited the package under the tree. Then, with a "God bless you!" he was gone. Tears flowed freely as the widow tore off the wrappings to find she could hardly see for joy -- one for each child -- the clothing, and all the fixing, for a good Christmas meal.

Her eyes were bright as she told me the story -- now quite an elderly woman -- an editor of a magazine on whom I had called for a favor.

"So is it any wonder that I never turn the Army down?" she concluded. "My boys grew up and went out into the world. Again, whenever the Army collector called, they would never refuse and would say, 'You were the organization that gave us such a wonderful Christmas just after Dad died!'

"But we never found out how the Army got to know about our plight." And as I thought that was the nicest thing about the whole affair -- the delightful surprise of it all. -- The War Cry.

Nativity Theme Dominates Card Decoration

Modern Christmas cards feature literally hundreds of interpretations of the popular Nativity theme. Many of those are reproductions from the old masters, while many others have been created especially for the Christmas card industry.

The Nativity theme, which naturally lends itself to an almost endless variety of interpretations and a wealth of detail, long has been a favorite subject of Christian artists. Many of the details based upon certain Bible texts, have fostered various legends—such as those concerning the Magi which grew until the Wise Men were identified and given kingdoms.

Cannon Fire Hails Christmas in Rome

A cannon fired from the historic Castle of San Angelo at sunset on Christmas Eve proclaims the beginning of the Holy Season in Rome. By nine o'clock everyone is in church to witness the colorful and solemn processions of ecclesiastic dignitaries which precede the elaborate Midnight Mass.

Since everyone has fasted for twenty-four hours, festive banquets are in order after the religious ceremonies. It is a gala after-midnight in Rome: hotels and restaurants remain open, families and friends gather around sumptuous tables in gaily decorated homes; and in anticipation of the festivities, many people attend church dressed in formal attire.

Between Christmas and Epiphany, the Calabrian shepherds (Pifferari) exercise the homes where they were most cordially welcomed during Advent when they came down from the hills to play their Italian bagpipes before the shrine of the Virgin. The Pifferari play for their Advent feasts during the post-Christmas holidays and receive gifts of wine, dried figs, and small sums of money from their hosts.

The Three Magi

Along about this time of the year there's a lot written, said and sung about the Magi. Just who were the Magi, anyway?

The Magi were priests of an ancient Persian religion called Zoroastrianism. The Greek historian Herodotus gives a very favorable account of them and their influence in a society which existed four hundred years before Christ's birth.

According to Herodotus the Magi were powerful in public and private affairs. They conducted the education of the young princes and were in constant attendance upon the king as counsellors.

This description of a Magi appears in the sacred writing of Zoroaster: "Thou shouldst call him priest, who sitting for whole night thru and prays for the holy wisdom that enables man to stand upon death's bridge fearless and with happy heart, the holy and glorious world of paradise."

The three Magi, or Wise Men, who followed the Star of Bethlehem, and brought gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh to the Christ child remain nameless, but they were the first to recognize the importance of the birth of the Prince of Peace.

Christmas Music

For a great many people the music of Bach and Handel make difficult listening until Christmas comes around. Then, suddenly everybody starts singing and humming tunes by the two old masters.

The reason for this is that both Bach and Handel were church musicians. One of their tasks was to compose songs for church congregations to sing. They proved themselves masters of beautiful, easily followed melodies in their Christmas music. Our most famous Christmas oratorios and carols come from Bach and Handel.

"How Brightly Beams the Morning Star" was composed by Bach and his "Christmas Oratorio" contains the themes of several other popular chorales.

In almost every town and village in America this Christmas a church choir will render at least a portion of George Frederick Handel's "Messiah."

The Annunciation, is among the earliest subjects represented in Christian art, antedating the Madonna and Child theme by several centuries, and it is interesting to note that the fathers of the church determined how the Madonna should be portrayed; her dress and mantle are usually blue and red.

Old Christmas Returned

All you that to feasting and mirth are inclined,
Come here is good news for the pleasure your mind,
Old Christmas is come for to keep open house,
He scorns to be guilty of starving a mouse:
Then come boys, and welcome for diet the chief
Plum-pudding, goose, capon, minced pies and roast beef.

The holly and ivy about the walls we twine,
And show that we ought to our neighbours be kind,
Inviting each other for pastime and sport,
And where we best fare, there we most do resort;
We fail not of vituals, and that of the chief,
Plum-pudding, goose, capon, minced pies and roast beef,

All travellers as they do pass on their way,
At gentlemen's halls are invited to stay.
Themselves to refresh, and their horses to rest,
Since that he must be old Christmas's guest;
Nay, the poor shall not want, but have for relief,
Plum-pudding, goose, capon, minced pies and roast beef.

"Messiah." When carolers sing "Joy to the World" they'll be singing part of the "Messiah" too, for that carol comes from themes found in the great oratorio. Handel also composed the musical theme of "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks."

It is a strange fact, but both Bach and Handel were born in 1685, lived for many years within thirty miles of each other, and never met. Yet, today, the Christmas music they wrote is sung by men, women and children in countless churches of many faiths all over the world.

Hands Off, Please!

Here's a Christmas resolution for parents it goes: "I will keep my hands off the children's toys all day on Christmas."

It'll be a hard one to keep because Mother likes to fuss with Ann's doll. She pretends she is showing Ann how to put on the bonnet, but she's actually having a grand time playing. And once Father gets his hands on the train, or the auto that winds up, the boys can't get near them.

It isn't fair. After all, adults can play with toys for the next 364 days if they want to!

Prayer

Prayer is so simple,
It is like quietly opening a door
And slipping into the very presence of God,
There in the stillness
To listen to His voice,
Perhaps to petition,
Or only to listen;
It matters not;
Just to be there,
In His presence
Is prayer!

Musings

We must go on thinking less about ourselves and more for one another; for so, and so only, can we hope to make the world a better place and life a worthier thing—King George VI.

The basis of Christmas is the rock, Christ Jesus. The basis of Christmas is love loving its enemies, returning good for evil, love that "suffereth long, and is kind." —Mary Baker Eddy.

The one thing and only one thing that can melt this human world of ours into a family which will be characterized by brotherhood and the Golden Rule and the spirit of the Good Samaritan, is the love of God. That is the meaning and message of Christmas. —Dr. Daniel L. Marsh.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord —St. Luke.

Anyone can have a "white Christmas" who has exiled hate from his heart and put envy and jealousy to flight. —Dr. Edgar DeWitt Jones.

There is one thing this world has not yet tried, and that is a complete surrender to Christ — a complete acceptance of its divine grace and guidance. This is the Christmas gospel that should not be viewed as merely an event that took place two thousand years ago —Rt. Rev. William T. Manning.

OPEN CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S DAY

Traditions Are Set Universally

One thing about New Year traditions, they are universal, irrespective of calendar variations or the race and creed of the observants.

Endeavoring to get the New Year off to a good start, the Chinese pay up their debts on New Year's Eve. And the English claim it's a good idea to start a savings account on January 1, since what you do on New Year's Day is indicative of what the ensuing year will be like. A round loaf of bread dipped in honey symbolizes Jewish hopes for a smooth (the roundness of the bread and prosperous (the honey) New Year.

The same spirit of hospitality and sociability that makes the Wassail Bowl such a success in Scotland prompts Armenian housewives of Persia to get up extra early on New Year's Day and set about baking the traditional New Year cakes.

The baking must be done early, for the New Year is the day for visiting and entertaining.

Who Says Santa is for Kids?

At this time of year, mothers of young children receive great assistance with their necessary disciplinary tasks. Throughout the rest of the months, they must rely on their ingenuity, native ability and advice from parent's magazines for ways and means of persuading their young to do their bidding. But, come the Christmas season, the Santa Claus radio program and parade and their troubles are over.

There are devious methods of using this secret weapon upon the unsuspecting youngsters. If the mother is in a hurry when the young one balks and becomes obstreperous, a quick "If you don't do as I say, Santa will hear about it" usually produces marvellous results.

Or for the subtler mother with the bright little genius, all that may be required is a finger pointed at the nearest window and a lowering of the chin and eye lashes, followed by an ever so slight reproving nod of the head. This, of course, will indicate that Santa is always on the watch for offensive behaviour.

Frankly, it always seems to us as not quite the correct view of the Christmas season. It's almost unfair to unorganized children. The method could even be compared to that used by some mothers on older children. At home, we always called it the shame-persuasion method of getting things done. It goes something like this: "Well, if you won't empty the ashes, I suppose your poor old mother will have to". That method never fails to accomplish its purpose, so most mothers hold it in reserve for emergencies.

There's no doubt about it, many mothers are cunning in the way they handle their children. When you come right down to it, they have to be or there would be far more delinquents than there are today. Maybe child psychologists wouldn't agree with their methods, but we take off our hat to any mothers who are raising children. They need every bit of help they can get from any source. Anyone who tells us Santa Claus is just for kids, doesn't know the facts.

Danger of Fire Is Greatly Enhanced By Christmas Trees

The average Christmas tree can go up in smoke in only two minutes. That doesn't leave much time for the fire department to get there.

A live tree with roots packed in a bucket of earth is the safest. Be sure and keep the dirt moistened. A small tree is safer than a large one and festive trimmings can make up what it lacks in size.

Keep the tree outdoors until you are ready to set it up inside. When you bring it in, keep it in the coolest part of the house with the radiator nearest it turned off.

Use noninflammable aluminum foil — not cotton or paper — to conceal container in which tree is "planted." Use noninflammable trimmings on the tree.

Don't use lighted candles. (This may seem an unnecessary precaution in this day of electric lights, but lighted candles contribute to tragic fires every year.)

Check the wiring for the tree to see that it's not frayed and is in perfect condition. The switch for turning off and on electric lights should be at some distance from the tree. Don't plug or unplug lights beneath the tree.

Don't leave the lights on when it isn't necessary and especially when the family is away from home. From time to time, check over the tree and see if needles near the lights are turning brown. If they have, move the lights.

Watch the calendar. New Year's is the day for the tree to go down. If you should extend the time, don't leave the lights on the tree for more than a half hour at a time.

Wide Gift Selection Perplexes Menfolk

Jostling crowds of menfolk, hunting Christmas presents for wives and sweethearts, seem more worried this year by the wide range of possibilities than over previous shortages.

At most gift counters this festive season, men are seen frowning in concentration over perfumes, cosmetics, jewelry, handbags and other bric-a-brac.

Christmas Legend Of Fillian's Stone

At Killin, Perthshire, Scotland, the villagers pull rushes each Christmas from a nearby stream to make a resting-place for a number of stones taken from the gables of an ancient corn-mill. They are not ordinary stones, for the villagers believe that they were used centuries ago by their patron saint, St. Fillian, to cure arm, sprains, and other ailments and injuries.

Improved Hot Water Bottle

Wring a soft cloth out of warm water, fill the bottle with hot water and wrap the cloth around it. This makes the cloth steam and is far more beneficial for earache, toothache, and neuralgia than the dry heat of the bottle alone.

Legend of the Laurel

That the longing for greenery which has become an instinctive trait of the Briton no matter what part of the world he happens to be in, makes us cherish the few plants whose foliage has not yet been shed. Who is there that does not associate the dark days of winter with the glossy foliage of our evergreens?

Traditions and legends have gathered round the laurel, holly, ivy, and mistletoe. One of them is that these evergreen shrubs and trees do not shed their leaves, but this is wrong.

It is true that there's no regular season for the fall of the leaf, as in ordinary forest trees, though a holly-bush in May and June looks thing and measure compared with its Christmas appearance. As a rule, however, all so-called evergreen plants gradually replace the old leaves with new, and so are constantly changing their foliage.

Reason why evergreen plants can maintain their foliage so long, when others so readily shed it, is that the thick skin of the leaves prevents too rapid "breathing" which produces fall of the leaf generally. This thick skin also enables evergreens to withstand extremes of heat and cold.

Most evergreen leaves last several years. The holly for instance, produces new leaves each season, but each new leaf lasts three or four years, and although there is a leaf fall every year, it affects only the oldest leaves, the tree the foliage as a whole is always full and green.

Queen of the evergreens is the laurel—a name wrongly applied to several different varieties of plants, even though there is only one true laurel, the Bay Laurel. This is the poet's laurel, and since the times of the ancient Greeks this shrub or small tree has been held in veneration.

It's berried twigs, twisted into a wreath or crown, were used to adorn the victors in Grecian games of strength and skill. The laurel crown came to be regarded as the distinctive reward of valour or of scholarship.

Another false notion is that the evergreen mistletoe is the arch enemy of the apple-tree and is very fond of growing upon it as a parasite. But botanists have collected the names of over thirty trees on which the mistletoe has been found growing, and of these the apple is the one most affected by it. The mistletoe is way down at the bottom of the apple's danger list.

Why, then, did the mistletoe and the apple-tree become so firmly linked in legend? Because the ancient Druids were much given to covert nature-lovers that we are. It was on account of the rarity of the occurence of the mistletoe on the apple-tree that they gathered it with such ceremony and reverence.

Legends of Christmas

There are almost as many Christmas legends and superstitions as there are bees. Christmases. Countless customs from the Old World have been absorbed through the centuries into the celebrations that we participate in today. A few, however, have been passed down from one generation to another, remaining always the same.

In England, it is believed that the bees express veneration for the Nativity by singing in their hives at midnight. The bee hives are always adorned with holly sprigs for the Yuletide season.

In Europe it was a custom for a young girl to creep to the family woodpile on Christmas Eve and pull out the first stick that her hand touched. If the stick was a straight one, with no knots, tradition said that she would have a good husband.

Farmers in Europe also gave torches to their children and sent them singing into the apple orchards and the fields. The mice, cate pillars and moths were said to flee before the approaching songsters.

In early Germany it was a belief that water turned into wind during the hour before midnight on Christmas Eve.

Says Santa Claus More Sugar Daddy Than Saint Now

Assailing the Santa Claus myth as "foolish fiction" and rival of the Holy Child, the Rev. John S. Martin, editor of the Catholic Review, declared in a 1949 editorial that Santa the Saint had been lost in Santa the sugar daddy,—and that the whole idea is bad psychology and bad pedagogy.

"Our children learn about the reindeer, but have never heard of the ox and the ass," Father Martin continued and recommended that we:

"Leave the man in the red suit to this who have nothing better . . . for whom life must end in disillusion and despair."

Father Martin's sentiments are reminiscent of Martin Luther's vigorous campaign against neglect of the central idea of Christmas, which is the birth of Jesus. So German children have been taught that the Christkind brings the presents—Christkind being depicted as the messenger of the Infant Jesus sent earthward at Christmas time to bring happiness to good children.

The modern conception of Santa Claus is of course, 99 per cent fictional and strictly American. But the spirit of generosity and thoughtfulness so typified by Santa Claus is neither sugar daddy-ish nor essentially American. Unfortunately not all children who await Santa have learned from their parents.

O holy Child of Bethlehem,
Descend to us, we pray;
Cast out our sin and enter in --
Be born in us today!
We hear the holy angels
The great glad tidings tell,
Oh, come to us, abide with us,
Our Lord Immanuel!

Bethlehem

O Little town of Bethlehem,
How still we see thee lie!
Above thy deep and dreamless sleep
The silent stars go by;
Yet in thy dark streets shineth
The everlasting Light;
The hopes and fears of all the years
Are met in thee tonight!

For Christ is born of Mary;
And gathered all above,
While mortals sleep, the angels keep
Their watch of wondering love.
O morning stars, together
Proclaim the holy birth,
And praises sing to God the King,
And peace to men on earth!

How silently, how silently,
The wondrous gift is given!
So God imparts to human hearts
The blessings of His Heaven.
No ear may hear His coming;
But in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him, still
The dear Christ enters in.

Santa Claus Through The Years . . .

It's little wonder that Saint Nick is especially generous to the American people. History proves that the Americans have done a lot for Saint Nick.

They have given him a new name, a new face and figure, and a new means of transportation.

The original European version of Saint Nick pictured him as a tall angular man who rode on a bony gray mare. Both the horse and Saint Nick looked as if they hadn't had a good meal in some time.

The early English settlers in this country started giving Saint Nicholas his "New Look." The English children adopted the legendary Christmas figure from the Dutch, but the English children had trouble pronouncing "Saint Nickolaus". Somehow the name changed to "Santa Keloaf, and finally it was corrupted to "Santa Claus".

However, this was only the beginning. In 1809 Washington Irving, in his "Knickerbocker's History of New York," wrote of the Saint as the guardian of New York City, living described Saint Nick as a jolly fellow with a broad-brimmed hat and huge breeche. He taught Saint Nick to smoke a long pipe and, in the story, replaced his abiding hay-burner with a trim wagon.

A short time later, Saint Nicholas' transportation was aided by Clement Moore in his famous poem, "The Visit From Saint Nicholas", written in 1882. Moore, a professor of divinity in a New York theological seminary, gave Saint Nick a sleigh, twinkling eyes, cheeks like roses, nose like a cherry, and a round little belly.

Today's Santa Claus is by no means streamlined, but he is a far cry from the lean, ascetic, somberly dressed fellow who, for centuriese, on Christmas Eve, guided his mare through the streets of Europe.

MEDITATION

Martin Luther

Ah, dearest Jesus, holy Child,
Make Thee a bed, soft, undefiled,
Within my heart, that it may be
A quiet chamber kept for Thee.
My heart for very joy doth leap,
My lips no more can silence keep,
I too must sing, with joyful tongue,
That sweetest ancient cradle song,
Glory to God in Highest Heaven,
Who unto man His son hath given.
While angels sing, with pious mirth
A glad New Year to all the earth.

There's A Song In The Air

There's a song in the air!
There's a star in the sky!
There's a mother's deep prayer,
And a baby's low cry!
And the star rains its fire

While the Beautiful sing,
For the manger of Bethlehem
Cradles a King.

Christmas Eve

As I went down my village street
The wind blew glittering and light
And one last church bell quivered sweet
And wreath-hung doors stood kind and bright;
And past the hedgelines' ruffs of snow
As by each little house I came
Like shining lulip buds I saw
The window-candles flame,
And round a silver-shining tree
Between the starlight and the snow
Our children all sang merrily
That Christ and joy were come below;
And Christ was there and joy was there,
Still we could live and still believe
I bent my head and said my prayer,
"I thank You, Lord, for Christmas Eve!"

Five Million Christmas Trees To Be Planted Every Year

When the spruce budworm swept through northern Ontario some years ago, it ruined between three or four million cords of balsam on which the Spruce Falls Power and Paper Co. Ltd., had been figuring to supply its mill at Kapuskasing, Ont., on a sustained yield basis. Now the 6,390 square miles concession held by the company, rented from the people of Ontario, may not produce enough.

But, foreseeing this possibility, the company is now growing its own trees in a nursery near here. This year, 50,000 trees were planted at Longlac, source of some of its future supply. It hopes to plant 5,000,000 trees a year between Longlac and its limits in this area before very long.

With an eye to the future, the company is operating to-day on a sustained yield basis. The limit is divided into six cutting circles, on which mature trees are cropped in turn. There is the nursery at Pauquier. For the time being, the nursery has produced four-year-old stock, trees which were in seed beds for two years and two in transplant beds for another two years. Seed was collected in this area and extracted from the cones at the seed extraction plant of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests at Angus. So far as it knows, Spruce Falls is the only company in Canada which is growing its own stock and planting the trees it produces.

The big mill at Kapuskasing produced 750 tons of newsprint and sulphite a day, requiring 1,100 cords of pulpwood. It employs 1,200 men in the bush. It also operates a sawmill which turns out 60,000 feet of lumber a day, part being used in the company's own plant, on its townsite, and the remainder being marketed through regular lumber channels.

The company is now interested in a method of producing dilute from its sawmill at Pauquier and using them at the sulphate plant. At present the slab is being sold to domestic consumers as fuel while sawdust is burned as fuel at the mill. There is, as yet, however, no profitable use for the bark of the trees and the company is bearing down on this problem. It is presently searching for a slab barker.

The forest in this area mainly consists of spruce, with some jackpine and balsam. Logs are sorted at Pauquier, a few miles from Kapuskasing, with the pulpwood going to the paper mill and the sawlogs to the sawmill there. Both Kapuskasing and Pauquier depend, to a major extent, on the company. And since the former supplies newsprint which has been in operation for many years and plans to continue publishing, nothing is being left undone to ensure that Kapuskasing and Parquier will also remain as permanent, prosperous communities.

Used to be "Boxing"

In England, Boxing Day—usually December 26th - was the day when the old-time "Squires" distributed Christmas boxes to the help on the huge estates. The Boxing grew out of the holiday in consequence.

Christmastime

Just the word "Christmastime" brings a feeling of joy to young and old. First, there is the anticipation, then the realization and then the memories. Each age and every person has the moment it is theirs to cherish most.

For Christmastime is above all a personal expression of the good that is in us. It is a time when we all reach out a little more than caution and reticence of expression of love for our fellow men which so often prevents our coming together in peace and harmony.

The holly, the gay ribbons, the tinsel and the trees and boughs are settings only for this expression of kindliness and concern for all men.

Could the world but look forward this Christmas in the year of Our Lord 1953 with this message "Fear not; for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people." Then certainly all of us would join the heavenly host in saying "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

With faith, let this be our goal for this Christmastime and for all those yet to come. —The Canadian Statesman.

Christmas Toys An Old Custom

The custom of giving presents to children on Great Birthday dates from very early times, and the little boys and girls of long ago looked forward with eager excitement to Christmas morning.

A 15th Century writer gives us a very pretty picture of young Prince Edward, afterwards the ill-fated Edward V, playing in Windsor Park one Christmas morning with "a right fair hobbe horse of painted wood" which the King, his father, had given him that morning, and in an old manuscript of that time we see a print of a little fellow on a wooden horse being dragged by two other children towards a toy quintain.

Toyshops were unknown in those days, but in the Christmas fairs and markets goods could buy for their children "drums, horses, rattles, wooden babies, trumpets, balls, and brightly colored windmills." In Tudor days, toy lambs, two a penny, were hawked in the streets of London. "Their fleece was of white wool sounded with gold, the head of composition with cheeks painted bright red and black spots for eyes, they had horns and legs of white wood and a piece of pink tape was fastened around the neck."

Both hoops and skipping ropes were extolled by an Elizabethan educationalists as a "most excellent and wholesome recreation for boys and girls, alike. Dolls, or wooden babies — as they were called — are mentioned continually all through the centuries.

Cedars of Lebanon Are Well Protected By Religion, Law

On a shelf-like plateau, 600 feet above the Mediterranean, the world's oldest Christmas trees stand where they have stood for centuries. The cedars of Lebanon, 400 of them, are protected by religion and law from harm at the hands of either the Moslems or the Maronite Christians.

The magnificent trees "that sing in the stillness" were venerated as monarchs among trees long before Judah had her first king. Some of them have a girth of 40 feet and a branch of circumference of 300.

In the days of the conquerors thousands of conscripted Hebrew workers were sent into the Lebanons to take to Jerusalem "cedar trees without number"; the result of one of the first building contracts between Hiram of Phoenicia and King Solomon.

Today, however, the trees are protected by law and the department of agriculture of the government sponsors the planting of seedlings, so that the giant cedars will grow forever.

Chinese New Year

New Year's was a 15-day affair in old China when festivities began on the First Day of the First Moon and climaxed on "Teng Chieh", the Feast of Lanterns.

After the family gatherings traditional to New Year's Day, exchanges of gifts and all sorts of entertainments were in order until "Teng Chieh."

Northern China commemorated "Teng Chieh" very simply. Paper lanterns, hung in doors and windows, symbolized the advent of the longer days. Southern China, however, climaxed the festivities with spectacular lantern-lit parades featuring huge fire-breathing dragons, supported from within by many men, wiggling through the streets.

CHRISTMAS QUOTATIONS

Little gifts are precious,
If a loving heart
Helps the busy fingers,
As they do their part.

And we, though young and small,
Are thankful when we sing:
Good-will and peace to all,
Through Christ our Savior King.

Dimmest and brightest month an
I;
My short days end, my length-
ening days begin.
What matters more or less sun in the sky,
When all a sun within.

The Yule Clog

The yule clog is a great log of wood, sometimes the root of a tree brought into the house with great ceremony, on Christmas Eve, laid in the fire-place and lighted with the brand of last year's clog. While it lasted, there was great drinking, singing and telling of tales. Sometimes it was accompanied by Christmas candles; but in the cottages, the only light was from the ruddy blaze of the great wood fire. The yule clog was to burn all night ;if it were out it was considered a sign of ill luck.

Herrick mentions it in one of his songs:

Come bring with a noise,
My merrie, merrie boys,
The Christmas log to the firing,
While my good dame she
Bids ye all be free,
To drink to your heart's desiring.

The yule clog is still burnt in many farm-houses and kitchens in England, particularly in the north; and there are several superstitions connected with it among the peasantry. If a squinting person came to the house while it is burning, or a person barefooted it is considered an ill omen. The brand remaining from the yule clog is carefully put away to light the next year's Christmas fire.

New Year's Not Always In Winter...

New Year's was not always a mid-winter affair. Ancient Egypt used the overflowing of the Nile as a calendar and celebrated the New Year accordingly; in June. The Babylonians began their year in March, and the early Romans followes the Babylonian pattern.

Bearing this in mind, the custom of invoking the gods of fertility at New Year's time -- the origin of which is lost in antiquity -- seems logical and appropriate.

The Romans were accustomed to hanging any tiny masks of Bacchus upon trees and vines, the idea being to impart fertility to every side of the tree to which the masks were turned by the wind.

In the old days, Rumanian youths went from house to house singing and wishing everyone a prosperous New Year.

Scottish lads always had a howling good time going about on New Year's Eve switching the trunks of fruit trees and petitioning a "good bowing crop."

Reflecting the fear of starvation, peasant families, in various parts of the world baked a special New Years cake which they dashed against the door; members of the household hastened to pick up a piece and eat it, prayerful that neither hunger nor want should enter the house during the ensuing year.

Music

For a great many people the music of Bach and Handel makes difficult listening -- until Christmas comes around. Then, suddenly everybody starts singing and humming tunes by the two old masters.

The reason for this is that both Bach and Handel were church musicians. One of their tasks was to compose songs for church congregations to sing. They gave themselves masters of beautiful, easily followed melodies in their Christmas music. Our most famous Christmas oratories and carols come from Bach and Handel.

"How Brightly Beams the Morning Star" was composed by Bach and his "Christmas Oratorio" contains the themes of several other popular chorales.

In almost every town and village in America this Christmas, a church choir will render at least a portion of George Frederick Handel's The "Messiah." When carolers sing "Joy to the World" they'll be singing part of the "Messiah" too, for that carol comes from themes found in the great oratorio. Handel also composed the musical theme of "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks."

It is a strange fact, but both Bach and Handel were born in 1685, lived for many years within thirty miles of each other, and never met. Yet today, the Christmas music they wrote is sung by men, women and children in countless churches of many faiths all over the world.

How St. Nick Brings His Presents

The story of how St. Nicholas became associated with secret gift-giving, and even timely comes cleverly at night to leave his presents is one of the most important in the history of his life.

Once upon a time there was a man with three daughters, all of them wishing to marry, but with no dowry forthcoming. Sorry, indeed, was their plight. Their father had about decided to sell them as slaves, but the good St. Nicholas heard of it, and filling a purse with gold went quietly by night to their home. Seeing a window open, he threw in the bag of gold and then stole away in the night. The money enabled the eldest daughter to marry. A second and third time St. Nicholas made the trip and finally all three daughters were married.

After the Saint's third trip, the girl's father, who had been watching to see who brought the gifts, ran after St. Nicholas and thanked him for his kindness. St. Nicholas made him promise not to divulge his gift-giving and after that he always deposited his presents so secretly that no one ever saw him. Yet people knew, somehow that it was he who brought gifts during the night, and so whenever they found a package mysteriously delivered they instantly exclaimed, "St. Nicholas has brought it!"

SUPPOSE

Martha Snell Nickolson

Suppose that Christ had not been born
That far-away Judean morn,
Suppose that God, whose mighty hand
Created worlds, had never planned
A way for man to be redeemed
Suppose the Wise Men only dreamed
That guiding star whose light still flows
Down through the centuries. Suppose
Christ never walked here in men's sight,
Our blessed Way, and Truth, and Light.

Suppose He counted all the cost,
And never cared that we were lost,
And never died for you and me,
Nor shed His blood on Calvary
Upon a shameful cross. Suppose
That having died He never rose,
And there was none with power to save
Our souls from death beyond the grave!

As far as piteous heathen know,
These things that I've "supposed"
—are so!

Soap Flake Snow

Trimming the Christmas tree with fluffy snow is easy if you use soap flakes. It won't melt either.

Here's how it's done: Use three or four cups of soap flakes to one cup of warm water. Beat with electric beater or hand beater until smooth and fluffy. Then spread immediately over branches of tree, scattering it on with hands.

For sparkle, spread on some artificial glistening snow.

Christmas Stocking

An ancient Dutch tradition says that St. Nicholas makes his rounds upon Woden's horse, Sleipner. Dutch children set their wooden shoes in the chimney corners believing that St. Nicholas would leave no gifts without this reminder. So the shoes of Holland became the stockings of our country.

England's Puritans Banned Christmas As Frivolous Time

Christmas was outlawed in England by the Puritan government of England in 1643 and, although the restoration of the Stuarts brought a revival of Christmas customs and traditions, Christmas never regained its former prestige in England.

It is observed religiously in the churches and as a day for family reunions and social gatherings, in contrast to the lavish feasting and boisterous merry-making of olden times.

Merry-making and gift-giving come in for their share, however on December 26 which is Boxing Day. The origin of Boxing Day antedates Christmas and can be traced to the custom of gift-giving during the Roman festival of Saturnalia.

In Christian liturgy December 26 is observed as the feast of St. Stephen, the first Christian martyr and during the centuries when journeymen and apprentices were in the habit of levying upon their masters-customers, Christmas Boxes were collected on St. Stephen's day.

Thus, the children receive their presents, in boxes, as do old servants, the postman, and everyone else. And reminiscent of the Roman Saturnalia, householders dance with the servants and toward evening, there is revelling in the streets as groups of merry-makers gather on street corners or ride about London-town dancing on the 'flats' of trucks.

"Glory be to God on High
And on Earth
Peace . . Peace
Goodwill toward Men"

Joyous Christmas Carols Once Driven Underground

It comes as a surprise to discover that Christmas carols were once driven "underground." What is more surprising still is that this was done in the name of religion.

It was in 1647 that the Puritan Parliament abolished Christmas and all pertaining to it. In 1656 Puritan point of view was expressed by one Henzkiah Woodward, who called Christ Day; "The old Heathen's Feasting Day, in honour of Saturn their Idol-God, the Papist's Massing Day, the Gentile Man's Ranting Day, the Superstitious Man's Idol Day, the Mulitude's Idle Day, Satan's -that Adversary's -Working Day, the True Christian Man's Fasting Day.

Such an attitude struck a fatal blow at the joyous spirit associated with Christmas and so old carols travelled underground and were preserved in folk-song.

Aided by broadsheets, which appeared from time to time and which gave various versions of carols in use among the coming folk, the Christmas carol survived for nearly 200 years. Although there was a brief revival during the Restoration it was not until well into the nineteenth century that a real interest was taken in carols. Collectors began searching for the old broadsheets and at the same time endeavoured to obtain words and tunes first hand from folk who had retained them in their memories. The "underground" phase of the carol had ended.

In 1822 Davis Gilbert, of Cornwall, issued a small collection of a dozen carols with tunes, chiefly those being sung in the West of England. A second edition was called for the following year, and the number of carols was increased to twenty, although there were no tunes for some of the additions. This edition is noteworthy, however, because it contained Byron's "Christians, Awake," which by then had attained some popularity, and also the words of "The First Noel."

Pop Corn Decorations A Tradition

Gaily decorating the Christmas tree with string, of delicious popcorn is one of the few customs originated in America.

It just wouldn't be Christmas without popcorn strings on the Christmas tree and crunchy popcorn balls around the house for holiday munching. For best results, be sure to pop the corn the day before stringing. Then the pop corn will be tough enough for easy stringing. Freshly popped corn tends to break and is hard to handle when stringing.

You can make your popcorn strings colorful by substituting a gum drop or cranberry for every fourth kernel of corn.

Christmas Eve Meditation

There is a hush that comes on Christmas Eve—
Life's hurry and its stress grow far away;
And something in the silence seems to weave
A mood akin to sadness, yet we say
A "Merry Christmas" to the friends
we meet,
And all the while we feel that mystic spell,
As if the Christ-child came on noiseless feet,
With something old, yet ever new,
to tell—
The eyes grow misty, yet they shed
no tear,
And those that we have lost, somehow seem near.

—Margaret E. Bruner.

"Grandpa Frost" Helps Russians' Winter Festival

Although Christmas is no longer a holyday in Soviet Russia, a non-religious midwinter festival is celebrated and children receive gifts from "Grandpa Frost".

In Chariist Russia, it was customary for well-to-do families with large homes to entertain lavishly on Christmas day. The invitations were extremely formal and begged the invited to consider that "...for thousands of years it has been so with us it has not commenced, with us it will not cease. Do not, therefore, disturb the festival; do not bring the good people to despair. Without you there will be no maiden festival at Anna Karpovna's."

In planning these housparties, hostesses gave particular attention to the selection of partners for the young ladies. The selection was sometimes very satisfactory and sometimes left something to be desired.

Arrival of the "fair maidens," each with her mother and retinue, bringing cakes and ointments and gifts for everyone, proceeded according to prescribed ritual; the guests sooner freezing in the sleds before the gate than to alight there receiving the greeting of the host and hostess.

Having been ceremoniously welcomed, the guests offered prayers before the icon (sacred picture) and then proceeded to the feasting and festivities arranged for them.

About Cards . . .

The first genuine Christmas card did not appear until 1846 About 1,000 hand-colored copies of it were issued at one shilling each, the card portraying convivial family gathering sandwiched between one scene depicting the hungry being fed and another showing the naked being clothed.

It was designed by the Royal Academician, J. C. Horsley. Its printer was Mr. Jobbins, of Holborne, its publisher Joseph Cundall, of Old Bond Street, and its originator Mr. (afterwards Sir) Henry Cole, who became the first Director of South Kensington Museum.

Queen Victoria was the first British monarch to use Christmas cards She ordered eighteen in 1845.

From then onwards the demand steadily grew, and in the sixties and seventies the trade began to assume large proportions, largely as a result of Charles Dickens' policy of popularizing Christmas in his novels. Cosy inn scenes began to appear, snowbound cottages and picturesque coaches, family gatherings at the festive board.

Just before the war there was a serious decline in the sale of cards showing such traditional scenes, but now the demand is as great as ever. The change is thought to indicate a wish to escape back to the "good old days."

Cards meant for the overseas sale differ from those on sale here. Those for India have elephants in place of reindeer, those for Australia may depict surf-riding.

One Indian prince ordered cards costing $125 each and worded: "All praise to Allah, the God, the Most High!"

First Christmas Crackers 1880

When confectioner Tom Smith visited Paris some 70 years ago he saw a French colleague wrap his candies in tissue paper. Back in Britain that Christmas Tom applied the idea to his sugared almonds and, later, included "loving messages" in each package. Thus originated the cracker as we know it today.

Lucia Day Starts Christmas Season In Swedish Custom

Celebration of Lucia Day on December 13 inaugurates the Christmas season in Sweden. It takes its name from St. Lucia, or Lucy martyred for her faith and virginity in Syracuse in 304 A.D., and venerated by she church each December 13.

The prettiest blonde in every home office, factory, village and town is elected a "Lucia", and visits the sick, lends carnivals and processions, and attends banquets and balls accompanied by her 'handmaidens."

The ancient custom coincides with the winter solstice, when the sun swings towards the earth once more and the days begin to lengthen.

In addition to beauty, other qualifications for "Lucias" or "light queens" are fair hair, a nice disposition and high character.

Dressed in long white robes, wearing crowns of lighted candles (the traditional costume for "Lucias") the girls present gifts and the traditional Lucy day coffee and rolls to hospital patients, the Lucia queen and her maidens, enthroned in a star spangled horse-drawn chariot, lead festive processions around the village square and through city streets.

Parade participants depict alternate scenes from Sweden's picturesque Lapland and the Wild West of the United States, while musicians in multi-colored costume alternate playing northern folk tunes and American jazz.

"O Little Town of Bethlehem"

How this favorite old Christmas Carol came to be written.

by Rev. P. J. Cleveland
In "Coronet"

On Christmas Eve, 1865, the Rev. Phillips Brooks was riding horseback from Jerusalem toward Bethlehem, reading the story of the Nativity on the way. As he approached the Holy City, the pastor from Philadelphi a noticed the shepherds keeping watch over flocks of sheep, just as their forefathers had done years before.

Twilight had fallen, the stars silently twinkled over the city. The pastor was filled with wonder at the beauty of the night. Suddenly it seemed to him that there was something mystic about the stillness —as though in that peaceful scene there was a message which he should convey to the world.

The vision haunted him all through the night, and stayed with him later as his party skirted the Jordan River, to Gethsemane, the Mount of Olives, and to Bethany.

Wherever he went—to Egypt, Italy, Greece, France, Switzerland and England—he had only to close his eyes to recapture the scene. When he returned to Philadelphia, the image remained with him.

Some three years later, Lewis H. Redner, organist at Holy Trinity Church, called on the Reverend Brooks. "We should have a new song for the children this Christmas," he said. "Something original. If you will write a poem, I can set it to music."

The pastor was afraid he could not think of anything to write.

"But it's for the children!" the organist insisted.

"Well, then, I'll do my best."

In his study that night, the pastor closed his eyes for some moments to recall a vision. Then he put pen to paper, and the message that had haunted him for years became visible, vocal. Words came as quickly as he could write.

A few days later, the organist set those words to music, and the Sunday School children were told they had a new song for Christmas Day.

When the congregation of Holy Trinity heard the song on December 25, 1868, they realized that a new carol had been born. The music, which so perfectly matched the serene mood of the lyrics, was soon known throughout Philadelphia, and quickly spread to other parts of the country. Today, we sing it all over America.

O little town of Bethlehem,
how still we see thee lie
Above thy deep and dreamless sleep
the silent stars go by.
Yet in thy dark streets shineth
the everlasting light.
The hopes and fears of all the years
are met in thee tonight.

Hunting the Wren In Old Ireland

Once upon a time in Ireland the wren was hunted and killed on Christmas morning; a branch of holly and bright ribbons were attached to his body which was carried from house to house by wren boys who sang songs and expected to receive a dole from each household.

The story goes that during the Danish-Irish war, the Danes were resting after an arduous march and the Irish were creeping up quietly. All of a sudden a wren, spying a few crumbs from the drowsy Irish drummer had dropped on the drumhead, swooped down and began to peck at the crumbs. The pecking awakened the boy, who aroused the camp; the Irish, driven off and defeated, blamed the wren.

Modern Irish, ashamed of the once-honored tradition, say the guilty bird may have been a starling or a sparrow-anyway, and now welcome the wren to their farms and homes.

Christmastime Safety Themes For Children

Traffic, Trees and Toys are the three T's of Christmas safety for children.

Traffic has special Christmas season hazards for children on bicycles or on foot — early darkness, unfavorable weather conditions and unusually large numbers of people using the streets either on foot or driving.

Trees — Christmas trees — are a grave fire hazard unless simple precautions are taken.

Toys often contribute to home accidents. Bad falls especially often result from tripping over toys left lying around on stairs or in unexpected places.

St. Francis Made First Crib in Cave

St. Francis of Assisi is believed to have originated the custom of displaying the Christ Child in a crib at Christmas time.

He is reported once to have said to one of his followers: "I wish to celebrate holy Christmas night with you. In the woods near the cloister you will find a cave where we shall arrange a manger filled with hay. We shall have an ox and an ass just as at Bethlehem. I wish to see how poor and miserable the Infant Saviour became for us.

So at midnight, in the small Italian village of Garcia, in the year 1200, St. Francis and his followers celebrated mass at the cave and sang hymns, in honour of the Christ Child.

Many Origins For Christmas Tree Legend

There are so many origins of the Christmas tree legend that it would be impossible to single out any one as being the basis of today's practice. We find that the origin of the Christmas tree is much disputed as many countries claim the honor of having given the custom to the world.

There is, however, an authentic German manuscript of 1608 which pictures the tree as a regular feature of the Christmas season. For about two hundred years this part of the Yuletide festivities was confined to the regions along the Rhine. The Germans, naturally, soon realized that it was too good a thing to be confined to any one area and the popularity of the Christmas tree spread all over Germany.

The Germans, emigrating to North America, brought with them the idea of the Christmas tree and we, in turn, were quick to make it a regular part of our Christmas here.

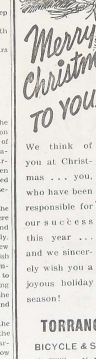

All this may, or may not, be of much significance to us, but it does, however, show one important truth . . . that each and every one of us is truly glad that the brightly decorated evergreen tree is an established and cherished part of our Christmas season.

Bells

The bell, the world's oldest and simplest musical instrument, is the world's most universal Yuletide symbol. Each nation has its individual symbol of Christmas, but the bell will be found somewhere in the traditions of every one.

Bell authorities claim that Pope Sabinianus gave us the first church bells in 604. The custom has grown until there is no use of church bells so widely known as the ringing of the chimes to herald the advent of the birth of Christ.

In recent years the ancient bell has "grown up" into the carillon, a highly sensitive instrument on which Christmas carols seem to find their most perfect expression.

We think of you at Christmas . . . you, who have been responsible for our success this year . . . and we sincerely wish you a joyous holiday season!

Most Wonderful Time in Child's Life Is Beautiful Fairyland of Christmas

Perhaps the most wonderful time in a child's life is the Christmas season . . . the breathless, almost-unendurable waiting for the bulging stockings and fairyland tree laden with sparkle and color.

Most grown-ups can remember, too, the gnawing fear that Santa might get his lists confused and forget to pay the long-awaited-for call.

The larger cities have Santa Claus parades, of course . . . and nearly all towns have Santa Claus on a special visit to personally take the toy orders.

Parents get a special thrill out of seeing their child perched on Santa's knee, studiously whispering carefully-prepared lists into his attentive ear.

Large department stores are simply bulging this time of year with special treats for the children. They have been changed by the decorators' magic wands into veritable fairyland palaces. Children's eyes go round with wonder when they see the glittering things to amuse them . . . and to make Christmas unbelievably wonderful.

In a Montreal store the window displays are superlative. Two adjoining windows are a presentation of fairy-tale characters . . . and Santa Claus himself is there.

A system of motors puts the whole display in motion so that Santa is busy drinking a cup of cocoa . . . and his arm carries the cup to his smiling lips. Mrs. Santa is busy rolling out cookies . . . and her plump rosy arms push the rolling pin as surely as a living person could.

A small helper is mixing batter, while perched atop a high stool, Little Jack Horner sits beside a fireplace while tirelessly pulling plums out of a real-looking pie.

A tiny gnome, dressed in a felching suit of green and matching pointed hat, is swinging on a door, while one of the three little pigs dances around Santa's foot.

In another window there are three Merry Carol players. The first . . . perfectly garbed in a cutaway of bright green and striped tousers, and top hat . . . is methodically beating a triangle, while keeping perfect time with his large foot. Beside him in Puss in Boots . . . with snow on his whiskers . . . who plays a violin. A second little pig . . . dressed as Little Boy Blue --- is busy blowing a golden horn, while a Red-Nosed Rudolph reads off a Christmas list to Santa Claus. Humpty-Dumpty is sitting on Santa's sleigh, with eyes rolling around in wonderment.

The display took months of preparation starting last July. A Toronto mechanical set-up of the display which has eight or nine separate motors to keep all the parts moving. A sculptress did the figures and of course, Paul Jones the chief display artist does the color schemes best suited for window display purposes.

Curiosity, Hope Greet New Year Hand in Hand

Curiosity and superstition always have greeted the New Year hand in hand with mankind's bright hope for the future.

In olden times, families sought a glimpse into the year just beginning by observing the 'dipping' custom. With his eyes closed, the head of the house opened the family Bible and indicated a passage with his finger; the text, solemnly read and interpreted by the family was indicative of the luck—good or bad— that was in store.

Probably one of the most widespread superstitions concerned the "first-footer" —the first person to cross the threshold on New Year's morning. Women and light-haired men were considered lucky "first-footers" as were people who walked pigeon-toed.

In some villages, the superstition was taken so seriously that a dark-haired man was given the first-footer job, going from house to house, he would be the first person to cross the threshold, thus preserving the good fortune of the community.

Santa Claus Is Thinking Of Every Boy and Girl

Christmas
'Open House'
Early Saxon Custom

Bells a jingling, that jolly old fellow in the red suit with the long white beard and the hearty laugh --Santa Claus--comes to visit good little boys and girls on Christmas morning before he returns to the North Pole to start work for next year.

The jovial old man had already met most of the children in the Lindsay area. He attended the army's gala Christmas party at the 45th Field Battery drill hall, and hundreds of kiddies were there to meet him.

Besides that Santa put in personal appearances at a number of church and school parties around town and at parties sponsored by local clubs and organizations.

Kiddies got real close to Santa to tell him what they wanted for Christmas. It wouldn't do to let everyone know your secret desires!

With Christmas Eve just around the corner, Lindsay and district hummed with the thoughts of the children as they counted the days until Santa Claus would make his annual appearance.

They had met him, all right, but it wouldn't do for the children to stay up late at night to greet him as he paid his visit to their homes and deposited his presents in the stockings and around the brightly lighted trees.

Santa, after all, realizes that little boys and girls must get their sleep at night, and because he has so many calls to make, he doesn't want the children waiting up all night for him.

That is probably one of the main reasons why he arrives here before Christmas and meets the children at different parties in the city and district. That, and, of course, to find out what the children would like for presents.

Santa's bag is always very full, and some of the children might wonder where he gets all his toys from. Well, he has a big toy factory up at the North Pole, where thousand, of little men and women help him to make the toys. They work on the toys all through the year, then when Christmas comes they help to fill Santa's sleigh. Santa has special messengers from the North Pole who help to refill his sleigh when it gets empty.

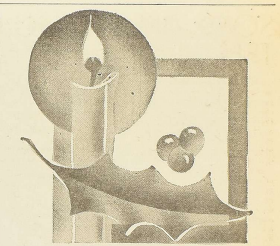

And, of course, in his bag and sleigh he has other thing, besides toys. Some children need clothing more than they need toys, and Santa always figures out just what they need the most. So when some children get a pair of pants or shoes or a shirt from Santa they shouldn't be disappointed because all their presents weren't toys.

After all, Santa is smart enough to figure out just what would be best for all the children, and that is why some children get more clothes than anything else.

So kiddies, be good and when you see what Santa left you, be pleased and tell your mommie and daddy how happy you are. They will tell Santa how much you appreciate his work and that will make him very happy.

SOME TIPS ON HOW TO KEEP TREE BRIGHT BUT NOT HOT

Christmas is the happiest time of the year . . . the time of family gatherings, plum puddings, religious observances, roast turkeys, Santa Claus . . . and Christmas trees. It is a time when the cares of everyday life are laid aside for a time and we give our attention to the spirit of the season.

The Christmas tree has been part of the celebration of the Canadian Yuletide season for many years. In its shimmering beauty, the tree occupies a central position on the stage in the domestic Christmas drama. Without it, a great deal of the tradition of the season would be lost.

Before the advent of electricity, it was customary to illuminate the Christmas tree with candles. This was a beautiful custom, but an extremely dangerous one. Because of the danger, the candles were lit only briefly and were the object of much anxious care by the parents. Even so, candles, tree, and sometimes house occasionally went up in smoke when one of the tiny flames tipped over or when an overhanging branch became overheated.

Today with our electric lights, the illumination of the Christmas tree is a far safer and more practical arrangement. Improperly used, however, they can be almost as dangerous as the open candles of another day.

In the first place, tree lights should be inspected carefully each year to make sure there are no loose sockets or bared wires. Only government inspected and approved equipment should be used. Care should be taken that too many strings of lights aren't placed on the same circuit, otherwise overloading may occur.

The tree itself should be kept as fresh and moist as possible. One good way to do this is to stand the tree in water or wet sand. The bottom of the trunk should be cut diagonally to permit greater absorption of water. The tree should not be placed near major exits from the room.

While your tree is standing it is a good idea to have on hand a fire extinguisher, a bucket of water or a connected garden hose ready for emergencies. When a Christmas tree catches fire, there is no time to improvise. You need to be ready.

It's best to turn off the tree lights when no one is in the room with the tree. Only non-combustible decorations should be used.

Remember, your Christmas tree can be perfectly safe when it's handled properly and no one wants to be without a tree at the Yuletide season, but a little extra care can save you a great deal of trouble and expense. Make sure your Christmas is a happy one by making sure it's a safe one.

Commercial Christmas Cards Began in 1885

Commercial production of Christmas cards in the United States began about 1835 with the founding and developing of the partnership of Currier and Ives in New York.

For more than a century American painters have aided the industry by painting Christmas themes on order or by selling reproduction rights to the art which is now conservatively estimated as worth $10,000,000 annually.

The favorite Nativity theme is represented by hundreds of interpretations. Winter scenes are next in popularity, some of them dating back to the Puritans of New England, the German forests whence St. Nicholas emerged, and even to the Druids of pre-Christian England.

BIRTH OF CHRIST

FOR WHOM GOD ALMIGHTY ABOLISHED THE LAW OF DEATH

The Curse Brought Upon The World by Adam's Fall "For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ shall all be made alive." 1 Cor. 15:22.

NEW REVISED VERSION

And in that region there were shepherds out in the fields, keeping watch over their flock by night. And an angel of the Lord appeared to them then, the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were filled with fear. And the angel said to them: "Be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good news of a great joy which will come to all the people; for to You is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is Christ the Lord. And this will be a sign for you: you will find a babe wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger." And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying,

"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among men with whom he is pleased."

When the angels went away from them into heaven, the shepherds said to one another, "Let us go over to Bethlehem and see this thing that has happened, which the Lord has made known to us." And they went with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. And when they saw it they made known the saying which had been told them concerning this Child and all who heard it wondered at what the shepherds told them. But Mary kept all these things, pondering them in her heart. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all they had heard and seen, as it had been told them.

Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold, wise men from the East came to Jerusalem, saying, "Where is he who has been born king of the Jews? For we have seen His star in the East, and have come to worship Him. "When Herod the King heard this, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him; and assembling all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he inquired of them where the Christ was to be born. They told him, "In Bethlehem of Judea; for so it is written by the prophet:

'And you, O Bethlehem, in the land of Judea, are by no means least among the rulers of Judea; for from you shall come a ruler who will govern My people Israel.'

Then Herod summoned the wise men secretly and ascertained from them what time the star appeared, and he sent them to Bethlehem, saying, "Go and search diligently for the Child, and when you have found Him bring me word, that I too may come a nd worpsHT" too may come and worship Him." When they had heard the King they went their way; and lo, the star which they had seen in the East went before them, till it came to rest over the place where the Child was. When they saw the star they rejoiced exceedingly with great joy;and going into the house they saw the Child with Mary His Mother, and they fell down and wcrshipped Him. Then opening their treasures, they offered Him gifts, gold and frankincense and myrrh. And warned in a dream not to return to Herod, they departed to their own country by another way.

Slow Fire

A nice blaze will soon be produced if a little rock salt is thrown on a slow fire.

Pine Cone Legend

Once upon a time—according to Hara mountain legend—a poor miner's wife was gathering pine cones in the forest. It was just before Christmas, her husband was ill, and there was no money in the house for food. So, she gathered the cones and sold them to the villagers for kindling—obtaining enough for the day's necessities.

One morning while she was looking for such cones, a little imp jumped out of a huge fir tree.

"Here, here are the biggest, driest cones of all! Take these," he shrieked, jumping up and down excitedly.

Suddenly, there was such a shower of cones that the poor woman was frightened. She tried to run, away, but could not move until the little imp had filled her basket. And, having started home the basket grew heavier and heavier—she wished the elf hadn't disappeared, he might have helped her.

When she finally reached her rut, she called the children help carry the baskets inside. Emptying the basket, they found that every cone was made of solid silver.

Commemorating these legendary silver cones, gilded pine cones are sold in modern stores, to decorate our homes—to burn and crackle gaily in our Christmas fires.

KEEP KIDS BUSY TO HELP EASE HOLIDAY EXCITEMENT

"Christmas comes early in the homes where the kids are old enough to anticipate all the eye-popping splendor of the occasion.

"We begin to hear about Santa before Thanksgiving, and the excitement builds up until we're all about ready to explode. To take some of the tension off and to get into the spirit of the holiday yourself let the children help with preliminaries geared to their ages and skills.

"There are lots of things kids can make and no for Christmas. A book just published and ready for the market is full of simple ideas and materials for making paper chains, a jolly balloon Santa, Christmas cards, ornaments, the Nativity scene and so on.

"All a child needs is scissors and a roll of tape or a paste pot to turn out any of several decorations. Your own childhood pleasures will suggest other simple activities.

"We usually get a very small tree early just for the children and it's decorated to the hilt several times. Colorful paper chains made from four-inch strips of bright paper looped into circles and pasted or taped to form the links are easy to make. So are the old-fashioned cranberry chains or popcorn strings threaded with big needles on stout thread.

Ornaments to dangle on the branches can be made by pasting pretty pictures or colored paper scraps on cardboard. Cut them out, punch a hole for thread to hang them up. Heavy aluminum foil borrowed from the kitchen and cut into star shapes or taped into cones make dazzling and unbreakable ornaments.

"An idea I got from the new book takes two or three sticks of candy with paper wrappings removed. The silver-foil sticks are taped together in triangles with a tape loop for hanging. Of course, my problem is how to keep the gum out of little mouths long enough to make the doo-dads.

"A jolly, bouncy Santa Claus takes a red balloon and a piece of cardboard. If you don't have a picture of a Santa head to cut out, you can make a rough approximation with red crayons on white paper.

"Cut out the cardboard in the shape of big feet. Punch a hole in it and cut a narrow slot. Blow up the balloon, pull the neck down through the hole, twist it tight and anchor it in the slot. Tape the head on top.

"If you want to put yourself in solic with the kindergarten set, plan a rainy-day session baking gingerbread men. A neighbor gave me a set of small cookie cutters in tree, reindeer, Santa and gingerbread-men shapes.

"I roll the dough thin and let the kids cut and decorate their own. Bowls of raisins, slivers of dried apricots and frosting (made largely from powdered skim milk, a little sugar and milk) spurs the decorative talents." — Women's Page, Peterborough Examiner.

Christmas Customs Of Russian Kiddies

In Russia they have the story of Babouscs. When the three wise men, seeing the star, started in search of the Christ-Child, they stopped at Dame Babouscs's hut and asked her the way to Bethlehem. She refused to tell them, but after they had gone, she was sorry, and filling a basket with toys, said to herself: "I will find the men and together we will search for the Child and lay these gifts at His feet." So she goes about every Christmas eve, the same as your Santa Claus and the German Knecht Rupert, and with her pack of presents. When the children find their toys on Christmas morning, they cry out: "Old Babouscs has passed this way."

Telling Fortunes At Christmas Time

Divinations were an important part of the Christmas festivities in Czarist Russia.

After a special family Christmas dinner, the girls of the household placed five piles of grain upon the kitchen floor: each pile was given a name, such as Hope, Ring, Money, Thread and Charcoal. A drowsy hen was fetched from the henhouse and allowed to walk around the kitchen floor and choose a pile of grain.

Obviously, the hen's choice of Money meant wealth; Ring foretold a wedding within a year; and Hope promised the fulfillment of a wish or a long journey. If the sleepy chicken chose the grain designated as Thread, a life of toil was predicted for the marriageable maiden of the household; and Charcoal was considered an omen of death in the family.

Old songs were sung to accompany such goings-on while the girls and women vied to devise complete stories based on the antics of the hen.

Ancient Christmas Or Twelfth Night Has Old Customs

Old Christmas Day, or 12th Night (January 6th), has its own celebrations in Devonshire in the South of England, famous for its apple-cider, the custom of "charming the orchard" has been handed down. Local farmers and their men go to their orchards after dark on the Twelfth Night, carrying guns and a great jar of cider, with a large piece of toast or cake floating in it. The gun is considered to be too old if it is able to hold the priming, and the more noise it makes the better. When the party reaches one of the largest apple trees, the farmer addresses it while the guns are discharged. The cider is then handed round, and the sop of cake eaten; care being taken that a good-sized piece is left in the fork of the tree for the robins, for if this is left undone the charm has no effect.

Seek Driver Of Accident Car

Damage Extensive To Other Cars

Charges are pending against the driver of a car involved in an accident this morning on Queen Street. Though the car did not stop, the licence number was obtained and the owner of the vehicle is being sought out by police.

Police say that at 8 a.m. this morning a car driven by Allan Archer, of R. R. 6, Lindsay, was proceeding west on Queen Street. When his car came to the intersection of St. David Street, a car proceeding south on St. David, swung west into Queen Street. Police say that to avoid hitting this car, Mr. Archer pulled into the south traffic lane on Queen. When he pulled into the wrong lane, a car driven by Jack Carew, 22 yrs, of 67 Elgin Street, was forced to leave the road, mounting the curb. However, the Carew car couldn't get off the road in time and a collision occurred.

The damage to the Carew vehicle was estimated by police to be $200 and to the Archer car $300.

The car which had come from St. David Street, and which Mr. Archer had avoided hitting, is reported not to have stopped but the licence number was obtained. Police say they are ascertaining the registered owner of this vehicle, and that charges are pending against the driver of this car.

The investigating officer was Sgt. Gordon Eberts.

Raid Office Party

Toronto police have raided their first office Christmas party and arrested the owner of the firm and 13 other persons.

The raid is the start of a drive against persons who disregard the Liquor Control Board's warning that office parties are illegal.

The raid on the office of the Greenwood Auto Wreckers followed the arrest of three men on drunkenness charges who were driven to make their way home from the party.

But Not Toronto

Attractive Setting For The Telling Of The Christmas Story

The Christmas story will be told and the beautiful carols which have heralded the approach of the Christmas season down through the centuries will be sung in churches throughout the Christian world on Christmas Day. Among these churches will be attractive St. Peter's Anglican Church, which is really a memorial to an English stone mason who came to the Haliburton Highlands when they were much less accessible than they are today. The man who was the architect and builder of St. Peter's Church started his project in the early spring and completed it in time for services before Christmas the same year. He was the only mason on the job and his assistants were neighbours who joined in the effort to provide this beautiful place of worship.

Mr. John Billings, for that is his name, was raised and learned his trade at Blagdon, Somerset, England. He was one of a large family of masons and bricklayers and he first settled at Toronto after immigrating to Canada. However, the climate there disagreed with a malarial affliction which he had contracted some years before and he was advised to go to the highlands and live among the pines. This he did and, settling at Maple Lake, he spent the remainder of his life--he died on New Year's Day 1923) in the district where he designed and did the masonry on many buildings.

St. Peter's Church, situated by the lakeshore, is a fitting and rewarding monument to the skilled hands of a pioneer settler and all who pass that way find it a pleasurable and interesting few Minutes spent when their pause to inspect this unusual highland church. It has a seating capacity of 100 and it is expected that every seat will be filled by 10 a.m. Christmas Day, for the special service called by Rev. M. J. Calhart for this occasion.

Santa Claus Stocking Fund

Mr. T. H. Stinson, chairman of the Santa Claus Stocking Fund, says it is expected that the objective of $1,500 be reached before Christmas in order that the fund may help the many needy families on its list to enjoy a better Christmas than they otherwise might.

He stressed that there "are more people on the list than last year and that food costs are higher".

The grand total to date is $1038.75, $461.25 short of the objective. There is but one day left in which you may help a Lindsay family in need to have a hearty Christmas dinner. Will you?

LCI Students From Other Lands Recall Interesting Christmas Customs They Have Witnessed

Christmas time is here once again. In this country familiar carols such as "Good King Wenceslas", "Silent Night", "Away in a Manger" are sung and played all over the land during the month or so preceding Christmas. Groups of people gather together and go out "caralling" on Christmas Eve. Christmas trees are obtained and decorated, shopping is done, and on the night before Christmas all that is left is for the little ones to hang up their stockings in a row and wait for Santa Claus to fill them on his rounds.

Although the meaning of Christmas remains the same the world over , in each country slightly different customs and means of celebrating the holy season have grown up. There are several teenagers in our school from other countries, and it is very interesting to us Canadians to learn how they celebrate Christmas in their native lands.

In Denmark

Jan Trasborg Hansen tells us how Christmas is celebrated in Denmark. "On the first day of December," he says, "each family weaves a large pine wreath. Many candles are placed on this wreath. On the succeeding Sundays, they light the candles while the family is gathered together. One candle is lit the first Sunday, two candles the second Sunday, and so on until the candles are all lit.

On the last day of school, on or around December 19th, all the school children bring a candle and cookies to class. Each student places his candle on his desk and lights it. The cookies are served to the students and they bury small branches of pine, to waft the fragrant odor through the school. At the close of the day, the students gather in the assembly hall with their principal reads them the Christmas Story, and wishes them a happy holiday."

"In Denmark as here", he says, "there is much Christmas shopping to be done. A huge pine tree is obtained and the older members of the family decorate it. The Danish Christmas tree is hung with delicacies to eat--special shaped cookies, little ornaments filled with candy, twisted candy, and on it are placed many tiny candles--as many as 200 will be found on one tree. This tree is placed in the centre of a separate room, and the children do not see the decorated tree until Christmas Eve.

On the evening before Christmas eve, the family gather together and discuss the meaning of Christmas.

On Christmas eve, the whole family attend church. After church they return home where a "Christmas Dinner" is served them; the feature of which is goose. For dessert a special rice pudding is served. This pudding contains one and only almond or almond nut. Whoever finds this nut in his or her pudding receives a special gift.

At the close of the meal, the father goes into the room containing the Christmas tree and lights all of the candles. This task finished, he knocks three times on the door and summons the rest of the family into the room, and the children see the fully decorated Christmas tree for the first time. The family join hands and walk around the Christmas tree singing carols. When the children are tired, the father or the older son gives out the presents. Sometimes the family is honored by a visit from St. Nicholas who gives out the presents, and in the evening the children "eat the tree" i.e. they eat the ornaments with which it is decorated. After the children go to bed the adults remain downstairs drinking "Christmas Coffee" and reminiscing.

On Christmas Day another big family dinner is served, and again the family is present. For the three days following Christmas, friends and relatives visit back and forth.

New Year's is also a gala holiday in Denmark, as it is here. On New Year's Eve a big party is held. While the older boys and girls and adults attend this party, the younger ones go about doing mischief similar to that done by Canadian boys and girls on Hallowe'en night. At 12.00 midnight, bells are rung, millions of firecrackers and rockets are let off as the Danes welcome in the New Year.

In New Guinea

Tina Hogerwaard in Grade XII relates in the following passage the manner in which Christmas is celebrated in New Guinea.

"About 50 years ago the majority of the people of New Guinea, the big island to the North of Australia were still pagans, worshipping and fearing the evil spirits. Many missionaries from Holland went there and preached the Gospel and now there are already more than 100,000 baptized Christians.

Christmas is now the big feast of the year and they celebrate it with joy and gratitude because in their darkness, too, the Light of the world has come. Weeks before the the 25th December every village sends persons to the missionary's house to get coloured paper to adorn their church and candles to be used in the Christmas service.

The school children study plays in which the birth of Christ is depicted and everyone comes to see them. For them the celebration of Christmas is not limited to one day only for a group of villages arrange it this way: For example on Monday evening Genjem will celebrate its Christmas and then about 7 villages gather together to witness the plays and to hear the sermon and the music. Then the following evening it is the turn of the village of Benjom and all the Christians go there; the next day to Enrob and so on during one week. The word for Christmas there (in the Malay Language) is Pohon Terang, that means "the tree of light" for candles are used which means "the great feast".

The children of New Guinea do not know anything about Santa Claus, the red nosed reindeer and all those other things which are related with Christmas here. They do not receive gifts for life there is very simple and the people are

Christmas Party For Children, Kinsmen Event

On Thursday last, the Kinsmen Club of Lindsay volunteered to do the baby-sitting for their families by way of holding a Christmas Party for the children. Mothers were not invited and therefore unless there were really small children, had an evening free.

The Hotel Benson dining room was filled to overflowing, and after feasting on sandwiches, chocolate milk, ice cream, cake and cookies, Santa Claus arrived to present them all with a gift.

'Tl was the first effort of this type of the Kinsmen Club, and certainly must be regarded as a great success," a spokesman for the Club told "The Post".

During the evening the monthly draw was held for Kinsmen Sids--of-the-Month, and the lucky winner turned out to be Miss Mary Shaw.

Unemployment

More than 151-thousand Canadians were looking for jobs at the start of the Christmas buying season.

The Bureau of Statistics in cooperation with the Labor Department, says in a joint monthly report that unemployment was higher than at the same time last year.

Most of those unemployed were workers in seasonal jobs. -BUP

Need For Noble Living Stressed As Children Prepare For Christmas

School Trustee Dan McQuarrie delivered his farewell Christmas message as a member of Lindsay Public School Board at Central School's pre-Christmas holiday exercises on Tuesday afternoon. For nearly a quarter of a century associated with school trustee work here, Mr. McQuarrie told a capacity audience in the school hall that he was forced to vacate his office because he had moved "out into the wilderness, a mile or so west of the town." (Actually, a school trustee must reside in the area served by the school.)

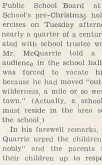

In his farewell remarks, Mr. McQuarrie urged the children to "live nobly" and the parents to bring their children up to respect their elders Teaching children to have a proper respect for their elders was an important part of child training in the home, he declared.

In his message to the children, Mr. McQuarrie told of an incident in which a Central School student had lent a helping hand to Mrs. McQuarrie while she was returning home one day from the grocery store. Heavily laden with groceries, the boy offered welcome assistance, carrying not one or two shopping bags but insisting that he take both. The retiring trustee cited this as an example of noble living in doing things for others without being asked.

The program for the closing exercises, paralleling those conducted in other Lindsay schools, featured several lively carols sung by various groupings of school grades; Grade 1 and 2 sang "The Angels' Song" and "Calling Santa Claus"; Grades 3, 4, 5 "Is It for Me Bethlehem" and "Singing Happy Christmas"; Grades 6, 7, 8, "God Christian Men Rejoice" and "O Holy Night." Prof. W. Fletcher accompanied the tuneful youthful choristers throughout.

Chairman for the occasion was Principal W. S. Battersby who brought greetings to the parents and relatives attending, complimenting them for their interest in their children's school life. Mrs. R. C. Wansbrough spoke briefly on the Public School Board extending Christmas wishes for a happy holiday to the children. Owing to the fact that many people were standing and he didn't wish to prolong the program unnecessarily. Mr. Walter Peel, school board chairman, had Mr. McQuarrie convey his greetings.

A special feature of the occasion was a square dance demonstration by girls from Grades 7 and 8 arranged by Miss Betty Copp. Although one of the participants was taken suddenly ill the night previous, the dances were beautifully done.

Mr. Dan McQuarrie, for 20 years associated with school trustee work in Lindsay, has relinquished his office. He told an assembly at Central School on Tuesday he was leaving, not by choice, but by virtue of a ruling which prohibits people living outside the town sitting on school boards. (Mr. McQuarrie now resides on the Oakwood Rd. a mile or so west of town).

Estimated 450 Toys Garnered At "Toy Admission" Show

On Saturday morning children from all over Lindsay formed a queue in front of the Century Theatre, each armed with a toy rather than the usual admission charge, to see an exciting children's picture as guests of the Century Theatre.

Kinsman Vern "Turvey and Kinsman Ken Garbig, theatre manager, organized the show. As a result of their efforts, a club spokesman told "The Post", "many girls and boys will find toys under their trees on Christmas morning which otherwise might not have been."

The spokesman continued that "the club spends a great deal of time and effort in preparing toys for needy children, but the idea of holding a toy matinee has proved a great success. It has been estimated that 450 toys were obtained by this method."

Kin Gerard Connolly told "The Post" today that the club members have been working for about 10 days now getting toys ready for Christmas. He said that the toys are washed, and if needed, painted and repaired. The work has been carried on in the basement of the Fire Hall, made available for the job to the Club.

The boxes of toys will be distributed to needy families here on Thursday night, he said.

Diplomat Who Vanished Sends Mother Greetings

A British diplomat who vanished in 1951 has sent Christmas greetings to his mother.

The British foreign office has announced that a letter from diplomat Guy Burgess was delivered to the home of his mother, Mrs. J. R. Bassett in London.

Burgess and fellow diplomat Donald Maclean, vanished in one of the most fantastic disappearing acts of the cold war.

The gay, ingratiatey says there is no doubt that the letter is from Burgess. He says it was written in Guy Burgess's handwriting and mailed in London.

However, that doesn't mean Burgess is in London The letter could have been mailed for him. The gay, father says the letter is a Christmas greeting to Burgess' family and gives them no hope that he is alive and well. -BUP

Rescue Dog From Icy Scugog

The Lindsay Fire Department played the Good Samaritan this morning by rescuing a dog which had broken through thin river ice as it attempted to cross the Scugog at the Kenilworth bridge.

The department said that this is a timely warning that if the river ice won't hold a dog it certainly won't safe for children to be playing on.

At 8.27 this morning the department received a call from a Mr. Bugshaw that a dog had broken through the ice on the river. Answering the call the firemen launched their small boat by breaking the ice and rescued the dog.

They say the dog was returned to its owner, Mr. M. Hall, of 62 Georgian Street, by a small boy.

Magistrate Gee Retiring In Mid-January

Magistrate E. A. Gee is retiring about the 15th of January next. Mr. Gee told "The Post" today that he has been a magistrate here for almost 20 years.

People familiar with Mr. Gee's career claim that throughout the province his court decisions have been deemed fair and kindly and that he has during his long career given much service to the public.

Mr. Gee will be retained, it is reported, by a Lindsay barrister, Col. R. I. Moore. Mr. Moore has taken the bench here in Mr. Gee's absence on different occasions and recently presided over Peterborough Police Court during the ill health of Magistrate Philip there.

School Architects Entertain Boards

John B Parkin Associates, Toronto architects, who have done work on many Lindsay schools, entertained the members of the Lindsay Public School Board and the Victoria County High School Area Board at a dinner last night in the Victoria Room of the Hotel Benson.

A member of the Lindsay Board told "The Post" this morning that the dinner was a social affair and that there were no speakers of the evening.

The host John B Parkin Associates are at present architects of the million dollar addition to the Lindsay Collegiate Institute.

Has Both Legs Broken By Car

Minden (PNS) -A Minden man, Mr. John Hughes, had both legs broken in an accident on Saturday evening. It is reported that Mr. Hughes was rushed to the Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, following an accident at that time when he was struck by a car driven by Mr. Ray Collis. The accident occurred near Bulkwell's store, one mile north of Minden village.

Organizing Junior Band

The bandmaster of the Little Britain Citizens' Band, Mr. E. A. Linton, told "The Post" today that he is endeavouring to organize a Junior Band early in the New Year. He said, too, that he was only interested in musically minded boys for, as he explained, other young men who play actively in such sports as hockey and baseball do not have the necessary time to devote to practice, which makes for good instrumentalists.

A citizen has commented on Mr. Linton's idea of a Junior Band by saying that if the new group does as well as the Little Britain Citizens' band they will be a fine addition to this district. The Citizens' Band is familiar to most people in this area for they are very generous with their time, taking part in most of the parades and functions that go on, he observed.

United Church W.A. Entertains At Christmas Meeting

Woodville (PNS) —The W. I. and Kpbx W. A. Woodville were guests of the United Church W. A. at the annual Christmas get-together.

The United Church Sunday School was decorated in keeping with the festive season.

Mrs. J. W. Stoddart opened the meeting with a few words of welcome. Mrs. A. L. Hosey, on behalf of Knox W. A., expressed thanks for the invitation, and opened the devotional part of the meeting with Longfellow's poem "Christmas Bells". Mrs. C. Veale played favourite carols throughout. Mrs. Beckley read several Christmas verses interspersed with carol singing by the audience. The scripture reading, Luke 2 was taken by Mrs. G. Bolton and Mrs. A. McDonald. Mrs. D. Ferguson led in prayer. Mrs. R. McTaggart read a poem "If Christ had not come".

Mrs. Horace Shaw introduced the guest artist, Mrs. L. Hoover. New Dundee, who delighted the audience with her chalk drawing of "A Star in the East" which was beautifully executed. Mrs. Hoover's other drawing Mrs. C. Veale and Miss I. Carmichael favored with duets "Silent Night" and "Star of the East", accompanied by Mrs. R. McKague at the piano.

Mrs. Ferguson thanked Mrs. Hoover for her work. Mrs. Gordon McDonald thanked the Knox W. A. for the program. Mrs. S. Mason thanked Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. W. I. voiced her thanks and at the same time asked Mrs. Hosey to come to the front. Mrs. Hosey on behalf of the W. I. and Mrs. Murray presented an oil painting to Mrs. Hosey.

All joined in repeating the Mizpah Benediction. A social hour followed when a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses.

Mrs. Dixon Hostess For Glen W.I.

Woodville (PNS) —The Glen W.I meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Dixon. Fifteen members answered to the Roll Call. —"A Christmas toy for the Sick Children's Hospital in Toronto".

The following business was transacted; bazaar-postponed indefinitely but kept in mind for the future; Girls' Club — Magazines showing "cool" pictures are needed. It was decided to act as hostess for the club in May when they have their project completed for Achievement Day; Library -A grant of $10. was given to the new Woodville Public library; Scott Mission — In response to a plea for help, used clothing is being collected. Mrs. Dixon is acting as convener; Victoria T.B. Seals -A grant of $10. was given toward this worthy cause.

Some money-making schemes were discussed. Each member is to be responsible for a gift to the Institute, earned in groups or individually. All are looking forward to the January meeting when more plans will be laid. At present there are two quilts to be quilted during the winter.

The program in charge of the conveners -Mrs. H. Imrie, Mrs. Winterbottom, Mrs C. Hill, was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Imrie gave 2 readings, "Making A Cake" and "I am Dreaming of a Green Christmas". Mrs. Winterbottom led in the singing of the Christmas carols.

After the singing of the National Anthem a dainty Christmas lunch was served by the hostess and conveners in charge.

WI At Beaverton Holds Its Christmas Meeting

"Peace on earth, Good will to men", the true spirit of Christmas prevailed at the December meeting of the Beaverton Branch of the Women's Institute.

Following the usual Institute opening, congratulations were extended to Mrs Wm. H Burns the Branch Secretary on her appointment to the Provincial Board of Directors.

Mrs. C. Ross, leader and Mrs. O. H. Bagg, assistant leader, of the local Girls' Homemakers Club, recently visited the Whitby Pair-in connection with the 4-H Club as guests of the Department of Agriculture, and Mrs. Bagg reported on the trip.

Mrs. Don C. Ross read a beautiful tribute to the late Miss Beatrice Butcher, including the poem "Where I have time". Miss Hazel Cave presented to Mrs. Teer, of the Teer Nursing Home, one of the new gift lights and as Mrs. Ross pointed out, this was a gift to bring the greatest amount of happiness and comfor to others which would have been the earnest wish of the one in whose memory the gift was given.

Mrs. H. Pittaway had produced a copy of the Toronto Globe dated 1874 and Mrs. F. C. Wood read from a Beaverton Express of 1927, telling of the patriotic song "Canada" composed by Miss Pauline K. Roach, and being played in Orillia at that time.

Nine cards and five boxes were reported as being sent out by the Sunshine Committee. A goodly amount of jams and jellies were received as response to the roll call and to be used for Christmas Cheer baskets.

Further regular business was dispersed with and the meeting heard a most enjoyable and interesting report of the 51st Annual Central Ave. Convention given by the delegate, Mrs. F. C. Wood. In this report we were reminded of the value of the Loan Library for Conveners of Standing Committees. It was suggested that a Handicraft Club might be organized which showed a number of interested potential members. There were Twenty three new branches organized in the past year, making a total of fifteen hundred and three branches now in Ontario. A splendid way to avoid heart trouble was quoted "Empty yourself of hatred and

P.T.A. To Hold Party For Children

Coboconk (PNS) -- The regular meeting of St. Margaret's PTA, Coboconk, was held, in the school. The roll call was responded to by 14 members and two visitors from St. John's Branch, Kirkfield.

The meeting opened by the president, Mrs. Peter Bowins, in the usual manner. Minutes were read and approved. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $47. Reports were given on membership and publicity convenors.

Correspondence included letters from pupils of St. Margaret's School expressing their appreciation to the branch for their kindness in making it possible for them to see "The Miracle of Fatima," and to thank Mrs. E. Woodlock for her kind donation. Rev. L. Cleary announced that he would attend the concert provided by Monsignor Ronan's choir which is being brought to Lindsay by their local PTA. Fr. Cleary also informed the meeting that had secured the film "The Song of Bernadette," which he would show in St. Margaret's School.

A discussion was carried on over Christmas for the children and it was decided that the PTA would provide the treats for the children at their annual Christmas program. They also are holding a Christmas party for all the children at which the children are to receive a special gift and added treats from the club. At this time the PTA will also present the awards to the deserving pupils.

This concluded the business part of the program and the meeting closed with the singing of "Holy God We Praise Thy Name" followed by the National Anthem. Community singing was enjoyed while the hostesses prepared their delicious lunch. A social hour was enjoyed by all.

frustration, think beautiful thoughts and turn yourself to God".

Mrs. P. S. Croft, in charge of the contest, had a small pair of cutom of carol singing and presented the Goodwill sonisters, who ,in a most attractive setting sang a number of carols, with a word of explanation of each carol Following the contest, the meeting adjourned, a most happy sing-song time was enjoyed, after which Santa Claus made his annual jolly visit, and presented gifts to a very gay group of ladies.

Mrs. Teer is happy to join Mrs. J. M. Smith who led in a Christmas Grace, and a most delightful lunch was served by the hostesses of the day, under the convenership of Mrs. J. Parks.

The W. I. are grateful to all who helped in any way to make the Christmas meeting such a happy occasion.

John Kellett

Haliburton (PNS) -The death of Mr. John Kellett was heard with regret after a few days illness. Mr. Kellet has been residing in Minden where he had a place of business. After suffering a heart attack, he was removed to the home of his brother Mr. Walter Kellett, Haliburton, where he passed away.

Appoint Committee To Bring In Slate Of Officers

Haliburton (PNS) -The regular meeting of the Red Cross hospital was held with the president, Rev. Mr. Rutherford, in charge, Mrs. Fred Monk acted as secretary, in place of Mrs. Walter Kellett, and read the minutes, called the roll and also gave the financial report in place of the treasurer, Mrs. C. W. Hodgson.

A very fine donation of $15.00, made up at the North Lake Hunt Club, was presented by Mr. W. R. Curry a member of the party, and this was thankfully received. A fine donation, valued at $100.00, for hospital equipment was received from the Boskung cottage owner's club. With the money, an oxygen tent for adults was purchased and an instrument for the operating room, Mr. Day, of Toronto was in charge of the gift and a letter of thanks was sent to these people who spend the summers here, at beautiful Boskung Lake. The two articles will be of countless value to the doctor and hospital.

Mr. W. R. Curry gave a report on the work done on the lawns that will be landscaped in the spring. The wood, furnace room and water heater systems are finished and all accounts in connection were ordered paid.

A new campaign manager was discussed. Mr. George Hughes, who acted for the past two years, was forced to retire on account of his new business affairs. Several suggestions to replace Mr. Hughes were offered. The annual January meeting of the hospital Board was planned for, a date set, a speaker suggested and more plans are to be made at the regular meeting.

A nominating committee was appointed and the following list of ladies will choose a slate of officers, Mrs. Fred Monk, Mrs. Jessie Hodgson, Mrs. G. M. Yarnold, Mrs. Mabel Earle, Mrs. W. Old Fashioned Kind?

Everybody seemed to be feeling the cold last week. It could be that we've been spoiled for a few winters back and we can't take it. Fur coats and galoshes were very necessary when we shopped. Perhaps we are soft after a few mild winters and will have to get used to the good old fashioned ones now.

Greeting Cards.

The Christmas cards are pretty this year and decorate the mantel like nothing else can. One was in the shape of a church and an open-window looked back into the church with a choir singing in the background. Another one was a metallic one like a book and the gold, green and red made it very effective. Many are too pretty to destroy and one from a garage showed an old model with a pretty young woman waiting for her husband to crank the car. "Times have changed" was written above. Christmas cards have changed too and are getting more glamorous every year.

Lots of Fuel

Strolling down Main street we saw monstrous turkeys and the meat shops seem to be filled to overflowing. We simply can't see the butchers in the window would average and the salesman said they were not turkeys but chickens. We never eat chicken's grew so big. It really pays to get a large bird and if your family is small you can saw it in two and use it for Christmas and the rest for New Years. At least there should be enough fowl to go around for we always have them hanging around the stores by the hundreds.

Blackout

There was a blackout above Francis street on Saturday and it seemed like an eternity for those who were left in the dark. Many were eating their supper and naturally they couldn't eat in the dark. Candles were on the table but every house hasn't them so handy.

Christmas

Trees decked in holiday garb are appearing everywhere. Santa and his helpers are working overtime to get presents ready for Christmas Eve.

As the days go by you cross name off after name off your list . . . . and you add to your supply of holiday decorations. Just an stroke of holiday foods—Your pocketbook gets slimmer and slimmer . . . and you feel hurt and your back begins to ache.

One way to pare your actual wallet-slimming time to a minimum is to pick out your gifts quickly . . . plan what you want to buy before hand, and when you go to the stores you don't have to linger.

It's late to be doing shopping . . . also here are a few suggestions for quick gifts for the women on your list.

For the ladies who love to wear hats and pretty hat pins with them . . . . a decorative pin cushion. Another type of pin cushion on the market is everything for the woman who likes to sew. It looks like a bird, and has two cushions on it . . . one for needles and the other for pins. The bird hangs on the table, and the beak holds material firmly so the sewer can baste or pin with ease.

A gay variation on a kitchen necessity on the list who likes being glamorous in the kitchen . . . a glitter mitten pot holder of sequined calico.

If you can't find one of these ready-made in your neighborhood store . . . you can dress up any mitt holder with a supply of sequins, needle and thread and a little time.

One of your hostess friends might like a package of gay paper holiday aprons . . . or a lucky paper towel holder . . . or maybe a trivet with a built-in electrical unit to keep food hot at the table.

This last is made of wrought-iron . . . . is can't scorch the tablecloth and it costs under five dollars.

Glasses with places to write the guests' names . . . and mark the kind of beverage are a boon to hostesses who like entertaining large groups.

The party props on the market this year are more amusing than ever.

You can find Zulu-type figures holding bowls for nuts, candy or chips . . . or spears for pretzels, or amusing dog figures that serve the same purpose.

Any woman on your list will be charmed with one of the many gay packages of perfumes or cosmetics on the market.

How about a set of fan card-holders for the family that likes to play cards. Or perhaps records for the musical folks on your list . . . or one or more rolls of color film for the photographers . . . . remember the roll of film package comes with color film. And don't overlook photograph albums.

If you're painted minded . . . a tiny counting machine that adds up to nine-thousand 999. Then there's a little invention that couples car batteries and puts them in series couples them at the flick of a finger.

Also a cigarette case with a magnetized lid that will keep a pack of cigarettes always within easy reach on the dashboard.

A sportsman might like one of those new razors that operates on batteries . . . or a lightweight portable chair.

A craftsman always is pleased with new tools . . . if you know what he wants. But if you don't . . . he'll be happier with a small-item storage chest with plastic drawers he can see through . . . or a light that works on batteries and is worn on the forehead like a doctor's reflector.

Personalize your Christmas gifts to the people who serve you through the year . . . if you're planning to give them cash. They'll appreciate the touch of Christmas along with the extra cash.

If you have a pet . . . don't forget it. A Christmas present for pets, there are gift stockings for dogs, cats, canaries and parakeets available in the pet departments of the shops throughout the country.

Here's a gay idea for Christmas—decorate the bird cage for pet, or the dog or cat gifts for the women on your list.

Wetaskiwin, Alta, Times welcomes Prime Minister St. Laurent's expansion of assistance in low cost housing, but adds in an editorial, everything looks rosy at the moment, but unless the government also insists on better administration of the act in addition to the changes, the people of Canada will find little difference in the availability of loans.

Salvation Army Christmas Service

A special Christmas service was held in the Salvation Army Citadel on Sunday evening, when the topic of the evening, "God's Christmas Box", was presented. Messages, interspersed with special numbers by the Band, under the direction of Bandmaster A. Maslen, and the songsters, under the baton of Songster Leader Jack Carew were given. Vocal numbers were, a solo, "Star of the East", sung by Mrs. J. Carew, and a duet, "Beautiful Christ" by Miss Ruth Rahm and Mrs. Ray Wright, added to the interest of the meeting.

Envoy T. Bull, opened the "Package" by reading a short talk on "God's Gift of Love". Mrs. Major Majury spoke on "God's Gift of His Word", Sgt.-Major H. Rahm presented "God's Gift of Salvation", and Sr.-Major H. Majury brought the theme to a close with "God's Gift of Guidance", all these gifts fulfilled in the Gift of God's Son Jesus Christ.

Before the opening of the service Bandmaster Maslen joined in Carol Singing, under the leadership of the Songster Leader.

She's certainly the nervous type . . . . can't stay in here more than an hour without thinking she must go back to work.

Mrs. H. McComb Gives Talk At Christmas Meeting

Nesbleton (PNS) -Nesbleton W. I. met at the home of Mrs H. McComb for their Christmas meeting, with the president, Mrs. Cecil Wilson, in the chair. Splendid attendance was recorded at this meeting.

Coronation and Institute souvenir handkerchiefs were received from the adopted W. I. in England. Mrs. Vine showed the books to be presented for public school prizes from the W. I. Miss Ruby Pruntt reported on the recent Hospital Auxiliary meeting and asked for donations for the home-baking sale for the hospital. Two quilts are in readiness, but it was decided to leave quiltings until the New Year. The usual Christmas cheer boxes to sick and shut-ins and cards to former members will be sent. One minute of silence was observed for a former member, Mrs. Cecil Wilson gave the motto "Joy" is not in things but in us" and based her talk on "How the Grinch Stole Christmas".

Mrs. M. Emerson reported on the Area Convention in Toronto, which she judged the largest and most enjoyable of all. Mrs. John Houck spoke on running an Institute branch, with many helpful suggestions stressing the fact that the W.I. is not a money-making organization but one for education. The main aim to learn something new. Everyone should have a hobby and work on it.

All were interested to learn that the tractor sent by the W. I. to Greece has been so useful. When it arrived no one could use it, so they hired a driver at 8 cents per 1-4 acre. Later a man was hired at 46 cents to teach two others who learned quickly, and now take pride in keeping it in A-1 condition. So far, only $1000 of the $1,000 sent for repairs have been required.

Mrs. Emerson was loud in her praises of the Girls' Work and of the International Pageant presented by Beaverton W. I.

Mrs. Vine described the trip taken by 54 buses of delegates from A.C.W.W. who toured the States to Washington viewing such places as Creek, the site of the founding of the W.I. and the Cooperstown Farmer's Museum. She gave high lights of the address given by Miss Royce President of Moulton College. Mrs. Wilson thanked the delegates for their splendid reports.

Mr. H. McComb, pastor of Nesbleton Presbyterian Church, brought a special Christmas message — the coming of Christ -based on the recent Digest article "Rose Birth-day is It?" She said, "The coming of Christ was no sudden whim of God.—(1) It was a long planned way of salvation in the most specialty to unite man to God. (11) It was an oft-mentioned way. All the prophets tell of Jesus' coming. They stressed the importance of the event thousands of years before His birth. It was told that God's people stressed the importance of the event thousands of years before His birth. It was told that God's people were in readiness to welcome the birth. A male child brought universal joy. A female child universal sorrow. This was because every Jewish mother hoped to be the mother of the promised Messiah. There were no musicians at Christ's humble birth in the lowly stable, but God provided a heavenly choir to welcome him and a star to direct the way. So let us remember we are celebrating the birthday of Christ. Bring Him to His rightful place and keep Christ in Christmas." The speaker closed his talk with the story of the baby boy out for a walk with his father one starry night, who enquired the meaning of the various stars in the windows of everyone's home in the village. Being told they were to show that one or more sons had been given from that home in the service of his country, gazing into the sky the small boy said, "God must have given a son too, I see His star." "God gave only one Son, his only one to bring us the greatest message of hope," the speaker concluded.

Miss Ruth Pruntt was in charge of the Roll Call, an exchange of gifts. Several Christmas carols were sung. Mrs. Jean Hedge conducted a song contest which was won by Mrs. George Johns.

Mrs. McComb and her helpers served a bountiful lunch and all voted it a most successful and interesting meeting.

Young People's Activities

Ralph Banbury Guest Speaker At Banquet

The second annual banquet of the Kawartha Junior Farmers took place at Fenelon Falls. An excellent turkey supper, prepared by the ladies of the Dunsford W. A., was much enjoyed by the 50-or-so junior farmers and friends who were present. This was followed by a sing-song led by Mr. Bill Weir, after which Mr. Harold Beatty introduced the people at the head table, including Mr. Leslie Bragg, agricultural representative, who, in a short speech, welcomed all friends and members present.

A short, but very enjoyable, musical entertainment followed after which Mr. John Steele introduced the guest speaker for the evening, who was Mr. Ralph Banbury from the Department of Agriculture at Brighton. Mr. Banbury' speech was very long, but, judging by the laughter and applause every moment of it was appreciated. He gave a most interesting and fascinating account of his trip to Chicago as chaperone to the young winners of the International Ploughing Match at Cobourg. He also told of some amusing incidents that happened on the trip. The Rev. Puppley thanked Mr. Banbury, and said that every junior farmer present must wish he had been on trip, too, as it all sounded so delightful.

The singing of "O Canada" in unison ended a very happy evening.

Seagrave W.A. Meets, Hears Christmas Story

Seagrave (PNS) -- The W.A. convened in the S.S. room with this meeting sponsored by the North Group. The room had been beautifully decorated with fireplace, Christmas tree, evergreen and lights, making a lovely setting for the splendid devotional service.

Mrs. MacTaggart, who was in charge, opened with a hymn. The Bible study was read by Mrs. Cliff Short and was the Christmas story Mrs. Nodwell led in prayer and Miss Matthews, as a splendid poem, "Let not our hearts be busy inns." Mrs. Abraham and Mrs. Tobin, accompanied by Mrs. Keen, sang the lights, making a lovely setting for the splendid devotional service.

The topic was taken by Miss Willows and was made up of several interesting stories and "A Prescription" which each and each one was applicable to many congregations. In it "a preacher is going over his roll and wondering why so many church members, who have promised loyalty to God and the Church, fail to be present at church service." He considers different means of dealing with this problem but can arrive at no definite conclusion. The poem is listened to carefully, and all joined in singing "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

Mrs. Bath, the president, took over the business and thanked the North Group for the interest they had taken in decorating the room and preparing such a fine service.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and the roll call and offering taken. The treasurer, Mrs. G. Wanamaker, reported about $600 on hand, with some outstanding accounts. It was decided to pay the expense of the basement decoration from the basement fund and keep in remembrance of this fund to the Board of Stewards. Also it was agreed to give the Stewards $100, the Training School Fund $40, the M and M $80, the Sick Box Committee were instructed to send boxes to all sick and shut-ins at Christmas time.

Mrs. Butt thanked all for their support during the past year and presented the gift from Mrs. Wallace for the election of officers for 1954. On motion of Mrs. A. Price and Mrs. E. Clements, all officers remain in office for another year. This saved a lot of time and energy. The various committees were then appointed with some slight changes from last year.

The meeting was moved closed by Mrs. Bath and dainty tables were set up and a bountiful lunch served by candlelight. This outstanding meeting was the closing one of the year.

Group leaders -Mrs. Gordon Beacock, Mrs. William Weir, Mrs. Victor Gray; Mrs. Harold Lang, Mrs. Lathangue.

The devotional program was opened by Mrs. Gordon Beacock who read a poem, "Beside the Still Waters", a hymn was sung Mrs McConnell read a report from the Missionary Monthly. "Putting Christ into Christmas" and urged that "we should observe the Christmas season in Christian manner. Unless this is done we will add to our all commercialized observance of our Saviour with a resultant lack of thankfulness gluttony and carousel which would be a replica of the orgy so revolutionary characteristic of many homes, offices and hotels of 1952".

Mrs. Hyland read the Scripture lesson from a chapter of Jeremiah and Mrs. Ross Rehill gave the commentary of the text "Love one another". A medley of carols was by a quartette -Mrs. T. J. Pogue, Mrs. W. Weir, Mrs. Art Weir and Mrs. Casey. Mrs Vaughan led in prayer, and Mrs. Harold Graham gave a paper on "Joy".

The meeting closed with the hymn "Joy to the world" and the Mizpah Benediction. Lunch was served by the group of Mrs. Graham. Next meeting will receive a donation towards the new kitchen.

Mrs. H. Faulkner Elected Bethel W.A. President

Omemee (PNS) -Bethel United W. A. held their December meeting at the Omemee parsonage with five visitors present and 29 members. The Roll Call was answered by a donation towards the layette for Korean babies.

Mrs. J. Darling, the president, reviewed the business transacted during the past year and mentioned that monthly attendance averaged 24. Mrs.Ira Switzer moved a vote of thanks to all who had contributed toward the successful year.

The program included the following number:- Mrs. J. Darling - poem - "There'll always be Christmas"; The group sang "It Came Upon A Midnight Clear"; Mrs. Ed. Ruth conducted the devotional portion and chose the theme "Joy" upon which she based her remarks.

Mrs. William Rose, Miss Marion Rea and Mrs. Zufelt gave an interesting account of the English, French, and German versions of Christmas, their traditions and how the folks in those lands observe this Holy season. Mrs. Zufelt had resided in Germany some years ago and personally observed customs there. A duet "Silent Night" was rendered by Mrs. MacFarlane and Mrs. H. McCarrell.

Mrs. J. Darling presented the slate of officers for 1954 -President -Mrs. Harry Faulkner; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. Hiram Finley; 2nd Vice-President -Mrs. Gerald Switzer; Secretary -Mrs. Marwood McCarrell; Secretary -Mrs. J. Carey; Visiting and Fruit Committee -North -Mrs. Arthur Darling Mrs Ira Switzer. South -Mrs Herbert Jackson, Mrs William Cherry.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Carew. Lunch was served and a social hour was enjoyed.

Mrs. F. Cornish Hostess For Christmas Meeting

Little Britain (PNS) -- The Christmas meeting of the Christian Baptist church Ladies Aid was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Cornish with 14 members and visitors in attendance.

The meeting opened by singing a hymn, followed with prayer by Mrs Milton Irwin. The Scripture lesson found in Luke was read by Mrs Walter Chidley and was followed by a reading entitled "Don't Leave Him out of Christmas" contributed by Mrs. Cornish. Mrs. D. R. Hall thanked the members with a much appreciated selection "O Come, All Ye Faithful" on her accordion, followed by prayer and serving. "O Little Town of Bethelhem," by Mrs. C. L. Hall.

The president, Mrs. Milton Irwin, presided for the business period. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Frank Cornish, and approved as correct and the treasurer's report, which was given by Mrs. Stanley Beach, showed a satisfactory bank balance. These reports were followed by the annual exchange of Christmas gifts and the opening of the birthday bank.

The meeting concluded by singing a hymn and prayer by Mrs Dorey Kimble, after which a dainty lunch was served by the committee in charge and a social half hour enjoyed over the tea cups. The next monthly meeting of the Ladies Aid in January, the annual election of officers will be held.

Bethany W.I. Features Good Holiday Program

Bethany (PNS) -Mrs. J. G. Cumisky entertained the members of the Bethany W. I. for their Christmas meeting with Mrs. T. Jennings presiding.

Following the singing of the Institute Ode and repeating the Mary Stewart Collect and the Lord's Prayer, Christmas carols were sung. The roll call was answered with "A Gift for a Korean Child" in place of the usual exchange of gifts among the members. It was also decided to send a gift of $5.00 to the Sick Children's Hospital in Toronto. Several gifts to the new kitchen in the Town Hall were acknowledged and the secretary was asked to write several firms for price lists with a view to purchasing additional dishes.

The program was in charge of Mrs H. F. Rayson who distributed leaflets which covered a discussion of current misconceptions regarding mental illness, probably the least understood of all human ailments. "Spreading the truth about mental illness and securing better services to maintain good mental health, is a job for every intelligent citizen. You can contribute to do this job by becoming active in your community by increasing your knowledge of services available and by assisting people who have been ill to regain their place in your community" Mrs. Rayson also described "What To Do For A Sick Patient" written by a medical doctor. Mrs. Charles Reynolds gave a reading "Christmas Discard" A contest on Christmas carols was won by Mrs. R. Carr; a second bean guessing contest was won by Mrs. T. S. Gault and Mrs. T J Jackson won the lucky chair prize

After singing the National Anthem, the ladies enjoyed a social hour, with lunch served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Preston Reid and Mrs. Charles Reynolds. An invitation from Mrs T. S. Gault to hold the January meeting at her home was accepted.

Surprise Move

A surprise diplomatic move by Prime Minister Churchill has touched off excited speculation in London.

Authoritative sources have disclosed that Churchill invited the Soviet Ambassador, Jacob Malik, to a luncheon conference at Churchill's country estate in Chequers. It's believed the primary item for discussion was President Eisenhower's proposal for talks leading to a world pool of atomic resources for peaceful purposes.

Other items might have included the proposed Big Four Foreign Ministers Conference, and, perhaps, a meeting of the Big Four Chiefs of State.

glad when they have sufficient to eat and money to buy clothes. Therefore Christmas is exclusively the commemoration of Christ's birth in the stable in Bethlehem which means joy for them. The older people especially still remember the time, that they were heathens fearing the evil spirits who were always ready to do harm and mischief and in celebrating Christmas they express their joy that everything is different now."

In Germany

Dark haired Ingrid Rajski tells us how Christmas is celebrated in Germany:

"Santa Claus or Nicolaus as he is called in Germany visits all the the German homes on December 6th 21st bringing with him candy, nuts and other good things to eat. Nicolaus enters by the front door and rides in a sleigh pulled by donkeys.

The Christchild places the presents under the tree at a time when no one sees him. On Christmas eve the tree is lit and the delighted children discover their presents and open them.

Three big dinners are served during Christmas, which lasts two days December 25 and December 26. Features of these dinners is big cookies made in a Santa Claus mold.

The Last Day

On Tuesday, the last day of school, an assembly was held during the afternoon and the students dismissed early. The Christmas Dance is held that same evening.

To all the readers of this column, students and parents, "A very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year."

32-Degree Mercury Skid

The temperature in Lindsay fell from a maximum on Tuesday of 37 degrees, said the Lindsay Weather Office, to 26 degrees at 6.00 p.m. and a low for the night of 5 degrees above zero.

The office says that at 8.00 a.m. today it was but one degree above the night's low, 6 degrees above. At 1.45 p.m. the temperature here had risen to 11 above.

Notable Gains Are Reported By Bank

Notable gains in all departments of the bank's business are revealed in the annual statement of The Royal Bank of Canada issued Tuesday, new high records in the field of Canadian banking having been achieved under several significant headings, covering the twelve month period ending November 30th, the balance sheet shows assets of $3,895,856,189 a new high point for Canadian banks and an increase of $204,399,315 over the previous year's total. Deposits are also substantially higher and total loans for the first time have passed the billion-dollar-mark, the bank reports.

The bank statement also revealed that profits for the year are higher, permitting a further transfer of $3,000,000 to the Reserve Fund. This, the bank points out, is the fourth consecutive year in which transfers have been made. The total Reserve Fund now stands at $70,000,000, an increase of $15,000,000 over a year ago.

The Royal Bank of Canada maintains a branch at Lindsay, which is managed by Mr. W. M. L. Lyons.

$50,000 Fire At Markham

Markham, Dec.23--(BUP)--Dairy Farmer Howard LaRose estimated the damage at 50 thousand dollars from a fire which ripped through his barn, killed 41 cattle and destroyed tons of feed.

LaRose, who operates one of the largest dairy farms in the Markham district, was at a Christmas concert with his family when the fire broke out last night.

A neighbour who saw flames from the barn turned in the alarm, and more than 300 volunteers joined firemen from Unionville and Markham in a three hour battle to keep the fire from spreading to the house.

Forty pigs, three head of cattle, a tractor and a plow were saved.

Second Appearance

A broker's clerk, Thomas Joseph Schreiber, has made his second appearance in court in Toronto on charges of murdering his friend, wife Norma.

Schreiber was remanded to December 30th.

His wife was a friend and working companion of kidnapped Marilyn McDowell. No trace of Miss McDowell has been found since she disappeared December sixth.

Airmen Abroad Will Celebrate Christmas In Traditional Style

Canadian Statesman, Bowmanville, Ontario: This country needs immediately twice as many producer-consumers as we have now. As it is, we are unable to develop our natural resources and to produce food, goods and services at costs low enough to sustain a strong economy in a world of economic reaction.

Correction

Recently an article appeared in The Post" in which a meeting of the British Foreign Bible society was reported. A report was given by the Pension Falls Bible Society. The figures that the Treasurer gave in his report of the year's receipts were in error. They should have read, "$1.35."

Beer Bottles Obscure View, Seriously Hurt

Kingston, Dec. 23--(BUP)--A Kingston man who crossed the street with a load of empty beer bottles obscuring his view was hit by a bus and seriously injured last night.

Stanley C. Boyle, a Kingston Penitentiary guard, is in hospital with a possible fractured skull and severe head and arm cuts.

Boyle was carrying a case of empty beer bottles on his shoulder to a Brewers' retail store, and couldn't see the Colonial Lines bus, driven by Edward Thomas of Perth.

Team Criticized, Re-identify It

Frank Power, sportswriter for "The Post" said today that Mr. C. Gerber, coach of the Lindsay Junior hockey team says that at a Tuesday night meeting the real story of this year's Port Perry Flyers Junior club was brought to light. Mr. Gerser says that the team will now be advertised as the Oshawa (Port Perry) Flyers.

This team has been criticized in newspapers in other centres for having gone under the name of Port Perry Flyers when actually other than one or two players, the team personnel were from Oshawa.

In any case, the team, Mr. Gerster says, will be now known as the Oshawa (Port Perry) Flyers.

Port Hoover School Christmas Concert

Zion-Mariposa (PNS) -The teacher Mrs. E. M. Hudgins, and pupils of Port Hoover School held a Christmas concert there with a good number present for the evening.

The concert opened with a welcome to the ladies and gentlemen by Eva Goodhand, Nancy Sweetman, and J. Johnson "You're Welcome", followed by a trio by the three girls "Merry Merry Christmas".

Further numbers on the program were: Song by Helen McLean and Gwen Stokes "Christmas in Killarney"; Waltz Quadrille by eight senior pupils, Singing game by the Juniors"; Group of Songs by (Junior) classes of the (Jolly) "Up in Santa Land", and School "Christmas Song"; A tribute to Canada, "Finest Flag". Piano duet by -Mary Goodhand and Gwen Stokes; Song by Nancy Sweetman. A dialogue "All for the Love of Larry"; Song by Helen McLean, Gwen Stokes "Brahms Lullaby"; "The Enchanted Candle". Pageant; reading by Ross McLeod, "All Hail to Santa"; Recitation by Tom Goodhand, "Here Comes Santa Claus".

With Santa's arrival the lovely tree was lightened of its gifts for all. The children were thrilled with Santa and their presents. The singing of the National Anthem closed another successful Christmas concept.

Silver Jubilee Lodge LOBA 1012 Elects Officers

Janetville (PNS) -- The annual business meeting and election of officers of Silver Jubilee LOBA No. 1012 was held in the Orange Hall with an average attendance.

The Worthy Mistress, Mrs. M. Wright, presided, and after the opening ceremonies a number of business items were dealt with.

Later the election of officers for 1954 took place with the following result: Worthy Mistress, Mrs. Ella Wright; Deputy Mistress, Miss Irene McGill; Junior Deputy Mistress, Mrs. Lila Walker; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Cora Johnston; Financial Secretary, Mrs. Rose Moxon; Treasurer, Mrs. Georgina Burn; Lecturer, Mrs. Elva McMullen; Director of Ceremonies, Mrs. Beatrice Muirhead; Inner Guard, Mrs. Etta Elson;; Standing Committee, Mrs. Etta Elson and Mrs. Rose Moxon. Auditors, Mrs. Olive English, Mrs. Rose Moxon and Mrs. Lila Walker. Pianist, Mrs. Jewell.

The newly-elected officers, after being installed, were heard in short addresses. Later, a delicious lunch was served and a social hour concluded a most enjoyable evening.

Beer Bottles Obscure View, Seriously Hurt

North Luffenham, England -- In this picturesque area of England where holly grows profusely along the hedgerows and stone fences, Canadians will spend Christmas in the traditional manner. Small Christmas trees will be on sale, and the Christmas day dinner will be turkey, goose, or chicken, just as it would be in Canada. Maybe the airmen, earlier in Canada, cottage, or government married quarters will be less decorated than homes in Canada, but there will be some red and green to give the Christmas scene its traditional colour.

Snow may be missing and the boys and girls will not likely skate on Christmas afternoon with their new skates or use their new skates or skis. But the true spirit of Christmas will be manifest among RCAF personnel in England. At North Luffenham in keeping with a precedent established early in the history of 1 Fighter Wing, various formations will stage for the Christmas season some charitable institution. For example, the Station Pipe Band will see to it that the children at the Oakham Centre for Crippled Children receive toys and a truly Canadian feast. No. 439 Squadron will adopt an orphanage as will 410 and 441 Squadrons. Last year some of the personnel on these units discovered to their dismay that certain common Canadian goods were strange to many of these homeless children. They won't make that mistake again this year, but the heart filling joy of giving unselfishly to the helpless or the homeless will again be experienced by many RCAF servicemen.

Canadians with the RCAF overseas will enjoy carol services, given by the children of day and Sunday schools, prior to Christmas day. On Christmas Eve Roman Catholics will be able to attend midnight Mass and Protestants to partake in Holy Communion in chapels on the station.

Many of the single personnel will visit relatives or go abroad. Others will accept invitations to spend Christmas with English families in the area, but most of them will stay on the station for the entire holiday. For them, the kitchen staff will rise early on Christmas day, prepare and place in the ovens some 75 turkeys weighing an average of 20 pounds each. Tables will be colorfully laid with extra food and special Christmas delicacies, and each man will have a cracker. When the airmen and airwomen sit down in their best uniform at 12.30 p.m. they will be served by officers and senior NCOs under the direction of G/C J. D. Somerville, DFC, DSO, of Toronto, the Commanding Officer of the station, and that an evening smorgasbord dinner will be served.

A Christmas party for the children of all 1 Fighter Wing personnel was held on Dec. 16. On December 19 the airmen and airwomen are presenting a variety show and on December 24 a live TV broadcast will originate at the RCAF base at North Luffenham. TV will again be a feature of entertainment on December 26 when a one-hour BBC variety programme will be televised.

So, in this country where so many Christmas customs originated, Canadians will eat a Christmas dinner much like Mr. Pickwick had at Dingley Dell. They will experience the warmth of giving to many "Tiny Tims", and they will enjoy the good fellowship of one other. -- RCAF News.

60% Vote At Millbrook

Millbrook -- Sixty per cent of the eligible voters went to the polls Friday to elect two councillors, three public school trustees, and two members to represent the west zone of the village on the newly-formed utilities commission.

Results were as follows:

Council (four elected) -- Gordon Trick 78, J. H. Raper 153, O. T. MacPherson 181, Ivan Gray 133, Weldon Coulter 131, Robert Ridge 71.

School board (three elected) -- Ed Nattress 165, Mrs. Anna Kennedy 126, James Latimer 120, Fred Lawery 118, J. T. Crowley 86.

Utilities Commission, east zone (acclamation) -- George Hamilton, Millbrook; west zone (two elected) -- Alec Gilbert 126, Russell Reid 123, Howard Lancashire 83.

Deputy-reeve George Harrington was elected by acclamation, replacing Dr. J. W. Wright, who withdrew his name from nomination after serving as reeve for 4½ years.

One of the largest slates of candidates in many years was run in Cavendish ward, the election featured close fights for last-place standing on council and the public school board, where losing candidates were nosed out by just two votes in each case.

NEWCOMER LEADS

Gordon Trick, who led the vote for council, is a newcomer to municipal politics, as is Robert Ridge, who trailed in the voting. Mr. Raper, who ran second, is a veteran of three years' experience. O. T. MacPherson had previously served two years and Ivan Gray one, while Weldon Coulter is dean of council with four years' experience.

Fred Lowery, who had been a member of the school board for 12 years, lost out by two votes in this year's election. Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Anna Kennedy, who stood first and second in the voting, have each had four years' experience as trustees. James Larmer, the other successful candidate, is a newcomer, as is J. T. Crowley, who stood last in the voting.

The school board will appoint one more member to their number, to replace the late Dr. Wright, who recently resigned with one year of his term not completed.

Although no commercial issues were raised during the campaign, interest in the election was keen, as was apparent at the nomination meeting, which was the most largely attended in a number of years. Reeve Chauncey Hall presided and acted a community rally in the town hall on the eve of the election, when all the candidates were given an opportunity to speak.

Village Clerk T. W. Belch acted as returning officer.

Annual Banquet Held at Dunsford By Junior Farmers

The Kawartha Jr. Farmers held their December meeting in the North Emily Hall.

The meeting opened with a singsong. Mr. John Steele, the Assistant agricultural representative, was present and showed slides on choosing and buying a farm.

Mr. Steele also presided for the election of officers for the coming year. They are as follows -president Bill Mahood; vice-president Harold Beatty; Secretary Treasurer-Gerin Cornell; Corresponding Secretary -Audrey Patterson; press reporters -Martha Courtney, Aileen Beatty; directors -Morley Thurston Colin Bullock, Robert Robertson, Margaret Chatten.

Bill Mahood and Glen Cornell were appointed to see about arranging for a meeting place in Lindsay. Plans were made for the banquet to be held at Dunsford. Several games were played and lunch by all followed by lunch. The evening came to a close with the singing of the National Anthem.

The Kawartha Jr. Farmers held their second annual banquet in the United Church hall in Dunsford. About 60 sat down to a turkey dinner served by the ladies of the church.

The chairman for the evening was Bill Mahood. He called on Mr. John Steele to introduce the guest speaker, Mr. Ralph Banbury, from Brighton. Mr. Banbury told about his recent trip to the Chicago Exposition and related many humorous incidents.

Mr. Norman Watson led in a sing-song and also rendered several vocal solos accompanied by Miss K. Smith. Miss Donna Brndt played on her accordion.

A very successfull banquet came to a close by singing "O Canada,"

Slate Of Officers Presented At W.M.S. Meeting

Haliburton (PNS) -- The W.M.S. held their December meeting at the home of Mrs. Melville McKnight.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. McKnight. Mrs. T. Chambers conducted the worship service and was assisted by several members. A few Christmas carols were sung following the offering amounting to $4.00 also one thank-offering.

The treasurer's report showed $80.00 had been sent to the Presbyterial treasurer and $45.00 on hand making up a total of $125 which was the allocation for 1953. A bale of clothing was again discussed and it was decided to have it taken to the church on December 13 and presented along with the Sunday School gifts.

The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. T. Rutherford. Worship service will be taken by Mrs. Walter Kellett, study book by Miss Jane Minott. Hostesses will be Mrs Maude Hall and Mrs. Chester Kellett.

Mrs. Russell Johnston and Mrs. Wesley Baker brought in a skit -of four Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Cole were as follows: president, Mrs. Mel McKnight; first vice-president, Mrs. Walter Kellett; second vice-president, Mrs. T. Rutherford; secretary, Mrs. George Wheeler; treasurer, Mrs. T. Chambers; community extension secretary, Mrs. Wes. Baker; Missionary Monthly, Mrs. Russell Johnston; secretary of Christian stewardship, Mrs. Earl Windsor; secretary for temperance, Mrs. Norman Roberts; supply secretary, Mrs. Howard Black; Maple Band, Miss Bonnie Lee; Baby Band leader, Mrs. Montrose Pearsall.

The roll call was given, bringing the meeting to a close with the Mizpah benediction repeated in unison. A social time was enjoyed followed by a lunch.

Plane Refurbished For St. Laurent's 1954 Global Tour

Montreal Dec. 21 --(BUP)-- It will be comfort rather than class for Prime Minister St. Laurent when he boards the RCAF's famed C-5 transport plane early next year on a good-will tour of the globe.

The C-5, now undergoing an overhaul at Canadair's giant plant is no luxury liner like President Eisenhower's "Columbine" or other planes flown by the "continent's leading industrialists.

"But the C-5 is dependable and comfortable", a Canadair spokesman said. "The Prime Minister should have a fine trip in it."

The silver plane has logged 1,500 hours, performing such varied duties as flying Governor-General Vanier and the Duke of Edinburgh during their Canadian tour; Trade and Commerce Minister C. D. Howe and his party on their goodwill trip to South America, Mexico and Cuba; and several VIP trips around for the Canadian government. It also has been used on long navigation training flights by the RCAF.

The plane is unique, having the body of a C-4 North Star with the more powerful engines and larger tail section of the C-8. It can cruise at a speed of 300 m.p.h. Pressurized cabins permit it to fly at high altitudes and avoid storms.

Carpenters and electricians have been working overtime on the luxury furnishings and divisions for the past three months.

The Prime Minister's compartment is in the midsection and contains a desk and chair and two sofas which can be turned into comfortable beds.

There is also a panel of instruments showing the speed, altitude and temperature of the plane at all times. A telephone connects him to the pilot and steward.

The crew room is near the cockpit. Four soft chairs that can be made into beds are in this room. Another compartment, further along the plane has 16 seats which can be made into four beds.

The plane has also a well-equipped kitchen and a projection room near the tail. In the back of the projection room there is a semi-circular sofa and two tables for conferences.

There are six emergency exits, two of them in the Prime Minister's compartment.

The body of the plane is almost 94 feet long. It has a wing span of 117½ feet.

A new radio will allow the crew to transmit and receive messages on all frequencies all over the world.

The big plane will be handled by a special crew from RCAF 412 Squadron.

But the greatest blessing for which Canadians should give thanks is he blessing of living and working in a free country. Innisfail, Alta. Province.

Mrs. John Lytle Hostess For Yuletide Meeting

The Islay-Zion Institute held their Christmas meeting at the home of Mrs. John Lytle, Islay. The attendance was as large as usual, owing no doubt, to the colds and flu around at this time of the year.

The meeting opened with the opening ode followed by The Lord's Prayer and Mary Stewart Collect, Institute motto and Call. "Your favorite Carol" was answered by most of the members and because so many selected "Silent Night" it was sung as community singing after the Roll Call.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary and a very satisfactory treasurer's report was given. A Christmas paper was read by Mrs. Ellen Copp, stressing the "true meaning of Christmas as the anniversary of the Birth of Christ, instead of making the time and pageantry the outstanding event."

Correspondence was read an item being a letter from Mr. Parks of the Mental Hospital, stating the appreciation of gifts sent but this branch had already sent their donation.

A letter from Miss Noble, the Junior Club leader, was read asking the Institute to co-operate with the club and their leaders, and help them in every way possible to make the club a success. The leaders of the club, Mrs. James Hartle and Mrs. E. Russell, reported on the club work and mentioned ways in which they could be assisted by the larger organization. A number of cards and letters were received from sick and shut-ins, acknowledging gifts of fruit and cards received.

A plan for a donation for the local Ross Memorial Hospital was discussed and a committee consisting of Mr. Black and Mrs. Goudie Laurenson were asked to contact the superintendent and find what was needed. A donation for the Toronto Sick Children's Hospital was sanctioned.

The programme committee took charge. Some readings were sent by Mrs E. McLean, who on account of illness was unable to attend. Mrs. W. Black read one of the numbers. Mrs. James Hartle read the story of how Martin Luther composed "Away in a Manger", for a young boy four year old. This song was sung as community singing with Mrs. Goudie Laurenson playing the accompaniment. Mrs. Lena Rutford read "A Christmas Dream", and a reading, a contest on "Christmas Cake", (finding the most words

Christmas Party Convened By Iris Patrol

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -- The Iris Patrol was responsible for all arrangements at the Guides Christmas party which was held in the public school auditorium. The party opened with a sing-song of familiar Christmas Carols and several original Christmas games and contests were played. The prizes were awarded to winning patrols and the whole evening was well planned and enthusiastically carried out.

An exchange of gifts was held and, as a gesture of good will, each guide had brought a nicely wrapped gift of food to be part of a Christmas basket for a needy family.

The Iris Patrol -- Glenna Sloan, Dianne Jones, Norma June Maidens, Lois Webster, Elizabeth Lawrance and Glenna McNevan -- prepared and served a dainty lunch. All the Guides reported that it was a "grand party."

Correspondence was read an item being a letter from Mr. Parks of the Mental Hospital, stating the appreciation of gifts sent but this branch had already sent their donation.

A letter from Miss Noble, the Junior Club leader, was read asking the Institute to co-operate with the club and their leaders, and help them in every way possible to make the club a success. The leaders of the club, Mrs. James Hartle and Mrs. E. Russell, reported on the club work and mentioned ways in which they could be assisted by the larger organization. A number of cards and letters were received from sick and shut-ins, acknowledging gifts of fruit and cards received.

A plan for a donation for the local Ross Memorial Hospital was discussed and a committee consisting of Mr. Black and Mrs. Goudie Laurenson were asked to contact the superintendent and find what was needed. A donation for the Toronto Sick Children's Hospital was sanctioned.

The programme committee took charge. Some readings were sent by Mrs E. McLean, who on account of illness was unable to attend. Mrs. W. Black read one of the numbers. Mrs. James Hartle read the story of how Martin Luther composed "Away in a Manger", for a young boy four year old. This song was sung as community singing with Mrs. Goudie Laurenson playing the accompaniment. Mrs. Lena Rutford read "A Christmas Dream", and a reading, a contest on "Christmas Cake", (finding the most words

Hi Neighbour . . . .
Did you know that there used to be approx. 22 laboratories in the U. S. A. experimenting with (which I believe is the worst trouble among poultry) LEUCOSIS. To-day there are two labs. still experimenting. Why, because all the others gave up hopelessly proving nothing, and still we have people going around telling our good customers the trouble is in the chicks. Now I ask you, is that common sense? I say this on behalf of Henderson's Hatchery and I am sure all local hatcheries will agree. If you will drive this, then write to C.A.C., Guelph Poultry Lab., Connaught Labs in Toronto, or any recognized lab in the States or U. S. A. and ask them for the exact cause of Leucosis. I will give you the next two years supply of chicks FREE if you can prove to me "exact cause". No substitutes accepted such as "do this" or "try that", the most likely answer you will receive is "no definite cause known and no known cure."
However, there is a means of control by which you can keep this disease down to a minimum — Buy Henderson's Chicks this year and ask for a copy of "How To Keep Disease Down To A Minimum". Follow it closely and see how much better your chicks are next Fall.

Much Business At Manilla W.I. Christmas Meet

Manilla (PNS) -The Christmas meeting of Manilla W. I. was held in the Community Hall with a smaller attendance than is usual due to the many members and the inclement weather.

Mrs. Lorne Keeler, 1st vice-president, was in charge of the meeting which opened with the Institute Ode, Mary Stewart Collect and the Lord's Prayer. The roll call was answered by "My Favorite Carol".

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. M. Philp, and approved. The treasurer's report showed a substantial balance on hand and current bills to be supplied. The refreshment booth were moved to be paid. Correspondence included a delightful letter of thanks for a parcel sent from Manilla W. I.'s pen friend, Hever W. I. in England describing the charming scenery and places of historic interest in Somerset county, where one of Manilla's members, Mrs. F. Bryan, was raised; a letter from Miss Anna P. Lewis, superintendent of the W. I. for Ontario brought numerous pamphlets to be sent attention; thanks for the recent donation of $10 to the Canadian Mental Health Association was received with literature to be distributed; a "thank-you" note was received from Mrs. Harvey Wilson, president of Manilla W. I. for kindnesses during her recent illness; an appeal from the Hospital for Sick Children was responded to with a donation of $10 Mrs. A. Dixon volunteered to review the current number of Federated News at the meeting and the Jan. lunch committee will be Mrs. R. Wood, Mrs. A. Keeler and Mrs. O. Lawton.

The annual award of Library memberships to school children will be on the basis of neatness in schoolwork by a pupil. Miss Jean Murray wishes a petition sent to Minister of Highways re lack of sidewalks along new highway in the village.

The Christmas program was in charge of Mrs. Barry Hamill and opened with members singing a Christmas carol, with Mrs. C. Stevenson at the piano. A charming Christmas reading, "Christmas Yet To Come" by Enid Chapman, was given by Mrs. Lorne Keeler followed by a carol. An interesting jumbled Christmas entertainment from "Dickens's Christmas Carol" was won by Mrs. A. Dixon. A reading "At Grandmother's" was given by Mrs. Hamill brought back memories of a good old-fashioned Christmas in the country. The program concluded with a poem by Mrs. A. Dixon "How Far is it to Bethlehem?"

The meeting was reminder of the National Anthem, lunch was served and a social time enjoyed.

Slate Of Officers Presented At Mission Circle

Little Britain (PNS) -The Christmas meeting of the Little Britain Mission Circle was held in the hall and held in the school room of the church with an average attendance of members and with the president Mrs. Gifford Webster, presiding.

The room was very gaily-decorated with two Christmas trees illuminated with lights, poinsettas and holly in a silver basket centred on the table. The meeting opened with the singing of favourite Christmas carols with all joining in, after which the secretary, Miss Irene Beacock, read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were adopted. Treasurers report was approved as read.

The Nominating Committee were asked for their report and the following are the officers for the ensuing year, Hon. President -Mrs. Stuart Childley; president -Mrs. Gifford Webster; 1st vice-president -Mrs. Henry Mark; 2nd vice-president -Mrs. James McDonnell; Secretary -Miss Nel Lekx; treasurer -Mrs. Fred Howe; supply secretary -Mrs. Ralph Willert; corresponding secretary -Mrs. Lewis McTaggart; Literature secretary -Mrs. Fred Palmer; Christian stewardship secretary -Mrs. M. Griggs; pianist -Mrs. C. C. Gould; assistant pianist -Mrs. Mark Cornell; press reporter -Mrs. Harold Mason.

The worship period was in charge of Miss N. Lekx, and her group taking as their theme "and the Lord became flesh and dwelt among us" and we beheld his glory as of the only begotten son of the Father". The lesson was read by Mrs. R. Willert, a duet rendered in Holland and it was enjoyed by all.

Miss Yvonne Atkinson favoured with a piano solo, Carol accompanied by Mrs. C. C. Gauld at the piano. All the members and visitors present formed a circle and after the Christmas gifts had been exchanged, several contests and games were enjoyed.

The group in charge served a dainty lunch and Mrs. Fred Palmer moved a vote of thanks to the group for their services in the making the meeting such a splendid success.

Euchre And Dance Sponsored By Hockey Club

Little Britain (PNS) -The annual euchre, dance and Christmas draw of five turkeys, five geese and 10 capons, which was held under the auspices of the Little Britain Hockey Club in the Community Hall was exceptionally well attended, considering inclement weather and road conditions.

The first portion of the evening was enjoyed in playing progressive euchre, when 11 tables, in charge of Messrs. Melville Mosse, and Bill Smart, were in progress. The prize winners were Mr. L. Kennedy, of Little Britain, and Mrs. Arthur Hill, of Pingerborard. The winners in the draw for turkeys were as follows: E. Bell; Bill Flyn; Lindsay; Allan Trew, Woodville: C. Cooke, Valentia; and Charles Rooks, of Little Britain. For geese -Maurice Mitchell, Lindsay; John R. Clarkson, Oakwood, and Donald Wakeford, Fred Wallis and Gordon Maxwell, of Little Britain. McPhail, Kirkfield, and Malcolm Brady and J. Gordon Mitchell. A ham as the door prize was won by Mr. Ernest Moore, of Little Britain, and substantial prizes were also presented to the winners in euchre.

The euchre and draws for the fowl were followed by a dance with Gordon Sharpe's orchestra, of Lindsay, providing the music.

The ediite proceeds for the evening, in aid of the Hockey Club were very encouraging and gratifying.

Christmas Meeting Held At Home Of Mrs. W. Hayes

Cambray (PNS) -- The W.I. held their regular Christmas meeting at the home of Mrs. Wm. Hayes with an attendance of 19. The home was beautifully decorated for the festive season. The meeting opened by singing the Institute Ode, followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison and repeating the Mary Stewart Collect.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Harry Montgomery, and approved. The meeting was in charge of the program, Mrs. Grant Barker. It was agreed to send a donation of $10 to the Hospital for Sick Children. Mrs. Barker read and parcels of treats to the shut-ins in the community numbering 18 and members to donate fruit, candy cookies or cake to assist in making up the boxes. Mrs. Wm. Hayes, Mrs. J. A. Richardson and Mrs. Harry Montgomery was the committee appointed to fulfil this mission.

A chicken supper for the community was decided and left over for the next meeting. Roll call was answered with "What you wanted for Christmas." Those included a good health for Christmas, host and even a ton of coal. The next roll call is to be answered by "How you met your husband."

The meeting was turned over to the program convenors Mrs. Jos. Daniels. Christmas carols were enjoyed and readings by Mrs. Geo. Bagshaw "Poppie Carol", Mrs. Jos. Daniels "That Old Blue Jay", Mrs. Ray Daniels "A Child's Prayer," and Mrs. J. A. McEachern, "Cal Dead, So Was The Party, Doctor's Stomach Pump Helps."

The meeting closed by the singing of the National Anthem and a dainty lunch and hot cup of tea was enjoyed. Christmas gifts were exchanged.

Resolution Re Means Test To Be Sent Government

Omemee (PNS) -Christmas meeting of the Omemee W. I. was held in the Legion Hall with Mrs. J. Stone as hostess.

Mrs. D. Hicks, the president, opened the meeting with a poem, Roll Call was answered by an exchange of greetings. Mrs. Hayes and Mrs. Stone were appointed a committee to purchase a present for Mrs. Nichols, an honorary member. A donation of $5 was sent to the Hospital for Sick Children. Mrs. Hayes, Mrs. Rutherford and Mrs. J. Mason were appointed convenors for a card party to be held soon.

Mrs Stone gave a paper regarding the holding of two sessions for returned men who at present are not eligible unless incapacitated before 30, and a resolution to this effect was ordered drafted and sent to the Dominion Government.

Mrs. Hayes gave a reading, "Letter to Virginia", Mrs. Stone conducted a bean guessing contest with Mrs. Gendron, Mrs. Hicks, Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Henry guessing the nearest correct respectively. Annual Christmas exchange of gifts was a feature of this meeting.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Stone, Mrs. Victor Henry and Mrs. Hayes.

The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James Brooks.

WEDDING
Lee—Liscombe

Coboconk (PNS) - A pretty wedding was solemnized in Coboconk Apostolic Church on Saturday, December 12th, when Doran Edward Lee, son of Mr. Edith Lee and the late Mr. Lee, and Mavis Patricia Liscombe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Liscombe, of Willsdorfe were united in holy matrimony. Rev. F. Brecht officiated in the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by Mr. Rod Cameron, the bride looked lovely in a navy gabardine suit with pink accessories. She wore a corsage of baby 'mums and pink roses and carried a white Bible.

Her only attendant, Miss June Lee, sister of the groom was dressed in a grey suit with navy accessories and wore a corsage of baby 'mums and red roses.

Adrian Lee, brother of the groom was best man. A late bouquet of pastel 'mums decorated the church.

For the reception, at Norland Community Hall, the groom's mother chose a grey crepe dress and black accessories and wore a corsage of red carnations and baby 'mums.

The happy couple left for a trip to Toronto and other points. On their return they will reside on "Lee Farm". Two sisters of the bride were present from Wilberforce. Other guests were present from Toronto and Brantford.

Farm Forum News

Mrs. Brokenshire Heads Discussion

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -Twenty-one members were present at the regular meeting of the Cameron Point Farm Forum. The discussion on the topic "Business of Tomorrow" was led by Mrs. Oscar Brokenshire.

First Question -"Do you think 4-H clubs and other youth programs in your province have been successful in producing community and farm organization leaders?" Answer -"Yes, but there were too many leaders leaving the group after graduating from 4-H clubs and not enough continuing with the Junior Farmers' Clubs".

Second Question -"Some people say that if a young man is a good farmer he is making sufficient contribution to the community without taking part in farm or other community organizations. What is your opinion?" Answer -"All agreed that a good farmer should take an active part in his community; because his knowledge and the success of his farm should be passed on for the betterment of the community".

On the third question -"How can the interest of young people be developed in such problems as Canadian public affairs and international relations? It was agreed that this should be taught as soon as they are old enough to understand by the schools which should develop wider scope of our present day civic affairs. Interests could also be aroused by debates and mock boys' parliaments".

The hostesses were Mrs. Bruce Oliver and Mrs. Wm. Pearn.

Catherine Lucas

On Friday, December 4th, Mrs. Catherine Lucas passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Albert O'Neill, on the Downeyville line. Catherine Scully, wife of the late John C. Lucas, of Downeyville, and was in her 80th year.

Mrs. Lucas is survived by her daughters, Mrs. Wm. Lynch, of Ops; and Mrs. Albert O'Neill, of Downeyville; also five sons, Charles, of Oshawa; James, of Downeyville, and Dr. Stan. Leslie and Joseph, of Oshawa. Two brothers also survive -- John Scully, of Downeyville, and Wm. B. Scully, of Akron, Ohio. A daughter, Gertrude (Sr. John Perdue), predeceased her two and a half years ago. Mrs. Lucas had 37 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Lucas was a staunch member of St. Luke's Church Altar Society, Catholic Women's League and Sacred Heart League. The many Mass offerings and beautiful floral tributes showed the high esteem in which she was held.

The funeral was held Monday, December 7th, from Albert O'Neill's to St. Luke's Church where Requiem Mass was sung by Rev. Father Coffey, with Rev. Father Fitzpatrick of Lindsay, and Rev. Father Lynch, of Ennismore, in the Sanctuary. Interment was made in St. Mary's Cemetery.

The pallbearers were six grandsons -- George and John, Lucas, of Downeyville; Jack and Duanne Lucas, of Detroit, Mich., Clifford Lucas, of Oshawa, and John Lynch, of Ops.

ANCIENT RELIGION

Principal religions in Ceylon is Buddhism, introduced from India in the third century BC.

Mission Circle Hears Talk By Mrs. Powers

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -The Mission Circle of Fenelon Falls Baptist Church met at the home of Miss F. M. Neale for their December meeting. Mrs. Clifford Martin presided, with Mrs. N. Watson at the piano. Mrs. F. M. Powles read the Scripture lesson, verses 1-26 of the second chapter of Luke's Gospel and Mrs. F. E. Gray led in prayer.

Mrs. Powers of Lindsay, as the guest speaker entitled her wonderful Christmas talk "Ivy Hears", using as a basis part of the seventh verse of the second chapter of Luke - "because there was no room for them in the inn". A message in song was brought by Mrs. Ray Naylor, "Who can cheer the heart like Jesus" She was accompanied by Mrs. Watson at the piano. A session of prayer followed.

During the business period plans were made to send Christmas boxes to sick and shut-ins. Two quilts are ready to be sent, one to Mrs. Orr, and Mrs. Harper in Africa and one to a missionary in Quebec. Following the singing of a hymn, Mrs. Martin closed with the prayer.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess and an hour of happy fellowship enjoyed.

Cantata Presented At Seagrave

Seagrave (PNS) - The Christmas Cantata, "Worship at the Manger", was presented in the church on Sunday evening.

Miss Willows acted as Narrator and directed the scene. The story, which started with prophecies of Isaiah, went on to the scenes as we met the women at the well, the children; the manger and the shepherds and closed with all worshiping at the manger. The whole was interspersed with music by the choir and solos. The costumes were suitable, many very lovely and the lighting effects added greatly to the worshipful atmosphere.

Valedictory Given By Marian Lane

Gifts were presented on behalf of the school by the Literary Society President, Miss Marian Lane to Mr. Cooper, Miss Goldring, Mr. Atkinson, and Mr. and Mrs. Goard.

Reversal of the boys put on a demonstration of the modern economics. The choir followed with the singing of two numbers "Lone Beach Sea" and "Early One Morning". A quartette, Misses Nancy McKague and Muriel Veale, and Messrs. Allan Goard, George Gramer sang "The Lure of Tralee". A play, "High School Days" was given by Misses Marian Benson, Muriel Veale, Carol Drew, Flora Nicholls, Marian Drew, Kenneth McKague and Jimmy Canning. The choir sang "Palan Tidings" and "Heavenly Concord".

The program closed with the National Anthem Dancing following and with Sharpe's Orchestra in attendance.

Home Town News

Sunderland

A very beautiful December wedding took place in Sunderland United Church on Saturday. The church was filled to capacity as the many guests, friends and neighbours gathered to witness the impressive ceremony, wherein Dorothy Norquay, of Sunderland, became the charming bride of Wilmot Sargint.

There was a large attendance at the Special Christmas Service at the Sunderland United Church on Sunday evening, when carol singing was a special feature with splendid Yuletide music by the choir.

Dr. and Mrs. W.I. Taylor and daughter, Cynthia, were recent guests in Blackwater with Mr. and Mrs. John Brohaugh.

Mrs. Edgar Snoddon and Miss Mary were Monday shoppers in Lindsay.

Mrs. Carter is a Silver Cross Mother but was unable to be present owing to illness in her home. The meeting closed with the Benediction and lunch.

Special Recipe For Christmas Is Explained By New Canadian

Svetlana Gouzenko is a comparatively new Canadian . . . but she's a Canadian nevertheless . . . and she and her husband took a long, dangerous chance to gain their citizenship. Today's recipe, which we will give you her own recipe for a favorite Christmas dessert . . . apricot almond cream.

Her life is strange in some respects . . . because she and her family live constantly guarded by a Canadian Provincial Mounted Police constable. That's through the fear of retribution from the forces they deserted to become Canadians and live in a free country.

Igor Gouzenko was a cipher clerk at the Russian Embassy in Ottawa . . . and in 1946 made the sensational exposes of Soviet espionage which was going on in this country. He left the Embassy with valuable documents . . . which were all turned over to our authorities.

Out of gratitude for his service to the country . . . the Canadian government has supplied him with a guard . . . and with a new name, a new identity . . . and new contacts.

We can't tell you what Svetlana Gouzenko looks like now . . . but a few officials know that. We can't tell you what name she uses now . . . nobody knows that, either. We can tell you she lives in . . . the Gouzenko home is somewhere in Ontario.

From her writing . . . the former Russian woman is a sensitive, kind person. She's very intelligent, and adapts herself quickly to a new way of life. She, too, felt the difference of small matters of judgment . . . for instance the difference of choosing a new home. She found herself notes that the one they chose at first soon seemed "out of place" . . . and not just right. Mrs. Gouzenko realized that after a few months in Canada, her whole outlook and taste were undergoing a change.

The picnic tables along Canadian roads really amazed Madame Gouzenko when she first drove along our highways. There they were . . . she says . . . free for anyone to enjoy without placards demanding gratitude to the government that provided them.

Our traditional holidays . . . such as Christmas and Easter, Madame Gouzenko feels . . . do much toward making her children into kind and loving people with good hearts. In Russia, she says, children have to fight for their very existence . . . it makes them bitter, pugnacious and cruel.

She also loves our Canadian magazines . . . where she says she finds many wonderful ideas which she quite often adopts. The ideas are presented as helpful suggestions . . . you can take them or leave them.

Madame Gouzenko loves her peaceful life in Canada. They have mastered the language, have acquired friends and acquaintances and have gradually entered the circle of their community.

She says she especially likes the way Canadians never smile when foreigners make mistakes in English . . . or distort the language. They keep a straight face . . . she says . . . in order not to discourage the beginner.

At present, her husband has just finished his second book . . . entitled "Full of a Titan." His first, "I Chose Freedom" was written under hurried circumstances . . . but with this one he has been able to take his time . . . and he shows a very fine literary ability. It will be published by Messrs. Cassell and Company of London, England, during the spring of 1954 . . . and it will be published simultaneously in Canada through Cassell and company Limited of Toronto.

In a special letter to British United Press, Svetlana Gouzenko says that Russians now are not able to enjoy Christmas dinners such as they had before the revolution. Now they eat only what they can find. And no special recipes are needed for boiled potatoes.

Mrs. Gouzenko recalls that in Russia before the revolution they used to have a Christmas dinner consisting first of appetizers . . . caviar canapes with minced raw onion, crab meat canapes, marinated mushrooms and lobsters.

Next Borsch or court bouillon was served . . . and then came either hot or cold fish and marinated apples.

The main courses were roast goose stuffed with apples prunes and nuts; cold roast suckling pig with horseradish and marinated apples, and cold jellied ham or veal.

For dessert the pudding was served . . . and then a savoury of lobster.

And now, in Canada, the Gouzenkos have made a few changes in this menu. They're planning on a Christmas dinner starting off with caviar canapes, and crab meat or other sea-food canapes . . . as well as cheese and bacon and olive canapes.

Then consomme Julienne with carrot, green onion and celery cut into shreds will be served along with bread sticks.

The main course will be roast turkey with chestnut stuffing, giblet sauce, cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, brussels sprouts, tomatoes stuffed with crushed pineapple with nuts and mayonnaise, and jellied salads.

For dessert, Svetlana Gouzenko will serve apricot almond cream . . . and plum pudding with hard sauce.

And right here is Mrs. Gouzenko's own recipe for the apricot almond cream. Chill apricot halves, prunes, maraschino cherries, walnuts and pour half cup of sherry over them. Whip up some cream with one cup of sugar and some vanilla. Pour this over the fruits and sprinkle with slivers of fried almonds.

It's the recipe from a new Canadian . . . Svetlana Gouzenko . . . who also chose freedom

Lindsay Juniors Leads Into Third But Port Perry Gain Final Edge 7-6

Lindsay Juniors led Port Perry by two goals, well into the third period last night before the Motor City crew got rolling and edged the locals 7-6.

Displaying the most drive and hustle seen on local ice recently, the Juniors outplayed and disorganized the Flyers through the first period and set up a two-goal lead. On the play, the Juniors deserved two or three more goals, but Hawe after fanning on Crawford's centre ice bouncer, settled down to turn Lindsay back on many sure rushes. During the first period, Gen. Kemp in the Lindsay net had scarcely half a dozen shots to handle.

The game was a thriller throughout with both goalies coming up with spectacular saves. During the first two periods, Hawe was swamped with shots at times. During this middle session Lindsay matched Port Perry with a pair of goals each and a two-goal lead going into the third period.

In the final session the Flyers' passing plays started to click eventually to the tune of five goals to Lindsay's two. The Flyers tied the game at five-all by mid-period and went one up at the fifteen-minute mark. Tommy Hutton put Lindsay back in the game with an unassisted goal at 17.30 and Lindsay carried the play in an attempt to rescue the win.

Finally, with less than two minutes to go, O'Connor and Fisher broke away and scored what proved to be the winning goal. During the final half-minute of play, when Johnson was serving a minor penalty for having seven men on the ice the Flyers net and goalie were almost hidden by the blue and gold Juniors swarming around the cage. How the plucky goalie kept the puck out is still unknown. Tom Hutton was awarded a penalty shot early in the game but Hawe beat him.

Tim Crawford opened the scoring when he bounced a long shot from centre ice to set up another ganging attack and much to everyone's surprise, the puck bounced over Hawe's stick into the net at 5.10. Six minutes later, Gronden and Graham tested Hawe from close in and Danny Pearson slapped the puck and the goalie's stick over the line before he could clear. Bob Growden had the Flyers worried at the 17-minute mark when he bounced a shot from the blue line and raced in to slap his rebound which Hawe barely blocked.

The Flyers top marksman O'Connor tallied for Port Perry at 6.07 on a screened shot that was well-placed. Johnson was penalized for high sticking at 7.37 and, twelve seconds later, Connie O'Neill centred to Truax who laid a pass to Hutton on the open corner to again go two up.

Jack Graham put Lindsay three ahead at 11.46 when he crossed the blue line with Pearson and Growden as decoys and sliced a backhand drive between Hawe and the post from ten feet out. O'Connor got that one back 30 seconds later, when Johnson passed out from the corner. Later in the period, Lindsay again turned on the pressure and Hawe kicked out six shots in quick succession. Cochrane was chased for hooking in the period's last minute and Kemp came up with some spectacular saves.

With the start of the third period Lindsay Juniors again took control with consistent back-checking and weathered the storm. Shortly after Cochrane returned, Oshawa broke from their blue line with Romanuk carrying the puck. Lindsay then set out to run into McGill, and bounced to the ice. The game was held up momentarily until Romanuk was assisted to the bench to later take part in the game.

Port Perry cut Lindsay's lead to one at 2.29, when Masters shot from the boards and Copeland bounced on the puck and pushed it in before Kemp could clear.

Ron Teel scored the next goal of the period when McGill intercepted a clearing shot at centre ice blue line, dumped the puck to Teel coming out of the corner and Ron beat him with a hard drive that also rubbed out a tripping penalty to Dykstra on the play.

Shortly after Dykstra was chased, this time for interference, but it backfired as far as Lindsay was concerned. Twenty seconds after his penalty Chaszewski broke from a Lindsay ganging attack and sailed in on Kemp with a low drive and O'Connor took a pass from Chaszewski just after he returned to the ice and picked the short corner to tie the game at five to five.

Copeland grabbed a face-off in the Lindsay corner at the fifteen minute mark and centred to Romanuk, whose screened shot put the visitors ahead for the first time in the game.

At 17.50 Gerster sent out four forwards for a face-off in the Port Perry end and Tommy Hutton picked up a loose puck in the ganging attack and tied up the game again.

With this encouragement Lindsay again booted in the visitors and only brilliant work by Hawe, along with some luck kept the locals off the score-sheet.

O'Connor broke loose from this attack and laid up a pass to Fisher at the open corner at 18.09. At 19.24 with a face-off in the visitors' end, Gerster removed Kemp for a sixth attacker and the pressure on Hawe was terrific. At 19.38 the Flyers in attempting to change during the play got caught with a seventh player on the ice and playing the puck, so Johnson served the penalty. For the dying seconds of the game Hawe was surrounded by Lindsay attackers, but his skill held out. Hutton and O'Connor were chased for a mix-up behind the Port Perry net with eight seconds to go.

Mr. & Mrs. Miller Celebrate Their Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Miller of Beaverton were at home to their relatives and friends on Saturday afternoon of the celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary held at their home, Mara St., Beaverton.

During the afternoon and evening some 200 guests from Toronto, Hamilton, Peterborough, Cobourg, Lindsay, Uxeomaston, Barrie, Victoria Harbour, and other points, called to offer congratulations to the happy couple.

Their bridesmaid, Mrs. George Smith, of Toronto, Mr. Miller's sister, and the best man, Mr. J. A. Hurren, of Bolsover, Mrs. Miller's brother, were present, and after the family dinner, which was supervise letter from the minister who married them, Rev. J. W. Shier, uncle of the 50 years ago bride, was read by their eldest daughter, Mrs. W. E. Howard. During the reading of this letter from a man 87 years old, you could hear a pin drop, it was so interesting. Mr. Shier did not feel equal to the trip from Picton.

The happy couple were the recipients of hosts of letters and telegrams of congratulations including a parchment scroll received from the Provincial Government.

The couple farmed near Bolsover during their married life, moving to Beaverton on their retirement a few years ago. They have two daughters, Mrs. R. G. Howard, of Toronto, and Mrs. Jas Walton, of Beaverton. A son, Gordon, lost his life on active service, while serving with the Re-CAF in World War II. The couple are both in good health and enjoying their retirement, and many friends wish them many more years of health and happiness.

Officers Elected At Joint Meeting

Cresswell (PNS) -A combined meeting of the WMS and WA was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Tremeer with Mrs. G. Davey in charge of the Worship. The theme was "Christmas Remembrance."

The meeting opened by singing a hymn, followed by an appropriate prayer. The Scripture reading was taken from Luke 2:1-20. Mrs. Davey gave a reading on the theme chosen, "Christmas," which was followed by prayer. The offering was taken and dedicated by Rev. Mr. Wilkinson.

The president, Mrs. Frank Tremeer, took charge of the business on hand. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The Roll Call was answered by six members and there was one visitor and two associate members. The treasurer, Mrs. A. Found, gave a fine report. It was moved by Mrs. L. Tremeer and seconded by Mrs. G. Davey that the bill for work on the parsonage be paid. Considerable discussion followed pertaining to work being done on the parsonage. The Good Cheer Committee reported and several Thankyou cards were read. Cards are to be sent to shut-ins this year, also to several who donated to the bazaar.

Rev. Mr. Wilkinson took charge of the election of officers. It was moved and seconded by Mrs. J. Lake and Mrs. L. Tremeer that the officers be returned for the W. A. as had been in for 1953, namely:. President -Mrs. Frank Tremeer; vice-president -Mrs. Lawrence Tremeer; Secretary -Mrs. G. Davey; Assisting Secretary -Mrs. L. McInnis; Treasurer -Mrs. Alvin Pound; Pianists-Mrs. L. Tremeer and Mrs. A. Pound; Paisonage Committee -Mrs. L. Tremeer and Mrs. G. Davey; "Good Cheer" Committee -Mrs. A. Webster and Mrs. L. McInnis. Rev. Mr. Wilkinson closed this election of officers with prayer.

The meeting was now turned over to the president of the W.M.S., Mrs. G. Davey. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The roll call was answered by six members and there were three visitors. The treasurer's report was most gratifying and read by Mrs. F. Tremeer. A record was received of all boxes and home calls made during the past month, also all books which were read. The offering was received and dedicated.

The next meeting is to be at the home of Mrs. Alex Webster, with Mrs. Thornton in charge of the Study Book and Mrs. A. Pound on the lunch committee.

Rev. Mr. Wilkinson took charge of the election of officers for W.M.S. and resulted in re-election of 1953 officers as follows:- President -Mrs. G. Davey; Vice-President -Mrs. A. Pound; Secretary -Mrs. J. Lake; Treasurer -Mrs. Frank Tremeer; Pianist -Mrs. Lawrence Tremeer and Mrs. F. Tremeer; Christian Stewardship -Mrs. A. Pound; Literature Secretary -Mrs. R. Thornton; Supply Secretary -Mrs. F. Tremeer; Associate Helpers-Mrs. F. Tremeer; Press Secretary -Mrs. J. Lake; Community Friendship -Mrs. J. Lake; Mission Band Leader -Mrs. A. Pound.

Rev. Mr. Wilkinson closed the meeting with prayer. A dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Lawrence Tremeer and a social time spent by all.

Christmas Hymns Sung at WMS In Janetville

Janetville (PNS) -- The December meeting of the WMS of the Janetville United Church was held on Wednesday afternoon in the S.S. room, when there was a splendid attendance of members and visitors.

The worship period was conducted by Mrs. Bert McMullen, assisted by Mrs. Ross Davidson. The hymns, "Infant Holy" and "Angels from the Realms of Glory," were sung. The guest speaker, who brought the Christmas message, was Rev. T. Hogerwaard, pastor of the church, who with his wife and family, recently came to Canada from Holland. His address was entitled "Christmas in Holland," and he told of the way the people over there celebrated the Yuletide, and how they also endeavored to keep "Christ" in Christmas. His talk was most interesting and enjoyable.

The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Ross Davidson, and the president, Mrs. P. J. Rowe, was welcomed back from a month's visit to New York City.

The offering was received and dedicated in prayer by Mrs. McMullen. Reports were heard from various societies and the treasurer's report given by Mrs. Donald Fisher. The meeting was concluded with the singing of a Christmas carol and prayer.

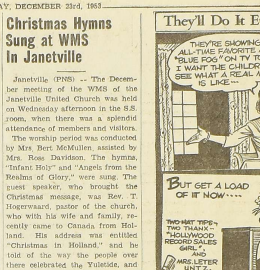

Later, a treat of homemade candy was enjoyed. The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Virtual Staples.

White Gift Sunday Held At Omemee

Omemee (PNS) -- Morning service of Trinity United featured the annual White Gift service in which children of the Sunday school placed their gifts on the altar. They were for the unfortunate children of Korea.

The choir sang special music with Miss Rae at the organ. Miss Dorothy Connell sang the solo "Jesu Bambino." Mr. Arthur Weir, Sunday School superintendent, read the Scripture lesson.

Rev. Mr. Zufelt gave a very appropriate sermon pertaining to the Christmas season and also conducted the baptism of Geoffrey Thomas, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Reid, of Petersboro, and Deborah Elizabeth, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thaxter Shaw, Omemee.

Yuletide Theme Followed At Meet Of Janetville W.A.

Janetville (PNS) -The December meeting of the Women's Association was held in the auditorium of the Janetville United Church, when there was a splendid attendance.

The President, Mrs. George Elson, was in the chair, and Mrs. Bert McMullen conducted the Worship Period, the theme of which was Jesus said, "These things have I spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full." The Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Harold Moxon and "O Little Town of Bethlehem", was read alternately by the leader and members. A piano selection, by Mrs. H. Heslip was much-enjoyed and this was followed by the topic "Love", presented by Mrs. B. McMullen. Several moments of silence were observed in tribute to a number of beloved members, who have recently passed away.

A number of bills were presented, for purchases made for the parsonage, and it was moved and seconded that all bills be paid. The treasurer's report, presented by Mrs. V. Staples, was most satisfactory. "It was decided to donate $100.00 of this money to the Church Board. It was announced that Mrs. Geo. Elson, sen., Mrs. J. R. McGee and Mrs. R. J. Burn, three faithful members, had not missed attending a single meeting during the past year. A card of acknowledgment, for a

Gratifying Report On Turkey Supper

Coboconk (PNS) -The regular meeting of the W.A. was held in the church hall with members and a number of visitors present.

With Mrs. Fielder at the piano, the meeting opened by singing a hymn, and repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison. As it was the Christmas meeting, the devotional period was opened by singing "O Little Town of Bethlehem". The Scripture reading was taken from the W. A. leaflet and Mrs. C. Fielder gave a reading, the title being "Joy". Mrs. Atkinson closed this part of the meeting with prayer.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. The treasurer gave a report on the turkey supper which was very gratifying showing the proceeds to be $101.00. At the request of Mrs. Wakelin Sr., Mrs. Pearl Mrs. H. Farrow and Mrs. C. Routley, sang "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks By Night". A couple of contests which caused a lot of hard thinking and fun were followed by a duet by Donna and Joan Rumney, "Silent Night". Two carols were sung "Away In a Manger" and "The First Noel" by all the members of the choir which were present.

A cup of tea and a dainty lunch was served. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by everyone.

Omemee Legion Elects Officers

Omemee (PNS) -The new president of the Omemee branch of the Canadian Legion No. 497, is Comrade J. Flynn.

The complete list of new officers for 1954 are as follows: President -J. Flynn; 1st Vice President -Wm. Acreman; Secretary -W. Ellis; Treasurer -E. Benthow; Executive - Joseph Black, Edgar Lowes, John Magee, Bruce Fairfield, Reuben Reeds; Sergeant at Arms -James L. Brooks.

O. Fielder gave a reading "God Promises A Saviour."

Mrs. McLeod was a charge of the social period. A quartet composed of Mrs. L. Faulkner, Mrs. A. Peel, Mrs. H. Farrow and Mrs. C. Routley, sang "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks By Night". A couple of contests which caused a lot of hard thinking and fun were followed by a duet by Donna and Joan Rumney, "Silent Night". Two carols were sung "Away In a Manger" and "The First Noel" by all the members of the choir which were present.

A cup of tea and a dainty lunch was served. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by everyone.

Bethany

(News for week ending Dec. 19)

Mr. and Mrs. William Mallion and children, Victoria and Janice, of Toronto, were weekend guests with Mrs. Richard Fallis.

All regret to hear that Mr. Allan Gribble is again a patient in Civic Hospital, Peterborough. He had just been home one week when he suffered another heart attack and was removed to hospital by ambulance.

Miss Elsie Richardson spent last weekend in Lakefield, the guest of Mrs. Charles Tanner.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Backus and son, Alvin, of Havelock, were recent visitors of Mrs. Effie Morton.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. James McKinnon, for the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil McGrill, Toronto; Miss Joan McGrill, Peterborough, and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ingram of Cleveland, Ohio.

Mrs. Martha Loshaw, Frankford, spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Read.

Mr. Ernest Cavano, farm implement representative, was host to many farmers and their families in the district on Wednesday evening at an entertainment in the Town Hall. Five colored films were shown depicting the use of modern machinery and new methods in agriculture. Winners of lucky door tickets and prizes were Mrs. Addison Scott and Mr. Orphas Staples with Murray Henderson making the draws.

The community suffered a loss in the death of two highly-respected citizens last week . . . Mr. Otto Spencer and Mr. Willis Whiteside. Sympathy is extended to their bereaved families.

Miss Hannah Staples, who for some time has been a patient in a Peterborough Nursing home, has been removed to St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mr. Leonard Cavano, Belleville, spent the weekend with Mrs. Emma Cavano.

Mr. Douglas Driver, New Toronto, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Driver and Mr. and Mrs. Gervin Mulligan during the weekend.

Haliburton

Mrs. Jean Giles fell while working on Wednesday and broke a bone in her wrist. While cleaning a floor, she slipped falling on her arm.

Haliburton's Dysart Municipal Council has the very latest in snow equipment, and villagers are very proud of the way the streets are cleaned off. For the sidewalks they have a power snow shovel, that does more in one hour than half a dozen teams of horses and men. It's a labor-saving device as well as money saving, villagers have commented. The roads and sidewalks are in good condition now after every snowstorm.

Presented With Gift

On Saturday evening friends and neighbours met at the home of Mrs. Royce Woodcock, where a social evening was spent. Mrs. Woodcock was presented with a nice gift before moving to her new home in Hamilton, where her husband has become head boss for the Shell Oil Company.

On Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. F. Formica entertained a number of friends to the anniversary of their wedding. A lovely evening was spent and Mr. and Mrs. Formica received some nice gifts. A delicious supper was later enjoyed.

Leaves For Toronto

Mr. R. Hicklin, of the Department of Highways, has left for his home in Toronto, after several years with the Department. Starting as a clerk, Mr. Hicklin became head boss for this division. A host of friends and employees regret his departure. He was out in all sorts of weather and his work was well done. Those who knew Mr. Hicklin hope he enjoys many years of retirement.

Minor Hockey Tag Day

The Haliburton Minor Hockey Association held a tag day on Saturday. The funds are to purchase hockey equipment for their games this season. The results were splendid.

Christmas Decoration

Haliburton village is gay with colored lights over the Christmas season and with the deep white snow it is really a picture. At Curry Motors Christmas trees and colored lights lit up the street At Glen Austin's residence snow-covered trees and Christmas lights make a very pretty effect for the season. At Ossie Glidden's home the lights and window decorations are very nice and at Elvin Roberson's a lighted tree at the turn of the road, near the school, has a pretty effect. Harold Blacks home on Pine Ave. has trees lighted up inside and out. A large Santa Claus shines from the top and gay lights beam from the verandah. As one travels around not very many homes are without Yuletide decorations.

Wife Injured, Her Husband Faces Charges

Ridgeway, Dec. 22 --(BUP)-- Ontario Provincial Police have charged 38-year-old Robert Lowry of Jackson Road in Bertie Township with wounding with intent and attempted suicide as a result of a family argument.

His 36-year-old wife Dorothy is in Douglas Memorial Hospital on the critical list. She is suffering from multiple lacerations of the scalp, a severe laceration over her left eye, a broken wrist and multiple cuts over the body.

She was rushed to hospital yesterday from a neighboring house which she managed to reach after the argument with her husband.

Police said they got a call about 3 a.m. from the neighbours. When they arrived at the Lowry house, Lowry told them he had slashed his wrists. The living room, dining room and kitchen of the house were spattered with blood. The whole house was a shambles from the struggle which had evidently taken place in the bedroom.

Police seized a hammer, an axe, and a knife.

Lowry will be released from hospital today and will appear before Magistrate J. I. Roberts in Fort Erie Police Court.

Critical of Police

The grief-stricken mother of two boys who perished in the icy waters of Oak Lake, near Stirling says Provincial Police called to rescue them "didn't make much of a search."

The boys --Layton and Keith Aldred and Gilbert Brooks --fell through thin ice while skating, and although neighbours heard their cries for help they couldn't locate them.

Mrs. Keitha Aide says police could not have made much of a search for the boys, for their bodies were found on shore by the first person who looked in the morning. And a neighbour, Gordon Woods, says the officers might have saved them if they had put their searchlights on the water.

Fatal Collision

A Toronto man was killed last night and four other persons injured in a two-car collision on the Queen Elizabeth Way near Fruitland.

The dead man is 35-year-old Douglas Fraser. Three other persons in his car and a passenger in the second car --Max Gross of Buffalo --were injured.

Provincial Police say the accident happened when a car driven by Sid Sanderson of Toronto crashed into the back of a car in which Gross was riding. Fraser was riding in the Sanderson car.

Fewer People Killed in November

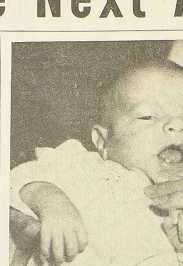

Toronto, Dec. 22 --(BUP)--There were 13 fewer people killed in motor vehicle collisions in Ontario this November as compared to last year. However the 11 month total showed an increase of 58 over 1952.

Bethany Lodge Elects Officers

Bethany (PNS) --- The members of the Loyal Orange Lodge No. 1022 met recently in the lodge rooms for their annual meeting. "A very successful year was reported with the society strengthened by several new members.

The Rev. T. S. Gault presided for the election and installation of the following officers: immediate past Master, John Palmer; Master Creighton T. Carr; Deputy-Master, Charles Palmer; Chaplain, Rev. T. S. Gault; recording and financial secretary, Harold Phillips; treasurer, Robert Reed; Marshall, Thomas Stales; first lecturer, George Smith, second lecturer, Harry Gillies; lodge committee, Milton Wright, William Jordan, George Smith, Ernest Youngman and Andrew Murrie.

Plans were completed for the annual Christmas dance which will also feature the draw for lucky tickets previously sold on turkeys and chickens.

Lorneville Area May Be Site Of New TV Relay Station

Toronto, Dec. 22 (BUP) -- The Bell Telephone Company says it is nearly finished testing a route for an extension of its Toronto-Ottawa-Montreal microwave radio relay system to North Bay.

The route will include terminal stations in Toronto and North Bay and six intermediate relay stations.

Once the sites have been selected as a result of the tests, radio relay stations can be built along the route when the company finds it necessary to extend its microwave communications system to North Bay to carry both long distance telephone calls and television programs.

Tests for the relay station sites are being made from high points of land at Uxbridge; near Lorneville, eight miles east of Beaverton; Kilworthy, four miles south of Gravenhurst; Raymond, 15 miles northwest of Bracebridge; Falconbury, five miles north of Bracebridge; Emsdale and Kearney, both about 15 miles north of Huntsville; and Trout River, six miles south of Powassan. The proposed sites are some 25 to 30 miles apart.

Districts Expand About New Highway

The prospect of extending the Trans-Canada highway has built ever-expanding towns in the areas through which it will pass.

When George McFarland left city life for the quietness of Six Mile Lake, near the isolated shore of Georgian Bay four years ago, there were 20 cottages.

Now there are 450.

McFarland had $200 in his pocket when he arrived --- and now he is well on the way to becoming a capitalist in his own right. He's already begun logging operations along a 2,000-foot lake frontage, and soon will have several men working on the project.

By the time the Trans-Canada highway is put through he expects to be a lumber king, storekeeper, water taximan, boat rental operation director and ice-house keeper.

McFarland said there will be no holding the district when the highway goes through.

"And that goes for all the country, right up through Sudbury clear across the north shore of Lake Superior," he added.

Most of the lakes in the area can only be reached by plane or foot, but speculation is that the highway will bring cottages easier access to the lakes ---and, consequently, a depletion of the fish reserve. -BUP.

Successful Year Reported By Ladies Guild

Bethany (PNS) --- The members of St. Paul's Ladies Guild were entertained at the home of Mrs. Rupert Woods for their December meeting, with Mrs. Charles Reynolds presiding and Mrs. T. S. Gault leading the devotional period.

The secretary and treasurer reported a successful year, both socially and financially. Funds had been raised by entertainments, homebaking sales, garden party, bazaar and sale of Christmas cards.

It was decided to donate $100.00 to the Church Wardens and plans were made for a fashion show and cosmetic demonstration early in the new year; also to supply flowers for decoration of the church at Christmas.

Last year's executive were all returned to office: Mrs. Charles Reynolds beginning her sixth term as president, with Mrs. T. S. Gault, honorary president and treasurer; Mrs. Charles Smith, secretary. There were 16 present at the meeting and a new member, Mrs. William Mark, was welcomed.

Christmas gifts were exchanged among the group and lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Ernest Lamb, Mrs. Emory Smith and Mrs. Morgan Bigelow. The ladies accepted the invitation of Mrs. T. S. Gault to hold their January meeting at the Rectory.

Writer Declares Section 78 Long Source of Labor Trouble

Lindsay people will find interest in the following comments on the recent strike of Hydro workers here. "The Post" reprints excerpts from an article which appeared in "The Toronto Star" last Saturday, written by Pat McNenly. Mr. McNenley's views appeared under the heading "Used in Lindsay Strike, Section 78 Long Source of Trouble to Labor".

"A strike of Hydro employees in Premier Frost's home town of Lindsay earlier in the week brought into the spotlight a piece of deadwood in the province's labor code.

"The strike, which deprived some residents of electricity and came close to provoking a clash between workers and commission members, was the direct result of the Lindsay Hydro commission's attempt to short-circuit utilization of its employees by making use of a provision of the labor act which seemingly contributes to strikes rather than labor harmony.

"This is Section 78 of the Ontario Labor Relations act which permits municipal corporations to remove their employees from under the labor act. Once workers are exempted, they lose the protections in labor relations guaranteed by the labor code but at the same time they are free of the checks and balances of the provincial labor legislation.

"Law of Jungle"

"For these reasons, labor leaders refer to the use of Section 78 as "a return to the law of the jungle."

The section appears to have been written into the code by the government to give municipal bodies a measure of autonomy in labor relations. It can be invoked by municipal councils, hospitals, Hydro commissions and possibly could be applied to such publicly owned utilities as the Toronto Transporation commission.

"In the past, the chief use of the section has been to stop organizational drives by unions. When invoked, and the Ontario Labor Relations board is powerless not to agree to a civic corporation's application, Section 78 denies a union certification and recognition as a bargaining agent.

"What often happens when use is made of Section 78, is exactly what occurred in Lindsay. There the OCL National Union of Public Servie Employees had 100 per cent. success in signing up the commission's 13 Hydro employees and sought certification. The Lindsay Hydro commission countered by applying to the labor board to have the group exempted from the act.

Played Last Card

"When the labor board bowed to the commission and cut the workers adrift, the union played the only high card left in its hand--it pulled the 14 employees out on a week-long strike.

"Ironically, the Hydro workers' walkout strike was not caused by but because neither employees nor union were answerable any longer to the province's labor code.

"The strikers won the recognition they struck for only after a section of the community was in darkness of electricity and a near-brawl developed on the picket line strung around a transformer that blew out.

"During the strike the commission threatened to fire the 13 striking employees if they did not return to work and even advertised for their replacements, but a reurn-to-work deadline passed without the commission taking any drastic action.

Recalls Forest Hill

"The Lindsay strike followed the pattern of a strike earlier this year by Forest Hill Hydro employees who also "hit the bricks" when Forest Hill made use of Section 78 to block a threatened union security. A compromise settlement ended the Forest Hill strike again only after a threat by the community was blocked out when power failures were left unrepaired.

"There have been occasions when Section 78 was invoked to help a union rather than hinder it. Toronto city council removed its civic employees out from under the act to stop a raid by the AFL Operating Engineers on the two TLC-affiliated civic unions.

"The city council's action, which was requested by the civic unions, pleased only the two civic unions involved. The Toronto Humanists came under strong attack from other labor leaders in recent months for their use of the ill-reported section of the act to solve one of their problems.

"Labor delegates making their annual trek 'cap in hand' session of the provincial cabinet have failed to have Section 78 taken off the books. Premier Leslie Frost, Labor minister of labor, and Premier Frost shrug their shoulders and point out that Section 78 is the community, if they were concerned about the section, would not re-elect public servants who invoked it.

Doesn't Know If She'll Marry Aly, Rita's Ex

New York, Dec. 22--(BUP)--Actress Gene Tierney, home from Europe for Christmas, said today she still is trying to decide whether to marry Aly Khan.

Miss Tierney flew to New York from Belgium yesterday with her mother, her daughter, a cocker spaniel and two goldfish.

"I am considering marriage," she said. "I am thinking it over. It is something to think about."

She said she has not given how long it would take her to make up her mind about Aly's proposal.

Miss Tierney, divorced from dress designer Oleg Cassini, said she and her family would spend Christmas with relatives in Connecticut.

Young TERRY JAGARS and his cocker spaniel pal, BUNNY, talk things over after police found them dripping wet and shivering on the bank of the Los Angeles River Flood Control Channel. "Bunny helped me out of the water," was all the boy could tell police officers, who theorized the three-year-old tot must have fallen into the deep water and that the dog jumped in and dragged him to the bank. Terry's mother had reported him missing shortly before he was found wetter and wiser.

Whole Series Of Meetings On Schedule

A whole series of meetings are on schedule in Washington to map the follow-up to Moscow's move yesterday accepting private meetings on President Eisenhower's atom pool proposal.

The Russian statement was befogged with the usual propaganda. It kept harping so strong on outlawing atomic weapons --- a step Eisenhower has purposely sidestepped--that U-S secretary of State John Foster Dulles remarked the Russians seemed to miss the spirit of the plan.

But it did accept the idea of private talks to discuss Eisenhower's idea that all the atomic powers should pool a small part of their resources for peaceful atomic uses.

And Dulles called that much at least, "hopeful."

At any rate, diplomats are agreed that the next step is up to the United States. And officials have scheduled a series of meetings today with Allied representatives to decide just what that step should be.

One step would be to proceed at once through normal diplomatic channels. Another would be to work through the United Nations, as Eisenhower himself suggested in endorsing a U-N Assembly resolution.

Observers in London and other European capitals are hopeful but cautious.

The London Times observes that Moscow accepted the American proposal with all kinds of "ifs" and "buts." But it says at least the Reds accepted --- and newspapers in other European capitals took the same tone.

The British Government sources say Prime Minister Winston Churchill is hopeful any conference can be held before January.

It' reported that Churchill feels the Kremlin's long-awaited reply is the first hope that could lead to a face-to-face meeting with Premier Malenkov.

OPP Urge Drivers To Avoid High Speeds On Yule Trips

Toronto Dec. 22nd (BUP)--- Toronto is in the midst of the biggest building boom of its history.

The cost of new construction in Metropolitan, Toronto this year will total about $300,000,000 ---more than twice the amount spent in 1952.

Canada's second largest city, according the biggest building boom in the history of any Canadian city in 1953 spent an average of more than $800,000 on new construction every day of this year.

Extent of the growth of the area became apparent when officials of 13 municipalities added up the value of building permits issued during the first 11 months of 1953.

During the year enough accommodation was raised to house 60,000 persons. Some 10,300 houses were built along with 6,000 suites in 470 buildings.

Sonja Henie Seeks Divorce

Beverley Hills California --Dec. 22nd. --(BUP)-- Skating star Sonja Henie will seek a divorce from New York society figure W. Gardiner.

Miss Henie, who will open an ice show at the Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas next month, said she probably would establish Nevada residence during her appearance there and file suit in the resort city.

She said she and the aviation executive, married Sept. 15, 1949, separated last May 1.

Miss Henie previously was married to sportsman Dan Topping. She is Gardiner's fourth wife.

Damage Store

Haliburton (PNS) - After Mr. E. Sipe had closed his secondhand store in the village for the winter months, some young lads broke the windows, doors and even, it is reported, broke into the premises and destroyed articles within. Mr. Sipe, who is employed out-of-town, has now had to board up the windows and doors while he is away.

Biggest Building Boom in History In Toronto City

Corporal Ken Denniss, head of the detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police at Lindsay, has made an appeal for safe driving this Christmas.

He says that he would urge motorists leaving this area for distant points to spend the holiday to do so in plenty of time that they won't have to go at excessive speeds, one of the main factors of highway traffic tragedies.

Corporal Denniss says that too many people are spending holiday times in hospitals or morgues and that one of the main reasons is that they rely on speed instead of taking plenty of time to reach their destinations.

In wishing the season's greetings to the people in the area served by the Lindsay OPP, he said in closing that the motto "cut down speed" will make Christmas much merrier for more people.

Recount Elects Wm. Emmerson

Haliburton (PNS) --- A recount of ballots at Lindsay for the tie in the recent municipal election for councilman for Dysart resulted in a win for Mr. William Emmerson, of Donald, over Mr. A. H. Curry, lumberman. Judge J. A. McGibbon sat for the recount which gave Mr. Emmerson 384 and Mr. Curry 381.

Double Servings Of Beer Causes License Grab

Niagara Falls, Dec. 22nd -(BUP)- The Ontario Liquor Licence Board has suspended the license of the Belleview Public House in Niagara Falls.

The suspension was ordered after inspectors reported the hotel was selling double servings of beer to customers.

Penticton, B.C. Herald: To maintain this land against those who grasp their orders over a cup, there must be order given here and order taken, but let us never forget that the cause is freedom, not only for a specious generality, but freedom and respect for the little man on the wrong side of the desk or wicket.

Strong Man Dies In Fire

Sault Ste. Marie, Dec. 22 -(BUP)- A Sault Ste. Marie man who called himself the strongest little man in the world while he was still a boy died today in a fire which swept his homestead.

Firemen found the body of Jack Fogarty in the ashes of the home. His housekeeper, Mrs. Richard Farrell, and her three children are missing. Provincial Police plan to search the ashes as soon as they cool for a clue to their whereabouts.

Mrs. Farrell's husband, who also lived in the home, was standing outside when firemen arrived. Fire Chief Clifford Mathesen says Farrell was not able to give him any detailed information on the whereabouts of his wife and children.

Fogarty, who was five feet two inches tall, acquired a local reputation 35 years ago by giving frequent weight-lifting demonstrations with autos and passersby on the town's main street.

SMASH WINDOWS IN S. WARD HOME, YOUTHS CAUGHT, MUST REPAIR THEM

Chief of Police John Hunter says that on Monday evening P. C. Hanley Fountain received a report from a South Ward lady that several windowpanes in her home had been broken.

Upon investigation, he says, P. C. Fountain rounded up seven South and East Ward boys, 11 to 17 years of age. The Chief says the boys told the constable that they would buy the glass and make a neat job of replacing it today, supervised by the home owner.

Readers will recall that about a week ago, P. C. Hanley apprehended four Fenelon Falls youths who had been upsetting garbage cans in the North Ward. At that time, about 1.30 in the morning, the boys were made clean up the mess they had made. Returning to the Police Station they were ordered to clean up their brooms and replace them in the Fire Department where they had been obtained.

These two incidents, as reported by the Chief, have lead one citizen to comment that measures of this type on the part of the police will drive home to teen-agers the meaning of what they have done better than having them appear in court. Sometimes when they are charged, they feel that they are "smart", be commented, but cleaning up the mess one has made takes the "pleasure" out of it for almost anybody.

Holiday Calls To Europe Filled, Bell Co. Says

Toronto --(BUP)-- The Bell Telephone Company says it's time for Christmas and New Year's calls to London was completely alloted a few hours after the bookings were opened.

More than 500 advance bookings have been made, most of them for the peak periods of December 24th, 25th and 26th and December 30th, and 31st and January first.

The largest number of calls is for the United Kingdom but calls also have been booked for Holland, France, Denmark, Sweden, Switzerland, West Germany and Norway.

Leaky Taps Prove Costly, Water Users Reminded

"Cost of leaky taps runs into a fabulous amount" to the consumer, Bob Reynolds remarked at the Water Board meeting Thursday night.

He said people often wondered why their quarterly bill took a sharp upsurge at times. On questioning, they admitted a tap dripped someplace in the house, or the toilet flush "kept running." This evidently runs away with a lot of water, for which the consumer has to pay, Superintendent Reynolds disclosed.

EDITORIALS

BUT DO THE PEOPLE WANT IT THAT WAY?

The Ontario Government is reported in a metropolitan daily newspaper as giving serious consideration to setting up a commission similar to the Ontario Hydro Commission to distribute natural gas from Alberta in this province.

It is interesting to note that the Ontario government is taking it upon itself to make this decision without consulting the people. The question might be asked: "Do the people want it that way?" The province's action in this matter seems to preclude the possibility of the importation and distribution of natural gas on a competitive basis with hydro and, if this is the case, it seems there is grave danger of any advantages of gas over hydro being lost. The reason: prices might conceivably be arranged so that there would be little inducement to switch from one to the other for the small consumer. This is borne out to some extent by the newspaper article which says in part: "Since natural gas is expected to be cheaper for water heating than electricity, some officials feel the sale and distribution should be directly tied in with hydro, which would then be in a position to offer gas as an alternative to hydro service." Should this come to pass the consumer benefits which should normally accrue by using the cheaper fuel would be lost in a maze of red tape and provincial monopoly.

There is too much evidence to the contrary for the public to be very hopeful of coming out on top in any service which becomes linked with politics at any level.

AN APPEAL TO BE HEEDED . . .

Police Chief Hunter's appeal for holiday safety is one which all citizens of Lindsay should heed and do their utmost to cooperate with. The holiday season is now virtually upon us and so are the shortest days of the season. The combination is conducive to greater hazards for people in more respects than one. Streets are more crowded, especially with the advent of the recent heavy snowstorm, and those who walk or drive must exercise greater caution. This is particularly true in the twilight hours when the hazard increases several fold.

In a few days school will be out for the Christmas holidays and hundreds of children will be moving about the streets at hours when they would normally be in school. Every driver knows that while children often do foolish things such as playing in the road, crossing without looking or walking out into traffic with an air of bravado, it is the driver upon whom responsibility for their safe passage really rests. Then there are the aged . . . they do not move quickly enough for many of us in this impatient age but they must be shown every courtesy. Impatience gives way to perspective in most cases when we consider that one day we will probably be slower ourselves.

If anyone is still not convinced of the need for safety first the following summary of Ontario accidents may influence them:

"More than 600 people died in accidents on Ontario's highways during the period from January to September, the Highways Department has reported. Deaths during the period totalled 623, compared with 610 for the same months last year.

"Accidents for the seven months totalled 46,636 and 30,283 of these occurred when the road surface was dry. Accidents at railway crossings claimed 36 lives and 26 of these deaths occurred at unguarded crossings. Seven people were killed at crossings with automatic signals.

"Skull fractures accounted for 205 deaths and internal injuries were responsible in 198. Accidents at street intersections totalled 12,879 and 67 people were killed in these.

"Even in this motorized age horses still get involved in accidents. There were 67 collissions with horse drawn vehicles in which one person was killed and 19 injured.

RED TAPE . . .

An excellent example of what takes place when a municipality or group of individuals gets involved with government or its agencies at any level is to be seen in the Maryknoll incident at Lindsay.

A few weeks ago it seemed assured that the Maryknoll Cooperative was quite likely to have the essential services (sewer and water) brought to the site of the housing development in ample time to meet their requirements. Now, due to a complication as to the method of financing the installation of these services, the prospect of early servicing is noticeably less bright.

The breakdown in negotiations for the needed services can only be attributed to the unnecessarily complicated method in which governments or their agencies do business . . . , in short, red tape, which has a habit of getting tangled up at crucial moments. The people who formed the cooperative can hardly be blamed for their dilemma since they became involved in the process of trying to finance their homes through a government-sponsored agency. Council, on the other hand, has been placed in the unhappy position of trying to assist in speeding the Maryknoll services only to find that the town was going to be called upon to pay a large share of the cost which wasn't apparent in the original draft of the agreement as they understood it.

There is, of course, only one thing to do in the case at hand, and that is to act as quickly as possible to overcome present difficulties so that services will not be delayed a minute longer than necessary at Maryknoll. As for the future, it would appear that Council would be well advised to give government land assembly and other schemes related to housing development a good wide berth.

Laugh It Off...

In a crowded street car a very thin lady who sat next to an extremely fat lady remarked: "They really should charge by weight."

The fat lady replied: "But if they did, dearie, they couldn't afford to stop for some people."

OTHERS SAY

BARD BLAMED FOR STARLINGS

From time to time in the past three centuries, Will Shakespeare has been accused of various things, such as not writing his own plays, but the most novel indictment comes from the National Geographic Society (U.S.), which blames him for the starling infestation of America. As part of a project to establish on this continent all the birds mentioned in Shakespeare's writings, a United States manufacturer imported 120 starlings from England. (The mention: "Starlings shall be taught to speak", Henry IV, Act. 1, Scene 3.)

The starling Mayflower came over in 1890 and 80 birds were released in New York's Central Park, 40 more in the following year. From these originated the millions of hillions now found through eastern North America. The first of the species was seen in Ontario in 1915, near Brockville, which town unfortunately failed to appreciate the peril. In 1920 the birds reached Toronto.

Starlings are dirty, noisy, a menace in fruit-growing areas, and they crowd out many native birds. All that can be said in their favor is that they devour some harmful insects. Too late, municipal authorities have tried to deal with the pest, but the birds have defied fire-crackers, rattles, electrified wires, DDT, water hose and blank cartridges. Shotgun raids cause casualties but merely shift the nightly roosts. One municipality fitted owls in the trees. Hamilton has a bad infestation just now, downtown pedestrians having to shield their heads with newspapers, and swarms of starlings on TV antennae clouding the screens. It is proposed there to try dangling yellow teddy bears with red pants and ears.

Country residents can get good results by using a wood and wire trap, nine by five feet, for which the OAC got out a plan. But the Royal Ontario Museum of Zoology, in a leaflet on the subject, stated: It is impossible now to exterminate the starling in North America . . . It is highly improbable that every community could be induced to undertake this arduous war on them. Any effort short of this will give only partial and temporary relief."

All may not be lost. The U.S. manufacturer who imported the pioneer starlings is not identified by the Geographic Society, but an anti-subversive committee could be set up to do that. Once his descendants are set them to work undoing the harm for which their ancestor was responsible. If the family has multiplied on anything like the same scale as the starlings, its members should be able to make real progress. This plan would have commended itself, no doubt, to Shakespeare, who wrote of "swift, sure-handed justice." —The Telegram.

WHERE STARLINGS CAME FROM

Starlings are a plague in the United States as well as in Canada, although naturalists claim that farmers should really be grateful to them because they consume a vast number of insects that injure crops. Perhaps there would be little outcry against them if they would sleep on the farms at night after doing their chores, but the beggars have a strange habit of coming into the towns and cities to roost.

There wasn't a starling outside Europe until about 60 years ago. The National Geographic Society in the United States has been investigating how they crossed the ocean in the first place, and they have found that it was the idea of an American who was a Shakespeare enthusiast and sought to bring to his country from England all the birds mentioned in the Bard's works. So that's how it started. The first birds were released in Central Park, New York, in 1890-91. Now there are probably billions. They have just been reported in the Fiji Islands and the people there are scared.

Many ways have been thought up to get rid of them. So far they've successfully defied DDT, rattles, electrified wires, stuffed owls, ultraviolet radiation, fireworks, gas balloons, water hoses and blank cartridges.

But there's still hope: Washington officials have hung 500 bags of a smelly chemical from trees along historic Pennsylvania avenue. Preliminary research indicates the birds don't like it and fly away. The chemical? It's still a government secret formula.

And Dr. Hubert W. Frings, professor of entomology at Pennsylvania State University, says he has found a special supersonic noise which starlings dislike. He amplifies and broadcasts it when the birds are set to roost. Says his device drove away all the starlings of Millheim Pa.—about 15,000 of them.

But if they are scared away, where will they go? We don't care so long as they get outa here.

FIVE CENT POSTAGE

Apparently the days of four cent first-class mail postage are moving into history. Recent Government announcements warn that the five-cent rate will begin April 1. At the same time air mail letter postage will be reduced from seven to five.

This latter regulation is most timely, since much four-cent mail beyond the 100-mile radius has been sent by air mail for some time. Five cents for airmail is not extreme. As for the mail which is sent by train to localities not served by aircraft, the one-cent increase will be keenly felt.

The public has long since learned that when government employees are granted shorter hours, the taxpayer must shoulder additional burdens. Not that we believe the long-suffering boys at the post office should not enjoy the same privileges as their brothers in industry, but their boss, the Federal Government, should be ready in compensation to curb expenditures in any phase of its operations where such could be made without reducing the efficiency in its present postal service.

One suggestion occurs to mind at once. Abolish the franking privileges of Commons members and senators. This would restore confidence, particularly after the recent revelation of the questionable nature of some of the material sent out under this privilege. Restoration of the twice daily delivery of mail in the city might also make the public less unsympathetic to the five-cent postage plan. —St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Ellen Fairclough, Busy Woman MP, Says Cranberry Cocktail Refreshing

A bundle of energy wrapped up in a trim little fiance is busy around the House of Commons these days, looking after her constituents' interests, and also the first time to prepare for Christmas.

Ellen Fairclough is one of the few women in Canada to be elected to the House of Commons in last August's election. Today she will give you her recipe for cranberry cocktail . . . a wonderful refreshing beverage for holiday entertaining.

The pert, grey-haired accountant is a familiar personality in parliament's corridors, halls . . . and her gay laugh is often heard above the deep rumble of her male colleagues' chuckles.

When she speaks from the floor of the austere House, her clear voice carries a ring of authority . . . and she holds the attention of every person present. She's an income tax expert . . . and also has her own accounting firm which is staffed entirely by women.

Mrs. Fairclough is particularly proud of her son, Howard, who is planning a career as a musician.

The dynamic 56-year old woman developed her keen business sense and organizational ability early. She broke into the sphere of business as one of the few graduates from the High School of Commerce in Hamilton, Ontario.

She was only 16 years old at the time . . . and her name then was Ellen Cook. After graduation, she got a job with a rubber company which she held for five years . . . and also did a stint in the main branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

Her next position was with a firm of accountants, where she worked there until after her marriage in 1931 to David Henry Gordon Fairclough.

Over the years, Ellen Fairclough developed into a competent auditor and accountant. She can glance over a balance sheet and see the weak spots at once . . . and she knows her way around a column of figures.

That's one reason why her accounting firm mushroomed into a large concern.

In 1945, she decided to try politics . . . and ran on the 1946 slate as alderman for Ward Three in Hamilton. She lost by three votes. But the winner resigned . . . and it fell to Ellen to take over. The next time she ran . . . she got her election.

She was re-elected alderman in 1947, 1948 and again in 1949. She became deputy mayor and vice-chairman of the Board of Control. Then, in 1949 she tried her hand at a Federal election . . . and headed the polls for the Progressive Conservatives. Since then, she has completed another successful attempt in the Federal field.

Ellen Fairclough is a brisk, efficient woman, who always is well tailored. She wears the conventional dark colors most women wear in and around the House of Commons . . . and her clothes are always smart in every detail. Her greying hair is neatly combed back from an attractive vivacious face, and there always is a smile in her bright eyes.

Her light, lilting laugh is very cheerful . . . and always sounds pretty. She usually is the first business woman ever sent to the House of Commons. Others have followed various other professions, but Mrs. Fairclough is an established businesswoman in her own right.

The number of her activities is staggering. She's a member of the General Accountants Association . . . the vice-president of the Provincial Chapter of the IODE . . . and a past National Officer of that order . . . she's a past District Governor of the Zonta International, Eastern U.S.A. . . . a former Dominion Secretary of the United Empire Loyalists Association . . . , and former vice-president of the Young Conservatives of Ontario.

Her husband and young son actually benefit with what she has left when it comes to parliaments . . . and was escorted by Progressive Conservative Leader George Drew to make her bow before the Speaker of the House.

Ellen Fairclough is a successful hostess besides all her other talents, and she has a very fine recipe for cranberry cocktail to offer Canadian women. She served it recently for Christmas dinner . . . or at any time during the Yuletide, season. Here it is, with Mrs. Fairclough's personal greetings.

One half a pound of cranberries . . . one cup of granulated sugar . . . one quart of cold water . . . and three tablespoons of lemon juice. Chop the cranberries coarsely. Combine the water and sugar and bring to a boil. Then, add the cranberries and bring it to a boil again.

Boil the mixture for five minutes . . . then add the lemon juice and strain it all through cheese cloth. Chill and serve.

The recipe makes about three cups in quantity . . . and it keeps well in the refrigerator in case you have unexpected guests who need a nice appetizer in a hurry.

That's one of the favorite Christmas recipes of a member of parliament, for Hamilton West . . . Ellen Fairclough.--BUP

On The FARM FRONT

Municipality-Operated Seed Cleaning Plants

There are nine municipal seed cleaning plants in operation in the province of Alberta at the present time . . . , and all have been under a flat-way grain dryer.

That is, the cost has been shared by the Farmers' Co-operative, the Municipal District, and the Department of Agriculture. A tenth one will be in operation at Vermilion, Alberta, in th course of a few weeks.

The combined capacity of these plants is well over two million bushels for the season. If they are patronized as they should be . . .

Farmers . . . the experts report . . . are inclined to wait until seeding time approaches before arranging to have their seed cleaned.

This results in a rush at the plants, so much so, that many farmers are unable to get their seed cared for.

P. F. Parkinson . . . supervisor of special projects of the Alberta Department of Agriculture . . . says farmers should take their seed in now to have it cleaned and treated early for spring.

In that way, he says, the spring rush and disappointment will be avoided.

Seed drill surveys carried out on a province-wide basis, show that the plants are doing a good job. In the 1949 survey, only 29 per cent of all samples were number one seed grade . . . , and 33 per cent were rejected. In the 1953 survey 31 per cent were number one seed . . . and only 37 and a half per cent were rejected.

Smut Fungi Attacks Other Plants Than Grasses

Smut fungi are not confined to cereals and other members of the grass family . . . they attack a large number of plant species belonging to a widely different range of families.

In Canada, . . . smuts attack onions, cow-bread, wild tomato, aster, gum weed and numerous other broad-leaved plants . . . as well as the cereals and many hedges and grasses.

Some smuts attacking perennial plants give rise to systemic infections and hibernate in the vegetative state in the overwintering parts of the plant.

A majority of the smuts are annual and when their spores ripen, the vegetative life of the fungus comes to an end. Reproduction then depends upon the spores eventually reaching an environment favourable for their development into a new generation.

In this connection, account must be taken of the production of the smut spores and the time of their dispersal, as well as the manner in which they infect their host.

Smuts can ge generally grouped in three main classes: seedling-infecting, flower-infecting and local-infecting.

New Variety Wheat Is Rust-Resistant

Some 20,000 Manitoba and Saskatchewan farmers will get allotments of newly-licensed rust-resistant Selkirk wheat variety soon. A. B. Masson of the Dominion Cereal Grain Laboratory revealed this plan in Winnipeg Thursday.

Masson told 100 seed growers at the 33rd annual Manitoba Agronomist Conference that of 19,000 bushels of the precious wheat grown in Western Canada this year, farmers will be able to get 120,000 bushels.

He said the Department of Agriculture will keep 10,000 bushels for increase, while another 10,000 bushels will go to registered growers.

Certified Selkirk seed will be sold to farmer applicants at four dollars and 50 cents a bushel . . . but each grower will be limited to six bushels.

Some six thousand bushels of the new wheat will go to the United States Department of Agriculture for hand-outs in the rust-threatened areas of North and South Dakota and in Minnesota.

Cereal Rust Losses

Wheat ravaging cereal rusts this year have cost Manitoba and Eastern Saskatchewan farmers bigger yield losses than any year since 1935. Two officials of the Dominion Laboratory of Plant Pathology made this information public in Winnipeg Thursday.

Dr. Bjorn Peturson and Thorvaldur Johnson told the 33rd Annual Conference of the Manitoba Agronomists that some five million acres of Manitoba and Saskatchewan wheat have been affected by the many wheat rusts this year.--BUP

32 WILLIAM STREET NORTH

The Chatterbox..

Overloaded

Some motorists were lucky enough to come across Christmas trees that had fallen off the trucksloads going through. They pile them as high as it is safe to wonder an odd one falls off. When one motorist had to stop for one that was right in his way it seemed logical to pick it up. They must cut thousands of trees at this time of the year and trucks and trailers are bringing them from the North every day. If you go up that way you are quite likely to find them along the highway already cut.

Candied Apples

Don't forget to candy some apples for Christmas for you can make them in the home and eat them when you feel hungry. The red vegetable coloring added to the syrup will make a coating of red candy and the children will love them for snacks. Apples are good for one and with the added sweet the whole family will enjoy them.

Popcorn Balls

Popcorn balls are delicious to eat during the holidays and when the syrup you stick them together with is red and green you have a most attractive bowl to have on your lunch table with. Or, you can pop the corn and stick it together into a body and a head and you have a doll for one of the party is over the children can eat it and find it much to their liking. These things are not really all they should be looking and showing and are not too sweet, yet have a candy flavor.

Almond Dainties

Almond paste is freshly wrapped and in our stores and it tastes so good on top of Christmas cake. Some like it, others not you'll find the majority like this sweet on top. Use some almond paste in some white cookies and you'll find the flavor is delicious. You can also pat it into little candies and roll them in coconut or small balls and dip in slightly cooked melted chocolate. Semi-sweet is the best unless you like it bitter.

Ways And Means

Cold feet, an architect's drawing, and a small church's need for money were the makings of a stewardship project for an enterprising woman in Georgia.

The woman -- Mrs. H. P. Jones, from the little town of Valona, Georgia -- got the idea when she went into a printing shop to warm her feet. She saw the work the printer was doing for organizations . . . and she thought of a plan to raise money for the church by using a popular method. The Women's Episcopal church in Darien, Georgia, Mrs. Jones decided that, personalized Christmas cards and note paper -- containing a sketch of St. Andrew's -- would be a good holiday offer.

But the printer had to have a sketch in two weeks . . . and that's where the architect's drawing came in. Mrs. Jones couldn't find an artist to do the job on such short notice. So, armed with the architect's drawing, a pencil and paper, she made the sketch herself.

She says, "I guess I broke all the art rules -- drawing perspective lines with a ruler, and I gripped the pencil as though I were writing . . . but everyone said the sketch would reproduce."

And now the Women's Auxiliary of St. Andrew's has a ready line of cards -- that's nothing new for them. St. Andrew's women have a fund-raising history that goes back to 1883.

In 1883 their church was destroyed by Union troops stationed in the nearby town of Darien. Union, under the orders of a Union officer, Colonel Robert Shaw." In 1889 a minister in nearby Brunswick, Georgia, issued a plea through the New York Times for funds to rebuild the little chapel.

The sister of Colonel Shaw responded. She wrote to the people of St. Andrew's parish, telling them that her own wealth consisted of that part in burning the church. She sent the church one-thousand dollars for rebuilding . . . and another thousand dollars in memory of her son. The fund-raising church women took it from there . . . and the little chapel was rebuilt three years later.

Shopping Service

For a local group of Canadian women, Christmas shopping is no simple matter of making a list and checking off each item, one by one.

The women in that group are department store personnel buyers . . . and their job extends to the last minute of the last shopping day . . . the professional shopper is confined to a narrow, pretty unusual requests. And one personal shopper describes one she received just the other day. A woman called to say his wife was always saying she didn't have a thing to wear. So he wanted, for once, not to hear her say it. The shopper outfitted the women from head to toe for 75 dollars.

Another woman wrote describing in length her fondness for her cook . . . and told the shopper she wanted a dress in the cook's favorite color, purple. But she forgot to mention the cook's size.

Another shopper says they get requests to mail everything from "something very lovely and glamorous for two dollars," to a complete outdoor jungle gym for children.

Truancy

A prominent educator says that love of freedom is just one small cause for junior playing hooky. Parents, the school and the community also contribute to habitual truancy and absenteeism.

Dr. Francis J. Daly of the New York State Education Department says there is no doubt but what parental neglect is a major factor in truancy. He says that even parental attitudes and patterns of non-conformity at home can have an adverse effect.

Daly urges what he calls "interpretative liaison" between the home and school to help keep children in the classroom. And when the two agencies work, school psychologists and other officials must combine their efforts to find all the reasons for habitual truancy and tardiness.

Truckloads

Christmas trees are coming through this week by the truckloads and most of them are going to Toronto. We met eight trucks loaded with trees and we counted as many more so high you'd think they would tumble off. If trees weren't so decorative and so necessary at Christmas, one might feel it was a crime to cut these beautiful trees. But Christmas wouldn't be the same to us without the tree and so we hope they will keep planning them every year and not just pluck them out without replacing them as they are doing here.

Christmas Atmosphere

It is a real picture coming down Kent Street these days with all the colored lights really make it look like a Christmas Fairyland. Along with the new lights are the old fashioned spirit. The store windows enhance this section also and, whether you are shopping or window shopping, you'll enjoy seeing the sights.

Special Glow

This year they have cards that shine, ribbon that shines and other Christmas novelties that glow. It begins to look as if our whole Christmas will sparkle and shine for us. The cards are very pretty and will look beautiful when you go to visit the lights of the Christmas tree. Your gifts will glow also when wrapped with this specially-treated ribbon. Every year there is something new and most of us like a little glitter at this time of the year.

Attractive Outfits

One of our shops that caters to the very young fry have the most adorable outfits for the little tots now in your family. You'll have trouble making up your mind with so much to choose from. There are the rubber toys and the great variety of snow-suits etc. Yes, the young fry are going to be well cared for at Christmas and they should look like little angels when they don their new togs.

Women And Accidents

The female sex figured in some of the unfortunate happenings of the ladies . . . young and old . . . chalked up a good number of them.

In Toronto, Mrs. Elizabeth Bell, 79-year-old Joan Williams stuck her finger into the drain of the kitchen sink . . . the pipes were the sink to the hospital. The little lady's father, unable to pry his daughter loose from the drain, unbolted the sink and took it and the lady to hospital where attendants parted them.

In Memphis, Tennessee, two-year-old Mary Jane Williams somehow started the family car as it stood in the driveway. She steered it smack into the Redden living room. Mary Jane was unhurt, which is more than can be said for the car and the living room.

At Windsor, Ontario, Eugene Duda smashed his car into a lamppost when his girl friend kissed him. Her name was Betty Loveless.

Hollywood

One of the luminaries in Hollywood whose name doesn't shine in lights is a Yoga teacher named Indra Devi.

She teaches movie stars to eat moss and potato water, stand on their heads, and tie their legs into knots. This, she says, keeps them healthy.

Miss Devi teaches such movie stars as Robert Ryan, Suzanne Ball, Gloria Swanson, Gloria Grahame, Maia Powers and Jennifer Jones.

Miss Devi says Jenifer Jones is a grade-A knot-tyer-under. Gloria Christian, she says, excels in what is known as "the fish position". And Miss Powers' is so good at tying her legs in knots she posed for the teacher's recent book on Yoga.

But Miss Devi says Gloria Swanson is her prize pupil. Particularly in the diet department. Miss Swanson's diet for a day: Potato water and orange juice for breakfast; moss salad and cheese for lunch; and salad and vegetables for dinner.

Horseradish

If you like your food flavored with horseradish, you'll have to pay more for it.

Drought and disease have cut a swath in the horseradish harvest, and prices are climbing.

A produce man in St. Louis says prices are up easily 50 to 75 per cent. A spokesman for a large independents grocery concern says a shortage of perennial Yorkshire radish that went for 12 cents last year now costs 31 cents.

Household Hint

Here is today's household hint; Puddings won't separate if you let them cool before folding in beaten egg whites.

Christmas Weather

At least the weathermen is trying to make up for the fact that Christmas is really on its way. Predictions of a green Christmas took a back seat when the snow came and while it makes it hard to get around it looks more like Christmas. If it stays Santa-like we'll have a white one. Watching the rounds. From now on Junior should be on his best behavior. Santa will be making his rounds a week off and that is going to make shopping a must.

Wednesday Shoppers

Some thought the stores were open on Wednesday and others surmised that they would be closed. The weather was so unpredictable one could not find out whether they were or not. So, there wasn't a big crowd but some appeared as their spouses came, and might feel it was a crime to cut these beautiful trees. But Christmas wouldn't be the same to us without the tree and so we hope they will keep planning them every year and not just pluck them out without replacing them as they are doing here.

Residents Of County Home Entertained By Lindsay CWL

The elderly people at the Home for the Aged were entertained and given Christmas treats by the Catholic Women's League on Tuesday evening. A group of musicians and dance dancers were introduced by the chairman Mr. Richard Butler, Reeve of Lindsay.

Each number on the programme was received with enjoyment by the "Old Folks", who all entered into the sing-song with zest and a couple from their ranks stepdanced.

The community singing was led by Mrs. "Bill" Burke, who also contributed a group of songs, with Mrs. John Tingney accompanying her. Mrs. Joe Dudley and Mrs. Jack Norris played informal piano numbers during the course of the evening and Mr. Ed Quinn played old-time violin selections

The younger set was represented on the program by ringers Edgar Smith and Spencer Norris. Young Martha O'Neill danced an intricate tap-dance routine and a square dance group of 8 boys and girls brought back memories to the residents of The Range of Mrs. Lambert's days. Solos for the dance numbers. Santa Claus (Mr. Ed. Burns), distributed prettily-wrapped Christmas bags of goodies to the "oldsters" from his stand by the beautifully silvered Christmas tree which is lightening the gloomiest room in the Home this year.

Monsignor McAuley and Father Fitzpatrick were both on hand to add the occasion. Monsignor spoke to the gathering, as did Mrs. O'Reilly, president of the C.W.L. Women's League and Mr. Joe Cross, supervisor of Victoria County Home for the Aged, who assured the visitors that the evening's entertainment had been very much enjoyed by his charges.

Miss Ethel Neelands Is Honoured At Kawartha IODE Christmas Party

The December meeting of the Kawartha Chapter I.O.D.E. was held at the home of Mrs. Douglas Newington, Bond St., on Tuesday evening.

Made festive by the glow of candles and with Christmas greenery, this chapter's business (and social) evening when several young singers, introduced by Mrs. K. Griffin, brought the spirit of the season right to the members. Miss Anne and Miss Nellie Van der Bent were assisting in two choral numbers. Guest delighted everyone with several selections Faye Rich and Nancy Ann Hopkins were charming when they sang seasonable duets and solos.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation to Miss Ethel Neelands, a charter member, of a life membership in Kawartha Chapter. Mrs. George Hall, Regent, and Echoes secretary, made the award with a few well-chosen words to which Miss Neelands replied with a few apt remarks.

Mrs. George Beall conducted the business session, during which regrets were received from those unable to attend. Mrs Ethel Reid was commended for her successful New Brunswick Tartan Tea recently. Mrs. C. Wonabrough and Mrs. Lloyd Curtis told of the work of their committees in the annual Doll Draw. Mrs. Bruce McClelland, chapter secretary, reported on that phase of the Chapter's work. Bursaries were given to Miss Brenda Hutchinson and Miss Jerilenne Raby, for general proficiency in Grade XIII at the Lindsay Collegiate and Vocational. The two young ladies are pursuing further studies at Teachers' College, in Peterboro. Miss Hutchinson has also received a prize from the Chapter for high standing in Grade X Canadian History and Citizenship. Mrs Howard Hopkins made splendid arrangements to remember veterans at Sunnybrook Hospital at Christmas. Mrs. Carmen Blackwell, brought in a satisfactory amount. The usual Sports prizes were given by Mrs. W. Allely, secretary, and Mrs. Lawrence Blackwell, treasurer.

Mrs. Moore, White and Mrs. Alan Lacey were in charge of the social hour which followed.

Madeline E. Davey Becomes Bride Of Thomas Harrington

The marriage was solemnized in a double ring ceremony at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, Toronto, of Madeline Evelyn Davey, elder of and Mrs. Gladwyn Davey of Little Britain, to Thomas Gerard eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Harrington, of Downeyville. Reverend Doctor L. F. Borrett officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father wore a waltz-length white nylon lace gown with chapel veil, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. She was attended by Jean Kelbrick, of Lindsay, who wore aquamarine blue net and carried pink carnations. Leroy Harrington, brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were John Anderson and John Harrington.

The reception was held at the Glenview Terrace where the bride's mother received in hpis blue tricot dress and lace with matching accessories and corsage. The groom's mother assisted in midnight blue taffeta with white jewelled hat and corsage.

The bride and groom left for a short trip to the U. S. and on their return will reside in Toronto.

Christmas Meeting Of North Ops W.I.

The December meeting of North Ops W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. J. Migler with an attendance of 30 members and 12 children.

The president, Mrs. Hardy, opened the meeting with the Ode and Lord's Prayer repeated in unison.

The minutes of the November meeting read by the secretary, Mrs. W. Thurston, who later read correspondence from the T.B. campaign. Members voted in favour of sending a donation to the T.B. fund. The flower report was given by Mrs. Winter and plans were made to send Christmas fruit to shut-ins. Mrs. Curtins gave the current events and Mrs. Lamb of. fered to have the February meeting at her home.

The convener for the programme was Mrs. Migler and the splendid programme with all singing the carol "The First Noel." The roll call was answered with "sing and Christmas Carol" and proved varied entertainment of readings, poems, dance numbers, vocal and instrumental numbers, etc. Each member also gave a donation towards a box of Christmas goodies for a neighbor. The contest was completed. A contest was conducted by Mrs. Hall with each member giving a line by memory from "The Night Before Christmas."

Mrs. Hardy moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Migler for entertaining. Lunch featuring a delicious jolly, plump Santa Claus came bouncing in with gifts for the children and members. The singsong was led by Harold Anthony, followed by lunch and a social half hour ended an enjoyable afternoon.

Moose Lodge Christmas Party

Moose members, their wives and children gathered at the Moose Hall on Victoria Ave. for their annual Christmas party for the children. Bill Dermody was master of ceremonies and acted as a cordial host.

The programme opened with the children singing "Jingle Bells" and Santa Claus arrived shortly after. Three taking part in the program were as follows: Claude Irwin, recitation; Bruce Dermody, mouth organ; David Graham, vocal solo; Billy Dermody, recitation; Arlene and Karen Grills, tap dance and song; and Judy Mathers, vocal solo.

The draw for the turkeys then took place with Jack Bell taking the part of the girl's father. Five little girls and five little boys made the draw for the ten turkeys. The successful ones were as follows: Clayton Chalmers, R. R. 1, Lindsay; Norma Rich, Oakwood; Mrs. Myrtle Cornish, 29 Kent St. E.; Mr. Mathias, Woodville; R. Stala, 54 George St., Lindsay; Mrs B. Stubbing, 83 William St. S. Lindsay; Mrs. Bert Mercer, 20 Bond St. E. Geach, 61 Durham St. W., Lindsay; Ken Lamb, 159 Lindsay St. S. Lindsay.

Frank Burke received a live turkey from Jack Bell for selling the most tickets. Much credit was given to Jack Bell for the success derived from the turkey draw.

Santa Claus arrived after this and left a treat for every man for a while handing out 140 Christmas presents. Each child received a present and a bag of candy and fruit an orange included. After bidding Santa Claus goodbye the children left for refreshments after which where they were treated to chocolate milk, sandwiches and cake, which they enjoyed to the fullest. The party was highly commended for the way they handled the wrapping of the Christmas presents and for the most delightful lunch which they prepared for all who were present.

A vote of thanks was the plan-ist for the evening.

Many present were heard to say that it was a most successful party yet and the kiddies went home tired but happy that they had once again seen their old friend, Santa Claus.

Large Crowds Attend Annual Santa Claus Parade At Fenelon

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -The Fenelon Falls Santa Claus Parade lived up to its reputation for success on Saturday last, providing pleasure to onlookers young and old who lined the streets.

There were floats and decorated equipages to please the eye and catch the humour of the expectant crowd. From a chimney on one of the floats Santa rose to call merry greetings and throw oranges to the children and when the Snow Queen's white throne was the "Snow Queen".

Other floats provided humour and local interest in the representation and many featured the traditional Christmas greenery. Clowns and various weird animals frolicked between each float and "The Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe", "Peter, Peter Pumpkin Eater" and other well known characters appeared in skilfully portrayed. In one float a clever pupil of Arthur Murray, with his graceful partner danced to the lively music provided by the Little Britain Band. From some of the floats, the following (Float Report): Brandon and Gamble-Hearts; Popsets; Fairway Motors; Hardings Pellmere's; Big Bear Store around a camp Fire; J. M. Robinson; Cameron Point Farm Forum; Nerm's Lunch; Hebels; Allen wood Products; Fenelon Falls Co-operative Dairy; Vans, and if you miss any familiar names, no doubt they were there also. Richard Archibald, the characters or maybe the street cleaner or one of the dancers?

Lining up at the High School, the parade moved down Colborne St., and through the business section, along Colborne to Louisa, down John to Bond, back to Colborne and on Francis St., beside the Post Office, Santa's truck halted, and he climbed down the chimney.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I give a better flavor to baked pork chops?

A. If a thin layer of spiced apple butter is placed on baked pork chops, or cooked then sliced, the flavor mingles before the meat is removed from the oven, it will add a delicious flavor.

Q. How can I keep water, in which a hyacinth bulb is planted, sweet?

A. If a few pieces of charcoal are put into the glass in which the hyacinth bulb is planted, the water will be kept sweet.

Q. How can I give a pleasant scent to linens?

A. Dry sweet clover blossoms and spread them among the linens in the closet, cedar chest, or dresser, and it will produce a delightful scent.

Mrs. W. Marshall Hostess For Joint Meeting

Cameron (PNS) -- The December meeting of Cameron W.A. was held in the home of Mrs. W. Marshall with a large attendance of members and visitors.

Christmas hymns and carols sung by Mrs. Wellman gave an interesting talk on the third chapter of the Study Book "Wherein the Glory Lies". Mrs. Marshall thanked members for their help and cooperation during her term of office as president and asked that the members would give the same help to the new president, Mrs. A. Parkin.

The W.M.S. meeting followed. The roll was called and the minutes adopted as read. The autumn Thank Offering was $51.00 a nice sum hoping that the W.M.S. might be able to secure a speaker for an evening service. Since no speaker was available the offering was received at this meeting. It was decided to hold the annual congregational meeting and supper in January.

Mrs. Westaway was in charge of the worship service, taking as her theme. "And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us (and we beheld His glory, glory as of the only begotten from the Father)"

The Benediction closed the meeting and a side of items in a small Christmas bazaar followed, and all enjoyed a delicious lunch served by the hostess and her helpers.

Chocolate Bar Machine Resists Attempt To Rob It Here

Chief of Police John Hunter told "The Post" on Saturday that a breakin occurred at Victoria Motor Sales, on Russell Street, some time between 6.00 p.m. Thursday night and 8.00 a.m. Friday morning.

He says that entry was gained to the garage building by breaking a window in the rear, which was large enough for a man to crawl through.

The only thing in the interior of the premises that appeared to have been tampered with was a chocolate bar machine, the Chief stated. This machine, which was attached to a wall was almost pried from the wall and was battered. However, he says, no chocolate bars or money could be obtained from it by the thief or thieves.

The investigating officer was Sgt. Gordon Eberts.

Guests Entertained By Kirkfield WMS At Thankoffering

Kirkfield (PNS) -Members of the W.M.S. of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church had their Thankoffering meeting in the basement of the church. Ladies from Eldon Station and Bolsover were guests. In the president's absence Mrs. Bailey opened the meeting with a hymn, after which Mrs. Silverthorn, of Bolsover, read the Scripture lesson, chosen by Mrs. Ross Story, and Mrs. MacEachern of Eldon Station led in prayer. Mrs. Richard Wotherspoon, of Bolsover, contributed a very pleasing duet, accompanied by Mrs. Thompson at the organ. The Sunshine Mission Band sang a chorus with Mrs. Woffenden accompanist.

The president welcomed the visiting societies and introduced the guest speakers who were Major and Mrs. Underhill, of the Salvation Army.

Mrs. Underhill had spent some time in the village when a girl, so Bolsover was glad to see her again. Major Underhill addressed the ladies with a few words and said he would take charge of the Thankoffering. This is the work in the different missions, Trinidad, etc. while Mrs. Underhill explained how everyone would be interested with rapt attention, even the smaller children. When it was over everyone had a better idea how much good the Missionaries really do.

The offering was taken by Mrs. Wm Grant and Mrs. J. O. McInnis and dedicated with singing, "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow". Mrs. Helen Warminton, who accompanied by Mrs. Cecil Simpson, rendered a pleasing solo.

The meeting closed with a hymn and Benediction by the minister, Rv. A. S. MacLean. Mrs. Bailey invited everyone to the Sunday School Room, where all enjoyed a friendly time together during lunch.

Thomas Duncan

Allsaw was saddened recently by the loss of one of its well-known citizens in the person of Thomas Duncan. He passed away in his sleep on the morning of November 22nd, 1953, at Lindsay hospital, after having suffered only a short time from a heart condition.

Thomas Duncan was born in Minden Township, January 9th, 1888, son of the late Edward and Annie Duncan. On October 20th, 1915, he married Agnes Hogg, daughter of Jane Hogg and the late William Hogg, and they settled in Allsaw on the farm now occupied by his uncle, Thomas Davidson, where he resided until his death some 37 years later. His grandfather, William Davidson, cleared the farm of its virgin timber.

The boy visited at the John Welch and Son Funeral Home until Thursday morning, when it was taken to Ingoldsby church, where on Thursday afternoon at one o'clock, Rev. Mr. Rutherford, of Haliburton, conducted a very impressive and comforting service, using for his text the 14th chapter of St. John and the 23rd Psalm.

The hymns "Abide With Light," "The Old Rugged Cross and "Abide With Me" were sung during the service and "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" was played while the remains were being removed to the final resting place in Ingoldsby Cemetery.

The pallbearers were the five sons-in-law and brother-in-law, Harvey Minaker.

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, two sons, Edward, of Haliburton, and William, at home, and five daughters, Mrs. Milton Loucks (Edna), Mrs. Roy Hughes (Reita), Mrs. Edward McKelvey (Rhoda) of Minden, Mrs. Marvin Munn (Maisie), of Allsaw, Mrs. Frank Roberts (Jessie), of Haliburton, one brother, Mrs. William Harrison (Ella), Mrs. Harvey Minaker (Annie), of Lochlin; Mrs. Lawrence McKelvey (Janet) of Minden; a brother; John, of Lindsay, eight grandsons and nine granddaughters. A son, Murvil, predeceased him in his infancy, also a brother, William, who was killed in a boiler explosion, and a sister, Pearl, who died in her infancy.

The floral offerings were beautiful and there were many of them. "The Golden Gates were open, A gentle voice said "Come." And with farewells unspoken He peacefully entered Home."

Third Time Lucky?

Hespeler, Dec. 17 (BUP) — The town of Hespeler has decided to try for the third time to get out of Waterloo County.

An act for separation will be presented at the next session of the legislature. The county council recently refused to increase Hespeler's rebate for maintaining county roads from 25 per cent to 50 per cent; and town council officials say road costs are being unfairly distributed.

Exchange Of Gifts Featured At Christmas Meeting

Argyle (PNS) -- The December meeting of the Bolsover Branch of the W.I. was held in the school room, Bolsover, with a good representation of members present.

The president, Mrs. R. Steele, presided and the meeting opened with the Institute Ode, followed by the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison and the Mary Stewart collect. The roll call was answered by each member bringing a White Gift for the Ross Memorial Hospital.

The minutes and correspondence were read by the secretary, Mrs. L. Grant. The treasurer's report was given by the treasurer, Mrs. L. Grant. The flower committee's report was given by Mrs. F. Silverthorne. Plans were made to hold a euchre party in the Bolsover school. It was decided to buy two dozen more folding chairs.

Mrs. Charles Hopkins, convenor for the meeting then took charge and several Christmas carols were sung. Rae Flemming of Argyle gave a piano instrumental. Mrs. Harris gave a paper "The Meaning of Christmas," Shirley Peel danced the Highland Fling. Rae Flemming of Argyle gave another piano solo. The beautiful decorated Christmas tree was much admired by everyone, and the exchange of gifts took place, each member receiving a gift.

The National Anthem was sung and a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. C. Hopkins, Mrs. F. Silverthorne and Mrs. Harris and an enjoyable Christmas party was brought to a close.

Bazaar Sponsored By Gelert W.A.

Gelert (PNS) -- The W.A. of St. John's Anglican Church held a very successful bazaar. Donated articles, parcel post and a fancy table of good wares readily found buyers. The ladies served lunch to their customers and they were very pleased to have Rev. and Mrs. Ross Wooley of Minden and little daughter, Susan, come and join them in their activities.

In the evening they were also sponsors of a dance at which the lucky draw was made and the door prize. Mrs. Frank Lee won the ticket and Miss Gladys Hornell was holder of the lucky number 36. The music for the dance was furnished by Messrs. Joe Peacock and Preece. At midnight the ladies served lunch and the very successful day was brought to a close.

Shirley Jewell Presented With Pin

Sunderland (PNS) -- Miss Shirley Jewell of West Brock was singularly honoured recently when she was made the recipient of the highest standing hac excellent work in the Junior Homemaker project, sponsored by the Sunderland W.I. for the past season.

Shirley majored in dress-making and was under the excellent tutorship of Miss Margaret Marquis and Mrs. Jean Keeler.

A very unique innovation of the presentation was that Mrs. William Bagshaw, elderly life member, of the Sunderland W.I., was called upon to do the honour of pinning the token on her granddaughter. "It was one of the proudest moments of my life," stated this venerable lady, who has been one great mainstay around which the success of the local W.I. has revolved for so many years.

Cannington Lodge Celebrates 25th. Anniversary

Cannington (PNS) Queen Mary Rebekah Lodge celebrated its 25th anniversary with 125 members and visitors from the following lodges present; Orillia, Beaverton, Lindsay and Toronto.

During the meeting, nine charter members were presented with corsages by Assembly Vice-President, Mrs. Priestly of Toronto and District Deputy, Mrs. Walton, Beaverton. The Assembly Vice President, making her joint official visit to Beaverton, Lindsay and Cannington lodges, spoke graciously to the members endearing herself to everyone present.

Musical numbers were contributed by Lindsay and Beaverton lodges, numerous speeches were given and lodge closed in the usual form after which a delicious lunch consisting of sandwiches, small cakes, tarts and birthday cake was served and a social hour enjoyed.

Omemee Arena Menaced By Mysterious Fire

Fire Marshal Is Requested To Investigate

Omemee (CNS) — Fire threatened to destroy the Omemee Skating Rink last night but firemen managed to confine it to the furnace room. The fire was first noticed by neighbours who immediately alerted Fire Chief Stevens. Arriving with their modern pumper, the firemen quickly brought the fire in check despite near-zero temperatures which prevailed.

Chief Stevens says flames were really belching out of the windows of the arena nearest the furnace room and declares his boys did a good job of confining the blaze to that area. An estimated $300 to $400 damage was done to the building.

The chief says he has called the Ontario Fire Marshal requesting that investigators be sent to Omemee to determine the cause of the fire. He states that the outbreak is a mystery to him since there had been no fire in the building since early spring and there has been no one working around the building this winter so far. Preparations for the winter's skating have not been started.

Heavy Poll At Kinmount

Kinmount Police Village held its election on Monday. While the weather was inclement 90 percent of the eligible voters braved the storm and by 6:00 p.m. the good wishes of the village were extended to the genial C.N.R. Station Agent, Robert Blair who headed the poll with 78 votes. Mr. J. E. Taylor, local car dealer, a comparative newcomer to the community followed closely with 76 votes. Third in line was Mr. T. R. McGrath with 53 votes, followed by Mr. Mansfield the village barber with 46. Garland Barkwell -41, Dave McNamara -38, Clifford Bain -25, Jesse Chalmers-19.

Ticks, Checks Ruled Okay On Ballots

Orillia, Dec. 17 -- (BUP) -- John R. McIsaac is the new mayor of Orillia because Judge J. D. Harvie made a special ruling to accept ticks or check marks on a ballot instead of the customary X's.

For a while it was feared the city clerk would have to toss a coin to decide the winner from the two candidates who had the same number of votes.

The Judge's recount gave Deputy Reeve John R. McIsaac a majority of 13 votes. Reeve Hugh Johnston, who was tied with McIsaac received only one vote in the recount. The third candidate, 1953 Mayor Wilbur Cramp was defeated in the three way contest.

Miss Kimble is still confined to the Oshawa hospital where she is receiving treatment for her injuries.

Maryknoll Project Is Bogged Down By Federal-Provincial Red Tape

Must Now Determine If Permitted To Pay Their Full Share

At a long meeting Thursday night -- over three hours -- the Town Council, representatives of the Maryknoll Housing Co-operative and Mr. Clarke of the Department of Planning and Development discussed the problems that have arisen in connection with services, etc., at the East Ward project.

The problem resolved itself into two questions: (1) Whether council is permitted to charge Maryknoll 100 per cent. for services within the project when in the as-yet-unsigned agreement it calls for Maryknoll to pay 78 per cent. and (2) whether council is allowed to charge the Maryknoll home builders and other benefitting property owners there an area charge in order to pay for a large trunk sewer to service a large area there.

The first part (to allow Maryknoll to pay 100 per cent) it was explained, would have to be an extra agreement between the Town and Maryknoll Co-operative.

During the course of the meeting, Mr. Guy Mills asked Mr. Clarke, "Don't we Maryknoll pay 100 per cent of the cost within the project?" Mr. Clarke answered and said, "No under the present agreement. Maryknoll will pay 78 per cent. and the Town 22 per cent." Mr. Mills then stated that the Maryknoll wanted to pay 100 per cent. and would be willing to sign an agreement with the Town to do so.

Mr. Mills stated that the Maryknoll builders have funds in the Town . . . want to live here and make our homes here . . . feel the town would benefit by having us build homes. We don't want charity." He said the Co-operative didn't want to set any precedent by having the Town pay 22 per cent, but the men wanted to pay the whole 100 per cent. He said he would like to see this agreement between the Federal Government (Central Mortgage and Housing Corp.) the Provincial Government (The Department of Planning and Development) and the Municipality. But first, he said, he would like Maryknoll to enter into an agreement with the Town to pay the extra 22 per cent.

Mr. Mills said to council that "the Federal and Provincial Governments are out to help us, surely council will do that for to help us."

The legal points in question are to be decided by the Town Solicitor and the Department's Mr. Bell. Another meeting will be necessary. If the Town is allowed by the agreement to levy the area charge to the Maryknoll builders to allow them to pay 100 per cent as they have requested (instead of 78 per cent as Mr. Clarke says the agreement now reads) progress of services on Maryknoll will, probably, not take much more discussion. If however, this is not allowed, the plan is about back where it started when presented originally on November 2nd.

The reason council has been curious on the matter of financing services at Maryknoll was explained by Mr. Breese. He said that at other projects in town -- for instance the Taylor projects -- the contractor paid 100 per cent for services, then will add it to the cost of the homes. He said that the people who bought homes there and paid 100 per cent would reason having to pay that and then help pay the 22 per cent the Town is supposed to assume at Maryknoll, if the 22 per cent. was absorbed into the general tax rate. "They won't like it," he commented.

That is the point, Mr. Mills stated, that the Maryknoll don't want any 22 per cent added to anything. They want to pay the full 100 per cent. themselves and were willing to enter into a separate agreement with the Town to do so.

Earlier in the evening Mr. Mills had stated that when Maryknoll entered into the agreement in the fall we were under the impression that we would bear the total cost of services in the Maryknoll property. We were given the impression that services would be paid for by the Federal Government. Now we find the Town would get their money back in taxes . . . at no expense to the Town.

Mr. Clarke explained that the "Federal government in partnership with the Provincial government rather than assessing only with municipalities, not with any private group without municipal sponsorship. He said the Land Assembly Scheme was brought in to assist the co-op and other people in Town to get reasonably-priced, serviced land on which to build homes.

Since there had been quite a bit of talk about who was going to pay for the sewer from Kent Street E. to the entrance to Maryknoll Ave., Mr. Clarke said "it would be kind of tough to ask the Federal-Provincial Government to come to Lindsay to instal 200 feet of sewer. If there was no intention to develop the rest of the area (Leslie and Russell), it would seem easy to do it without the Federal or Provincial government. But, he said, by your (Maryknoll to enter into an agreement with the Town to pay the extra 22 per cent.

Mr. Clarke then went over the estimates point by point and there were several places, he said, where Town could save money if they so chose -- storm sewers being one thing mentioned. He said these were not immediately needed.

Mr. Mills and the builders stated that they are eager to get the services in. Mr. Mills stated the expected occupancy date of the houses now under construction to be "approximately March."

As the meeting drew to a close it was apparent that the next step hinged on the two points in the second paragraph of this story and work could proceed no further until the legal aspect of this is cleared up by lawyers Bell and Fulton.

Another meeting is to be held, as council wants to speed up their part of this matter and not hold back the builders of Maryknoll, and the latter are, naturally, anxious to get services into the 16 homes at present under construction.

Bitter Potion Downed By Queen

Queen Elizabeth drained a bitter native drink from a coconut-shell bowl today before thousands of delighted Fijians.

The non-alcoholic drink is called "Kava" -- and to refuse it would have been a grave insult to the natives.

The Fijians shouted "Macа" -- meaning empty --when the Queen drained the sour, murky liquid. She turned with an impish smile to watch her husband, Prince Philip, as he drained his cup. (BUP)

4 Crackers, 2 Pieces Cheese Don't Make Meal, Judge Rules

Toronto, Dec. 18 (BUP) -- An Ontario judge has ruled that four crackers and two pieces of cheese do not make a meal.

Judge W. T. Robb, chairman of the Ontario Liquor Licence Board yesterday advanced the closing hour of the Bermuda Tavern in Toronto from 2 a.m. to midnight after hearing testimony that 50 per cent of the food ordered for the past few months was for cheese and crackers.

The Liquor Board allows liquor outlets with dining room licences to serve liquor after midnight with meals.

Inspectors said the waitresses at the tavern suggested patrons that they order cheese and crackers, consisting of a little cellophane package of crackers and two small pieces of cheese.

Judge Robb declared after the trial, "A few crackers and a piece of cheese wouldn't make a meal for me."

Convicted Kidnappers Laugh, Talk, Smoke In Final Hour

(British United Press)

It was a painless death for them. It was unlike the one they gave six-year-old Bobby Greenlease in Kansas wheatfield.

Carl Austin Hall, 34 years old, and Bonnie Brown Heady, 41 years old, were executed in the Missouri gas chamber at Jefferson City early today, 81 days after one of the most shocking crimes in a generation.

It took seven minutes and 30 seconds for the cyanide to kill Hall. Mrs. Heady held her breath at first and it was nine minutes and 40 seconds before she was pronounced dead. She had been both unconscious within one minute and 15 seconds after the gas clouded the death chamber.

Hall buried the child in the grave they had dug before they kidnapped him and took 600-thousand dollars from a father who thought his son was still alive.

Hall and his sweetheart went to death after a last meal of fried chicken and a last embrace that left Hall's lips bright red with lipstick.

They spent their final minutes together in a detention cell in the death house. A minister who stayed with them for a time said they were calm. They laughed . . . talked . . and smoked a last cigarette.

Then the guards came to blindfold them and walk them to the small death room.

Three guards strapped them in the metal chairs set side by side in the execution room. Hall's dark hair had been freshly fixed. She wore a bright green prison dress.

Hall was quiet. Mrs. Heady talked.

"These straps are too tight."

Hall then said, "Honey."

"Honey do you have enough room."

Then Mrs. Heady asked if her dress was pulled over her knees enough. No one answered. She asked Hall, "Honey are you all right." He wet his lips and mumbled . . . "Yes Mama."

They were the last words.

Tons of Fowl At Uxbridge Christmas Sale

Uxbridge, Dec. 17 -- Twenty-six tons of turkeys, ducks, geese and chickens were sold at the Uxbridge Christmas m a r k e t Thursday. Prices were normal: turkeys sold at 55-60 cents, ducks at 45 to 47, geese at 38-40 and chickens at 42-45 cents.

A special feature of the market, an annual event sponsored by the Uxbridge Kinsmen Club, was an egg and poultry competition judged by Prof. J. F. Frank and Dr. Lynn Wright of the Ontario Agricultural College poultry department. Jack Depoit of Uxbridge was judged egg champion, and Bryce Park of Cannington won the poultry prize.

Born at Lindsay, Dies in Toronto

A teacher for many years at Queen Victoria Public School, Jessie Tisdale Mungall Entwistle, wife of Willis Entwistle, died Friday at her home, 189 Blythwood Rd.

Mrs. Entwistle was born in Lindsay, where she received her early education. She was a graduate of the University of Toronto, and prior to her marriage was on the teaching staff of the Toronto public schools.

A former member and Sunday School teacher of Centennial United Church, she was latterly a member of St. George's United Church. She leaves her husband; two daughters, Jean Carol, a nurse in training at the Toronto General Hospital; and Nora MacDougall, a student at the Atkinson School of Nursing; her mother, in Hamilton, and a sister, Mrs. G. T. Kemp, Hamilton.

Immigration Day For Catholics

Oshawa Dec. 18 --(BUP)--Canadian Catholics will observe Immigration Day on January 6th Epiphany Day.

The Canadian Catholic Conference said the announcement carried into effect for Canada the Apostolic Constitution "Exsul Familia" published last year by Pope Pius. An Immigration Day has already been established in other countries, including Italy and Australia.

Legion Election Of Officers Spirited Affair

Cliff Cote was re-elected president of the Sir Sam Hughes Branch No. 67 of the Canadian Legion here last night.

Col. R. I. Moore acted as the returning officer for what was termed by members present as a "lively election." There were 40 men running for the 12 offices available. It was recalled by one member that it was the last three hours that a last night's meeting that he can remember at a similar meeting in the past. The meeting was lengthy too, for it began at 8:00 p.m. and was not finished until 12:26 a.m. today.

The complete executive of the Sir Sam Hughes Branch for the ensuing year is as follows: president, Cliff Cote; 1st vice-president Gordon Tully; 2nd vice-president, Dr. Currie; secretary, R. C. Wansbrough, W. S. Tully, R. E. English, L. V. Henry, Jasper Forman, Jack Pitsell and Harold Flood; Sgt. at Arms, R. E. Sharpe.

500 Youngsters Enjoy Legion Christmas Party

Close to 500 youngsters, children of Canadian Legion members, attended the Legion Christmas party last week at their York street auditorium. A spokesman said that so many attended in fact that "more space could have been used" were it available. The party has been termed "a big success."

Chairman was R. J. Trotter. An interesting feature of the program was the showing of the coloured film of the complete Santa Claus parade held in Toronto this year. It had been obtained by Mr. T. Longson, of the T. Eaton Co.

The highlight was, naturally, the arrival of Santa Claus who distributed gifts to all the kiddies present, assisted by Geo. Kemp, Clarence Silvers, Vern Henry and members of the Ladies Auxiliary.

Tom McFadden told "the Post" today that the presents distributed were valued at an estimated $600.

Maryknoll Procedure Puzzles Water Board

The current Maryknoll controversy and the Water Board's future part in the project was the subject of considerable discussion on Thursday evening at a meeting in their Town Hall office. The co-operative housing-scheme idea was something that had no precedent in their files. How to charge for installing of water services in such cases placed commissioners in a real quandary. Their regular policy is to charge a set fee of $80 for individual installation of services from the lot line into a house. The two wiring for the main to the lot line, it was explained.

Town Engineer Leslie Wilson who was attending a meeting in the Council Chamber, acted as ireciary from the latter meeting, to inquire what exactly the Water Board's policy would be in the servicing of a group of houses (referring to the Maryknoll Co-operative Plan). Mr Wilson retired to inform his colleagues that the subject was still being debated.

Commissioner Collins will write Provincial Secretary Dunbar for a definition of the relative clause in the 1953 Act.

A statement from the Lindsay Rotary Club on the financial status of their Community Swimming Pool was studied. Chairman Leslie Gordon and those present agreed that their request for free water was reasonable. Mr. Gordon said there were arguments for and against the free water, but Mr. Lamb praised the Rotary Club for sponsoring the Service Club is to be asked to send a representative to the next Board meeting, to talk over their needs in this matter.

Superintendent Bob Reynolds reported the town pumps had been improved by the new motor, and brought forward a request from an industrial firm in the South Ward for a hydrant to be installed near their premises, (in the Mill and Durham Sts. district) so as they could install a sprinkling system. After much discussion Miss Thompson, secretary, was instructed to write the firm, requesting the people him to appear at the next meeting. The presence of a second factory in the vicinity will ask a better track railway line close by compilicated matters.

A trade occupant requested service mains, but it was decided that unless the residence was permanent or land was owned by the people the mains will be trailer the request would not be compiled with.

Five cards for new services were read from the parishioners of the Roman Catholic Separate School which was in progress. Mr. Reynolds and Commissioner Collins and Sinclair advocated a general report of the Water Board be prepared for publication in the auditors have checked the books on January 18th. "After all it is their money", said Mr. Collins, "and should, of course, to the residents of Lindsay.

Flying Saucer Over Sweden, Order Probe

A flying saucer of some sort has been reported over the airfield and the Swedish defense command has ordered a full investigation.

A Swedish airline pilot and his mechanic say they saw the strange object streaking along at faster than speed of sound. At first, they thought it was a jet.

But the two airmen say the craft had no wings and left no vapor trail.

The Swedish defense department has ordered reports from all its bases installations in the area. And the pilot has been instructed to make detailed drawings of the thing he saw, which is believed to have been some kind of missile.-- BUP

Casket Makers Here Negotiate Union Contract

The majority of workers at the Northern Casket Co. in Lindsay are now members of the International Woodworkers Association (CIO-IWA). The contract was signed between the union and the company last Monday morning and is effective as of December 11th. This was announced by a union member today and confirmed by a company official.

Included in the agreement were two weeks holidays after five years, one more Statutory Holiday in the year, making six; a 7 cents hourly increase across the board and a 47½ hour week.

Abbott Surplus $275,100,000

The nation recorded a surplus of $75 million, 100 thousand dollars during the first eight months of the current fiscal year. Finance Minister Douglas Abbott says the amount is 16 million, 800 thousand dollars less than the surplus on hand at the corresponding date last year.--BUP

Snowy Owl Seen At Sunnyside

Toronto Dec. 19 --(BUP)-- A Snowy Owl has been seen Along Sunnyside indicating another migration of these huge birds may be occurring.

Every four or five years, when food in their Arctic home terrain becomes scarce they head south. Harmless to humans, they feed on small rodents.

They have a wingspan of four feet or more and are all white.

Injured When Car Hits Pole

Brampton, Dec. 18 (BUP) -- A Bolton man was seriously injured and three passengers suffered minor injuries when their car crashed into a hydro pole, blacking out Main Street north in Brampton.

Twenty-three-year-old Roy Goodfellow is in Peel Memorial Hospital today with a fractured skull, face cuts and shock. Goodfellow's three passengers received only minor cuts and bruises.

Police said the car was travelling south on Main Street when it swerved off the road, hit a sign post and bounced into the pole. The car turned over on its roof after hitting the pole.

George W. Robinson

Friends and relatives were shocked to hear of the passing of George W. Robinson, of a heart attack at his home on Vaughan Rd., Toronto. He was in his 72nd year.

Born at Mt. Horeb, he spent most of his boyhood around there and at Janetville and attended Albert College, Belleville, for a time. After going to Toronto, he married and later went to Winnipeg, where he was engaged in the customs office until about 12 years ago. He was advised at that time by his doctor to return to Ontario for his health's sake.

He and his wife, (formerly Lena Champion) again settled in Toronto. Their only daughter, Grace, remained in Winnipeg. One son, George, died in infancy. His wife also predeceased him eight years ago.

The funeral was held on Friday, December 4th from Brown's Funeral Parlors, Rev. Judson McIntosh, a close friend of the late Mr. Robinson, officiated and interment was made in Prospect Cemetery beside his wife.

The floral tributes were beautiful and bore silent testimony of the esteem in which he was held.

Besides his daughter, Grace, who was present, he is survived by his only sister, Bertha, (Mrs. Richard Wright) of Lindsay; also two brothers, Wilson of Lindsay, and Allan of Grenfell, Sask. Three older brothers, Thomas H., Frank, and Wilbur predeceased him some years ago.

The pallbearers were six nephews, namely, two Champion nephews and Ivor Littlejohn, Toronto; Cecil Robinson, of Ajax, William Robinson and Ernest Wright, of Lindsay.

Woodville W.I. Makes Donation To New Library

Woodville (PNS) -- The December meeting of the Woodville W.I. was held at the home of the president, Mrs. R. Murray. The meeting was called to order with the singing of the Ode, followed by the Lord's Prayer. All joined in singing the verse of "Joy to the World." Twenty eight members and five visitors responded to the roll call by bringing a box of candy which is to be taken to the County Home for a Christmas treat. Mrs. C. McCarthy received the attendance prize.

It was decided not to rent the Institute tablecloths at any future date. A letter just was received from the W.I. library board re a donation to the furnishings of the now nearly-completed new library. A sum of $50 was given to the above library. The Community rink sent a request for paint for the inside of the vestibule and two gallons were given to them.

Mrs. O. Lamb was appointed to take over the secretary-treasurer's office owing to Mrs. Hooey moving from the village. Mrs. Murray gave a splendid report on the area convention, which she attended in November. The theme of the convention was "Highway of Interest Leads to Healthful Relaxation."

Mrs. M. Austin was in charge of the Christmas program and one verse of "Silent Night" was sung. Mrs. R. McLeod read a poem "There Will Always be Christmas." Mrs. Pointen read from a current magazine, "Christmas at Our House." Mrs. Austin read the origin of the first Christmas tree, which was in 1847.

The meeting closed by all repeating the Mary Stuart Collect. A Christmas lunch was served by the following hostesses: Mrs. Austin, Mrs. Duggan, Mrs. R. McLeod, Mrs. I. Simpson, Mrs. Pointen.

Fenelon Girl Tendered Shower

Fenelon Falls (PNS) --Mrs. Clarence Sims and Mrs. W. A. Bain entertained at Mrs. Sims home, at a miscellaneous shower in honour of Miss Jean Thomson, prior to her marriage to Mr. Donald Clarke, which took place on Saturday. Some 30 guests were present, and when the bride-elect and her mother arrived, they were seated in decorated chairs and each presented with a corsage of baby 'mums by Mrs. Sims.

After a few words from their mother Catherine and Lawrence Sims presented the gifts, which were arranged on a decorated wagon and drawn in by the children. Mrs. Thomson assisted Jean to open the many gifts which were varied, and all useful as well as attractive. The gifts were passed around for everyone to see and admire. Jean graciously thanked her friends in Fenelon Falls and the hostesses.

The most enjoyable evening concluded with delicious refreshments served by Mrs. Bain and Mrs. Sims who were assisted in serving by Mrs. Baker and Mrs. J. Kelly.

Cambridge Street United Church W.A. Holds Beautiful Christmas Meeting

The Christmas meeting of the Cambridge St. United Church W.A. was held recently. The decorations were in keeping with the Christmas season.

The president, Mrs. Wright, opened the meeting with prayer followed by the hymn, "While shepherds Watched Their Flocks." Reports of the November meeting were read and adopted and several items of business disposed of.

Mrs. Waite was in charge of the Devotional period. Mrs. Perry played a Christmas piano medley. Mrs. Waite read a very lovely poem and Mrs. Frederick read the Scripture, taken from St. Luke's gospel, Chapter two. Rev. Mr. Honey lead in Christmas hymn, "In the bleak mid-winter."

Mr. Waite introduced Mrs. N. Jacobs, first vice-president of the W.A. Presbytery, as guest speaker. The Christmas topic, "Unto Us A Child is Born", was very capably taken by the speaker. "Christ came not in wealth or splendor, but in a lowly shed. In lowliness He came to be a Saviour to the poor and humble. The shepherds came and saw and worshipped the Christ child, the one gift which has not worn out or become forgotten. God's gift to man, uniting east and west, including all nations, which never grows old or changes."

The speaker continued by asking "Whose Birthday Is It? To you is born a Saviour, only one who is divine can be a Saviour. As Christ is unselfish and loving, so ought we to be like Him. May we all have hope and love." Mrs. Jacobs read a beautiful poem "When Christ Came" and closed with prayer.

Miss Elizabeth Fulton played a beautiful piano solo. Vote of thanks was by Mrs. Dunnee to Mrs. Jacobs for her excellent talk.

The meeting closed with the hymn "Silent Night" and Dr. H. B. Neal pronounced the Benediction.

Mrs. Hussey head of Nominating Committe read the following slate of officers for the coming year.

Mrs. E. Greenaway Recipient Of Life Membership

The December meeting of the Eden W.M.S. was held at the church and opened with quiet music by the organist. The theme was "And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us (and we beheld His glory glory as of the only begotten from the Father."

The president opened with the call to worship. A hymn was sung. Mrs. Jack Jewell taking the part of the first reader and prayer was offered by the president. Another hymn was sung and Mrs. Cameron took the part as second reader, followed by a hymn and prayer by Mrs. S. Smith. A reading, "What Does Christmas Mean to You?" was given by Mrs H Western. The part of the third reader taken by Mrs. E. Greenaway followed by a solo "O Little Town of Bethlehem" by Mrs. S. Gorrill.

The president conducted the business. Minutes were read and approved and the roll call answered by 18 members. The offering was received and dedicated by the president. The roll call is to be answered in 1954 by a favourite verse in the Bible. It was moved the WMS meet in the homes for winter and the church in summer.

The presentation of a Life Membership Certificate was made to Mrs E. Greenaway. The address was read by Mrs. H. Jewell and the certificate presented by Mrs. S. Smith. A hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds" was sung, followed with an interesting talk on "Why the Chimes Rang" by Mrs. N. Lee. A talk by Rev. F. Little followed by a hymn brought the meeting to a close, with Rev. F. Little pronouncing the Benediction.

The January meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. J. Tamlin, and Dr. H. B Neal conducted the installation service. The officers are: Honorary presidents -Mrs. H. Neal and Mrs. Rev. Robinson; past president -Mrs P. Ekrich; president- Mrs. C. Wright; secretary -Mrs. H. Stone; treasurer -Mrs. Mann; Corresponding secretary -Miss B Mark; and press secretary -Mrs. Swinson.

A very dainty lunch was provided by Mrs Waite and her group and a social half-hour enjoyed by the ladies.

Brownies Enrolled At Annual Party

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -The Fenelon Falls Brownie Pack, with their leaders, Mrs. Hugh Hepburn and Mrs. D. Armstrong held their annual Christmas party in the Public school auditorium. Mrs. Hepburn welcomed the mothers and the party opened with a clothes pin relay game, Mothers against Brownies, and strange to it may seem the mother's won!

Following the regular Brownie ceremonies exercises a picturesque enlivment ceremony was held around a fairy pool and Judith James, Glenda Murchison, Isabel Webster, Linda McNevan, Elaine Ellis and Patricia Thompson were enrolled as Brownies by the Brown Owl. The National Anthem was sung and the Grand Howl given for the new Brownies.

On a fairy trail an investing ceremony was conducted by Brown Owl for Sixers and Seconders. The Sixers invested were Maureen Jull; Sharon Mitchell, Marilyn Chalmers; Beverley Harris; Lynn Hebel; Lemoyne Fredrick and the Seconders, Mary Marshall; Edith June Curtis; Sonia Everett; Arlene Jackell; Susanne Coburn and Andrea Sergeant. A fairy ring was formed and Grand Howl given for new Sixers and Seconders and the Brownies returned to the corners after saying the Toadstool fairy verse.

Mrs. Hepburn told a Christmas story, during which a number of familiar carols were sung by the Brownies and the mothers of the newly-enrolled Brownies, who were guests at the party.

Following an exchange of Christmas gifts the Gnomes served the delicious lunch, which was prepared by Mrs. Wm. White, Mrs. F. Brandon and Mrs. J. Curtis.

3 Teen-Aged Boys Drown At Oak Lake

Skating On Thin Ice, Break Thru

Stirling, Dec. 21 (BUP) -- Three teen-age boys have drowned while skating on thin ice at Oak Lake near Stirling.

Half a dozen neighbors tried vainly to locate the screaming boys in the gathering dark last night -- then one by one they gave up their grip on the edge of the crumbling ice and disappeared.

The dead are 17 year old Gilbert Brenton, 13 year old Keith Aide and his brother, Layton, who would have been 17 on Christmas day.

The three boys went skating yesterday afternoon on the ice, which was four to six inches thick near shore, but very thin and softened by the sun about 200 feet farther out.

They plunged through just as darkness was falling. Neighbors heard their cries and rushed out. They could not see them, and while they searched the screams faded away.

Police were called and began dragging operations. Two of the bodies have been recovered, with the fists still tightly locked about chunks of ice.

Chain Reaction Traffic Pile-up

A chain reaction collision involving two cars and truck occurred at the intersection of Kent and William Sts on Sunday night at 7.10 p.m. Damage to the vehicles involved has been estimated by police to be about $500. Police say that charges are pending.

The three vehicles were all proceeding west on Kent Street. The one nearest the stop light (the change of which was awaited) was a car owned by Donald Deniliko, of 7 George Street and was driven by his brother, John Daniliko. Behind him was a truck driven by Sandford McKenzie, of 222 Treasse St., Oshawa, and the last was a car driven by Harold Hopkins of 738 Queen Street East Toronto.

Police state that the Hopkins car was in collision with the rear of the McKinnon truck, which in turn hit the Deniliko car. Damage to the Hopkins car's front end was heavy, $500 approximately, to the truck $100, and the Daniliko car, $35.

The investigating officer was Constable Ralph Fountain of the Lindsay Police.

Will Support Egg Prices At Same Levels

OTTAWA Dec. 21 --(BUP)-- Egg prices will be supported next year on the same basis as this year.

Acting Agriculture Minister Walter Harris announced that the support price will be 38 cents a dozen based on Grade A large delivered at storage points.

The Agricultural Prices Support Board, Harris said, would buy eggs as needed, at the established price plus carrying charges. This would "enable commercial buyers and marketing organizations to maintain prices to producers in keeping with the support price."

Walter Wilson Appointed New Exhibition Manager

A new manager of the Lindsay Central Exhibition, to replace the late B. L. McLean who guided its affairs for many years, was appointed by the Fair Board at their meeting last week, 4 applications for the position were received before the final choice was made.

The man appointed was Mr. F. W. (Walter) Wilson, well-known to Lindsay people through his position with the local branch of the Board of Commerce of which he was manager for 11 years, from 1939 to 1949. He is now assistant manager of the bank, son was manager of the bank's Orillia Branch. Mr. Wilson retired from banking in 1946.

This past year, Mr. Wilson handled the financial end of the Lindsay Fair's business.

Improvements Planned

The Fair Board is reported to have under consideration at the present time extensive improvements in the buildings and attractions. Members say they hope to make the 1954 version of the exhibition here bigger and better than ever before.

Conklin Shows will continue to bring their attractions to the Lindsay Fair, it was revealed at the meeting and as far as the Board known at the moment, Mr. Conklin hasn't made a decision re taking his show to the Peterboro Fair. He was given a time limit by the Board concerning the number of days previous to the Lindsay Fair in which he could appear in Peterboro, (since he has a contract with the local Board), but it is not known at the moment if he has made a deal wih Peterboro.

Omemee Santa Claus Parade Witnessed By District Throng

Omemee (PNS) -The annual Santa Claus parade sponsored by the merchants of Omemee was held Saturday afternoon with a splendid throng present. Juniors and seniors, all bundled up in snowsuits, were looking forward to seeing Santa and receiving their gifts from the loaded bag of candies from their idol.

The parade started from the Greenery about 2 p.m. with a police escort, with the Havelock Kiltie Band thrilling all with their Highland airs Omemee Legion, with color party, followed out with the Mayor, village's mile, Ted's Varsity, escorted by Melville Lathangue, following Right behind came the Omemee Legion Float with Comrades R. W. Mitchell, Edgar Bentham and James Brooks at work, and "Old Bill" of World War I, accompanying their field kitchen along with captured German equipment and machine guns.

The Fire Brigade Corps followed with the old Bewdley hand pumper. The old Omemee engine and the new equipment.

Omemee Rint Club, sponsored by Mr. G. Linton, had aboard their float Edgar Johnson, Harold Laidley and Russel Ball with 2 clowns.

Well clad in their uniforms and led under Scoutmaster Joyce, followed by the float sponsored by the Young People's Bible Class and depicting the Birth of Christ. They were Barbara Rawlins, Wanda Bannon, Loraine Hyland, Judy Wheaung, Susan Rose, Yvonne Parker, Leslie Fee, Robert Young, Larry Larose, H. Laidley, Garfield Whitney, Warren Bannon and Gordon Masterson.

Next in line was the Fenelon Falls Salvation Army Band. A new model car from Omemee Motors was admired by the parade viewers. A badly-damaged car towed by a wrecking truck from the same home bore the special care while driving.

Mr. McLeod, new proprietor of the West End Lunch had a very attractive display.

Then came Santa Claus in all his glory. It is doubtful if Santa has ever arrayed like him. Two stalwart escorts or should they be called gendarmes -Douglas Graham and Thomas Stephenson rode with him bringing up the rear was R. W. Mitchell's decorated truck.

Comic characters represented - Puss-in-Boots, Rudolph, Donald Duck, Mickey Mouse, Fat Woman, Punkin Head, Little Bo-Peep, Teddy Bear, Two Sheiks from Araby and The Old Woman Who lived in a Shoe, were all received by local folk and deserve special mention.

The Hall was jammed for the show long before Santa arrived on the scene from the west end, but Bill Weir, genial M.C., kept everyone busy singing carols. The Salvation Army Band played several selections.

With the arrival of Old Saint Nick the happy youngsters made the rafters ring with their shouts of Kaching his seat on the platform, hundreds of joyous kiddies filled by him for the Christmas festivities.

Reeve Deyell thanked everyone for their support and generosity and the happy throng returned to their homes.

"It is hoped that nothing shall prevent the continuance of this event in the years to come for the children of Korea and elsewhere will never feel the happiness that the average Canadian child experiences," an Omemee resident has stated.

There is a lot of talk about guided missiles: as if they haven't been known for years on the ball fields and in the hockey rinks. —Port Arthur News-Chronicle.

Cars Collide On Mill Street

An accident at the intersection of Mill and Ridout Streets on Saturday afternoon caused estimated damage of $60 to the two cars involved.

The police state that at 5.45 p.m. Saturday, a car owned and operated by Mrs. Gertrude Ann Gilcreg, Albert Street E. was proceeding west on Ridout Street, when it was in collision with a car driven by Francis Doyle, of Sunderland, who was driving south on Mill Street. The collision occurred about the centre of the intersection.

Damage to the Burrows' vehicle has been estimated at $35 and to Doyle car at $25.

Investigating officer was Constable Ross Bailey.

Bus and Car Snarl Traffic After Impact

Orillia, Dec. 11 --(BUP)-- Traffic was tied up on Highway 11 for several hours yesterday when a car and a Gray Coach Lines bus collided at the centre of the narrow swing bridge at Washago, 12 miles north of Orillia yesterday.

The bridge is barely wide enough for two vehicles to pass when the road is in good condition, and Sunday it was covered with ice.

A car driven by Graham Patchell of Gravenhurst collided and crashed head on into the bus

Police said both vehicles were travelling at a slow rate of speed and thus avoided a more serious collision. Traffic was at a standstill for two hours, separated the bus and the car and pulled them off the bridge.

Guests Entertained By Bobcaygeon W.I.

Bobcaygeon (PNS) -- The W.I. held its December meeting in the United Church Sunday School room. Mrs. Thomas Grieve was in the chair. The South Verulam Institute and the Kawartha Valley Institute were guests of the evening.

After the opening exercises the roll call and financial report was given. Miss Atthill reported $222 having been collected for the "Institute for the Blind".

Mrs. Thorne, program convener, announced a humorous skit by six members, which started an evening of fun. Several contests followed and were much enjoyed.

A dainty lunch was served at the conclusion of the program Mrs. Osborne Taylor, convener of Kawartha Valley Institute, and Mrs. Lloyd Grills, president of South Verulam Institute, thanked the Bobcaygeon branch for a very enjoyable evening. Christmas gifts were exchanged and the evening closed with the National Anthem.

Name Omitted

The name of the immediate past president of the Canadian Legion, Sir Sam Hughes Branch, Lindsay, was omitted from the list of 1954 officers. Mr. C. D. Spence is a member of the executive by virtue of his office.

Two Convicted Of Driving Offenses

Two Lindsay men appeared in Police Court here Monday when charged with careless driving. Convictions were registered against both of them.

One man says Chief Hunter, was charged after a collision at the intersection of Lindsay and Melbourne Sts. He was assessed a fine and costs of $29.50 by Magistrate E. A. Gee. He was defended by H. E. Richardson. The second local man was charged with careless driving following an accident on Kent Street when his car struck a parked vehicle. He was found guilty and fined a total of $7.50 and costs.

Obtained, Fined

A 19-year-old Lindsay youth was assessed a total of $25.50 fine and costs this morning, when he was convicted on charges of obtaining liquor while under the age of 21 years. It was brought to the attention of the court that accused is at present under two years probation ordered sentence following a conviction for breaking and entering.

Russians Pay Tribute To Eisenhower

(British United Press)

Soviet Russia has replied to President Eisenhower's proposal for an atomic surgery pool.

The Russians agreed to join in confidential diplomatic negotiations on the plan, but asked for additional explanation.

An official statement went to unusual lengths of describing Eisenhower as one of the "outstanding military leaders in the last war. It was one of the friendliest Soviet references in many months.

At the same time, however, Russia noted that Eisenhower's plan did not mention banning atomic weapons.

The Russian reply proposed that in any negotiations the parties consider "the solemn and unconditional obligation not to employ atomic, hydrogen and other weapons of mass annihilation."

Russia's reply to proposal which Eisenhower made before the United Nations on December 8th was in the form of a statement addressed to the United States. It was not a formal note.

Dancers Entertain At Lodge Party

Kawartha Rebekah Lodge met in their Lodge rooms for their December meeting. The highlight of the evening was the annual Christmas party.

After the business meeting, Sister Alton Hall and her committee took charge. A lovely program was then enjoyed by all. The members were entertained by Mrs. Muir's dancing class. Mrs. Muir is a clever dancing teacher ability. Miss Norris and Shirley Jackett also favoured the members with tap dance numbers. Two members of the dancing class sang solos, namely Spencer Norris and Edgar Smith. Sister Carrie Cuthbert moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Muir and her dancing class for such a splendid performance.

A delicious lunch was served by Sister Hall and her committee. Sister Hetty Duffield moved a vote of thanks to Sister Hall and her committee for the enjoyable evening.

The programme was then brought to a close by distributing a Christmas gift to each member.

Record Kill

KENNETH RUTTER proudly displays a 49-point deer which he killed at Hollidaysburg, Pa. The Buck weighed 148 pounds and veteran hunters don't recall anyone shooting a deer with more than 20 points. It was the first deer Rutter killed in 8 years.

Sure Gate-Crasher Made Heaven Because Of Earthly Practise

Those who knew him well say that James Leo Connelly is in Heaven.

They're sure. Absolutely sure. They know that if anybody can get by St. Peter and the Pearly Gates — James Leo Connell can.

He's had so much practice.

Connelly died yesterday at a rest home in Zion, Illinois, at the age of 65.

During his life, the jovial Connelly made a profession of crashing gates. He became known as the number one gate-crasher.

One-eyed Connelly -- every gate keeper knew him. They knew exactly what he looked like. But he looked 'em anyway.

There wasn't a single major event -- championship boxing bout, World Series, political convention or other spectacle but what one-eyed Connelly was there. On the inside.

Andy Frain, the king of the ushers, once gave up exasperated and decided if he couldn't beat Connelly, he'd join him. So he hired Connelly as an usher. But that didn't last. Connelly took the job too seriously. He wouldn't let F. K. Wrigley, owner of Wrigley Field and the Chicago Cubs, get inside his own park.

But those who know him best will also tell you that the Pearly Gates -- toughest of all to crash -- were swinging open for James Leo Connelly. He didn't have to crash 'em.--BUP

Mr. And Mrs. George Cluff Celebrate Their Golden Wedding

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -Mr. and Mrs. George Cluff, a bride and groom of 50 years ago, celebrated their golden wedding in their new home on Clifton St. Assisting them in greeting their host of friends were their family of three daughters, one son and eight grandchildren.

During the day more than a 100 called to offer best wishes and congratulations to the happy couple Telegrams, cards, flowers and telephone calls were also received. Recognition of the event was made by the Ontario government in a message signed by Arthur Welch, Provincial Secretary.

The marriage was the first to be performed in the United Church, Haliburton by the late E. Craig, pastor of the church. For many years the young couple made their home in Haliburton, where Mr. Cluff was the manager for various timber companies. Mrs. Cluff was active in the work of the W. I. and also was the first woman to hold the office of Most Worshipful Grand Mistress of the L.O.B.A. She was the first honorary member of that organization in Northern Ontario.

In 1933, Mr. and Mrs. Cluff took over the Fenelon Falls Inn, a summer hotel on Twelve Mile Lake, which they made famous by their friendliness and consideration. Several years later the couple moved to Aurora where Mr. Cluff became the first building inspector to hold a permanent license in that district.

In 1952, they retired to their newly built home on Clifton St. in Fenelon Falls, where they have made many friends.

A guest book decorated in gold by Mr. F. W. Warren was signed by friends from Fenelon Falls, Aurora, Lindsay, Haliburton and other towns, who called during the day. Members of the Scottish Rite from Lindsay and Haliburton offered their good wishes in a group as did the Eastern Star, of Lindsay, who presented Mrs. Cluff with a lovely bouquet.

Mrs. Cluff was the former Mabel Ferguson, of Frankford and Mr. Cluff was born in Cavendish. Their three daughters, Mrs. Alvin Perry, of Port Hope; Mrs. Cesil Johnston, of Fenelon Falls; Mr. Arthur Gibson, of Jefferson, and one son, John, Toronto, were born in Haliburton. Looking back, Mrs. Cluff exclaims that it does not seem like 50 years, they have found life so interesting, and their family such a great joy.

Estimate Damage At $800 In One of Four Accidents

The Lindsay detachment of the OPP investigated four accidents over the weekend. Though the damage in one amounted to an estimate $800, the other three were in a minor nature and no injuries to persons was reported in any of them.

Constable Tom Fitzpatrick was the investigating officer in a collision which occurred at the first bridge east of Little Britain on Saturday at 12.30 p.m. It is reported that, a car driven by Stewart Hall, R. R. 2 Little Britain, was in collision with a car driven by David Beecroft, of R. R. 3, Little Britain, just west of the bridge. Damage has been estimated by the officer to have been $800, $400 to each vehicle.

The other three accidents were at Woodville on Saturday, investigated by Constable Fitzpatrick also, at the CNR tracks west of Lee Equipment on Sunday Constable Jim Plumtree, and one on the Highway near Dunsford, by Constable Jim Hall.

As stated before the last three mentioned accidents were of a minor nature, damage being light and no injuries sustained.

Home For The Aged Entertained By Lindsay W.I.

The Lindsay W.I. made their annual trip to the "Home for the Aged" and were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Cross in their ever-gracious manner.

The president, Mrs. F. Langley, presented the following program: Several tap dance numbers were performed by Mrs. Mulr's pupils, which were all very much enjoyed. The senior class consisted of Marilyn Murphy, Joan O'Neill and Margaret Rose Scott. The intermediates were Marilyn Griffin, Nancy Hamilton and Corrine Cormier, while the juniors were Sandra Sharp and Sheena Muir. Another dancer, Connor Norris, favored with two very pleasing solos.

Mrs. Johnston, Blackwater, led in a sing song of mostly requested, familiar selections. She also delighted her audience by two solos - "Christ Went Up Into The Hills" accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. J. Wheldon, Lindsay. Mrs. Wheldon sang "The Same Old Blanket," accompanied by her mother. A couple of violin and guitar selections were given by Mr. M. McKinna, Mr. S. Hawkins and Mr. Rountree, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Johnston. A piano duet by Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Wheldon was followed by a step dance by Mr. Alfred Maynard and Mr. Percy Cooper, delighting all present.

Mrs. Johnston led in carol singing, followed by the National Anthem.

The distribution of the gifts by Mrs. Langley and her committee brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

Miss Jean Noble
Guest Speaker
At Girls' Club

Fenelon Falls (PNS) -Miss Jean Noble, Home Economist, was the guest of the Belland Girls' Sewing Club, at their regular meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. Jack Baker. There were ten girls and the leaders, Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Copland, present.

The minutes were read and the roll call answered by -"How to Alter a Pattern."

Miss Noble took over and explained some of the more intricate steps in sewing, demonstrating how to make a corner of the sleeve. Miss Noble, who has been with the Department for four years, plans to sever her connections the end of the year. She will attend University, and, after further study, plans to teach Home Economics. She has been a most welcome guest to these members, who will miss her helpful advice.

The hostess served a dainty lunch and a social time was enjoyed.

White Gift Sunday At Cambray

Cambray (PNS) -- Sunday School in St. Paul's Church basement was conducted by Mrs. Earl Spence, assisted by Miss Gail Mills and Master Paul Bailey each telling stories of Christmas in other lands. Carols were sung with Misses Ann and Jean Shier and Margaret Rose Sluggett at the piano. At the close of the worship service White Gifts were placed beneath a lovely decorated Christmas tree by members of the Sunday School from the beginners' class to the adult class. Mr. Henry Copp, S.S. superintendent, took charge of the gifts which will be shipped to the Fred Victor Mission in Toronto.

Sunday evening service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. F. J. Little, who delivered an inspiring sermon for Christmas. There was a good attendance. The choir contributed one anthem with Mrs. Cad Kelly at the organ. Christmas carols were enjoyed by the congregation.

Mrs. Tolmie Made Life Member Of St. Andrew's WMS Group

The annual meeting of Mrs. Matthie's group of St. Andrew's WMS was held at Mrs. Keith's home with a good attendance.

"O Come All Ye Faithful" was the opening hymn. Mrs. Allen, the leader, read the second chapter of St. Luke's Gospel, then offered prayer. The secretary read the minutes of the October meeting and called the roll. Mrs. Pollwell read from Child Tidings, "Christmas Among the Bible." "Away in a Manger" was sung, followed by prayer by Mrs. Green. As a Circle-mas reading Mrs. Rutherford read "The Extra Shepherd," from the Record.

A pleasing part of the program was the presentation to Mrs. Tolmie of a Life Membership Certificate. It was gratifying to learn that the WMS would present another Life Membership Certificate in December.

Mrs. Keith read an interesting item from the Globe, "The House of Happiness." Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Rutherford were returned to office as leader and secretary, respectively. The offering was taken and dedicated by Mrs. Allen. Mrs. Pinney invited the WMS to her home for the January meeting and the program was arranged.

The Doxology and the Lord's Prayer closed the meeting. A short social period was enjoyed, refreshments being served by Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Smith and the hostess, Mrs. Keith.

55th Wedding Anniversary At Oakwood Celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. A. Campbell

Oakwood, (PNS) - Mr. and Mrs. Angus Campbell celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary at Oakwood recently. Two of their grandchildren, Betty Jenkins and Joanne Bell, attended the guest book while their three daughters, Mrs. Wes. Jenkins, Oakwood, Mrs. Harold Bell, Oshawa, and Mrs. Al Hamilton, Toronto, received. Mrs. Alvin Snider, of Vancouver, the youngest daughter, sent flowers in her absence.

In the living-room with Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, were Mrs. Fred Farley, of Toronto, and Mr. Jack Campbell, of Woodville, who were the bridesmaid and best man at the wedding 55 years ago.

During the day about 150 guests from Woodville, Fenelon Falls, Oshawa, Toronto, Peterborough, Oakwood and Lindsay called to congratulate the couple on their long and happy wedded life.

In the dining room Mrs. Jas. Thorndyke, Oakwood, and Mrs. Wm. Harum, Toronto, sisters of Mrs. Campbell, poured tea and three granddaughters, Mrs. Allan Prain, Mrs. Earl Clarkson and Mrs. William Jenkins, served. A three-tier wedding cake and emerald candles made a lovely setting for the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell were married in Fenelon Falls 55 years ago and farmed in the Oakwood district for 30 years. From there they moved to Toronto where Mr. Campbell was employed with the Hydro from which he retired five years ago and returned to Oakwood and built a new home.

They were the recipients of many cards and gifts, including a purse of $50.00 from the family which was presented to them previously at a fowl supper held at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Wes. Jenkins, where 40 relatives gathered in their honour.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell are both enjoying good health and Mr. Campbell is an active member of the Oakwood Curling Club.

Fine Address by Miss Doris Edwards At Cambridge St. W.A. Christmas Meet

Cambridge St. United Church Sunday School auditorium was beautifully decorated for the WMS Christmas meeting.

The meeting opened with Mrs. Percy Stitch at the piano playing Christmas carols, after which Mrs. Elvidge, first vice-president, repeated the WMS Watchword -- "Not by might nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord."

All reports were left over until the January meeting. Mrs. D. Fulton acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. F. Weldon. Rev. W. E. Honey took charge of the Installation service in the absence of Dr. Neal, who had gone to attend Dr. Sisco's funeral.

Following the Installation service Mrs. H. S. Johnston opened the Worship service with a beautiful Christmas poem. After singing a Christmas hymn, Mrs. Wright read the Christmas story as recorded in St. Luke's Gospel. Mrs. Doris Acheson sang very sweetly "Star of the East."

Mrs. Johnston asked Miss Doris Edwards to give the Christmas message. The guest speaker took as her subject the two words -- "Jesus Came," considering them first, from the standpoint of the Nation into whose midst He came (literally -- and then in relation to ourselves, the 20th century followers of the Christ Child. She drew a vivid picture of the welcome Jewry purported to have waiting for its promised Messiah showing -- in sharp contrast -- the actual reception accorded Him when, finally, He came.

"Comparison, however, shows strong and arresting similarity of attitude between them, the people of the time of the birth of Jesus, and ourselves. In 20th Century Christian world. We fall far short of giving Him His rightful place as He comes to us in the person of the hungry, the cold, the weary, the homeless, the lonely, the sick in body and who walk in the world's busy highways waiting His touch through our ministry of love," she said.

Concluding her address, she said "Christmas set in December -- a joy-filled precious thing -- shining, sparkling in the crown of the year like a lovely text whose myriad facets flash forth rays of hope, joy, peace and happiness, from its Great Central Glorious Heart of Love, will be a joy-filled, precious thing for us, individually, just insofar as we fulfil the injunction which the Christ Child spoke when in manhood He looked out on the world's great need and said, "I was a stranger and ye took me in; I was an-hungered and ye gave me meat; I was a child and ye gave me drink; naked and ye clothed me -- sick and in prison and ye visited me -- Inasmuch as ye did it unto the least of these." For this great purpose Jesus came."

After the singing of another Christmas hymn, Rev. Mr. Honey pronounced the Benediction.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Johnston and her group.

Wheat Supplies In Canada Above '52 Total

Visible supplies of Canadian wheat on November 25th totalled more than 338,124,000 bushels. The amount is slightly above the November 18th stocks of 336,667,000 but it is still 38 percent above last year's total.

Deliveries of wheat from farms in the prairie provinces during the week ending November 25th dropped to 9,620,000 bushels from the same time a year earlier.

Cumulative deliveries from the beginning of the crop year fell to 161,000, 000 bushels

Overseas export clearances of wheat during the week were off to five-million, 567,000 bushels . . and cumulative clearances were down to 81,212,000 bushels.

The week's deliveries of coarse grains from farms in the prairie provinces were lower than a year earlier. Deliveries of oats were down as were barley, rye and flax-seed.

Lindsay Couple, Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniver

The parents of Mrs. Carl Brown Sr., celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary on Sunday, December 20th. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sage were married in Bristol, England, in 1909.

On Sudday morning when Mr. and Mrs. Sage attended services at their church, the William Street Baptist, the minister there, Rev. G. W. Searle, made a presentation to them on behalf of that congregation.

Later in the afternoon open house was held and they received their friends' congratulations. People were present from Toronto and Peterboro as well as Lindsay. All of the family were present for the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Sage came to Canada in 1914, settled in Toronto, where he was engaged in the grocery business. After his retirement, they moved to Lindsay, some 4 years ago.

Girl Guides

Several Guide Companies Re-formed in Lindsay

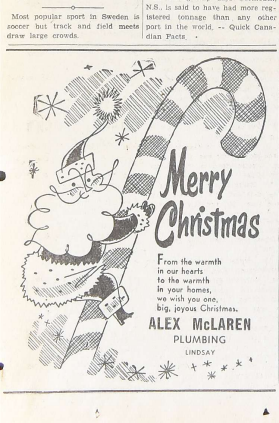

For several years now there has been only one Company of Girl Guides active in Lindsay. This year, with the exceptionally large number of young girls interested in joining, it has become necessary to re-form both 1st and 4th Lindsay Companies, both of which were disbanded some years ago.

1st Lindsay Company, under the leadership of Captain Joy Toms and Patrol Leaders Barbara Jackson, Ruthellen Smale, Donna McCabe and Dorothea Lane met at the Recreation Centre each Thursday evening. 3rd Company, under the leadership of Captain Lyn Kennedy, Lieutenants Joan Cole and Ruth Leary, and Patrol Leaders Barbara Quibell, Doris Cook, Joyce Eggleton, Faye Eggleton and Elizabeth Blackwell meet in the Armouries each Tuesday evening. 4th Company, under the leadership of Captain Ruth Nesbitt, Lieutenants Marie Wood, Diana MacDonald and Elda Wood, and Patrol Leaders Colleen Doyle, Marion Short, Betty Parker, Carolyn Ward and Jan MacDonald plan to meet each Tuesday evening, but are as yet without a meeting place.

Recently all three Companies and their leaders met at the Armouries for their combined Christmas party. Captain Joy and Captain Lyn were in charge of the evening of games and fun. Gifts were distributed by the Leaders and cake and ice cream served by the Lieutenant. Each member of the winning patrol of the evening received a novel snowman filled with candies.

At the conclusion of the party Mr. C. Henry made the draw for the Girl Guide doll which was on display in the window of the George Williamson Radio Electric Store. Mrs. John Brady, R. R. 4 Lindsay, was the lucky winner of the lovely doll and wardrobe.

In Circle, before dismissal, Captain Ruth said goodbye to 3rd Company, the Company to which she has belonged for the past sixteen years. Captain Ruth will be in charge of 4th Lindsay Company for the remainder of the Guide year, when another leader will take over as Captain. Captain Ruth explained that she would no longer be in charge of a Company, so that she might devote all her time to her new job as District Commissioner, a post to which she was just recently

Curling Club Celebrates Christmas With Party

On Saturday evening the Men's and Ladies' Curling Clubs joined forces to hold a Christmas party in the Club rooms. Past President Harold Wood acted as Master of Ceremonies for the evening.

The Van der Bent sisters favored the gathering with two beautiful duets. Miss Martha O'Neill did a very entertaining tap-dance number. Later in the evening, the Van der Bent sisters returned to do a humorous song and dance routine in Dutch costumes.

Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Rowlandson led the Christmas carol singing with Mrs. Gordon Cook at the piano. As everyone had been provided with song sheets, the gathering joined in heartily. The singing of the carols combining with the lively piano accompaniment, set the right mood. of the Clubrooms quickly kindled the Yuletide spirit.

All the ladies present were then asked to form a circle in the centre of the hall. Santa Claus, taking time out from his busy schedule, then appeared, and "took" each of the ladies in each of the ladies at the party. Santa was requested to stay to make a few presentations. Special gifts were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mackey, the most recently married couple (6 mos.) Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Fulton, the longest married couple (50 years); and Mrs. Gordon Cook was presented with a corsage for her excellent leadership in the program of the evening.

As a concluding number of the program, Miss Herberta Hardy did a very enjoyable step dance number dressed in a Palm Beach costume, assisted by Mr. Hartley Watson on the Harmonica.

Modern dancing then continued with Mrs. Gordon Cook at the piano assisted later by Mr. Jack Mosley. No stranger to the Club, Jack is home from Toronto visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Mosley, for part of the holidays.

A lovely lunch was prepared by members of the Ladies' Club and consisted of coffee, sandwiches, biscuits and a very seasonable item, Christmas cake.

The singing of Auld Lang Syne brought to an end a very enjoyable and entertaining evening.

Supreme Court Reversal Sends Man To Kingston

The Supreme Court has reversed a decision of the Ontario Court of Appeal in a bank robbery case.

The ruling means that Arthur McKay, of Windsor, Ontario, will have to serve a 12 year sentence in Kingston penitentiary. He will be taken there from the County jail in Windsor.

McKay was found guilty by a Windsor jury February 19th. The Ontario Court of Appeal ruled on June 24th that he should have been acquitted. Justice R. E. Laidlaw and J. K. McKay of the appeal court said that the Windsor judge should have directed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty. Justice F. D. Hogg, however, dissented.

On the basis of the dissent, the Ontario attorney general's office appealed to the Supreme Court in Ottawa. The high court agreed that the Appeal Court decision was "erroneous in law" and restored the conviction.

The charge against McKay involved unlawful assault -- with intent to rob -- against Gordon Robinson and other employees of the Bank of Commerce in Windsor on November 12, 1952.

Seven Hurt In Oshawa Area Wrecks

Oshawa, Dec. 21 (BUP) -- Seven persons have been injured and taken to Oshawa General Hospital after two traffic accidents in the Oshawa area over the weekend.

The Ontario Provincial Police said four persons from Toronto were hurt when the car in which they were riding skidded on No. 7 Highway north of Brooklyn and overturned.

Forty three year old William Flemming had a fractured right leg and 21 year old Joseph Edgar, fractured ribs and suffered a concussion.

They were admitted to the hospital. The driver of the car, 44 year old Daniel Barton, and his 45 year old wife, Jean, received bruises and were permitted to go home.

The second accident involved a truck and a car on Number 401 Highway near Pickering. Helen Christ of South River was admitted to the hospital with cuts above her eyes.

The truck driver, 43 year old Gordon Barry, also of South River, received cuts to his cheek, while the car driver, 26 year old Jerry Zarubec, of Toronto, received a cut to his forehead.

Police said the truck was southbound on the Pickering-Whitby

Evening Auxiliary, Sr. W.M.S. Group Join for Christmas Meet at Queen St.

The Queen St. Evening Auxiliary were guests of the Sr. group of the W.M.S. for a joint Christmas meeting in the basement of the church. Attendance was good. The decorations were in keeping with the birth of the Christ Child.

Mrs. Vickery, the president of the Sr. group, welcomed the ladies of the Auxiliary. Gwen Pound, played a lovely piano solo which was enjoyed by all.

Queen St. W.A. Holds Annual Bazaar And Tea

Queen St. W. A. held their annual bazaar and tea, and in spite of the threatening weather it proved a decided success.

Rev. A. E. Creaswell in a few apt words welcomed the ladies, emphasizing the need of these social get-togethers which promoted the spirit of good fellowship.

Mrs. Hodgson, president of the W.A., assisted by Mrs. Creaswell, Mrs. A. Gilson and Mrs. Craighead received the guests at the door. The decorations, which included the traditional Christmas tree, were in keeping with the season.

At the table pouring tea were Mrs. Erskine and Mrs. MacMillan. The different booths were well-patronized and the goods soon were sold. The homemade preserves over the tea tables were kept busy serving delicious sandwiches and cookies, which rounded off a most-pleasant and gratifying afternoon.

in the Missionary Monthly was followed with several ladies taking part, Betty Parker singing, "Infant Holy", Mrs. Forman giving a reading, Carol were sung between each reading. This part of the meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Codlin.

Mrs. Vickery led in a couple of contests -"What You Would Not Use" and Mrs. Wright, president of the Evening Auxiliary, in a singing contest, which proved to be very humorous.

Lunch was served by the Sr. group and a social time spent. Mrs. Wright thanked the ladies for their invitation and their hospitality.

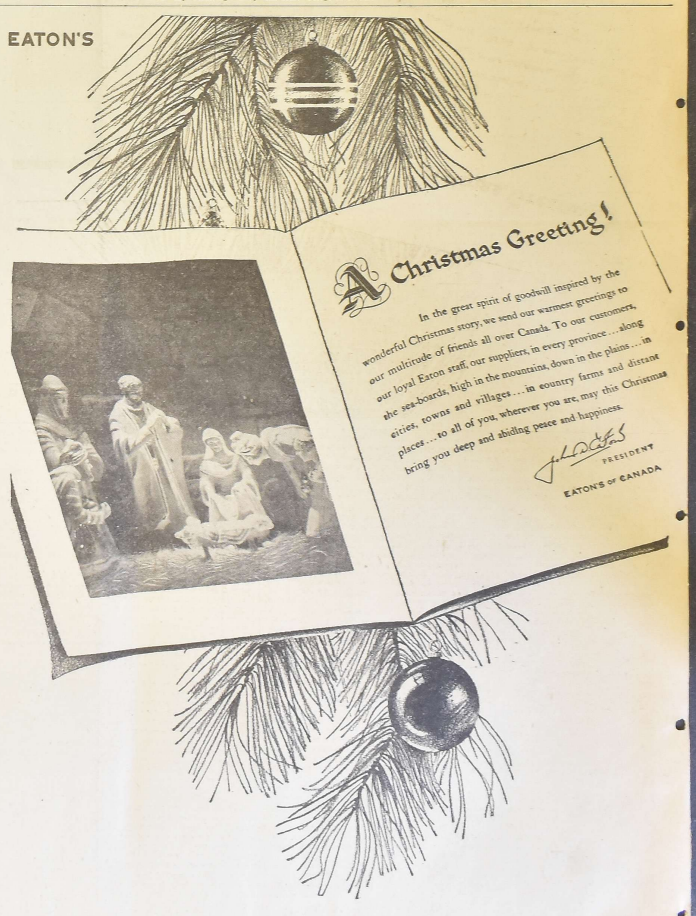

Cement Plant Burned Out

Orillia Dec. 18 --(BUP)-- A cement plant in Orillia was burned out yesterday despite efforts of firemen to put out the fire with a bucket brigade after their pumper ran dry.

Owner Henry Whitney suffered burns to his face and had to roll in the snow to put out the fire in his clothing. He said he opened the door of the plant and was hit in the face by a sheet of flame.

Whitney's partner and bookkeeper -Miss Hallie Fox, was also burned when she ran inside the burning building to get some dynamite which had been left inside.

Whitney drove four miles to notify the Fire Department after the telephone lines were burned down by the flames.

Watch Night Services

The little frame church pictured above was probably the setting for a good many "watch night services" but it is not likely that the lamps will be lighted this New Year's Eve nor the box stove glowed as the hour of the old year's passing draws near. Origination of the custom of holding watch night services on the last night of the year is attributed to the early Methodists, with Moravians and others taking it up as time went on. The practice is still a part of the year-end activities of some churches although the Methodists who became part of the United Church seem to have largely abandoned it. As far as can be learned it was the custom at these services to pray the old year out and the new year in accompanied by the ringing of the church bell as the midnight hour. The church shown above is located at Burly Green, a Somerville Township settlement not far from either Burnt River or Peveleon Falls. Built around the turn of the century, it is one of the few remaining churches in Ontario lighted by coal oil lamps and heated with the old style box stove. Both the lamps and the stove at Bury's Green are exceptionally well kept as may be seen in the lower half of the picture. Here at Bury's Green one may have an unspoiled view of a typical place of religious worship attended by our forbears.

Zero Reading In Night, Going Down?

The temperature in Lindsay took a chilly 38 degree drop last night from a maximum on Tuesday of 38 degrees, to 25 degrees at 6.00 p.m. and a low for the night of zero.

The Lindsay Weather Office says that the mercury had risen to one degree above zero at 8.00 a.m. today and at 11 a.m. it was slightly warmer, but not very much.

A Lindsay resident recalled that about 23 years ago on December 29th the low reading was 40 degrees below zero. Could it be headed that way now?

Drapery Firm Moving To New Location

Ross Newton Draperies is moving to the former Kent St. location of Lobb's some time in February, the owner told "The Post" today. He says that after the change of premises the business will be known as Ross Newton Limited.

Mr. Newton has been established here for 3½ years. Prior to that he said that he worked with his father's firm in Trenton. The family business there is known as Proulx-Newton Co. and has been in operation for 37 years. Mr. Newton's father, Mr. Oswald Newton, is also a partner in the Quinte Fair Co. Ltd. on George Street in Peterborough.

About his new store, Mr. Newton said he would be carrying the same merchandise as in his present store (custom made drapes, floor coverings, carpets, drapes, household linens, knitting wools, blankets, etc.) as well as several new lines, the nature of which have not, as yet, been disclosed.

Mr. Newton says that alterations on the new premises will begin as soon as possible, and will include a complete new front with inside work being done in accordance with the requirements of the business. There will be approximately three times as much floor space at the new location, he said.

"The Post" asked Mr. Newton what staff changes would be necessitated by the move, and was told that when the present staff employs five people (including Mr. Newton), the new store will probably require a staff of eight or nine. Mr. Newton added that more people than the latter figures will be employed when the grand opening of the new premises takes place.

Mr. Newton's business was the first firm in Lindsay to specialize exclusively in the type of merchandise that he carries, a service which has been rewarded with a clientele who appreciate the quality and service received.

Bethany Man Is Improving

The Ross Memorial Hospital says that Nelson Kerr, of Bethany, who was injured in an accident on the Hillsbrad curve on Highway No. 7 at 12.35 a.m. last Thursday, is "feeling better today." Mr. Kerr, who sustained fractured ribs and possible internal injuries, has been in an oxygen tent since the accident. However, his nurse told "The Post" this morning that he is being allowed out of the oxygen tent "periodically" now. He is being treated by Dr. H. G. Metcalfe.

A passenger in the same car as Mr. Kerr, Albert Pogue, of Cobconk, is still hospitalized, the RMH says, suffering a cut over his eye and a fractured pelvis.

The driver of one car, Roy Pollio, of Lindsay, the driver of the second car, Lawrence Chynowoth, and a passenger, Joseph Pearce, both of Coboconk, who were all injured in the crash, have been released from hospital.

Leaving Here

It was announced Tuesday that Mr. B. H. Schenk would be leaving Lindsay for his company's home office at Chicago in connection with his new appointment as president of Visking Ltd. which was made November 26th. In making the change known to the personnel of Visking Ltd., Lindsay, Mr. Schenk stated:

"It is with a great deal of regret for leaving Lindsay that I announce my transfer to the Home Office of The Visking Corporation, in connection with my previously announced duties, effective as of January 4. I have enjoyed working with you and I have enjoyed living here—I will always have fond memories of our association with each other, and of Lindsay.

"It is a pleasure to announce that my successor as General Manager of Visking Limited will be Mr. Leslie E. Houck. Mr. Houck is one of Visking's most competent and best-liked executives. He is presently Assistant General Manager of the Clearing Division of The Visking Corporation, prior to which he was General Manager of the Plastics Division at Terre Haute. I am sure that you will enjoy working with Mr. Houck.

"It will take a little while for Mr. Houck to hand over his present responsibilities in Clearing, but he will be up here as soon as possible thereafter."

Mariposa Twp. Council Back By Acclamation

Mariposa Council was returned to office for 1954 by acclamation in the nomination meeting held on Monday night.

The Reeve again this year is Mr. Tom Henderson, Deputy-reeve John Jenkins and Councillors are Messrs. Owen Sweetman, H. P. Blatchford and Roy Morrison.

Fire Leaves Family of 5 Without Home

A Haliburton family of five is homeless today and the father and one of the children are recovering from severe burns, following the early Monday morning fire which burned their home to the ground.

Mr. Tom Chambers, Fire Chief at Haliburton, told "The Post" this morning that the fire occurred at 12.10 a.m. on Monday morning last. He said the frame home of Mr. Alex Switzer burned to the ground, the fire having gotten a head-start before firemen could arrive. The Switzer home is located on the Eagle Lake road, seven miles north of the village of Haliburton.

The Fire Chief says that Mr. Switzer had used gasoline to start the wood burning in a cookstove and then left the bottle of fuel sitting beside the stove. Mr. Chambers says the bottle exploded, showering the Switzer interior with flames. He continued that in trying to escape with his children, Mr. Switzer was severely burned about the face and hands, as was the youngest child, an eight-months-old baby. The other two children were uninjured.

Mr. Chambers says his firemen could do nothing to save the house, for when they arrived the blaze had been going for "about 25 minutes." The reason that the Haliburton Fire Department didn't receive the call immediately, he says, is because there is no phone at the Switzer home and word was taken to Eagle Lake by a passing motorist, who then phoned the department. By the time the firemen arrived, their Chief says, the situation was hopeless and the flaming home could not be saved.

Mrs. Switzer was in Haliburton when the fire occurred, and has since, Mr. Chambers believes, gone to her parents' home in Essonville. The school-age children of the family are staying with a brother of Mr. Switzer's in the village of Haliburton.

Since the frame house was a total loss, "The Post" asked the Fire Chief what the cost to Mr. Switzer would be in dollars and cents, and was told that a conservative estimate was about $1,500.

Canadian Congress Of Labor Head Optimistic At Turn Of The Year

The president of the Canadian Congress of Labor says Canadians can look forward to the new year with optimism -- tempered by an intelligent understanding of both domestic and international aspects of the trade picture.

A. R. Mosher says there is widespread agreement that the long-range future of Canada is extremely bright. He says he believes that Canadians have the ability to meet any situation and solve any problem which they may face.

Mosher says there should be no room for even thinking of an economic depression.

He says Canada has not learned to handle the matter of International Trade in an effective and satisfactory manner. Mosher says that in view of these difficulties in Foreign Trade, Canada should build up her home markets as much as possible.

-O-

Another Labor leader, Percy Bengough who is head of the Trades and Labor Congress, says his organization will continue to press for action of Unemployment Insurance benefits and National Health Insurance in the new year.

He says the TLC will press these measures until unemployment and under-employment conditions are cleared up. He says unemployment and under-employment are already serious in some industries and are on the increase throughout the whole of Canada.--BUP

National Grocers Retain Present Sales Staff

All the salesmen of National Grocers Co. Ltd. are to be retained on their present territories, after the company's warehouse at Lindsay is closed to facilitate what the firm terms "improved customer service."

This was learned from a company official today following a sales force meeting on the change at Lindsay.

Mr. Bainard, general manager of the company, told "The Post" today that the company sincerely believes the change will result in greatly improved customer service. The areas formerly served by the Lindsay warehouse is, the general manager says, now to come under distribution from Oshawa, (estimated 50 per cent expansion is planned there), Orillia (where a warehouse is presently being leased by completed) and Peterborough (where modern warehousing already is adequate for present requirements).

The general manager of the company also stated that all present Lindsay employees have been offered the opportunity of transfer to other warehousing points and that the company was standing firmly behind the offer. The transfer offer was, he explained, purely optional.

Mr. Bainard said the change at Lindsay was quite in keeping with the trend in streamlining distribution of groceries and allied products. The object was, he asserted, to give the best possible service to the firm's customers.

Found Asleep In Outbuilding

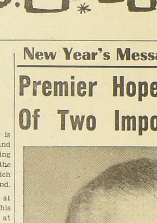

A woman was found sleeping in the outbuilding behind Warren Brown's Sale Barn early this morning by two officers of the Lindsay Police Department. She appeared in Police Court here today charged with vagrancy and was sentenced to 30 days in jail by Magistrate R. A. Gee. Further information is being sought as to whether accused has a police record.

It was brought out that Constables Percy Mark and John Henley were making their nightly rounds about 2.30 a.m. today in the police cruiser, when they noticed footprints in the snow near the Brown establishment. Following the prints beside the building, they went around the back and followed the prints further to the outbuilding. Inside, sound asleep, they found the 24-year-old woman.

Police say she came here from Toronto some time last night, and that though she has no home address, her parents live in Tillsonburg, Ont.

New Year's Message

Premier Hopes To See The Start Of Two Important Projects In '54

Premier Leslie M. Frost

Premier Leslie M. Frost looks forward to 1954 as a year of "great challenge." In an interview Tuesday, Mr. Frost told "The Post" he hoped to see two very important projects commenced in the year ahead (1) the St. Lawrence Seaway and (2) the natural gas pipeline from Alberta.

The premier also took a look into the future on another matter . . . that of population growth in the province. As a result of what he saw in his mind's eye, Mr. Frost came up with a prediction that Ontario's population would reach six million by 1960 . . . six years hence. He told "The Post" that "right about now the population of Ontario was passing the five-million-mark.

Premier Frost said that "1953 has been a good year and Canadians may look forward with confidence that 1954 will also be good."

"It is true," he declared, "that international adjustments and trade in 1953 have had adverse effects in some places. Such, no doubt, will be true in 1954. Despite this, the trade and production of the Province and the Country has mounted steadily. The gross national product of the nation reached at all time high this year and present indications are that it will be exceeded in 1954. This, of course, is dependent on the initiative, productive capacity, hard work and enthusiasm of our people. These qualities have never been lacking in Canadians and are not lacking now when we face our greatest possibilities of expansion and development. With confidence that under the guidance of a kindly Providence we shall meet the challenges of the coming year with the same spirit and capacity that we have faced them in the past, I wish everyone a Happy New Year."

130 Baskets Distributed By Stocking Fund

The total donations to date in the Santa Claus Stocking Fund have reached $1,172.75, and the fund chairman, Mr. T. H. Stinson, has issued an expression of thanks to all people who helped the fund in any way.

Mr. Stinson says that "the response was most generous and gave us (the committee) sufficient money to carry on the activities of the fund. There were 130 baskets distributed at an average cost per basket of $8.75. There was also supplied candy and fruit to the prisoners in the jail and also a number of indigent persons in the hospital were looked after, so the funds were used over a wide field and for a good cause."

New Year's Dance Is Sell-Out

Another big New Year's dance has been arranged by the Sir Sam Hughes Branch 67, Canadian Legion, and it has just been announced that it is a sell-out. The Legion secretary, Mr. T. J. McFadden has altered his advertisement of the dance to read S.R.O. and thanking the people for their support.

Bob Oliver's Band (the same as last year's) is playing for the dance.

Skiing—

Toronto Dec 30 -(BUP)- Ontario's best skiing today is at Huntsville and Sundridge, where conditions are excellent both on the tow hill and in the bush.

The Toronto Telegram Ski Bureau reports after a province wide survey that conditions are good on the hill and excellent in the bush at Barrie and Sinclair Township-Muskoka.

Skiing is good at Bracebridge, Collingwood, Flesherton - Markdale, Gravenhurst, Haileybury - Midland, Owen Sound and Sudbury.

Skiing is fair on the hill and good in the bush at North Bay, fair at Kirkland Lake, and poor on the hill and fair in the bush at Dagmar.

Haileybury, they found the 24-year-old woman.

Police say she came here from Toronto some time last night, and that though she has no home address, her parents live in Tillsonburg, Ont.

200 People See "Faith" Picture

The world's first Bible Picture-dance film, "Salvation Into Faith", which is built around the evangelistic ministry of Rev. Oral Roberts, was shown in Lindsay last night and attended by an estimated 200 people. It was shown at Calvary Temple.

The film features Oral Roberts and tells an absorbing story of the power of faith in God. Centering around the nation-wide Roberts' campaigns, the sound-color religious picture includes soul-stirring scenes from Oral Roberts meetings under the huge "tent cathedral", which seats 12,500.

"Venture Into Faith" is a pioneer attempt to strengthen the viewers faith in God. "The sincerity and genuine faith in God exemplified throughout the film make it one of the greatest religious pictures ever produced," declares Pastor Holmes of the Temple.

The picture is being shown without admission charge throughout the country in churches and auditoriums.

Drivers Beware! OPP Issue Stern Warning

Corporal Ken Dennies, head of the Lindsay detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police, has issued a very strong warning to people who think they can mix alcohol and gasoline, and drive while in a drunken condition. He said that his men are to make an intense spot check of vehicles over New Year's for people who are driving while under the influence of alcohol.

The OPP head expressed his thanks to the majority of people who used their common sense and gave care and consideration to them driving over the Christmas holiday. He said he hopes that they will do the same over New Year's, continuing the "good work . . . giving even more consideration" to not driving at all while drinking.

The Corporal pointed out that everyone can enjoy their New Year's party, having made the necessary provision to get a taxi home, instead of getting what he termed "alcoholic muscles" and thinking they are capable of safe driving after imbibing.

In closing, he warned motorists very strongly that, in co-operation with all police agencies in this country, the Lindsay detachment of the OPP will be following a "no mercy to drunk drivers" policy at New Year's, making no exception all during the holiday period. He concluded by saying that the police must protect those innocent people who do follow the laws and give care and consideration to others, that they be not injured or killed by the thoughtless acts of drunken drivers.

Monday in police court Magistrate E. A. Gee convicted two drunk drivers who had been arrested during the Christmas holiday. One accused was fined $125 and $13.50 costs, and the other seven days in jail.

Help! We're Hungry . .

An appeal on behalf of our feathered friends -- the birds -- has been made by Lindsay clothier, Percy Houser.

Mr. Houser said this afternoon he had noticed an exceptionally large number of birds about the town and that whatever food they might get was pretty well covered with snow. In view of the severe cold snap, Mr. Houser said he would like to make an appeal to citizens to give the birds a helping hand by leaving some food out for them.

This kindly thought is being passed on by "The Post" in the belief that no person would want our bird-friends to be hungry at this season of cheer and good will.

Witnesses Plan 3-Day Assembly

A three-day assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses has been announced for Lindsay commencing New Year's Day. This was revealed today by The Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society of Toronto.

It is disclosed that the three days of the assembly will consist of morning, afternoon and evening sessions of Bible talks, discussions and demonstrations which, the Society says, are open to the public without charge.

This is reported to be the first assembly of witnesses at Lindsay, although a similar meeting was held eight months ago in Kingston and was attended by nearly 600 people.

CHANCES OF LONG LIFE ARE GREATER

With the continuing decline in mortality in the United States the chances that an individual will reach age 65 have greatly increased. Under the mortality conditions prevailing around 1900, nearly 40 out of every 100 newborn white boys could expect to reach the threshold of old age. For a boy born in 1930 the chances of attaining age 64 were 53 in 100; currently they are 64 in 100.

At age 20 the chances are two in three that a white man will survive to age 65. At age 40, when men are generally well advanced in their careers, they have 70 chances in 100 of living to the end of their productive life; at the turn of the century the chances were 60 in 100.

The female population has reaped greater gains than males. At birth, their chances of celebrating a 65th birthday have climbed from 44 in 100 around 1900, to 77 in 100 at the mid-century.

More than one-half of the white men who celebrate their 65th birthday will survive another 12 years, and one-fifth for 20 years. One-half of those women who reach age 65 will live to age 80, and about one-fifth will celebrate their 85th birthday.

A CURSE ON TAX-COLLECTORS

Very little cursing goes on nowadays. We do not mean simple swearing, which is sometimes called cursing by people who use words loosely. We mean unmistakeable, forceful expression of an ill wish toward somebody or something, which supernatural powers are called upon to witness and execute. Perhaps people do not believe in curses anymore.

But a man died in Patcham, England, recently, who believed in curses and who hated tax-collectors. His name was Eric Poore, and he died worth £30,000, which without being wealth, is a good round sum. In his will he said: "From my grave I curse the Board of Inland Revenue who have ruined my life. All inspectors of taxes are sadistic and depraved. That is common knowledge". There it is—a curse, uttered in deep seriousness by a man who felt himself aggrieved against those whom he believed had wronged him.

We shall not waste any time watching for news that the curse has borne fruit. We shall expect to hear that several tax-collectors have fallen off their office stools, stricken by some hideous seizure. Curses do not work quite so violently and dramatically as that. Anyhow, if curses had any effect on tax-gatherers, the whole tribe would have been extinct years ago. There are people who insist that being a tax-collector is, in itself, a form of hideous punishment—but this is a metaphysical proposition which we do not feel capable of discussing. We leave it to the clergy to decide whether tax-collectors are among the elect or the damned.

We call attention to Poore's curse simply as a curiosity. People do not curse their enemies much these days. Neither do they bless those who are dear to them. In fact, people today are remarkably stingy in the way in which they express love and hate. They seem to have lost the zest which found its outlet in a blessing or, in case of need, a curse which was supposed to linger, even after the curser was in the grave.

Laugh it off . . .

A farmer approached a friend who was working with hammer and nails on some pieces of wood.

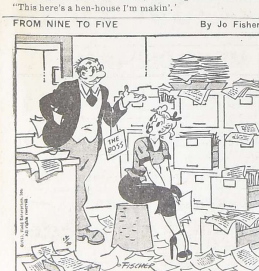

"Heard your wife's been pretty sick," said the farmer.

"That's right," his friend admitted.

There was a few minutes of silence. "That her coughin'?" suddenly asked the farmer.

"Oh, no!" cried his friend, throwing down the tools. "This here's a hen-house I'm makin'."

Taking It Easy

Have you recovered from Christmas? The two holidays come close together and with New Year's coming up on us it is time to start early to keep from making too much of a chore of it. The nice part of having a deep-freeze is that it gives one a chance to make things ahead and have it ready to pop into the oven. At this time of the year foods will keep better and if you have a cold spot in the cellar or in the garage you can do wonders with many of your New Year's dishes. Food can be dressed a day or two ahead of time and will have a fine flavor for the keeping. Most homemakers make enough cranberry sauce and other trimmings for both holidays so it isn't quite so hard with a supply on hand. Perhaps you have a plum pudding for New Year's but if you haven't had time one can buy one and save you the trouble. It's the home-made sauce that really makes a plum pudding so make one of your favorites and buy the pudding. They have them in cans and just in wrapping paper but you'll find some are better than others. They are nice to have on hand and will keep for some time if kept in a cool place. Sometimes the family will enjoy a delicious fresh fruit cup for dessert and if you are trying to keep from gaining weight then this is your solution. You can always have nuts and candies extra for those who eat what they like and never gain weight.

Enjoy the Dressing

It may not be news to you but it will bear repeating. It's the dressing in the fowl that makes it tasty but sometimes that same dressing will make you taste it a little longer than necessary. One of the best tips we got in this line that paid dividends was when a lady told us that it is the sage you put in that repeats on many people. Leave this out and you''l have little trouble. Try putting in savoury, thyme, onion and parsley and notice the difference. These will flavor the dressing to perfection and you won't even miss the sage. Take a big helping for it is really tasty

In Memoriam

BUCKLEY -In loving memory of my dear wife Isabel, who passed away Dec. 31 1952

No one knows how much we miss you,
No one knows the bitter pain
We have have suffered, since we lost you
Life has never been the same.
In our hearts a memory lingers
Sweetly tender, fond and true
There is not a day dear Isabel
We do not think of you.
-Sadly missed by Herman and children. (1948)

McKAGUE -In loving memory of a dear husband and father, George W., who passed away Dec. 29 1952

His weary hours and days of pain,
His troubled nights are past,
And in our sorrow we can say
He has found sweet rest at last.
Lovi remembered by Wife and family. (1951)

TREL -In loving memory of John Nathaniel Trel who passed away Dec. 30, 1949
God took him home.
It was His will
Within our hearts
He liveth still.
-Wife Mildred and daughters, Betty and Margaret. (1953)

Bethel School Concert Enjoyed By Large Crowd

Janetville (PNS) -- The Bethel School House, on the 14th Concession of Manvers, was the scene of much Christmas activity when a large number of parents and members of the community assembled to enjoy the annual Christmas tree and concert provided by the pupils.

The large, beautifully-decorated tree at the front of the room glowed with Christmas lights and bright tinsel and with the many lovely Christmas decorations about the walls of the school formed a most seasonable setting for the splendid Christmas concert presented by the teacher, Miss Doreen Shaw, and her pupils.

The capable chairman of the evening was Mr. Ross Davidson, who, after a few preliminary remarks, announced the opening number of "O Canada" sung by the entire school.

This was followed by the program, commencing with a recitation by Linda Welcome" by Patricia Davidson, "Frosty, the Snowman" and "Toyland" were sung by all the pupils, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Horace Heaslip. A playlet for the boys, "A Large Order for Zella," was much enjoyed, as was the "Duell of the Bells," by the school. "Ten Little Stockings," was a sweet little song, sung by Grades 1, 2 and 3, and this was followed by a recitation, "A Little Gift," by Linda Heeley.

The entire school presented a playlet, Teddy's Christmas Present," and the rhythm band, by the school, was heard in the tunes, "Christmas" and "Jingle Bells." Carol by the Juniors, "Away in a Manger;" a recitation, "Pair Warning to Santa Claus," by Allan Dangerfield; another play, "Father's Quiet Evening," two songs by the school, "Christmas Day" and "I Saw Mommy Kissing Santa Claus;" recitation, "Poor Santa Claus," by Miss Shirley Shea; the pantomime play, "The First Christmas"; recitation by Linda Davidson, "After Christmas"; song "The Rheumatic" by four girls and four boys were all enjoyed.

The concert was concluded with a puppet play, "The Lost Toys."

The chief excitement of the evening was the coming of Santa Claus, who arrived in time, complete with red suit, long white beard, jolly laugh and pack of toys on his back. After shaking hands with the children and wishing all a "Merry Christmas" he proceeded to distribute presents from the tree. Later, a Christmas treat of delicious candy was enjoyed by all present.

Young People's Activities

Sewing Club Holds Two Meetings

Fowles Corner (PNS) -The Fowles Corner Girl's Sewing Club met at the home of Mrs. M. Moore with 11 present. The meeting was opened with the secretary reading the minutes of the last meeting, and the Roll Call, which was a wool material and its weave. The patterns were placed and pinned on the material.

The meeting closed and all enjoyed a lunch of sandwiches, cake, tea or coffee served by the hostess and her helpers. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Cecil Lear.

The fourth meeting of the Sewing Club was held at the home of Mrs. Cecil Lear, with 10 present. The girls started cutting out their material.

Five girls received $2.00 each from the W. I. which was to help pay for the material. The homework was to do stay stitching and sewing on a piece of old cloth.

The meeting closed and everyone enjoyed sandwiches, cake and tea, served by the hostess and her helpers. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Gillis.

Special Services Held In Churches

Bethany (PNS) - Both churches in the village held special Christmas services.

At St. Paul's Anglican Church a sacred Cantata "Bethlehem" was given by the choir members, under the leadership of Mr. James Gay, organist, with the recitative part spoken by the Rev. T.S. Gault. Mrs. H.P. Rayson took the soprano solos; Messrs. R. Morton, W. Mark, F. Gray and D. Gay the male voices portraying the Shepherds and Wisemen; Victor Wood, H. Gay and David Wood as the junior shepherd boys.

In the United Church, the Community choir comprised of members from Pontypool, Janetville and Bethany under the direction of Mr. Harry Preston led the song service with Miss Jeanne Coulter, of Pontypool, at the organ. Their Christmas anthems were "Calm On the Listening Ears of Night" and "I Bring You Good Tidings of Great Joy".

The Rev. R. L. Norman took as his theme "The Miracle of Christmas" with the text from the Gospel of St. John "In the beginning was the Word and the Word was with God and the Word was God. . . and the Word was made flesh and dwelt among us."

The flowers on the Communion table were from Mrs. Winnifred Spencer in loving memory of her husband, the late Otto Spencer. Two Christmas wreaths on either side of the pulpit were the gift of Mrs. Barbara Grant, now living in California, sent in remembrance of her husband, the late Rev. Clifford Grant, who died October 18th and who had been the pastor of the Bethany circuit for three months this summer, retiring due to ill health.

The teacher, Miss Doreen Shaw, was congratulated on the outstanding success of this, her first Christmas concert in Janetville.

Mr. Jack Mark Chairman For Christmas Concert

Cameron (PNB) —. The annual Christmas concert was held in Cameron Hall to a capacity audience. The hall was tastefully decorated with a large tree and other decorations. Owing to the illness of Rev. H. H. Lennox, Anglican rector, Mr. Jack Mark very capably took over as chairman at the last moment. The programme opened with a chorus by the school, "What Child is This?" followed by a chorus by the Junior room children.

The chairman gave a few short remarks concerning the evening's entertainment. The following items were given: A mime, by the Junior room children; a drill, "The Game of the Wooden Soldiers;" Junior room; a choral reading group, "The King's Breakfast." The audience joined in carol singing with Mrs. H. Jackett at the piano; a pantomime, "Inoculation Day at School;" a dialogue, "A Card for Christmas;" a song by the Mark's sisters, "I Saw Mommy Kissing Santa Claus;" a Sunbonnet Drill; a play of two acts by the Senior room, "A Country Aunt's Visit to the City;" recitation by Sandra Donaldson; more carols by the audience; a piano duet by Linda and Joyce Braden; play by Senior room, "Matrimonial Venture;" a duet, "Frosty the Snowman," by Ann Naylor, June Worsley, Stanley Bale and Jimmy McNabb; recitation by Linda Braden; a play, "No Room in the Inn," followed by the National Anthem.

Mr. Mark expressed the thanks of the pupils and the teachers, Miss Lois Schuyler and Miss Amy Graham, to Mr. Robert Inglis and Mr. Clayton Hewie for their generous gifts of candy and popcorn to the children.

Santa arrived and presented gifts and candy to all the children of the school and visiting children.

Martha Johnson

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, Dec. 22nd, under the auspices of Jehovah's Witnesses in Chapman Funeral Chapel for Mrs. Martha Elizabeth Johnson, 77, of 4445 Walden, Vancouver, who died Saturday in St. Vincent's hospital.

Born in Valentine, Brock Twp., Ontario, Mrs. Johnson came to Vancouver 42 years ago.

She is survived by her husband, Fletcher Johnson; a son, Reid, of Vancouver; two brothers, William Reid, of Morrisvel, and Geo. Reid, of hCesley, Ont., and a sister, Mrs. W. B. Gordon, of Youngstown, Alta. Burial was in the family plot in Mountain View Cemetery.

Knox Church Observes White Gift Sunday

Glenarm (PNB) — The members of the Mission Band and their leader, Miss Florence Ferguson, in conjunction with the regular service, held their "White Gift Service" in Knox Church Glenarm.

While the congregation were gathering Miss Catherine McKay played quiet music and the choir rendered special Christmas anthems, also Keith and Sandra Harrave were heard in a much appreciated duet "Love Came Down at Christmas".

Previous to the Christmas service by Rev. Jackson, the children walked up the aisle and laid their gifts beneath the gaily lighted Christmas tree. These gifts were received by Mrs. G. McKay, president of the W.M.S. and Mr. D. N. Sinclair, a member of the Session.

Later the children formed a semi-circle at the front of the church and sang "Can A Little Child Like Me" with Miss Catherine McKay as their accompanist, later taking their places in the pews.

Rev. Mr. Jackson told the why the "White Gift Service" originated, according to the legend, commenced as a birthday tribute from loving subjects to a just or wise king of the far off eastern land—Each of his subjects and in particular all the children would bring some small gift wrapped in white for the king's distribution to the poor. To-day the custom of the white gift service is still carried on and all across Canada the gifts are distributed among the needy and less fortunate children.

The story is told of a little girl weeping bitterly because she had nothing to give in the way of a gift at the white gift service and an angel appeared and asked her the reason of her tears and upon being told of her plight, told her to pick a bunch of weeds from the roadside and put them under the tree and when she did they become covered with lovely red bloom and to this day the traditional flower of Christmas is the Poinsettia.

The service was brought to a close with the singing of another Christmas number and the benediction by Rev. Mr. Jackson.

Lindsay Pair Wed 54 Years

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bigham are celebrating their 54th wedding anniversary this Christmas season, and both are in excellent health.

In the village of Delmer on December 26th, 1900, Estelle May Hewer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hewer, was married to Mr. H. A. Bigham, son of William J. and Isabelle Bigham, of Cullenden village. The groom managed a general store. One of the couple's wedding presents was a piano which was given to them by the mother of the bride of 54 years ago. This was the origin of the momentum in business life which eventually culminated in their present piano sales business in Lindsay.

At their home on Kent St. E., there was a quiet celebration on Sunday. Of their family of three daughters and three sons, Nora and Lloyd with their respective families were present to congratulate their parents.

A son, Lorne Bigham, is living in Ajax and Ray in Toronto.

Mrs. Roland Lewis (Nora) is a daughter, as is Mrs. Blake Foster (Doris) both of Toronto. Eva Claire (Mrs. James O'Rourke), of London, has two grandchildren, which make the elder Bighams great-grandparents.

Choirs And Band Combine For Carol Service

Minden (PNB) — A large crowd attended the Christmas Carol concert at the Recreation Centre. The combined choirs of the Anglican and United Church assisted by the Minden Band put on a very fine program.

It was as follows:

Part song—"Carol of The Bells" a Ukrainian selection by Wilhousky, was presented by the choir; Double Quartet — "Hark! What Mean Those Holy Voices"—W. F. Sherwin. Carol O'Neil, Christine Lazier, Harriet Lazier, Sylvia Howard, Perry Brintnell, Jack Jackson, Dan Loucks and Hugh Vasey; Solo—Miss Marilyn Baggs, Carol—"O Come All Ye Faithful", sung by audience with band accompaniment; Waltz — "Chalna", Bennett, Minden Band; Trio: "The Inn at Bethlehem", Folk song from the Tyrol, Dickenson — ean Jackson, Jack Jackson and Al Barron; Part song: "Rocking" Czech Carol, by the choir; Carol: "Away in a Manger." Sung by the children of the audience; Part song: "Gloria in Excelsio Deo", arrangement by Carlyle Duncan; Solo—"Old French Carol", Samuel Liddle — Shirley Salkwell; Carol—"Hark, The Herald Angels Sing", audience; Solo, "He Shall Feed His Flock" (Messiah, by Handel)—Grace Coburn; Part Song by the choir, "The First Christmas Morn." —Ernest Newton; Carol selections of various nations, Rev. H. C. Vaclavik; Part Song: "Past Three O'clock", choir—Sidney Shimmin; Carol—Silent Night, sung by all.

The stage was beautifully decorated with a Bethlehem scene. Spruce branches provided an additional freshness. The choir members wore their robes of white and black and were directed by Mrs. Grace Coburn. The band was conducted by Mr. Charles Brandon, Miss Marilyn Pegan, Mrs. Jack Barron and Mrs. Vaclivik provided accompaniment at the piano.

Rev. Ross Woolley pronounced the Benediction at the end of the program. A silver collection was taken.

Sunderland Men Have Lucky Escape

Sunderland (PNB) -Sunderland's Ken Sheldon and R. Jewell truck drivers for the Golden Guernsey transport escaped what might have proved a fatality when the huge milk transport, which they were driving was in a minor collision with Robert Drake, of Colborne.

The accident occurred in Brooklin, and the truck bounded off the road and became wedged between a tree and a barber shop. Proprietor Oscar Bell rushed out to investigate. He was able to assist Sheldon, and he and Jewell got through the door which could only be opened eight inches.

Friends are glad to know that both men are at work again Rose being incapacitated only for a day with a strained leg.

Young People's Activities

Janetville Mission Band Christmas Program

On Saturday afternoon a most enjoyable concert and Christmas party was held in the Sunday-school room by the members of the Mission Band, under the supervision of the leader, Mrs. Rose Wirmiett. The children were heard in recitations and songs. All joined in the singing of Christmas carols. The afternoon was concluded with lunch of little cakes, candies and nuts.

Afternoon Tea Held At RMH

An afternoon tea is being held today in the Board Room of the Ross Memorial Hospital Miss Evelyn Wood, RMH superintendent. "The Post" that the arrangements are being carried out by the hospital staff. Economic Storm Signals

Economic storm signals are going up on both sides of the Atlantic.

In Washington, A.-F.-of-L. President George Meany predicted a "rising tide of unemployment" in 1954. In a New Year's statement the labor leader also said the era of full employment has disappeared.

Meany said the one word that will sum up the employment outlook for the New Year is "uncertain". Business analysts attending a marketing conference in Washington agreed.

In London, British big business is reported planning to make a concerted drive for increased trade with the Communist world. Business sources say it's in expectation of a big slump in the United States

Train Fire

A fire in an all steel sleeping car on a Canadian National Railways Transcontinental train has claimed the life of one person.

The unidentified passenger, a man, was the only one unaccounted for after the blaze was extinguished in one of the car's compartments by porter J. D. Bailey of Montreal. Bailey made the discovery shortly after the train pulled out of Pembroke, Ontario, today, en route to Toronto.

The victim is believed to have boarded the train at Ottawa.

The passenger in whose compartment the fire started is being held by Ontario Provincial Police. Police said Charles Fascault of Normanda, Quebec, will undergo a mental examination.

The porter said that when he entered the burning compartment Fascault was "dancing around and waving his arms" while flames spread from a mattress. Fascault later told police he thought the mattress caught fire from a cigarette he was smoking.

The train was delayed three hours.

Gayle Hanthorne Presides At Y.P.S. Meeting

Pension Falls Point -The regular meeting of the Y.P.S. of Pension Falls Baptist Church opened with a song service of Christmas Carols with Patricia Kennedy at the piano.

Gayle Hanthorne presided for the meeting which was opened by singing "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" after which Peter McNevan led in prayer. The Scripture lesson was verses 1-15 from the 2nd chapter of Matthew was read by Joy Martin and Ross McIntyre gave an interesting paper telling of Christmas customs in Denmark. The carol "O Little Town of Bethlehem" was sung and Shirley Jackett read a paper explaining the origin of the carol.

Allan Watson conducted a Bible Quiz which was enjoyed by all. Joy quoted a verse of Scripture starting with the letters in the word "Christmas" Virian Webster read a paper "How Christmas is celebrated in England". A quartette composed of Mr. James, Peter McNevan, Ross Mcintyre and George Jackett sang "Joy Bells".

Following the singing of "Joy to the World" Rev. Harold Haines closed the meeting with prayer. Lunch was served.

Poet's Corner

The following poem was composed by Mrs. William Rutherford for the W.I. meeting.

I love to sit in the twilight
By my friendly misty glow
And just let memory wander
Down the path that I used to know.

Back to the days of my childhood
When our home was happy and bright
Where we shouted with joy and laughter
As we gathered round our fire at night.

Our school books would be put on the table,
After the evening meal was o'er
And then we would do our homework
And our brain with good sound knowledge store.

We often gathered around the old organ
And sang with childish delight
Those dear old songs of our childhood
As in fancy we hear them tonight.

I see my dear old mother
As I did so long ago
In her old rocking chair by the fire
Rocking to and fro.

But so many of those loved faces
Have vanished from our sight
And have gone from us forever
That is why I am lonely tonight.

And so I sit in the twilight
By my friendle's misty glow
And dream of my happy childhood
And that far off long ago.

Christmas Decorations

Minden looked most attractive throughout the Yuletide. The entire valley was brightened with dozens of outdoor Christmas trees, decorated with colourful lights. Windows were illuminated by various colours of lights, either from wreaths in the windows or reflections from gaily decorated trees within the homes. Nature took it upon herself to dress the trees in the season's loveliness, by adding icicles and frosty snow to the heavy branches. Indeed, one could imagine oneself to be in fairyland, all looked so delicately beautiful.

Special Service

The service in the United Church was held on Sunday previous to Christmas with nearly 250 in attendance. The place of worship was decorated with evergreen boughs and red ribbons. Standards at each end of the pews bore candles, boughs and ribbons and the windows held yuletide. The Christmas carols were sung with vigor and happiness. An inspiring address was delivered by Rev. H. J. Vaclavik.

Anglican Church Services

St. Paul's Anglican church was adorned with season's brightness for the services. Candles, boughs, crisp ribbons of red, wreaths and flowers made an attractive setting for worship. A brightly-decorated tree in the chancel also beautified the Holy place. The church was filled for the midnight carol service on Christmas eve, when an ancient custom of Scripture readings by members of the congregation and carol singing by the choir and congregation was carried out. The lights were lowered and only the flickering candles burned as the choir recessed, each member carrying a taper, as an impressive service concluded.

On Sunday morning the Christmas Communion service was conducted by Rev. L. McFarlane of Kinmount, when the Church was filled with communicants.

Miss J. Noble
Addresses Girls Club

The Kinmount "Working With Wool" Club met at the school for further instruction in the art of dress-making and sewing.

Miss J. Noble of Bowmanville, gave an interesting talk on individual styling and quality, and weave of cloth. The meeting was well-attended with the pupils present taking notes for future guidance.

The committee responsible ensured that there was a tasty supper which was enjoyed by all present. It was unfortunate that the president, Miss Joyce Simmons, could not be present, but her duties were taken over in an efficient manner by Miss Beryl Anderson, the vice-president.

The home assignment was to continue the record book, each member to buy material and pattern for her skirt. As she does so she is to look at different wool fabrics and check the weaves. Also she is to study the pattern and instruction sheet and write her name on each pattern piece, and shrink and press wool for skirt.

Those present were Misses Angela Allen, Beryl Anderson, Ferne Anderson, June Anderson, Rose Allen, Joan Brown, Joan Crego, Nancy Crego, Mabel Devell, Millie Duffy, Marie Emmerson, Marilyn Emmerson, Pat Gilleland, Joan Hughes, Marilyn Hill, Mary Kytle, Gail Mansfield, Joan Phillips, Margaret Phillips and Margaret Silver.

Muskies Outscore Lakefield 5-2 In Scrappy Encounter

Lindsay Regent Muskies continued to roll last night as they outscored a scrappy Lakefield crew 5-2 led by Vic Corley's hat trick and Stu Hicks four assists.

During the first half of the game it appeared that a ragged, penalty filled affair by Ray Harding was going to offset Lindsay's wide margin on the play. Harding robbed Lindsay attackers with two and three at a time and seemed to have the luck to be in the right place on numerous occasions last night.

Lakefield squeezed a goal under Ross Poole's leg for the only marker of the first period and added a second goal from a scramble midway in the second before Bob Lewis scorched a drive from the left boards into the corner which Harding had no chance on.

Going into the final period down 2-1 the Muskies took fire and backed the Indians into their own end. Vic Corley exploded with 3 goals, two of them 42 minutes apart as he tied the score and came right back to put Lindsay one up. The Corley, Hicks, Lewis line broke in one for an intrance making at 12:17 with the goal going to Arley. Wyatt added the final marker in the last second of play to wind up the scoring at 5 - 2.

Ross Poole, playing his third game of the season in the Lindsay net, also his third game against Lakefield, turned in a solid effort as he smothered many dangerous rushes. The Lindsay defense were back in stride again and handed out several bruising bodychecks that slowed the opposition. Parker, Crawford and Kelly worked hard, but seemed unable to complete their plays around the net. Parker was again outstanding, killing off penalties. Wyatt, Weddup and Sinclair showed marked improvement and Sinclair was right on the puck with the score sheet with a bang very soon.

Referee Don Doolittle handled a tough game, handed out 18 minor penalties, nine a side, and kept the play moving at a fast pace. Ross gave him a rough ride and in the third period held up the game by throwing articles on the ice. "This is a dangerous practice and the home team is responsible for maintaining order", one spectator said.

The final score of the nthe rumpus was the delay in stopping the play until the injured player's team gained possession of the puck when Al Burns was injured. This procedure was in accordance with rule 19 sec. (b). A Lakefield player stated that "where it is obvious that player has sustained a serious injury the referee may stop play immediately."

The Indians took on the pressure from the starting whistle, but during the first period most of the attacks were broke up by the Lindsay men on both sides. Harding had more shots to handle but his defense gave him better protection during the first period.

Lakefield scored the first goal of the game at 4:47 when Ross Poole ped a ganging attack only to have McCracken push the puck under his pad and just over the line.

Lindsay repeatedly pressed in on the Lakefield end, but were unable to catch Harding out of position. Penalties went three to each side spread through the period, although Parker and Burns shared the penalty bench for over a minute. McCracken received a scalp cut late in the period when struck by the puck, but returned for the 2nd period. Parker, Kelly and Crawford pressed Harding at the start of the second period with Kelly getting in several hard drives. Shortly after Kelly was roughed along the boards and received a nick from a stick but Doolittle disagreed on calling a penalty. Hunter picked up Lakefield's second and what proved to be their last goal at 9:21 of the period when he sheared a loose puck and fired at close range.

Lindsay again went on the attack as they ganged into the visitors end and, during the scramble, an attacking player blazed a drive from the blue line with Harding's view blocked, but the drive bounced off his pads.

Bob Lewis finally spoiled Harding's shut-out when Al Burns forwarded to Hicks at centre. Stu carried to the defence then passed to Lewis on the left side. Bob rifled a shot across Harding's chest that befanned on too late. The Parker, Crawford, Kelly line took over and again stormed Harding. Green was penalized for charging and Wimpy Parker went into action. The display of stick handling Wimpy put on brought the crowd to their feet as he picked his way around the Lakefield players, despite their efforts to check him. This got to be too much for Neil Wasson who boarded Parker and was sent off. The period ended with Burns and Green sitting out penalties for interference and high sticking respectively, much to the fans' disapproval.

Muskies were too much for the short-handed Indians in the third period with the Hicks, Corley, Lewis line being particularly effective.

The Lakefield goaltender clicked again a few seconds later, when Davis forwarded to Hicks who again held it up for Corley who had to be tipped in goal number two to put Lindsay one up.

From then to the final buzzer both teams opened wide. Lindsay defense covered well, as well as stopping several attackers with solid checks. Hennessey was penalized for kneeing at 4.12 and the remaining defenders checked the Indians back to their own goal line. Corley received two minutes for slashing and Lakefield went on the attack. During one of these one-sided rushes Wyatt slapped on the check bone and the referee delayed the whistle until Lindsay regained possession. This proved very unpopular with the fans as formerly mentioned.

Green received Lindsay's third penalty of the period for hooking at 9:11; Cam Wasson followed for interference at 9:47; Richlark for tripping at 12:42, Parker for hooking at 13.25 and Dean Wasson for tripping at 17.57.

The Indians several brilliant saves as Lakefield pressed late in the period, then Corley and Lewis broke away, but Harding smothered the shot. A few seconds later the Hicks, Lewis, Corley line broke from centre ice with one man back. A double pass took care of him and the three snipers lined up in front of Harding as Corley beat him from in close.

Wyatt scored a spectacular goal just as time ran out when he carried the puck around the defense and blazed a ten foster into the net.

S. Orton Bradburn Re-elected President of Athletic Club

S. Orton Bradburn is again the president of the Janetville Athletic Club following the election held there recently. The annual meeting was held in the Athletic Club rooms and was well-attended by loyal supporters.

Business transactions during the year, committee reports, such as curling, hockey, skating, etc., were dealt with.

When the club entered into curling last year, during the 1952-53 season, a spokesman says, 40 of the 75 Club members enjoyed participation in it. At present, the club is anxiously awaiting the proper temperature to make natural ice for skating and curling.

The baseball team this year, sponsored by the Athletic Club, played in the North Durham Baseball League. "Having several young players, we did not expect to win all the games but to try and make it interesting for our opponents," a member says. "We are glad the boys are interested and with the experience gained look forward to better results next season."

Skating, held on Friday and Saturday nights, proved popular among the young people of the community and surrounding district.

At the annual meeting, the president expressed pleasure of the loyal support extended by district people and members of the club. Extending his thanks to all, he said he hopes for a continuance of this support.

The officers and committees for the past year were returned to office for 1954, and are as follows: honorary president, Donald Duncan; president, S. Orton Bradburn; vice-president, Horace A. Heslip; rec. secty., S. O. Bradburn; fin. secty. and treas., John B. Bradburn; directors, Wilson Heaslip (chairman), Norman Wilson, Guy McGill, Merritt McGill, Harold Mason (newly appointed, replacing late Ross Jackett); curling manager, Wilson Heaslip; committee, Guy McGill, Wesley Jordon, N. Norland

Many Be Santa

Quite a number from Norland and vicinity journeyed to Coboconk on Thursday, when Norland's Good Santa Claus paid a visit to the children of Coboconk and district. Treats were distributed to the children in the beautifully lighted Christmas tree which stands at the south end of the bridge, close to Richardson's Store shop.

A very large number attended the Christmas concert sponsored by the Community Club in the Community Hall on Wednesday night. The programme was local talent. Santa Claus arrived in time to distribute the gifts from the Christmas tree to the many delighted children.

Sympathy of the Community is extended to the family of the late Mrs. Sarah McGee, a life-long resident of Dongola, who passed away on Monday. The remains rested at the home of her daughter, Mrs Owen Brohm. Funeral service was held in the Norland United Church on Wednesday and interment was made at Kinmount Cemetery. The late Mrs McGee had a host of friends in the district.

Sympathy is extended to the relatives of the late Mr. Joe Fills, highly respected resident of Coboconk, and Norland in his early years. Mr. Fills died in the Norland Pine Grove Cemetery on Thursday. Since leaving the Ellis homestead some years ago, he had made his home with his sister, Mrs. Otto in Coboconk

Friends of Mrs. Jas. Bryant are sorry to learn of her sudden illness, the day before Christmas. She is under medical care and all join in wishing her a speedy recovery. Mrs. Pearl Gostlin of Coboconk is caring for her mother during her illness.

Mr. and Mrs Vernon Reid of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Faulkner of Coboconk, spent Christmas with Mrs. Joe Chynoweth and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Watson. The many friends of Mrs. Joe Chynoweth are pleased to know she is able to be up a few minutes each day.

Grocery Warehouse Closing Here, Report Move To Improve Service

It has been reliably learned by "The Post" that National Grocers Co. Ltd. is closing its warehouse in Lindsay. It is the oldest wholesale grocery business based in Lindsay and it is reported that the operations from the Lindsay warehouse will cease around mid-January.

The wholesale grocery business on the present site began here with J. E. Adams Wholesale Grocer, being sold in January 1919 to Midland Bros. Ltd. The latter firm was sold out on August 15th, 1925, to the present owners, National Grocers Co. Ltd.

Sources close to the company say they feel certain the new arrangement (to serve this area from Orillia and Peterborough) will in no way lessen the service the firm has maintained for so many years. On the other hand they say it will enable the company to better serve its many customers in a wider area both in and around Lindsay. "The Post" has learned that official arrangements as to what is to be done in the Lindsay area will not be completed until a meeting in the near future. A company statement is expected to follow the meeting.

However so far as is known at present, the operations to service the Lindsay area will be carried on out of the Peterborough and Orillia warehouses. In the latter centre, the National Grocers warehouse, which burned down last year, has been replaced with a new, larger building, designed to cope with modern grocery warehousing and distribution.

Disposition of the present premises has not yet been determined.

A persistent report in connection with the grocery warehousing change at Lindsay is that the company will make a surprise announcement concerning future plans following the full dress meeting of top personnel this week. It is believed in some quarters to concern other property held by the company here, but no confirmation can be obtained from local officers of the firm.

Warehouse Closing Seen Aiding Plan

Pilot, 62 Yrs., Breaks Sound Barrier

A crowd of officials and spectators gazed at a silver speck 50,000 feet above a testing field in France Tuesday.

A jet plane flashed down in a shallow dive through clear, sunny skies. With a sharp thunderclap, it broke through the sound barrier.

A few minutes later the jet -- piloted by a French army captain -- whistled in for a landing. Out stepped a 62-year-old passenger -- French Air Minister Louis Christiaens.

He proudly laid claim to becoming the world's first supersonic cabinet minister . . . and there were handshakes all around.--BUP

Firm's Customers To Be Notified Of New Sources

It has been learned by "The Post" that the meeting of the heads of National Grocers Co. Ltd., took place Tuesday to work out details of the closing of the local warehouse, which will take place on January 15th.

It has further been learned that every customer of the firm will be notified by letter about the future distribution of the products they purchase from National Grocers and how it will be carried out after the closing here. As reported yesterday, clients of the firm in Lindsay and district will be supplied, as far as is now known, from the new Orillia warehouse, the one in Peterborough or Oshawa.

Kind Deeds Bring Roses To Lindsayite

A Lindsay woman Mrs. Thos. P. Fox, was awarded a bouquet of roses up a radio program this morning for being "so kind and thoughtful to a blind person" here. Mrs Fox, who is the welfare convener for the Lindsay and Victoria County Advisory Board of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, had her name submitted by Mrs. Margaret Stubbings of Margaret Ave., whose husband is blind.

Contacted by "The Post", Mrs. Thos. Fox said she was very happy to receive the bouquet and mentioned the thoughtfulness of Mrs Stubbings for having sent her name in. Mrs. Fox says she has always tried in her lifetime to be kind to other people and that it was nice to be remembered in this way by the radio program.

Dulles Warns Red China—

The American Secretary of State has warned Red China not to intervene in the Indo-Chinese war.

John Foster Dulles says that if Red China goes to the aid of the rebels, or renews the fighting in Korea, the United States and its Allies will react immediately.

This statement is interpreted as meaning that the retaliation might be aimed directly at Red China itself.

His remarks were made at a news conference in which he said he saw no reason to get panicky over the new "red offensive into Indo-China. --BUP

Announcement of the impending closing of the National Grocers Co. Ltd.'s warehouse at Lindsay has revived hopes for a municipal parking lot in the downtown area. This was learned here following the disclosure that the grocery distributors were closing out the Lindsay warehouse in mid-January.

For some weeks now there has been a movement afoot in Lindsay to have the town make the property it holds in the downtown area bounded by the rear premises of business on Kent, Cambridge, William and Peel Sts available for parking purposes. There was also a suggestion made to council recently that the town acquire some property owned by Col. R. I. Moore on Cambridge St. N. consisting of two burned-out dwellings, to add to the proposed parking lot site. Now the idea seems to be gaining momentum and there is talk of a proposal being submitted to Council that it consider acquiring the National Grocers Co. Ltd.'s Cambridge St. property and the premises adjoining which were formerly owned by the candy stick manufacturing company but which are now owned by Col. Moore. This, the proponents of the idea point out would make available a large tract of land in the heart of the town which could be equipped with parking meters and made self-sustaining.

An example of the total available space in the proposed lot has placed it at 140 feet frontage on Cambridge St. with a depth of 300 feet. Potential car parking capacity has been estimated at upwards of 100.

The need for a parking lot in the immediate downtown area is reported to have been heightened with the opening of a parking lot by a local chain store on the outskirts of the main business section. It is felt that the new parking lot has taken many would-be shoppers out of the main downtown area and that action is being advocated to help counteract the chain store parking lot's effect on the main business section.

Mr. Harold Pollock, Chamber of Commerce, told "The Post" today he and other members of a committee were studying the situation and hoped to present certain recommendations to Council early in 1954. He said he felt something would have to be done.

Mayor-elect Mr. (Bert) Rick told this paper he would be willing with Council, to sit down and study the parking lot proposal and meet with representatives of merchants at any time.

Col. R. I. Moore, owner of some of the property suggested for the proposed new parking lot said he was willing and anxious to do anything he could to help the town should it decide to go ahead with the plan. He expressed the opinion that something in Lindsay here an opportunity to acquire such suitable downtown parking lot space.

'53 Good Year for Canada, Howe Says '54 To Be Better

Plan Evening Inaugural As Council Innovation

An evening inaugural meeting for the new 1954 council of the Town of Lindsay will be held next Monday night. This is an innovation this year, says Mayor-elect A. E. (Bert) Rick, as it has been the practice here to hold inaugural meetings of this nature in the forenoon.

Another new feature of next week's meeting will be the fact that the wives of those attending will be especially requested to be present also.

Mayor Rick says that a general invitation will be issued to citizens through the local press and written invitations to officials such as the heads of the various Boards, etc. will be sent out by Town Clerk W. R. Ally.

A good attendance at this meeting will officials believe, make for a more formal send-off for the 1954 council than councils of other years have enjoyed.

Christmas Seal Campaign Yields $2,300 To Date

$2300 has been collected thus far in the Christmas Seal Campaign in this county treasurer of the Victoria County Tuberculosis and Health Association Frank Weldon, told "The Post" this morning.

Mr. Weldon pointed out, however, that the campaign does not conclude each year until the end of March. He said that last year by March end, the Association had received $3,000 for the sale of the seals.

95-year-old Vet Dies At Markham

Markham, Dec. 29 (BUP) -- A 95-year-old veteran of the Northwest Rebellion has died at the home of a daughter in Markham.

John Hardy had been a resident of Markham for 60 years. In pioneer days he was employed as a hostler at the old Tremont Hotel and was a member of the Markham Hook and Ladder Brigade.

Increased Corporal Punishment Opposed By Reform Committee

Toronto, Dec. 29 (BUP) -- An Ontario Legislature Committee on Reform Institutions has gone on record as opposed to the increase in the use of corporal punishment in the province.

However, the committee says it has no wish to outlaw the strap and lash and says both are still necessary in the judiciary process.

The committee chairman, William J. Stewart, says it has been pleased to discover that there are no -- in his words -- "strap enthusiasts" among the superintendents of Ontario reform institutions.

His statement was backed up by the chief Liberal member of the Committee, Farquhar Oliver. Oliver said, "We have had no evidence at any time that any superintendent anywhere in our institutions has indulged in excessive use of the strap or in brutality of any kind."

The discussion arose on a letter from George M. Hay of the Canadian Health Association. Hay, a former staff psychologist at the Brampton reformatory, said in the letter he thought a "get tough" policy might destroy much of the good work there.

He said there had been extensive corporal punishment during early days of the institution and he said it failed to force the inmates to follow the rules. Since corporal punishment has been reduced, he said, there had been a very great improvement.

The defense procurement program has passed the peak and now is levelling off as far as new orders in value terms are concerned,

Defense Production Minister C. D. Howe says a year of record achievement has also been experienced by Canadians in increased production, income, spending and savings. He predicts that 1954 will be even better.

Of defence, Howe says there is considerable variation in the individual parts of the current program. In such fields as aircraft electronics and shipbuilding continuing orders are being placed and substantial deliveries have yet to be made.

In other parts . . . while there is still a considerable amount of work remaining . . . the level of new orders has decreased.

Among the highlights of the 1953 defense production program . . . How, places full-scale production of the CF-100 jet fighters and the beginning of full-scale deliveries of the T-33 jet trainers to the RCAF.

Howe also points out that considerable progress has been noted in supplying equipment for the radar defense screen of this continent.

The Trade Minister also mentions that Canada is increasingly independent of foreign sources for defense supplies.--BUP

Expect Big Four Meet Delayed Until Jan. 25th

Britain is reported to have approved the Soviet suggestion that a Big Four Foreign Ministers Conference be delayed until January 25th.

It's expected that joint British American and French notes accepting the Berlin meeting date will be sent to Moscow later this week.

Polio Victim Has Surprise Christmas Reunion With Family

The J. Wickett family of Lindsay was given a delightful Christmas surprise by many of their friends. Mrs. Wickett, who was stricken with polio some time ago and has since been confined to the Riverside Isolation Hospital in Toronto, was invited to a home-cooked Christmas dinner, a tree and presents at the hospital in a special room set aside for the purpose. His wife and two children were with him. Per- [illegible] thing about the whole day for Mr. Wickett was the fact that he saw his children for the first time since taking ill.

The collection to provide the [illegible] and some of Mr. Wickett's friends, by Tom Purdey, manager of Riverside Cemetery, and Mr. Bob Miller, local service station operator. These gentlemen arranged that an office be set aside Christmas day in which to hold the party for the family. The arrangements at Riverdale were taken over by the men in charge of the hospital, Dr. Hannah, Miss Hamilton and Miss Dobbie, a Christmas dinner and presents for Mrs. Wickett and the children (which a spokesman says Mr. Wickett wrapped to suit himself), a cheque for $100 was presented to the family.

It is reported that Mr. Wickett is making good progress on the road back to health.

Whether it was another in a series of cruel hoaxs pranksters have been playing on the McDowell family.

Harold Sanders York County Crown Attorney, said he followed the instructions in the note because there was always some chance that the writer might have been her kidnapper.

A second development in the baffling case came with the finding today of my dear child—and that with Marion's name on a piece of paper in the pockets and an address 937 St. Catherines Street, Montreal.

Police said Montreal officers told them there is no such number, either east or west, on that street.

Also found in the coat, written on the flap of a cigarette package, were the words, "goodbye, J. M. —Love K. M."

Police refused to say whether they thought the note was genuine, or discard and when we do take them down the place looks so bare. Cards for every occasion have come a long way in the past few years and they are beautifully printed. Clear Broadcast

Mary Lindsaytjes listened to the Queen speak over the radio from New Zealand. The reception seemed to be very good and it is wonderful to think that the Queen's voice can be heard so distinctly here in Canada. It must have been wonderful for her children in England to hear her voice.

At the Lake

It was very chilly down at the lake on Christmas day. The lake has a fair coating of ice but the wind coming across the lake was bitterly cold. When you turn away from the lakefront it was nice and a brisk walk helped one's appetite for Christmas dinner. You could see where rabbits and other wild animals had been running about and there was probably could almost live on rabbit pie, that is if they could shoot or use a snare The cold wind kept us from trying out the ice to see if it would hold us, but it looked as if it would.

Christmas Florist

Did you get a lovely plant for Christmas? We were glad to get a leaflet with one so that we could keep it in the dark and condition for as long as possible. It is an Azalea, and the trick is to give it a special treatment prior to other day. You put the plant in water that comes over the top of the flower pot and it will start to bloom. Leave it until all the bubbles have stopped and remove it from the water, whether the soil that there should be put in a bright spot, but not with the sun pouring on it. The best plan is to keep it facing the light the same way and your buds will naturally come to the light and with good care will bloom. So if you didn't get any tips about your plant you might try these.

Washing

Bleaching is always a controversial subject Modern home-makers are more and more interested in the why's and wherefore's of bleaching, especially now when new types of equipment and new fibres are continually making their appearance on the market.

Cotton was recently chosen for a combined experiment and survey concerning bleaching.

Six typical suburban families with children took part. New clothing sheets and towels were purchased. They were washed 20 times each ... and each was then weighed and evaluated. During the same period, standard laboratory tests were made on similar types of cotton fabrics.

The survey found that powdered bleaches containing enough sodium perborate ... the chemical used in textile mills in drying processes to give brightness to colors --- were excellent for keeping clothes white without weakening fibres.

Tests were made with powdered bleaches using three times the amount of sodium perborate ordinarily recommended ---and still the colors of the cotton fabrics were not affected.

It was found that in the case of extreme soiling, however, that liquid bleaches were more effective.

The main conclusion reached from the tests is that cottons take very well to bleaching --- so don't be afraid to use bleaches to keep your cottons white and sparkling.

Christmas Giving

The Community Council of Tucson, Arizona, has evolved a new system for christmas giving.

The needy children of Tucson received gifts from the council this year as they do every year ... but the method of distribution was different.

In past years members of organizations donated gifts and donations to needy families. This year the children's parents distributed the gifts.

Says Miss Catherine Roche Casework Division Chairman of Tucson's Community Council, "The council believes the parents should share in the joy of giving.

She explains the council felt that having strangers arrive at Christmas time bearing gifts tears down a family feeling more than it builds it up. The parents may now to let the parents play Santa Claus.

Princess

Mark Bonham-Carter's three recent dates with Princess Margaret has reminded British socialites of Prince Philip's courtship of Queen Elizabeth.

Bonham-Carter and the blue-eyed princess walked for several encores the other night after a singer crooned, "Let's do it --- let's fall in love" at a London night club.

The social set recalls that Philip and Elizabeth always looked meaningfully at each other when courtesy was observed her Royal Command to play "People will say we're in love".

Tall, fair and Mr. Bonham-Carter walked 500 miles through German lines to escape from an Italian prison camp in Western North Africa. He is the son of Sir Maurice and Lady Violet Bonham-Carter and a grandson of Herbert H. Asquith, who was Prime Minister during World War One.

Wanted Hint

Here is today's household hint: A stirred custard is done when it coats the spoon. Longer cooking will curdle the mixture.

Santa and Reindeers

An attractive Christmas decoration on the front door of a home out the Oakwood road caught our eye. It was a smart looking Santa in a sleigh with eight reindeers, all set out on the lawn it gave the home a very "Christmassy" atmosphere.

Lovely Hair

Many of us found that Christmas coming on us before we've us a nice long holiday. It made it easier for people to get away and pay a nice visit with relatives and they didn't have to rush back. The New Year will be coming in before we know it and that will be another holiday to enjoy.

Newly Engaged

Perhaps the luckiest ones at Christmas were the young ladies who received their engagement rings during the season. There's no need any bright lights for Christmas for their eyes shone and glittered more than with Christmas lights. It really is a special occasion and naturally the time to wear is so all can see is to the Christmas dance.

Curling Irons

The men at Oakwood were enjoying the holiday with a round of curling. With artificial ice all the village they don't have to stop because the weather is mild. The skaters haven't quite so fortunate but maybe they can skate when the curling comes to an end. They have a big club and the social here we have now are not favorable for natural ice skating rinks Artificial ice is a wonderful thing but a very costly project to purchase.

Many Homes Going Up

Many new homes are being built out the Little Britain road this side of the first turn. Lindsay is definitely moving out that way as well as in other directions They have some fine views out this road and the lots are large enough to have a nice lawn and trees between the houses. One can take quite a tour around to the different sections before you get back to the point you watch their progress with the work.

Buying A Coat?

A winter coat takes a big hunk out of your clothing budget ... so it's a time to exercise a decided a lot of time and attention to shopping for it.

Edna Gray --- a clothing specialist at the University of Illinois Agriculture College -- has drawn up a check list that will be helpful in making a wise investment. Miss Gray says it really doesn't matter whether you select a rough or smooth coat, or a solid shade. The important thing is quality.

She says loosely woven fabrics are apt to stretch out of shape and sag for a firm, close weave. The weave should be balanced, too with the cross-wise and lengthwise threads of the same size and strength.

Then crush the material in your hand. If it springs back into shape quickly, it's not as apt to wrinkle in wearing.

Be a label buyer ... watching for what the material contains ... whether it's all wool, and whether the wool is virgin, re-processed or re-used. Miss Gray explains that virgin wool is new wool, and the best because it is resilient. The reprocessed is made of scraps of new wool, and re-used or worn wool. Both as lets expensive than the new, but do not wear as well.

The university authority says construction also should be checked. In a well-made coat, the lining is hemmed separately, so that the buyer can inspect the inter-lining and the seam finish.

Make sure the inside seams are taped ---otherwise they may stretch out of shape or roll up into unsightly wrinkles.

Rayon satin or crepe are satisfactory lining. Miss Gray says, if they are of good quality. She says acetate lining ---, especially in the various blues --- sometimes fade, but this does not affect the wearing quality. January is an excellent time to buy.

Sewing Tip

Manufacturers of sewing machines have reported an almost fantastic increase in recent years in the number of clothes being made by their own and their children's clothing. This is the time of the year when many of our amateur seamstress will be sewing plaids. Getting a neat-matching job in sewing plaids often is difficult. The easiest plaid to sew is the one with the same design on all four sides ---top and bottom, left and right. In unbalanced plaids color intensities are not repeated in the same order on the four sides. If you choose a plaid with a definite design, horizontal or vertical, be sure so the white won't come at the hemline. A bright or dark stripe looks better at the bottom of the skirt.

Spicy Dessert

Warm, spicy gingerbread is a perfect cold weather dessert -- especially when you give it a walnut and brown sugar topping.

Here's how: Five minutes before the gingerbread is done remove it from the oven and spread with this mixture: --- combine with cream enough to moisten --- cut in 2 tablespoons of butter, combined with one-half cup of brown sugar, one-fouth cup of flour, one teaspoon of cinnamon, one-half teaspoon of grated lemon rind, and one-third cup of chopped walnuts. Bake 10 minutes longer, and serve hot --- with cream if desired

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I prevent blistering when taking a mustard foot bath?

A. When preparing a mustard foot bath, dissolve the mustard in cold water first. Then add it to the hot water. If it is just thrown in the mustard is very apt to stick to the skin and cause a burn or blister.

Q. How can I paint window shades?

A. Window shades can be painted successfully if a flat paint that is thinned to a cream-like consistency is used.

Q. How can I make the leaves of a house plant glossy?

A. If the plant is sponged with a soft cloth into which has been added a few drops of olive oil the leaves will remain glossy and healthy.

Social Evening At Valentia

Valentia (PNS) -- The ladies of the WMS held a supper and concert in the Valentia United church with a fair crowd present.

At six o'clock all sat down to supper and enjoyed a very friendly time.

After supper all adjourned to the auditorium of the church where Mr. Atchison, a native of Britain, showed a number of beautiful pictures of their trip through Western Canada last August. Each picture was very clear and showed the beautiful flowers around many of the buildings. Also the busy scene of the farmers at work in the fields.

Rev. Mr. Trumpour acted as chairman and called on the WMS president, Mrs. Mac Glassford, who thanked Mr. and Mrs Atchison for coming and was in charge of the program. This appreciation was shown by hearty applause, followed by the National Anthem.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cole

There died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Laplain, on November 25th Mrs. Elizabeth Cole, of Dunsford, after an illness of nine months duration. She resided in Dunsford for 22 years.

Born in Drayton in Wellington County, Mrs Cole was the daughter of the late Susan and James McColgan.

Before taking up residence in Dunsford, the deceased lived in Bowmanville for 45 years and, six years in the city of Toronto.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Laplain; grandson, Joseph Laplain, Dunsford; sisters and brothers, Mrs. Janey Cheasley, Toronto; Mrs. Mary Stimson, Hewson; Mrs. Jane Lawler, Edmonton, Alta.; Mr. Hugh N. McColgan, Kitchener; Dr. J. W. McColgan Sagamore, Penn.; U. S. A. Another brother, Mr. Alex. McColgan, of Drayton, predeceased her.

A member of the United Church, Mrs. Cole was a member of the W.A. of Dunsford United Church and the Kawartha Valley W. I.

The funeral on November 28th, was held from Mackey's Funeral Chapel, Peel Street, Lindsay, at 2 p.m. The officiating clergymen were Dr. Harold R. Neal, of Cambridge Street United Church and her former minister Rev. J. G. Robeson, Lindsay. Interment was made in Dunsford cemetery.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Hazel H. Purcell, Joe Robertson, Nelson Thurston, Roy Kennedy, Frank Thurston and Roy Robertson.

Two Concerts At Coboconk

Coboconk (PNS) -The annual Sunday School program of the Trinity Full Gospel Church, Coboconk was held recently.

After the opening address by the superintendent, Mrs. Wilkin, the pastor acted as chairman for the evening.

Following an interesting program of songs, recitations, and exercises by the members of the Sunday School, Mrs. Wilkin acted as narrator during the showing of a beautiful color film strip, "The First Christmas".

The Sunday School members were presented with gifts and candy. The program closed with prayer.

The Coboconk public school held their Christmas concert in the Masonic Hall Mr. Roy Shields acted as chairman.

There were two operettas, one "The Toys That Were Left Behind" by the Juniors. The second operetta "Roughly Speaking", was acted by the Seniors. There were a number of Christmas songs and it was a programme well-rendered.

The hall was packed and the money raised for the school fund was very gratifying.

Everyone reported a most enjoyable evening.

Lottie Washington

Final tributes were paid this morning to Mrs. Lottie Gorrill Washington aged 84 years, at funeral at Toronto General Hospital on Thursday. The funeral was held from the Griffen-Mead Chapel, 2570 Danforth Ave. Toronto, to Pine Hills Cemetery for interment.

Born in Mariposa Township, the deceased attended the Lindsay School and, after her marriage to Walter Washington, farmed for a time on the line of Omemee township. She accompanied her husband to Toronto where he entered the funeral direction business and they have resided in Toronto ever since.

Surviving besides her husband are her daughter, Beatie, (Mrs. Tom Moss), Detroit, and brother John Gorrill of Lindsay. Two children, Grace and George, predeceased her as did a brother and two sisters, Miss Gorrill, Mrs. Mary Donahue and Mrs. Elizabeth Bowes, all of Oakwood.

HOW ABOUT A 12th NIGHT BONFIRE?

A few weeks ago the suggestion was advanced in these columns that a leaf be taken from Orillia's book on "How to dispose of discarded Christmas Trees" and a mammoth 12th night bonfire be held at Lindsay for the purpose. Up until now there has been no evidence of any leadership in this matter which, in the opinion of many, would be an excellent way to solve the annual Christmas tree disposal problem. However, now that the Christmas tree's usefulness is nearly at an end for this year, it is possible that some local organization will take the initiative and arrange for a 12th night bonfire here.

There are several ideal places for holding such a fire, one of which being the former town dump and this, like other locations, could be utilized without danger to adjoining property. And the advantages of such a bonfire are numerous in an age when other methods of disposal are not so convenient and when many people are tempted either ditch the discarded tree by the side of the road or leave it lying about the yard.

A "Twelfth Night" bonfire such as has been suggested would be a fitting climax to "Twelfth Day" celebrations. The twelfth day is, of course, January 6th and was celebrated (with Christmas) as wassail festival by the Anglo Saxons, wassail meaning "May you have good health."

EVIDENCE OF WHAT CAN BE DONE

The absence of any traffic fatalities in this district over the Christmas holiday was evidence of what can be achieved in the way of sane driving records if an honest effort is made. The holiday record here is a credit to the driving public and law enforcement officers, the latter having made their position clear on the subject of driving while drinking and stuck by their guns. As was recorded in this paper Monday two drivers who ignored the police declaration paid for their indiscretion with (a) a substantial fine and (b) seven days in jail, during which there will be time to consider the unwisdom of driving while loaded with alcohol.

It is expected that those who drive and don't drink will be inspired by the very good Christmas holiday record and do everything in their power to make it even better over the New Year weekend. Those who have been in the habit of drinking and driving might be wise to ponder the fate of two with similar tendencies whose price for indulgence has been recorded above.

Laugh It Off...

Hoping to inspire his workers with promptness and energy, an executive hung a number of signs reading "DO IT NOW" around his factory and office. When he was asked some weeks later how he staff reacted, he shook his head sadly. "I don't even like to talk about it," he said. "The cashier skipped with $4,000; the head bookkeeper eloped with the best secretary I ever had, three typists asked for an increase, the factory workers voted to go on strike, and the office boy joined the Navy."

GIFTS WITHOUT TAXES

Following is a remarkable will left many years ago by a lawyer who died penniless, but who never-the-less felt that he was rich in all the good things that life itself can bestow.

"I, Charles Lounsbury, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, do hereby make and publish this my last will and testament, in order, as justly as may be, to distribute my interest in the world among succeeding men.

"That part of my interests, which is known in law and recognized in the sheep bound volumes as my property, being inconsiderable and of no account, I make no disposal of it in this my will. My right to live, being but a life estate, is not at my disposal but, these things excepted, all else in the world I now proceed to devise and bequeath.

"ITEM:—I give to good fathers and mothers, in trust for their children, all good little words of praise and encouragement and all quaint pet names and endearments, and I charge said parents to use them justly, but generously, as the needs of their children shall require.

"ITEM:—I leave to children inclusively, but only for the term of their childhood all and every the flowers of the fields and the blossoms of the woods, with the right to play among them freely, according to the customs of children, warning them at the same time against thistles and thorns. And I devise to children the banks of the brooks and the golden sands beneath the waters thereof, and the odors of the willows that dip therein, and the white clouds that float high over the giant trees. And I leave the children the long, long days to be merry in a thousand ways, and the night, and the moon, and the train of the Milky Way to wonder at, but subject nevertheless, to the rights hereinafter given to lovers.

"ITEM:—I devise to boys jointly all the useless, idle fields and commons where ball may be played, all pleasant waters where one may swim, all snowchid hills where one may coast, and all streams and ponds where one may fish, or where, when the ice shall form, one may skate, to have and to hold the same for the period of their boyhood; and all meadows with the clover blossoms and butterflies thereof, and the woods with their appurtenances, the squirrels and birds, and the echoes and strange noises, and all distant places which may be visited, together with the dens wherein they are found.

"And I give to said boys each his own place at the fireside at night, with all pictures that may be seen in the burning wood, and to enjoy without let or hindrance, without any incumbrance or care.

"ITEM:—To lovers I devise their imaginary world, with whatever they can see in the stars of the sky, the red roses by the wall, the bloom of the hawthorn, the sweet strains of music, and aught else that may be desired to figure to each other the lastingness and beauty of their love.

"ITEM:—To young men jointly I devise and bequeath all the boisterous, healthful sports of rivalry, and I give to them the disdain of weakness, and undaunted confidence in their own strength. Though they are rude, I leave to them the power to make lasting friendship and of possessing companions, and to them exclusively I give all merry songs and brave choruses to sing with lusty voices.

"ITEM:—And to those who are no longer children or youths or lovers, I leave memory, and I bequeath to them the volumes of the poems of Burns and Shakespeare and of other poets, if there be others, to the end that they may live the old days over again freely and fully with no let or hindrance.

"ITEM:—To our loved ones with snowy crowns, I bequeath the happiness of old age, the love and gratitude of their children until they fall asleep".

ONE DOWN, TWO TO GO

If an ordinary citizen set out to build a sloping curb bridge off the street into his private driveway his movements would be highly simple. He would drag out a lawn hose, a modest quantity of concrete mix, stir it up with a shovel, probably in his wheelbarrow, plop it into place, pat it with the shovel, lay a couple of boards to hold it till it hardened, and be all through in an hour or so.

But when the city of Toronto does it for him the picture is altered somewhat. At an appropriate interval after breakfast three men arrive with a truck, halt in the middle of the street, confer, dump sand and gravel and cement on the pavement, confer, make a tentative mixture with water, scrub gutter, confer; then turn about each man places some of the mixture in place while the other two superintend. Then all three confer. Eventually the job is finished, the three men and the truck have gone, so has the morning. It costs the citizen considerably more in this way, but he has the spiritual satisfaction of knowing that, (a) if a near-by catch basin gets plugged he is not responsible; (b) his bridge will be proof against the city snowplow provided (1) that snow of plowable dimensions arrives and (2) that the snow having arrived, the plow enters that particular residential street some time during the winter.

We live in a strenuous age.

Muskies Rolling Again, Defeat Cobourg Here 6-4

Lindsay Regent Muskies are rolling again. After edging Orono 4-3 at Port Hope Wednesday night, the Regent clan downed Cobourg 6-4 at the Arena Saturday night in no uncertain manner.

For the first time in several weeks Coach Al Burns had a full squad to turn loose against the Comets, which resulted in most of the play being confined to the visitors' end of the ice.

Don Sinclair was back after his long lay-off and Mark O'Donoghue returned for the Wednesday night tilt as well as Saturday's.

The Lindsay defense returned to form to shake the win which saw no holds barred, and many lusty body checks thrilled the fans and slowed the Comets. Goalie O'Connell also rose to the occasion turning aside labelled shots on several occasions.

Murray Davis led the Lindsay marksmen with two goals while Hicks, Ferris, Corley and Burns added well-executed markers. Casey -- 2, Reeves and LeGrow scored for Cobourg.

The Hicks, Lewis, Corley line were really hot, picking up nine scoring points and outshooting the Cobourg setup with ease. Parker, Crawford and Kelly were a continuous threat to Sommerville, but an assist on Davis' first goal was the only actual scoring they could muster. Killing off penalties possibly rendered their scoring punch less but allowed them to exhibit nifty passing and slick handling ability.

Sinclair, Woodgate and O'Donoghue checked well and with a few games after Sinclair's lay-off will be a good scoring concern again.

1st Period

Cobourg made a brief attack in the early part of the game from the opening face off but the Muskies quickly took over and restricted the Comets to their own territory but shutting in on the Lindsay defense. Meanwhile, Goalie Sommerville was having an unusually busy night getting the rubber handled in a cool manner until he picked an inopportune moment to pull a trip with Referee Calhoun coming on. The game was over eight minutes old before the Comets penetrated the Lindsay defense, but to no avail.

The Hicks, Lewis, Corley line carried right to the goal mouth at the 11-minute mark when the neatest passing attack of the night only to have Lewis' shot spoiled by a defending stick. Not to be denied, the same line clicked a few seconds later with Captain Stu Hicks tucking the opening goal away. Hennessey laid up a blue line pass to Lewis near the crease at 16.20, but no goal. Hicks and Corley broke through at 18.30 and again Sommerville smothered the effort. As the period closed out play ranged from end to end with the usual crescendo rising with each rush.

2nd Period

As the second period got underway, Parker, Crawford and Kelly bottled up the Comets and, in less than a minute, they had Cobourg clustered in front of their net. Winery dropped a pass back to Davis at the blue line and Sommerville had no chance to even see the screened shot. Sommerville came up with a desperate save on the mid-ice drive when the shifty winger took a pass at the goal mouth but couldn't get it over the goalie's dive. Just before mid-period Hicks and Co. ganged in and Corley looped a pass from the corner to the edge of the crease. Lewis jumped in and snared the puck and batted it into the short corner.

Just over a minute later, Davis was chased for boarding and Cobourg tried desperately to find an opening in the Lindsay defense.

Finally they resorted to shooting the puck in. This paid off with a fast goal when Casey scooped a pass from the corner to the Lindsay crease, being defended by three Lindsay players, and the pass bounced off it's leg into the twine to spoil Mucker's hopes for another shutout at 12.05.

This goal inspired the Comets and they put on their most sustained attack of the night for the next three minutes. This ended, however, when Alexander was penalized for holding at 13.24 and, 35 seconds later, Murray Davis rang up his second marker on a pass from Hicks.

As in the first period play opened up as the period ended with two goals scored during the buzzer. Reeves was set up for the first one at 19.29 but Corley, Hicks and Lewis got it back in quick order when they took the face off at centre ice, passed around the defense and Corley carried it at 19.45.

3rd Period

Cobourg gained a better share of the play in the third but failed to offset the edged the Muskies 2-1 in the period. Casey and LeGrow proved to be the opportunists as they combined for eight tries on markers. Al Burns scored for Lindsay on a screened shot that found the mark at mid-period.

Casey beat O'Connell from in close at 7.25 when LeGrow, with a final spurt, beat a Lindsay player to a loose puck in the corner and scooped to Casey in front of the open corner.

Kelly split the Cobourg defense at 9.02 but Sommerville deflected the shot. Al Burns' goal came from Don Sinclair's pass out at 11.11 and Casey set up LeGrow in similar manner, just 49 seconds later to end the scoring.

Feelings (not shared up in the fine) two minutes of the game. Reeves received a minor for high sticking when Davis was clipped behind the visitors' net at 18.11. A few seconds later a trip started things going in fine style. Winery drew two seasoned Referee Calhoun assessed each team two majors, but the Cobourg coach neglected to pull Le-Grow off for a substitute and before play started he was recognized as the prime offender and he was given two minutes for tripping.

Says 21 Deaths In Boxing Ring Are "Appalling"

New York, Dec. 29th (BUP) -- Boxing deaths throughout the world rose to a record 21 this year, according to Ring Magazine.

The boxing bible reports 10 of the fighters were amateurs and 11 were professionals. Ring Editor Nat Fleischer calls the fatality total -- "An appalling situation, considering the excellent medical attention that is given to prize wielders in almost all parts of the universe."

The total of 21 deaths is two higher than the previous high set in 1949. Last year, 17 fighters died throughout the world.

New Football Rules Proposed

Boston, Dec. 29th (BUP) -- The foot would be the point of focus under new gridiron rules proposed by Northeastern University Football Coach Joe Zabilski.

Zabilski suggests that maybe the goal posts should be torn down -- to eliminate placement kicks for added goals and points after touchdowns.

He suggests that six points be scored for a touchdown made on rushing and three points if achieved by passing. He would have the extra point after a touchdown made by rushing or passing.

Under Zabilski's plan, the only form of kicking would be the punt.

Annual Ratings Of World's Foremost Boxers

New York, Dec. 29th (BUP) -- Ring Magazine's annual ratings of the world's foremost boxers today ranked Canadian heavyweight champion Earl Walls of Edmonton as No. 5 among the contenders for Rocky Marciano's crown.

Walls' two crushing knockout victories over Rex Layne of Salt Lake City, Utah, during the year, earned him the ranking -- the highest for a Canadian in history.

Li'l Arthur King of Toronto, Canadian lightweight champion, was ranked eighth in that division's list of contenders for Jimmy Carter's title. Armand Savoie of Montreal, former Canadian champion who last fall lost a title match with Carter, was ranked 10th.

Special Service At Kirkfield

Kirkfield (PNS) - The annual Christmas Candlelight Service of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was held with the pastor Rev. A.S. MacLean occupying the pulpit.

The choir presented Joseph and the Nativity. Some of the carols sung were "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "Fairest Lord Jesus", "Star of the East" "O Come, O Come Emmanuel", "We Three Kings", "Silent Night". The "Rocking" Carol was sung by Mrs. Helen Warminton and "O Come Little Children" was sung by a group of the Sunday School children. The part of Joseph was read by Mr. Richard Wetfenden.

The church was decorated with candles and a bouquet of chrysanthemums, included those by Mrs. J.B. MacKenzie in memory of her mother, the late Mrs. M. McPadden, who had been a regular attendant of this church.

Mrs. M. Jewell Hostess For Christmas Meeting

Grasshill (PNS) -The December meeting of the Grasshill W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. Mabel Jewell with a good representation of members present.

The president Mrs. D. McEachern presided and the meeting opened with the Institute Ode, followed by the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison and the Mary Stuart Collect. The Roll Call was answered by each member, giving a Christmas verse. The minutes and correspondence were read by the secretary Mrs. E. Smith. Mrs. C. Hopkins reported a satisfactory sum received at the recent collecting for the blind. Several member volunteered to again sew and knit for the Red Cross.

It was the wish of the members that a sum of $200 be set aside towards the starting of a Hospital Fund. Plans were made to hold a euchre party in Grasshill school early in the New Year.

Several Christmas Carols were sung. The beautiful decorated Christmas tree was much admired by all and the exchange of Christmas Gifts took place each member receiving a gift.

The Queen was sung and a delicious lunch was served by the hostess and her helpers and an enjoyable Christmas meeting brought to a close.

Lovely December Wedding For Marjorie Thomson

Fenelon Falls (PNS)—The marriage took place in Fenelon Falls United Church on Saturday, December 26, of Marjorie Jean Thomson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Thomson, of Fenelon Falls, to Donald Roger Clarke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Clarke, of Jordan.

Rev. K. P. Jull officiated at the double ring ceremony, using the background of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums flanked by candelabra. Mr. L. Thomson, brother of the bride, was soloist and the soloist was Miss Donna Hopkins. Before the ceremony Miss Hopkinsang "The Lord's Prayer." Miss Clarke was the signing of the register, "Through the Years."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original model of Champagne Chantilly lace over satin with a fitted basque, bouffant skirt. The moulded bodice was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long pointed sleeves. She wore a petal cap of matching lace and carried a cascade of sweetheart roses.

Mrs John Harris, of Peterborough, cousin of the bride, was matron of honour. She chose a gown of emerald velvet with matching satin, with matching bolero and her bouquet was of pink carnations.

The best man was Mr. Ronald Gunst, of Hamilton, and the ushers were Mr. Kenneth Clarke, of Hamilton, and Mr. John Ellis, of Kingston.

Following the ceremony a reception for the family and friends was held at the home of the bride's parents, Colborne St. The bride's mother received in a mauve lace gown with corsage of pink roses, buds and white mums. She was assisted by the groom's mother, who wore a dress of navy blue faille with matching accessories and corsage of pink rosebuds and white mums.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarke left on a trip through the Eastern United States. For travelling, the bride chose a dress of gold tone tweed matching hat and brown accessories with a squirrel jacket and corsage of bronze mums. Mr. and Mrs Clarke will reside in Jordan.

Previous to her marriage the bride was a graduate in Household Science from McDonald Institute in Guelph, was employed by the Department of Agriculture as a laboratory technician at Vineland. Her husband is an industrial engineer presently employed in St. Catharines.

Mrs. C. Fairman Presides At W.M.S. Meeting

Sunderland (PNS) — The December meeting of the Wick W.M.S. was held in the schoolroom of the church. The decorations were in keeping with the festive season and featured Christmas colours and a beautifully decorated Christmas tree.

Mrs. Clarence Fairman, third vice-president, was in the chair and the meeting opened by the recitation of a Christmas poem and the singing of a hymn. Miss Mildred Beaton read the Scripture from Luke 2:8-20; Mrs. James Brabazon from Matthew 2: 1-12; and Mrs. W. McLeod Luke 2. 25-32 and Mrs. Fred Milne led in prayer.

The Secretary's and Treasurer's reports were read and approved. Mrs. James Beaton read an acknowledgement of the bale sent to Indian School at Birtle, Man.

In the business period which followed Mrs. Clark presided and several matters were discussed. A convenor for the nominating committee of the Presbyterial was appointed. Mrs. James Brabazon, of Sunderland, was appointed and consented to act in this capacity. Mrs. Brabazon read the slate of officers for 1954, which stands without election.

Mrs. Fred Milne reported the sum of $2120 as proceeds from the 1953 birthday fund.

A reading entitled "Christmas", written by Mrs. A. W. Par in the December Glad Tidings, was given by Mrs. John Brabazon. The singing of a group of Christmas carols followed. Mrs. Malcolm Ferguson read an interesting story of "The Glory of the Advent." Mrs. G. Johnson sang a beautiful solo, "His Love Can Never Fail," accompanied by Mrs. Clarence Stainton.

Six Years' Work Produces Miniature Village

Six years ago, Mrs. Georges Mayer decided to start a Christmas project. Now fifty buildings later, she feels that her miniature habitant village is almost complete. A shrine, modelled after St. Joseph's Oratory, was built by Mrs. Mayer's brother-in-law. Twenty-four inches high, and eighteen inches wide, it towers over the tiny houses—the centre of attraction. Besides the shrine, the town boasts three small churches, a general store, a railway station, and innumerable little houses with white picket fences that encircle tiny gardens. Shiny cars and trucks stand in the village streets. Made entirely of cardboard, the buildings are exact replicas of French-Canadian dwellings, painted in bright, Christmasy colors.

Information About Rheumatism And Arthritis

When we remember that rheumatism and arthritis are the oldest diseases known to man, we may wonder why there is not a specific or definite cure. So old are these diseases that evidences of them are found in the bones and joints of prehistoric men.

In a booklet published by the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society we learn that the word "rheumatism" is a general term and that is a term used to describe a wide variety of conditions which give rise to aches, pains, and stiffness in muscles and in and about joints. Some forms of rheumatism are serious but, fortunately, the great majority will never be anything worse than a mild nuisance. "The various conditions included in the broad term "rheumatism" can be subdivided into three main groups --arthritis, nonarticular (joint) rheumatism, and soft tissue rheumatism (including chronic heart disease)."

"Itis" means inflammation of, so that arthritis is inflammation of a joint and includes all the structures of a joint -- that is, the bones and tissue of the joint. There are more than 100 different types of arthritis. While they all inflame the joint, they differ widely in cause, symptoms, methods of treatment, and the degree of disability that may result.

Nonarticular rheumatism is where the rheumatism does not affect the joints -- muscular rheumatism, neuralgia, neuritis, lumbago (low back pain). Although nonarticular rheumatism may be painful, it is less serious than when the joint is inflamed as it does not lead to any serious disability or deformity.

"Rheumatic fever is characterized by severe pain, redness, swelling, and stiffness in one or more joints. The pain usually disappears of itself within a few weeks or months." Rheumatic fever is serious because the heart disease is a common result, particularly in children. "It is childhood's greatest enemy."

What about treatment of rheumatism and arthritis? The fact that there is no specific cure for these diseases does not mean that the patient cannot receive relief from pain and disability. Physicians specializing in rheumatism and arthritis are able to obtain results that enable the patient to retain, or regain, a useful life.

More About Little Strokes Brain Strokes, Apoplexy

Some months ago I quoted Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, Mayo Clinic, who stated that many men and women had little strokes of brain and heart (apoplexy and coronary thrombosis) but recovered almost immediately so that these strokes passed unnoticed by the patient, family, and sometimes the physician. In Geriatrics, the medical magazine for the elderly, of which Dr. Alvarez is the editor, he again calls attention to "the little strokes."

"In spite of the fact that the paper on little strokes published in the first volume of Geriatrics was widely read and well accepted by many physicians, this extremely important group of frequent and important disease of the aged is as yet rarely mentioned in books and journals, and is still seldom diagnosed. In most cases such as these, the diagnosis made is coronary heart disease and this, in spite of the fact that repeated electrocardiograph tracings of the movements of the heart are essentially normal, that there is no angina (breast pain on effort, and the symptoms after recovery from the acute attack are those not of heart disease, but of injury to the brain."

Dr. Alvarez mentions the various diagnoses -- liver disease, subacute gastric colon -, that were made by physicians instead of the true diagnosis -- a little brain stroke. What is to be done in cases of little brain strokes so that family and physician will give the patient the proper treatment?

RING MAYOR AND COUNCILLOR URED AT INFORMAL DINNER

JOHN L. BAKER, pictured above, was honoured with a presentation at the council dinner Wednesday night in the Victoria Room of the Hotel Benson. Mr. Baker is retiring this year from municipal service, after having spent 16 years in various offices on Lindsay's council. During 1953 he was Chairman of Town Property and under his guidance the Town Clock Tower was restored, a fact on which he has been complimented by fellow councillors.

Charles Lamb, who retired this year as mayor of Lindsay after having held that office 12 years (a record here), and Jack Baker, who has been in municipal affairs here for 16 years, were honoured by their fellow councillors at a Benson House dinner last week.

Mayor Lamb was presented with a beautiful gold watch and Mr. Baker with a gold pencil set.

Present at the dinner besides the members of council were Mr. Bud Bates, of the Town Office staff Mr. S. Reynolds, Water Board Superintendent, Mr. J. Illam, assistant to the Assessment Commissioner, Mr. F. Williamson, Tax Collector, Mr. W. Alelly, Town Clerk, Mr. Leslie Wilson, Town Engineer, Chief of Police John Hunter, Fire Chief Alex Wylie and members of the local press.

Mayor-elect Bert Hicks said the idea for the dinner had originated with Ald. Arn Harrigan who stated that since most councillors felt "it had been a good year" a get-together was in order, and, in view of the fact that Charles Lamb and John Baker were retiring, it would be a good time to honour them. (The councillors paid for their own dinners).

Since Town Clerk Alelly has been associated with Chas. Lamb in municipal affairs longer than anyone, he was chosen to make the presentation of the watch.

Mr. Alelly expressed his thanks to council for the kindly way they had treated him "and I hope they will if he himself had not given council the services in the year that is expected of this office. He called members of his staff had taken over and the town didn't suffer. He said that it is said that public servants don't receive much thanks, but that in his case this was not true.

About his association with Mayor Lamb he said that Mr. Lamb had served the town "well since 1926, giving his time and ability, giving him a feeling of satisfaction."

Mr. Alelly also paid tribute to the men who sit in municipal councils. He said that he had said it before-as a paid official-that "men who sit in council are paid relatively nothing in comparison to the time they put in, if they want to make a contribution to the welfare of the town in which they live".

"Mr. Mayor, the members of the 1953 council formed what I consider the most efficient council the town has ever had", commented Mr. Alelly"...a lot of work was done; there has been harmony and I think the people appreciate the work they have done".

In presenting the watch to Mayor Lamb, Mr. Alelly mentioned that the occasion was also Mr. Lamb's birthday.

Ald. Jack Lamb, in thanking the assembly for their gift to him, said it had been a long time from 1926 to 1953 and "I'm not sorry to go". He said there will be long hours of work ahead of him in the coming year but knows that Mr. Hick would try to do as he, (Mr. Lamb) had by accepting the office, "the very best he can".

He reminisced about some of the men who have served on council with him over the long years and John O'Reilly, Mr. Wilkinson Dr. White and Sam Fry.

He warned council of their responsibilities in the coming year. "Council has quite a job to do . . . in the old days $100,000 town expenditures was big business . . . and the Board of Works expenditure had been about $70,000 alone, to show the "big business" the town is now in.

The Mayor said that, as a member of the Hospital Board by virtue of his office he had attended a meeting on the weekend at which, he said, it was talked of spending $1,700,000 for a new hospital. Mr. Lamb noted that if $200,000 were raised by public subscription, council "could see what the County and Town have to assume . . . It would be 8 or 9 mills over a period of years."

He continued that housing in Lindsay was expanding rapidly and that the streets on which repairs had been held up by the Depression and World War II, needed a lot of work. "You could spend a half million dollars on roads in Lindsay and still not have them complete", he declared.

Mr. Lamb recalled the days when John Short as day policeman and Mr. Parks as the night policeman were the only police force. He said that he was proud today of the police under John Hunter's guidance as Chief.

Of the firemen, he recalled the days of Charles Beebal, and Mr. Wylie's father. He said that now there were more men, who received more pay than the Chief used to in the days of . . . when the Chief got a free apartment and $1,400.

However, Mr. Lamb said that he is "glad the wages have changed . . . I'm pleased with the way the town has grown".

Mr Lamb paid tribute to, as he put it, "one of my personal friends . . . a great man . . . our Town Clerk Mr. Alelly . . . if he were paid what he is worth, you'd have to pay him $10,000 year . . . and few men in council will find he is a great strength." Mr. Lamb went on to compliment all the other office workers in municipal offices in Lindsay.

On closing, Mr. Lamb said it had been a privilege and pleasure to work for one of the "greatest towns in the Province of Ontario . . . there is none finer than the town in which we live".

Mayor-elect Hick felt that one of the reasons for the success of the year's work was "the ability to hold frank, free discussions of town business and, even if they disagreed on some point, they had never let it become personal in any way."

In making the presentation to Ald. Baker, who also retires this year, Mr. Hick said that Mr. Baker had been a great friend to the people of this community. "He has been a progressive councillor and during the years has done a good job", said Mr. Hick, continuing that under his guidance the Fire Department had become the envy of many municipalities in the province.

Ald. Baker in saying thanks for the gift of the fine pen and pencil set, commented on the year's municipal career. He said that the redecoration of the Town Office will be, he thinks, a memento of his service to which he can always point with pride. He said it had been a great privilege to serve the town.

$200 Damage In Accident On Highway 35

An accident at Powles Corners at 8 p.m. Wednesday caused estimated damage of $200 to the two vehicles involved, but no injuries to persons.

It is reported that Mr. Rod Stange of Kinmount, was proceeding south on No. 35 Highway when he was in collision with a car driven by Mr. George Hart, of R. R. No. 1, Fenelon Falls. Mr. Hart was accompanied by his wife, Margaret, and was not hurt.

Estimates of damage by police have been set at $150 to the Stange car and to Hart's $50.

Investigating officer was Constable Morris Baker of the Lindsay OPP.

Lamb Advocates Salaries For Mayor, Councillors

Retiring Mayor Lamb, at the Wednesday evening council dinner, advocated that from now on the people holding the office of Mayor and Councillors in the Town of Lindsay be paid a salary of $1500 and $600 respectively. He said that the idea had been in his mind for some time but, that while he was Mayor, he had not broached it.

Mr. Lamb said that he would "like council to consider paying the Mayor and council." for he has known in the last few years that they have to spend three times as long doing the necessary work that they had to do in years gone by. He mentioned that his wife "had to answer at least 30 telephone calls a day at their home"...all about town business."

He advocated that the Mayor have a proper office at which he would be available each day from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, and for this, and the long hours of work he put in during his term year, he be paid $1,500 per year.

In speaking of the $600 yearly salary for councillors, Mr. Lamb said he felt this was necessary due to increasing town business, mentioning the new industrial developments in the Town and the work involved with them, to say nothing of the regular work of road upkeep, etc.

In closing this part of his address, Mr. Lamb said that he believed "if I were go to a new municipality I would want you to be paid," mentioning that such positions were paid offices in centres like Oshawa and Peterborough.

Successful Concert Held At Ruddy's School

Sunderland (PNS) -A striking artistic sense was exemplified in the unique and colourful decoration of Ruddy's S.S. No. 5, Brock, for their annual Christmas concert. As the beautifully-decorated tree sparkled and shone amidst the snow setting it was at once apparent that the teacher and pupils had expended much time and creative energy to produce an outstanding Christmas concert.

On every hand wonder-and commendation was heard as the artistic creative audience enjoyed the concert and example of perfect enactment and well-disciplined ability.

Mr. Wilfred Wilkinson was the affable chairman, who with a few pleasing and well-chosen words opened the program.

The National Anthem was the opening number in which all joined. The next number, "Oh Holy Old Fellow", a song by the school; "Welcome" -a song by Grade I was very pleasingly rendered; "Santa Claus-mas": a short play by the seniors was well-received. Douglas Jackson in his monologue "Jingle Bells Sweetie" caused much merriment, with his fine interpretation; songs by the Primary pupils featured "Tinkle tinkle" and "Jolly Santa Claus"; Little Eileen Fenn recited "In Love"; very commendable Barbara Doble recited "If You Were Me", in a pleasing manner.

Songs by the Senior girls Simon" Gordon Fenn and Dory Jackson readily won the audience with their fine ability and appreciation. The Junior group gave "Christmas Helpers" and Mary Snoddon -a recitation; "Christmas Cold"; and Harold Woods really enthralled the audience with his solo "Rudolph" Here is a splendid soprano voice.

The dialogue, "Harry Lamb", enacted by Joyce Fenn and Allen Woods, caused much laughter; in the play "A Dull Class" little Barbara Jackson as teacher really stole the show. An exposition of folk dancing by the Senior girls was entitled "The Man at the Store"; in the play "A Joke on th Jokers" Doug Jackson was a splendid Irish lad as a clergyman; "In Carol Land", by the whole school, gave the sacred touch to the program with fine numbers. A song "Christmas Time" followed. "A Good-Bye Kiss" was done delightfully by Barbara Jackson and "Good Night Neighbours" by the whole school.

With the singing of "Here Comes Santa Claus", a fitting prelude, the popular gent with the red suit, bells and well-filled sack arrived to the delight of all. Presents were distributed from the tree and from Santa's pack and a merry, merry time ensued.

A lucky draw for door prize was made and in the early fall the event is held with Mr. Keith Marquis as the auctioneer. A delightful pie social followed and a social hour was enjoyed.

Much commendation is due Mr. Henry J. Smith, principal of the school and Mrs. Gordon Pinkham, music teacher, for their untiring efforts in presenting one of the finest, most colorful and well-disciplined performances, so much appreciated by the pupils' parents, and friends.

Unify Europe, Pope Urges

Pope Pius, the Twelfth, issued his annual Christmas message to the world Thursday and used it to make an urgent appeal for a unified Europe. The Pope warned that world peace could not be based upon materialism, must depend upon moral and spiritual values. And, he said, it is these moral values which make the unification of Europe absolutely necessary before the world could look to an era of stability and peace.—BUP.

Rash Of District Accidents But No Injuries Reported; OPP After Drunk Drivers

The Lindsay detachment of the OPP have issued a timely warning against people driving after drinking. They have been checking against this driving and state that they will continue to do so through the New Year's holiday. One Omemee man, arrested by Constable Jim Plumtree on Christmas Day at 2.15 a.m., was given seven days in jail in Police Court here.

The holiday week-end as quiet for the local OPP as for the Lindsay Police. The detachment investigated seven accidents from Thursday morning until Sunday night with approximate damage amounting to $2,260.

Thursday at 11 a.m. Constable Jim Hall investigated an accident on Highway 36 four miles south of Bobcaygeon. A car driven by Walter James, of Bewdley, was proceeding south on 36 when it was in collision with a car driven by Mossom Fogue, of Bobcaygeon, who was coming out of a side road there. Damage in the accident has been set at $300.

The next day, Friday, at 2.15 a.m. it is reported that John Frederick Johnston, 44 Lafayette, Peterborough, was proceeding west on Highway 7 when, one mile west of Omemee, his vehicle slid on the icy road, ran off the highway and turned over, doing estimated damage of $900. The investigating officer was Constable Jim Plumtree.

At 2.30 p.m. Friday Constable Jim Hall investigated the accident on Highway 36, when Basil Daniel, of 25 Lenhurst Drive, Toronto, was proceeding north in his car when, After the tire went out, the Daniel car struck the guard rail by the side of the road causing estimated damage of $700.

The most involved collision of the holiday week-end was reported on Thursday at 5.15 p.m. on the western edge of the village of Manilla, Constable Morris Baker investigating.

It is reported that a car driven by Arthur Short, of Manilla, (accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Pearl Short, and William Hambly, both of Manilla), was proceeding east on the highway and had stopped to turn into a driveway, and had pulled off to the right shoulder to wait the passing of oncoming traffic. The oncoming car, driven by Leonard Krauter, of 156 Jane Street, Toronto, which was following Short, couldn't negotiate a stop in his car because of the icy road and struck it.

It is further reported that the third car, driven by Ronald Rach, of 293 St. Clarens Ave., Toronto, who was following the Krauter car, struck it. The latter car in the chain reaction rear-end collision was that driven by John DeRusha, of 12 Kent Street W., Lindsay, who had come along just before the OPP arrived and adequate flares had been placed by Const. Hall who plowed into the rear of the Rach vehicle.

Damage in this accident was estimated at $35 to the Short car, $300 to Krauter's, $50 to Rach's and $150 to DeRusha's.

Constable Jim Plumtree investigated a very minor accident on Highway 46 three miles north of Highway 41 at 1.27 a.m. on the 26th. This officer also arrested the drunk driver (who received the sentence Monday) at 9.30 a.m. on Friday.

On the 26th, Saturday, Constable James Hall, at 10.00 a.m. investigated an accident at the tree mile post on CNR crossing west of Lindsay, when a vehicle driven by Arthur Cowley, of 12 Zorra Ave., Hollywood, York Township, went off the road into the ditch after the driver had lost control of his vehicle. Damage has been set at $200.

Another rear-end collision occurred on Sunday at 7.30 p.m., when William King, of R.R. 2, Oakwood, Orville Smith, of 402 Wolsely Street, Peterborough, and Arthur Dalgaff, of 520 Water Street, Peterborough, were involved on Highway 7, one mile west of the village of Oakwood. One of the cars stopped or slowed down, it is reported, and a three-car collision occurred doing total damage of $350.

Train-Car Collide On Number 7

Sunderland — A 60-year-old man walked away with a small head cut after his car was mangled by a passenger train at a level crossing on Highway 7 north of here.

Provincial Police Constable Harold Campbell said Leslie McMullen had a "marvelous Christmas Day escape."

He said Mr. McMullen had seen the train, a CNR passenger, approaching and slammed on his brakes. The auto spun around and the locomotive smashed into the rear of the car.

Restaurant Sale Not Confirmed

A persistent rumour has reached "The Post" in the past week that the ownership of Hicks Good Food, the restaurant in the Hotel Bond building has changed hands. Confirmation of this cannot be obtained from the owners at this time.

One Less Crime

The Legislature's select committee on election laws has come up with a recommendation that a candidate be no longer deemed guilty of o "corrupt practice" by reason of hiring transportation for voters to and from the polls. At present he may lawfully hire s conveyance and driver for himself, but no more, at peril of a $100 fine. When the prohibition was enacted years ago, doubtless it was thought that payment for vehicle hire was open to abuse. However it has long been more honored in the breach, and the committee, according to one report, "deleted" the section and "legalized the practice." Still, it might be as well to bring it up at next session, in the form of a bill commencing: "Her Majesty, by and with the consent of the Legislative Assembly, enacts . . ."

60 Years of Memories

Sixty years of memories were reviewed on Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Dobson, 687 Shaw St., Toronto, as they observed the diamond anniversary of their wedding in Mariposa Township. The day was spent quietly at home with a family dinner in the evening at the Savarin Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Dobson were married at the home of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. John Dames at Mariposa on December 27th, 1893, by the late Rev. John Wesster, then Methodist church minister at Oakwood. They were attended by Wm. Hughson as best man and Miss Mina Dames, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid. Miss Dames is still living.

Except for a few years in his early life, Mr. Dobson has pursued the trade of custom tailor and he started in business at Sonya, a settlement just south of the village of Manilla. Leaving there he returned to Oakwood where he set up shop over Hogg Bros. store (now Bell's General Store) where he continued in business until going to Toronto where he operated custom shops on Yonge St. and in the Stair Building, Bay St.

Both celebrants of the diamond anniversary enjoy very good health and maintain an active interest in affairs of the home and world in which they live. "Do the best you can" has been their motto throughout their long and busy lives.

Three children were born to this happy couple and they were all present to help them celebrate the occasion of their anniversary. They are Muriel (Mrs. L. Johnson) and Don. of Toronto, and John, of Port Credit.

Numerous congratulatory messages were received throughout the day including a telegram and personal letter from the Hon. Leslie M. Frost, Premier of Ontario.

Pre-Christmas Drunk Driver Fined $125 and Costs Here

Lindsay's Chief of Police John Hunter reports that a quiet Christmas holiday week-end was spent in Lindsay with only one person appearing in court here following a car accident on the afternoon of December 24th. The accused, charged with driving while intoxicated, was a district man. Magistrate E. A. Gee convicted accused, fining him $125 and $13.50 costs.

There were four minor accidents in Lindsay, the only already mentioned, two on Christmas Eve and one on Christmas night. Chief Hunter told "The Post". He says no charges are being laid by police in the other three accidents.

The Chief comments that there was a noticeable decline this year in the number of people driving after they had been drinking. He said that all officers were on the alert for this type of offence, and a large number of drivers were checked. It was noted by the officers, says the Chief, that although some of the suspects in the cars checked had been celebrating, the drivers of the vehicles were sober.

The chief says people who drive their vehicles after drinking will continue through the New Year's holiday. Chief Hunter warned the public here Monday.

Deadly "Game"

It was just playfulness which made orphans of three children in Evanston, Illinois.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Freeo Wood -- got into a deadly "game" of hide-and-go with 25 year old Daniel Jacobson, a game in which the two cars fought to pass each other. The Wood automobile finally went out of control and overturned. The elder Woods were killed . . . their three children, aged six to 18, were injured.--BUP

Donations Made At Lindsay W.I. Meeting

The Lindsay W.I. held their Christmas meeting in the Town Hall, which was conducted by the president, Mrs. T. Langley.

After the opening exercises the secretary read the minutes and the treasurer's report. An objective of $1,000 was set for the Ross Memorial Hospital Fund; $25.00 for the Hospital for Sick Children; $10.00 for TB seals; $10.00 for mental Health Association; and $25.00 for Santa Claus Fund.

The roll call was an exchange of gifts and showed 24 present, Mrs. R. B. Smith gave a paper on Citizenship; Mrs. T. Cochrane on Historical Research and Mrs. Griffis read several articles dealing with Current Events.

Mrs. D. Heels was in charge of the program which consisted of a beautiful Christmas message by Mrs. Major Majury; an instrumental by Sandra Sharp; a tap dance number by Corrinne Cormier, accompanied by Mrs. Whelen and the singing of Christmas carols.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem, after which Mrs. Heels and her committee served lunch.

Leaves Teeth Behind At Midnight Show

A lot of people lose a lot of things at one time or another, but it is rarely that one loses one's teeth - false, that is, especially at Christmas. However, that is what happened to one young Lindsay girl over the Christmas week-end.

The janitor of the Academy Theatre found a partial plate of false teeth as he cleaned up the premises after Friday night's midnight show.

Manager Dugald told "The Post" that the choppers were claimed by a young lady on Saturday morning.

Several Innovations

Nurses Sing Carols In Corridors Of Ross Memorial Christmas Morn

An innovation at the Ross Memorial Hospital this Christmas to make the day happier for those who, through illness, had to spend the holiday in the hospital was the provision of a tree complete Christmas dinner for a guest of each patient, Miss Wood, RMH superintendent, told "The Post" that 15 patients took advantage of the offer and had a dinner guest with them that day.

A representative of "The Post" who happened to be visiting a sick friend on Christmas day was told that early in the morning that day nurses, carrying lighted candles, had paraded through the halls singing carols. The patients have expressed their thanks to the nurses for their thoughtfulness in this act. Miss Wood says that there were 10 nurses in the group of singers.

On December 21st a party for the nurses was held at the Residence, says Miss Wood, and those who were working on Christmas day enjoyed a holiday dinner at the hospital.

Miss Wood related that the RMH Board, as usual, presented a small gift to each patient on their morning tray. The tray itself was gaily decorated with festive napkins and sprigs of seasonal greenery. For the two children in the maternity section, Miss Wood says the Board provided special gifts. Other organizations in Lindsay and district had also provided gifts for the hospitalized children.

The hospital itself was decorated with holly and wreaths, mistletoe on the front door to the small trees placed conveniently through the building so that all might enjoy them. Christmas displays were noticed on the windowsills in several rooms and patients' friends had brightened the day for many. The Christmas Roses and flaming Poinsettias. An attractive baleony Christmas lighting display greeted evening at the main entrance.

Uncontrolled Evils

Editor,
The Daily Post
Sir

The present housing situation is, the culmination of a number of uncontrolled evils that is no credit to democracy.

Democracy was created to counteract and control political dictators, who dictated for their own special advantage, and those who supported them. History records where such political dictators in England, disposessed barons, who advocated freedom from dictators Foreigners from the continent were given public offices, and received the castles of the displaced barons. The people who paid the taxes, rebelled against the advantages held by foreigners while they paid the bills. They demanded that the will of the people be supreme, that there be law of all, and equal rights., should govern England, in order to control and counteract this selfish dictator few. So that is why we call our voters today, and it is up to us, what to do about the housing situation. A survey of our housing needs.

A political evil uncontrolled, will breed more evils faster than any other kind and lesser evils are sure to follow. Under one political evil which house owners have to put up with is that one which seizes their homes, and their rental rights. Then the Government helps European D.P.'s to own and occupy the homes of Canadian dispossessed taxpayers for a fraction of the real value of the property. The home owner loses all he has invested. The D.P. gets a bargain! Is that not one evil to be controlled and stopped? In England the Government was forced to hand back the castles to the former owners, and the foreigners were not allowed to hold public office, so they left England to the English and went back home. Should Canadians not do likewise and control governments that tax until tax-sales show, that the people can't pay? This is uncontrolled evil. No. 1. The evil that follows is not for the welfare of all, as it has special advantage for landlords who go beyond a reasonable percentage of the money invested and prohibit children. Both of these evils should be stopped in the public interest. It allows landlords to get rich quickly and impoverish others quickly. This is No. 2 evil. Tenants who allow children to destroy property, should be controlled by making them pay. This is No. 3. Taxation was not intended as a weapon.

Farmers advocate a dictator government to tax their competitors 15 per cent on margarine, forgetting that they too can be taxed out of business, for foreigners, who will uphold the dictator. Democracy was created to stop dictators and privilege, and subsidize the good of all. Why not do it now?

Jennie Beatty

Cannington (PNS) -On December 10th, at the home of her son, Mr. Lloyd Beatty, 13th Concession of Brock, there passed away one of Cannington's best-known and highly respected citizens, Mrs. Joe Beatty, in her 89th year, after a short illness of little over a week's duration.

Mrs. Beatty, formerly Jennie Lloyd was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Lloyd, of Wilfrid. In February 1893, she married Joseph Beatty and they farmed on the 13th concession of Brock until Mr. Beatty's death, in October, 1926. Two years later, Mrs. Beatty came to live in Cannington, where she was an ardent church worker, a faithful member of the United Church and a Life Member of the W.M.S.

The funeral service held at the home of her son, Mr. Lloyd Beatty on Saturday, December 12th, was largely attended by friends, relatives, and neighbors, showing the high esteem in which the late Mrs. Beatty was held. Rev. I. E. Kennedy officiating. Interment was made at Cedar Vale Cemetery.

Acting as pallbearers were six of her grandsons, Ray Parliament, Lloyd Parliament, Harvey Beatty, Dean Beatty, Jim Parliment and Bob Shier.

Left to mourn her passing are one daughter, Mrs. Archie Parliament; (Lilli), and two sons, Lorne, of Beaverton, and Lloyd, a druggist, Mrs. Bruce Shier (Vera) predeceased her. A sister, Mrs. Wm. Bagshaw, (Annie), of Toronto and a brother, George Lloyd, of Winnipeg.

Christmas Concert At Lorneville

Lorneville (PNS) - The Lorneville Public School held their annual Christmas concert in the Lorneville hall with a capacity crowd in attendance.
The chairman for the evening was Mr. Samuil Newman, who is a member of the Elton Council. Mrs. D. McLeod accompanied the children on the piano and Miss Gorril, the teacher, put on a very good programme which consisted of the following numers-Chorus by the entire school; Welcome Recitation by William Hall; Piano Solo by Lynn Campbell; Recitation by Karen Marshall "Maggie and Jiggs at the Golden Gate".
A play "Twiddle Dee plays a Joke". The Highland Fling by Shirley Sutherland and Margaret Shaw in Scotch dress; a vocal duet "Daydreaming" by Jean Hall and Lois MacEachern. A play "Margie and George celebrate". A humerous recitation by Hugh L. Snoddon "When Pa Went Up the Stovepipe".
Mr. Newman gave the chairmans remarks recalling his good old days in the little Red School house. A trio piano selections "Little Boy Blue" by Shirley Sutherland, Anne Wallace and Rae Fleming; "A Merry Christmas Drill by 14 girls in red and green; Seven little boys gave "Me and My Teddy Bear" each holding and cuddling a little Brown Teddy. A play "Christmas Plots"; Little Barbara Gorril of Lindsay favoured with a tap dancing selection; Eric Everson gave a humorous recitation "Santa Is a Fat Man"; Three little girls gave a lullaby to their dolls and were Karen Lois MacEachern and Jean Hall; A play "Cured"; A piano duet "Jingle Bells" by Barry and Hugh Snoddon; a recitation by Rae Fleming "Before Company"; Girls Chorus "Don't Wait Till The Nite Before Christmas"; A recitation by Lynda Snoddon "The Day After Christmas". A group of boys in mere faces sang "Sing a Song of Christmas"; A recitation by Shirley Sutherland "A Careful Message".
A Christmas play based on the birth of the Christ Child was given and the entire school sang several Christmas numbers with the entry of Santa Claus who handed out gifts and bags of candy. After a lovely lunch the floor was cleared and a dance ended a very enjoyable evening.

The Poet's Corner

The White Gift

Just today I met her on the street,
Happy and gay, her tiny feet,
Tripping along fearlessly and bold.
But little hands red and raw with cold.
"Your mitts, my dear?" I ask her as I pass.
"Guess I forgot!" replied the winsome lass.
"You see, I was so anxious that my gift
Should be on time -- the mitts, they just got left."
--Will Franklin

Pageant Enjoyed At Sunderland

Sunderland (PNS) -A Christmas Pageant, entitled "The Story of the First Christmas" was enacted in St. Mary's Anglican Church, Sunderland. The cast was from Cannington.
The enactment was truly a stirring and beautiful spectacle, portraying the full Christmas Story. All characters from the Saintly Mary with the Baby Jesus to the humble shepherd were superb. The deportment and truly characteristic costumes were the result of much research, intensive practice and sincere enactment.
A large audience was especially moved by this beautiful pageant and expressed deep commendation to those who had made it such an outstanding and true interpretation of the meaning of Christmas Day as it has been observed through the ages
As a grand finale, the procession of little children, representing in their beauty and innocence all nations of the earth, with sweet voices did homage to the Christ Child as the full cast joined in the chorus of the carols of rejoicing and worship. All were grouped around Mary, Joseph and the Christ Child in their stable abode.
Rev. R. B. Brightling, rector, read a Christian message and greeting from Mrs. G. K. Nobes and sons David, Fred and Bob, the family of the late and recent rector, Rev. G. K. Nobes. This was a touching and timely Christmas gesture.

Seasonal Concert Greatly Enjoyed At Glenarm

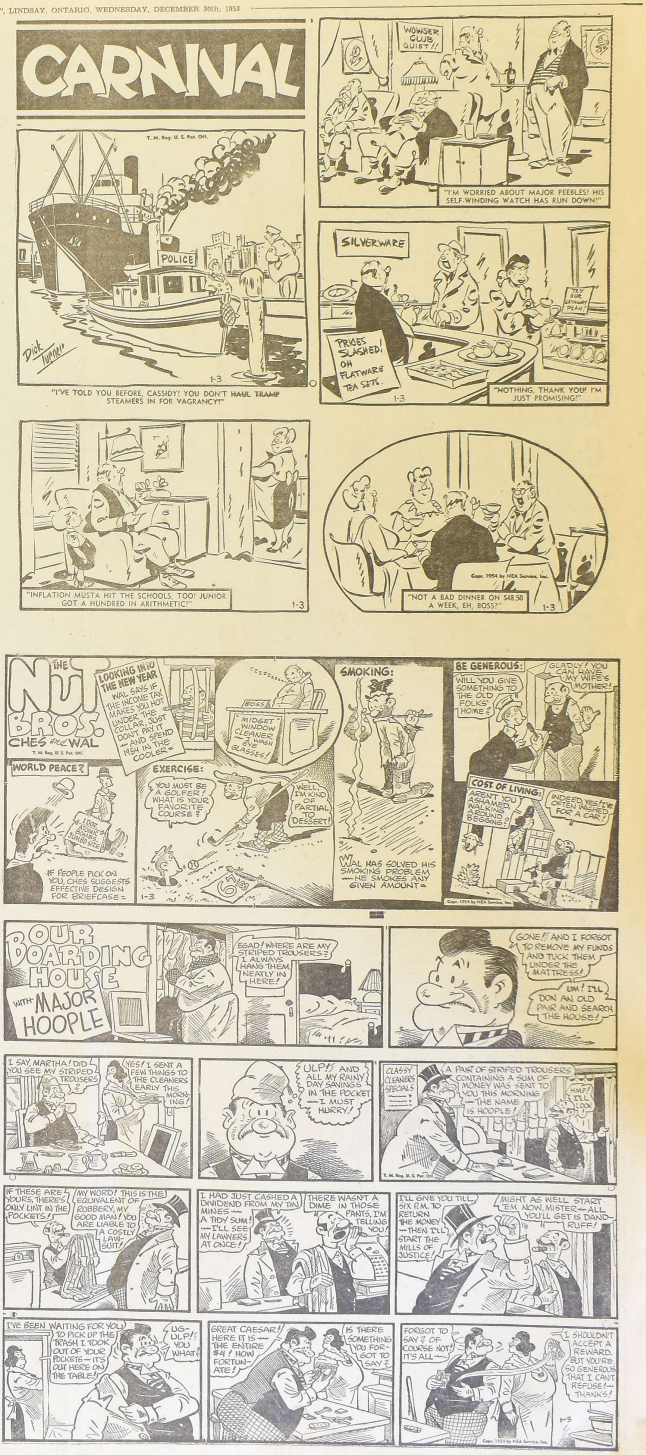

Glenarm (PNS)-The annual Christmas concert was held in Long Point School, when a two-hour programme was presented to the audience by the 17 pupils of the school.
The programme opened with a recitation by the youngest girl in the school Judy Reg, followed by the opening chorus by the school "Christmas Comes Again"; Ronnie Bell gave a recitation "Pieces", in which he explained how he felt about being on the platform before an audience for the first time. This was followed by a dialogue "More To Give Mother", and a pantomime "The Shoes of Truth". Four little boys explained their various reason for wanting to be a Santa Claus in an exercis entitled "I Wish I Were A Santa Claus". This was followed by an exercise "Visitors From Santa Land" in which the characters in Mother Goose appeared to wish all present a Merry Christmas.
David Rea explained in his recitation "Why We Celebrate" the real reason behind the celebration of Christmas. This was followed by a dialogue "The Unpractical Joke" in which the joke planned by two senior girls to be played on two senior boys boomeranged much to the disadvantage of the girls.
Mr. Henry Copp, the chairman for the evening, said a few words to the audience at this point. Three little pre-school age girls, Cynthia Parrington, Janice Rea and Karen Brentnell all gave recitations, followed by a pageant "The Shepherds' Story", with the spoken parts by Raymond Bell and David Rea, while the remainder of the school acted as a hidden choir to sing the various Christmas Carols during the pageant. The setting and spoken parts for this pageant were composed by the pupils in their composition classes just previous to their Christmas examinations. A recitation by Georgie Imrie "How Nice It Would Have Been" followed this pageant. Sandra Hargrave favoured with a piano selection followed by a dialogue "A Few Friends To Dinner."
Six girls put on a Wreath Drill to the music of "The Blue Skirt Waltz" in which the waltz step was used in place of the march. An exercise "Christmas Bells" was given by eight of the junior pupils in which each explained one thing which Christmas Bells meant to them. A dialogue "Getting and Giving" was followed by a duet by Keith and Sandra Hargrave and a recitation, "I'm Worried", by Buddy Haverchuck. Then a chorus "The Angel's Song", by the school, a recitation "Lucy Anna's Surprise" by Sharon Riley and a dialogue "The Rest Room".
Two three-part choruses "Let us with a Gladsome Mind" and "Now the Day is Over" by the school, followed by the National Anthem, brought the programme to a close.
Santa Claus arrived to distribute the presents from the tree and the candy bags to all the childen.
Mrs. Ray Rea, their teacher, accompanied the children for their musical numbers and Mr. Copp thanked the children and their teache, which was heartily endorsed by all the gathering for the splendid concert they had the pleasure of listening to.

Palestine School Presents Varied Christmas Concert

Glenarm (PNS) -The Palestine children entertained a full house in the school at their program and Christmas Tree.

Mr. G. McKay was chairman for the evening, and opened the concert with the National Anthem. The first Christmas chorus by the pupils was accompanied at the piano by Miss Catherine McKay, as they sang "He's a Chubby Little Fellow" and "Snowy White Snow" and "Jingle Bells". Grade one pupils presented their play "The Proud Doll", with Gail Douglas, Linda Campbell, Tommy Brown, Gordon Nicholson and Sharon Douglas taking parts.

The junior pupils sang two Christmas hymns, "Holy, Holy Holy", and "The Christmas Candles" accompanied at the piano by Sharon Douglas. Gail Douglas played a piano solo, "Air", after which Bonnie McGee gave a recitation, using her old dolly to illustrate. Messrs. Angus McKay and Colin Campbell sang a duet with encore. Music was played by Mr. and Mrs. Grantin McKay. Mr. Orland Brown, Colin Campbell and Alex McGee, while the pupils got ready for "The Rooster Parade", a drill by eight junior pupils, accompanied by Catharine McKay.

Sharon Douglas played a piano solo -"Peter Goes For A Swim" and "Minuet in G", followed by Tommy Brown's recitation. The entire school took part in a dialogue, "Trouble in Santa Claus Land". Tommy and Johanna Brown sang a very pleasing duet "The Little White Duck" with Catherine McKay at the piano. Sharon and Gail Douglas played a piano duet, "Home on The Range" and "Comin' Round The Mountain". Mr. Colin Campbell sang "Tober Morray" with encore.

Eight pupils did the "Heel and Toe Polka" and "The Swedish Clap Dance". The girls all dressed alike in white blouses and print hee-down skirts, were accompanied at the piano by Catherine McKay.

The orchestra played while the pupils got ready to present their play, "The Pie and the Tart". Mr. Gaspard Gaulter played by Rose Campbell, Mrs. Gaulter by Sharon Douglas and two vagabonds by Billie and Gordon Nicholson, after which Miss Catherine McKay favored with a much appreciated piano solo "Silent Night".

Fowl had been donated by J. D. MacMillan, Sam Nicholson, Orland Brown, Cliff Douglas and Donald Nicholson. The first ticket drawn by Linda Campbell gave the turkey to Mrs. Effie Black; the second ticket drawn by Gordon Brown gave the duck to Mr. Dan MacArthur; the third ticket drawn by Gail Douglas gave a rooster to Mr. Colin Campbell; the fourth ticket drawn by Keith Teel gave a rooster to Linda Campbell and fifth ticket pulled by Jack Nicholson gave a rooster to Lassie Lewis.

Santa Claus arrived on time, after several misfortunes and distributed the gifts. Total receipts -$112.45; Candy Expenses -$11.50; Net $100.95 goes to the projector fund.

Sincere thanks was extended by the chairman, Mr. Grantin McKay, on behalf of the parents and friends to the teacher, Mrs. J. D. MacMillan and the pupils also all the others who assisted with such a splendid programme.

Packed House For School Concert At Haliburton

Haliburton (PNS) -- The public school concert held in the new Legion Hall was a huge success. 1,000 crowded in to hear one of the best public school concerts ever given. Nearly 200 people stood throughout the programme in which 290 public school children took part.

The concert did not start until 8 o'clock but by 7.15 the seats were mostly occupied. The stage decorations were lovely and two very fine drawings were displayed (about five feet square) which had been done by public school pupils. $115.00 was realized from the concert.

Mr. James Johnston, public school principal, was chairman, and with the teachers co-operating, made the concert a success.

Programme was as follows: Grade 7, Miss Bonnie Lee's class, songs-- "Away in a Manger", "Who is Calling on Christmas Night?"; choral speaking, "The Three Little Kittens"; Grade II, Mrs. Grenville Dent, rhythm band selections, song "Adeste Fideles"; Grade 2 -- Mrs. E. Robertson, songs, "Once in Royal David's City," "Gospel Bells," "Up On the Housetop," dance "I See You," "Dolls Drill"; Grade 3, Mrs. C. Jorife -- operetta: Grade 4, Mrs. Frank Anidson -- "Christmas Fantasy;" Grade 5, Mr. Litchfield, carols, "O Come All Ye Faithful," "The First Noel," and exercises; Grade 6, Mr. D. Kenning -- songs, "The Toy Maker's Dream," "Silent Night," "Deck the Halls" "Glad Christmas Day" and "Shades of Evening"; Grades 3 and 5 -- Kitchen Rhythm Band; Grade 7, Miss Rish and Grade 8, Mr. James Johnston, carols, "O Leave Your Sheep," "Silent Night" and "Joy to the World."

The closing number by Grades 5, 6, 7 and 8 was "Angels We Have Heard on High," followed by unison singing of the National Anthem.

Question 1.--"What steps should Canada take to show Asiastic countries that our attitude to them is friendly and non-aggressive?"

Answer -- "They must be fed first, but not as charity. Some system should be set up, for example, lend lease, whereby the people could return goods for assistance given. Then they should be educated particularly the younger generation, agricultural knowledge being a very important part of their education. Finally with the Western world should be shown as far as possible."

Question 2: "What can we do to convince others that the Democratic way of life is better than the Communist way?"

Answer: "If answers to question one were carried out it would answer question two.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Orval Brokenbilre and Mrs Vera Harrison.

Grandmothers Entertain At Cameron W.I.

Cameron (PNS) -The monthly meeting of the Cameron W. I was held at the home of Mrs. Harold Jackets with 24 members and several visitors present. The meeting opened with the singing of "Jingle Bells", repeating the Mary Stewart Collect and the Lord's Prayer.

Mrs. Orval Moore gave a reading on the topic theme, "Everyday is like a pathway through the snow, Be careful how you step as the marks will show". The roll call was responded to by "Memories of my first doll".

The minutes were read and approved and the treasurer read the financial report, the statement concerning the turkey dinner held recently for the Federation of Agriculture and the denonstration held at the November meeting of Mrs. Geo. Goodhand's. Correspondence was read and the president, Mrs. Goodhand, advised that the Fleerman's Association desired the W. I. to cater to a banquet early in January.

On motion by Mrs R. Braden and Mrs. W. Harris it was decided to do this catering the same committee and same lists of food to be used as for the last turkey dinner.

The grandmothers took charge of the meeting with Mrs. Alton Anderson presiding. The program opened with the grandmothers singing "Away in a Manger"; reading by Mrs. T. Eyres, "A Perfect Day"; Mrs. Russell Goodhand played a piano solo "Star of the East"; Mrs.

U.S. Would Begin Atom Talks Before Big Four Meeting

The United States wants to start international discussion of the atoms-for-peace plan before the forthcoming Big Four meeting in Berlin.

American Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said he had hoped to discuss Russian Foreign Minister Molotov in Berlin next week and talk about President Eisenhower's plan. However Dulles will not be able to do so because the Big Four meeting will be postponed at least three weeks.

Now Dulles said, the United States will have to find other ways to get the atomic discussions going before the projective January 25th meeting of Foreign Ministers. -BUP
